|              |       |          |      |       | would drive the voters to the clerk's office where they would vote by absentee ballot and defendant would give them beer or money. Defendant claimed he was entitled to a mistrial because the prosecutor advanced an impermissible "sending the message" argument. The court held that it was precluded from reviewing the entire context in which the |                              |             |                                       |

008991

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case | Court    | Citation | Date   | Facts     | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|----------|--------|-----------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |          |        |           | argument arose because, while the prosecutor's closing argument was in the record, the defense counsel's closing argument was not. Also, because the prosecutor's statement was incomplete due to defense counsel's objection, the court could not say that the statement made it impossible for defendant to receive a fair trial. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Wilson v.    | Court of | 2000 Va. | May 2, | Defendant | At trial, the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case | Court               | Citation       | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------------|----------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Commonwealth | Appeals of Virginia | App. LEXIS 322 | 2000 | appealed the judgment of the circuit court which convicted her of election fraud. | Commonwealth introduced substantial testimony and documentary evidence that defendant had continued to live at one residence in the 13th District, long after she stated on the voter registration form that she was living at a residence in the 51st House District. The evidence included records showing electricity and water usage, records from |                              |             |                                       |

008993

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the Department of Motor Vehicles and school records. Thus, the evidence was sufficient to support the jury's verdict that defendant made "a false material statement" on the voter registration card required to be filed in order for her to be a candidate for office in the primary in question. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |   |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |   |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---------|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |

008995

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case         | Court                    | Citation            | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--------------------------|---------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Townson v. Stonicher | Supreme Court of Alabama | 2005 Ala. LEXIS 214 | December 9, 2005 | The circuit court overturned the results of a mayoral election after reviewing the absentee ballots cast for said election, resulting in a loss for appellant incumbent based on the votes received from appellee voters. The incumbent appealed, and the voters cross--appealed. In the meantime, the trial court stayed enforcement of | The voters and the incumbent all challenged the judgment entered by the trial court arguing that it impermissibly included or excluded certain votes. The appeals court agreed with the voters that the trial court should have excluded the votes of those voters for the incumbent who included an improper form of identification with their absentee ballots. It was undisputed that | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

008996

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | its judgment pending resolution of the appeal. | at least 30 absentee voters who voted for the incumbent provided with their absentee ballots a form of identification that was not proper under Alabama law. As a result, the court further agreed that the trial court erred in allowing those voters to somewhat "cure" that defect by providing a proper form of identification at the trial of the election contest, because, under those |                              |             |                                       |

008997

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | circumstances, it was difficult to conclude that those voters made an honest effort to comply with the law. Moreover, to count the votes of voters who failed to comply with the essential requirement of submitting proper identification with their absentee ballots had the effect of disenfranchising qualified electors who choose not to vote but rather than to make the effort to comply |                              |             |                                       |

008998

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case     | Court         | Citation        | Date             | Facts                  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---------------|-----------------|------------------|------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |               |                 |                  |                        | with the absentee--voting requirements. The judgment declaring the incumbent's opponent the winner was affirmed. The judgment counting the challenged votes in the final tally of votes was reversed, and said votes were subtracted from the incumbents total, and the stay was vacated. All other arguments were rendered moot as a result. |                              |             |                                       |
| ACLU of Minn. v. | United States | 2004 U.S. Dist. | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voters and | Plaintiffs argued that Minn. Stat.  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

008999

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation    | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|-------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Kiffmeyer    | District Court for the District of Minnesota | LEXIS 22996 |      | associations, filed for a temporary restraining order pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 65, against defendant, Minnesota Secretary of State, concerning voter registration. | § 201.061 was inconsistent with the Help America Vote Act because it did not authorize the voter to complete registration either by a "current and valid photo identification" or by use of a current utility bill, bank statement, government check, paycheck, or other government document that showed the name and address of the |                              |             |                                       |

000600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | individual. The Secretary advised the court that there were less than 600 voters who attempted to register by mail but whose registrations were deemed incomplete. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on their claim that the authorization in Minn. Stat. § 201.061, sub. 3, violated the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Amendment of the United States Constitution insofar as it did not also authorize the use of a photographic tribal identification card by American Indians who do not reside on their tribal reservations. Also, the court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on their claims that Minn. R. 8200.5100, |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |  |                  |   | violated the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution. A temporary restraining order was entered.  |                              |             |                                       |
| League of Women Voters v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 340 F. Supp. 2d 823; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20926 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations filed suit against defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, claiming that a directive issued by the Secretary contravened the provisions of the Help America Vote Act. The Secretary filed a motion to | The directive in question instructed election officials to issue provisional ballots to first-time voters who registered by mail but did not provide documentary identification at the polling place on election day. When submitting a provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009003

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts    | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|----------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | dismiss. | ballot, a first--time voter could identify himself by providing his driver's license number or the last four digits of his social security number. If he did not know either number, he could provide it before the polls closed. If he did not do so, his provisional ballot would not be counted. The court held that the directive did not contravene the HAVA and otherwise established reasonable |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | requirements for confirming the identity of first-time voters who registered to vote by mail because: (1) the identification procedures were an important bulwark against voter misconduct and fraud; (2) the burden imposed on first-time voters to confirm their identity, and thus show that they were voting legitimately, was slight; and (3) the number of voters unable to meet the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | burden of proving their identity was likely to be very small. Thus, the balance of interests favored the directive, even if the cost, in terms of uncounted ballots, was regrettable. The court granted the Secretary's motion to dismiss. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case               | Court  | Citation                                      | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| New York v. County of Del. | United States District Court for the Northern District of New York | 82 F. Supp. 2d 12; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 1398 | February 8, 2000 | Plaintiffs brought a claim in the district court under the Americans With Disabilities Act and filed a motion for a preliminary injunction and motion for leave to amend their complaint, and defendants were ordered to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued. | In their complaint plaintiffs alleged that defendants violated the ADA by making the voting locations inaccessible to disabled persons and asked for a preliminary injunction requiring defendants to come into compliance before the next election. The court found that defendants were the correct parties, because | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | pursuant to New York election law defendants were responsible for the voting locations. The court further found that the class plaintiffs represented would suffer irreparable harm if they were not able to vote, because, if the voting locations were inaccessible, disabled persons would be denied the right to vote. Also, due to the alleged |                              |             |                                       |

800600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case                    | Court                  | Citation                | Date             | Facts                             | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|-------------------------|------------------|-----------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                 |                        |                         |                  |                                   | facts, the court found plaintiffs would likely succeed on the merits. Consequently, the court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction and granted plaintiffs' motion for leave to amend their complaint. |                              |             |                                       |
| New York v. County of Schoharie | United States District | 82 F. Supp. 2d 19; 2000 | February 8, 2000 | Plaintiffs brought a claim in the | In their complaint, plaintiffs   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

600600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court                                       | Citation              | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|-----------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Court for the Northern District of New York | U.S. Dist. LEXIS 1399 |      | district court under the Americans With Disabilities Act and filed a motion for a preliminary injunction and a motion for leave to amend their complaint, and defendants were ordered to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued. | alleged defendants violated the ADA by allowing voting locations to be inaccessible for disabled persons and asked for a preliminary injunction requiring defendants to come into compliance before the next election. The court found that defendants were the correct party, because pursuant to New York election law, |                              |             |                                       |

009010

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | defendants were responsible for the voting locations. The court further found that the class plaintiffs represented would suffer irreparable harm if they were not able to vote, because, if the voting locations were inaccessible, disabled persons would be denied the right to vote. Also, the court found that plaintiffs would likely succeed on the |                              |             |                                       |

009011

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | merits of their case. Consequently, the court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction because plaintiffs showed irreparable harm and proved likely success on the merits and granted plaintiff's motion for leave to amend the complaint. |                              |             |                                       |

009012

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case  | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Westchester Disabled on the Move, Inc. v. County of Westchester | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 346 F. Supp. 2d 473; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24203 | October 22, 2004 | Plaintiffs sued defendant county, county board of elections, and election officials pursuant to 42 U.S.C.S. §§ 12131--12134, N.Y. Exec. Law § 296, and N.Y. Elec. Law § 4--1--4. Plaintiffs moved for a preliminary injunction, requesting (among other things) that the court order defendants to modify the polling places in the county so that they | The inability to vote at assigned locations on election day constituted irreparable harm. However, plaintiffs could not show a likelihood of success on the merits because the currently named defendants could not provide complete relief sought by plaintiffs. Although the county board of elections was empowered to | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009013

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | were accessible to disabled voters on election day. Defendants moved to dismiss. | select an alternative polling place should it determine that a polling place designated by a municipality was "unsuitable or unsafe," it was entirely unclear that its power to merely designate suitable polling places would be adequate to ensure that all polling places used in the upcoming election actually conformed |                              |             |                                       |

009014

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Substantial changes and modifications to existing facilities would have to be made, and such changes would be difficult, if not impossible, to make without the cooperation of municipalities. Further, the court could order defendants to approve voting machines that conformed to |                              |             |                                       |

009015

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the ADA were they to be purchased and submitted for county approval, but the court could not order them to purchase them for the voting districts in the county. A judgment issued in the absence of the municipalities would be inadequate. Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction was denied, and defendants' motion to dismiss was granted. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case                            | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Nat'l Org. on Disability v. Tartaglione | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania | 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16731 | October 11, 2001 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters and special interest organizations, sued defendants, city commissioners, under the Americans with Disabilities Act and § 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and regulations under both statutes, regarding election practices. The commissioners moved to dismiss for failure (1) to | The voters were visually impaired or wheelchair bound. They challenged the commissioners' failure to provide talking voting machines and wheelchair accessible voting places. They claimed discrimination in the process of voting because they were not afforded the same opportunity to participate in the voting process as non-disabled | No                           | N/A         | Yes-see if the case was refiled       |

009017

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | state a cause of action and (2) to join an indispensable party. | voters, and assisted voting and voting by alternative ballot were substantially different from, more burdensome than, and more intrusive than the voting process utilized by non--disabled voters. The court found that the complaint stated causes of actions under the ADA, the Rehabilitation Act, and 28 C.F.R. §§ 35.151 and |                              |             |                                       |

009018

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 35.130. The court found that the voters and organizations had standing to raise their claims. The organizations had standing through the voters' standing or because they used significant resources challenging the commissioners' conduct. The plaintiffs failed to join the state official who would need to approve any talking voting machine as a |                              |             |                                       |

009019

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | party. As the court could not afford complete relief to the visually impaired voters in that party's absence, it granted the motion to dismiss under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(7) without prejudice. The court granted the commissioners' motion to dismiss in part, and denied it in part. The court granted the motion to dismiss the claims of the |                              |             |                                       |

009020

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case                                | Court                       | Citation   | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-----------------------------|--|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                             |  |              |  | visually impaired voters for failure to join an indispensable party, without prejudice, and with leave to amend the complaint.  |                              |             |                                       |
| TENNESSEE, Petitioner v. GEORGE LANE et al. | United States Supreme Court | 541 U.S. 509; 124 S. Ct. 1978; 158 L. Ed. 2d 820; 2004 U.S. LEXIS 3386 | May 17, 2004 | Respondent paraplegics sued petitioner State of Tennessee, alleging that the State failed to provide reasonable access to court facilities in violation of Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act | The state contended that the abrogation of state sovereign immunity in Title II of the ADA exceeded congressional authority under U.S. Const. amend XIV, § 5, to enforce substantive constitutional guarantees. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009021

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of 1990. Upon the grant of a writ of certiorari, the State appealed the judgment of the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit which denied the State's claim of sovereign immunity. | The United States Supreme Court held, however, that Title II, as it applied to the class of cases implicating the fundamental right of access to the courts, constituted a valid exercise of Congress's authority. Title II was responsive to evidence of pervasive unequal treatment of persons with disabilities in the administration of state |                              |             |                                       |

009022

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | services and programs, and such disability discrimination was thus an appropriate subject for prophylactic legislation. Regardless of whether the State could be subjected to liability for failing to provide access to other facilities or services, the fundamental right of access to the courts warranted the limited requirement that the State reasonably |                              |             |                                       |

009023

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | accommodate disabled persons to provide such access. Title II was thus a reasonable prophylactic measure, reasonably targeted to a legitimate end. The judgment denying the State's claim of sovereign immunity was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation                                | Date           | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|----------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Bell v. Marinko | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 367 F.3d 588; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8330 | April 28, 2004 | Plaintiffs, registered voters, sued defendants, Ohio Board of Elections and Board members, alleging that Ohio Rev. Code Ann. §§ 3509.19--3509.21 violated the National Voter Registration Act, and the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | The voters asserted that § 3503.02---- which stated that the place where the family of a married man or woman resided was considered to be his or her place of residence---- violated the equal protection clause. The court of appeals found that the Board's procedures did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act because Congress did | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009025

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | granted summary judgment in favor of defendants. The voters appealed. | not intend to bar the removal of names from the official list of persons who were ineligible and improperly registered to vote in the first place. The National Voter Registration Act did not bar the Board's continuing consideration of a voter's residence, and encouraged the Board to maintain accurate and reliable voting rolls. Ohio was free to take reasonable steps to see that |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | all applicants for registration to vote actually fulfilled the requirement of bona fide residence. Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3503.02(D) did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act. Because the Board did not raise an irrebuttable presumption in applying § 3502.02(D), the voters suffered no equal protection violation. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case           | Court                        | Citation                | Date        | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------|-------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Wilson v. Commonwealth | Court of Appeals of Virginia | 2000 Va. App. LEXIS 322 | May 2, 2000 | Defendant appealed the judgment of the circuit court which convicted her of election fraud. | On appeal, defendant argued that the evidence was insufficient to support her conviction because it failed to prove that she made a willfully false statement on her voter registration form and, even if the evidence did prove that she made such a statement, it did not prove that the voter registration form was the form required by Title 24.2. At trial, the Commonwealth | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | introduced substantial testimony and documentary evidence that defendant had continued to live at one residence in the 13th District, long after she stated on the voter registration form that she was living at a residence in the 51st House District. The evidence included records showing electricity and water usage, records from the Department |                              |             |                                       |

009029

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | of Motor Vehicles and school records. Thus, the evidence was sufficient to support the jury's verdict that defendant made "a false material statement" on the voter registration card required to be filed by Title 24.2 in order for her to be a candidate for office in the primary in question. Judgment of conviction affirmed. Evidence, including |                              |             |                                       |

009030

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case     | Court         | Citation        | Date             | Facts                  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---------------|-----------------|------------------|------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |               |                 |                  |                        | records showing electricity and water usage, records from the Department of Motor Vehicles and school records, was sufficient to support jury's verdict that defendant made "a false material statement" on the voter registration card required to be filed in order for her to be a candidate for office in the primary in question. |                              |             |                                       |
| ACLU of Minn. v. | United States | 2004 U.S. Dist. | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voters and | Plaintiffs argued that   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation    | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|-------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Kiffmeyer    | District Court for the District of Minnesota | LEXIS 22996 |      | associations, filed for a temporary restraining order pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 65, against defendant, Minnesota Secretary of State, concerning voter registration. | Minn. Stat. § 201.061 was inconsistent with the Help America Vote Act because it did not authorize the voter to complete registration either by a "current and valid photo identification" or by use of a current utility bill, bank statement, government check, paycheck, or other government document that showed the name and |                              |             |                                       |

009032

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | address of the individual. The Secretary advised the court that there were less than 600 voters who attempted to register by mail but whose registrations were deemed incomplete. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on their claim that the authorization in Minn. Stat. § 201.061, sub. 3, violated the Equal |                              |             |                                       |

009033

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution insofar as it did not also authorize the use of a photographic tribal identification card by American Indians who do not reside on their tribal reservations. Also, the court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on |                              |             |                                       |

009034

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case                 | Court  | Citation  | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------------|--|---|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                              |  |   |                   |  | their claims that Minn. R. 8200.5100, violated the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution. A temporary restraining order was entered.                       |                              |             |                                       |
| Kalsson v. United States FEC | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 356 F. Supp. 2d 371; 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2279 | February 16, 2005 | Defendant Federal Election Commission filed a motion to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction plaintiff individual's action, which sought a declaration that | The individual claimed that his vote was diluted because the NVRA resulted in more people registering to vote than otherwise would have been the case. The court held that the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | the National Voter Registration Act was unconstitutional on the theories that its enactment was not within the enumerated powers of the federal government and that it violated Article II of the United States Constitution. | individual lacked standing to bring the action. Because New York was not obliged to adhere to the requirements of the NVRA, the individual did not allege any concrete harm. If New York simply adopted election day registration for elections for federal office, it would have been entirely free of the NVRA just as were five other states. Even if the individual's vote were diluted, and |                              |             |                                       |

009036

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court      | Citation | Date        | Facts     | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|------------|----------|-------------|-----------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |            |          |             |           | even if such an injury in other circumstances might have sufficed for standing, any dilution that he suffered was the result of New York's decision to maintain a voter registration system that brought it under the NVRA, not the NVRA itself. The court granted the motion to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. |                              |             |                                       |
| Peace &      | California | 114 Cal. | January 15, | Plaintiff | The trial court  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009037

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case             | Court                                     | Citation  | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------|---|---|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Freedom Party v. Shelley | Court of Appeal, Third Appellate District | App. 4th 1237; 8 Cal. Rptr. 3d 497; 2004 Cal. App. LEXIS 42 | 2004 | political party appealed a judgment from the superior court which denied the party's petition for writ of mandate to compel defendant, the California Secretary of State, to include voters listed in the inactive file of registered voters in calculating whether the party qualified to participate in a primary election. | ruled that inactive voters were excluded from the primary election calculation. The court of appeals affirmed, observing that although the election had already taken place, the issue was likely to recur and was a matter of continuing public interest and importance; hence, a decision on the merits was proper, although the |                              |             |                                       |

009038

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | case was technically moot. The law clearly excluded inactive voters from the calculation. The statutory scheme did not violate the inactive voters' constitutional right of association because it was reasonably designed to ensure that all parties on the ballot had a significant modicum of support from eligible voters. Information in the inactive file |                              |             |                                       |

009039

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was unreliable and often duplicative of information in the active file. Moreover, there was no violation of the National Voter Registration Act because voters listed as inactive were not prevented from voting. Although the Act prohibited removal of voters from the official voting list absent certain conditions, inactive voters in California could correct the record and |                              |             |                                       |

070600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case      | Court  | Citation                                 | Date               | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|--|--|--------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |  |  |                    |  | vote. Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| McKay v. Thompson | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 226 F.3d 752; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 23387 | September 18, 2000 | Plaintiff challenged order of United States District Court for Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga, which granted defendant state election officials summary judgment on plaintiff's action seeking to stop the state practice of requiring its citizens to disclose their social security numbers as a precondition to voter registration. | The trial court had granted defendant state election officials summary judgment. The court declined to overrule defendants' administrative determination that state law required plaintiff to disclose his social security number because the interpretation appeared to be reasonable, did not conflict with previous caselaw, and could be | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | challenged in state court. The requirement did not violate the Privacy Act because it was grand fathered under the terms of the Act. The limitations in the National Voter Registration Act did not apply because the NVRA did not specifically prohibit the use of social security numbers and the Act contained a more specific provision regarding such use. Plaintiff |                              |             |                                       |

009042

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | could not enforce § 1971 as it was enforceable only by the United States Attorney General. The trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims. Although the trial court arguably erred in denying certification of the case to the USAG under |                              |             |                                       |

009043

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 28 U.S.C.S. § 2403(a), plaintiff suffered no harm from the technical violation. Order affirmed because requirement that voters disclose social security numbers as precondition to voter registration did not violate Privacy Act of 1974 or National Voter Registration Act and trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental |                              |             |                                       |

009047

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case                               | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |  |  |                  |  | right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Lucas County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 341 F. Supp. 2d 861; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21416 | October 21, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations brought an action challenging a memorandum issued by defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, in December 2003. The organizations claimed that the memorandum contravened provisions of the Help America Vote | The case involved a box on Ohio's voter registration form that required a prospective voter who registered in person to supply an Ohio driver's license number or the last four digits of their Social Security number. In his memorandum, the Secretary informed all | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Act and the National Voter Registration Act. The organizations moved for a preliminary injunction. | Ohio County Boards of Elections that, if a person left the box blank, the Boards were not to process the registration forms. The organizations did not file their suit until 18 days before the national election. The court found that there was not enough time before the election to develop the evidentiary record necessary to determine if the organizations |                              |             |                                       |

970600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | were likely to succeed on the merits of their claim. Denying the organizations' motion would have caused them to suffer no irreparable harm. There was no appropriate remedy available to the organizations at the time. The likelihood that the organizations could have shown irreparable harm was, in any event, slight in view of the fact that |                              |             |                                       |

009047

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case                                   | Court                            | Citation                             | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                                  |                                      |              |   | they waited so long before filing suit. Moreover, it would have been entirely improper for the court to order the Boards to re--open in--person registration until election day. The public interest would have been ill--served by an injunction. The motion for a preliminary injunction was denied sua sponte. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l Coalition for Students with Disabilities | United States District Court for | 150 F. Supp. 2d 845; 2001 U.S. Dist. | July 5, 2001 | Plaintiff, national organization for disabled | Defendants alleged that plaintiff lacked standing to  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

870600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case                      | Court                    | Citation   | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------|------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Educ. & Legal Def. Fund v. Scales | the District of Maryland | LEXIS 9528 |      | students, brought an action against university president and university's director of office of disability support services to challenge the voter registration procedures established by the disability support services. Defendants moved to dismiss the first amended complaint, or in the alternative for summary judgment. | represent its members, and that plaintiff had not satisfied the notice requirements of the National Voter Registration Act. Further, defendants maintained the facts, as alleged by plaintiff, did not give rise to a past, present, or future violation of the NVRA because (1) the plaintiff's members that requested voter registration services were not registered |                              |             |                                       |

0090600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | students at the university and (2) its current voter registration procedures complied with NVRA. As to plaintiff's § 1983 claim, the court held that while plaintiff had alleged sufficient facts to confer standing under the NVRA, such allegations were not sufficient to support standing on its own behalf on the § 1983 claim. As to the NVRA claim, |                              |             |                                       |

009050

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the court found that the agency practice of only offering voter registration services at the initial intake interview and placing the burden on disabled students to obtain voter registration forms and assistance afterwards did not satisfy its statutory duties. Furthermore, most of the NVRA provisions applied to disabled applicants not registered at the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case       | Court                        | Citation                                 | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|------------------------------|--|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |                              |  |               |   | university. Defendants' motion to dismiss first amended complaint was granted as to the § 1983 claimant denied as to plaintiff's claims brought under the National Voter Registration Act of 1993. Defendants' alternative motion for summary judgment was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| People v. Disimone | Court of Appeals of Michigan | 251 Mich. App. 605; 650 N.W.2d 436; 2002 | July 11, 2002 | Defendant was charged with attempting to vote more than once in the | Defendant was registered in the Colfax township for the 2000  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009052

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation             | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | Mich. App. LEXIS 826 |      | 2000 general election. The circuit court granted defendant's motion that the State had to prove specific intent. The State appealed. | general election. After presenting what appeared to be a valid voter's registration card, defendant proceeded to vote in the Grant township. Defendant had voted in the Colfax township earlier in the day. Defendant moved the court to issue an order that the State had to find that he had a specific intent to vote twice in order to be convicted. The appellate court |                              |             |                                       |

009053

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | reversed the circuit court judgment and held that under the rules of statutory construction, the fact that the legislature had specifically omitted certain trigger words such as "knowingly," "willingly," "purposefully," or "intentionally" it was unlikely that the legislature had intended for this to be a specific intent crime. The court also rejected the |                              |             |                                       |

009054

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court                  | Citation                   | Date             | Facts                                  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|------------------------|----------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |                        |                            |                  |  | defendant's argument that phrases such as "offer to vote" and "attempt to vote" should be construed as synonymous terms, as when words with similar meanings were used in the same statute, it was presumed that the legislature intended to distinguish between the terms. The order of the circuit court was reversed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Diaz v. Hood | United States District | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1111; 2004 | October 26, 2004 | Plaintiffs, unions and individuals who | The putative voters sought injunctive relief   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009055

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court                                      | Citation               | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|------------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Court for the Southern District of Florida | U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21445 |      | had attempted to register to vote, sought a declaration of their rights to vote in the November 2, 2004 general election. They alleged that defendants, state and county election officials, refused to process their voter registrations for various failures to complete the registration forms. The election officials moved to dismiss the complaint for lack of standing | requiring the election officials to register them to vote. The court first noted that the unions lacked even representative standing, because they failed to show that one of their members could have brought the case in their own behalf. The individual putative voters raised separate issues: the first had failed to verify her mental capacity, the second failed to check a box |                              |             |                                       |

009056

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                         | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | and failure to state a claim. | indicating that he was not a felon, and the third did not provide the last four digits of her social security number on the form. They claimed the election officials violated federal and state law by refusing to register eligible voters because of nonmaterial errors or omissions in their voter registration applications, and by failing to provide any notice to voter |                              |             |                                       |

009057

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | applicants whose registration applications were deemed incomplete. In the first two cases, the election official had handled the errant application properly under Florida law, and the putative voter had effectively caused their own injury by failing to complete the registration. The third completed her form and was registered, so had suffered no |                              |             |                                       |

009058

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation  | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |              |  | injury. Standing failed against the secretary of state. The motions to dismiss the complaint were granted without prejudice.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. Found., Inc. v. Cox | United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia | 324 F. Supp. 2d 1358; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12120 | July 1, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a voter, fraternity members, and an organization, sought an injunction ordering defendant, the Georgia Secretary of State, to process the voter registration application forms that they mailed in | The organization participated in numerous non-partisan voter registration drives primarily designed to increase the voting strength of African--Americans. Following one such drive, the fraternity members | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009059

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | following a voter registration drive. They contended that by refusing to process the forms defendants violated the National Voter Registration Act and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, and XV. | mailed in over 60 registration forms, including one for the voter who had moved within state since the last election. The Georgia Secretary of State's office refused to process them because they were not mailed individually and neither a registrar, deputy registrar, or an otherwise authorized person had collected the applications as |                              |             |                                       |

009060

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | required under state law. The court held that plaintiffs had standing to bring the action. The court held that because the applications were received in accordance with the mandates of the NVRA, the State of Georgia was not free to reject them. The court found that: plaintiffs had a substantial likelihood of prevailing on the merits of their claim that |                              |             |                                       |

009061

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the applications were improperly rejected; plaintiffs would be irreparably injured absent an injunction; the potential harm to defendants was outweighed by plaintiffs' injuries; and an injunction was in the public interest. Plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction was granted. Defendants were ordered to process the applications received from |                              |             |                                       |

009062

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case     | Court         | Citation        | Date             | Facts                   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---------------|-----------------|------------------|-------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |               |                 |                  |                         | the organization to determine whether those registrants were qualified to vote. Furthermore, defendants were enjoined from rejecting any voter registration application on the grounds that it was mailed as part of a "bundle" or that it was collected by someone not authorized or any other reason contrary to the NVRA. |                              |             |                                       |
| Moseley v. Price | United States | 300 F. Supp. 2d | January 22, 2004 | Plaintiff alleged, that | The court concluded that  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009063

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation                       | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|--------------------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia | 389; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 850 |      | defendants' actions in investigating his voter registration application constituted a change in voting procedures requiring § 5 preclearance under the Voting Rights Act, which preclearance was never sought or received. Plaintiff claimed he withdrew from the race for Commonwealth Attorney because of the investigation. | plaintiff's claim under the Voting Rights Act lacked merit. Plaintiff did not allege, as required, that any defendants implemented a new, uncleared voting qualification or prerequisite to voting, or standard, practice, or procedure with respect to voting. Here, the existing practice or procedure in effect in the event a mailed registration card was |                              |             |                                       |

009064

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Defendants moved to dismiss the complaint. | returned was to "resend the voter card, if address verified as correct." This was what precisely occurred. Plaintiff inferred, however, that the existing voting rule or practice was to resend the voter card "with no adverse consequences" and that the county's initiation of an investigation constituted the implementation of a change that had not been pre--cleared. |                              |             |                                       |

009065

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | The court found the inference wholly unwarranted because nothing in the written procedure invited or justified such an inference. The court opined that common sense and state law invited a different inference, namely that while a returned card had to be resent if the address was verified as correct, any allegation of |                              |             |                                       |

990600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case       | Court  | Citation   | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|--|--|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |  |  |               |   | fraud could be investigated. Therefore, there was no new procedure for which preclearance was required. The court dismissed plaintiff's federal claims. The court dismissed the state law claims without prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| Thompson v. Karben | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, Second Department | 295 A.D.2d 438; 743 N.Y.S.2d 175; 2002 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6101 | June 10, 2002 | Respondents filed a motion seeking the cancellation of appellant's voter registration and political party enrollment on the ground that | Respondents alleged that appellant was unlawfully registered to vote from an address at which he did not reside and that he should   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009067

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | appellant was unlawfully registered to vote in a particular district. The Supreme Court, Rockland County, New York, ordered the cancellation of appellant's voter registration and party enrollment. Appellant challenged the trial court's order. | have voted from the address that he claimed as his residence. The appellate court held that respondents adduced insufficient proof to support the conclusion that appellant did not reside at the subject address. On the other hand, appellant submitted copies of his 2002 vehicle registration, 2000 and 2001 federal income tax returns, 2002 property tax bill, a May |                              |             |                                       |

890600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation  | Date      | Facts         | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--------|-----------|-----------|---------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |        |           |           |               | 2001 paycheck stub, and 2000 and 2001 retirement account statements all showing the subject address. Appellant also testified that he was a signatory on the mortgage of the subject address and that he kept personal belongings at that address. Respondents did not sustain their evidentiary burden. The judgment of the trial court was reversed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l Coalition | United | 2002 U.S. | August 2, | Plaintiffs, a | The court   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

690600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation          | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|-------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| v. Taft      | States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | Dist. LEXIS 22376 | 2002 | nonprofit public interest group and certain individuals, sued defendants, certain state and university officials, alleging that they violated the National Voter Registration Act in failing to designate the disability services offices at state public colleges and universities as voter registration sites. The group and individuals moved for a | found that the disability services offices at issue were subject to the NVRA because the term "office" included a subdivision of a government department or institution and the disability offices at issue were places where citizens regularly went for service and assistance. Moreover, the Ohio Secretary of State had an obligation under the NVRA to designate the |                              |             |                                       |

009070

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | preliminary injunction. | disability services offices as voter registration sites because nothing in the law superceded the NVRA's requirement that the responsible state official designate disability services offices as voter registration sites. Moreover, under Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3501.05(R), the Secretary of State's duties expressly included |                              |             |                                       |

009071

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ensuring compliance with the NVRA. The case was not moot even though the Secretary of State had taken steps to ensure compliance with the NVRA given his position to his obligation under the law. The court granted declaratory judgment in favor of the nonprofit organization and the individuals. The motion for a preliminary |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case            | Court                                  | Citation                           | Date        | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--|------------------------------------|-------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |  |                                    |             |  | injunction was granted in part and the Secretary of State was ordered to notify disabled students who had used the designated disability services offices prior to the opening day of the upcoming semester or who had pre-registered for the upcoming semester as to voter registration availability. |                              |             |                                       |
| Lawson v. Shelby County | United States Court of Appeals for the | 211 F.3d 331; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS | May 3, 2000 | Plaintiffs who were denied the right to vote when they | Plaintiffs attempted to register to vote in October, and   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009073

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court         | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Sixth Circuit | 8634     |      | refused to disclose their social security numbers, appealed a judgment of the United States District Court for the Western District of Tennessee at Memphis dismissing their amended complaint for failure to state claims barred by U.S. Const. amend. XI. | to vote in November, but were denied because they refused to disclose their social security numbers. A year after the election date they filed suit alleging denial of constitutional rights, privileges and immunities, the Privacy Act of 1974 and § 1983. The district court dismissed, finding the claims were barred by U.S. Const. amend. XI, and the one |                              |             |                                       |

009074

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | year statute of limitations. The appeals court reversed, holding the district court erred in dismissing the suit because U.S. Const. amend. XI immunity did not apply to suits brought by a private party under the Ex Parte Young exception. Any damages claim not ancillary to injunctive relief was barred. The court also held the statute of limitations ran from the date plaintiffs |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | were denied the opportunity to vote, not register, and their claim was thus timely. Reversed and remanded to district court to order such relief as will allow plaintiffs to vote and other prospective injunctive relief against county and state officials; declaratory relief and attorneys' fees ancillary to the prospective injunctive relief, all permitted under |                              |             |                                       |

009076

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation  | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |              |  | the Young exception to sovereign immunity, to be fashioned.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Curtis v. Smith | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas | 145 F. Supp. 2d 814; 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8544 | June 4, 2001 | Plaintiffs, representatives of several thousand retired persons who called themselves the "Escapees," and who spent a large part of their lives traveling about the United States in recreational vehicles, but were registered to vote in the county, moved for preliminary injunction seeking to | Before a general election, three persons brought an action alleging the Escapees were not bona fide residents of the county, and sought to have their names expunged from the rolls of qualified voters. The plaintiffs brought suit in federal district court. The court issued a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | enjoin a Texas state court proceeding under the All Writs Act. | preliminary injunction forbidding county officials from attempting to purge the voting. Commissioner contested the results of the election, alleging Escapees' votes should be disallowed. Plaintiffs brought present case assertedly to prevent the same issue from being relitigated. The court held, however, the issues were different, since, |                              |             |                                       |

009078

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | unlike the case in the first proceeding, there was notice and an opportunity to be heard. Further, unlike the first proceeding, the plaintiff in the state court action did not seek to change the prerequisites for voting registration in the county, but instead challenged the actual residency of some members of the Escapees, and such challenge |                              |             |                                       |

009079

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case      | Court               | Citation           | Date              | Facts                | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---------------------|--------------------|-------------------|----------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |                     |                    |                   |                      | properly belonged in the state court. The court further held that an election contest under state law was the correct vehicle to contest the registration of Escapees. The court dissolved the temporary restraining order it had previously entered and denied plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction of the state court proceeding. |                              |             |                                       |
| Pepper v. Darnell | United States Court | 24 Fed. Appx. 460; | December 10, 2001 | Plaintiff individual | Individual argued on   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009080

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court                            | Citation                   | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------------------------------|----------------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 2001 U.S. App. LEXIS 26618 |      | appealed from a judgment of the district court, in an action against defendant state officials seeking relief under § 1983 and the National Voter Registration Act, for their alleged refusal to permit individual to register to vote. Officials had moved for dismissal or for summary judgment, and the district court granted the motion. | appeal that the district court erred in finding that the registration forms used by the state did not violate the NVRA and in failing to certify a class represented by individual. Individual lived in his automobile and received mail at a rented box. Officials refused to validate individual's attempt to register to vote by mail. Tennessee state law forbade |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | accepting a rented mail box as the address of the potential voter. Individual insisted that his automobile registration provided sufficient proof of residency under the NVRA. The court upheld the legality of state's requirement that one registering to vote provide a specific location as an address, regardless of the transient lifestyle of the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | potential voter, finding state's procedure faithfully mirrored the requirements of the NVRA as codified in the Code of Federal Regulations. The court also held that the refusal to certify individual as the representative of a class for purposes of this litigation was not an abuse of discretion; in this case, no representative party was available as the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |  |                  |   | indigent individual, acting in his own behalf, was clearly unable to represent fairly the class. The district court's judgment was affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Miller v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | 348 F. Supp. 2d 916; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24894 | October 27, 2004 | Plaintiffs, two voters and the Ohio Democratic Party, filed suit against defendants, the Ohio Secretary of State, several county boards of elections, and all of the boards' members, alleging claims under the | Plaintiffs alleged that the timing and manner in which defendants intended to hold hearings regarding pre-election challenges to their voter registration violated both the Act and the Due Process | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009084

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | National Voter Registration Act and § 1983. Plaintiffs also filed a motion for a temporary restraining order (TRO). Two individuals filed a motion to intervene as defendants. | Clause. The individuals, who filed pre-election voter eligibility challenges, filed a motion to intervene. The court held that it would grant the motion to intervene because the individuals had a substantial legal interest in the subject matter of the action and time constraints would not permit them to bring separate actions to protect their rights. The |                              |             |                                       |

009085

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court further held that it would grant plaintiffs' motion for a TRO because plaintiffs made sufficient allegations in their complaint to establish standing and because all four factors to consider in issuing a TRO weighed heavily in favor of doing so. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated a likelihood of success on the merits because they made a |                              |             |                                       |

980600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | strong showing that defendants' intended actions regarding pre-election challenges to voter eligibility abridged plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote and violated the Due Process Clause. Thus, the other factors to consider in granting a TRO automatically weighed in plaintiffs' favor. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a TRO. The court |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | also granted the individuals' motion to intervene. |                              |             |                                       |

009088

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Miller v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the southern District of Ohio | 348 F. Supp. 2d 916; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24894 | October 27, 2004 | Plaintiffs, two voters and the Ohio Democratic Party, filed suit against defendants, the Ohio Secretary of State, several county boards of elections, and all of the boards' members, alleging claims under the National Voter Registration Act and § 1983. Plaintiffs also filed a motion for a temporary restraining order. Two individuals filed a motion to intervene as defendants. | Plaintiffs alleged that the timing and manner in which defendants intended to hold hearings regarding pre-election challenges to their voter registration violated both the Act and the Due Process Clause. The individuals, who filed pre-election voter eligibility challenges, filed a motion to intervene. The court held that it would grant the motion to intervene because the individuals had a substantial legal interest in | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009039

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the subject matter of the action and time constraints would not permit them to bring separate actions to protect their rights. The court further held that it would grant plaintiffs' motion for a TRO because plaintiffs made sufficient allegations in their complaint to establish standing and because all four factors to consider in issuing a TRO weighed heavily in favor of doing so. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated a |                              |             |                                       |

009090

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | likelihood of success on the merits because they made a strong showing that defendants' intended actions regarding pre-election challenges to voter eligibility abridged plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote and violated the Due Process Clause. Thus, the other factors to consider in granting a TRO automatically weighed in plaintiffs' favor. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a TRO. The |                              |             |                                       |

009091

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case         | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                      |  |  |                  |   | court also granted the individuals' motion to intervene.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Spencer v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | 347 F. Supp. 2d 528; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22062 | November 1, 2004 | Plaintiff voters filed a motion for temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction seeking to restrain defendant election officials and intervenor State of Ohio from discriminating against black voters in Hamilton County on the basis of race. If necessary, they sought to restrain challengers from being allowed at the polls. | The voters alleged that defendants had combined to implement a voter challenge system at the polls that discriminated against African--American voters. Each precinct was run by its election judges but Ohio law also allowed challengers to be physically present in the polling places in order to challenge voters' eligibility to vote. The court held that the injury asserted, that | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009092

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | allowing challengers to challenge voters' eligibility would place an undue burden on voters and impede their right to vote, was not speculative and could be redressed by removing the challengers. The court held that in the absence of any statutory guidance whatsoever governing the procedures and limitations for challenging voters by challengers, and the questionable enforceability of the State's and |                              |             |                                       |

009093

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | County's policies regarding good faith challenges and ejection of disruptive challengers from the polls, there existed an enormous risk of chaos, delay, intimidation, and pandemonium inside the polls and in the lines out the door. Furthermore, the law allowing private challengers was not narrowly tailored to serve Ohio's compelling interest in preventing voter fraud. Because the voters had shown a |                              |             |                                       |

009097

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | substantial likelihood of success on the merits on the ground that the application of Ohio's statute allowing challengers at polling places was unconstitutional and the other factors governing the issuance of an injunction weighed in their favor, the court enjoined all defendants from allowing any challengers other than election judges and other electors into the polling places throughout the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case                   | Court  | Citation                   | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------|--|----------------------------|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                |  |                            |              |   | state on Election Day.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Charfauros v. Bd. of Elections | United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 2001 U.S. App. LEXIS 15083 | May 10, 2001 | Defendants, board of elections and related individuals, appealed from an order of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands reversing a lower court's grant of summary judgment in favor of defendants on the ground of qualified immunity. | Plaintiffs, disqualified voters, claimed that individual members of the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands Board of Elections violated § 1983 by administering pre--election day voter challenge procedures which precluded a certain class of voters, including plaintiffs, from voting in a 1995 election. The CNMI Supreme Court reversed a lower court's grant of summary | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009096

