Subject Interview Request Re EAC Research on Voting Fraud and Voter Intimidation

Dear John:

I have been assigned to manage the U.S. Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) preliminary research project on voting fraud and voter intimidation. Obviously, obtaining information regarding the Voting Section's actions against voter intimidation and other voting rights violations is important to this effort. Would you be available for an interview by our project consultants on February 24 at 2:00 PM? The interview may take place by phone, or one of the consultants may visit your office and connect the other consultant by phone.

Background

Section 241 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 requires EAC to conduct research on election administration issues. Among the issues listed in the statute are the development of:

- nationwide statistics and methods of identifying, deterring, and investigating voting fraud in elections

012596

- for Federal office [section 241(b)(6)]; and
- methods of identifying, deterring, and investigating methods of voter intimidation [section 241(b)(7)].

EAC's Board of Advisors recommended that EAC make research on these topics a high priority. Subsequently, the Commission contracted with two consultants (Tova Wang and Job Serebrov) to:

- develop a comprehensive description of what constitutes voting fraud and voter intimidation in the context of Federal elections;
- perform preliminary research on these topics (including Federal and State administrative and case law review), identify related activities of key government agencies and civic and advocacy organizations, and deliver a summary of this research and all source documentation;
- convene a meeting of a project working group composed of key individuals and representatives of organizations knowledgeable about the topics of voting fraud and voter intimidation, provide the results of the preliminary research to the working group, and record the working group's deliberations; and
- produce a report to EAC summarizing the findings of the preliminary research effort and working group deliberations that includes recommendations for future EAC action, if any.

Possible Questions

Possible interview questions include the following:

1. According to a GAO report dated September 14, 2004 entitled Department of Justice's Activities to Address Past Election-Related Voting Irregularities, the "Voting Section has used several means of tracking allegations of voting irregularities and the Section's actions with regard to those allegations. First, the Voting Section used telephone logs to track telephone calls regarding allegations of voting irregularities it received related to the November 2000 and 2002 elections. Second, DOJ tracks matters and cases through its Interactive Case Management (ICM) system-its formal process for tracking and managing work activities. Third, the Voting Section tracked monitoring of elections using logs and for some election-monitoring activities they opened matters; thus, it has not routinely tracked election-monitoring activities through the ICM system."

Can you provide us with the following:

- a) The telephone logs referred to in the report
- b) The matters and cases tracked through the Interactive Case Management (ICM) system
- c) The other logs referred to in the report
- d) Any other data the division has maintained electronically during the last three federal election cycles

2. The division deployed thousands of observers to polling sites throughout the country in 2002, 2003, and 2004.

Can you provide us with the following:

- a) Any reports that were developed with respect to those efforts, before, during and after it implementation
- b) Any field notes from federal attorneys and their staff
- c) Information on any lawsuits and/or prosecutions for voter intimidation and/or suppression from the last five years

3. Does it matter if the complaint does or does not come from a member of a racial or language minority?

4. What kinds of complaints would routinely override principals of federalism?

5. Are you of the opinion that there are too few prosecutions?

6. What should be done to improve the system?

Let me know if you have any questions about this request or the research project. I look forward to hearing from you.

Subject RE: Interview Request Re EAC Research on Voting Fraud and Voter Intimidation

012603

Peggy,

I will be more than happy to help in any way. I will check on what information it is possible to release. There are, as you can imagine restrictions. I will be available for the interview at 2:00 on the 24th. How long do you expect the interview to take?

John

Subject: Interview Request Re EAC Research on Voting Fraud and Voter Intimidation

Dear John:

I have been assigned to manage the U.S. Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) preliminary research project on voting fraud and voter intimidation. Obviously, obtaining information regarding the Voting Section's actions against voter intimidation and other voting rights violations is important to this effort. Would you be available for an interview by our project consultants on February 24 at 2:00 PM? The interview may take place by phone, or one of the consultants may visit your office and connect the other consultant by phone.

