

David Beirne
Deputy Director, Voter Assistance
Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP)

David brings over 12 years of election administration experience to the Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP). Having served ten years as an election official directly involved in the conduct of federal, state, and local elections in both Texas and Florida, David most recently served as Executive Director of the Election Technology Council, the national trade association of voting technology while serving as President and owner of his own consulting company.

David received a master's degree in public administration from Florida Atlantic University, a bachelor's degree in political science from Appalachian State University, and has obtained professional accreditation as a Certified Elections/Voter Registration Administrator through The Election Center and Auburn University.

David is pleased to join the FVAP team and further assist in the development of innovative tools to make the voting process as seamless as possible for military and civilian overseas voters and provide direct voter assistance through its website and call center operations.