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | judgment and defendants appealed. The court of appeals held that the Board's pre-election day procedures violated the plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote. The federal court reasoned that the right to vote was clearly established at the time of the election, and that a reasonable Board would have known that that treating voters differently based on their political party would violate the Equal |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Protection Clause. Further the court added that the allegations of the complaint were sufficient to support liability of the Board members in their individual capacities. Finally, the composition of the CNMI Supreme Court's Special Judge panel did not violate the Board's right to due process of law. The decision of Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands Supreme Court was affirmed |                              |             |                                       |

860600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case  | Court   | Citation                                  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|               |   |   |                  |  | where defendants' pre--election day voter challenge procedures violated plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Wit v. Berman | United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 306 F.3d 1256; 2002 U.S. App. LEXIS 21301 | October 11, 2002 | Appellant voters who established residences in two separate cities sued appellees, state and city election officials, alleging that provisions of the New York State Election Law unconstitutionally prevented the voters from voting in local elections in both cities where they resided. The voters appealed the order of the | Under state election laws, the voters could only vote in districts in which they resided, and residence was limited to one place. The voters contended that, since they had two lawful residences, they were denied constitutional equal protection by the statutory restriction against voting in the local elections of both | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York which granted appellees' motion to dismiss the complaint. | of the places of their residences. The appellate court held, however, that no constitutional violation was shown since the provisions of the New York State Election Law imposed only reasonable, nondiscriminatory restrictions which advanced important state regulatory interests. While the voters may have interests in electoral outcomes in both cities, any rule permitting voting based on such interests would be |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | unmanageable and subject to potential abuse. Further, basing voter eligibility on domicile, which was always over--or under--inclusive, nonetheless had enormous practical advantages, and the voters offered no workable standard to replace the domicile test. Finally, allowing the voters to choose which of their residences was their domicile for voting purposes could not be deemed |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |                  |  | discriminatory.Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Curtis v. Smith | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas | 121 F. Supp. 2d 1054; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17987 | November 3, 2000 | Plaintiffs sought a preliminary injunction to prohibit defendant tax assessor-collector from mailing confirmation letters to approximately 9,000 persons who were registered voters in Polk County, Texas. | Plaintiffs sought to prohibit defendant from mailing confirmation letters to approximately 9,000 persons, self--styled "escapees" who traveled a major portion of each year in recreational vehicles, all of whom were registered to vote in Polk County, Texas. In accordance with Texas law, three resident voters filed affidavits challenging the escapees' | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009102

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | residency. These affidavits triggered defendant's action in sending confirmation notices to the escapees. The court determined, first, that because of the potential for discrimination, defendant's action required preclearance in accordance with § 5 of the Voting Rights Act and, second, that such preclearance had not been sought or obtained. Accordingly, the court issued a preliminary injunction |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | prohibiting defendant from pursuing the confirmation of residency of the escapees, or any similarly situated group, under the Texas Election Code until the process had been submitted for preclearance in accordance with § 5. The action was taken to ensure that no discriminatory potential existed in the use of such process in the upcoming presidential election or future election. Motion for preliminary injunction was |                              |             |                                       |

009104

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case                     | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------------|---|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                  |   |  |                  |   | granted, and defendant was enjoined from pursuing confirmation of residency of the 9,000 "escapees," or any similarly situated group, under the Texas Election Code, until the process had been submitted for preclearance under § 5 of the Voting Rights Act. |                              |             |                                       |
| Peace & Freedom Party v. Shelley | Court of Appeal of California, Third Appellate District | 114 Cal. App. 4th 1237; 8 Cal. Rptr. 3d 497; 2004 Cal. App. LEXIS 42 | January 15, 2004 | Plaintiff political party appealed a judgment from the superior court which denied the party's petition for writ of mandate to compel | The trial court ruled that inactive voters were excluded from the primary election. The court of appeals affirmed, observing that although the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009105

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | defendant, the California Secretary of State, to include voters listed in the inactive file of registered voters in calculating whether the party qualified to participate in a primary election. | election had already taken place, the issue was likely to recur and was a matter of continuing public interest and importance; hence, a decision on the merits was proper, although the case was technically moot. The law clearly excluded inactive voters from the calculation. The statutory scheme did not violate the inactive voters' constitutional right of association because it was reasonably designed to |                              |             |                                       |

009106

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ensure that all parties on the ballot had a significant modicum of support from eligible voters. Information in the inactive file was unreliable and often duplicative of information in the active file. Moreover, there was no violation of the National Voter Registration Act because voters listed as inactive were not prevented from voting. Although the Act prohibited removal of voters from the official voting list absent |                              |             |                                       |

009107

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |  |                  |   | certain conditions, inactive voters in California could correct the record and vote as provided the Act. The court affirmed the denial of a writ of mandate.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 235 F. Supp. 2d 772; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21753 | October 22, 2002 | Plaintiff voters sued defendants, a county board of elections, a state secretary of state, and the state's attorney general, for violations of the Motor Voter Act and equal protection of the laws. Defendants moved for summary judgment. The voters also | The board heard challenges to the voters' qualifications to vote in the county, based on the fact that the voters were transient (seasonal) rather than permanent residents of the county. The voters claimed that the board hearings did not | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                       | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | moved for summary judgment. | afford them the requisite degree of due process and contravened their rights of privacy by inquiring into personal matters. As to the MVA claim, the court held that residency within the precinct was a crucial qualification. One simply could not be an elector, much less a qualified elector entitled to vote, unless one resided in the precinct where he or she sought to vote. If one never lived within the precinct, one was |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not and could not be an eligible voter, even if listed on the board's rolls as such. The MVA did not affect the state's ability to condition eligibility to vote on residence. Nor did it undertake to regulate challenges, such as the ones presented, to a registered voter's residency ab initio. The ability of the challengers to assert that the voters were not eligible and had not ever been eligible, and of the board to consider and |                              |             |                                       |

009110

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | resolve that challenge, did not contravene the MVA. Defendants' motions for summary judgment were granted as to all claims with prejudice, except the voters' state-law claim, which was dismissed for want of jurisdiction, without prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation                                 | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. Found., Inc. v. Cox | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 408 F.3d 1349; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 8320 | May 12, 2005 | Plaintiffs, a charitable foundation, four volunteers, and a registered voter, filed a suit against defendant state officials alleging violations of the National Voter Registration Act and the Voting Rights Act. The officials appealed after the United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia issued a preliminary injunction enjoining them from rejecting voter registrations submitted by the | The foundation conducted a voter registration drive; it placed the completed applications in a single envelope and mailed them to the Georgia Secretary of State for processing. Included in the batch was the voter's change of address form. Plaintiffs filed the suit after they were notified that the applications had been rejected pursuant to Georgia law, which allegedly restricted who could collect voter registration | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009112

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts       | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | foundation. | forms. Plaintiffs contended that the officials had violated the NVRA, the VRA, and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, XV. The officials argued that plaintiffs lacked standing and that the district court had erred in issuing the preliminary injunction. The court found no error. Plaintiffs had sufficiently alleged injuries under the NVRA, arising out of the rejection of the voter registration forms; the allegations in the |                              |             |                                       |

009113

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date      | Facts     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|-----------|-----------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |           |           | complaint sufficiently showed an injury--in--fact that was fairly traceable to the officials' conduct. The injunction was properly issued. There was a substantial likelihood that plaintiffs would prevail as to their claims; it served the public interest to protect plaintiffs' franchise--related rights. The court affirmed the preliminary injunction order entered by the district court. |                              |             |                                       |
| McKay v.     | United | 226 F.3d | September | Plaintiff | The trial court   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009114

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation                        | Date     | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---------------------------------|----------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Thompson     | States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 752; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 23387 | 18, 2000 | challenged order of United States District Court for Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga, which granted defendant state election officials summary judgment on plaintiff's action seeking to stop the state practice of requiring its citizens to disclose their social security numbers as a precondition to voter registration. | had granted defendant state election officials summary judgment. The court declined to overrule defendants' administrative determination that state law required plaintiff to disclose his social security number because the interpretation appeared to be reasonable, did not conflict with previous case law, and could be challenged in state court. The requirement did not violate the Privacy Act of 1974, because it |                              |             |                                       |

009115

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was grand fathered under the terms of the Act. The limitations in the National Voter Registration Act did not apply because the NVRA did not specifically prohibit the use of social security numbers and the Act contained a more specific provision regarding such use. The trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date    | Facts               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|---------|---------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |         |                     | immunities, and due process claims. Order affirmed because requirement that voters disclose social security numbers as precondition to voter registration did not violate Privacy Act of 1974 or National Voter Registration Act and trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l        | United | 150 F.   | July 5, | Plaintiff, national | Defendants  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009117

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation                                 | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|--|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Coalition for Students with Disabilities Educ. & Legal Def. Fund v. Scales | States District Court for the Southern District of Maryland | Supp. 2d 845; 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9528 | 2001 | organization for disabled students, brought an action against university president and university's director of office of disability support services to challenge the voter registration procedures established by the disability support services. Defendants moved to dismiss the first amended complaint, or in the alternative for summary judgment. | alleged that plaintiff lacked standing to represent its members, and that plaintiff had not satisfied the notice requirements of the National Voter Registration Act. Further, defendants maintained the facts, as alleged by plaintiff, did not give rise to a past, present, or future violation of the NVRA because (1) the plaintiff's members that requested voter registration services were not |                              |             |                                       |

009118

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registered students at the university and (2) its current voter registration procedures complied with NVRA. As to plaintiff's § 1983 claim, the court held that while plaintiff had alleged sufficient facts to confer standing under the NVRA, such allegations were not sufficient to support standing on its own behalf on the § 1983 claim. As to the NVRA claim, the court found that the agency practice of only offering voter |                              |             |                                       |

009119

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registration services at the initial intake interview and placing the burden on disabled students to obtain voter registration forms and assistance afterwards did not satisfy its statutory duties. Furthermore, most of the NVRA provisions applied to disabled applicants not registered at the university. Defendants' motion to dismiss first amended |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case                               | Court  | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|--|----------------------------|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |  |                            |                   |   | complaint was granted as to the § 1983 claim and denied as to plaintiff's claims brought under the National Voter Registration Act of 1993. Defendants' alternative motion for summary judgment was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Cunningham v. Chi. Bd. of Election Comm'rs | United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois | 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2528 | February 24, 2003 | Plaintiffs, who alleged that they were duly registered voters, six of whom had signed nominating petitions for one candidate and two of whom signed | Plaintiffs argued that objections to their signatures were improperly sustained by defendants, the city board of election commissioners. Plaintiff's argued that they were                                  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009121

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | nominating petitions for another candidate. They first asked for a preliminary injunction of the municipal election scheduled for the following Tuesday and suggested, alternatively, that the election for City Clerk and for 4th Ward Alderman be enjoined. | registered voters whose names appeared in an inactive file and whose signatures were therefore, and improperly, excluded. The court ruled that by characterizing the claim as plaintiffs did, they sought to enjoin an election because their signatures were not counted, even though their preferred candidates were otherwise precluded from appearing on the ballot. Without regard to their likelihood of |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | obtaining any relief, plaintiffs failed to demonstrate that they would be irreparably harmed if an injunction did not issue; the threatened injury to defendants, responsible as they were for the conduct of the municipal election, far outweighed any threatened injury to plaintiffs; and the granting of a preliminary injunction would greatly disserve the public interest. Plaintiffs' petition for |                              |             |                                       |

009123

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |   |   |                  |  | preliminary relief was denied.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Diaz v. Hood | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1111; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21445 | October 26, 2004 | Plaintiffs, unions and individuals who had attempted to register to vote, sought a declaration of their rights to vote in the November 2, 2004 general election. They alleged that defendants, state and county election officials, refused to process their voter registrations for various failures to complete the registration forms. The election officials | The putative voters sought injunctive relief requiring the election officials to register them to vote. The court first noted that the unions lacked even representative standing, because they failed to show that one of their members could have brought the case in their own behalf. The individual putative voters raised separate issues: the first had failed to verify her mental | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009124

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | moved to dismiss the complaint for lack of standing and failure to state a claim. | capacity, the second failed to check a box indicating that he was not a felon, and the third did not provide the last four digits of her social security number on the form. They claimed the election officials violated federal and state law by refusing to register eligible voters because of nonmaterial errors or omissions in their voter registration applications, and by failing to provide any notice to voter |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | applicants whose registration applications were deemed incomplete. In the first two cases, the election official had handled the errant application properly under Florida law, and the putative voter had effectively caused their own injury by failing to complete the registration. The third completed her form and was registered, so had suffered no injury. Standing failed against the secretary of state. Motion to dismiss without |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |  |                  |   | prejudice granted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 235 F. Supp. 2d 772; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21753 | October 22, 2002 | Plaintiff voters sued defendants, a county board of elections, a state secretary of state, and the state's attorney general, for violations of the Motor Voter Act and equal protection of the laws. Defendants moved for summary judgment. The voters also moved for summary judgment. | The board heard challenges to the voters' qualifications to vote in the county, based on the fact that the voters were transient (seasonal) rather than permanent residents of the county. The voters claimed that the board hearings did not afford them the requisite degree of due process and contravened their rights of privacy by inquiring into personal matters. As to the MVA | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009127

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | claim, the court held that residency within the precinct was a crucial qualification. One simply could not be an elector, much less a qualified elector entitled to vote, unless one resided in the precinct where he or she sought to vote. If one never lived within the precinct, one was not and could not be an eligible voter, even if listed on the board's rolls as such. The MVA did not affect the state's ability to |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | condition eligibility to vote on residence. Nor did it undertake to regulate challenges, such as the ones presented, to a registered voter's residency ab initio. The ability of the challengers to assert that the voters were not eligible and had not ever been eligible, and of the board to consider and resolve that challenge, did not contravene the MVA. Defendants' motions for |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |                |   | summary judgment were granted as to all claims with prejudice, except the voters' state-law claim, which was dismissed for want of jurisdiction, without prejudice.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 367 F.3d 588; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8330 | April 28, 2004 | Plaintiffs, registered voters, sued defendants, Ohio Board of Elections and Board members, alleging that Ohio Rev. Code Ann. §§ 3509.19-3509.21 violated the National Voter Registration Act, and the Equal Protection Clause | The voters contested the challenges to their registration brought under Ohio Code Rev. Ann. § 3505.19 based on Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3503.02. Specifically, the voters asserted that § 3503.02---which stated that the place | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009130

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio granted summary judgment in favor of defendants. The voters appealed. | where the family of a married man or woman resided was considered to be his or her place of residence---- violated the equal protection clause. The court of appeals found that the Board's procedures did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act because Congress did not intend to bar the removal of names from the official list of persons who were ineligible and improperly registered to vote |                              |             |                                       |

009131

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | in the first place. The National Voter Registration Act did not bar the Board's continuing consideration of a voter's residence, and encouraged the Board to maintain accurate and reliable voting rolls. Ohio was free to take reasonable steps to see that all applicants for registration to vote actually fulfilled the requirement of bona fide residence. Ohio Rev. Code Ann. |                              |             |                                       |

009132

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | § 3503.02(D) did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act. Because the Board did not raise an irrebuttable presumption in applying § 3502.02(D), the voters suffered no equal protection violation. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

009133

FOCUS OF CURRENT RESEARCH

- develop a comprehensive description of what constitutes voting fraud and voter intimidation in the context of Federal elections;
- perform background research (including Federal and State administrative and case law review), identify current activities of key government agencies, civic and advocacy organizations regarding these topics, and deliver a summary of this research and all source documentation;
- establish a project working group, in consultation with EAC, composed of key individuals and representatives of organizations knowledgeable about the topics of voting fraud and voter intimidation;
- provide the description of what constitutes voting fraud and voter intimidation and the results of the preliminary research to the working group, and convene the working group to discuss potential avenues for future EAC research on this topic; and
- produce a report to EAC summarizing the findings of the preliminary research effort and working group deliberations that includes recommendations for future research, if any;

PURPOSE OF WORKING GROUP

Given the preliminary research, your expertise, and EAC's authority under HAVA, provide your ideas as to ---

WHERE DOES EAC GO FROM HERE?

Purpose is NOT to debate what other agencies or organizations should or should not be doing.

Defining Election Fraud

Election fraud is any intentional action, or intentional failure to act when there is a duty to do so, that corrupts the election process in a manner that can impact on election outcomes. This includes interfering in the process by which persons register to vote; the way in which ballots are obtained, marked, or tabulated; and the process by which election results are canvassed and certified.

Examples include the following:

- falsifying voter registration information pertinent to eligibility to cast a vote, (e.g. residence, criminal status, etc);
- altering completed voter registration applications by entering false information;
- knowingly destroying completed voter registration applications (other than spoiled applications) before they can be submitted to the proper election authority;
- knowingly removing eligible voters from voter registration lists, in violation of HAVA, NVRA, or state election laws;
- intentional destruction by election officials of voter registration records or balloting records, in violation of records retention laws, to remove evidence of election fraud;
- vote buying;
- voting in the name of another;
- voting more than once;
- coercing a voter's choice on an absentee ballot;
- using a false name and/or signature on an absentee ballot;
- destroying or misappropriating an absentee ballot;
- felons, or in some states ex-felons, who vote when they know they are ineligible to do so;
- misleading an ex-felon about his or her right to vote;
- voting by non-citizens who know they are ineligible to do so;
- intimidating practices aimed at vote suppression or deterrence, including the abuse of challenge laws;
- deceiving voters with false information (e.g.; deliberately directing voters to the wrong polling place or providing false information on polling hours and dates);
- knowingly failing to accept voter registration applications, to provide ballots, or to accept and count voted ballots in accordance with the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act;
- intentional miscounting of ballots by election officials;
- intentional misrepresentation of vote tallies by election officials;

- acting in any other manner with the intention of suppressing voter registration or voting, or interfering with vote counting and the certification of the vote.

Voting fraud does not include mistakes made in the course of voter registration, balloting, or tabulating ballots and certifying results. For purposes of the EAC study, it also does not include violations of campaign finance laws.

DRAFT

Determining a Methodology for Measuring Voter Fraud and Intimidation: Recommendations of Political Scientists

The following is a summary of interviews conducted with a number of political scientists and experts in the field as to how one might undertake a comprehensive examination of voter fraud and intimidation. A list of the individuals interviewed and their ideas are available, and all of the individuals welcome any further questions or explanations of their recommended procedures.

- 1) In analyzing instances of alleged fraud and intimidation, we should look to criminology as a model. In criminology, experts use two sources: the Uniform Crime Reports, which are all reports made to the police, and the Victimization Survey, which asks the general public whether a particular incident has happened to them. After surveying what the most common allegations are, we should conduct a survey of the general public that ask whether they have committed certain acts or been subjected to any incidents of fraud or intimidation. This would require using a very large sample, and we would need to employ the services of an expert in survey data collection. (Stephen Ansolobhere, MIT)
- 2) Several political scientists with expertise in these types of studies recommended a methodology that includes interviews, focus groups, and a limited survey. In determining who to interview and where the focus groups should be drawn from, they recommend the following procedure:
  - Pick a number of places that have historically had many reports of fraud and/or intimidation; from that pool pick 10 that are geographically and demographically diverse, and have had a diversity of problems
  - Pick a number of places that have not had many reports of fraud and/or intimidation; from that pool pick 10 places that match the geographic and demographic make-up of the previous ten above (and, if possible, have comparable elections practices)
  - Assess the resulting overall reports and impressions resulting from these interviews and focus groups, and examine comparisons and differences among the states and what may give rise to them.

In conducting a survey of elections officials, district attorneys, district election officers, they recommend that:

- The survey sample be large in order to be able to get the necessary subsets
- The survey must include a random set of counties where there have and have not been a large number of allegations

(Allan Lichtman, American University; Thad Hall, University of Utah; Bernard Grofman, UC – Irvine)

- 3) Another political scientist recommended employing a methodology that relies on qualitative data drawn from in-depth interviews with key critics and experts on all sides of the debate on fraud; quantitative data collected through a survey of state and local elections and law enforcement officials; and case studies. Case studies should focus on the five or ten states, regions or cities where there has been a history of election fraud to examine past and present problems. The survey should be mailed to each state's attorney general and secretary of state, each county district attorney's office and each county board of elections in the 50 states. (Lorraine Minnite, Barnard College)
- 4) The research should be a two-step process. Using LexisNexis and other research tools, a search should be conducted of news media accounts over the past decade. Second, interviews with a systematic sample of election officials nationwide and in selected states should be conducted. (Chandler Davidson, Rice University)
- 5) One expert in the field posits that we can never come up with a number that accurately represents either the incidence of fraud or the incidence of voter intimidation. Therefore, the better approach is to do an assessment of what is most likely to happen, what election violations are most likely to be committed – in other words, a risk analysis. This would include an analysis of what it would actually take to commit various acts, e.g. the cost/benefit of each kind of violation. From there we could rank the likely prevalence of each type of activity and examine what measures are or could be effective in combating them. (Wendy Weiser, Brennan Center of New York University)
- 6) Replicate a study in the United States done abroad by Susan Hyde of the University of California- San Diego examining the impact of impartial poll site observers on the incidence of election fraud. Doing this retrospectively would require the following steps:
  - Find out where there were federal observers
  - Get precinct level voting information for those places
  - Analyze whether there was any difference in election outcomes in those places with and without observers, and whether any of these results seem anomalous.

Despite the tremendous differences in the political landscapes of the countries examined by Hyde in previous studies and the U.S., Hyde believes this study could be effectively replicated in this country by sending observers to a random sample of precincts. Rather than compare the incumbent's vote share, such factors such as voter complaints, voter turnout, number of provisional ballots used, composition of the electorate, as well as any anomalous voting results could be compared between sites with and without monitors.

For example, if intimidation is occurring, and if reputable monitors make intimidation less likely or voters more confident, then turnout should be higher on average in monitored precincts than in unmonitored precincts. If polling station officials are intentionally refusing to issue provisional ballots, and the polling station officials are more likely to adhere to regulations while being monitored, the average number of provisional ballots should be higher in monitored precincts than in unmonitored precincts. If monitors cause polling station officials to adhere more closely to regulations, then there should be fewer complaints (in general) about monitored than unmonitored precincts (this could also be reversed if monitors made voters more likely to complain).

Again, random assignment controls for all of the other factors that otherwise influence these variables.

One of the downsides of this approach is it does not get at some forms of fraud, e.g. absentee ballot fraud; those would have to be analyzed separately

7) Another political scientist recommends conducting an analysis of vote fraud claims and purging of registration rolls by list matching. Allegations of illegal voting often are based on matching of names and birth dates. Alleged instances of double voting are based on matching the names and birth dates of persons found on voting records. Allegations of ineligible felon (depending on state law), deceased, and of non-citizen voting are based on matching lists of names, birth dates, and sometimes addresses of such people against a voting records. Anyone with basic relational database skills can perform such matching in a matter of minutes.

However, there are a number of pitfalls for the unwary that can lead to grossly over-estimating the number of fraudulent votes, such as missing or ignored middle names and suffixes or matching on missing birth dates. Furthermore, there is a surprising statistical fact that a group of about three hundred people with the same first and last name are almost assured to share the exact same birth date, including year. In a large state, it is not uncommon for hundreds of Robert Smiths (and other common names) to have voted. Thus, allegations of vote fraud or purging of voter registration rolls by list matching almost assuredly will find a large proportion of false positives: people who voted legally or are registered to vote legally.

Statistics can be rigorously applied to determine how many names would be expected to be matched by chance. A simulation approach is best applied here: randomly assign a birth date to an arbitrary number of people and observe how many match within the list or across lists. The simulation is repeated many times to average out the variation due to chance. The results can then be matched back to actual voting records and purge lists, for example, in the hotly contested states of Ohio or Florida, or in states with Election Day registration where there are concerns that easy access to voting permits double voting. This analysis will rigorously identify the magnitude alleged voter fraud, and may very well find instances of alleged fraud that exceed what might have otherwise happened by chance.

This same political scientist also recommends another way to examine the problem: look at statistics on provisional voting: the number cast might provide indications of intimidation (people being challenged at the polls) and the number of those not counted would be indications of "vote fraud." One could look at those jurisdictions in the Election Day Survey with a disproportionate number of provisional ballots cast and cross reference it with demographics and number of provisional ballots discarded. (Michael McDonald, George Mason University)

- 8) Spencer Overton, in a forthcoming law review article entitled Voter Identification, suggests a methodology that employs three approaches— investigations of voter fraud, random surveys of voters who purported to vote, and an examination of death rolls provide a better understanding of the frequency of fraud. He says all three approaches have strengths and weaknesses, and thus the best studies would employ all three to assess the extent of voter fraud. An excerpt follows:

1. Investigations and Prosecutions of Voter Fraud

Policymakers should develop databases that record all investigations, allegations, charges, trials, convictions, acquittals, and plea bargains regarding voter fraud. Existing studies are incomplete but provide some insight. For example, a statewide survey of each of Ohio's 88 county boards of elections found only four instances of ineligible persons attempting to vote out of a total of 9,078,728 votes cast in the state's 2002 and 2004 general elections. This is a fraud rate of 0.00000045 percent. The Carter-Baker Commission's Report noted that since October 2002, federal officials had charged 89 individuals with casting multiple votes, providing false information about their felon status, buying votes, submitting false voter registration information, and voting improperly as a non-citizen. Examined in the context of the 196,139,871 ballots cast between October 2002 and August 2005, this represents a fraud rate of 0.0000005 percent (note also that not all of the activities charged would have been prevented by a photo identification requirement).

A more comprehensive study should distinguish voter fraud that could be prevented by a photo identification requirement from other types of fraud — such as absentee voting and stuffing ballot boxes — and obtain statistics on the factors that led law enforcement to prosecute fraud. The study would demand significant resources because it would require that researchers interview and pour over the records of local district attorneys and election boards.

Hard data on investigations, allegations, charges, pleas, and prosecutions is important because it quantifies the amount of fraud officials detect. Even if prosecutors vigorously pursue voter fraud, however, the number of fraud cases charged probably does not capture the total amount of voter fraud. Information on official investigations, charges, and prosecutions should be supplemented by surveys of voters and a comparison of voting rolls to death rolls.

2. Random Surveys of Voters

Random surveys could give insight about the percentage of votes cast fraudulently. For example, political scientists could contact a statistically representative sampling of 1,000 people who purportedly voted at the polls in the last election, ask them if they actually voted, and confirm the percentage who are valid voters. Researchers should conduct the survey soon after an election to locate as many legitimate voters as possible with fresh memories.

Because many respondents would perceive voting as a social good, some who did not vote might claim that they did, which may underestimate the extent of fraud. A surveyor might mitigate this skew through the framing of the question (“I’ve got a record that you voted. Is that true?”).

Further, some voters will not be located by researchers and others will refuse to talk to researchers. Photo identification proponents might construe these non-respondents as improper registrations that were used to commit voter fraud.

Instead of surveying all voters to determine the amount of fraud, researchers might reduce the margin of error by focusing on a random sampling of voters who signed affidavits in the three states that request photo identification but also allow voters to establish their identity through affidavit—Florida, Louisiana, and South Dakota. In South Dakota, for example, only two percent of voters signed affidavits to establish their identity. If the survey indicates that 95 percent of those who signed affidavits are legitimate voters (and the other 5 percent were shown to be either fraudulent or were non-responsive), this suggests that voter fraud accounts for, at the maximum, 0.1 percent of ballots cast.

The affidavit study, however, is limited to three states, and it is unclear whether this sample is representative of other states (the difficulty may be magnified in Louisiana in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina’s displacement of hundreds of thousands of voters). Further, the affidavit study reveals information about the amount of fraud in a photo identification state with an affidavit exception—more voter fraud may exist in a state that does not request photo identification.

3. Examining Death Rolls

A comparison of death rolls to voting rolls might also provide an estimate of fraud.

Imagine that one million people live in state A, which has no documentary identification requirement. Death records show that 20,000 people passed away in state A in 2003. A cross-referencing of this list to the voter rolls shows that 10,000 of those who died were registered voters, and these names remained on the voter rolls during the November 2004 election. Researchers would look at what percentage of the 10,000 dead-but-registered people who “voted” in the November 2004 election. A researcher should distinguish the votes cast in the name of the dead at the polls from those cast absentee (which a photo identification requirement would not prevent). This number would be extrapolated to the electorate as a whole.

This methodology also has its strengths and weaknesses. If fraudulent voters target the dead, the study might overestimate the fraud that exists among living voters (although a low incidence of fraud among deceased voters might suggest that fraud among all voters is low). The appearance of fraud also might be inflated by false positives produced by a computer match of different people with the same name. Photo identification advocates would likely assert that the rate of voter fraud could be higher among fictitious names registered, and that the death record survey would not capture that type of fraud because fictitious names registered would not show up in the death records. Nevertheless, this study, combined with the other two, would provide important insight into the magnitude of fraud likely to exist in the absence of a photo identification requirement.

VOTING FRAUD-VOTER INTIMIDATION WORKING GROUP MEETING

Thursday, May 18, 2006

1:00 PM - 5:30 PM

U.S. Election Assistance Commission
1225 New York Avenue, N.W., 11th Floor
Washington, D.C. 20005

AGENDA

- |                          |   |
|--------------------------|---|
| 1:00 PM - 1:30 PM | IntroductionEAC AuthorityOverview and Purpose of Current ProjectPurpose and Members of the Working GroupRelated EAC Research |
| 1:30 PM - 2:00 PM | Review of Preliminary ResearchLiterature & ReportsInterviewsNews ArticlesCourt Cases   |
| 2:00 PM - 3:15 PM | Definition &amp; Findings from Current Project Research  |
| 3:15 PM - 3:30 PM | Break  |
| 3:30 PM - 5:00 PM | Ideas for Future EAC ActivitiesRecommended Research MethodologiesConsultant RecommendationsWorking Group Ideas                   |
| 5:00 PM - 5:30 PM | EAC Next Steps   |

Development of:

- nationwide statistics and methods of identifying, deterring, and investigating ██████████ in elections for Federal office [section 241(b)(6)]; and
- ways of identifying, deterring, and investigating ██████████ [section 241(b)(7)].

Federal Government

Biographies

Practice Areas

Offices

009150

gr_style

```
.RecordTitle {
    FONT-WEIGHT: bold; FONT-SIZE: 10pt; COLOR: white; FONT-STYLE: normal; FONT-FAMILY: Verdana, Arial, Helvetica
}
#search {
    FONT-SIZE: xx-small; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-STYLE: normal; FONT-FAMILY:
verdana, arial, helvetica; TEXT-ALIGN: right
}
.bold {
    FONT-WEIGHT: bolder; FONT-SIZE: 11px; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica
}
#header1 {
    FONT-SIZE: 18px; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica
}
#header2 {
    FONT-SIZE: 16px; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica
}
#header3 {
    FONT-SIZE: 13px; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica
}
#practicearea {
    FONT-SIZE: xx-small; Z-INDEX: 100; LEFT: 20px; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-STYLE:
normal; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica; WHITE-SPACE: nowrap; POSITION:
absolute; TOP: 109px
}
#officeloc {
    FONT-SIZE: xx-small; Z-INDEX: 100; LEFT: 20px; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-STYLE:
normal; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica; WHITE-SPACE: nowrap; POSITION:
absolute; TOP: 109px
}
#buttonstyle {
    Z-INDEX: 100; LEFT: 0px; POSITION: absolute; TOP: 130px
}
#animatedicon {
    Z-INDEX: 100; RIGHT: 10px; POSITION: absolute; TOP: 30px
}
#attyname {
    FONT-SIZE: xx-small; Z-INDEX: 100; LEFT: 20px; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-STYLE:
normal; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica; WHITE-SPACE: nowrap; POSITION:
absolute; TOP: 109px
}
#attycontact {
    FONT-SIZE: xx-small; Z-INDEX: 100; LEFT: 0px; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-STYLE:
normal; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica; WHITE-SPACE: nowrap; POSITION:
absolute; TOP: 276px
}
#attypic {
    Z-INDEX: 100; LEFT: 0px; POSITION: absolute; TOP: 214px
}
#defaultheader {
    FONT-WEIGHT: 200; FONT-SIZE: 11px; COLOR: #990000; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica
}
#defaulttext {
    FONT-SIZE: 10px; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica
}
#announcement {
    FONT-SIZE: xx-small; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-STYLE: normal; FONT-FAMILY:
verdana, arial, helvetica
}
#text {
    FONT-SIZE: x-small; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-STYLE: normal; FONT-FAMILY:
verdana, arial, helvetica
}
```

gr_style

```
}
#hyperlinktext {
    COLOR: #ffffff
}
#hyperlinktext2 {
    FONT-SIZE: xx-small; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-STYLE: normal; FONT-FAMILY:
    verdana, arial, helvetica
}
.hyperlinknew {
    COLOR: #ffffff
}
#contact {
    FONT-SIZE: xx-small; MARGIN-LEFT: 5px; MARGIN-RIGHT: 5px; FONT-STYLE: normal; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica
}
#Bottom {
    FONT-SIZE: xx-small; FONT-STYLE: normal; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica; TEXT-ALIGN: right
}
#newshead {
    FONT-WEIGHT: bold; FONT-SIZE: medium; COLOR: #ffffff; FONT-FAMILY: verdana, arial, helvetica
}
P {
    TEXT-ALIGN: left
}
#presshead {
    FONT-SIZE: 16px; FONT-FAMILY: verdana,arial, helvetica
}
#sidebar {
    PADDING-RIGHT: 10px; PADDING-LEFT: 10px; PADDING-TOP: 10px;
    BACKGROUND-COLOR: #c4cfd
}
.border1 {
    BORDER-LEFT-COLOR: #ebe0b4; BORDER-BOTTOM-COLOR: #ebe0b4; BORDER-TOP-COLOR:
    #ebe0b4; BORDER-RIGHT-COLOR: #ebe0b4
}
.border2 {
    BORDER-RIGHT: #000099 5px solid; PADDING-RIGHT: 10px; BORDER-TOP: #000099
    5px solid; PADDING-LEFT: 10px; BORDER-LEFT: #000099 5px solid; PADDING-TOP: 10px;
    BORDER-BOTTOM: #000099 5px solid; BACKGROUND-COLOR: #ffffff
}
}
```

B L A N K

R O M E

G O V E R N M E N T R E L A T I O N S U C

009153

009154

PATRICK J. ROGERS

PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYMENT

|              |   |
|--------------|---|
| 1988-Present | Partner/Shareholder, Modrall, Sperling, Roehl, Harris and Sisk, P.A., Albuquerque, New Mexico |
| 1993-1995    | Executive Committee, Modrall, Sperling, Roehl, Harris & Sisk, P.A., Albuquerque, New Mexico   |
| 1983-1988    | Associate Attorney, Modrall, Sperling, Roehl, Harris and Sisk, P.A., Albuquerque, New Mexico  |
| 1981-1983    | Legislative Assistant to U.S. Senator Harrison H. Schmitt                                     |
| 1976-1981    | Land Law Examiner, Bureau of Land Management, Santa Fe, New Mexico and Washington, D.C.       |

EDUCATION

|      |  |
|------|--|
| J.D. | GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW,Washington, D.C. - December, 1981Dean's List, Law Fellow |
| B.A. | UNIVERSITY OF NEW MEXICO,December, 1976 Magna Cum LaudeMajor - Political Science/Economics   |

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS/ACTIVITIES

|              |  |
|--------------|--|
| 1997-2002    | Mountain States Legal Foundation, Litigation Board of Directors                |
| 1991-2003    | General Counsel to the New Mexico Republican Party, Executive Committee Member |
| 1993-2000    | Counsel to the Bernalillo County Republican Party, Executive Committee Member  |
| 1983-Present | Albuquerque Bar Association  |
| 1983-Present | New Mexico Bar Association   |
| 1983-Present | American Bar Association, Litigation and Trial Sections                        |
| 1988         | Law Day Chairman, State Bar of New Mexico                                      |

COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

|              |  |
|--------------|--|
| 2000-2003    | Dismas House Board of Directors                        |
| 1997-2000    | Economic Forum Board of Directors                      |
| 1990-1995    | Governor's Organized Crime Prevention Commission       |
| 1989-Present | Kiwanis  |
| 1985-1998    | YABL Basketball Coach; NWRG - Alameda Soccer Coach     |
| 1987-1991    | Special Assistant District Attorney, Bernalillo County |
| 1989-1991    | Metropolitan Court Judicial Selection Committee        |

PRACTICE AREAS (AV Rated Martindale-Hubbell)

Commercial, Administrative and Constitutional Litigation
Lobbying: (Representative clients: Newmont Mining Company, Duke Energy North America and Verizon Wireless)

PUBLICATIONS

Survey of the New Mexico Privacy and Related Claims against the Media for the National Libel Research Defense Counsel

Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press: New Mexico Open Records, Open Meetings and Related Constitutional Issues

New Mexico Reporter=s Handbook on Media Law

Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press: ATapping Officials= Secrets@

ELECTION LAW EXPERIENCE

The Coalition to Expose Ballot Deception, et al v. Judy N. Chavez, et al; Second Judicial District Court of Bernalillo County, New Mexico (2005); represented plaintiffs challenging petition procedures.

Miguel Gomez v. Ken Sanchez and Judy Chaves; Second Judicial District Court of Bernalillo County, New Mexico (2005); residency challenge.

Moises Griego, et al v. Rebecca Vigil-Giron v. Ralph Nader and Peter Miguel Camejo, Supreme Court for the State of New Mexico (2004); represented Ralph Nader and Peter Camejo, ballot access issues.

Larry Larrañaga, et al v. Mary E. Herrera and Rebecca Vigil-Giron, Supreme Court of New Mexico (2004); voter identification and fraudulent registration issues.

Decker, et al v. Kunko, et al; District Court of Chaves County, New Mexico (2004); voter identification and fraudulent registration issues.

Kunko, et al v. Decker, et al; Supreme Court of New Mexico (2004); voter identification and fraudulent registration issues.

In the Matter of the Security of Ballots Cast in Bernalillo County in the 2000 General Election; Second Judicial District Court of Bernalillo County, New Mexico (2000); voting and counting irregularities and fraud.

Larrogoite v. Vigil-Giron and Archuletta; First Judicial District Court of Santa Fe County, New Mexico (1990); petition challenge, U.S. House of Representatives

J. R. Perez
Guadalupe County Elections Administrator
307 West Court
Seguin, Texas 78155
Business 830-303-6363

Website: www.Guadalupe-Elections.com

Education:

The University of Texas at Austin
Bachelor of Business Administration

Office Held:

Appointed Guadalupe County Elections Administrator, January 1993.

Credits:

Certified Elections / Registration Administrator; August 26, 1998. The Election Center; Professional Education Program.

Elected President of the Texas Association of Elections Administrators, 1997-1998.

Legislative Chairman for Texas Association of Elections Administrators, 1998-1999

Received Certificate of Appreciation from the Secretary of State, Elections Division, for Presentation Made During the Thirteenth Annual Election Law Seminar.

Received Certificate of Appreciation from the Secretary of State, Elections Division, for "Training Your Judges" Presentation Made During the Fourteenth Annual Election Law Seminar.

Received Certificate of Appreciation from the Secretary of State, Elections Division, for "Creating Your Own Website." Presentation Made During the Fifteenth Annual Election Law Seminar.

Received Certificate of Award, Professional Practices Paper, Elections Center Conference, Boston.

Received Certificate of Award, Iacreat Website: Contest, Recognition of Excellence in Category I for Website:

Appointed to the Secretary of State's Advisory Panel for the Texas Voter Registration System.
(TEAM)

Received Certificate of Appreciation from the Secretary of State, Elections Division, for the " Website:" presentation made during the Eighteenth Annual Election Law Seminar.