Background

Section 241 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 requires EAC to conduct research on election administration issues. Among the issues listed in the statute are the development of:

nationwide statistics and methods of identifying, deterring, and investigating voting fraud in elections for Federal office [section 241(b)(6)]; and methods of identifying, deterring, and investigating methods of voter intimidation [section 241(b)(7)].

EAC's Board of Advisors recommended that EAC make research on these topics a high priority. Subsequently, the Commission contracted with two consultants (Tova Wang and Job Serebrov) to:

develop a comprehensive description of what constitutes voting fraud and voter intimidation in the context of Federal elections;
perform preliminary research on these topics (including Federal and State administrative and case law review), identify related activities of key government agencies and civic and advocacy organizations, and deliver a summary of this research and all source documentation;
convene a meeting of a project working group composed of key individuals and representatives of organizations knowledgeable about the topics of voting fraud and voter intimidation, provide the results of the preliminary research to the working group, and record the working group's deliberations; and
produce a report to EAC summarizing the findings of the preliminary research effort and working group deliberations that includes recommendations for future EAC action, if any.

Possible Questions

Possible interview questions include the following:

1. According to a GAO report dated September 14, 2004 entitled Department of Justice's Activities to Address Past Election-Related Voting Irregularities, the "Voting Section has used several means of tracking allegations of voting irregularities and the Section's actions with regard to those allegations. First, the Voting Section used telephone logs to track telephone calls regarding allegations of voting irregularities it received related to the November 2000 and 2002 elections. Second, DOJ tracks matters and cases through its Interactive Case Management (ICM) system-its formal process for tracking and managing work activities. Third, the Voting Section tracked monitoring of elections using logs and for some election-monitoring activities they opened matters; thus, it has not routinely tracked election-monitoring activities through the ICM system."

Can you provide us with the following:

- a) The telephone logs referred to in the report
- b) The matters and cases tracked through the Interactive Case Management (ICM) system
- c) The other logs referred to in the report
- d) Any other data the division has maintained electronically during the last three federal election cycles

2. The division deployed thousands of observers to polling sites throughout the country in 2002, 2003, and 2004.

Can you provide us with the following:

- a) Any reports that were developed with respect to those efforts, before, during and after it implementation
- b) Any field notes from federal attorneys and their staff
- c) Information on any lawsuits and/or prosecutions for voter intimidation and/or suppression from the last five years

3. Does it matter if the complaint does or does not come from a member of a racial or language minority?

4. What kinds of complaints would routinely override principals of federalism?

5. Are you of the opinion that there are too few prosecutions?

6. What should be done to improve the system?

Let me know if you have any questions about this request or the research project. I look forward to hearing from you.

Subject Interview Reminder - Preview Questions

Craig:

This is just to remind you of the interview appointment we had set up for 2 PM, Friday, January 13. I'll accompany our consultants, Job Serebrov and Tova Wang, to your office. I invited both of them to submit questions in advance of the interview. The questions they have submitted so far, are attached. I realize that you may not have the answers to questions involving Voting Section activities. Perhaps you can recommend someone in that section who could answer such questions.

Look forward to seeing you!

Hi, Job and Tova:

Tony Sirvello (former election director for Harris County, TX and current Executive Director of the International Association of Clerks, Recorders, Election Officials and Treasurers) can make himself available for an interview next Wednesday morning (4/12). He is on CST. Is there a time that works well for the two of you? How about 10 AM CST/11 AM EST? I saw Kevin Kennedy at a meeting in our office this past Tuesday. We are trying to set up an interview with him next Tuesday (4/11).

I asked Donsanto about an updated version of his Prosecution of Election Offenses. He responded that it is at the printers and will not be available for a couple of months. In the interim, he referred me to the white paper he did for IFES, which I have attached. He said that the white paper includes the same information on the prosecution of election fraud that will be in the book. --- Peggy

Subject Your Input Requested-Voting Fraud/Voter Intimidation Project

Barry:

Hope you have been doing well. Scott Lansell (IFES) was in the office last week and spoke well of you. He said that you had worked with IFES on a project they were doing in Africa.

