As New Yorks HAVA fund distribution program does not provide for the direct release of federal funds to counties, the State Board of Elections administers several programs that allow for the disbursements of HAVA funds to reimburse counties for expenditures in the name of either implementing HAVA itself, or furthering the goals and objectives of HAVA. In 2022, New York State administered nine days of early voting prior to the Federal Primary and General Election. In addition, the State of New York continued to allow any registered voter to request an absentee ballot if they were concerned about contracting a communicable disease such as the coronavirus. New York's HAVA 251 grant covered expenses incurred for a variety of materials and services related to administering the 2022 Primary and General Elections including, but not limited to: Supplies and materials for use by voters during Early Voting and on Election Day, pens, privacy booths, clip-on booth lights, signs, stands, etc., supplies and materials for use by Poll Workers during Early Voting and on Election Day, voting machine accessories for use during Early Voting and on Election Day, printer toner, backup power supplies/batteries, headphones and audio tactile interfaces for use with Ballot Marking Devices, extension cords, memory cards etc., voting system hardware, and Clear Count Audit Tool, central count scanner hardware, replacement hardware for Election Management Systems.