Received Certificate of Award, Professional Practices Paper, Elections Center Conference, Beverly Hills.

Received Certificate of Appreciation from the Secretary of State, Elections Division for presentation made during the Twenty First Annual Election Law Seminar.

Received Certificate of Appreciation from the Secretary of State, Elections Division for presentation made during the Twenty Third Annual Election Law Seminar.

Participated in the U. S. Election Assistance Commission Meeting on improving the collection of Election Data.

009157

Atascosa County
Elections Administrator
Rosaria Reyes
914 North Main, Suite 115, Jourdanton 78026
Tel: (830) 769-1472
Fax: (830) 769-1482

Bastrop County
Elections Administrator
Nora Cano
804 Pecan, Bastrop 78602
Tel: (512) 581-7160
Fax: 512-581-4260

Bexar County
Elections Administrator
Jacque Callanen
203 W. Nueva, Suite 3.61, San Antonio 78207-4045
Tel: (210) 335-8683
Fax: (210) 335-0343

Brewster County
Elections Administrator
Isabel Segura LaSoya
107 West Ave E., # 3, Alpine 79830
Tel: (432) 837-6230
Fax: (432) 837-3871

Calhoun County
Elections Administrator
Dora Garcia
211 S. Ann St., Port Lavaca 77979
Tel: (361) 553-4440
Fax: (361) 553-4442

Cameron County
Elections Administrator
Rogelio Ortiz
P.O. Box 3587, Brownsville 78523-3587
[REDACTED]
Fax: (956) 550-7298

El Paso County
Elections Administrator
Helen Jamison
500 E. San Antonio, Rm. 402, El Paso 79901
Tel: (915) 546-2154
Fax: (915) 546-2220

Guadalupe County
Elections Administrator
J.R. Perez
P.O. Box 1346, Seguin 78156-1346
Tel: (830) 303-6363
Fax: (830) 303-6373

Hidalgo County
Elections Administrator
Teresa R. Navarro
P.O. Box 659, Edinburg 78540-0659
Tel: (956) 318-2570
Fax: (956) 318-2569

Maverick County
Elections Administrator
Porfirio A. Esparza
500 Quarry Street, Box 1, Eagle Pass 78852
[REDACTED]
Fax: (830) 773-6450

Refugio County

Elections Administrator

Rachael B. Garcia

P.O. Box 452, Refugio 78377

Tel: (361) 526-2151

Fax: (361) 526-2102

Webb County

Elections Administrator

Oscar Villarreal

P.O. Drawer 29, Laredo 78042-0029

Tel: (956) 523-4050

Fax: (956) 523-5006

Benjamin L. Ginsberg represents numerous political parties, political campaigns, candidates, members of Congress and state legislatures, Governors, corporations, trade associations, vendors, donors and individuals participating in the political process.

In both the 2004 and 2000 election cycles, Mr. Ginsberg served as national counsel to the Bush-Cheney presidential campaign; he played a central role in the 2000 Florida recount. He also represents the campaigns and leadership PACs of numerous members of the Senate and House, as well as the Republican National Committee, National Republican Senatorial Committee and National Republican Congressional Committee. He serves as counsel to the Republican Governors Association and has wide experience on the state legislative level from directing Republican redistricting efforts nationwide following the 1990 Census and being actively engaged in the 2001—2002 round of redistricting.

In addition to advising on election law issues, particularly those involving federal and state campaign finance laws, ethics rules, redistricting, communications law, and election recounts and contests, Mr. Ginsberg represents clients before Congress and state legislatures.

Before entering law school, he spent five years as a newspaper reporter on The Boston Globe, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, The Berkshire (Mass.) Eagle, and The Riverside (Calif.) Press-Enterprise. He has been adjunct professor of law at the Georgetown University Law Center lecturing on law and the political process.

Education

- Georgetown University Law Center, J.D., 1982
- University of Pennsylvania, A.B., 1974

Bar Admissions

- District of Columbia

2550 M Street, NW
Washington, DC 20037
T: 202-457-6405 F: 202-457-6315

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |               |   | Additionally, none of the ballots in Monroe County's second precinct contained the requisite initialing.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Gilmore v. Amityville Union Free Sch. Dist. | United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York | 305 F. Supp. 2d 271; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3116 | March 2, 2004 | Plaintiffs, two school board candidates, filed a class action complaint against defendants, a school district, the board president, and other district agents or employees, challenging a school board election. Defendants moved to dismiss. | During the election, a voting machine malfunctioned, resulting in votes being cast on lines that were blank on the ballot. The board president devised a plan for counting the machine votes by moving each tally up one line. The two candidates, who were African | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

Deliberative Process
Privilege

009161

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | American, alleged that the president's plan eliminated any possibility that an African American would be elected. The court found that the candidates failed to state a claim under § 1983 because they could not show that defendants' actions were done or approved by a person with final policymaking authority, nor was there a showing of intentional or |                              |             |                                       |

009162

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | purposeful discrimination on defendants' part. The vote-counting method applied equally to all candidates. The candidates' claims under § 2000a and 2000c--8 failed because schools were not places of public accommodation, as required under § 2000a, and § 2000c--8 applied to school segregation. Their claim under § 1971 of deprivation of voting rights failed because § |                              |             |                                       |

009163

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case                             | Court                        | Citation                              | Date                      | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|------------------------------|---------------------------------------|---------------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                              |                                       |                           |   | 1971 did not provide for a private right of action. The court declined to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over various state law claims. Defendants' motion to dismiss was granted with respect to the candidates' federal claims; the state law claims were dismissed without prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| State ex rel. Mackey v. Blackwell | Supreme Court of Ohio | 106 Ohio St. 3d 261; 2005 Ohio | September 28, 2005 | Appellants, a political group and county electors who voted by provisional ballot, | The Secretary of State issued a directive to all Ohio county boards of   | No                    | N/A  | No                             |

009164

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation  | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|---|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | 4789;834N.E.2d346;2005OhioLEXIS2074 |      | sought review of a judgment from the court of appeals, which dismissed appellants' complaint, seeking a writ of mandamus to prevent appellees, the Ohio Secretary of State, a county board of elections, and the board's director, from disenfranchisement of provisional ballot voters. | elections, which specified that a signed affirmation statement was necessary for the counting of a provisional ballot in a presidential election. During the election, over 24,400 provisional ballots were cast in one county. The electors' provisional ballots were not counted. They, together with a political activist group, brought the mandamus action to compel |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | appellants to prohibit the invalidation of provisional ballots and to notify voters of reasons for ballot rejections. Assorted constitutional and statutory law was relied on in support of the complaint. The court dismissed the complaint, finding that no clear legal right was established under Ohio law and the federal claims could be adequately raised in an action under § |                              |             |                                       |

009166

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 1983. On appeal, the Ohio supreme court held that dismissal was proper, as the complaint actually sought declaratory and injunctive relief, rather than mandamus relief. Further, election--contest actions were the exclusive remedy to challenge election results. An adequate remedy existed under § 1983 to raise the federal--law claims. Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

009167

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case           | Court   | Citation  | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|---|---|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Touchston v. McDermott | United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida | 120 F. Supp. 2d 1055; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20091 | November 14, 2000 | In action in which plaintiffs, registered voters in Brevard County, Florida, filed suit against defendants, members of several County Canvassing Boards and the Secretary of the Florida Department of State, challenging the constitutionality of Fla. Stat. Ann. § 102.166(4) (2000), before the court was plaintiffs' emergency motion for temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunction. | In their complaint, plaintiffs challenged the constitutionality of § 102.166(4), asserting that the statute violated their rights under the Equal Protection and Due Process Clauses of U.S. Const. amend. XIV. Based on these claims, plaintiffs sought an order from the court stopping the manual recount of votes. The court found that plaintiffs had failed to set forth a valid | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009168

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | basis for intervention by federal courts. They had not alleged that the Florida law was discriminatory, that citizens were being deprived of the right to vote, or that there had been fraudulent interference with the vote. Moreover, plaintiffs had not established a likelihood of success on the merits of their claims. Plaintiffs' motion for temporary restraining order and/or |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation  | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|---|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |   |                   |   | preliminary injunction denied; plaintiffs had not alleged that the Florida law was discriminatory, that citizens were being deprived of the right to vote, or that there had been fraudulent interference with the vote. |                              |             |                                       |
| Siegel v. LePore | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 120 F. Supp. 2d 1041; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16333 | November 13, 2000 | Plaintiffs, individual Florida voters and Republican Party presidential and vice-presidential candidates, moved for a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction to | The court addressed who should consider plaintiffs' serious arguments that manual recounts would diminish the accuracy of vote counts due to ballot  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009170

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | enjoin defendants, canvassing board members from four Florida counties, from proceeding with manual recounts of election ballots. | degradation and the exercise of discretion in determining voter intent. The court ruled that intervention by a federal district court, particularly on a preliminary basis, was inappropriate. A federal court should not interfere except where there was an immediate need to correct a constitutional violation. Plaintiffs neither demonstrated a clear deprivation of a constitutional |                              |             |                                       |

009171

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | injury or a fundamental unfairness in Florida's manual recount provision. The recount provision was reasonable and non--discriminatory on its face and resided within the state's broad control over presidential election procedures. Plaintiffs failed to show that manual recounts were so unreliable as to constitute a constitutional injury, that plaintiffs' |                              |             |                                       |

009172

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case   | Court            | Citation        | Date              | Facts                               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|------------------|-----------------|-------------------|-------------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                  |                 |                   |                                     | alleged injuries were irreparable, or that they lacked an adequate state court remedy. Injunctive relief denied because plaintiffs demonstrated neither clear deprivation of constitutional injury or fundamental unfairness in Florida's manual recount provision to justify federal court interference in state election procedures. |                              |             |                                       |
| Gore v. Harris | Supreme Court of | 773 So. 2d 524; | December 22, 2000 | In a contest to results of the 2000 | The state supreme court   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009173

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation             | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------|----------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Florida | 2000 Fla. LEXIS 2474 |      | presidential election in Florida, the United States Supreme Court reversed and remanded a Florida Supreme Court decision that had ordered a manual recount of certain ballots. | had ordered the trial court to conduct a manual recount of 9000 contested Miami--Dade County ballots, and also held that uncounted "undervotes" in all Florida counties were to be manually counted. The trial court was ordered to use the standard that a vote was "legal" if there was a clear indication of the intent of the voter. The United States Supreme Court released an |                              |             |                                       |

009174

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | opinion on December 12, 2000, which held that such a standard violated equal protection rights because it lacked specific standards to ensure equal application, and also mandated that any manual recount would have to have been completed by December 12, 2000. On remand, the state supreme court found that it was impossible under that time frame to adopt adequate |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case   | Court       | Citation | Date     | Facts               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|-------------|----------|----------|---------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |             |          |          |                     | standards and make necessary evaluations of vote tabulation equipment. Also, development of a specific, uniform standard for manual recounts was best left to the legislature. Because adequate standards for a manual recount could not be developed by the deadline set by the United States Supreme Court, appellants were afforded no relief. |                              |             |                                       |
| Goodwin v. St. | Territorial | 43 V.I.  | December | Plaintiff political | Plaintiff alleged   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009176

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case                      | Court                       | Citation               | Date     | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------|------------------------|----------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Thomas--St. John Bd. of Elections | Court of the Virgin Islands | 89; 2000 V.I. LEXIS 15 | 13, 2000 | candidate alleged that certain general election absentee ballots violated territorial election law, and that the improper inclusion of such ballots by defendants, election board and supervisor, resulted in plaintiff's loss of the election. Plaintiff sued defendants seeking invalidation of the absentee ballots and certification of the election results tabulated without such ballots. | that defendants counted unlawful absentee ballots that lacked postmarks, were not signed or notarized, were in unsealed and/or torn envelopes, and were in envelopes containing more than one ballot. Prior to tabulation of the absentee ballots, plaintiff was leading intervenor for the final senate position, but the absentee ballots entitled intervenor to the position. The |                              |             |                                       |

009177

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court held that plaintiff was not entitled to relief since he failed to establish that the alleged absentee voting irregularities would require invalidation of a sufficient number of ballots to change the outcome of the election. While the unsealed ballots constituted a technical violation, the outer envelopes were sealed and thus substantially complied with election |                              |             |                                       |

009178

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | requirements. Further, while defendants improperly counted one ballot where a sealed ballot envelope and a loose ballot were in the same outer envelope, the one vote involved did not change the election result. Plaintiff's other allegations of irregularities were without merit since ballots without postmarks were valid, ballots without signatures were not counted, and |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date       | Facts              | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|------------|--------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |            |                    | ballots without notarized signatures were proper. Plaintiff's request for declaratory and injunctive relief was denied. Invalidation of absentee ballots was not required since the irregularities asserted by plaintiff involved ballots which were in fact valid, were not tabulated by defendants, or were insufficient to change the outcome of the election. |                              |             |                                       |
| Shannon v.   | United | 394 F.3d | January 7, | Plaintiffs, voters | Local election   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009180

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation                     | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|------------------------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Jacobowitz   | States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 90; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 259 | 2005 | and an incumbent candidate, sued defendants, a challenger candidate, a county board of election, and commissioners, pursuant to § 1983 alleging violation of the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of New York granted summary judgment in favor of plaintiffs. Defendants appealed. | inspectors noticed a problem with a voting machine. Plaintiffs asserted that their votes were not counted due to the machine malfunction. Rather than pursue the state remedy of quo warranto, by requesting that New York's Attorney General investigate the machine malfunction and challenge the election results in state court, plaintiffs filed their complaint in federal court. |                              |             |                                       |

009181

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | The court of appeals found that United States Supreme Court jurisprudence required intentional conduct by state actors as a prerequisite for a due process violation. Neither side alleged that local officials acted intentionally or in a discriminatory manner with regard to the vote miscount. Both sides conceded that the recorded results were |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | likely due to an unforeseen malfunction with the voting machine. Because no conduct was alleged that would indicate an intentional deprivation of the right to vote, there was no cognizable federal due process claim. The proper remedy was to assert a quo warranto action to challenge the outcome of a general election based on an alleged voting machine malfunction. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                       | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-----------------------------|--|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                             |  |                  |  | The district court's grant of summary judgment was reversed and its injunctions were vacated. The case was remanded for further proceedings consistent with this opinion.                              |                              |             |                                       |
| GEORGE W. BUSH v. PALM BEACH COUNTY CANVASSING BOARD, ET AL. | United States Supreme Court | 531 U.S. 70; 121 S. Ct. 471; 148 L. Ed. 2d 366; 2000 U.S. LEXIS 8087 | December 4, 2000 | Appellant Republican presidential candidate's petition for writ of certiorari to the Florida supreme court was granted in a case involving interpretations of Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 102.111, 102.112, in proceedings brought by | The Supreme Court vacated the state court's judgment, finding that the state court opinion could be read to indicate that it construed the Florida Election Code without regard to the extent to which | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | appellees Democratic presidential candidate, county canvassing boards, and Florida Democratic Party regarding authority of the boards and respondent Florida Secretary of State as to manual recounts of ballots and deadlines. | the Florida Constitution could, consistent with U.S. Const. art. II, § 1, cl. 2, circumscribe the legislative power. The judgment of the Florida Supreme Court was vacated and remanded for further proceedings. The court stated the judgment was unclear as to the extent to which the state court saw the Florida constitution as circumscribing the legislature's authority under |                              |             |                                       |

009185

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case           | Court   | Citation                                  | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|---|---|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |   |   |                   |  | Article II of the United States Constitution, and as to the consideration given the federal statute regarding state electors.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Touchston v. McDermott | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 234 F.3d 1130; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 29366 | November 17, 2000 | Plaintiff voters appealed from judgment of the United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida, which denied their emergency motion for an injunction pending appeal against defendant county election officials. Plaintiffs sought to enjoin defendants from conducting manual ballot recounts or | Plaintiff voters sought an emergency injunction pending appeal to enjoin defendant county election officials from conducting manual ballot recounts or to enjoin defendants from certifying the results of the Presidential election which | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | to enjoin defendants from certifying results of the presidential election that contained any manual recounts. | contained any manual recounts. The district court denied the emergency injunction and plaintiffs appealed. Upon review, the emergency motion for injunction pending appeal was denied without prejudice. Florida had adequate election dispute procedures, which had been invoked and were being implemented in the forms of administrative |                              |             |                                       |

009187

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | actions by state officials and actions in state court. Therefore, the state procedures were adequate to preserve for ultimate review in the United States Supreme Court any federal questions arising out of the state procedures. Moreover, plaintiffs failed to demonstrate a substantial threat of an irreparable injury that would warrant granting the extraordinary |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | remedy of an injunction pending appeal. Denial of plaintiff's petition for emergency injunction pending appeal was affirmed. The state procedures were adequate to preserve any federal issue for review, and plaintiffs failed to demonstrate a substantial threat of an irreparable injury that would have warranted granting the extraordinary remedy of the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                    | Citation                              | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--------------------------|---------------------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                          |                                       |                  |  | injunction.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Gore v. Harris | Supreme Court of Florida | 772 So. 2d 1243; 2000 Fla. LEXIS 2373 | December 8, 2000 | The court of appeal certified as being of great public importance a trial court judgment that denied all relief requested by appellants, candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, in appellants' contest to certified election results. | Appellants contested the certification of their opponents as the winners of Florida's electoral votes. The Florida supreme court found no error in the trial court's holding that it was proper to certify election night returns from Nassau County rather than results of a machine recount. Nor did the trial court err in refusing to include votes that the Palm Beach County | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Canvassing Board found not to be legal votes during a manual recount. However, the trial court erred in excluding votes that were identified during the Palm Beach County manual recount and during a partial manual recount in Miami--Dade County. It was also error to refuse to examine Miami--Dade County ballots that registered as non--votes during the machine count. |                              |             |                                       |

009191

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | The trial court applied an improper standard to determine whether appellants had established that the result of the election was in doubt, and improperly concluded that there was no probability of a different result without examining the ballots that appellants claimed contained rejected legal votes. The judgment was reversed and remanded; the |                              |             |                                       |

009192

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | trial court was ordered to tabulate by hand Miami-Dade County ballots that the counting machine registered as non--votes, and was directed to order inclusion of votes that had already been identified during manual recounts. The trial court also was ordered to consider whether manual recounts in other counties were necessary. |                              |             |                                       |

009193

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case      | Court                           | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---------------------------------|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| James v. Bartlett | Supreme Court of North Carolina | 359 N.C. 260; 607 S.E.2d 638; 2005 N.C. LEXIS 146 | February 4, 2005 | Appellant candidates challenged elections in the superior court through appeals of election protests before the North Carolina State Board of Elections and a declaratory judgment action in the superior court. The court entered an order granting summary judgment in favor of appellees, the Board, the Board's executive director, the Board's members, and the North Carolina Attorney General. The candidates appealed. | The case involved three separate election challenges. The central issue was whether a provisional ballot cast on election day at a precinct other than the voter's correct precinct of residence could be lawfully counted in final election tallies. The superior court held that it could be counted. On appeal, the supreme court determined that state law did not permit out-of-precinct provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

003194

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                                  | Court  | Citation                                 | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | ballots to be counted in state and local elections. The candidates failure to challenge the counting of out-of-precinct provisional ballots before the election did not render their action untimely. Reversed and remanded. |                              |             |                                       |
| Sandusky County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 387 F.3d 565; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 22320 | October 26, 2004 | Defendant state appealed from an order of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Ohio which held that the Help America Vote Act required that voters be permitted to cast | The district court found that HAVA created an individual right to cast a provisional ballot, that this right is individually enforceable under 42  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009195

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | provisional ballots upon affirming their registration to vote in the county in which they desire to vote and that provisional ballots must be counted as valid ballots when cast in the correct county. | U.S.C.S. § 1983, and that plaintiffs unions and political parties had standing to bring a § 1983 action on behalf of Ohio voters. The court of appeals agreed that the political parties and unions had associational standing to challenge the state's provisional voting directive. Further, the court determined that HAVA was quintessentially about being able to cast a provisional |                              |             |                                       |

009196

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballot but that the voter casts a provisional ballot at the peril of not being eligible to vote under state law; if the voter is not eligible, the vote will then not be counted. Accordingly, the court of appeals reversed the district court and held that "provisional" ballots cast in a precinct where a voter does not reside and which would be invalid under state law, are not required by the HAVA to be considered |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                      | Court                 | Citation  | Date               | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------|---|--------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |                       |   |                    |  | legal votes. Affirmed in part and reversed in part.  |                              |             |                                       |
| State ex rel. Mackey v. Blackwell | Supreme Court of Ohio | 106 Ohio St. 3d 261; 2005 Ohio 4789; 834 N.E.2d 346; 2005 Ohio LEXIS 2074 | September 28, 2005 | Appellants, a political group and county electors who voted by provisional ballot, sought review of a judgment from the court of appeals which dismissed appellants' complaint, seeking a writ of mandamus to prevent appellees, the Ohio Secretary of State, a county board of elections, and the board's director, from disenfranchisement of provisional ballot voters. | The Secretary of State issued a directive to all Ohio county boards of elections, which specified that a signed affirmation statement was necessary for the counting of a provisional ballot in a presidential election. During the election, over 24,400 provisional ballots were cast in one county. The electors' provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009198

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballots were not counted. They, together with a political activist group, brought the mandamus action to compel appellants to prohibit the invalidation of provisional ballots and to notify voters of reasons for ballot rejections. Assorted constitutional and statutory law was relied on in support of the complaint. The trial court dismissed the complaint, finding that no clear legal right was established |                              |             |                                       |

009199

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | under Ohio law and the federal claims could be adequately raised in an action under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983. On appeal, the Ohio Supreme Court held that dismissal was proper, as the complaint actually sought declaratory and injunctive relief, rather than mandamus relief. Further, election--contest actions were the exclusive remedy to challenge election results. An adequate remedy existed |                              |             |                                       |

009260

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                  | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|---|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |   |   |                  |  | under § 1983 to raise the federal-law claims. Affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Fla. Democratic Party v. Hood | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1073; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21720 | October 21, 2004 | Plaintiff political party sought injunctive relief under the Help America Vote Act, claiming that the election system put in place by defendant election officials violated HAVA because it did not allow provisional voting other than in the voter's assigned precinct. The officials moved for judgment on the pleadings. | The political party asserted that a prospective voter in a federal election had the right to cast a provisional ballot at a given polling place, even if the local officials asserted that the voter was at the wrong polling place; second, that voter had the right to have that vote counted in the election, if the voter otherwise | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009201

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | met all requirements of state law. The court noted that the right to vote was clearly protectable as a civil right, and a primary purpose of the HAVA was to preserve the votes of persons who had incorrectly been removed from the voting rolls, and thus would not be listed as voters at what would otherwise have been the correct polling place. The irreparable injury to a voter was easily sufficient to |                              |             |                                       |

009202

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | outweigh any harm to the officials. Therefore, the court granted relief as to the first claim, allowing the unlisted voter to cast a provisional ballot, but denied relief as to the second claim, that the ballot at the wrong place must be counted if it was cast at the wrong place, because that result contradicted State law. The provisional ballot could only be counted if it |                              |             |                                       |

009203

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |  |                  |  | was cast in the proper precinct under State law.  |                              |             |                                       |
| League of Women Voters v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 340 F. Supp. 2d 823; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20926 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations filed suit against defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, claiming that a directive issued by the Secretary contravened the provisions of the Help America Vote Act. The Secretary filed a motion to dismiss. | The directive in question instructed election officials to issue provisional ballots to first-time voters who registered by mail but did not provide documentary identification at the polling place on election day. When submitting a provisional ballot, a first-time voter could identify himself by providing his driver's license number or the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009204

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | last four digits of his social security number. If he did not know either number, he could provide it before the polls closed. If he did not do so, his provisional ballot would not be counted. The court held that the directive did not contravene the HAVA and otherwise established reasonable requirements for confirming the identity of first-time voters who registered to vote by mail because: (1) the |                              |             |                                       |

009205

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | identification procedures were an important bulwark against voter misconduct and fraud; (2) the burden imposed on first--time voters to confirm their identity, and thus show that they were voting legitimately, was slight; and (3) the number of voters unable to meet the burden of proving their identity was likely to be very small. Thus, the balance of interests favored the directive, |                              |             |                                       |

009206

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                                  | Court  | Citation                                 | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | even if the cost, in terms of uncounted ballots, was regrettable.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Sandusky County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 386 F.3d 815; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 28765 | October 23, 2004 | Defendant Ohio Secretary of State challenged an order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, which held that Ohio Secretary of State Directive 2004--33 violated the federal Help America Vote Act. In its order, the district court directed the Secretary to issue a revised directive that conformed to HAVA's requirements. | On appeal, the court held that the district court correctly ruled that the right to cast a provisional ballot in federal elections was enforceable under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983 and that at least one plaintiff had standing to enforce that right in the district court. The court also held that Ohio Secretary of State Directive | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 2004--33 violated HAVA to the extent that it failed to ensure that any individual affirming that he or she was a registered voter in the jurisdiction in which he or she desired to vote and eligible to vote in a federal election was permitted to cast a provisional ballot. However, the district court erred in holding that HAVA required that a voter's provisional ballot be counted as a |                              |             |                                       |

009208

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |                             |                  |   | valid ballot if it was cast anywhere in the county in which the voter resided, even if it was cast outside the precinct in which the voter resided.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Hawkins v. Blunt | United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21512 | October 12, 2004 | In an action filed by plaintiffs, voters and a state political party, contending that the provisional voting requirements of Mo. Rev. Stat. § 115.430 conflicted with and was preempted by the Help America Vote Act, plaintiffs and defendants, the secretary of state and others, moved | The court held that the text of the HAVA, as well as its legislative history, proved that it could be read to include reasonable accommodations of state precinct voting practices in implementing provisional voting requirements. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009209

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                 | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | for summary judgment. | The court further held that Mo. Rev. Stat. § 115.430.2 was reasonable; to effectuate the HAVA's intent and to protect that interest, it could not be unreasonable to direct a voter to his correct voting place where a full ballot was likely to be cast. The court also held that plaintiffs' equal protection rights were not violated by the requirement that before a voter would be allowed to cast a provisional |                              |             |                                       |

009210

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                        | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |   |  |                  |  | ballot, the voter would first be directed to his proper polling place.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bay County Democratic Party v. Land | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 340 F. Supp. 2d 802; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20551 | October 13, 2004 | Plaintiffs, state and county Democratic parties, filed an action against defendant, Michigan secretary of state and the Michigan director of elections, alleging that the state's intended procedure for casting and counting provisional ballots at the upcoming general election would violate the Help America Vote Act and state laws implementing the federal | The parties claimed that if the secretary's proposed procedure was allowed to occur, several voters who were members of the parties' respective organizations were likely to be disenfranchised. Defendants moved to transfer venue of the action to the Western District of Michigan claiming that the only proper | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009211

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | legislation. Defendants filed a motion to transfer venue. | venue for an action against a state official is the district that encompasses the state's seat of government. Alternatively, defendants sought transfer for the convenience of the parties and witnesses. The court found that defendants' arguments were not supported by the plain language of the current venue statutes. Federal actions against the Michigan secretary of state over rules and practices |                              |             |                                       |

009212

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | governing federal elections traditionally were brought in both the Eastern and Western Districts of Michigan. There was no rule that required such actions to be brought only in the district in which the state's seat of government was located, and no inconvenience resulting from litigating in the state's more populous district reasonably could be claimed by a state official who had a |                              |             |                                       |

009213

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                        | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |   |  |                  |   | mandate to administer elections throughout the state and operated an office in each of its counties. Motion denied.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bay County Democratic Party v. Land | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 347 F. Supp. 2d 404; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20872 | October 19, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voter organizations and political parties, filed actions against defendants, the Michigan Secretary of State and her director of elections, challenging directives issued to local election officials concerning the casting and tabulation of provisional ballots. Plaintiffs sought a | The court concluded that (1) plaintiffs had standing to assert their claims; (2) HAVA created individual rights enforceable through 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983; (3) Congress had provided a scheme under HAVA in which a voter's right to have a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009214

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | preliminary injunction and contended that the directives violated their rights under the Help America Vote Act. | provisional ballot for federal offices tabulated was determined by state law governing eligibility, and defendants' directives for determining eligibility on the basis of precinct--based residency were inconsistent with state and federal election law; (4) Michigan election law defined voter qualifications in terms of the voter's home jurisdiction, and a person who cast a |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | provisional ballot within his or her jurisdiction was entitled under federal law to have his or her votes for federal offices counted if eligibility to vote in that election could be verified; and (5) defendants' directives concerning proof of identity of first--time voters who registered by mail were consistent with federal and state law. |                              |             |                                       |

009216

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case      | Court                           | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---------------------------------|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| James v. Bartlett | Supreme Court of North Carolina | 359 N.C. 260; 607 S.E.2d 638; 2005 N.C. LEXIS 146 | February 4, 2005 | Appellant candidates challenged elections in the superior court through appeals of election protests before the North Carolina State Board of Elections and a declaratory judgment action in the superior court. The court entered an order granting summary judgment in favor of appellees, the Board, the Board's executive director, the Board's members, and the North Carolina Attorney General. The candidates appealed. | The case involved three separate election challenges. The central issue was whether a provisional ballot cast on election day at a precinct other than the voter's correct precinct of residence could be lawfully counted in final election tallies. The superior court held that it could be counted. On appeal, the supreme court determined that state law did not permit out--of--precinct provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009217

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case                                  | Court  | Citation                                 | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | ballots to be counted in state and local elections. The candidates failure to challenge the counting of out--of--precinct provisional ballots before the election did not render their action untimely. Reversed and remanded. |                              |             |                                       |
| Sandusky County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 387 F.3d 565; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 22320 | October 26, 2004 | Defendant state appealed from an order of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Ohio which held that the Help America Vote Act required that voters be permitted to cast | The district court found that HAVA created an individual right to cast a provisional ballot, that this right is individually enforceable under 42  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009218

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | provisional ballots upon affirming their registration to vote in the county in which they desire to vote and that provisional ballots must be counted as valid ballots when cast in the correct county. | U.S.C.S. § 1983, and that plaintiffs unions and political parties had standing to bring a § 1983 action on behalf of Ohio voters. The court of appeals agreed that the political parties and unions had associational standing to challenge the state's provisional voting directive. Further, the court determined that HAVA was quintessentially about being able to cast a provisional |                              |             |                                       |

009219

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballot but that the voter casts a provisional ballot at the peril of not being eligible to vote under state law; if the voter is not eligible, the vote will then not be counted. Accordingly, the court of appeals reversed the district court and held that "provisional" ballots cast in a precinct where a voter does not reside and which would be invalid under state law, are not required by the HAVA to be considered |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case                      | Court                 | Citation  | Date               | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------|---|--------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |                       |   |                    |  | legal votes.Affirmed in part and reversed in part.   |                              |             |                                       |
| State ex rel. Mackey v. Blackwell | Supreme Court of Ohio | 106 Ohio St. 3d 261; 2005 Ohio 4789; 834 N.E.2d 346; 2005 Ohio LEXIS 2074 | September 28, 2005 | Appellants, a political group and county electors who voted by provisional ballot, sought review of a judgment from the court of appeals which dismissed appellants' complaint, seeking a writ of mandamus to prevent appellees, the Ohio Secretary of State, a county board of elections, and the board's director, from disenfranchisement of provisional ballot voters. | The Secretary of State issued a directive to all Ohio county boards of elections, which specified that a signed affirmation statement was necessary for the counting of a provisional ballot in a presidential election. During the election, over 24,400 provisional ballots were cast in one county. The electors' provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009221

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballots were not counted. They, together with a political activist group, brought the mandamus action to compel appellants to prohibit the invalidation of provisional ballots and to notify voters of reasons for ballot rejections. Assorted constitutional and statutory law was relied on in support of the complaint. The trial court dismissed the complaint, finding that no clear legal right was established |                              |             |                                       |

009222

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | under Ohio law and the federal claims could be adequately raised in an action under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983. On appeal, the Ohio Supreme Court held that dismissal was proper, as the complaint actually sought declaratory and injunctive relief, rather than mandamus relief. Further, election--contest actions were the exclusive remedy to challenge election results. An adequate remedy existed |                              |             |                                       |

009223

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case                  | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|---|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |   |   |                  |  | under § 1983 to raise the federal-law claims.Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Fla. Democratic Party v. Hood | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1073; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21720 | October 21, 2004 | Plaintiff political party sought injunctive relief under the Help America Vote Act, claiming that the election system put in place by defendant election officials violated HAVA because it did not allow provisional voting other than in the voter's assigned precinct. The officials moved for judgment on the pleadings. | The political party asserted that a prospective voter in a federal election had the right to cast a provisional ballot at a given polling place, even if the local officials asserted that the voter was at the wrong polling place; second, that voter had the right to have that vote counted in the election, if the voter otherwise | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009224

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | met all requirements of state law. The court noted that the right to vote was clearly protectable as a civil right, and a primary purpose of the HAVA was to preserve the votes of persons who had incorrectly been removed from the voting rolls, and thus would not be listed as voters at what would otherwise have been the correct polling place. The irreparable injury to a voter was easily sufficient to |                              |             |                                       |

009225

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | outweigh any harm to the officials. Therefore, the court granted relief as to the first claim, allowing the unlisted voter to cast a provisional ballot, but denied relief as to the second claim, that the ballot at the wrong place must be counted if it was cast at the wrong place, because that result contradicted State law. The provisional ballot could only be counted if it |                              |             |                                       |

009226

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |  |                  |  | was cast in the proper precinct under State law.  |                              |             |                                       |
| League of Women Voters v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 340 F. Supp. 2d 823; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20926 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations filed suit against defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, claiming that a directive issued by the Secretary contravened the provisions of the Help America Vote Act. The Secretary filed a motion to dismiss. | The directive in question instructed election officials to issue provisional ballots to first--time voters who registered by mail but did not provide documentary identification at the polling place on election day. When submitting a provisional ballot, a first--time voter could identify himself by providing his driver's license number or the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009227

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | last four digits of his social security number. If he did not know either number, he could provide it before the polls closed. If he did not do so, his provisional ballot would not be counted. The court held that the directive did not contravene the HAVA and otherwise established reasonable requirements for confirming the identity of first-time voters who registered to vote by mail because: (1) the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | identification procedures were an important bulwark against voter misconduct and fraud; (2) the burden imposed on first--time voters to confirm their identity, and thus show that they were voting legitimately, was slight; and (3) the number of voters unable to meet the burden of proving their identity was likely to be very small. Thus, the balance of interests favored the directive, |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case                                  | Court  | Citation                                 | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | even if the cost, in terms of uncounted ballots, was regrettable.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Sandusky County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 386 F.3d 815; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 28765 | October 23, 2004 | Defendant Ohio Secretary of State challenged an order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, which held that Ohio Secretary of State Directive 2004--33 violated the federal Help America Vote Act. In its order, the district court directed the Secretary to issue a revised directive that conformed to HAVA's requirements. | On appeal, the court held that the district court correctly ruled that the right to cast a provisional ballot in federal elections was enforceable under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983 and that at least one plaintiff had standing to enforce that right in the district court. The court also held that Ohio Secretary of State Directive | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 2004--33violated HAVA to the extent that it failed to ensure that any individual affirming that he or she was a registered voter in the jurisdiction in which he or she desired to vote and eligible to vote in a federal election was permitted to cast a provisional ballot. However, the district court erred in holding that HAVA required that a voter's provisional ballot be counted as a |                              |             |                                       |

009230

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |                             |                  |   | valid ballot if it was cast anywhere in the county in which the voter resided, even if it was cast outside the precinct in which the voter resided.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Hawkins v. Blunt | United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21512 | October 12, 2004 | In an action filed by plaintiffs, voters and a state political party, contending that the provisional voting requirements of Mo. Rev. Stat. § 115.430 conflicted with and was preempted by the Help America Vote Act, plaintiffs and defendants, the secretary of state and others, moved | The court held that the text of the HAVA, as well as its legislative history, proved that it could be read to include reasonable accommodations of state precinct voting practices in implementing provisional voting requirements. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009231

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                 | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | for summary judgment. | The court further held that Mo. Rev. Stat. § 115.430.2 was reasonable; to effectuate the HAVA's intent and to protect that interest, it could not be unreasonable to direct a voter to his correct voting place where a full ballot was likely to be cast. The court also held that plaintiffs' equal protection rights were not violated by the requirement that before a voter would be allowed to cast a provisional |                              |             |                                       |

009232

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case                        | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |   |  |                  |  | ballot, the voter would first be directed to his proper polling place.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bay County Democratic Party v. Land | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 340 F. Supp. 2d 802; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20551 | October 13, 2004 | Plaintiffs, state and county Democratic parties, filed an action against defendant, Michigan secretary of state and the Michigan director of elections, alleging that the state's intended procedure for casting and counting provisional ballots at the upcoming general election would violate the Help America Vote Act and state laws implementing the federal | The parties claimed that if the secretary's proposed procedure was allowed to occur, several voters who were members of the parties' respective organizations were likely to be disenfranchised. Defendants moved to transfer venue of the action to the Western District of Michigan claiming that the only proper | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009233

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | legislation. Defendants filed a motion to transfer venue. | venue for an action against a state official is the district that encompasses the state's seat of government. Alternatively, defendants sought transfer for the convenience of the parties and witnesses. The court found that defendants' arguments were not supported by the plain language of the current venue statutes. Federal actions against the Michigan secretary of state over rules and practices |                              |             |                                       |

009234

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | governing federal elections traditionally were brought in both the Eastern and Western Districts of Michigan. There was no rule that required such actions to be brought only in the district in which the state's seat of government was located, and no inconvenience resulting from litigating in the state's more populous district reasonably could be claimed by a state official who had a |                              |             |                                       |

009235

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case                        | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |   |  |                  |   | mandate to administer elections throughout the state and operated an office in each of its counties. Motion denied.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bay County Democratic Party v. Land | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 347 F. Supp. 2d 404; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20872 | October 19, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voter organizations and political parties, filed actions against defendants, the Michigan Secretary of State and her director of elections, challenging directives issued to local election officials concerning the casting and tabulation of provisional ballots. Plaintiffs sought a | The court concluded that (1) plaintiffs had standing to assert their claims; (2) HAVA created individual rights enforceable through 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983; (3) Congress had provided a scheme under HAVA in which a voter's right to have a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009236

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | preliminary injunction and contended that the directives violated their rights under the Help America Vote Act. | provisional ballot for federal offices tabulated was determined by state law governing eligibility, and defendants' directives for determining eligibility on the basis of precinct--based residency were inconsistent with state and federal election law; (4) Michigan election law defined voter qualifications in terms of the voter's home jurisdiction, and a person who cast a |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | provisional ballot within his or her jurisdiction was entitled under federal law to have his or her votes for federal offices counted if eligibility to vote in that election could be verified; and (5) defendants' directives concerning proof of identity of first--time voters who registered by mail were consistent with federal and state law. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case         | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Spencer v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | 347 F. Supp. 2d 528; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22062 | November 1, 2004 | Plaintiff voters filed a motion for temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction seeking to restrain defendant election officials and intervenor State of Ohio from discriminating against black voters in Hamilton County on the basis of race. If necessary, they sought to restrain challengers from being allowed at the | The voters alleged that defendants had combined to implement a voter challenge system at the polls that discriminated against African--American voters. Each precinct was run by its election judges but Ohio law also allowed challengers to be physically present in the polling places in order to challenge voters' eligibility to vote. The court held that the injury asserted, that allowing | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | polls. | challengers to challenge voters' eligibility would place an undue burden on voters and impede their right to vote, was not speculative and could be redressed by removing the challengers. The court held that in the absence of any statutory guidance whatsoever governing the procedures and limitations for challenging voters by challengers, and the questionable enforceability of the State's and |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | County's policies regarding good faith challenges and ejection of disruptive challengers from the polls, there existed an enormous risk of chaos, delay, intimidation, and pandemonium inside the polls and in the lines out the door. Furthermore, the law allowing private challengers was not narrowly tailored to serve Ohio's compelling interest in preventing voter fraud. The court enjoined all |                              |             |                                       |