I am now working for the new Election Assistance Commission (EAC), as the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA) required the transfer of the FEC's Office of Election Administration to EAC. I have been assigned to manage the U.S. Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) preliminary research project on voting fraud and voter intimidation. I wondered if you would be interested in and available to serve on a project working group for EAC's preliminary research on voting fraud and voter intimidation. I appreciated your insight when we worked on the implementation of NVRA, and hope that you will be available to provide us the benefit of your expertise.

EAC is conducting this research to meet HAVA requirements. Section 241 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 requires EAC to conduct research on election administration issues. Among the issues listed in the statute are the development of:

012618

- nationwide statistics and methods of identifying, deterring, and investigating voting fraud in elections for Federal office [section 241(b)(6)]; and
- methods of identifying, deterring, and investigating methods of voter intimidation [section 241(b)(7)].

EAC's Board of Advisors recommended that EAC make research on these topics a high priority. Subsequently, the Commission contracted with two consultants (Tova Wang and Job Serebrov) to:

- develop a comprehensive description of what constitutes voting fraud and voter intimidation in the context of Federal elections;
- perform preliminary research on these topics (including Federal and State administrative and case law review), identify related activities of key government agencies and civic and advocacy organizations, and deliver a summary of this research and all source documentation;
- convene a meeting of a project working group composed of key individuals and representatives of organizations knowledgeable about the topics of voting fraud and voter intimidation, provide the results of the preliminary research to the working group, and record the working group's deliberations; and
- produce a report to EAC summarizing the findings of the preliminary research effort and working group deliberations that includes recommendations for future EAC action.

The working group members would need to review the results of preliminary research done by the two consultants to EAC and brainstorm ideas for future EAC action in this area, if any. I expect that the group will meet only once this year, probably in April in DC.

Please call me or send an email if you have any questions about the project or this request. I look forward to hearing from you.

Hi again,

I'm just scanning over Devon's collection and do not believe she could have possibly searched all of the terms we gave her. I am aware of tons of articles that were written on many of these topics in 2004 that do not appear in the folder. I think someone is going to have to do it over again from scratch, and I'm thinking about doing at least some of it myself. We should discuss this in detail on Thursday. Thanks.

It will be easiest to meet in office, which is at 1800 G St NW, 7th floor. (You can call as you approach or when you get to the 7th floor.) I can patch anyone in by phone.

Much of the information you have requested is, as you can imagine, internal. I'll get you as much as we can, however, and look forward to talking with you.

Dear John:

This is just to confirm the interview I set up with you this Friday at 2 PM. I'll bring Tova Wang, one of the two consultants on the project. Would it be possible to bring the other consultant into the conference via speaker phone? (He is in Little Rock, AR, so it would be a long distance call.)

I assume that we should go to the main entrance for 950 Pennsylvania Ave, NW and that Security will let you know when we've arrived. Is that correct?

In reviewing the great materials you gave our consultants, we have not found an updated draft of your famous Prosecution of Election Offenses. Is that available for review? If you have a pdf version, I could pass that on to our consultants (noting any restrictions you may have on use).

Also, we noticed some gaps in the 2004 DOJ training binder. It appears that we are missing the Chris Herren information from Panel 3 and something titled "July 21, 2004" from Panel 4. If these were removed because we should not see them, just let me know.

I also have to check your availability the week of May15. I'm still trying to find a date that everyone will be available for the working group meeting.

Hi Peg,

I got all of Tamar's emails from yesterday, but I guess I am still missing the 29th if she sent something on that day.

Also, will we be getting statements reflecting our payments? The number of dollars in my account isn't exactly the number I calculated, but I can't tell if there were withholdings or its because of something else. Thanks.

Hope you are enjoying the weekend.