009241

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case  | Court                       | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-----------------------------|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                             |   |                  |   | defendants from allowing any challengers other than election judges and other electors into the polling places throughout the state on Election Day.   |                              |             |                                       |
| MARIAN SPENCER, et al., Petitioners v. CLARA PUGH, et al. (No. 04A360) SUMMIT COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL and EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, et al., Petitioners v. MATTHEW HEIDER, et al. (No. 04A364) | United States Supreme Court | 125 S. Ct. 305; 160 L. Ed. 2d 213; 2004 U.S. LEXIS 7400 | November 2, 2004 | In two separate actions, plaintiffs sued defendant members of a political party, alleging that the members planned to mount indiscriminate challenges in polling places which would disrupt voting. Plaintiffs applied to | Plaintiffs contended that the members planned to send numerous challengers to polling places in predominantly African--American neighborhoods to challenge votes in an imminent national election, which would allegedly cause | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009242
009242

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | vacate orders entered by the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit which entered emergency stays of injunctions restricting the members' activities. | voter intimidation and inordinate delays in voting. A district court ordered challengers to stay out of polling places, and another district court ordered challengers to remain in the polling places only as witnesses, but the appellate court stayed the orders. The United States Supreme Court, acting through a single Circuit Justice, declined to reinstate the injunctions for |                              |             |                                       |

009243

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case            | Court         | Citation        | Date         | Facts                           | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|---------------|-----------------|--------------|---------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |               |                 |              |                                 | prudential reasons, despite the few hours left until the upcoming election. While the allegations of abuse were serious, it was not possible to determine with any certainty the ultimate validity of the plaintiffs' claims or for the full Supreme Court to review the relevant submissions, and voting officials would be available to enable proper voting by qualified voters. |                              |             |                                       |
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. | United States | 324 F. Supp. 2d | July 1, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a voter, fraternity | The organization participated in   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009244

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case        | Court   | Citation                          | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|---|-----------------------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Found., Inc. v. Cox | District Court for the Northern District of Georgia | 1358; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12120 |      | members, and an organization, sought an injunction ordering defendant, the Georgia Secretary of State, to process the voter registration application forms that they mailed in following a voter registration drive. They contended that by refusing to process the forms defendants violated the National Voter | numerous non-partisan voter registration drives primarily designed to increase the voting strength of African-Americans. Following one such drive, the fraternity members mailed in over 60 registration forms, including one for the voter who had moved within state since the last election. The Georgia Secretary of State's office refused to process them because they |                              |             |                                       |

009245

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Registration Act and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, and XV. | were not mailed individually and neither a registrar, deputy registrar, or an otherwise authorized person had collected the applications as required under state law. The court held that plaintiffs had standing to bring the action. The court held that because the applications were received in accordance with the mandates of the NVRA, the State of Georgia was not free to reject them. The court found that: |                              |             |                                       |

009246

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case                                   | Court                            | Citation                        | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------------------------------|---------------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                                  |                                 |                  |  | plaintiffs had a substantial likelihood of prevailing on the merits of their claim that the applications were improperly rejected; plaintiffs would be irreparably injured absent an injunction; the potential harm to defendants was outweighed by plaintiffs' injuries; and an injunction was in the public interest. Injunction granted. |                              |             |                                       |
| Jacksonville Coalition for Voter Prot. v. Hood | United States District Court for | 351 F. Supp. 2d 1326; 2004 U.S. | October 25, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voter protection coalition, union, and | The coalition, the union, and the voters based their claim on  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009247

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court                          | Citation          | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------------------------------|-------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | the Middle District of Florida | Dist. LEXIS 26522 |      | voters, filed an emergency motion for a preliminary injunction and argued that African Americans in the county had less opportunity than other members of the state's electorate to vote in the upcoming election, and that defendants, elections officials', implementation of early voting procedures violated the Voting Rights | the fact that the county had the largest percentage of African--American registered voters of any major county in the state, and, yet, other similarly-sized counties with smaller African--American registered voter percentages had more early voting sites. Based on that, they argued that African--American voters in the county were disproportionately affected. The |                              |             |                                       |

009248

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--------------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Act and their constitutional rights. | court found that while it may have been true that having to drive to an early voting site and having to wait in line may cause people to be inconvenienced, inconvenience did not result in a denial of meaningful access to the political process. Thus, the coalition, the union, and the voters had not established a likelihood of success on the merits of their claim that the county's implementation |                              |             |                                       |

009249

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                          | Citation                           | Date            | Facts                                     | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--------------------------------|------------------------------------|-----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                                |                                    |                 |   | of early voting procedures violated § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. Moreover, the coalition, the union, and the voters failed to establish a likelihood of success on the merits of their § 1983 Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendment claims, which required a higher proof of discriminatory purpose and effect. Injunction denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Taylor v. Howe | United States Court of Appeals | 225 F.3d 993; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS | August 31, 2000 | Plaintiffs, African American voters, poll | The court of appeals affirmed--in--part, reversed--  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009250

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court                  | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|------------------------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | for the Eighth Circuit | 22241    |      | watchers, and candidates appealed from a judgment of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas in favor of defendants, elections commissioners and related individuals, on their § 1983 voting rights claims and contended the district court made erroneous findings of fact and law and failed to appreciate evidence of | in--part, and remanded the district court's judgment. The court found that the district court's finding of a lack of intentional discrimination was appropriate as to many defendants. However, as to some of the individual voters' claims for damages, the court held "a definite and firm conviction" that the district court's findings were mistaken. The court noted that the argument that a |                              |             |                                       |

009251

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case         | Court                                | Citation                                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--------------------------------------|--|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                      |                                      |  |                   | discriminatory intent.                                  | voter's name was misspelled in the voter register, with a single incorrect letter, was a flimsy pretext and, accordingly, held that the district court's finding that defendant poll workers did not racially discriminate in denying the vote to this plaintiff was clearly erroneous. Affirmed in part and reversed in part. |                              |             |                                       |
| Stewart v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the | 356 F. Supp. 2d 791; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS | December 14, 2004 | Plaintiffs, including African--American voters, alleged | The primary thrust of the litigation was an attempt to federalize  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court                     | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------------------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Northern District of Ohio | 26897    |      | that use of punch card voting and "central--count" optical scanning devices by defendants, the Ohio Secretary of State et al., violated their rights under the Due Process Clause, the Equal Protection Clause, and (African--American plaintiffs) their rights under § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. | elections by judicial rule or fiat via the invitation to the court to declare a certain voting technology unconstitutional and then fashion a remedy. The court declined the invitation. The determination of the applicable voting process had always been focused in the legislative branch of the government. While it was true that the percentage of residual or non-voted ballots in the 2000 |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | presidential election ran slightly higher in counties using punch card technology, that fact standing alone was insufficient to declare the use of the system unconstitutional. Moreover, the highest frequency in Ohio of residual voting bore a direct relationship to economic and educational factors, negating the Voting Rights Act claim. The court further stated that local variety |                              |             |                                       |

009254

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case     | Court                  | Citation                  | Date               | Facts                               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|------------------------|---------------------------|--------------------|-------------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |                        |                           |                    |                                     | in voting technology did not violate the Equal Protection Clause, even if the different technologies had different levels of effectiveness in recording voters' intentions, so long as there was some rational basis for the technology choice. It concluded that defendants' cost and security reasons for the use of punch card ballots were plausible. |                              |             |                                       |
| Taylor v. Currie | United States District | 386 F. Supp. 2d 929; 2005 | September 14, 2005 | Plaintiff brought an action against | This action involved issues pertaining to   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009255

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court                                      | Citation               | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|------------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20257 |      | defendants, including a city elections commission, alleging defects in a city council primary election pertaining to absentee balloting. The case was removed to federal court by defendants. Pending before the court was a motion to remand, filed by plaintiff. | absentee ballots. Plaintiff alleged that defendants were not complying with state laws requiring certain eligibility checks before issuing absentee ballots. The state court issued an injunction preventing defendants from mailing absentee ballots. Defendants removed the action to federal court and plaintiff sought a remand. Defendants argued that not mailing the absentee ballots |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | would violate the Voting Rights Act, because it would place a restriction only on the City of Detroit, which was predominately African-- American. The court ordered the case remanded because it found no basis under 28 U.S.C.S. §§ 1441 or 1443 for federal jurisdiction. Defendants' mere reference to a federal law or federal right was not enough to confer subject matter |                              |             |                                       |

009257

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | jurisdiction where the complaint sought to assert only rights arising under state statutes against state officials in relation to a state election. The court stated that it would not allow defendants to take haven in federal court under the guise of providing equal protection for the citizens of Detroit but with a goal of perpetuating their violation of a non-discriminatory state law. |                              |             |                                       |

009258

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

---

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding                   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---------------------------|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Motion to remand granted. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                                  | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Weber v. Shelley | United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 347 F.3d 1101; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 21979 | October 28, 2003 | Plaintiff voter brought an suit against defendants, the secretary of state and the county registrar of voters, claiming that the lack of a voter--verified paper trail in the county's newly installed touchscreen voting system violated her rights to equal protection and due process. The United States District Court for the Central District of California granted the | On review, the voter contended that use of paperless touch--screen voting systems was unconstitutional and that the trial court erred by ruling her expert testimony inadmissible. The trial court focused on whether the experts' declarations raised genuine issues of material fact about the relative accuracy of the voting systemat issue and | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009260

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | secretary and the registrar summary judgment. The voter appealed. | excluded references to news--paper articles and unidentified studies absent any indication that experts normally relied upon them. The appellate court found that the trial court's exclusions were not an abuse of discretion and agreed that the admissible opinions which were left did not tend to show that voters had a lesser chance of having their votes counted. It further found |                              |             |                                       |

009261

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | that the use of touchscreen voting systems was not subject to strict scrutiny simply because this particular balloting system might make the possibility of some kinds of fraud more difficult to detect. California made a reasonable, politically neutral and non-discriminatory choice to certify touchscreen systems as an |                              |             |                                       |

009262

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case                                     | Court   | Citation  | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |              |   | alternative to paper ballots, as did the county in deciding to use such a system. Nothing in the Constitution forbid this choice. The judgment was affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Shelley | United States District Court for the Central District of California | 324 F. Supp. 2d 1120; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12587 | July 6, 2004 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters and organizations representing those voters, sought to enjoin the directives of defendant California Secretary of State, which decertified and withdrew | The voters urged the invalidation of the Secretary's directives because, allegedly, their effect was to deprive the voters of the opportunity to vote using touch--screen technology. Although it was | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009263

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | approval of the use of certain direct recording electronic (DRE) voting systems. One voter applied for a temporary restraining order, or, in the alternative, a preliminary injunction. of a preliminary injunction in a number of ways, including a four--part test that considers (1) likelihood of success on the merits; (2) the possibility of irreparable injury in the | not disputed that some disabled persons would be unable to vote independently and in private without the use of DREs, it was clear that they would not be deprived of their fundamental right to vote. The Americans with Disabilities Act, did not require accommodation that would enable disabled persons to vote in a manner that was |                              |             |                                       |

009264

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | absence of an injunction; (3) a balancing of the harms; and (4) the public interest. | comparable in every way with the voting rights enjoyed by persons without disabilities. Rather, it mandated that voting programs be made accessible. Defendant's decision to suspend the use of DREs pending improvement in their reliability and security of the devices was a rational one, designed to protect the voting rights of the state's |                              |             |                                       |

009265

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | citizens. The evidence did not support the conclusion that the elimination of the DREs would have a discriminatory effect on the visually or manually impaired. Thus, the voters showed little likelihood of success on the merits. The individual's request for a temporary restraining order, or, in the alternative, a preliminary injunction, was denied. Ninth Circuit's tests |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case                  | Court                                      | Citation                                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|--|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |  |   |                  |   | for a preliminary injunction, although phrased differently, require a court to inquire into whether there exists a likelihood of success on the merits, and the possibility of irreparable injury; a court is also required to balance the hardships. |                              |             |                                       |
| Fla. Democratic Party v. Hood | Court of Appeal of Florida, First District | 884 So. 2d 1148; 2004 Fla. App. LEXIS 16077 | October 28, 2004 | Petitioner, the Florida Democratic Party, sought review of an emergency rule adopted by the Florida | The Party argued that: (1) the Florida Administrative Code, recast language from the earlier invalidated rule   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Department of State, contending that the findings of immediate danger, necessity, and procedural fairness on which the rule was based were insufficient under Florida law, which required a showing of such circumstances, and Florida case law. This matter followed. | prohibiting a manual recount of overvotes and undervotes cast on a touchscreen machine; (2) the rule did not call for the manual recount of votes to determine voter intent; and (3) the rule created voters who were entitled to manual recounts in close elections and those who were not. The appeals court disagreed. The Department was clearly concerned with the fact that if |                              |             |                                       |

009268

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | no rule were in place, the same confusion and inconsistency in divining a voter's intent that attended the 2000 presidential election in Florida, and the same constitutional problems the United States Supreme Court addressed then, might recur in 2004. It was not the court's responsibility to decide the validity of the rule or whether other means were more appropriate. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | But, the following question was certified to the Supreme Court: Whether under Fla. Stat. ch. 120.54(4), the Department of State set forth sufficient justification for an emergency rule establishing standards for conducting manual recounts of overvotes and undervotes as applied to touchscreen voting systems? The petition was denied, but a question was |                              |             |                                       |

009270

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |   |                  |   | certified to the supreme court as a matter of great public importance.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Wexler v. Lepore | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1097; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21344 | October 25, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a congressman, state commissioners, and a registered voter, brought a § 1983 action against defendants, state officials, alleging that the manual recount procedures for the state's touchscreen paperless voting systems violated their rights under U.S. Const. | The officials claimed that the state had established an updated standard for manual recounts in counties using optical scan systems and touchscreen voting systems, therefore, alleviating equal protection concerns. The court held that the rules prescribing what | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                    | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | amends. V and XIV. A bench trial ensued. | constituted a clear indication on the ballot that the voter had made a definite choice, as well the rules prescribing additional recount procedures for each certified voting system promulgated pursuant to Florida law complied with equal protection requirements under U.S. Const. amends. V and XIV because the rules prescribed uniform, |                              |             |                                       |

009272

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | nondifferential standards for what constituted a legal vote under each certified voting system, as well as procedures for conducting a manual recount of overvotes and undervotes in the entire geographic jurisdiction. The court further held that the ballot images printed during a manual recount pursuant to Florida Administrative Code did not violate Florida |                              |             |                                       |

009273

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | law because the manual recount scheme properly reflected a voter's choice. Judgment was entered for the officials. The claims of the congressman, commissioners, and voter were denied. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Reitz v. Rendell | United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21813 | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiff service members filed an action against defendant state officials under the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act alleging that they and similarly situated service members would be disenfranchised because they did not receive their absentee ballots in time. The parties entered into a voluntary agreement and submitted it to the court for approval. | The court issued an order to assure that the service members and other similarly situated service members who were protected by the UOCAVA would not be disenfranchised. The court ordered the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to take all reasonable steps necessary to direct the county boards of elections to accept as timely received absentee ballots cast by service members and other | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009275

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | overseas voters as defined by UOCAVA, so long as the ballots were received by November 10, 2004. The ballots were to be considered solely for purposes of the federal offices that were included on the ballots. The court held that the ballot needed to be cast no later than November 2, 2004 to be counted. The court did not make any findings of liability against the Governor or the Secretary. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                  | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |  |                             |                  |   | The court entered an order, pursuant to a stipulation between the parties, that granted injunctive relief to the service members.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Pennsylvania | United States District Court for the Middle district of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21167 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff United States sued defendant Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, governor, and state secretary, claiming that overseas voters would be disenfranchised if they used absentee ballots that included the names of two presidential candidates who | The testimony of the two witnesses offered by the United States did not support its contention that voters protected by the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act would be disenfranchised absent immediate injunctive relief because neither witness testified | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009277

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | had been removed from the final certified ballot and seeking injunctive relief to address the practical implications of the final certification of the slate of candidates so late in the election year. | that any absentee ballots issued to UOCAVA voters were legally incorrect or otherwise invalid. Moreover, there was no evidence that any UOCAVA voter had complained or otherwise expressed concern regarding their ability or right to vote. The fact that some UOCAVA voters received ballots including the names of two candidates who were not on the final certified ballot did not ipso facto support |                              |             |                                       |

009278

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | a finding that Pennsylvania was in violation of UOCAVA, especially since the United States failed to establish that the ballot defect undermined the right of UOCAVA voters to cast their ballots. Moreover, Pennsylvania had adduced substantial evidence that the requested injunctive relief, issuing new ballots, would have harmed the Pennsylvania election system and the public by |                              |             |                                       |

009279

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | undermining the integrity and efficiency of Pennsylvania's elections and increasing election costs. must consider the following four factors: (1) the likelihood that the applicant will prevail on the merits of the substantive claim; (2) the extent to which the moving party will be irreparably harmed in the absence of injunctive relief; (3) the extent to which the nonmoving party |                              |             |                                       |

009280

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                               | Court   | Citation  | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |      |   | will suffer irreparable harm if the court grants the requested injunctive relief; and (4) the public interest. District courts should only grant injunctive relief after consideration of each of these factors. Motion for injunctive relief denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Bush v. Hillsborough County Canvassing Bd. | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 123 F. Supp. 2d 1305; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 19265 |      | The matter came before the court on plaintiffs' complaint for declaratory and injunctive relief alleging that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee | Plaintiff presidential and vice--presidential candidates and state political party contended that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009281

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | state ballots and federal write--in ballots based on criteria inconsistent with federal law, and requesting that the ballots be declared valid and that they should be counted. | state ballots and federal write--in ballots based on criteria inconsistent with the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act. Because the state accepted overseas absentee state ballots and federal write--in ballots up to 10 days after the election, the State needed to access that the ballot in fact came from overseas. However, federal law provided the method to establish that fact by requiring the overseas absentee |                              |             |                                       |

009282

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | voter to sign an oath that the ballot was mailed from outside the United States and requiring the state election officials to examine the voter's declarations. The court further noted that federal law required the user of a federal write--in ballot to timely apply for a regular state absentee ballot, not that the state receive the application, and that again federal law, by requiring the voter using a federal write--in ballot to swear that he or she had |                              |             |                                       |

009283

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | made timely application, had provided the proper method of proof. Plaintiffs withdrew as moot their request for injunctive relief and the court granted in part and denied in part plaintiffs' request for declaratory relief, and relief GRANTED in part and declared valid all federal write--in ballots that were signed pursuant to the oath provided therein but rejected solely because the ballot envelope did not have an APO, FPO, or foreign |                              |             |                                       |

009284

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                                  | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |                  |  | postmark, or solely because there was no record of an application for a state absentee ballot.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Harris v. Florida Elections Canvassing Comm'n | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 122 F. Supp. 2d 1317; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17875 | December 9, 2000 | Plaintiffs challenged the counting of overseas absentee ballots received after 7 p.m. on election day, alleging the ballots violated Florida election law. | In two separate cases, plaintiff electors originally sued defendant state elections canvassing commission and state officials in Florida state circuit court, challenging the counting of overseas absentee ballots received after 7 p.m. on election day. Defendant governor removed one case | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009285

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | to federal court. The second case was also removed. The court in the second case denied plaintiff's motion for remand and granted a motion to transfer the case to the first federal court under the related case doctrine. Plaintiffs claimed that the overseas ballots violated Florida election law. Defendants argued the deadline was not absolute. The court found Congress did not intend 3 U.S.C.S. § 1 to impose |                              |             |                                       |

009286

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | irrational scheduling rules on state and local canvassing officials, and did not intend to disenfranchise overseas voters. The court held the state statute was required to yield to Florida Administrative Code, which required the 10-day extension in the receipt of overseas absentee ballots in federal elections because the rule was promulgated to satisfy a consent decree entered by the state in 1982. Judgment entered for defendants |                              |             |                                       |

009287

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case   | Court  | Citation   | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--|--|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |  |  |                   |   | because a Florida administrative rule requiring a 10--day extension in the receipt of overseas absentee ballots in federal elections was enacted to bring the state into compliance with a federally ordered mandate; plaintiffs were not entitled to relief under any provision of state or federal law. |                              |             |                                       |
| Romeu v. Cohen | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 121 F. Supp. 2d 264; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12842 | September 7, 2000 | Plaintiff territorial resident and plaintiff--intervenor territorial governor moved for summary judgment and defendant federal, | Plaintiff argued that the laws denied him the right to receive a state absentee ballot in violation of the right to vote, the right to travel, the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009288

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | state, and local officials moved to dismiss the complaint that alleged that the Voting Rights Amendments of 1970, the Uniform Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, and New York election law were unconstitutional since they denied plaintiff's right to receive an absentee ballot for the upcoming presidential election. | Privileges and Immunities Clause, and the Equal Protection Clause. Plaintiff-intervenor territorial governor intervened on behalf of similarly situated Puerto Rican residents. Defendants' argued that: 1) plaintiff lacked standing; 2) a non-justiciable political question was raised; and 3) the laws were constitutional. The court held that: 1) plaintiff had standing because he made a substantial |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | showing that application for the benefit was futile; 2) whether or not the statutes violated plaintiff's rights presented a legal, not political, question, and there was no lack of judicially discoverable and manageable standards for resolving the matter; and 3) the laws were constitutional and only a constitutional amendment or grant of statehood would enable plaintiff to vote in a presidential election. The |                              |             |                                       |

009290

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation                                 | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|---|--|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |   |  |                   |   | court granted defendants' motion to dismiss because the laws that prohibited territorial residents from voting by state absentee ballot in presidential elections were constitutional.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Romeu v. Cohen | United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 265 F.3d 118; 2001 U.S. App. LEXIS 19876 | September 6, 2001 | Plaintiff territorial resident sued defendants, state and federal officials, alleging that the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act unconstitutionally prevented the territorial resident from voting in his former state of | The territorial resident contended that the UOCAVA unconstitutionally distinguished between former state residents residing outside the United States, who were permitted to vote in their former states, and former state residents | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009291

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | residence. The resident appealed the judgment of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, which dismissed the complaint. | residing in a territory, who were not permitted to vote in their former states. The court of appeals first held that the UOCAVA did not violate the territorial resident's right to equal protection in view of the valid and not insubstantial considerations for the distinction. The territorial resident chose to reside in the territory and had the same voting rights as other territorial residents, even though such |                              |             |                                       |

009292

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | residency precluded voting for federal offices. Further, the resident had no constitutional right to vote in his former state after he terminated his residency in such state, and the consequences of the choice of residency did not constitute an unconstitutional interference with the right to travel. Finally, there was no denial of the privileges and immunities of state citizenship, since the territorial resident was treated |                              |             |                                       |

009293

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation   | Date          | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|---------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |  |               |  | identically to other territorial residents. The judgment dismissing the territorial resident's complaint was affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Igartua de la Rosa v. United States | United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico | 107 F. Supp. 2d 140; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 11146 | July 19, 2000 | Defendant United States moved to dismiss plaintiffs' action seeking a declaratory judgment allowing them to vote, as U.S. citizens residing in Puerto Rico, in the upcoming and all subsequent Presidential elections. Plaintiffs urged, among other claims, that their right to vote in | The court denied the motion of defendant United States to dismiss the action of plaintiffs, two groups of Puerto Ricans, seeking a declaratory judgment allowing them to vote in Presidential elections. One group always resided in Puerto Rico and the other became | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009294

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Presidential elections was guaranteed by the Constitution and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights. | ineligible to vote in Presidential elections upon taking up residence in Puerto Rico. Plaintiffs contended that the Constitution and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, guaranteed their right to vote in Presidential elections and that the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, was unconstitutional in disallowing Puerto Rican citizens to vote |                              |             |                                       |

009295

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | by considering them to be within the United States. The court concluded that UOCAVA was constitutional under the rational basis test, and violation of the treaty did not give rise to privately enforceable rights. Nevertheless, the Constitution provided U.S. citizens residing in Puerto Rico the right to participate in Presidential elections. No constitutional amendment was needed. The |                              |             |                                       |

009296

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | present political status of Puerto Rico was abhorrent to the Bill of Rights. The court denied defendant United States' motion to dismiss plaintiffs' action seeking a declaratory judgment allowing them to vote in Presidential elections as citizens of the United States and of Puerto Rico. The court held that the United States Constitution itself provided plaintiffs with the right to participate in |                              |             |                                       |

009297

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

---

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding                 | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|-------------------------|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Presidential elections. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case      | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Powers v. Donahue | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, First Department | 276 A.D.2d 157; 717 N.Y.S.2d 550; 2000 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12644 | December 5, 2000 | Petitioner appealed an order of the supreme court, which denied his motion to direct the New York County Board of Elections, in cases where more than one absentee ballot was returned by a voter, to count only the absentee ballot listing correct candidates' names. | When the New York County Board of Elections learned some absentee ballots mailed to voters in one district listed the wrong candidates for state senator it sent a second set of absentee ballots to absentee voters informing them the first ballot was defective and requesting they use the second ballot. The board agreed if two ballots were received from the same voter, only the corrected ballot would be counted. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009299

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Appellant candidate moved in support of the board's determination. Respondent candidate opposed the application, contending that only the first ballot received should have been canvassed. The trial court denied appellant's motion, ruling that pursuant to New York law, where two ballots were received from the same voter, only the ballot with the earlier date was to be accepted. The court found the |                              |             |                                       |

009300

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case            | Court                    | Citation         | Date              | Facts               | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--------------------------|------------------|-------------------|---------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |                          |                  |                   |                     | local board officials should have resolved the dispute as they proposed. The order was modified and the motion granted to the extent of directing the New York County Board of Elections, in cases where more than one absentee ballot was returned by a voter, to accept only the corrected ballot postmarked on or before November 7, 2000, and otherwise affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Goodwin v. St. Thomas-- | Territorial Court of the | 43 V.I. 89; 2000 | December 13, 2000 | Plaintiff political | Plaintiff alleged that defendants  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case              | Court          | Citation      | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------|----------------|---------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| St. John Bd. of Elections | Virgin Islands | V.I. LEXIS 15 |      | candidate alleged that certain general election absentee ballots violated territorial election law, and that the improper inclusion of such ballots by defendants, election board and supervisor, resulted in plaintiff's loss of the election. Plaintiff sued defendants seeking invalidation of the absentee ballots and certification of the election results | counted unlawful absentee ballots that lacked postmarks, were not signed or notarized, were in unsealed and/or torn envelopes, and were in envelopes containing more than one ballot. Prior to tabulation of the absentee ballots, plaintiff was leading intervenor for the final senate position, but the absentee ballots entitled intervenor to the position. The court held that plaintiff was not entitled to relief since he failed to |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                           | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | tabulated without such ballots. | establish that the alleged absentee voting irregularities would require invalidation of a sufficient number of ballots to change the outcome of the election. While the unsealed ballots constituted a technical violation, the outer envelopes were sealed and thus substantially complied with election requirements. Further, while defendants improperly counted one ballot where a sealed ballot |                              |             |                                       |

009303

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case         | Court                    | Citation        | Date             | Facts             | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--------------------------|-----------------|------------------|-------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                      |                          |                 |                  |                   | envelope and a loose ballot were in the same outer envelope, the one vote involved did not change the election result. Plaintiff's other allegations of irregularities were without merit since ballots without postmarks were valid, ballots without signatures were not counted, and ballots without notarized signatures were proper. Request for declaratory and injunctive relief denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Townson v. Stonicher | Supreme Court of Alabama | 2005 Ala. LEXIS | December 9, 2005 | The circuit court | The voters and the incumbent all  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | 214      |      | overturned the results of a mayoral election after reviewing the absentee ballots cast for said election, resulting in a loss for appellant incumbent based on the votes received from appellee voters. The incumbent appealed, and the voters cross-- appealed. In the meantime, the trial court stayed enforcement of its judgment pending | challenged the judgment entered by the trial court arguing that it impermissibly included or excluded certain votes. The appeals court agreed with the voters that the trial court should have excluded the votes of those voters for the incumbent who included an improper form of identification with their absentee ballots. It was undisputed that at least 30 absentee voters who voted for the incumbent provided with |                              |             |                                       |

009305

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                     | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | resolution of the appeal. | their absentee ballots a form of identification that was not proper under Alabama law. As a result, the court further agreed that the trial court erred in allowing those voters to somewhat "cure" that defect by providing a proper form of identification at the trial of the election contest, because, under those circumstances, it was difficult to conclude that those voters made an honest effort to comply with the law. Moreover, to |                              |             |                                       |

009306

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                            | Court   | Citation   | Date            | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|-----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |  |                 |   | count the votes of voters who failed to comply with the essential requirement of submitting proper identification with their absentee ballots had the effect of disenfranchising qualified electors who choose not to vote but rather than to make the effort to comply with the absentee-voting requirements. Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Gross v. Albany County Bd. of Elections | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, Third Department | 10 A.D.3d 476; 781 N.Y.S.2d 172; 2004 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS | August 23, 2004 | Appellant candidates appealed from a judgment entered by the supreme court, which partially | The candidates argued that the Board violated a federal court order regarding the election. The appellate court   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009307

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | 10360    |      | granted the candidates' petition challenging the method used by respondent Albany County Board of Elections for counting absentee applications and ballots for the office of Albany County Legislator, 26th and 29th Districts, in a special general election required by the federal courts. | held that absentee ballots that were sent to voters for the special general election based solely on their applications for the general election were properly voided. The Board had no authority to issue the ballots without an absentee ballot application for the special general election. Two ballots were properly invalidated as the Board failed to retain the envelopes. Ballots were properly counted for voters who failed to |                              |             |                                       |

009308

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | identify their physician on their applications. A ballot was properly counted where the Board failed to scrutinize the sufficiency of the reason for the application. A ballot containing two signatures was properly rejected. A ballot was properly rejected due to extraneous marks outside the voting square. A ballot was properly counted despite the failure of the election inspector to witness the voter's signature. A ballot was |                              |             |                                       |

009309

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case           | Court                      | Citation                             | Date           | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|----------------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |                            |                                      |                |  | properly counted as the application stated the date of the voter's absence. A ballot was properly counted as the failure to date the application was cured by a time stamp. Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Erlandson v. Kiffmeyer | Supreme Court of Minnesota | 659 N.W.2d 724; 2003 Minn. LEXIS 196 | April 17, 2003 | Petitioners, representing the Democratic--Farmer--Labor Party, brought an action against respondents, the Minnesota Secretary of State and the Hennepin County Auditor, seeking relief | The appellate court found that, while it may have seemed unfair to the replacement candidate to count votes for other candidates from regular absentee ballots on which the replacement candidate did not appear, those were properly cast ballots voting for a properly | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009310

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | in regard to the election for United States Senator, following the death of Senator Wellstone. The issue concerned the right of absentee voters to obtain replacement ballots. Individuals intervened on behalf of the Republican Party. The instant court granted review. | nominated candidate. Petitioners' request that the Minnesota supreme court order that votes for United States Senator cast on regular absentee ballots not be counted was denied. A key issue was Minn. Stat. § 204B.41 (2002), which provided, in--part, that official supplemental ballots could not be mailed to absent voters to whom ballots were mailed before the official supplemental ballots were |                              |             |                                       |

009311

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | prepared. The supreme court held that, by treating similarly-situated voters differently, § 204B.41 violated equal protection guarantees and could not even survive rational basis review. For voters who cast their regular absentee ballots for Wellstone before the vacancy occurred, but were unable to go to their polling place on election day or pick up a replacement ballot by election day, the prohibition on |                              |             |                                       |

009312

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case        | Court   | Citation   | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|---|--|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |   |  |              |  | mailing replacement ballots in § 204B.41 denied them the right to cast a meaningful vote for United States Senator. The petition of petitioners was denied in part, but granted with respect to mailing replacement ballots to all applicants for regular absentee ballots who requested a replacement ballot. |                              |             |                                       |
| People v. Deganutti | Appellate Court of Illinois, First District, Third Division | 348 Ill. App. 3d 512; 810 N.E.2d 191; 2004 Ill. App. | May 12, 2004 | Defendant appealed from a judgment of the circuit court, which convicted | Defendant went to the voters' homes and obtained their signatures on absentee ballot   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009313

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation     | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|--------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | LEXIS518 |      | defendant on charges of unlawful observation of voting and on charges of absentee ballot violations in connection with the completion and mailing of the absentee ballots of two voters. | request forms. Once the ballots were mailed to the voters, defendant returned to the homes. With voter one, defendant sat on the couch with the voter and instructed which numbers to punch on the ballot. With voter two, defendant provided a list a numbers and stood nearby as voter two completed the ballots. Defendant then looked at the ballot and had voter two re--punch a number that had not |                              |             |                                       |

009314

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | punched cleanly. Defendant then put the ballots in the mail for the voters. On appeal, she argued insufficient evidence to sustain her convictions. The court affirmed, holding that (1) the circumstantial evidence surrounding defendant's presence as the voters completed their ballots supported the unlawful observation convictions; (2) the fact that defendant knowingly took the voters ballots |                              |             |                                       |

009315

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                             | Court         | Citation                             | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---------------|--------------------------------------|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |               |                                      |                   |  | and mailed them, a violation of Illinois law supported her conviction, and (3) the fact that the statutes defendant was convicted under required only a knowing mental state rather than criminal intent did not violate substantive due process. Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Jacobs v. Seminole County Canvassing Bd. | Supreme Court | 773 So. 2d 519; 2000 Fla. LEXIS 2404 | December 12, 2000 | In an election contest, the First District court of appeal certified a trial court order to be of great public importance and to require | Prior to the general election, two political parties mailed preprinted requests for absentee ballots to registered voters in Seminole County.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009316

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | immediate resolution by the supreme court. The trial court denied appellants' request to invalidate absentee ballot requests in Seminole County in the 2000 presidential election. | Forms mailed by one party failed to include either a space for the voter identification number or the preprinted number. Representatives from that party were allowed to add voter identification numbers to request forms after they were returned, and absentee ballots were sent to the persons named on the request forms. The supreme court affirmed the trial court's refusal to invalidate the |                              |             |                                       |

009317

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballot requests, and adopted the trial court's reasoning that the information required, which included the voter identification number, was directory rather than mandatory. The trial court properly found that the evidence did not support a finding of fraud, gross negligence, or intentional wrongdoing. Allowing one party to correct ballots did not constitute illegal disparate treatment because there was no need to correct the |                              |             |                                       |

009318

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                            | Court                        | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------------------|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                              |  |                  |  | other party's forms. Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Gross v. Albany County Bd. of Elections | Court of Appeals of New York | 3 N.Y.3d 251; 819 N.E.2d 197; 785 N.Y.S.2d 729; 2004 N.Y. LEXIS 2412 | October 14, 2004 | Appellant candidates sought review from an order of the Appellate Division, which affirmed a trial court order holding that absentee ballots from a special general election were not to be canvassed because respondent Albany County Board of Elections failed to follow the set procedure for those voters. | Due to a challenge to a redistricting plan, the Board was enjoined from conducting primary and general elections for certain county districts. A special primary election was directed, with a special general election to be held "expeditiously thereafter." Absentee ballot requests for the first special election were based on prior requests, but new requests had to be | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009319

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | made for the general election. However, the Board forwarded absentee ballots for that election as well, based on the prior requests. Candidates in two close races thereafter challenged those absentee ballots, as they violated the procedure that was to be followed. The trial court held that the ballots should not be canvassed, which decision was affirmed on appeal. On further review due to dissenting opinions, the |                              |             |                                       |

009320

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court found that the ballots were in violation of the federal court order that directed the procedure to be followed, as well as in violation of New York election law. The court concluded that the Board's error was not technical, ministerial, or inconsequential because it was central to the substantive process, and the voters who used absentee ballots were not determined to be "duly qualified electors."Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

009321

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case  | Court                         | Citation                                       | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-------------------------------|--|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| In re Canvass of Absentee Ballots of Nov. 4, 2003 Gen. Election | Supreme Court of Pennsylvania | 577 Pa. 231; 843 A.2d 1223; 2004 Pa. LEXIS 431 | March 8, 2004 | A county elections board voided certain absentee ballots cast in the November 4, 2003, general election. The court of common pleas held that absentee ballots delivered by third persons were valid and should be counted. The commonwealth court affirmed the trial court's decision. The state supreme court granted allocatur. Appellants and appellees were certain | The absentee ballots at issue were hand-delivered to the county elections board by third persons on behalf of non--disabled voters. On appeal, the issue was whether non--disabled absentee voters could have third persons hand--deliver their ballots to the elections board where the board indicated that the practice was permitted. The state supreme court concluded that the "in person" delivery requirement was mandatory, and | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009322

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | candidates and voters. | that absentee ballots delivered in violation of the provision were invalid, notwithstanding the board's erroneous instructions to the contrary. Under the statute's plain meaning, a non--disabled absentee voter had two choices: send the ballot by mail, or deliver it in person. Third--person hand--delivery of absentee ballots was not permitted. To ignore the law's clear instructions regarding in--person delivery |                              |             |                                       |

009323

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case     | Court                 | Citation           | Date              | Facts                | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|-----------------------|--------------------|-------------------|----------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |                       |                    |                   |                      | would undermine the statute's very purpose as a safeguard against fraud. The state supreme court concluded that its precedent was clear, and it could not simply ignore substantive provisions of the Pennsylvania Election Code. The judgment of the Commonwealth Court was reversed in so far as it held that certain absentee ballots delivered on behalf of non-disabled absentee voters were valid. |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Canvass of | Commonwealth Court of | 839 A.2d 451; 2003 | December 22, 2003 | The Allegheny County | On appeal, the issue was whether  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009324

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                         | Court        | Citation             | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------------|--------------|----------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Absentee Ballots of November 4, 2003 | Pennsylvania | Pa. Commw. LEXIS 963 |      | Elections Board did not allow 74 challenged third--party hand--delivered absentee ballots to be counted in the statewide general election. The court of common pleas of Allegheny County reversed the Board's decision and allowed the 74 ballots to be counted. Appellant objecting candidates appealed the trial court's order. | non-disabled voters who voted by absentee ballots and had those ballots delivered by third parties to county election boards could have their ballots counted in the statewide general election. First, the appellate court concluded that political bodies had standing to appeal. Also, the trial court did not err by counting the 74 ballots because absentee voters could not be held responsible for following the statutory |                              |             |                                       |

009325

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | requirements of Pennsylvania election law where the Board knowingly failed to abide by the statutory language regarding the delivery of absentee ballots, changed its policy to require voters to abide by the language, and then changed its policy back to its original stance that voters did not have to abide by the statutory language, thereby misleading absentee voters regarding delivery requirements. |                              |             |                                       |

009326

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                  | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |  |                             |                  |  | Under the circumstances, it was more important to protect the interest of the voters by not disenfranchising them than to adhere to the strict language of the statute. However, one ballot was not counted because it was not delivered to the Board. Affirmed with the exception that one voter's ballot was stricken. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Pennsylvania | United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21167 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff United States sued defendant Commonwealth of | The testimony of the two witnesses offered by the United States did not support its   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009327

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Pennsylvania, governor, and state secretary, claiming that overseas voters would be disenfranchised if they used absentee ballots that included the names of two presidential candidates who had been removed from the final certified ballot and seeking injunctive relief to address the practical implications of the final certification of the slate of candidates so | contention that voters protected by the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act would be disenfranchised absent immediate injunctive relief because neither witness testified that any absentee ballots issued to UOCAVA voters were legally incorrect or otherwise invalid. Moreover, there was no evidence that any UOCAVA voter had complained or otherwise expressed concern regarding their ability or |                              |             |                                       |

009328

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                      | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|----------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | late in the election year. | right to vote. The fact that some UOCAVA voters received ballots including the names of two candidates who were not on the final certified ballot did not ipso facto support a finding that Pennsylvania was in violation of UOCAVA, especially since the United States failed to establish that the ballot defect undermined the right of UOCAVA voters to cast their ballots. Moreover, Pennsylvania had |                              |             |                                       |