Sent: Wednesday, February 08, 2006 4:49 PM
To: Tanner, John K (CRT)
Subject: Interview Request Re EAC Research on Voting Fraud and Voter Intimidation

Dear John:

I have been assigned to manage the U.S. Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) preliminary research project on voting fraud and voter intimidation. Obviously, obtaining information regarding the Voting Section's actions against voter intimidation and other voting rights violations is important to this effort. Would you be available for an interview by our project consultants on February 24 at 2:00 PM? The interview may take place by phone, or one of the consultants may visit your office and connect the other consultant by phone.

Background

Section 241 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 requires EAC to conduct research on election administration issues. Among the issues listed in the statute are the development of:

nationwide statistics and methods of identifying, deterring, and investigating voting fraud in elections for Federal office [section 241(b)(6)]; and methods of identifying, deterring, and investigating methods of voter intimidation [section 241(b)(7)].

EAC's Board of Advisors recommended that EAC make research on these topics a high priority. Subsequently, the Commission contracted with two consultants (Tova Wang and Job Serebrov) to:

develop a comprehensive description of what constitutes voting fraud and voter intimidation in the context of Federal elections;
perform preliminary research on these topics (including Federal and State administrative and case law review), identify related activities of key government agencies and civic and advocacy organizations, and deliver a summary of this research and all source documentation;
convene a meeting of a project working group composed of key individuals and representatives of organizations knowledgeable about the topics of voting fraud and voter intimidation, provide the results of the preliminary research to the working group, and record the working group's deliberations; and produce a report to EAC summarizing the findings of the preliminary research effort and working group deliberations that includes recommendations for future EAC action, if any.

Possible Questions

Possible interview questions include the following:

1. According to a GAO report dated September 14, 2004 entitled Department of Justice's Activities to Address Past Election-Related Voting Irregularities, the "Voting Section has used several means of tracking allegations of voting irregularities and the Section's actions with regard to those allegations. First, the Voting Section used telephone logs to track telephone calls regarding allegations of voting irregularities it received related to the November 2000 and 2002 elections. Second, DOJ tracks matters and cases through its Interactive Case Management (ICM) system-its formal process for tracking and managing work activities. Third, the Voting Section tracked monitoring of elections using logs and for some election-monitoring activities they opened matters; thus, it has not routinely tracked election-monitoring activities through the ICM system."

Can you provide us with the following:

- a) The telephone logs referred to in the report
- b) The matters and cases tracked through the Interactive Case Management (ICM) system
- c) The other logs referred to in the report
- d) Any other data the division has maintained electronically during the last three federal election cycles

2. The division deployed thousands of observers to polling sites throughout the country in 2002, 2003, and 2004.

Can you provide us with the following:

- a) Any reports that were developed with respect to those efforts, before, during and after it implementation
- b) Any field notes from federal attorneys and their staff
- c) Information on any lawsuits and/or prosecutions for voter intimidation and/or suppression from the last five years

3. Does it matter if the complaint does or does not comes from a member of a racial or language minority?

4. What kinds of complaints would routinely override principals of federalism?

5. Are you of the opinion that there are too few prosecutions?

6. What should be done to improve the system?

Let me know if you have any questions about this request or the research project. I look forward to hearing from you.

Hi, Job and Tova:

Tony Sirvello (former election director for Harris County, TX and current Executive Director of the International Association of Clerks, Recorders, Election Officials and Treasurers) can make himself available for an interview next Wednesday morning (4/12). He is on CST. Is there a time that works well for the two of you? How about 10 AM CST/11 AM EST? I saw Kevin Kennedy at a meeting in our office this past Tuesday. We are trying to set up an interview with him next Tuesday (4/11).

I asked Donsanto about an updated version of his Prosecution of Election Offenses. He responded that it is at the printers and will not be available for a couple of months. In the interim, he referred me to the white paper he did for IFES, which I have attached. He said that the white paper includes the same information on the prosecution of election fraud that will be in the book. --- Peggy

First, I am trying to schedule a meeting of the project working group for EAC's Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation research project. As a technical advisor on this project, your attendance is particularly important to me. Would you please look at your schedule and let me know if there are any days during the first 2 weeks of May that you would NOT be available?

Second, is it OK for our consultants to refer in their report to guidance provided in the DOJ training materials? I ask this because I understood that some materials in the materials are considered confidential and we do not want to violate your confidentiality provisions. If there is a compromise position, such as having you review that portion of the consultants' report, then let me know.

Hi Peg,

I just wanted to check in on a few things:

Have we figured out how we are doing the Sandler interview?

Where are we at with getting the copies of the Donsanto materials?

Have you been able to touch base with Mike McCarthy, Kevin Kennedy, Connie McCormick, Sarah Ball Johnson or Tom Harrison at all?

Where do we stand with the local official for the working group?

Thank you!!! And I look forward to seeing you Friday.

Hi, John:

I apologize that I will not be there this afternoon to introduce you to our consultants for EAC's Voting Fraud/Voter Intimidation project. Tova Wang will be at your office at 2 PM, today. She can call our other consultant, Job Serebrov, and put him on speaker phone. Please let me know if you need anything from me, or want to express any concerns about the project. Thanks.

Job and Tova:

I'd like to suggest a moratorium on adding interviewees to the list until we complete interviews on the last list prepared. Frankly, in terms of the enforcement mechanics, I think you will get more out of your interviews with Donsanto, Tanner, and Joe Rich than you will get from an interview with Hans. Hans worked at DOJ for a relatively short time, compared to those folks. You also will have input from Barry Weinberg (former Deputy Chief, Voting Section, Civil Rights Division, DOJ) who has confirmed that he is available for the Working Group.

Regarding upcoming interviews that I schedule for you two, are there any times that you are NOT available next week or the week thereafter?

Dear John:

This is just to confirm the interview I set up with you this Friday at 2 PM. I'll bring Tova Wang, one of the two consultants on the project. Would it be possible to bring the other consultant into the conference via speaker phone? (He is in Little Rock, AR, so it would be a long distance call.)

I assume that we should go to the main entrance for 950 Pennsylvania Ave, NW and that Security will let you know when we've arrived. Is that correct?

Hi again,

I'm just scanning over Devon's collection and do not believe she could have possibly searched all of the terms we gave her. I am aware of tons of articles that were written on many of these topics in 2004 that do not appear in the folder. I think someone is going to have to do it over again from scratch, and I'm thinking about doing at least some of it myself. We should discuss this in detail on Thursday. Thanks.

Hi Peg,

I think I might have told you only that I am unavailable on the 5th. I'm actually unavailable on the 4th as well. Any news on this front? We should also arrange a conference call next week about preparing for the meeting, don't you think? Thanks Tova

Subject RE: Announcement of FBI Election Crimes Initiative

Peg --

This is essentially FBI's equivalent of the Department's Ballot Access and Integrity Initiative. The news conference on Thursday announced that FBI was enhancing its prioritization of campaign financing offenses. The main feature of this initiative, aside from enhancing the priority these cases will get in the Bureau, is that each of the Bureau's 57 Field Divisions will have at least one "Election Coordinator Agent" who will be the equivalent of the District Election Officer AUSAs. We have been training these new FBI-types: the week before last we had roughly 75 of them in Denver in a very well received two-day session in election law enforcement at which several FEC people spoke. On Wednesday, I head out to Portland, Oregon for more of the same.

Hi, Craig:

Tova noticed an article about an FBI initiative against election crimes (see attached email). Is this something new, or is it more of the same initiative that you addressed in your interview? If it is new, would you have time for a teleconference with Job and Tova to answer any questions they may have on the initiative?

I will now begin sending several emails with material for the working group meeting. Peg, we still have not heard back from you on whether you like the agenda. I have attached it again. With respect to the interview and research summaries, would you both please review them to make sure there are no glaring mistakes?

Are we going on a hiatus next week? I'm a little confused about what happens from here. Tova

That's what I am concerned about. I think we need to end all interviews with Sarah Ball Johnson. With the literature reviews I am finishing, the case write up and the Tova's Nexis research that I need to read, I will have about 45 hours left for the Working Group meeting and final write up.