009329

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                              | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | adduced substantial evidence that the requested injunctive relief, issuing new ballots, would have harmed the Pennsylvania election system and the public by undermining the integrity and efficiency of Pennsylvania's elections and increasing election costs. Motion for injunctive relief denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Hoblock v. Albany County Bd. of Elections | United States District Court for the Northern District of New York | 341 F. Supp. 2d 169; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21326 | October 25, 2004 | Plaintiffs, candidates and voters, sued defendant, the Albany County, New York, | An election for members of the Albany County Legislature had been enjoined, and special   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009330

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Board of Elections, under § 1983, claiming that the Board violated plaintiffs' Fourteenth Amendment rights by refusing to tally the voters' absentee ballots. Plaintiffs moved for a preliminary injunction. | primary and general elections were ordered. The order stated that the process for obtaining and counting absentee ballots for the general election would follow New York election law, which required voters to request absentee ballots. However, the Board issued absentee ballots for the general election to all persons who had applied for an absentee ballot for the cancelled election. The voters used absentee ballots |                              |             |                                       |

009331

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | to vote; their ballots were later invalidated. A state court determined that automatically sending absentee ballots to those who had not filed an application violated the constitution of New York. The district court found that the candidates' claims could have been asserted in state court and were barred by res judicata, but the voters were not parties to the state court action. The candidates were not entitled to joinder and had |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not filed a motion to intervene. The voters established a likelihood of success on the merits, as the Board effectively took away their right to vote by issuing absentee ballots and then refusing to count them. The voters' claims involved more than just an "unintended irregularity." The candidates' claims were dismissed, and their request for joinder or to intervene was denied. Plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction preventing the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case      | Court  | Citation                                  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|--|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |  |   |                  |  | Board from certifying winners of the election was granted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Griffin v. Roupas | United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit | 385 F.3d 1128; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 21476 | October 15, 2004 | In a suit brought by plaintiff working mothers against defendants, members of the Illinois State Board of Elections, alleging that the United States Constitution required Illinois to allow them to vote by absentee ballot, the mothers appealed from a decision of the United States District | The mothers contended that, because it was a hardship for them to vote in person on election day, the U.S. Constitution required Illinois to allow them to vote by absentee ballot. The district court dismissed the mothers' complaint. On appeal, the court held that the district court's ruling was correct, because, although it was possible that the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009334

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, which dismissed their complaint for failure to state a claim. | problems created by absentee voting might be outweighed by the harm to voters who would lose their vote if they were unable to vote by absentee ballot, the striking of the balance between discouraging fraud and encouraging voter turnout was a legislative judgment with which the court would not interfere unless strongly convinced that such judgment was grossly awry. The court further held that Illinois |                              |             |                                       |

009335

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | law did not deny the mothers equal protection of the laws, because the hardships that prevented voting in person did not bear more heavily on working mothers than other classes in the community. Finally, the court held that, although the length and complexity of the Illinois ballot supported an argument for allowing people to vote by mail, such argument had nothing to do with the problems faced by working mothers. It |                              |             |                                       |

009336

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |  |                             |                  |   | applied to everyone.Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Reitz v. Rendell | United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21813 | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiff service members filed an action against defendant state officials under the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, alleging that they and similarly situated service members would be disenfranchised because they did not receive their absentee ballots in time. The parties entered into a | The court issued an order to assure that service members and other similarly situated service members who were protected by the UOCAVA would not be disenfranchised. The court ordered the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to take all reasonable steps necessary to direct the county boards of elections to accept as timely received absentee | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009337

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | voluntary agreement and submitted it to the court for approval. | ballots cast by service members and other overseas voters as defined by UOCAVA, so long as the ballots were received by November 10, 2004. The ballots were to be considered solely for purposes of the federal offices that were included on the ballots. The court held that the ballot needed to be cast no later than November 2, 2004 to be counted. The court did not make any findings of liability against |                              |             |                                       |

009338

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                               | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |                  |  | the Governor or the Secretary. The court entered an order, pursuant to a stipulation between the parties, that granted injunctive relief to the service members.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Bush v. Hillsborough County Canvassing Bd. | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 123 F. Supp. 2d 1305; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 19265 | December 8, 2000 | The matter came before the court on plaintiffs' complaint for declaratory and injunctive relief alleging that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee state ballots and federal write-in ballots based | Plaintiff presidential and vice--presidential candidates and state political party contended that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee state ballots and federal write-in ballots based on criteria inconsistent with the Uniformed | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | on criteria inconsistent with federal law, and requesting that the ballots be declared valid and that they should be counted. | and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act. Because the state accepted overseas absentee state ballots and federal write--in ballots up to 10 days after the election, the State needed to access that the ballot in fact came from overseas. However, federal law provided the method to establish that fact by requiring the overseas absentee voter to sign an oath that the ballot was mailed from outside the United States and requiring the state |                              |             |                                       |

009340

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | election officials to examine the voter's declarations. The court further noted that federal law required the user of a federal write--in ballot to timely apply for a regular state absentee ballot, not that the state receive the application, and that again federal law, by requiring the voter using a federal write--in ballot to swear that he or she had made timely application, had provided the proper method of proof. Plaintiffs withdrew as moot |                              |             |                                       |

009341

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court         | Citation | Date      | Facts           | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------|----------|-----------|-----------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |               |          |           |                 | their request for injunctive relief and the court granted in part and denied in part plaintiffs' request for declaratory relief, and declared valid all federal write-in ballots that were signed pursuant to the oath provided therein but rejected solely because the ballot envelope did not have an APO, FPO, or foreign postmark, or solely because there was no record of an application for a state absentee ballot. |                              |             |                                       |
| Kolb v.      | Supreme Court | 270      | March 17, | Both petitioner | Both petitioner  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009342

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation   | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|--|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Casella      | of New York, Appellate Division, Fourth Department | A.D.2d 964; 705 N.Y.S.2d 746; 2000 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3483 | 2000 | and respondent appealed from order of supreme court, determining which absentee and other paper ballots would be counted in a special legislative election. | and respondent, presumably representing different candidates, challenged the validity of particular paper ballots, mostly absentee, in a special legislative election. The court affirmed most of the trial court's findings, but modified its order to invalidate ballots improperly marked outside the voting square--ballots where the signature on the envelope differed substantially from the voter |                              |             |                                       |

009343

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registration card signature----and ballots where voters neglected to supply statutorily required information on the envelopes. However, the court, seeking to avoid disenfranchising voters where permissible, held that ballots were not invalid where applications substantially complied with statute, there was no objection to the ballots themselves, and there was no evidence of fraud. Where absentee |                              |             |                                       |

009344

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case    | Court                        | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|------------------------------|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |                              |   |               |   | ballot envelopes contained extra ballots, the ballots were to be placed in a ballot box so that procedures applicable when excess ballots are placed in a ballot box could be followed. Order modified.                            |                              |             |                                       |
| People v. Woods | Court of Appeals of Michigan | 241 Mich. App. 545; 616 N.W.2d 211; 2000 Mich. App. LEXIS 156 | June 27, 2000 | Defendant filed an interlocutory appeal of the decision by the circuit court, which denied defendant's request for a jury instruction on entrapment by estoppel, but stayed the proceedings to allow defendant to | Defendant distributed and collected absentee ballots in an election. Because both defendant and his brother were candidates on the ballot, defendant's assistance was illegal under Michigan law. Bound over for trial on election | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009345

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | pursue the interlocutory appeal, in a criminal action alleging violations of election laws. | fraud charges, defendant requested a jury instruction on entrapment by estoppel, which was denied. On interlocutory appeal, the appellate court reversed and remanded for an entrapment hearing, holding that defendant should be given the opportunity to present evidence that he unwittingly committed the unlawful acts in reasonable reliance upon the word of the township clerk. The necessary |                              |             |                                       |

009326

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | elements of the entrapment defense were: (1) a government official (2) told the defendant that certain criminal conduct was legal; (3) the defendant actually relied on the official's statements; (4) the defendant's reliance was in good faith and reasonable in light of the official's identity, the point of law represented, and the substance of the official's statement; and (5) the prosecution would be so unfair as to |                              |             |                                       |

009327

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                                  | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |                  |   | violate the defendant's right to due process. Denial of jury instruction was reversed because the trial court did not hold an entrapment hearing; remanded for an entrapment hearing where defendant could present elements of the entrapment by estoppel defense. |                              |             |                                       |
| Harris v. Florida Elections Canvassing Comm'n | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 122 F. Supp. 2d 1317; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17875 | December 9, 2000 | Plaintiffs challenged the counting of overseas absentee ballots received after 7 p.m. on election day, alleging the | The court found Congress did not intend 3 U.S.C.S. § 1 to impose irrational scheduling rules on state and local canvassing officials, and did  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009378

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                                    | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |                             |                  | ballots violated Florida law.  | not intend to disenfranchise overseas voters. The court held the state statute was required to yield to the Florida Administrative Code, which required the 10-day extension in the receipt of overseas absentee ballots in federal elections because the rule was promulgated to satisfy a consent decree entered by the state in 1982. |                              |             |                                       |
| Weldon v. Berks County Dep't of Election Servs. | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21948 | November 1, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a congressman and a state representative, filed a motion seeking a preliminary | The congressman and representative sought to have the absentee ballots at issue set aside until a hearing could be held to   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009379

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | injunction or temporary restraining order that would prohibit defendant county department of election services from delivering to local election districts absentee ballots received from any state, county, or city correctional facility. | determine whether any of the straining order denied. CASE SUMMARY: PROCEDURAL POSTURE: Plaintiffs, a congressman and a state representative, filed a motion seeking a preliminary injunction or temporary restraining order that would prohibit defendant county department of election services from delivering to local election districts absentee ballots received from any state, |                              |             |                                       |

009350

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | county, or city correctional facility as provided in Pa. Stat. Ann. tit. 25, § 3416.6 and Pa. Stat. Ann. tit. 25, § 3416.8. OVERVIEW:The congressman and representative sought to have the absentee ballots at issue set aside until a hearing could be held to determine whether any of the ballots were delivered to the county board of elections by a third party in violation of Pennsylvania law, whether any of the ballots were |                              |             |                                       |

009351

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | submitted by convicted incarcerated felons in violation of Pennsylvania law, and whether any of the ballots were submitted by qualified voters who were improperly assisted without the proper declaration required by Pennsylvania law. The court concluded that an ex parte temporary restraining order was not warranted because there were potential jurisdictional issues, substantial questions |                              |             |                                       |

009352

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                                 | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|--|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |  |                   |  | concerning the alleged violations, and the complaint did not allege that the department acted or threatened to act in an unlawful manner. The court denied the ex parte motion for a temporary restraining order. The court set a hearing on the motion for preliminary injunction. |                              |             |                                       |
| Qualkinbush v. Skubisz | Court of Appeals of Illinois, First District | 822 N.E.2d 38; 2004 Ill. App. LEXIS 1546 | December 28, 2004 | Respondent appealed from an order of the circuit court certifying mayoral election results for a city in which the court | Respondent first claimed the trial court erred in denying his motion to dismiss with respect to 38 votes the Election Code was preempted by and   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                      | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|----------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | declared petitioner mayor. | violated the Voting Rights Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 since it restricted the individuals with whom an absentee voter could entrust their ballot for mailing. The appeals court found the trial court did not err in denying the motion to dismiss, as Illinois election law prevented a candidate or his or her agent from asserting undue influence upon a disabled voter and from manipulating that |                              |             |                                       |

009354

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | voter into voting for the candidate or the agent's candidate, and was designed to protect the rights of disabled voters. Respondent had not established that the federal legislature intended to preempt the rights of state legislatures to restrict absentee voting, and, particularly, who could return absentee ballots. The Election Code did not violate equal protection principles, as the burden placed |                              |             |                                       |

009355

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |   |                  |   | upon absentee voters by the restriction on who could mail an absentee ballot was slight and nondiscriminatory and substantially contributed to the integrity of the election process. Affirmed.                                |                              |             |                                       |
| Panio v. Sunderland | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, Second Department | 14 A.D.3d 627; 790 N.Y.S.2d 136; 2005 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3433 | January 25, 2005 | In proceedings filed pursuant to New York election law to determine the validity of certain absentee and affidavit ballots tendered for the office of 35th District Senator, appellants, a chairperson of | The question presented was whether the county election board should count the six categories of ballots that were in dispute. After a review of the evidence presented, the appeals court modified the trial court's order by: | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009356

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | the county Republican committee and the Republican candidate, both sought review of an order by the supreme court to count or not count certain ballots. Respondent Democratic candidate cross-- appealed. | (1) deleting an order directing the county elections board (board) to count 160 affidavit ballots tendered by voters who appeared at the correct polling place but the wrong election district, as there were meaningful distinctions between those voters who went to the wrong polling place and those voters who went to the correct polling place but the wrong election district; (2) directing that the board not count |                              |             |                                       |

009357

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 10 affidavit ballots tendered in the wrong election district because of a map error, as there was no evidence that the voters in this category relied on the maps when they went to the wrong election districts; and (3) directing the board to count 45 absentee ballots tendered by poll workers, as it appeared that the workers substantially complied with the statute by providing a written statement that was the functional |                              |             |                                       |

009358

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation   | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |  |                   |   | equivalent of an application for a special ballot. Order modified and judgment affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Pierce v. Allegheny County Bd. of Elections | United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania | 324 F. Supp. 2d 684; 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 25569 | November 13, 2003 | Plaintiff voters sought to enjoin defendant election board from allowing three different procedures for third--party absentee ballot delivery, require the set aside of all absentee third--party delivered ballots in connection with the November 2003 election, prohibit those | Intervenor political committees also moved to dismiss for lack of standing, lack of subject matter jurisdiction, and failure to state a claim, as well as abstention. Inter alia, the court found that abstention was appropriate under the Pullman doctrine because: (1) construction of Pennsylvania election law was not clear | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009359

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | ballots from being delivered to local election districts after having been commingled with other absentee ballots, and convert a temporary restraining order to an injunction. | regarding whether the absentee ballot provision requiring hand-delivery to be "in person" was mandatory or directory; (2) the construction of the provision by state courts as mandatory or directory could obviate the need to determine whether there had been a Fourteenth Amendment equal protection violation; and (3) erroneous construction of the provision could disrupt very important state voting rights policies. |                              |             |                                       |

009350

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | However, the court had a continuing duty to consider the motion for temporary restraining order/preliminary injunction despite abstention. The court issued a limited preliminary injunction whereby the 937 hand--delivered absentee ballots at issue were set aside as "challenged" ballots subject to the election code challenge procedure. Any equal protection issues could be heard in state |                              |             |                                       |

009361

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |   |                  |   | court by virtue of the state court's concurrent jurisdiction.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Friedman v. Snipes | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 345 F. Supp. 2d 1356; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23739 | November 9, 2004 | Plaintiff registered voters sued defendant state and county election officials under § 1983 for alleged violations of their rights under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1971(a)(2)(B) of the Civil Rights Act, and the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution. The voters | The voters claimed they timely requested absentee ballots but (1) never received the requested ballot or (2) received a ballot when it was too late for them to submit the absentee ballot. The court held that 42 U.S.C.S. § 1971(a)(2)(B) was not intended to apply to the counting of ballots by those already deemed qualified to vote. The plain meaning of § | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009362

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | moved for a temporary restraining order (TRO) and/or preliminary injunction. The court granted the TRO and held a hearing on the preliminary injunction. | 1971(a)(2)(B) did not support the voters' claim that it should cover an error or omission on any record or paper or any error or omission in the treatment, handling, or counting of any record or paper. Further, because Florida election law only related to the mechanics of the electoral process, the correct standard to be applied here was whether Florida's important regulatory interests justified the restrictions imposed on their |                              |             |                                       |

009363

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | First and Fourteenth Amendment rights. The State's interests in ensuring a fair and honest election and counting votes within a reasonable time justified the light imposition on voting rights. The deadline for returning ballots did not disenfranchise a class of voters. Rather, it imposed a time deadline by which voters had to return their votes. So there was no equal protection violation. |                              |             |                                       |

009364

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

---

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding                        | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Preliminary injunction denied. |                              |             |                                       |

009365

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case    | Court   | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|---|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Johnson v. Bush | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 214 F. Supp. 2d 1333; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14782 | July 18, 2002 | Plaintiff felons sued defendant state officials for alleged violations of their constitutional rights. The officials moved and the felons cross-moved for summary judgment. | The felons had all successfully completed their terms of incarceration and/or probation, but their civil rights to register and vote had not been restored. They alleged that Florida's disenfranchisement law violated their rights under First, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Twenty--Fourth Amendments to the United States Constitution, as well as § 1983 and §§ 2 and 10 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Each of the felons' claims was fatally flawed. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009366

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | The felons' exclusion from voting did not violate the Equal Protection or Due Process Clauses of the United States Constitution. The First Amendment did not guarantee felons the right to vote. Although there was evidence that racial animus was a factor in the initial enactment of Florida's disenfranchisement law, there was no evidence that race played a part in the re-enactment of that provision. Although it appeared that there was a disparate impact on |                              |             |                                       |

009367

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |                             |                  |   | minorities, the cause was racially neutral. Finally, requiring the felons to pay their victim restitution before their rights would be restored did not constitute an improper poll tax or wealth qualification. The court granted the officials' motion for summary judgment and implicitly denied the felons' motion. Thus, the court dismissed the lawsuit with prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Locke | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington | 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22212 | December 1, 2000 | Plaintiffs, convicted felons who were also racial minorities, sued defendants for alleged | The felons alleged that Washington's felon disenfranchisement and restoration of civil rights  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

899368

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | violations of the Voting Rights Act. The parties filed cross-motions for summary judgment. | schemes, premised upon Wash. Const. art. VI § 3, resulted in the denial of the right to vote to racial minorities in violation of the VRA. They argued that race bias in, or the discriminatory effect of, the criminal justice system resulted in a disproportionate number of racial minorities being disenfranchised following felony convictions. The court concluded that Washington's felon disenfranchisement provision disenfranchised a disproportionate number of |                              |             |                                       |

009369

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | minorities; as a result, minorities were under-represented in Washington's political process. The Rooker-Feldman doctrine barred the felons from bringing any as-applied challenges, and even if it did not bar such claims, there was no evidence that the felons' individual convictions were born of discrimination in the criminal justice system. However, the felons' facial challenge also failed. The remedy they sought would create a new |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case            | Court  | Citation                                  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |  |   |               |   | constitutional problem, allowing disenfranchisement only of white felons. Further, the felons did not establish a causal connection between the disenfranchisement provision and the prohibited result. The court granted defendants' motion and denied the felons' motion for summary judgment. |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Washington | United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 338 F.3d 1009; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 14810 | July 25, 2003 | Plaintiff inmates sued defendant state officials, claiming that Washington state's felon disenfranchisement scheme constitutes improper race--based vote denial | Upon conviction of infamous crimes in the state, (that is, crimes punishable by death or imprisonment in a state correctional facility), the inmates were disenfranchised.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009371

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | in violation of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. The United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington granted of summary judgment dismissing the inmates' claims. The inmates appealed. | The inmates claimed that the disenfranchisement scheme violated § 2 because the criminal justice system was biased against minorities, causing a disproportionate minority representation among those being disenfranchised. The appellate court held, inter alia, that the district court erred in failing to consider evidence of racial bias in the state's criminal justice system in determining whether the state's felon disenfranchisement laws resulted in |                              |             |                                       |

009372

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | denial of the right to vote on account of race. Instead of applying its novel "by itself" causation standard, the district court should have applied a totality of the circumstances test that included analysis of the inmates' compelling evidence of racial bias in Washington's criminal justice system. However, the inmates lacked standing to challenge the restoration scheme because they presented no evidence of their eligibility, much |                              |             |                                       |

009373

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |   |                |   | less even allege that they were eligible for restoration, and had not attempted to have their civil rights restored. The court affirmed as to the eligibility claim but reversed and remanded for further proceedings to the bias in the criminal justice system claim. |                              |             |                                       |
| Muntaqim v. Coombe | United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 366 F.3d 102; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8077 | April 23, 2004 | Plaintiff inmate appealed a judgment of the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York, which granted summary judgment in favor of defendants in the inmate's action alleging violation | At issue was whether the VRA could be applied to N.Y. Elec. Law§ 5-106, which disenfranchised currently incarcerated felons and parolees. The instant court concluded that the Voting Rights Act did not apply to the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009374

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                    | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. | New York law. Applying the Act to state law would alter the traditional balance of power between the states and the federal government. The court was not convinced that there was a congruence and proportionality between the injury to be prevented or remedied (i.e., the use of vote denial and dilution schemes to avoid the strictures of the VRA), and the means adopted to that end (i.e., prohibition of state felon disenfranchisement law that resulted in |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | vote denial or dilution but were not enacted with a discriminatory purpose). Further, there was no clear statement from Congress that the Act applied to state felon disenfranchisement statutes. Inter alia, defendants were entitled to qualified immunity as to claim asserted against them in their personal capacities, and to Eleventh Amendment immunity to the extent the inmate sought damages against defendants in their official capacities. The |                              |             |                                       |

009376

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case                | Court   | Citation                                  | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|---|---|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |   |   |                   |  | district court's judgment was affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of Fla. | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 353 F.3d 1287; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 25859 | December 19, 2003 | Plaintiffs, ex-felon citizens of Florida, on their own right and on behalf of others, sought review of a decision of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, which granted summary judgment to defendants, members of the Florida Clemency Board in their official capacity. The citizens challenged the validity of the Florida felon disenfranchisement laws. | The citizens alleged that Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) was racially discriminatory and violated their constitutional rights. The citizens also alleged violations of the Voting Rights Act. The court of appeals initially examined the history of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) and determined that the citizens had presented evidence that historically the disenfranchisement provisions were motivated by a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009377

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | discriminatory animus. The citizens had met their initial burden of showing that race was a substantial motivating factor. The state was then required to show that the current disenfranchisement provisions would have been enacted absent the impermissible discriminatory intent. Because the state had not met its burden, summary judgment should not have been granted. The court of appeals found that the claim under the Voting Rights Act, also needed to |                              |             |                                       |

009378

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | be remanded for further proceedings. Under a totality of the circumstances, the district court needed to analyze whether intentional racial discrimination was behind the Florida disenfranchisement provisions. The court affirmed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment on the citizens' poll tax claim. The court reversed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment to the Board on the claims under the equal protection clause and for |                              |             |                                       |

009379

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case        | Court                          | Citation                                      | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--------------------------------|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |                                |   |                |   | violation of federal voting laws and remanded the matter to the district court for further proceedings.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Fischer v. Governor | Supreme Court of New Hampshire | 145 N.H. 28; 749 A.2d 321; 2000 N.H. LEXIS 16 | March 24, 2000 | Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged a ruling of the superior court that the felon disenfranchisement statutes violate N.H. Const. pt. I, Art. 11. | Appellee was incarcerated at the New Hampshire State Prison on felony convictions. When he requested an absentee ballot to vote from a city clerk, the request was denied. The clerk sent him a copy of N.H. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 607(A)(2) (1986), which prohibits a felon from voting "from the time of his sentence until his final discharge." The trial court | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009330

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | declared the disenfranchisement statutes unconstitutional and ordered local election officials to allow the plaintiff to vote. Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged this ruling. The central issue was whether the felon disenfranchisement statutes violated N.H. Const. pt. I, art. 11. After a review of the article, its constitutional history, and legislation pertinent to the right of felons to vote, the court concluded that the legislature retained the |                              |             |                                       |

009381

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case           | Court                  | Citation       | Date           | Facts                      | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|------------------------|----------------|----------------|----------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |                        |                |                |                            | authority under the article to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative authority, and reversed. Judgment reversed because the court concluded that the legislature retained its authority under the New Hampshire Constitution to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative authority. |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of | United States Court of | 405 F.3d 1214; | April 12, 2005 | Plaintiff individuals sued | The individuals argued that the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009382

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court                            | Citation                  | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------------------------------|---------------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Fla.         | Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 5945 |      | defendant members of Florida Clemency Board, arguing that Florida's felon disenfranchisement law, Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968), violated the Equal Protection Clause and the Voting Rights Act. The United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida granted the members summary judgment. A divided appellate panel reversed. The panel opinion was vacated and a rehearing en banc was granted. | racial animus motivating the adoption of Florida's disenfranchisement laws in 1868 remained legally operative despite the reenactment of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 in 1968. The subsequent reenactment eliminated any discriminatory taint from the law as originally enacted because the provision narrowed the class of disenfranchised individuals and was amended through a deliberative process. Moreover, there was no allegation of racial |                              |             |                                       |

009383

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | discrimination at the time of the reenactment. Thus, the disenfranchisement provision was not a violation of the Equal Protection Clause and the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on that claim. The argument that the Voting Rights Act applied to Florida's disenfranchisement provision was rejected because it raised grave constitutional concerns, i.e., prohibiting a practice that the Fourteenth Amendment |                              |             |                                       |

009384

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case          | Court                              | Citation                      | Date               | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------|--------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                       |                                    |                               |                    |   | permitted the state to maintain. In addition, the legislative history indicated that Congress never intended the Voting Rights Act to reach felon disenfranchisement provisions. Thus, the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on the Voting Rights Act claim. The motion for summary judgment in favor of the members was granted. |                              |             |                                       |
| Mixon v. Commonwealth | Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania | 759 A.2d 442; 2000 Pa. Commw. | September 18, 2000 | Respondents filed objections to petitioners' complaint seeking declaratory relief | Petitioner convicted felons were presently or had formerly been confined in state   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009385

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation     | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|--------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | LEXIS534 |      | as to the unconstitutionality of the Pennsylvania Election Code, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2600 -- 3591, and the Pennsylvania Voter Registration Act, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 961.101--961.5109, regarding felon voting rights. | prison. Petitioner elector was currently registered to vote in respondent state. Petitioners filed a complaint against respondent state seeking declaratory relief challenging as unconstitutional, state election and voting laws that excluded confined felons from the definition of qualified absentee electors and that barred a felon who had been released from a penal institution for less than five years from registering to vote. Respondents filed objections to petitioners' |                              |             |                                       |

009386

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | complaint. The court sustained respondents' objection that incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status because respondent state had broad power to determine the conditions under which suffrage could be exercised. However, petitioner elector had no standing and the court overruled objection as to deprivation of ex-felon voting rights. The court sustained respondents' objection since |                              |             |                                       |

009387

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation                    | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|-----------------------------|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |                             |                   |  | incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status and petitioner elector had no standing, but objection that ex--incarcerated felons' voting rights were deprived was overruled since status penalized them. |                              |             |                                       |
| Rosello v. Calderon | United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 27216 | November 30, 2004 | Plaintiff voters filed a § 1983 action against defendant government officials alleging violations the Due Process and Equal Protection Clauses of the U.S. Const. amend. XIV, resulting from the | The voters' § 1983 action against government officials alleged that absentee ballots for a gubernatorial election were untimely mailed and that split votes, which registered two votes for the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009388

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | invalidity of absentee and split ballots in a gubernatorial election. | same office, were null. The court asserted jurisdiction over the disparate treatment claims, which arose under the U.S. Constitution. The court declined to exercise discretionary abstention because the case was not merely a facial attack on the constitutionality of a statute, but was mainly an applied challenge, requiring a hearing in order to develop the record, and because equal protection and due process were secured under the state and federal constitutions. The |                              |             |                                       |

009389

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court held that the voters had a fundamental due process right created by Puerto Rico Election Law and suffered an equal protection violation in further violation of the U.S. Const. amend. I right to vote, thereby creating their total disenfranchisement. The court held that the evidence created an inference that the split ballots were not uniformly treated and that it was required to examine a mixed question of fact and constitutional law pursuant to federal |                              |             |                                       |

009390

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation                                      | Date            | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|---|-----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |   |                 |   | guidelines to determine whether potential over votes were invalid. The court asserted jurisdiction over the voters' claims.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Woodruff v. Wyoming | United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit | 49 Fed. Appx. 199; 2002 U.S. App. LEXIS 21060 | October 7, 2002 | Plaintiffs, pro se inmates, appealed from an order of the United States District Court for the District of Wyoming, dismissing their complaint brought under § 1983, challenging Wyo. Stat. Ann. § 6--10-106, which denied them, as convicted felons, the right to vote. The district court dismissed the action for failure to state a claim upon which relief could | The inmates argued that the statute violated their Eighth Amendment right and their State constitutional right to be free from cruel and unusual punishment, their equal protection rights under the Fourteenth Amendment and State Constitution, and their federal and state rights to due process. One inmate had not paid the appellate filing fee or filed a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009391

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                        | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | be granted and as frivolous. | motion to proceed on appeal without prepayment of costs or fees, and his appeal was dismissed. The court found that U.S. Const. amend. XIV, § 2 had long been held to exclude felons from the right to vote. It could scarcely be unreasonable for a state to decide that perpetrators of serious crimes should not take part in electing the legislators who made the laws, the executives who enforced them, the prosecutors who tried the cases, or the judges who heard their cases. |                              |             |                                       |

009392

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case                      | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |  |   |                  |  | The court also found the dismissed suit constituted a "strike" under 28 U.S.C.S. § 1915(g), although the suit did not challenge prison conditions per se. One inmate's appeal was dismissed; the judgment dismissing the other's complaint was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| N.J. State Conf.--NAACP v. Harvey | Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division | 381 N.J. Super. 155; 885 A.2d 445; 2005 N.J. Super. LEXIS 316 | November 2, 2005 | The Superior Court of New Jersey, Chancery Division, Union County, dismissed a complaint filed by plaintiff interested parties to invalidate N.J. Stat. Ann. § 19:4--1(8) on the ground that it denied | The statute at issue prohibited all people on parole or probation for indictable offenses from voting. The interested parties alleged that the criminal justice system in New Jersey discriminated   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009393

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | African--Americans and Hispanics equal protection of the law. Defendant, the New Jersey Attorney General, moved to dismiss the complaint for failure to state a claim, and said motion was granted. The interested parties then appealed. | against African-Americans and Hispanics, thereby disproportionately increasing their population among parolees and probationers and diluting their political power. As a result, the alleged that enforcement of the statute resulted in a denial of equal protection under the state Constitution. The appeals court disagreed. N.J. Const. art. II authorized the New Jersey Legislature to disenfranchise persons convicted of certain crimes from voting. Moreover, those |                              |             |                                       |

009394

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                   | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|----------------------------|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |                            |              |  | convicts could not vote unless pardoned or unless otherwise restored by law to the right of suffrage. The statute also limited the period of disenfranchisement during a defendant's actual service on parole or probation. Thus, it clearly complied with this specific constitutional mandate. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| King v. City of Boston | United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8421 | May 13, 2004 | Plaintiff inmate filed a motion for summary judgment in his action challenging the constitutionality of Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1, which | The inmate was convicted of a felony and incarcerated. His application for an absentee ballot was denied on the ground that he was  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009395

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | excluded incarcerated felons from voting while they were imprisoned. | not qualified to register and vote under Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1. The inmate argued that the statute was unconstitutional as it applied to him because it amounted to additional punishment for crimes he committed before the statute's enactment and thus violated his due process rights and the prohibition against ex post facto laws and bills of attainder. The court held that the statute was regulatory and not punitive because rational choices |                              |             |                                       |

009396

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | were implicated in the statute's disenfranchisement of persons under guardianship, persons disqualified because of corrupt elections practices, persons under 18 years of age, as well as incarcerated felons. Specifically, incarcerated felons were disqualified during the period of their imprisonment when it would be difficult to identify their address and ensure the accuracy of their ballots. Therefore, the court concluded that Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1 did not violate the inmate's constitutional |                              |             |                                       |

009397

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case  | Court   | Citation  | Date            | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|-----------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |                 |  | rights. The court found the statute at issue to be constitutional and denied the inmate's motion for summary judgment.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Southwest Voter Registration Educ. Project v. Shelley | United States District Court for the Central District of California | 278 F. Supp. 2d 1131; 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14413 | August 15, 2003 | Plaintiffs, several groups, brought suit alleging that the proposed use of "punch-card" balloting machines in the California election would violate the United States Constitution and Voting Rights Act. Plaintiffs moved for an order delaying that election, scheduled for October 7, 2003, until such time as it could be conducted without use of punch--card | Plaintiffs claimed voters using punch-card machines would have a comparatively lesser chance of having their votes counted in violation of the Equal Protection Clause and the counties employing punch--card systems had greater minority populations thereby disproportionately disenfranchising and/or diluting the votes on the basis of race, in violation | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009398

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts     | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | machines. | of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. While the court did not need to decide the res judicata issue at this juncture, there was ample reason to believe that plaintiffs would have had a difficult time overcoming it as they were seeking to establish the same constitutional violations alleged in prior litigation, but to secure an additional remedy. Plaintiffs failed to prove a likelihood of success on the merits with regard to both of their claims. Even if plaintiffs could show disparate |                              |             |                                       |

009399

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | treatment, such would not have amounted to illegal or unconstitutional treatment. The balance of hardships weighed heavily in favor of allowing the election to proceed. The public interests in avoiding wholesale disenfranchisement, and/or not plunging the State into a constitutional crisis, weighed heavily against enjoining the election. Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction (consolidated with plaintiffs' ex parte application for |                              |             |                                       |

003600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case                         | Court  | Citation                                 | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------------|--|--|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                      |  |  |                |   | temporary restraining order) was denied.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Igartua--de la Rosa v. United States | United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit | 417 F.3d 145; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 15944 | August 3, 2005 | Plaintiff, a U.S. citizen residing in Puerto Rico, appealed from an order of the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico, that rejected his claim that he was deprived of the constitutional right to vote for President and Vice President of the United States, and was also violative of three treaty obligations of the United States. | The putative voter had brought the same claims twice before. The court pointed out that U.S. law granted to the citizens of states the right to vote for the slate of electors to represent that state. Although modern ballots omitted the names of the electors and listed only the candidates, and in form it appeared that the citizens were voting for President and Vice President directly, they were not, but were voting for electors. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009401

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Puerto Rico was not a state, and had not been enfranchised as the District of Columbia had by the 23rd Amendment. The franchise for choosing electors was confined to "states" by the Constitution. The court declined to turn to foreign or treaty law as a source to reverse the political will of the country. The judgment of the district court was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

009402

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case                            | District | Case Number | Date             | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|----------|-------------|------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Rogelio Mejorada-Lopez | Alaska   | 05-CR-074   | December 5, 2005 | Mejorada-Lopez, a Mexican citizen, completed several voter registration applications to register to vote in Alaska and voted in the 2000, 2002, and 2004 general elections. He was charged with three counts of voting by a non-citizen in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 611 and pled guilty. Mejorada-Lopez was sentenced to probation for | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009403

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case                | District         | Case Number   | Date             | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further             |
|-----------------------------|------------------|---------------|------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---|
|                             |                  |               |                  | one year.  |                              |             |   |
| United States v. Shah       | Colorado         | 1:04-CR-00458 | March 1, 2005    | Shah was indicted on two counts of providing false information concerning United States citizenship in order to register to vote in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911 and 1015(f). Shah was convicted on both counts. | No                           | N/A         | No  |
| United States v. Mohsin Ali | Northern Florida | 4:05-CR-47    | January 17, 2006 | A misdemeanor was filed against Ali charging him with voting by a non-citizen of 18 U.S.C. section 611. Trial was set for January 17, 2006   | No                           | N/A         | Yes-need information on the outcome of the trial. |

009600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case               | District         | Case Number   | Date         | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------|------------------|---------------|--------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Chaudhary | Northern Florida | 4:04-CR-00059 | May 18, 2005 | Chaudhary was indicted for misuse of a social security number in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 408 and for making a false claim of United States citizenship on a 2002 driver's license application in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911. A superceding indictment was returned, charging Chaudhary with falsely claiming United States citizenship on a driver's license | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009405

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case               | District         | Case Number   | Date              | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------|------------------|---------------|-------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                            |                  |               |                   | application and on the accompanying voter registration application. He was convicted of the false citizenship claim on his voter registration application.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Velasquez | Southern Florida | 1:03-CR-20233 | September 9, 2003 | Velasquez, a former 1996 and 1998 candidate for the Florida legislature, was indicted on charges of misrepresenting United States citizenship in connection with voting and for making false statements | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009406

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case   | District                | Case Number  | Date                 | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-------------------------|--|----------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                         |  |                      | to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911, 1015(f) and 1001. Velasquez was convicted on two counts of making false statements on his naturalization application to the INS concerning his voting history. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. McKenzie;United States v. Francois;United States v. Exavier; United States v. Lloyd Palmer; United | Southern Florida | 0:04-CR-60160;1:04-CR-20488;0:04-CR-60161;0:04-CR-60159; | July 15, 2004 | Fifteen non-citizens were charged with voting in various elections beginning in 1998 in  | No                    | N/A  | No                             |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case   | District          | Case Number   | Date              | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-------------------|---|-------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| States v. Velrine Palmer; United states v. Shivdayal; United States v. Rickman; United States v. Knight; United States v. Sweeting; United States v. Lubin; United States v. Bennett; United States v. O'Neil; United States v. Torres-Perez; United States v. Phillip; United States v. Bain Knight |                   | 0:04-CR-60162;0:04-CR-60164;1:04-CR-20491;1:04-CR-20490;1:04-CR-20489;0:04-CR-60163;1:04-CR-14048;0:04-CR-60165;2:04-CR-14046;9:04-CR-80103;2:04-CR-14047 |                   | violation of 18 U.S.C. section 611. Four of the defendants were also charged with making false citizenship claims in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 911 or 1015(f). Ten defendants were convicted, one defendant was acquitted, and charges against four defendants were dismissed upon motion of the government. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Brooks  | Southern Illinois | 3:03-CR-30201   | February 12, 2004 | East St. Louis election official Leander Brooks was indicted for   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

807600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District          | Case Number   | Date          | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-------------------|---|---------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                   |   |               | submitting fraudulent ballots in the 2002 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c), 1973i(e), 1973gg-10(2)(B), and 18 U.S.C. sections 241 and 371. Brooks pled guilty to all charges. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Scott; United States v. Nichols; United States v. Terrance Stith; United States v. Sandra Stith; United States v. Powell, et al. | Southern Illinois | 3:05-CR-30040;3:05-CR-30041;3:05-CR-30042;3:05-CR-30043;3:05-CR-30044 | June 29, 2005 | Four Democrat precinct committeemen in East St. Louis were charged with vote buying on the 2004 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

603600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | section 1973i(c). All four pled guilty. Also indicted were four additional Democrat committeemen, Charles Powell, Jr., Jesse Lewis, Sheila Thomas, Kelvin Ellis, and one precinct worker, Yvette Johnson, on conspiracy and vote buying charges in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). All five defendants were convicted. Kelvin Ellis |                              |             |                                       |

009410

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case              | District | Case Number   | Date              | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------|----------|---------------|-------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                           |          |               |                   | also pled guilty to one count of 18 U.S.C. section 1512(c)(2) relative to a scheme to kill one of the trial witnesses and two counts of 18 U.S.C. section 1503 relative to directing two other witnesses to refuse to testify before the grand jury. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. McIntosh | Kansas   | 2:04-CR-20142 | December 20, 2004 | A felony information was filed against lawyer Leslie McIntosh for voting in both Wyandotte County, Kansas and Jackson  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009411

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number                      | Date                              | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|----------------------------------|-----------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                  |                                  |                                   | County, Missouri, in the general elections of 2000 and 2002 in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). A superseding misdemeanor information was filed, charging McIntosh with causing the deprivation of constitutional rights in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 242, to which the defendant pled guilty. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Conley; United States v. Slone; United States v. | Eastern Kentucky | 7:03-CR-00013;7:03-CR-00014; | March 28, 2003 and April 24, 2003 | Ten people were indicted on vote buying charges in  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009412

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number   | Date          | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|---|---------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Madden; United States v. Slone et al.; United States v. Calhoun; United States v. Johnson; United States v. Newsome, et al. |                  | 7:03-CR-00015;7:03-CR-00016;7:03-CR-00017;7:03-CR-00018;7:03-CR-00019 |               | connection with the 1998 primary election in Knott County, Kentucky, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). Five of the defendants pled guilty, two were convicted, and three were acquitted. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Hays, et al.   | Eastern Kentucky | 7:03-CR-00011   | March 7, 2003 | Ten defendants were indicted for conspiracy and vote buying for a local judge in Pike County, Kentucky, in the 2002 general election, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section                            | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009413

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case                    | District         | Case Number   | Date        | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------------|------------------|---------------|-------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                 |                  |               |             | 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 371. Five defendants were convicted, one defendant was acquitted, and charges against four defendants were dismissed upon motion of the government. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Turner, et al. | Eastern Kentucky | 3:05-CR-00002 | May 5, 2005 | Three defendants were indicted for vote buying and mail fraud in connection with the 2000 elections in Knott, Letcher, Floyd, and Breathitt Counties, Kentucky, in violation of 42 | No                           | N/A         | Yes-need update on case status.       |

009414

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case                | District          | Case Number   | Date           | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|-------------------|---------------|----------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |                   |               |                | U.S.C. section 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 341.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Braud      | Middle Louisiana  | 3:03-CR-00019 | May 2, 2003    | Tyrell Mathews Braud was indicted on three counts of making false declarations to a grand jury in connection with his 2002 fabrication of eleven voter registration applications, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1623. Braud pled guilty on all counts. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v. Thibodeaux | Western Louisiana | 6:03-CR-60055 | April 12, 2005 | St. Martinsville City Councilwoman Pamela C. Thibodeaux was indicted on  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009415

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number   | Date  | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|---|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                  |   |   | two counts of conspiring to submit false voter registration information, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). She pled guilty to both charges. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Scherzer;United States v. Goodrich;United States v. Jones; United States v. Martin | Western Missouri | 4:04-CR-00401;4:04-CR-00402;4:05-CR-00257;4:05-CR-00258 | January 7, 2005;March 28, 2005;September 8, 2005;October 13, 2005 | Two misdemeanor informations were filed charging Lorraine Goodrich and James Scherzer, Kansas residents who voted in the 2000 and 2002 general elections on                     | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009416

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | both Johnson County, Kansas and in Kansas City, Missouri. The informations charged deprivation of a constitutional right by causing spurious ballots, in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 242 and 2. Both pled guilty. Additionally, similar misdemeanor informations were filed against Tammy J. Martin, who voted in both Independence and Kansas City, Missouri |                              |             |                                       |

009417

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

|        |                |           |               |   |                      |  |  |  |
|--------|----------------|-----------|---------------|---|----------------------|--|--|--|
|        | North Carolina | 24-Oct-04 | 2000 and 2002 | The Observer found up to 180 people who were listed as having voted in both Carolinas in either the 2000 or 2002 elections. Reporters found no one who admitted to double voting and discovered plausible explanations for many of the duplications. In one case, an Army captain in North Carolina shared the same name as his father in South Carolina. The father was likely mistakenly recorded under his son's name when he cast his ballot.   | AP                   |  |  |  |
| Jones  | North Carolina | 30-Oct-04 | primary       | Four men were charged with voting by absentee and on election day. Three denied the allegations or said they misunderstood the process.   | AP                   |  |  |  |
| Gaston | North Carolina | 16-Dec-04 | presidential  | There are differences in most precincts between the number of ballots cast and the number of people recorded as voting. State investigators have concluded there is no way to rule out double-voting or missing votes because poll workers cannot explain the discrepancies.  | Charlotte Observer   |  |  |  |
|        | Ohio           | 2-Nov-04  | presidential  | Republican attorney cites a Plain Dealer report saying more than 27,000 people are registered to vote in both Ohio and Florida and that 100 people cast votes in both places four years ago. A Dispatch investigation of the allegations found little proof of duplicate voting after comparing the Ohio and Florida state databases and conducting further research. After culling the list through those methods, the Dispatch interviewed the people left in question. This failed to turn up anyone who had ever voted twice. Many had never been to Florida; some had never lived in Ohio. | Columbus Dispatch    |  |  |  |
| Summit | Ohio           | 8-Dec-04  | local         | The Director of the Board of Elections says the number of people under investigation for voting twice has decreased from 19 to 10. The board already determined that there were legitimate explanations for about half of the votes. In one case it appeared a man voted absentee and at the polling place but it turned out the absentee ballot had been cast by his son who has the same name.  | Akron Beacon Journal |  |  |  |
| London | Ohio           | 9-Dec-04  | presidential  | A couple who admitted voting twice were not indicted -- they voted by absentee ballot and then voted in person because they thought their absentee ballots had been lost  | AP                   |  |  |  |
| Logan  | Oklahoma       | 24-Feb-01 | primary       | A man is charged with voting twice, once by absentee and once on election day. Although election board officials said they haven't seen a case like this in twenty years, they won't dismiss the charge.  | Daily Oklahoman      |  |  |  |
|        | Oregon         | 11-Apr-02 | 2000 general  | The Secretary of State has referred five cases of possible double voting to the Attorney General (Oregon votes entirely by mail)  | AP                   |  |  |  |
|        | Oregon         | 16-May-04 | 2000          | Republicans claimed 1,200 Oregonians had registered in two counties and voted twice. But a state Elections Division investigation found that just a handful of voters were registered to vote in two counties and one had cast more than one ballot   | AP                   |  |  |  |

Deliberative Process
Privilege

009418

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

|                 |              |           |                   |   |                              |  |  |  |
|-----------------|--------------|-----------|-------------------|---|------------------------------|--|--|--|
|                 | Oregon       | 1-Nov-04  | presidential      | The state Republican Chair claims in a news conference that he has uncovered six cases of people voting twice. The elections division immediately showed that five of the voters had only voted once, and the sixth case had immediately been caught by election workers.   | The Oregonian                |  |  |  |
| Pawtucket       | Rhode Island | 14-Jan-03 | General Assembly  | The Pawtucket Board of Canvassers determined there was no truth to the allegation that Louis C. Yip, owner of the China Inn restaurant and a well-known developer, had shepherded the same couple to two different polling places, getting them to vote twice.City Registrar of Voters Dawn M. McCormick said that when voting records were checked, it turned out that the couple that Yip was accused of getting to vote at Towers East and Kennedy Housing was actually two different couples, both elderly and Chinese.   | Providence Journal Bulletin  |  |  |  |
| Hamilton County | Tennessee    | 19-Dec-02 | county commission | The county election commissioner said she believed people were using other names to vote and that addresses were changed fraudulently. Voters sign fail-safe affidavits when they change their addresses and their voting records have not yet been updated. Oaths of identity are signed when voters have no other form of identification. The commissioner said she questioned the validity of 11 oaths of identity and 68 fail-safe affidavits in the District 4 election.   | Chattanooga Times Free Press |  |  |  |
|                 | Tennessee    | 14-Dec-05 | state senate      | A second dead voter cast a ballot in the September special election held to fill the seat vacated by former state senator John Ford. Like a similar case documented earlier this week, this one involves an elderly voter who died weeks before the Sept. 15 election, an investigation by The Commercial Appeal found.Both of the suspect votes occurred in Precinct 27-1, in the heart of heavily Democratic North Memphis. By law, health officials report deaths once a month to the state Election Commission, which then purges the dead from voter registration rolls.In that window of time - a month or so before the election - there's a good chance dead voters will remain on the rolls on Election Day. | Commercial Appeal            |  |  |  |
| Houston         | Texas        | 25-Nov-04 | state legislature | State legislator who lost by 32 votes alleges 32 people voted twice and 101 residents from other districts cast ballots   | Austin American Statesemen   |  |  |  |
| San Juan        | Texas        | 12-May-05 | city              | The county is investigating three voters suspected of voting early and on election day  | The Monitor                  |  |  |  |
| King            | Washington   | 22-Jun-05 | gubernatorial     | criminal charges filed against six voters for allegedly casting more than one ballot under a variety of circumstances: two for casting ballots in the names of recently deceased spouses; mother and daughter charged with casting a ballot in the name of recently deceased mother's dead husband; one for casting a ballot in the name of someone who had lived at the same address and died; one using someone else's name   | Seattle Times                |  |  |  |

009719

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

|           |            |           |                                 |  |                            |  |  |  |
|-----------|------------|-----------|---------------------------------|--|----------------------------|--|--|--|
| King      | Washington | 13-Oct-05 | gubernatorial                   | Republican officials release the names of 16 people they say voted twice. One person is found to be two people with the same name but different birthdates. Two names were referred to the prosecutors office, files were charged against one.                     | Seattle Times              |  |  |  |
| King      | Washington | 14-Oct-05 | gubernatorial and local primary | Woman on Republican list under investigation for double voting   | Seattle Times              |  |  |  |
| Appleton  | Wisconsin  | 12-Jan-05 | nonpartisan election            | student who voted by absentee ballot and in person at college sentenced to probation   | Post Crescent              |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin  | 22-Aug-05 | presidential                    | GOP claims there were nine cases where people voted in Milwaukee and another city. US Attorney says he found no fraud, but rather clerical errors.   | Journal Sentinel           |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin  | 21-Sep-05 | presidential                    | Man charged with voting twice said he filled out two on-site registration cards by mistake but voted only once   | Journal Sentinel           |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin  | 5-Dec-05  | presidential                    | Four people charged with double voting; none convicted   | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel |  |  |  |
| Laramie   | Wyoming    | 2-Nov-04  |                                 | Laramie County Clerks says there has never been any intentional double registration or double voting   |                            |  |  |  |
| national  |            | 23-Oct-02 | presidential                    | RNC compiles a national database of 3,273 people who voted twice in 2000. In North Carolina, the first name on the list was the chair of the Assembly's election law committee, and the California Secretary of State says they will be able to refute the claims. | USA Today                  |  |  |  |
|           |            |           |                                 |  |                            |  |  |  |
|           |            |           |                                 |  |                            |  |  |  |
|           |            |           |                                 |  |                            |  |  |  |
|           |            |           |                                 |  |                            |  |  |  |
|           |            |           |                                 |  |                            |  |  |  |
|           |            |           |                                 |  |                            |  |  |  |
|           |            |           |                                 |  |                            |  |  |  |
|           |            |           |                                 |  |                            |  |  |  |

009420

009421

009422

009423

009424

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

| Resolution of Incident / Allegation | Source of Resolution:1 | Source of Resolution:2 |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------|------------------------|
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |

009425

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009426

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

|                        |                                       |  |
|------------------------|---------------------------------------|--|
|                        |                                       |  |
|                        |                                       |  |
|                        |                                       |  |
|                        |                                       |  |
|                        |                                       |  |
| Two people are charged | Kansas City Star(January 8, 2005) |  |
|                        |                                       |  |
|                        |                                       |  |
|                        |                                       |  |
|                        |                                       |  |

009427

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

|   |                         |  |
|---|-------------------------|--|
|   |                         |  |
|   |                         |  |
|   |                         |  |
|   |                         |  |
| The Board of Elections reviewed all of the allegations of double voting and found that of 18 cases, 11 did not vote twice and seven did but did not intend to. All of the double votes were caught by the board and not counted twice. The board forwarded only one case of alleged double voting to the sheriff for further investigation. | 2/24/2005, Akron Beacon |  |
|   |                         |  |
|   |                         |  |
|   |                         |  |
|   |                         |  |

009428

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

|  |   |  |
|--|---|--|
|  |   |  |
|  |   |  |
|  |   |  |
|  |   |  |
| Most of the allegations seem to be cases of innocent mistakes that may have been technically illegal but not fraud | Houston Chronicle(January 16, 2005) |  |
|  |   |  |
| See Washington summary   |   |  |

009429

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

|                                 |  |  |
|---------------------------------|--|--|
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
| see larger summary of Milwaukee |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |
|                                 |  |  |

009430

009431

009432

009433

009434

| City / County    | State      | Date                           | Type of Election         | Alleged Instance of fraud  | Original Source         | Source 1 | Source 2 | Source 3 |
|------------------|------------|--------------------------------|--------------------------|--|-------------------------|----------|----------|----------|
| Jefferson County | Alabama    | 10-Jan-06                      | sheriff                  | Former sheriff and an attorney said in a federal criminal trial that they did not conspire to illegally run criminal history checks on absentee voters for the sheriff's election. Prosecutors say he started doing the check after he lost the election, while the sheriff says he did it to ferret out voter fraud   | Birmingham News         |          |          |          |
| San Francisco    | California | 28-Nov-01                      | municipal                | The Coast Guard found the lids to eight absentee ballot boxes floating in the bay, raising suspicions of tampering.  | San Francisco Chronicle |          |          |          |
| Compton          | California | November 15, 2001; /11/16/2001 | mayoral                  | Mayor Bradley accuses opponent of stuffing boxes with counterfeit ballots and having noncitizens vote  | LA Times                |          |          |          |
| Broward          | Florida    | 27-Jan-03                      | ohi                      | The lawyer for a board of elections employee said she discovered more than 500 unopened absentee bal-lots in the office mailroom two days after the election. According to the story she laid out to prosecutors, she notified her supervisor and was told there had been a mix-up and that the votes needed to disappear.   | Brandenton Herald       |          |          |          |
| Detroit          | Michigan   | 12-Nov-05                      | mayoral                  | Nearly 3000 votes were lost for two days as some were taken home by poll workers, others misplaced. Vote totals failed to add up correctly when the votes were restored.   | Detroit Free Press      |          |          |          |
| Detroit          | Michigan   | 26-Nov-05                      | mayoral                  | Detroit officials lost track of ballots in nine precincts and did not count them until two days after the polls closed; a poll worker took home two computer data packs containing ballot information and did not return them until the next day, leading to tampering allegations. Judge overseeing the recount orders more security for the ballots  | Detroit Free Press      |          |          |          |
| Middlesex County | New Jersey | 19-Jun-03                      | assembly primary         | Assemblywoman Friscia's suit alleges that election workers told voters who to vote for; allowed two or three people to enter voting booths at the same time; permitted people to vote even though their home addresses and signatures did not match the elections register; allowed registered Republicans to vote in a Democratic pri-mary; provided faulty voting machines; paid people to vote for Vas; allowed non-citizens to vote; refused to accept absentee ballots, and closed Friscia's own polling station in Woodbridge. | Home News Tribune       |          |          |          |
| Atlantic City    | New Jersey | 11-Nov-05                      | mayoral and city council | city council member accused of filing absentee ballot applications for 10 people without their authorization. The Attorney General charges councilman with 10 counts of tampering with public records and one count of hindering or preventing voting  | AP                      |          |          |          |
| Cleveland        | Ohio       | 20-Jun-05                      | presidential             | A Cleveland elections board employee is charged with changing the votes on ballots completed by five nursing home residents in favor of Bush   | Yahoo News              |          |          |          |

009435

|                 |            |           |                   |   |                              |  |  |  |
|-----------------|------------|-----------|-------------------|---|------------------------------|--|--|--|
| Hamilton County | Tennessee  | 18-Jan-03 | district primary  | The Tennessee Bureau of Investigation searched the home of former Hamilton County Election Commission employee Rita Jones on Friday and seized an undis-closed number of documents. Ms. Jones, a 14-year employee of the Election Commission, was fired two days after the Nov. 5 general election when officials discovered a box of 189 ballots had not been counted on Election Day.   | Chattanooga Times Free Press |  |  |  |
| San Antonio     | Texas      | 10-Dec-02 | unclear           | The county election administrator found that ballot counters switched ballots from Republican to Democrat   | San Antonio Express News     |  |  |  |
| Alamo           | Texas      | 15-Dec-03 | county commission | A supporter of one of the candidates alleges that he saw the mayor in the city secretary's office going over a list of residents that showed who had voted and who had not and that th+E340ere were open mail-in ballots in front of them   | The Monitor                  |  |  |  |
| Ector County    | Texas      | 15-Dec-04 | county commission | On Election Day, Republican David Dunn had one more vote than his opponent for an Ector County commission seat. After a recount, he lost by a vote.He filed a lawsuit Tuesday accusing opponent Barbara Graff and elections ad-ministrator Sharon Wilson of election fraud. He accused Graff of ballot tamper-ing during the recount, claiming she or her supporters doctored tally sheets. Wilson mishandled the recount, tossing out two duplicate ballots for Dunn, ac-cording to the suit.  | AP                           |  |  |  |
| Forney          | Texas      | 13-Dec-05 | mayoral           | A judge found that votes cast by several people, including City Council member Andy Parker, could not be found in the ballot box. Mr. Parker testified during the seven-day trial that he had used ballot No. 331, but the No. 331 in the box did not match the way he voted. In all, 165 people testified that they had voted early for Mr. Wilson, while just 152 early votes were counted for him - something Judge Kupper called an "irreconcilable discrepancy." The Sheriff's Department is investigating   | Dallas Morning News          |  |  |  |
| Salt Lake       | Utah       | 20-Nov-02 | County Council    | County clerk candidate writes a letter to the Attorney General alleging altering of vote counts   | Salt Lake Tribune            |  |  |  |
| King            | Washington | 26-May-05 | gubernatorial     | An election administrator admitted she falsified a report to make it appear that all absentee ballots were accounted for. It later proved inaccurate when workers discovered 95 unopened, uncounted absentee ballots in a warehouse. Republicans say of the 96 ballots, 47 came from Rossi districts and 28 Gregoire. Gregoir won four of the five King County precincts that recorded more votes than voters. Rossi won four of the six King County precincts that recorded more voters than votes. Republicans claim this proves ballot boxes were stuffed in precincts that favored Gregoire and ballots vanished in precincts favoring Rossi. | News Tribune                 |  |  |  |

009436

|      |            |           |               |   |              |  |  |  |
|------|------------|-----------|---------------|---|--------------|--|--|--|
|      | Washington | 30-May-05 | gubernatorial | Republican attorneys allege King County election officials committee fraud by allowing illegal ballots in Democratic districts, ballot box stuffing and thefts of votes from the Republican candidate     | The Olympian |  |  |  |
| King | Washington |           | gubernatorial | GOP lawyer contends claim that the Democrats rigged the election by stuffing ballot boxes in the Democrat's two strongest precincts and by "losing" votes in two of the Republican's strongest precincts. | AP           |  |  |  |

|             |                |           |                      |  |                    |  |  |  |
|-------------|----------------|-----------|----------------------|--|--------------------|--|--|--|
| Los Angeles | California     | 7-Feb-03  | neighborhood council | In the 2002 election two candidates had to be physically removed from the polling place, one for allegedly attempting to steal ballots. Charges of fraud and improprieties included photocopying ballots and stuffing ballot boxes. 135 more ballots than stakeholders were cast. After investigating, the city found no cause to dismiss the election and the League of Women Voters did not find any stuffing of the ballot boxes. | LA Weekly          |  |  |  |
| Durham      | North Carolina | 29-Mar-04 | city council         | poll worker adds ballots – state board investigates but does not recommend criminal charges, instead recommending that the poll judges in that precinct step down  | Herald Sun         |  |  |  |
| Gaston      | North Carolina | 16-Dec-04 | presidential         | There are differences in most precincts between the number of ballots cast and the number of people recorded as voting. State investigators have concluded there is no way to rule out double voting or missing votes because poll workers cannot explain the discrepancies. More than 13,000 votes were omitted from the county's unofficial results, including 1,200 votes from a Dallas precinct and about 12,000 early votes.    | Charlotte Observer |  |  |  |

009438

009439

077600

009441

| Resolution of Incident / allegation | Source of Resolution:1 | Source of Resolution:2 |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------|------------------------|
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |

009442

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
| See Washington summary -- judge eventually foundno fraud |  |  |

0077600

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

577600

00944

977600

009447

877600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intentional Felon Voting

| City / County   | State      | Date      | Type of Election | Alleged instance of fraud  | Original Source           | Source1 | Source 2 | Source 3 |
|-----------------|------------|-----------|------------------|--|---------------------------|---------|----------|----------|
| Phillips County | Arkansas   | 2-Nov-02  |                  | The state Republican Party alleges five convicted felons voted, four of them in early voting   | Arkansas Democrat-Gazette |         |          |          |
| Sacramento      | California | 12-Sep-04 | gubernatorial    | For the first time since 1994, a man was charged with three counts of registering to vote while on parole and a fourth count of voting in the recall election.   | Sacramento Bee            |         |          |          |
|                 | Colorado   | 25-Mar-05 |                  | In a survey of counties, 13 counties had referred 69 cases of possible felon voting to county attorneys. Denver County referred 52 cases of felon voting.  | Denver Post               |         |          |          |
|                 | Florida    | 29-Oct-04 | presidential     | Florida's Republican Party says it has a list of 925 felons who have voted illegally or are planning to. The information could be used to challenge voters. The GOP found the allegedly illegal voters by starting with the same flawed set of names the state compiled in order to purge the rolls -- that list was scrapped when its inaccuracies were exposed. Democrats and civil rights groups suggested that Republicans wanted to use the list to intimidate black Democrats from going to the polls. The party took the initial state list of voters and compared it to the Florida Parole Commission names of felons rights who had been restored | Miami Herald              |         |          |          |
| Okaloosa        | Florida    | 19-Oct-05 |                  | Man is accused of registering to vote in Okaloosa County in 1999 and casting a ballot in November 2002, even though he had been convicted of a felony offense of selling illegal drugs in Colorado in 1980, said Michele Nicholson, spokeswoman for the Okaloosa County sheriff's department. It is illegal for felons to vote in Florida unless their rights have been restored   | Miami Herald              |         |          |          |
| Port Deposit    | Maryland   | 8-Jun-03  | mayor            | Losing candidate alleges people convicted of crimes were allowed to vote. The chief election official of the town dismissed the allegations.   | Baltimore Sun             |         |          |          |

677600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intentional Felon Voting

|            |            |           |               |  |                             |  |  |  |
|------------|------------|-----------|---------------|--|-----------------------------|--|--|--|
|            | Oklahoma   | 22-May-05 | presidential  | A death row inmate and a child pornographer are among about 2,500 felons who remained on Oklahoma voting rolls after their convictions, The Oklahoman re-reported on Sunday. Records show some felons have voted, even though it's illegal while they're serving their sentences. "It's a huge problem," said state Rep. Mike Reynolds, who estimates as many as 16,000 felons are on voting rolls. About 1,100 may have voted in last year's general election. An exact count is difficult - in part because voters sometimes sign the wrong lines in poll books. Most significantly, the Oklahoma State Election Board has ignored the notices from U.S. prosecutors in Oklahoma and other states. Thousands are filed away in a back room. The law is unclear whether voting rights can be stripped after a guilty plea or only after sentencing. Some convicts are unsure about their voting status, and judges rarely explain it to them at sentencing. | AP                          |  |  |  |
| Davidson   | Tennessee  | 12-Jan-05 | presidential  | 31 provisional voters were found to be felons whose voting rights had not been restored. The county election commission is debating action.   | Nashville City Paper        |  |  |  |
| Falfurrias | Texas      | 11-Sep-04 | city          | Three indicted on illegal voting charges were ineligible to vote because they were convicted felons who lost voting privileges. One said she has been on probation for two years, and said she did not know that she was ineligible to vote because officials in the local voter registration office approved a replacement voter registration card before the city election.   | Corpus Christi Caller Times |  |  |  |
| Norfolk    | Virginia   | 14-Jan-04 | unclear       | Man convicted in 1986 for larceny by check votes after being notified he had been taken off the voter rules. He entered a plea of illegal voting; State Attorney General says he has never prosecuted or seen such a case during his five years on the election board   | Hampton Roads News          |  |  |  |
| King       | Washington | 29-Apr-05 | gubernatorial | In its case to overturn the election, Republicans allege 736 King County felons illegally cast ballots, and another 220 illegal felon votes were cast elsewhere. Knowingly casting an illegal vote is a crime, but several felon votes said they were unaware they could not vote.  | Seattle Post-Intelligencer  |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee  | Wisconsin  | 10-May-05 | presidential  | investigators say they have evidence of 200 felons voting illegally   | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel  |  |  |  |
| Hanna      | Wyoming    | 27-Apr-01 | mayor         | State Division of Criminal Investigation says convicted felons allegedly voted  | AP                          |  |  |  |

009450

009451

009452

009453

009454

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intentional Felon Voting

| Resolution of incident / allegation | Source of Resolution 1 | Source of Resolution 2 |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------|------------------------|
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |

009455

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intentional Felon Voting

|  |                            |                            |
|--|----------------------------|----------------------------|
|  |                            |                            |
|  |                            |                            |
|  |                            |                            |
|  |                            |                            |
|  |                            |                            |
| See summary of Washington  |                            |                            |
| May 5, 2005: Officials say charges will be filed, although officials said these cases are hard to prosecute because it must be established that the felon knew he could not vote -- see complete summary of Milwaukee; December 5, 2005: federal prosecutors charge 10 felons with voting illegally -- four were convicted, one was acquitted and five cases are still pending; the County DA charged two with felon voting -- still pending. See Milwaukee summary. | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel |
|  |                            |                            |

009456

009457

009458

009459

095600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research

Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

| City / County  | State    | Date      | Type of Election | Alleged Instance of Fraud   | Original Source           | Source 1 | Source 2 | Source 3 |
|----------------|----------|-----------|------------------|---|---------------------------|----------|----------|----------|
| Bayou La Batre | Alabama  | 29-Aug-04 | city council     | About 50 challenged ballots in a Bayou La Batre City Council contest have stirred discrimination concerns because they were all demanded from Asian-American voters. Fred Marceaux of Coden, an advocate for the Asian community, called the challenged ballots "scare tactics." By all accounts, the voters were challenged to their faces as they walked into the polling place at the Bayou La Batre Community Center. Being publicly confronted on their first trip to the voting booth visibly up-set many of those who were challenged. Until this year, Asians here have seemed reluctant to step into local politics, preferring to live as a self-contained community for the most part.   | AP                        |          |          |          |
|                | Arizona  | 1-Oct-04  | presidential     | A pollworker says that during the primary two men came in and said they were checking the polls to see if illegal aliens were voting. They said the name of their organization was Truth in Action. A voting rights advocate says the group was visiting many poll sites. The editor of the organization's website says he visited the polls wearing a black t-shirt with "US Constitutional Enforcement" on the back and the image of a badge on the front. He carried tools, a camera and a video recorder to "film all the conversations I had." He said that for the general election, if he sees "a busload of Hispanic individuals who didn't speak English and who voted," he plans to follow that bus to make sure they aren't voting more than once.   | The Progressive           |          |          |          |
|                | Arizona  | 6-Nov-05  |                  | In Maricopa County, home to Phoenix, more than 10,000 people trying to register have been rejected for being unable to prove their citizenship. Yvonne Reed, a spokesman for the recorder's office, said Friday that most are probably U.S. citizens whose married names differ from the ones on their birth certificates or who have lost documentation. Reed said she hopes the number of rejected voters shrinks as election officials explain the new requirements. But, she said, "there will be an amount of people who we will not be able to get on the rolls because of not being able to find the right documents or just losing interest." In Pima County, home to Tucson, 60 percent of those who tried to register initially could not. Chris Roads, the elections chief there, said that all appeared to be U.S. citizens, but many had moved to Arizona recently and couldn't access their birth certificates or passports. Many of those prospective voters have since been able to register, but Roads said about 1,000 citizens are still unable to vote in this week's election because of Proposition 200 requirements. | Los Angeles Times         |          |          |          |
|                | Arkansas | 31-Oct-02 |                  | State Democratic Party Chair accuses a Republican poll worker of focusing only on black and elderly voters during his challenges.   | Arkansas Democrat-Gazette |          |          |          |
|                | Arkansas | 6-Nov-02  |                  | In Arkansas, where voters were allowed to cast their ballots up to two weeks early to lessen the pressure on election day, there were allegations of intimidation in the early voting. Democrats claimed that black voters were photographed as they arrived at polling booths and had their identities subjected to disproportionate scrutiny.   | The Guardian              |          |          |          |

009461

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|                |             |           |                                   |  |                       |  |  |  |
|----------------|-------------|-----------|-----------------------------------|--|-----------------------|--|--|--|
| Pine Bluff     | Arkansas    | 30-Dec-02 |                                   | Democrats accused Republican poll watchers of driving away voters in predominantly black precincts by taking photos of them and demanding identification during early voting   | The American Prospect |  |  |  |
|                | Arkansas    | 17-Nov-04 | presidential                      | DNC Chair says black voters in Arkansas were harassed during early voting  | Ethnic News Watch     |  |  |  |
| Compton        | California  | 14-Nov-01 | mayoral                           | The ousted mayor's attorney, in a legal challenge to the election, said he intends to show that Perrodin's supporters pulled guns on voters at precincts   | AP                    |  |  |  |
| South Gate     | California  | 28-Jan-03 | treasurer and city council recall | The anti-recall camp accuses police officers of harassment and of "staring down" residents.  | Los Angeles Times     |  |  |  |
| North County   | California  | 5-Nov-03  | local                             | Latino community organizer tells city council panel that Latinos have experienced poll workers who intimidate Latinos by illegally asking them to show identification.   | Union-Tribune         |  |  |  |
| San Francisco  | California  | 2-Feb-04  | mayoral                           | A group called the People of Color Caucus alleged that some Latinas wearing Gonzalez buttons were told they were not allowed to vote   | Los Angeles Times     |  |  |  |
|                | Colorado    | 28-Oct-04 | presidential                      | Democrats fear what they believe to be a plan by Republicans to challenge new voters, especially students at the University of Colorado at Boulder who may seek to use student IDs as proof of identification at the polls. State GOP brass said they have no such plan.   | Denver Post           |  |  |  |
| 2nd district   | Connecticut | 11-Nov-02 | congressional                     | U.S. Representative tells Republican registrars to request police supervision at the polls if they are concerned about fraud or disturbance  | The Day Online        |  |  |  |
| Osceola County | Florida     | 23-May-02 | 2001 special election             | Federal observers found pollworkers downright "hostile" to Hispanics, even insisting that voters must speak English to vote  | St. Petersburg Times  |  |  |  |
| Miami          | Florida     | 1-Nov-02  |                                   | Citing fears of voter intimidation and a repeat by GOP operatives to "barrage polling places," local Democrats – including former U.S. Attorney General Janet Reno and U.S. Rep. Carrie Meek – are suing to block Miami-Dade County from allowing a Republican political action committee to put poll watchers inside the county's precincts Tuesday.  | Miami Herald          |  |  |  |
|                | Florida     | 22-Jun-04 | presidential                      | Harkening back to the 1960s, when Southern states used poll taxes and intimidation to shut blacks out of elections, the Rev. Jesse Jackson on Monday accused Florida Gov. Jeb Bush of engaging in "disenfranchisement schemes" by asking counties to purge felons from voter rolls. "This is a typical South [tactic], denying the right to vote based on race and class," Jackson said. "You see classical voter disenfranchisement. These schemes to deny or suppress voters are not new schemes." | Miami Herald          |  |  |  |
|                | Florida     | 19-Sep-04 | presidential                      | The Justice Department is investigating accusations that Florida law enforcement officers intimidated elderly black voters during a probe of voting fraud in the Orlando mayoral election. Civil rights groups and Democrats contend that the agents presence and behavior, including allegedly displaying their guns, intimidated the minority voters they visited.   | AP                    |  |  |  |
|                | Florida     | 1-Oct-04  | presidential                      | Representatives from People for the American Way saw poll workers turn back registered voters who did not have ID, although that is not required. A spokeswoman from Election Protection says that several voters report being asked if they are citizens during early voting.   | The Progressive       |  |  |  |
|                | Florida     | 16-Oct-04 | presidential                      | Democratic election lawyer says Republican plans to challenge voters at the polls may intimidate voters  | St. Petersburg Times  |  |  |  |

009462

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|         |         |           |              |   |                  |  |  |  |
|---------|---------|-----------|--------------|---|------------------|--|--|--|
| Duval   | Florida | 25-Oct-04 | presidential | Two white men were filming voters as they entered the poll site in a presumed attempt at intimidation   | Financial Times  |  |  |  |
|         | Florida | 26-Oct-04 | presidential | The Republican Party distributed to the media affidavits from anonymous voters claiming to be harassed at polling sites in Miami, Pembroke Pines, Boca Raton, Plantation, St. Petersburg, Jacksonville Apopka and Tallahassee.  | Miami Herald     |  |  |  |
|         | Florida | 27-Oct-04 | presidential | Democratic National Committee (DNC) Chairman Terry McAuliffe has accused Re-publicans of engaging in "systematic efforts" to disenfranchise voters, imposing unlawful identification requirements on voters, throwing eligible voters off the rolls and depriving voters of their right to cast a provisional ballot.   | Washington Times |  |  |  |
|         | Florida | 28-Oct-04 | presidential | Democrats have complained that GOP poll watchers will issue challenges in order to slow down the voting process and drive people away from the polls  | Palm Beach Post  |  |  |  |
|         | Florida | 29-Oct-04 | presidential |   | Miami Herald     |  |  |  |
|         | Florida | 30-Oct-04 | presidential | Democrats fear Republicans will systematically challenge black and Hispanic voters and create long lines at the polls. The suspicions were fed by reports that Republicans had a list of 1,866 voters they were planning to challenge in predominantly black areas of Jacksonville.   | Orlando Sentinel |  |  |  |
|         | Florida | 30-Oct-04 | presidential | Based on a 1982 consent decree, The Advancement Project filed a lawsuit asking a federal district court in New Jersey to ban GOP poll watcher activities in heavily minority precincts in Florida. The suit contends that in New Jersey, Louisiana, and North Carolina, the RNC sent mass mailers to thousands of voters registered predominantly in black precincts. When thousands were returned because of incorrect addresses, those names went on lists for challenges. The GOP says it has just done a mass mailer to new voters. | Tampa Tribune    |  |  |  |
| Broward | Florida | 30-Oct-04 | presidential | At one polling station, Republicans claimed that Democratic poll watchers were approaching Republican voters and shouting "There's a dirty Bush supporter!" as they waited on line.   | Ottawa Citizen   |  |  |  |
| Miami   | Florida | 30-Oct-04 | presidential | Democratic poll workers say Republican poll workers are intimidating Kerry supporters, staring at them and refusing to move away if they decline to accept a Bush-Kerry sticker.  | The Boston Globe |  |  |  |
| Broward | Florida | 30-Oct-04 | presidential | A Republican Party spokesman said elderly voters standing in line at early polling places who refuse to accept Kerry stickers have been harassed with shouts of "Hey, we've got a Bush voter here!" He says Republican poll watchers and volunteers have been "pretty much continually harassed and intimidated."   | The Boston Globe |  |  |  |

009763

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|         |         |           |              |   |                              |  |  |  |
|---------|---------|-----------|--------------|---|------------------------------|--|--|--|
|         |         |           |              | Democrats say Republicans are disproportionately putting poll watchers in predominantly minority precincts and said it could signal plans to intimidate or slow down voters. In Miami-Dade County, Democrats said 59% of predominantly black precincts have at least one Republican poll watcher, while 24 % of predominantly white precincts have them. In Leon County, 64% of black precincts have at least one Republican poll watcher compared with 24% of majority white precincts. In Alachua, 71% of black precincts have a Republican poll watcher assigned, while 24% of white precincts do. |                              |  |  |  |
|         | Florida | 31-Oct-04 | presidential |   | St. Petersburg Times         |  |  |  |
| Miami   | Florida | 1-Nov-04  | presidential | Election Protection reports that Haitian Americans complained that "thugs" had walked along the waiting lines at an early polling site and demanded to see identification, while telling voters they could be deported.   | Cox News Service             |  |  |  |
| Broward | Florida | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | Four GOP poll watchers were ejected from the polls by police and another was "threatened by poll workers for telling them to assign voters provisional ballots. These are people without ids or even listed on the voter roll," according to a party statement.   | Boston Globe                 |  |  |  |
| Miami   | Florida | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | GOP challengers were monitoring the polls, armed with packets that included color mug shots of felons the party said were improperly included on the voting rolls. At the urging of the Bush campaign, some of the poll watchers were wearing buttons, hats or T-shirts that said "voting rights counselor."  | Washington Post              |  |  |  |
| Sanford | Florida | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | At Midway Elementary School east of Sanford, a predominantly black voter pre-cinct, Democratic officials complained a large law-enforcement presence intimidated voters. A deputy sheriff assigned to the precinct moved his patrol car, with his po-lice dog inside, after Democrats complained to the Seminole County Sheriff's Of-ice about it being parked at the entrance to the parking lot, where they said there were as many as four deputies at a time.   | Orlando Sentinel             |  |  |  |
|         | Florida | 2-Mar-05  | presidential | Shouting matches and rowdy behavior forced elections officials across the state to step in to keep the peace. Voters reported being harassed and intimidated at the polls.  | Orlando Sentinel             |  |  |  |
|         | Georgia | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | Many voters said they were denied provisional ballots or had to argue with poll workers to get them.  | Atlanta Journal Constitution |  |  |  |

009460

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|                 |         |           |              |  |           |  |  |  |
|-----------------|---------|-----------|--------------|--|-----------|--|--|--|
| Atkinson County | Georgia | 28-Oct-04 | presidential | Ninety-five people who make up more than three-quarters of a rural Georgia county's registered Hispanic voters were summoned to a courthouse Thursday to defend their right to vote after a complaint alleged a county commissioner attempted to register non-U.S. citizens. The Atkinson County Board of Registrars, however, dismissed most of the complaint at the beginning of the hearing, saying the case could open the county to charges of violating the Voting Rights Act. Remaining complaints against two voters were dropped when the complainants declined to present any evidence against them. The three men who filed the complaint had said they have evidence a county commissioner attempted to help non-U.S. citizens register so they could vote for him in the July 20 Democratic primary. Lawyers from the American Civil Liberties Union and the Mexican American Legal Defense and Education Fund got involved because the men filed the challenges based on a list they had received from the Board of Registrars of all Hispanics registered in the south Georgia county. Linda Davis, chief registrar in Atkinson County, said |           |  |  |  |
| East Chicago    | Indiana | 21-Apr-04 | mayoral      | The Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund filed a federal lawsuit last October alleging that election officials conspired to persuade Hispanics to vote by absentee ballot and limit their access to the polls in the 2003 Democratic primary. The U.S. Attorney's Office is investigating similar allegations. The lawsuit seeks to overturn the election of Mayor Robert Pastrick, who defeated challenger George Pabey, who is of Puerto Rican descent.  | AP        |  |  |  |
|                 | Indiana | 7-Oct-04  | presidential | Persistent warnings about terrorism also have drawn skepticism from some Democratic election officials and civil rights advocates who have accused the Republican White House of creating a climate of fear that, among other things, could suppress voter turnout. Heavy voter turnout historically has favored Democrats in U.S. elections. Some local officials in Indiana accused Secretary of State Todd Rokita, a Republican, of trying to intimidate voters after he asked election clerks to develop responses to "an immediate and present danger." Engy Abdeikader, civil rights director for the Council on American-Islamic Relations, says that Arab-Americans and other minorities could choose to stay away from the polls if they believe that federal agents will be questioning people there.  | USA Today |  |  |  |

009765

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|                  |          |           |                         |  |                           |  |  |  |
|------------------|----------|-----------|-------------------------|--|---------------------------|--|--|--|
| Clay County      | Kentucky | 29-May-02 | county clerkprimary | A poll worker, Jeff Farmer, was stationed at Horse Creek Elementary School as a "challenger," someone who observes the process and can ask voters to prove identities or addresses. The sheriff said Farmer was warned after interfering with voters. "I told him to sit his ass down," Jordan said. When Farmer went outside about 10:30 a.m. and began "pulling voters out of line," according to Jordan, a sheriff's deputy told him to leave or face arrest. Farmer had a different version of events, saying he went out to smoke and wasn't allowed back in.                           | Lexington Herald Leader   |  |  |  |
| Jefferson        | Kentucky | 31-Oct-03 | gubernatorial           | A flyer written and distributed by the Republican in charge of recruiting poll workers asserts that in three previous races the NAACP and the Philip Randolph Institute have targeted "poor, black voters" and encouraged them to "commit voter fraud." Civil rights leaders say this shows that the Republican plan to put challengers in predominantly African American poll sites is racially based. The Republican County chair had announced that Republicans would place challengers at 59 precincts that were either chosen at random or because there were too few election workers. | The Courier-Journal       |  |  |  |
| Louisville       | Kentucky | 2-Nov-03  | gubernatorial           | Black voters in Louisville sued Friday over a Republican plan to put vote "challengers" in dozens of black precincts   | AP                        |  |  |  |
| Louisville       | Kentucky | 4-Nov-03  | gubernatorial           | Republicans plan to deploy "a small army" of challengers in Jefferson County. Critics say the mobilization of mostly white challengers in poorer minority districts is intended to intimidate. Black leaders held a rally decrying the Republican initiative.  | Christian Science Monitor |  |  |  |
| Jefferson County | Kentucky | 3-Aug-04  | presidential            | A group of Republicans called on the county party chair to resign because of plans to use voter challengers in the election. In 2003, the party used Republicans from across the county to watch voting in 18 predominantly Democratic districts -- most of them with large numbers of black voters.   | Courier Journal           |  |  |  |

009466

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research

Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|             |               |           |               |   |                 |  |  |  |
|-------------|---------------|-----------|---------------|---|-----------------|--|--|--|
| Baton Rouge | Louisiana     | 7-Oct-03  | sheriff       | Tangipahoa Parish Sheriff Ed Layrisson said Monday he has suspended two deputies while his office investigates allegations of public intimidation against them.The deputies were at a polling place Saturday and allegedly asked several people in a group how they planned to vote in the sheriff's race, authorities said.The deputies "have adamantly denied the allegation," Layrisson said.He said the deputies were not in uniform, but were carrying their badges and weapons. | The Advocate    |  |  |  |
| New Orleans | Louisiana     | 2-Nov-04  | presidential  | Louisiana Election Protection says it received many complaints of voters being denied the right to vote if they did not have a drivers license.   | AP              |  |  |  |
| Baltimore   | Maryland      | 5-Nov-02  | gubernatorial | The Democratic National Committee filed a lawsuit seeking to prevent the Ehrlich campaign from using off-duty police officers as poll workers. The Democrats dropped the action when the campaign agreed the officers would not wear uniforms, badges or sidearms or identify themselves as police officers.  | Washington Post |  |  |  |
|             | Maryland      | 6-Nov-02  | statewide     | In Maryland, David Paulson, the director of communications for the state Democratic Party, charged that signs saying voters needed photo identification to vote had been "illegally" or "extralegally" placed by the Board of Elections in Prince George's County, just outside of Washington. Photo identification has never been required for voters there, he said.  | UPI             |  |  |  |
| Boston      | Massachussets | 12-Mar-05 |               | In 2002, there were allegations that Russian and Chinese voters were being told how to vote by translators in a Brighton precinct that is home to the Jewish Community Housing for the Elderly complex on Wallingford Road. After those allegations, the city changed the rules at the polling place located there: Now, no resident of the building is allowed to work as an elections official there.   | Boston Globe    |  |  |  |
| Boston      | Massachussets | 30-Jul-05 |               | In a lawsuit filed yesterday, the Justice Department alleges that the city and its poll workers interfered with voters' rights by "improperly influencing, coercing, or ignoring the ballot choices of limited English proficient Hispanic and Asian-American voters" and of generally "abridging" their voting rights by treating Hispanic and Asian voters disrespectfully at the polls and by failing to provide adequate translation services for them.                                       | Boston Globe    |  |  |  |
|             | Massachussets | 18-Aug-05 | presidential  | A survey by the Asian American Legal Defense and Education Fund found 10 voters who had been turned away because their names were not on the rolls and who were not offered provisional ballots as required by law.   | Boston Globe    |  |  |  |

009467

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|         |           |           |              |   |                         |  |  |
|---------|-----------|-----------|--------------|---|-------------------------|--|--|
| Detroit | Michigan  | 8-Nov-02  |              | Trouble was reported at Bowen Recreation Center in Pontiac, where police were called after voters and election workers complained that a Republican Party volunteer was harassing people. Precinct chairwoman Linda Nichols said the woman, who identified herself as Teresa Sayer, came to the poll after leaving another location where voters had complained that she was questioning whether they were eligible to vote. "She would be behind the shoulder of the poll worker telling them what they could and could not do," Nichols said. "She even got behind the voter when they were going into the voting booth, asking them if they had identification." State election officials say challengers are not allowed to talk directly to voters but can question the veracity of a voter with poll chairpersons. State Republican officials denied that the woman was intimidating voters at the polling place. The precinct, on Bagley near Orchard Lake, is heavily Democratic and black. | Detroit News            |  |  |
|         | Michigan  | 18-Sep-04 | presidential | Democrats were outraged when Republican state representative John Pappageorge was quoted in July as warning that "if we do not suppress the Detroit vote, we're going to have a tough time in this election." Detroit is 83% black.  | San Francisco Chronicle |  |  |
| Detroit | Michigan  | 4-Nov-04  | presidential | Reggie Turner, a Detroit lawyer with the Kerry campaign, complained of voter intimidation by GOP challengers at Detroit sites. "The documented incidents of intimidation and harassment that we have in our files are right out of the stories regarding harassment and intimidation in the South in the 1950s and 1960s," Turner said. "GOP challengers harassed people in line to vote, requesting identification when they had no right to, and had lists of voters they intended to challenge without any legal basis for such challenges." The GOP's Paolino said the lists were of newly registered Detroit voters to whom the GOP had sent mailings that came back from the post office as address unknown.   | Detroit Free Press      |  |  |
| Detroit | Michigan  | 8-Nov-05  | mayoral      | The NAACP has received more than 100 complaints including ones involving intimidation at the polls. There were many fights between challengers and poll workers.   | Detroit Free Press      |  |  |
| Duluth  | Minnesota | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | Republicans systematically challenged a group of voters brought in by a nonprofit group and a group from a shelter. At another site, a minority group advocate accused a Republican challenger of intimidating American Indian and black voters.   | Duluth News-Tribune     |  |  |

097600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|                             |           |           |              |  |                        |  |  |  |
|-----------------------------|-----------|-----------|--------------|--|------------------------|--|--|--|
|                             | Minnesota | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | Secretary of State Kiffmeyer said her office received about 140 complaints about MoveOn. Minnesota Republican Party leaders tried and failed to get a restraining order against the MoveOn organization, which they accused of stationing activists too close to polling places Tuesday. But the judge disagreed. "The evidence has consisted almost entirely of hear-say," said Hennepin County District Judge Francis Connelly after a two-hour hearing Tuesday afternoon.   | St. Paul Pioneer Press |  |  |  |
|                             | Minnesota | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | Officials in Beltrami County and throughout the Twin Cities reported seeing poll challengers increasingly focused on polling places with particularly heavy populations of specific groups. Examples of those specific groups were college students, Indians on reservations, minorities or the homeless. In one case, the chairman of a Minnesota Indian tribe accused Republican poll challengers of intimidating legitimate voters by aggressively challenging their residency.   | Star Tribune           |  |  |  |
| Red Lake Indian Reservation | Minnesota | 22-Mar-05 | presidential | A get out the vote activist and an election judge say that a Republican operative improperly challenged so many Indian voters at the reservation on Election Day that the challenger eventually was removed by tribal police. Director of Minnesota Election Protection 2004 said that most of the 46 complaints that her group forwarded to the national database had to do with "overzealous partisan challengers." The challenges were often based "on the way a person looked" or the fact that the person was not speaking English. | Star Tribune           |  |  |  |
| St. Louis                   | Missouri  | 28-Oct-04 | presidential | Civil rights groups accuse the Republican Party of hiring hundreds of poll challengers as part of an effort to suppress the black vote in St. Louis. The Republican Party strongly denies this.  | AP                     |  |  |  |
|                             | national  | 15-Oct-04 | presidential | The Justice Department is ill prepared to handle a large influx of complaints about voting rights violations in the Nov. 2 presidential election, according to a report released yesterday by the Government Accountability Office. The Justice Department "lacks a clear plan" to reliably document and track allegations in a manner that could allow monitors to swiftly pick up patterns of abuse and take corrective steps, according to the GAO, Congress's nonpartisan investigative arm.   | Washington Post        |  |  |  |
|                             | national  | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | Republicans filed complaints with courts about poll monitors from the liberal group Moveon.org "intimidating" voters in New Hampshire, Iowa, Minnesota, Colorado and Michigan - all close states. Moveon.org's Eli Pariser said the GOP charges were intended to "create a false and distorted record to assist them in any legal challenges."   | New York Daily News    |  |  |  |

0097600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|                |            |           |              |  |                      |  |  |  |
|----------------|------------|-----------|--------------|--|----------------------|--|--|--|
|                |            |           |              | Racial slurs from election workers, missing bilingual ballots and unwarranted demands to check voter identification turned away Asian American voters across the nation, according to reports by the Asian American Legal Defense and Education Fund. "There were racist remarks in New York City - poll workers were blaming them for holding up the lines. One of them said, "You Oriental guys are taking too long to vote," she said. Although the legal fund continues to tally its exiting poll surveys and has no firm estimate for the number of incidents, Fung said repeated requests from poll workers to check identification hindered the high turnout of Asian American voters. With their patience worn thin by the inadequacy of their voting site, many simply left without voting. In polling sites across Detroit, University of Michigan student volunteers monitoring the polling sites said they not only encountered deficient polling sites, but also challengers from the Republican Party deliberately aiming to drive voters away through tactics of intimidation.                                      |                      |  |  |  |
|                | national   | 4-Nov-04  | presidential |  | University Wire      |  |  |  |
|                |            |           |              | In his first high-profile address since conceding the presidential election, Senator John F. Kerry used Boston's annual Martin Luther King Jr. memorial breakfast yesterday to decry what he called the suppression of thousands of would-be voters last November."Thousands of people were suppressed in their efforts to vote. Voting machines were distributed in uneven ways," the former Democratic nominee told an enthusiastic audience of 1,200 at the Boston Convention and Exhibition Center in South Boston."In Democratic districts, it took people four, five, 11 hours to vote, while Republicans [went] through in 10 minutes. Same voting machines, same process, our America," Kerry said.Critics of the election process in Ohio say there were not enough voting machines in urban, Democrat-leaning precincts, leading to long lines that dissuaded many voters from casting ballots. In some cases, polls were held open after the announced closing time to allow everyone in line to vote, but some left without voting after standing in line for hours. Some blacks in particular have also c |                      |  |  |  |
|                | national   | 18-Jan-05 | presidential |  | Boston Globe         |  |  |  |
| Tonopah        | Nevada     | 23-Oct-02 | local        | A group called "Concerned Citizens for Fair Elections" filed 1,200 voter challenges, nearly 200 of which were duplicates or triplicates of the same challenge; 220 were improper; several of those who signed the challenges under penalty of perjury said they never inspected the residence they claimed was abandoned or not occupied by a registered voter. District Attorney investigates whether there was perjury   | Pahrump Valley Times |  |  |  |
| Washoe County  | Nevada     | 1-Oct-04  | presidential | The registrar says an official of the Republican Party came to his office with a small group asking how to launch a "full scale program for challenging voters."   | The Progressive      |  |  |  |
| Las Vegas      | Nevada     | 29-Oct-04 | presidential | An effort by a former Nevada GOP operative to question 17,000 Democratic voters in Las Vegas was rejected earlier this month by election officials there   | Washington Post      |  |  |  |
| Passaic County | New Jersey | 26-Jun-01 | municipal    | A court appointed election monitor found that in the May 8 election violations included refusing to provide provisional ballots and intimidation of voters by candidates' representatives  | New York Times       |  |  |  |

009470

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|                |            |           |              |   |                     |  |  |  |
|----------------|------------|-----------|--------------|---|---------------------|--|--|--|
| Passaic County | New Jersey | 6-Nov-01  | US Senate    | Hispanic and black residents in the city of Passaic receive postcards in the mail warning of "armed law enforcement officers" at the polls and fines or prisons for anyone violating voting laws  | The Record          |  |  |  |
| Passaic        | New Jersey | 4-Dec-01  | sheriff      | The federal monitor found that the weekend before Election Day, Passaic city voters received a mass mailed post card reminding them that "armed law enforcement officers" would be policing the polls. The cards inferred they were official and cited the name of the monitor. He said they seemd aimed at minority voters   | The Record          |  |  |  |
| Licking County | New Jersey | 27-Oct-04 | presidential | A resident files challenges of 55 county residents whose voter confirmation cards sent from the Board of Elections were returned undeliverable. He withdrew 47 of his challenges and the board denied the other eight. The county Republican chair said that the state Republican Party directed counties to challenge suspect voters such as those who have an address where voter confirmation cards could not be delivered.  | Newark Advocate     |  |  |  |
|                | New Jersey | 9-Nov-05  | statewide    | The state Democratic Party won an injunction in the Superior Court in Passaic County, with the judge issuing a statewide order barring any challenger from disputing any voter's ability to vote based on the voter's signature. The Democrats said they heard numerous complaints about GOP challengers interfering in the signature comparison process.   | Star Ledger         |  |  |  |
| Sandoval       | New Mexico | 20-Oct-04 | presidential | At a special meeting Tuesday, Sandoval County commissioners voted 3-1 against opening an additional early voting site in Rio Rancho. Commissioners cited a short time line and legal questions in voting against the poll. The commission called the meeting after Republican legislative candidates and the mayor of Rio Rancho complained that the lack of an early voting site in the city disenfranchised voters. "The combination of an incompetent county clerk and highly partisan Democrat commission has allowed disenfranchisement of the fourth largest city in New Mex-ico," said Whitney Cheshire, a spokeswoman for New Mexico Victory. | Albuquerque Journal |  |  |  |
|                | New Mexico | 25-Oct-04 | presidential | In a mass mailing, the Republican National Committee is citing Hispanic voter registration campaigns as proof that "Democrats... will cheat in order to win." Hispanic advocates say this is designed to suppress Hispanic voting.  | Washington Post     |  |  |  |
|                | New Mexico | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | In New Mexico, a Republican poll watcher videotaped a man as he left a poll-ing station after casting a provisional ballot on Saturday, said Secretary of State Rebecca Vigil-Giron, a Democrat. Vigil-Giron said Republicans argued they wanted to record the voter's face for a possible legal challenge. Federal officials were investigating, she said.   | Chicago Tribune     |  |  |  |
| New York       | New York   | 31-Oct-05 | mayoral      | Democratic candidate sends a letter to the Department of Justice complaining of Republican election day plans to man some polls with off-duty corrections officers, calling it a bid to intimidate voters.  | New York Daily News |  |  |  |

009771

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|                 |                |           |              |  |                        |  |  |  |
|-----------------|----------------|-----------|--------------|--|------------------------|--|--|--|
| Alamance County | North Carolina | 27-Oct-04 | presidential | The head of the Mexican-American Legal Defense Fund says the sheriff gave a list of registered Hispanic voters to immigration authorities to check their status. The sheriff "also threatened to go door-to-door personally with his department to ensure that immigration status was checked and make sure there was no 'perception of fraud by Latinos'"   | Agence France Presse   |  |  |  |
|                 | North Carolina | 29-Oct-04 | presidential | In southeast Charlotte, Elections Director Michael Dickerson told poll workers at the Morrison Regional Library to stop asking people waiting to cast early votes to get identification cards ready. Richard Friedman, an unaffiliated voter who is volunteering with the Kerry campaign, complained after elections staff told people standing in line to get their driver's license or voter registration card ready. Most N.C. voters are not required to show ID when they vote, and no one asked for it when voters got in to cast ballots, Friedman said.  | Charlotte Observer     |  |  |  |
|                 | Ohio           | 6-Sep-04  | presidential | Ohio polling sites plan to add security, which some election officials believe will intimidate voters and poll workers   | Columbus Dispatch      |  |  |  |
|                 | Ohio           | 20-Oct-04 | presidential | Democrats believe the Secretary of State's order that people who appear to vote in the wrong precinct should not be allowed a provisional ballot and the unnecessary purging of voter rolls, and the Republicans' checking of new registrants are designed to intimidate voters into staying home.   | Columbus Dispatch      |  |  |  |
| Montgomery      | Ohio           | 23-Oct-04 | presidential | Republicans filed a challenger list in 191 precincts - many of them in largely black neighborhoods around Dayton. Republicans say it is to prevent vote fraud  | Cleveland Plain Dealer |  |  |  |
|                 | Ohio           | 23-Oct-04 | presidential | Republicans formally challenged the validity of 35,000 voter registrations across the state  | Cleveland Plain Dealer |  |  |  |
| Franklin County | Ohio           | 24-Oct-04 | presidential | Dozens of Republican challenges to newly registered voters in Franklin County will be tossed out because they were not properly filed, a local elections official said yesterday.An initial review of 50 challenge forms filed by GOP activists shows 40 with an incorrect ward or precinct listed for the voter, said Michael Hackett, deputy director of the Franklin County Board of Elections. He said such mistakes will nullify requests to have people removed from the list of eligible voters. Voters whose eligibility is challenged need to prove Thursday that they're registered at their correct address. If they don't show up, elections board members can decide whether to keep them on the rolls.Franklin County Republican Chairman Doug Preisse said his party's challenges of voters' eligibility is not an attempt to deny legitimately registered people the right to cast a ballot. In Franklin County, beyond the challenges with incorrect information, it appears Republicans included some legitimately registered voters, including members of the military. | Columbus Dispatch      |  |  |  |
| Cleveland       | Ohio           | 29-Oct-04 | presidential | In a lawsuit, a voter and Democrats contend Republican challenges to voters around Cleveland and Columbus are designed to keep poor and minority voters from voting.   | AP                     |  |  |  |
| Hamilton        | Ohio           | 30-Oct-04 | presidential | Jeff Gamso of the ACLU said in Hamilton County, 250 of 251 precincts targeted by Republicans with challengers are majority African-American precincts.   | Toledo Blade           |  |  |  |

009472

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|        |      |           |              |  |                         |  |  |  |
|--------|------|-----------|--------------|--|-------------------------|--|--|--|
|        | Ohio | 31-Oct-04 | presidential | Democrats accuse Republicans of using challengers to suppress voter turnout. Republicans will not allow the press to attend training sessions.   | Cleveland Plain Dealer  |  |  |  |
|        | Ohio | 1-Nov-04  | presidential | In a lawsuit in Hamilton County, civil rights activists say GOP challenges are discriminatory because they were filed disproportionately in precincts with a majority of black voters. A civil rights group seeks to block challengers in Ohio by arguing they violate a 1981 national order prohibiting the Republican National Committee from trying to intimidate black voters.   | Columbus Dispatch       |  |  |  |
| Lucas  | Ohio | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | In Lucas County, Ohio, Republicans asked a judge to bar poll monitors from wearing "Voter Protection Staff" and "Voting Rights Staff" armbands from polling spots.   | New York Daily News     |  |  |  |
| Summit | Ohio | 5-Nov-04  | presidential | The Board of Elections threw out 976 of the challenges filed by the Republican Party without prejudice after a volunteer who brought the challenges revealed she did not have any personal information about the eligibility of the challenged voters. A member of the Board told the volunteer she could be indicted for signing a sworn challenge without personal knowledge of eligibility. The Board has indicated they plan to call the Department of Justice to conduct a criminal investigation of the challenges.  | Philadelphia Tribune    |  |  |  |
|        | Ohio | 11-Dec-04 | presidential | Because blue-collar and lower-income workers tend to vote Democratic, the long lines in Akron and other urban areas fueled suspicion of a deliberate tactic to hold down the turnout -- especially in largely African-American precincts -- for presidential challenger John Kerry.  | Akron Beacon Journal    |  |  |  |
|        | Ohio | 23-Jun-05 | presidential | Blacks and young voters in Ohio faced widespread voter suppression - mostly because of long lines and improper identification checks - during last year's presidential election, a new report released Wednesday by the Democratic Party said. Democratic National Committee Chairman Howard Dean said that while it's unclear whether the suppression was intentional or whether it influenced the election results, the party's five-month, $250,000 investigation showed that 28 percent of Ohio voters - and twice as many black voters - reported facing challenges on Election Day. "You have a particular ethnic group that has to wait three times as long as other voters, then clearly there is something going on that is aimed at particular precincts," Dean said at a news conference in Washington. Blacks waited an average of 52 minutes to vote while white voters waited about 18 minutes. It also found that 37 percent of Ohio voters reported being asked for identification. Ohio law requires only new voters to produce identification, and new registrants accounted for 7 percent of all voters. Blacks and voters under 30 were | The Cincinnati Enquirer |  |  |  |
|        | Ohio | 23-Jun-05 | presidential | Long lines were caused by the scarcity of voting machines in a number of precincts, particularly in minority areas, a report by the DNC on the election in Ohio says.  | Washington Post         |  |  |  |

009473

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|              |              |           |              |   |                           |  |  |  |
|--------------|--------------|-----------|--------------|---|---------------------------|--|--|--|
|              | Oregon       | 21-Oct-04 | presidential | Officials are concerned about voter intimidation at ballot drop-off sites the evening of the Nov. 2 deadline. A Republican manual instructs GOP volunteers to take video cameras. Party officials say this is to make sure no ballots are collected after the 8 pm cutoff, but Democrats worry that it could frighten away some voters.   | Christian Science Monitor |  |  |  |
|              | Pennsylvania | 6-Nov-02  | statewide    | Democrats in the state are concerned about Operation Swarm and Storm – the name they say was given to an effort by the George Gekas campaign to challenge voters based on old information.A pamphlet was allegedly prepared by the campaign, which instructed Republican poll workers to challenge voters who had recently moved to new districts. The laws had been changed, however, and such challenges could have been wrongly made.Voters in some districts were also challenged to produce identification, charged state Democratic Party spokeswoman Mia DeVane. Voters she said need only provide a matching signature to vote in the state.  | UPI                       |  |  |  |
| Philadelphia | Pennsylvania | 5-Nov-03  | mayoral      | Complaints filed with the police, the district attorney's office, and the Committee of Seventy alleging physical violence, harassment and intimidation were the highest in modern history. The DA's office reported it had received at least 171 complaints, nearly quadruple the 41 complaints of four years ago. Most charged that voters and poll workers had been intimidated or interfered with. Inspector William Colarulo said the Police Department had received at least 110 complaints, most dealing with simple assaults, vandalism and disturbances. In the course of the day, Common Pleas Judge Benjamin Lemer signed two orders directing Republican workers at polling places in Germantown and North Philadelphia to stop demanding identification from people showing up to vote. | Philadelphia Daily News   |  |  |  |
| Philadelphia | Pennsylvania | 26-Oct-04 | presidential | Republican Representative John Perzel, speaker of the state house, told US News and World Report that "The Kerry campaign needs to come out with humongous numbers here in Philadelphia. Its important for me to keep that number down." At the same time, he said campaign workers are examining voting records for evidence of Democrats registering more than once or otherwise violating election rules. An aide to Perzel said challengers will have lists of questionable registrations at the polls.   | AP                        |  |  |  |
| Philadelphia | Pennsylvania | 31-Oct-04 | presidential | In Philadelphia, Republicans unsuccessfully sought last week to change locations of 63 polling places, contending that their placement in closed bars or in homes would intimidate voters. Democrats pointed out that most of those locations were in minority neighborhoods and branded the move an effort to suppress black votes.  | Philadelphia Inquirer     |  |  |  |

009474

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|              |              |           |              |  |                       |  |  |  |
|--------------|--------------|-----------|--------------|--|-----------------------|--|--|--|
| Philadelphia | Pennsylvania | 2-Nov-04  | presidential | Philadelphia's voter-registration administrator cried foul last night over a letter sent from the state GOP to judges of elections, the men and women who run the city's 1,681 polling places. He said the letter had wrongly instructed those poll workers to check and compare voters' various signatures "at will." He pointed to state law, which limits such checks to prevent long voting delays. State Republicans released additional details yesterday from their list of 10,000 letters to Philadelphia voters that they said were returned as undeliverable. They said they would use this list to challenge voters at the polls today. Counsel to the state Republican Party said there were multiple reports yesterday that elderly voters in Lancaster and York Counties in Central Pennsylvania - an area the Bush campaign has been heavily courting - got phone calls telling them they would not be allowed to vote and urging them not to show up at the polls. | Philadelphia Inquirer |  |  |  |
|              | Pennsylvania | 3-Nov-04  | presidential | While overwhelmed poll workers pushed provisional ballots on some voters who should not have been using them, other voters who could have used provisional ballots were being turned away. In Allentown, about 10 lawyers and community activists rushed to the Salvation Army building on North Eighth Street to challenge poll workers who were stopping about eight people whose names were not in the registration list. In Montgomery County, a judge issued a mid-day order telling poll workers they that no longer needed county approval to give out provisional ballots.   | Morning Call          |  |  |  |
|              | Pennsylvania | 4-Nov-04  | presidential | There were long lines throughout the state, leading voters to wait for several hours in order to vote. Some voters waited into the night in order to vote. Some reportedly left without voting.  | Philadelphia Inquirer |  |  |  |
| Philadelphia | Pennsylvania | 8-Dec-04  | presidential | In Philadelphia, some voters were sent to police stations to cast provisional ballots, House Minority Whip Steny H. Hoyer (D-Md.) told a voting rights forum. "Clearly an intimidation," he said.  | Los Angeles Times     |  |  |  |
| Lancaster    | Pennsylvania | 24-Apr-05 | presidential | The Board of Elections fired three elections officials because of charges they intimidated Democratic voters. One voter said a poll worker was aggressive in challenging his eligibility. Another said a worker yelled at her and then grabbed her arm and forced her out of the polling place because she was wearing a Kerry button.   | Lancaster Sunday News |  |  |  |

009475

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|          |                |           |                  |   |                                     |  |  |  |
|----------|----------------|-----------|------------------|---|-------------------------------------|--|--|--|
| Beaufort | South Carolina | 5-Nov-02  |                  | Voters in Beaufort County who only have rural route addresses or post office box numbers on their voter registration cards might face problems at the polls today, a federal lawsuit filed in Charleston late Monday alleges. The lawsuit said that poll workers could challenge these voters' ballots, and that if this happens, black voters would be disproportionately affected. The chair of the election commission said poll workers will ask these voters to identify exactly where they live, possibly by having them point out their homes on a map. He said the purpose of doing this is not to discourage or embarrass the voter; it's to ensure they get the correct ballot. He said if there is any confusion, voters will be given failsafe ballots that exclude district races but still allow voters to cast ballots in federal, state and countywide races. | The Post and Courier                |  |  |  |
| Greer    | South Carolina | 12-Aug-04 | county council   | Candidate says he plans to have observers at the polls and may call for sheriff's deputies to enforce voting laws when voters try for a third time to nominate a Republican County Council candidate. His opponent alleges he is trying to intimidate black voters from voting.   | Greenville News                     |  |  |  |
| Columbia | South Carolina | 2-Nov-04  | presidential     | Dozens of voters, many students, were turned away from a precinct at Benedict College after Republican poll watchers contested the legality of their vote. Challenges slowed voting at the precinct causing waits as long as four hours. The Republican Party executive director said poll watchers were challenging people who did not have proper state identification, such as a drivers license. Alternate forms of identification permit student to vote provisional ballots.  | AP                                  |  |  |  |
|          | South Dakota   | 31-Oct-02 | US Senate        | Senator Daschle says Republicans have targeted Native American communities in making allegations of vote fraud and launching initiatives in order to suppress the Native American vote  | Washington Times                    |  |  |  |
|          | South Dakota   | 1-Jan-03  | senate           | Republican attorneys fanned out across the state on Election Day to gather affidavits to show vote buying. The State Attorney General (a Republican) says that of the 50 affidavits only three alleged criminal activity, and two of those proved to be false. One person is being investigated. Two of the affidavits were found to have been forged or perjurious. Each affidavit states that the person allegedly signing it claimed to have been picked up by a van driver, offered 10 to vote, taken to the polling place and home again and again offered the 10. Most of the allegations focused on the Rosebud Reservation  | Indian Country Today (Lakota Times) |  |  |  |
|          | South Dakota   | 30-Jun-04 | special election | During the June 1 special election, several Native American voters were told they could not vote if they did not have ID and were not told about the affidavit option. Most of the complaints came from across the state, many from reservations and some from Rapid City, where there is a large American Indian population. A Republican poll watcher denied this was the case. He said Indian voting rights workers were intimidating poll workers.  | Indian Country Today (Lakota Times) |  |  |  |
|          | South Dakota   | 26-Aug-04 | presidential     | Some American Indians were not allowed to vote in the primary because they did not have photo ID and some said they were not told they could instead sign an affidavit.   | Newsday                             |  |  |  |

009476

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|              |              |           |                       |   |                      |  |  |  |
|--------------|--------------|-----------|-----------------------|---|----------------------|--|--|--|
| Sioux Falls  | South Dakota | 2-Nov-04  | senatorial            | On Election Day, a district court judge ruled Republican poll watchers in Charles Mix County had to stop following American Indian voters after they cast ballots. The GOP workers were also ordered to stop writing down those people's license plate numbers.   | AP                   |  |  |  |
|              | Tennessee    | 5-Nov-02  |                       | A GOP memo to its poll watchers said, "There are problems" with the instructions [state election director]Thompson's office provided to local officials, and focuses on whether the would-be voters are legitimately qualified. "If the officers at the precinct are not screening voters for their qualifications to vote, including their citizenship, they should be challenged so that the election officials will carry out the law and make sure they are qualified to vote if they are first-time voters," the memo saysThompson said the U.S. Department of Justice, part of President Bush's ad-ministration, notified him of the GOP memo last week and expressed concerns about it. After conferring with the Justice Department and state Attorney General's office, Thompson sent a four-page memo to local election officials Friday that makes it clear that poll watchers are forbidden by law to question or challenge voters directly and that election officials are not to require would-be voters to provide proof of eligibility, as the GOP memo seeks. The state Democratic Chair said the challenges targetted Afr | Commercial Appeal    |  |  |  |
| Prairie View | Texas        | 6-Oct-04  |                       | Students at historically black college Prairie View A & M filed several lawsuits against a Texas district attorney for making comments that he would prosecute students that falsely declared the school as their place of residency. In 1979, the US Supreme Court ruled in favor of Prairie View A & M, upholding a student's right to vote.  | Los Angeles Sentinel |  |  |  |
|              | Utah         | 18-Jun-04 | congressional primary | An immigration-issues group is mounting a last-minute bid to challenge hundreds of foreign-born voters in Utah's Republican primary Tuesday. The effort is the work of ProjectUSA, based in Washington, D.C. The Utah voter challenge would require those singled out in the state's 3rd Congressional District by ProjectUSA to confirm at the polls that they are U.S. citizens and registered voters. State elections director Amy Naccarato is concerned ProjectUSA might scare off some legitimate voters.   | Deseret Morning News |  |  |  |
|              | Utah         | 6-Nov-04  | congressional         | The Republican candidate challenged the legal registration of 1,495 residents of the Holladay-area neighborhoods in the days before the election. 1,494 were Democrats, and one was from the American Party. The County Clerk determined the claims were groundless and said he could be subject to a charge of voter intimidation.   | Salt Lake Tribune    |  |  |  |

009477

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|      |            |           |               |  |                            |  |  |  |
|------|------------|-----------|---------------|--|----------------------------|--|--|--|
|      | Washington | 20-Dec-04 | gubernatorial | Procedures for validating ballot signatures vary widely from county to county in Washington state, a fact that has become significant given the razor-thin margin of the governor's race. A survey by The Seattle Times showed that counties use different procedures for evaluating signatures, the newspaper reported Sunday. More than 3,400 absentee and provisional ballots in Washington were rejected in the November election because the signatures didn't match those on file with elections officials. The state Supreme Court last week rejected an argument by the Democratic Party that counties have disenfranchised voters by handling mismatched signatures so differently.   | AP                         |  |  |  |
| King | Washington | 20-Dec-04 | gubernatorial | King County election workers were told as early as May that if an absentee ballot came in without a matching signature on file they were required to make a concerted effort to verify that the vote was valid. Before a special election in May, King County election workers routinely violated state law by counting such ballots without making any attempt to verify the signatures. In this November's general election, the county's absentee-ballot staff still didn't make the effort to find matching signatures. But instead of counting the ballots automatically, they rejected them.  | Seattle Times              |  |  |  |
|      | Washington | 31-Mar-05 |               | A Soap Lake man is challenging the voting credentials of hundreds of Washington voters, saying he thinks they're illegal immigrants who registered and cast ballots illegally. But Martin Ringhofer may have a hard time proving the challenges he has filed in Spokane and 10 other Washington counties. For one thing, there's the methodology of his research. Ringhofer said he obtained a list of people who registered to vote when they obtained or renewed a driver's license, then culled the list for names "that appear to be from outside the United States," particularly those that appeared to be Hispanic or Asian. For another, there's the fact that many of the people on his list are citizens. In fact, The Spokesman-Review contacted a dozen of the 161 people on Ringhofer's Spokane County list, and all of them are citizens. | Spokesman Review           |  |  |  |
| King | Washington | 5-Nov-05  | county        | Elections officials said hundreds of angry voters called to complain about a Republican backed effort challenging their right to vote. Several voters said the GOP County Vice-Chair was wrong that their registrations did not have their legitimate address. Those voters challenged will have to either re-submit registration forms or when challenged, vote by provisional ballot. Democrats called it a voter intimidation and suppression effort.  | Seattle Post-Intelligencer |  |  |  |

009478

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|           |               |           |              |   |                            |  |  |  |
|-----------|---------------|-----------|--------------|---|----------------------------|--|--|--|
| King      | Washington    | 10-Nov-05 | presidential | A county councilman asks the county prosecutor to investigate whether a Republican challenger committed perjury in filing some of the challenges without justification. The challenger was the head of the county GOP's Voter Registration Integrity Project* which challenged the registrations of 1,944 voters saying they were registered at private mailbox businesses and storage complexes. Many of the challenges turned out to be baseless. Others did not know it was illegal. Those voters had to file a challenge ballot. The validity of those ballots will be determined at a canvassing board hearing. County Democrats claim the challenges were an attempt to intimidate and disenfranchise voters. | Seattle Times              |  |  |  |
| Lincoln   | West Virginia | 31-May-05 | primary      | Defendants in a vote buying case allege that federal agents intimidated voters by videotaping and photographing voters as they visited the polls.   | AP                         |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin     | 13-Oct-04 | presidential | Milwaukee County Executive Scott Walker, citing vote-fraud concerns, is publicly balking at a City of Milwaukee request for almost 260,000 additional ballots in anticipation of high turnout for the Nov. 2 presidential election. Mayor Tom Barrett blasted Walker's stance, and Common Council President Willie Hines Jr. immediately joined in, saying it was an attempt to suppress the central-city vote.   | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin     | 27-Oct-04 | presidential | Federation for American Immigration Reform sent Michigan residents to Wisconsin voter registration stations set up by an immigrant rights group to see whether an illegal immigrant was registering illegal voters. The group said it refused to register the Michigan voters and if they insisted they discarded their forms. Prosecutors will check to ensure the registrations were not mailed in.   | AP                         |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin     | 29-Oct-04 | presidential | Although the Board of Elections refused a request by the state Republican Party to have 5,619 names and addresses removed from Milwaukee voting lists, the party plans to challenge anyone who tries to vote from those addresses at the polls. A Journal Sentinel review shows many of the names and addresses confirmed some of the problems cited by the GOP, as well as uncovered additional missing addresses. Some cited by the GOP may be explained by clerical errors, however.   | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel |  |  |  |

009479

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|           |           |           |              |   |                            |  |  |  |
|-----------|-----------|-----------|--------------|---|----------------------------|--|--|--|
|           |           |           |              | Citing a new list of more than 37,000 questionable addresses, the state Republican Party demanded that city officials require identification from all of those voters. If the city doesn't, the party says it is prepared to have volunteers challenge each individual - including thousands who might be missing an apartment number on their registration - at the polls. Democrats say this is a last minute effort to suppress turnout by creating long delays at the polls. This is in addition to the 5,619 bad addresses the party claimed. The state GOP chair said they had just focussed on Milwaukee because its voter list is a mess and cause for great alarm. |                            |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin | 31-Oct-04 | presidential |   | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin | 2-Nov-04  | presidential | The tires of 30 vans Republicans had rented to help get out the vote were slashed.  | AP                         |  |  |  |
|           |           |           |              |   |                            |  |  |  |
|           |           |           |              |   |                            |  |  |  |

083600

009482

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Naxis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

| Resolution of Incident /allegation | Source of Resolution 1 | Source of Resolution 2 |
|------------------------------------|------------------------|------------------------|
|                                    |                        |                        |
|                                    |                        |                        |
|                                    |                        |                        |
|                                    |                        |                        |
|                                    |                        |                        |

009483

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009784

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |                                     |  |
|--|-------------------------------------|--|
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |
| In the Jacksonville area, Republicans say they have a list of 2,663 newly registered voters from mostly Democratic black communities whose registration could be fraudulent. Republicans have said that poll watchers will enforce a portion of Florida law allowing poll watchers to challenge a voter at the polls. The St. Petersburg Times on Thursday quoted Gov. Jeb Bush as saying he would not have a problem with Republican poll watchers challenging the eligibility of voters | The Ledger, October 31, 2004 |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |

009485

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009486

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009487

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|   |   |  |
|---|---|--|
|   |   |  |
|   |   |  |
| A judge turned down a request Monday to block Republican poll challengers from observing Tuesday's election in predominantly black neighborhoods of the city. Jefferson County Circuit Judge Thomas Wine denied a restraining order sought by the American Civil Liberties Union of Kentucky, which claimed the poll watchers could intimidate minority voters or slow voting. The ACLU also filed suit in federal court seeking to bar the poll challengers, but there has been no hearing.  | AP, November 4, 2003                               |  |
| Precinct workers in western Louisville and Newburg reported no problems with Republican vote challengers and predicted a high voter turnout yesterday - in contrast to fears that the challengers would intimidate black voters and keep them from the polls. Even as the number of targeted precincts dropped to 18 because of staffing and training issues, the controversy drew national attention, with the Democratic National Committee and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People sending personnel to help organize a get-out-the-vote effort. The NAACP also stationed volunteers outside polling places to ensure that voters were treated fairly. | The Courier Journal,         November 5, 2003 |  |
|   |   |  |

883600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

683600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |   |  |
|--|---|--|
|  |   |  |
|  |   |  |
|  |   |  |
| A US District judge ordered all political parties to refrain from talking to voters at the polls. The ruling came in response to a suit filed by the Detroit NAACP which said it had received complaints from 19 polling places that state and national GOP poll monitors were harassing voters. Republicans disputed the claim. The suit charged GOP workers were harassing voters in violation of a state law that prohibits challengers from talking to voters. The suit also said the watchers challenged the eligibility of Detroit voters to cast ballots, prompting some to leave without voting. The Detroit NAACP president said it was an attempt to reduce the black vote in next years state and congressional elections. | November 9, 2003         Detroit Free Press |  |
|  |   |  |

009490

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009491

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009492

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

0087800

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |                                       |  |
|--|---------------------------------------|--|
|  |                                       |  |
|  |                                       |  |
|  |                                       |  |
|  |                                       |  |
|  |                                       |  |
| After a court fight, scheduled hearings on the challenges were canceled, but voters still received mail notifying them they were being challenged. | January 7, 2005,Columbus Dispatch |  |
|  |                                       |  |
|  |                                       |  |
|  |                                       |  |

009494

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |                                     |  |
|--|-------------------------------------|--|
|  |                                     |  |
| District court judges blocked the challenges because they could cause delays, confusion and intimidation. 6th Circuit overrules the lower court rulings. | Columbus Dispatch, November 2, 2004 |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |
|  |                                     |  |

009495

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009499

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009497

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

867600

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|   |   |  |
|---|---|--|
|   |   |  |
|   |   |  |
|   |   |  |
| The Washington-based immigration issues group ProjectUSA has backed down on its plan to challenge blocs of Utah voters in areas with high immigrant populations. Craig Nelsen, president of ProjectUSA, had said he intended to challenge the voters in Utah's 3rd Congressional District based on concerns that illegal immi-grants would vote for Congressman Chris Cannon in Tuesday's primary. Nelsen said Friday that after analyzing voter registration rolls and U.S. Census Bureau data for Utah's 3rd Congressional District, his group "didn't find any (patterns) that would warrant a challenge." Election officials in Salt Lake and Utah counties echoed Naccarato's relief Friday afternoon that no challenge had been filed. Attomeys in both counties had been scrambling to review the legality of any such challenges. "Our biggest concern was the message it was sending to voters," said Utah County Clerk Jim Jackson. "It almost smacked of discrimination against a group. That's just not right." | Deseret Morning News,         June 19, 2004 |  |
|   |   |  |

00949966

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|   |  |  |
|---|--|--|
|   |  |  |
|   |  |  |
|   |  |  |
| The GOP withdrew 140 of 1500 claims, admitting they were faulty. Democrats charged that Republicans' real aim was to discourage voters from voting. Voters whose registrations were challenged will have to vote by paper and the Canvassing Board will conduct hearings on whether the votes should count. Challenged voters may make their case at the hearings, at which the burden of proof is on the Republican challengers. | Seattle Post-Intelligencer, November 8, 2005 |  |

009500

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|   |   |   |
|---|---|---|
|   |   |   |
|   |   |   |
|   |   |   |
|   |   |   |
| Amid a renewed push Friday by Republicans to get some 5,600 names removed from Milwaukee voting lists, prosecutors began examining 500 new registrants that a city review indicated are from non-existent addresses. The same review by the city attorney's office, however, raised doubts about the quality of the GOP's original list, finding that hundreds of the addresses that the Republicans claim are invalid and want removed do, in fact, exist. Some others, according to City Attorney Grant Langley, can be explained by data entry errors, not attempted fraud. Late Friday, Langley outlined the review situation in a letter to Lisa Artison, head of the city Election Commission. The letter said the review by his staff and the district attorney's office found cases where the database used by the GOP was corrupted, dropping digits on some homes so otherwise valid addresses showed up as non-existent. In other cases, a check of the original handwritten registration cards showed digits had been transposed by clerks, something that can be corrected at the polls. Langley's letter says the review casts "doubt | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, October 30, 2004 | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, November 1, 2004 |

009501

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Intimidation and Suppression

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009503

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research

Nexis Articles - Noncitizen Voting

| City / County   | State          | Date      | Type of Election       | Alleged Instance of fraud  | Original Source          | Source1 | Source 2 | Source 3 |
|-----------------|----------------|-----------|------------------------|--|--------------------------|---------|----------|----------|
| Maricopa County | Arizona        | 5-Nov-05  |                        | 159 noncitizens were found on the voting rolls. The county recorder said all of the cases involved people who misunderstood voting requirements. The county attorney nonetheless has charged ten of the immigrants with felonies.  | LA Times                 |         |          |          |
| Compton         | California     | 12-Feb-02 | mayor and city council | After an election legal challenge, two incumbents who originally lost were reinstated. In her ruling, the judge said numerous noncitizens voted illegally.   | Los Angeles Times        |         |          |          |
| Pontiac         | Michigan       | 11-Dec-01 | mayor                  | Losing candidate claims there was "suspect" noncitizen voting  | Detroit Free Press       |         |          |          |
|                 | Minnesota      | 23-Feb-05 | presidential           | Secretary of State Kiffmeyer said that she has asked several county attorneys across Minnesota to investigate evidence her staff uncovered that suggests some noncitizens illegally registered to vote in the November election. "So far, at least, we have 32 people who have registered to vote and seem to be -- allegedly -- not U.S. citizens," Kiffmeyer said. Some of the 32 also voted in the election. Both registering and voting are illegal for noncitizens. Kiffmeyer said her staff discovered the possible criminal offenses by comparing voter registration cards to driver's license records, which now identify noncitizens visiting the United States on visas. | Saint Paul Pioneer Press |         |          |          |
|                 | North Carolina | 24-Oct-04 |                        | A Washington-based advocacy group for tougher immigration laws recently said that it believes illegal immigrants may be registered to vote in North Carolina because they were able to sign up when obtaining driver's licenses without Social Security numbers. State elections and Division of Motor Vehicles officials say they've run two checks - one in 2002 and again this year - of people who received driver's licenses without proof of citizenship and found only a handful who had registered to vote. Those cases are being investigated, they said.   | AP                       |         |          |          |
| Houston         | Texas          | 28-Jan-05 | state house            | Republican representative ousted narrowly by Democratic opponent alleges there was noncitizen voting in the election   | Dallas Morning News      |         |          |          |
|                 | Utah           | 30-Aug-05 |                        | The Attorney General will investigate allegations in a legislative audit that found evidence of fourteen people believed to be noncitizens who have voted in a past election. The auditors office has said that a follow up investigation found that 6 of the 14 were actually citizens, two were confirmed by immigration authorities as having prior deportation orders and the other 6 are still under review. Of the six that were citizens, three had their Social Security numbers mistyped in the database and three were naturalized citizens.   | Desert Morning News      |         |          |          |

009504

009505

009506

009507

009508

| Resolution of Incident / allegation | Source of Resolution 1 | Source of Resolution 2 |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------|------------------------|
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |

009509

019600

009511

009512

009513

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Vote Buying

| City / County   | State     | Date      | Type of Election       | Alleged instance of fraud   | Original Source           | Source1 | Source 2 | Source 3 |
|-----------------|-----------|-----------|------------------------|---|---------------------------|---------|----------|----------|
| Phenix City     | Alabama   | 31-Aug    | municipal              | The Attorney General and DA are investigating allegations of buying of absentee ballot votes  | Columbus Ledger-Enquirer  |         |          |          |
| Pulaski         | Arkansas  | 29-Aug-02 | US House               | Candidate says opposing campaign's consultant was paying residents of black nursing homes to cast absentee ballots and trying to skew the vote of black voting precincts in some cases.   | Arkansas Democrat-Gazette |         |          |          |
| Washington Park | Illinois  | 17-May-01 | village                | Candidate alleges that one voter was paid not to vote after being paid to vote absentee and two other people, possibly noncitizens, were paid for absentee ballots.   | Belleville News-Democrat  |         |          |          |
| East St. Louis  | Illinois  | 30-Jun-05 | county                 | 5 convicted of consprng to buy votes with cash, cigarettes and liquor   | Chicago Sun Times         |         |          |          |
| Berrien County  | Indiana   | 16-Apr-05 | city commission        | A Berrien County judge Friday overturned the recall of Glenn Yarbrough in a civil trial against the city of Benton Harbor and Clerk Jean Nesbitt. In his ruling, Judge Paul Maloney said the true will of the people was violated by gross voter fraud in February's recall election. He cited bought votes, forged ballots, and jobs promised in return for "yes" votes, crimes allegedly committed by someone other than Yarbrough. | South Bend Tribune        |         |          |          |
| Clay            | Kentucky  | 24-Oct-02 | county                 | federal prosecutors are investigating absentee vote buying  | Courier Journal           |         |          |          |
|                 | Kentucky  | 6-Nov-02  | primary                | In Knott County, there were nearly a dozen complaints in the primary alleging vote-selling for drugs, said assistant commonwealth's attorney Lori Daniel, but no one has admitted it. She said the attorney general's office has a pending investigation in Knott County. Reports of vote-buying also were reported in Magoffin, Pike and Floyd counties during the primary.  | Courier Journal           |         |          |          |
| London          | Kentucky  | 16-Sep-04 | 2002 judicial          | Man found guilty of paying $10 each to a group in a church parking lot after voting  | AP                        |         |          |          |
| Winnfield       | Louisiana | 12-Apr-02 | police chief and mayor | Losing candidate accuses opponent of paying ten people to vote  | Daily Town Talk           |         |          |          |
| Marksville      | Louisiana | 15-May-02 | mayoral                | Two men accused of buying votes for small amounts of money  | AP                        |         |          |          |
| Iberville       | Louisiana | 13-Dec-02 | primary                | Iberville Parish Councilman Howard Oubre Jr. and three other Plaquemine residents were arrested Thursday for allegedly paying people to vote absentee in a recent election. Oubre went into the community and solicited people to vote absentee in the Oct. 5 primary election. Oubre allegedly paid these people between $3 and $10  | The Advocate              |         |          |          |
| River Rouge     | Michigan  | 4-Apr-04  | mayoral                | State police are looking into allegations that the mayor's supporters offered payments o up to $25 for absentee votes  | Yahoo News                |         |          |          |

009514

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Vote Buying

|                |                |           |              |  |                         |  |  |  |
|----------------|----------------|-----------|--------------|--|-------------------------|--|--|--|
| Ingham         | Michigan       | 6-Oct-04  | presidential | The Michigan Republican Party accused Michael Moore of bribing students to vote in the presidential election. The party sent letter to prosecutors in four counties. As part of his tour, Moore tossed out packets of low-priced instant noodles and 12-packs of Hanes briefs to students who promised they would vote.  | Lansing State Journal   |  |  |  |
| Detroit        | Michigan       | 15-Dec-05 | mayoral      | Detroit's top elections official said Wednesday she is concerned that people may have sold votes on the eve of the city's Nov. 8 election, and said she may ask the Wayne County prosecutor to investigate.Gloria Williams, director of elections for City Clerk Jackie Currie, cited a Nov. 7 incident in which a Detroit man told police he thought he witnessed a scheme to pay people for votes as he stood in line to cast an absentee ballot.Detroit police took a report from the man but closed the case without further contact with the suspects or witnesses. A woman cited in the police report said nothing improper happened - political activists were coordinating with poll workers. Williams said the question is whether the people were required to vote a certain way in exchange for jobs handing out literature and promoting candidates at voting places the next day. | Detroit Free Press      |  |  |  |
| Tippah         | Mississippi    | 27-Mar-04 | sheriff      | Seven people have been charged for buying people's votes on absentee ballots   | AP                      |  |  |  |
| East St. Louis | Missouri       | 2-Jun-05  | mayoral      | A precinct committeeman and four others are on trial, accused of using money from the County Democrats to buy votes  | St. Louis Post-Dispatch |  |  |  |
| Lenoir         | North Carolina | 9-Mar-03  | sheriff      | For $ 10, $ 20 or $ 25, dozens of people -- perhaps more than 300 -- sold their votes in a race that saw a veteran Democratic sheriff turned out of office. The State Bureau of Investigation has been on the case for months, assigning as many as 10 agents to it. The U.S. Attorney's Office in Charlotte is also involved. So far, there have been no indictments.  | News and Observer       |  |  |  |

009515

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Vote Buying

|                            |               |           |                           |   |                              |  |  |  |
|----------------------------|---------------|-----------|---------------------------|---|------------------------------|--|--|--|
| Rosebud Indian Reservation | South Dakota  | 23-Dec-02 | US Senate                 | Republicans investigating Election Day irregularities in South Dakota based allegations of vote buying on rumors discussed on the Rosebud Indian Reservation, says David Norcross, a New Jersey lawyer who presided over the search for fraud. Republicans collected statements on a wide range of events, including accusations of people offering multiple names to vote and improper use of polling places by Democratic workers. The most serious claims, however, were three affidavits signed by Native Americans from the Mission area who said they were offered $10 to vote by the driver of a van with a Tim Johnson for Senate sign in the window. Attorney General Mark Barnett has said that two of those statements were false and the third was suspect, but not before the allegations became the basis of reports in several national media outlets. | Argus Leader                 |  |  |  |
| Pine Ridge Reservation     | South Dakota  | 2-Nov-04  | presidential              | On the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation, investigators are looking into Republican allegations of vote-buying.   | AP                           |  |  |  |
| Gregg                      | Texas         | 9-Sep-03  | constitutional amendments | DA is investigating an employer for allegedly giving concert tickets to workers who cast early ballots  | Tyler Morning Telegraph      |  |  |  |
| McAllen                    | Texas         | 20-Aug-05 | mayoral                   | Grand jury is investigating whether "politiqueras" tried to buy absentee ballots  | The Monitor                  |  |  |  |
| Hidalgo                    | Texas         | 22-Dec-05 | mayoral                   | Ten people were indicted on allegations of telling people who to vote for and unlawful solicitation of ballots for money.   | AP                           |  |  |  |
| Falfurrias                 | Texas         | 11-Sep-04 | city                      | Candidate alleges the opposing campaign bribed some voters with money, beer and cigarettes in exchange for their votes, according to his lawsuit contesting the election  | Corpus Christie Caller Times |  |  |  |
| Appalachia                 | Virginia      | 11-May-05 | council                   | State police are looking at claims that supporters of a candidate offered food, cigarettes and liquor to residents in a public housing complex for letting the supporter fill out absentee ballots for them   | The Post                     |  |  |  |
| Logan                      | West Virginia | 19-Jul-04 | federal primaries         | County sheriff pleads guilty to conspiring to buy votes in elections he was running in  | AP                           |  |  |  |
| Lincoln                    | West Virginia | 31-May-05 | primary                   | 12 people are indicted for selling their votes for $20 or $40.  | AP                           |  |  |  |
| Logan                      | West Virginia | 29-Nov-05 | various                   | Logan County Clerk plans to plead guilty to conspiring to bribe voters between 1992 and 2002. Prosecutors already have guilty pleas from the county sheriff and the police chief.   | AP                           |  |  |  |
| Logan                      | West Virginia | 2-Dec-05  | House primary             | FBI operates a sting operation by putting up a phony candidate to catch a man engaging in buying votes. Man is being tried for conspiracy to buy votes  | Washington Post              |  |  |  |

009516

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Vote Buying

|       |               |           |         |  |    |  |  |  |
|-------|---------------|-----------|---------|--|----|--|--|--|
|       |               |           |         | Thirteen people have been convicted of vote buying in the southern part of West Virginia over the last several years, including the 2004 primaries. However, the federal investigation is ongoing. In terms of cooperating witnesses, prosecutors may also continue to rely on Thomas Esposito. In an apparently unprecedented move, the FBI briefly planted the former longtime Logan mayor as a candidate in a 2004 legislative race. Evidence supplied by Esposito and his 75-day candidacy yielded December guilty pleas from two Logan County residents |    |  |  |  |
|       | West Virginia | 1-Jan-06  |         |  | AP |  |  |  |
| Hanna | Wyoming       | 27-Apr-01 | mayoral | State Division of Criminal Investigation said gratuities, such as alcoholic beverages, were allegedly offered in exchange for votes.   | AP |  |  |  |
|       |               |           |         |  |    |  |  |  |

009517

009518

009519

009520

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Vote Buying

| Resolution of incident / allegation | Source of Resolution 1 | Source of Resolution 2 |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------|------------------------|
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |
|                                     |                        |                        |

009521

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Vote Buying

|  |   |  |
|--|---|--|
|  |   |  |
|  |   |  |
|  |   |  |
| 5 Democratic operatives were convicted, four pled guilty | Belleville News Democrat (July 3, 2005) |  |
|  |   |  |

009522

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Vote Buying

|   |  |  |
|---|--|--|
| Republican attorneys fanned out across the state on Election Day to gather affidavits to show vote buying. The State Attorney General (a Republican) says that of the 50 affidavits only three alleged criminal activity, and two of those proved to be false. One person is being investigated. Two of the affidavits were found to have been forged or perjurious. Each affidavit states that the person allegedly signing it calimed to have been picked up by a van driver, offered 10 to vote, taken to the polling place and home again and again offered the 10. Most of the allegations focused on the Rosebud Reservation | 1/1/2003, Indian Country Today (Lakota Times) |  |
|   |  |  |
|   |  |  |
|   |  |  |
|   |  |  |
|   |  |  |
| A special prosecutor was named to oversee an investigation into al-legged vote buying and ballot theft in Appalachia   | Roanoke Times, September 24, 2004             |  |
|   |  |  |
|   |  |  |
|   |  |  |
|   |  |  |

009523

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Vote Buying

|  |  |                            |
|--|--|----------------------------|
|  |  |                            |
|  |  |                            |
|  |  |                            |
| 1. August 2003 two acquitted of vote buying in the primary. In June 2003 another man in Lackey was found innocent of vote buying. Two indicted in Knott County pled guilty earlier in August 2003. 15 still under indictment 2. February 3, 2004: Knott County man sentenced to 20 months in prison for vote buying in the 1998 primary. The Knott County Judge-Executive and another man were convicted October 1 of vote buying | August 16, 2003,         Courier Journal | AP February 3, 2004 |

009524

009525

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

| City/County  | State      | Date                       | Type of Election | Alleged Instance of Fraud   | Original Source                    | Source 1 | Source 2 | Source 3 |
|--------------|------------|----------------------------|------------------|---|------------------------------------|----------|----------|----------|
|              | Arkansas   | 23-Oct-02                  |                  | At least six dead people tried to register to vote, including one helped by a person also listed on campaign-spending reports as having received $100 from the state Democratic party, said Marty Ryall, Republican Party chairman. Michael Cook, executive director of the Arkansas Democratic Party, said a former staffer had hired two teenagers to register voters and that they took names directly from the phone book. He said the incident happened seven months ago and that party officials are cooperating with the U.S. Attorney's Office.                                | Washington Times                   |          |          |          |
| 0            | California | 16-May-02                  |                  | A Lafayette man has been charged with voter fraud after registering his toy poodle, Barnabas, to vote, a move he says was meant to show lax registration oversight.Donald Miller, 78, has been charged with misdemeanor voter fraud. The Contra Costa County district attorney's office found out about the stunt after reports about Barnabas being called for jury duty in March.   | AP                                 |          |          |          |
| 18th CD      | California | 3-Jun-02                   | congressional    | Several voters have said they were tricked into registering to vote as Republicans when they were told they were signing a petition to lower taxes or applying for a rebate from the power company or some other falsehood.   | Roll Call                          |          |          |          |
| Stockton     | California | 13-Jul-02                  | congressional    | A Stockton man hired to register Republican voters pleaded guilty to forging someone's name on a voter registration card. The conviction is the first arising from a Republican funded voter registration drive that Democrats allege involved fraud.   | Modesto Bee                        |          |          |          |
| Lynwood      | California | 16-Oct-03                  | city council     | Eight family members of a councilman are charged with registering at nonexistent addresses  | Los Angeles Times                  |          |          |          |
| Stockton     | California | 24-Mar-04                  | unclear          | paid worker pleads guilty to a misdemeanor charge of forging six registration cards in 2001   | Recordnet                          |          |          |          |
| Solano       | California | 20-Oct-04                  | presidential     | Solano County elections officers, suspecting fraud, have sent about 150 voter registration forms to the California Secretary of State's Office for examination.Officials say the questionable forms are the products of intense efforts by both Democrats and Republicans to register voters for the upcoming presidential election. That zeal, further fueled by cash given to so-called "bounty hunters" who sign up voters, may lead to intentional errors on voter forms, officials said - a misspelled name, a fabricated street address, a rearranged Social Security number. | Tri-Valley Herald (Pleasanton, CA) |          |          |          |
| Hayward City | California | 1-Nov-05                   | school board     | Roger Treskunoff, 51, a former school board candidate and former Hayward City Councilman was charged with creating fictitious names and registering those names as voters with the Alameda County Registrar of Voters.  | Contra Costa Times                 |          |          |          |
| San Joaquin  | California | March 24, 200; 4/6/16/2005 | state senate     | County says it is examining 1500 voter registration cards for fraud because of similar looking signatures.  | Recordnet                          |          |          |          |

009528

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|        |          |           |              |   |                              |  |  |  |
|--------|----------|-----------|--------------|---|------------------------------|--|--|--|
| Denver | Colorado | 16-Oct-04 | presidential | A worker at the Election Commission found a registration form with her own name on it. When another form was cross-referenced with Vital Records, it was found to be from a dead person. Denver workers have forwarded 200 suspicious registrants to the DA. The voter outreach coordinator says the computer immediately flags names of voters who have registered more than once. Several other counties have found suspect voter registration forms.   | Rocky Mountain News          |  |  |  |
|        | Colorado | 17-Oct-04 | presidential | The Secretary of State accused the Attorney General of not doing enough to prosecute potential ballot crimes. The Secretary confirmed that 6,000 felons are registered to vote. A Denver woman told a TV station she had registered to vote 25 times and signed up several friends up to 40 times to help her boyfriend, a paid staffer for a community group registering voters  | Atlanta Journal Constitution |  |  |  |
|        | Colorado | 18-Oct-04 | presidential | With just two weeks before the Nov. 2 election, the state has been rocked by evidence that some voter-registration drives have submitted applications with forged signatures. In other cases, would-be voters have applied to vote as many as 40 times.At the same time, some registration drives have collected applications and then failed to submit them by the Oct. 4 deadline, prompting Secretary of State Donetta Davidson to announce the use of provisional ballots last week.At yesterday's meeting with county clerks and district attorneys, Mrs. Davidson announced procedures for accepting provisional ballots, which are issued to people who say they have registered but whose names fail to appear on the voter roll. Such ballots would be marked "VRD," for "Voter Registration Drive." The would-be voter would have to produce identification and tell when and where they registered. The ballot later would be checked against the state's voter data-bases. The clerks are referring cases that appear to be blatant fraud, such as forged signatures, to the county attorneys. Bill Ritter, the Denver district attorney, said he saw no pattern of a conspiracy to cheat.But he said he saw no pattern of a conspiracy to cheat. | Washington Times             |  |  |  |
| Denver | Colorado | 28-Oct-04 | presidential | Denver prosecutors charged two people Wednesday with falsely filling out multiple voter forms to boost their pay in a paid registration drive. Criminal cases are pending against four people for questionable registrations in the metro area, and there may be more before investigations are completed.  | Rocky Mountain News          |  |  |  |
| Orange | Florida  | 31-Oct-02 | state senate | The State Attorney is investigating charges of illegal changes to party affiliations on voter registration cards for a primary. The scheme seems to have been targetted at Hispanics.   | Orlando Sentinel             |  |  |  |

009529

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|       |         |           |                          |   |                       |  |  |  |
|-------|---------|-----------|--------------------------|---|-----------------------|--|--|--|
|       | Florida | 23-Oct-04 | presidential             | Officials say that more than 4,200 students from many colleges and universities in the state had their party affiliation switched without them knowing and tricked into registering Republican when they were asked to sign an assortment of petitions and forms. Some students attributed the work to a company working for the Republican Party   | AP                    |  |  |  |
| Duval | Florida | 29-Oct-04 | presidential             | Elections officials asked prosecutors to investigate possible voter fraud involving 25 registration forms with apparently bogus addresses.  | Telegraph Herald (IA) |  |  |  |
|       | Florida | 31-Oct-04 | presidential             | Students at Florida State and Florida A&M universities, some of whom signed petitions to legalize medical marijuana or impose stiffer penalties for child molesters, unknowingly had their party registration switched to Republican and their addresses changed. Officials say students at the University of Florida in Alachua County have made similar complaints and that about 4,000 potential voters in all have been affected. Local papers have traced some of the problems to a group hired by the Florida Republican Party, which has denounced the shenanigans. Switching voters' party affiliations does not affect their ability to vote, but changing addresses does, because when voters shows up at their proper polling places, they will not be registered there. | Washington Post       |  |  |  |
|       | Florida | 15-Dec-05 | constitutional amendment | Fourteen months after a campaign to increase Florida's minimum wage drew allegations of voter fraud, a federal judge in South Florida has ruled at least some of those accusations against grass roots political group ACORN were so baseless they amount to defamation. Stuart alleged that ACORN improperly handled registration forms when it conducted voter registration drives, including not submitting Republican registrations to election officials. The judge upheld ACORN's counterclaim that Stuart's lack of evidence made his allegations libel and slander. An investigation by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement also found no evidence of criminal activity at ACORN, department officials confirmed Wednesday.   | St. Petersburg Times  |  |  |  |

009530

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|                 |           |           |               |   |                            |  |  |  |
|-----------------|-----------|-----------|---------------|---|----------------------------|--|--|--|
| Fulton County   | Georgia   | 4-Nov-05  | presidential  | The U.S. attorney for Georgia's Northern District is investigating the circumstances surrounding more than 2,400 "entirely fraudulent" voter registration applications submitted to Fulton County prior to the November 2004 elections, county elections officials say. Most of those suspect applications were submitted to the Georgia Secretary of State in September 2004 by the Georgia Coalition for the Peoples' Agenda, according to Atlanta attorney Harry W. MacDougald, a member of the Fulton County Board of Registration and Elections. Details of the federal investigation surfaced as part of litigation that challenges as unconstitutional Georgia's new voter photo identification law. Common Cause v. Billups. No. 4:05CV201 (N.D. Ga.). MacDougald made the investigation public in an affidavit submitted on behalf of defendants in the case | Fulton County Daily Report |  |  |  |
| Chicago         | Illinois  | 12-Mar-04 | primary       | Chicago election officials say as many as 2,000 fraudulent voter registrations have turned up in advance of Tuesday's primary election. Two suspects are under investigation, the Chicago Tribune said, both of whom gathered registrations on behalf of the Puerto Rico Federal Affairs Administration.  | UPI                        |  |  |  |
| East St. Louis  | Illinois  | 30-Oct-04 | supreme court | Illinois Republicans on Friday urged officials to look into "potential instances of massive voter fraud" in East St. Louis, showing pictures of an East St. Louis Democratic precinct committeemen's home that dozens of people registered to vote have listed as their address. But it turns out that that address and another called into question aren't single-family homes but are boarding houses or apartments that may house dozens of people.  | St. Louis Post Dispatch    |  |  |  |
| Anderson        | Indiana   | 11-Mar-04 | unclear       | Voter registered under the address of his rental property in another town faces perjury charges   | WishTV                     |  |  |  |
| St. Martinville | Louisiana | 17-Jul-03 | city council  | 5 people are arraigned on charges of including false information on their voter registration cards  | Daily Advertiser           |  |  |  |
| St. Martinville | Louisiana | 17-Dec-03 | city council  | City Councilwoman indicted for submitting false information to register to vote during her re-election campaign and persuaded three people not in the district to fill out registration forms; the voters were charged as well  | 2 The Advocate             |  |  |  |
|                 | Maryland  | 17-Jun-01 |               | An 82-year-old woman signed her dog's name on a voter registration card to test the system. No charges were filed.  | Washington Post            |  |  |  |
| Lansing         | Michigan  | 28-Oct-04 | presidential  | Ingham County sheriff's detectives have turned over to prosecutors the findings of their investigation into hundreds of phony voter registration forms from a state advocacy group. It appeared that some PIRGIM workers went through a Lansing phone book and forged people's signatures on forms  | Lansing State Journal      |  |  |  |
| Coates          | Minnesota | 31-Oct-02 | all           | 94 voter registration forms had false addresses matching a strip club   | Washington Times           |  |  |  |

009531

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|             |           |           |  |   |                              |  |  |  |
|-------------|-----------|-----------|--|---|------------------------------|--|--|--|
| Minneapolis | Minnesota | 17-Oct-04 | presidential   | A former ACORN official arrested for running a stop sign had 300 voter registration forms, some of them months old, in his trunk. State law requires they be submitted to the secretary of state within 10 days.  | Atlanta Journal Constitution |  |  |  |
| St. Louis   | Missouri  | 7-Mar-01  | city   | St. Louis Prosecutor Jennifer Joyce convened a grand jury that is investigating 3,800 suspect voter registration cards, including several for dead aldermen. The cards were turned in Feb. 7, the deadline to register voters. Joyce said there have been no indictments.   | St. Louis Post-Dispatch      |  |  |  |
| St. Louis   | Missouri  | 17-Apr-01 | presidentialgeneral electionand mayoralprimary | FBI subpoenas election board records on all people who registered to vote, cast ballots, was turned away at the polls, or whose voter registration was rejected from October 1 [2000] through March 6 [2001]; Senator Bond calls for further investigations because his office learned from state election officials that 24,000 registered voters in the city and 33,000 voters in the county were registered to vote somewhere else | St. Louis Post-Dispatch      |  |  |  |
| St. Louis   | Missouri  | 17-Dec-04 | mayoral  | Six plead guilty to dozens of crimes involving falsifying voter registration forms  | St. Louis Post Dispatch      |  |  |  |
|             | Nevada    | 17-Oct-04 | presidential   | Democrats said Voters Outreach of America, a Republican funded registration group run by Sprouls & Associates, destroyed Democratic voter registration forms. A former employee of the group told a Nevada TV station that registrations collected from Democrats had been destroyed instead of filed with the elections office. The head of the company denied the accusations   | Atlanta Journal Constitution |  |  |  |

009532

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|                   |                |           |                |  |                      |  |  |  |
|-------------------|----------------|-----------|----------------|--|----------------------|--|--|--|
| Clark County      | Nevada         | 31-Oct-04 | presidential   | Voting Registrar Lomax said he found that canvassers returned stacks of 1,000 completed registration forms that often contained 30 to 50 applications filled out in the same handwriting. Lomax had no total figure for such fraudulent registrations. He also found that canvassers registered the same individuals several times over the span of a week. Some legitimately registered voters called to ask why they were getting registration forms--with their party affiliation changed, Lomax said. Apparently some canvassers went through the phone book and reregistered people without their consent, listing their parties incorrectly, Lomax said. Though registration drive organizers told Lomax's office that canvassers were paid by the hour, many canvassers told his staff and even provided pay stubs that showed they were paid $2 for every completed registration form they collected in malls, stores and neighborhoods, Lomax said. "They were on both sides. It wasn't just Democrats, it wasn't just Republicans," Lomax said. "The money was clearly the root of all evil here. They were paying people to register the voters." | Chicago Tribune      |  |  |  |
|                   | New Mexico     | 10-Sep-04 |                | US Attorney forms a task force after finding two teenagers registered to vote  | Albuquerque Journal  |  |  |  |
| Bernalillo County | New Mexico     | 15-Sep-04 | presidential   | Three Republican candidates want to examine all voter registration forms sub-mitted by a woman who, while working for a group that signs up new voters, reg-istered a 13-year-old New Mexico boy.  | AP                   |  |  |  |
|                   | New York       | 19-Sep-02 | gubernatorial  | Dead voters were among the thousands of flawed voter registrations submitted by campaign workers of Governor Pataki during an enrollment drive, New York City officials determined   | Poughkeepsie Journal |  |  |  |
| Bronx             | New York       | 23-Jun-03 | gubernatorial  | Bronx DA and a grand jury investigate whether Rikers Island supervisors filled out registration cards in the names of inmates (such inmates are eligible to vote)  | Newsday              |  |  |  |
| Queens            | New York       | 15-Sep-04 | state assembly | About 100 people in the Flushing area gave commercial addresses on voter registration forms, raising suspicion at polling sites yesterday that may cast a shadow over the assembly race.   | Newsday              |  |  |  |
| Greensboro        | North Carolina | 6-Dec-01  |                | Imtiaz Ahmed Siddiqui pleaded guilty Thursday to voter fraud in a brief fed-eral court hearing that included no mention of the allegation that he may be ac-quainted with terrorists. Siddiqui, 31, answering questions in halting English, admitted he signed a voter registration form that identified him as a U.S. citizen when he got a driver's license in Durham in August. He is a citizen of Pakistan.  | AP                   |  |  |  |

009533

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|                    |                |           |              |  |                     |  |  |  |
|--------------------|----------------|-----------|--------------|--|---------------------|--|--|--|
| Charlotte          | North Carolina | 24-Oct-04 | presidential | Officials are investigating ACORN because an ACORN organizer found that one of its workers had faked about 70 registrations. The worker was fired and the information turned over to the state board. A similar problem with a consumer interest group in Wake County has also been turned over to state officials   | Charlotte Observer  |  |  |  |
|                    | North Carolina | 24-Oct-04 |              | The Charlotte Observer found more than 60,000 people who appear to be registered in both Carolinas. Alamance County Sheriff says illegal immigrants are registering to vote using false documents at drivers license offices. North Carolina is investigating two groups that may have falsely registered new voters. Some are worried that noncitizens could vote because in North Carolina one can get a drivers license without a social security number. The Elections division and the DMV ran two checks of people who received drivers licenses without proof of citizenship and found only a handful who had registered to vote. | AP                  |  |  |  |
| Mecklenburg County | North Carolina | 28-Sep-05 |              | Mecklenburg County commissioner Bill James and Libertarian Lewis Guignard formally challenged the registration of more than 400 homeless voters Tuesday, saying they had improperly registered using commercial addresses. James and Guignard said the 464 voters challenged in their complaint incorrectly used the addresses of the Urban Ministries at 945 N. College St., the Charlotte Rescue Mission at 907 W. First St. or the Salvation Army at 534 Spratt St. to register, even though those are commercial addresses where the voters could not permanently live.  | Charlotte Observer  |  |  |  |
| Cincinnati         | Ohio           | 20-Aug-03 | city council | More than 70 people have claimed a Walnut Hills tailoring shop as their home address while registering to vote, leading the Hamilton County Board of Elections to subpoena the tailor, who is a candidate for Cincinnati City Council.   | Cincinnati Enquirer |  |  |  |
| Franklin           | Ohio           | 8-Sep-04  | presidential | A part-time worker for ACORN was indicted for falsely filling out and signing a voter registration card  | Columbus Dispatch   |  |  |  |
|                    | Ohio           | 15-Oct-04 | presidential | In Hamilton County, the Board of Elections has subpoenaed 19 registered voters who elections officials don't believe exist. The Summit County Board of Elections in Akron has asked Ohio Attorney General Jim Petro to investigate 803 allegedly fraudulent voter-registration cards, many of which appeared to be in the same handwriting. In Lake County, east of Cleveland, several voter-registration cards seem to have forged signatures, elections officials say.   | Cincinnati Enquirer |  |  |  |

009534

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|          |        |           |              |   |                              |  |  |  |
|----------|--------|-----------|--------------|---|------------------------------|--|--|--|
|          |        |           |              |   |                              |  |  |  |
|          | Ohio   | 20-Oct-04 | presidential | State GOP Chair says that the party tried to contact 231,834 new registrants in the five largest counties and had 5.7% returned as undeliverable.   | Columbus Dispatch            |  |  |  |
| Defiance | Ohio   | 31-Oct-04 | presidential | The sheriff arrested a man for submitting 130 phony registration forms with such names as Mary Poppins and Dick Tracy. Authorities say he confessed to being paid in crack cocaine by an NAACP volunteer.   | Dallas Morning News          |  |  |  |
| Parma    | Ohio   | 9-Jan-05  | presidential | Three police officers are being investigated on accusations that they listed police headquarters as their home addresses when registering for the Nov. 2 election, officials said.  | AP                           |  |  |  |
|          | Oregon | 17-Oct-04 | presidential | The Secretary of State announced an investigation into allegations that a paid canvasser with Sproul & Associates had been told to register only Republicans. The head of the organization denied the accusations.  | Atlanta Journal Constitution |  |  |  |
|          | Oregon | 30-Oct-04 | presidential | Chemeketa community colleges, Western Oregon University and the University of Oregon all told similar stories: They were approached on campus and asked to sign a petition, often urging lower auto-mobile insurance rates for students, and then asked to sign or initial a second document, which turned out to be a voter registration card. Many of the students were urged to mark Republican as their party affiliation; others were told to leave the party affiliation section blank but to put their initials next to Republican on that part of the form. Many of the students already were registered voters. Some students didn't realize they were registering to vote, or that their party affiliation was about to change. Nathan Sproul, whose company conducted the registration drive, did not respond to calls seeking comment. His firm has been accused of using similar tactics involving bogus petitions at colleges in Pennsylvania, according to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. In an earlier interview with The Oregonian, Sproul confirmed that his canvassers are paid a "bounty" | Newhouse News Service        |  |  |  |

009535

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|                 |              |           |                   |  |                           |  |  |  |
|-----------------|--------------|-----------|-------------------|--|---------------------------|--|--|--|
|                 | Pennsylvania | 25-Oct-04 | presidential      | Republicans mailed letters to 130,000 people who had registered to vote in the last 6 months. 10,000 came back as undeliverable. The legal counsel to the state party said Republicans had looked at a sample of the letters and found 15 of 100 of the registrants were dead. The director of a nonpartisan organization says in a transient city many people may have moved over a six month period, and many letters might not have reached people living in shelters or substandard housing. | Philadelphia Inquirer     |  |  |  |
| Allegheny       | Pennsylvania | 28-Oct-04 | presidential      | County investigators have launched an investigation into a scam in which University of Pittsburgh and Community College of Allegheny County students believed they were signing petitions to legalize marijuana for medical use, only to find themselves registered as Republicans.  | Pittsburgh Tribune Review |  |  |  |
| East Providence | Rhode Island | 20-Aug-05 | town primary      | Four people charged with using business addresses to register to vote  | Pawtucket Times           |  |  |  |
| East Providence | Rhode Island | 2-Dec-05  | municipal         | Nine people are accused of registering at business addresses. Charges against two are dropped because they did not sign the registration cards. Three other defendants have been invited to apply to the adult diversion program. Arraignments were postponed for four others. October 30, 2004: As many as 287 people were originally suspected.  | Providence Journal        |  |  |  |
| Rapid City      | South Dakota | 19-Oct-02 | unclear           | forged registration applications by a worker being paid by the application   | Argus Leader              |  |  |  |
|                 | South Dakota | 21-Oct-02 | statewide         | Several counties, almost all of them adjoining an American Indian reservation, submit questionable registration forms to law enforcement   | Argus Leader              |  |  |  |
| Rapid City      | South Dakota | 12-Jul-03 | unclear           | Individual reaches plea agreement for falsifying registration cards  | Midwest News              |  |  |  |
| Codington       | South Dakota | 28-Jul-04 |                   | A Phoenix man accused of forging voter registration forms in Codington County has been sentenced to prison. Howard L. Brewer, 44, pleaded guilty last month to three counts of forgery. He was charged after the county auditor's office received an envelope in April that contained 20 voter registrations. Eight to 10 of the forms were suspicious.  | AP                        |  |  |  |
| Harris          | Texas        | 5-Feb-05  | state legislature | County Tax Assessor-Collector alleges 157 registered had false addresses. County officials are investigating   | Houston Chronicle         |  |  |  |
| Prince William  | Virginia     | 5-May-05  | state legislature | Candidate charged with lying on a registration card and voting in a district where he did not reside.  | Washington Times          |  |  |  |

009536

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|           |           |           |              |  |                            |  |  |  |
|-----------|-----------|-----------|--------------|--|----------------------------|--|--|--|
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin | 31-Oct-04 | presidential | Citing a new list of more than 37,000 questionable addresses, the state Republican Party demanded that city officials require identification from all of those voters. If the city doesn't, the party says it is prepared to have volunteers challenge each individual -- including thousands who might be missing an apartment number on their registration - at the polls. Democrats say this is a last minute effort to suppress turnout by creating long delays at the polls. This is in addition to the 5,619 bad addresses the party claimed. The state GOP chair said they had just focussed on Milwaukee because its voter list is a mess and cause for great alarm. | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel |  |  |  |
| Madison   | Wisconsin | 10-May-05 | presidential | The vast majority of voters alleged to have been phantoms because their verification forms were returned as undeliverable really exist and their cards were returned because of innocent mistakes in filling out voter registration forms. Of 1,194 verification cards returned, 16 are still be examined  | Wisconsin State Journal    |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin | 11-May-05 | presidential | Arrest warrants issued and felony charges filed against two workers for Project Vote who admitted to filling out multiple registration cards using fictitious information to earn money  | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel |  |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin | 6-Dec-05  | presidential | County DA charges two people affiliated with ACORN for filing false voter registrations  | AP                         |  |  |  |

009537

009538

009539

009540

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

| Resolution of Incident/Allegation  | Source of Resolution 1 | Source of Resolution 2 |
|--|------------------------|------------------------|
|  |                        |                        |
|  |                        |                        |
|  |                        |                        |
|  |                        |                        |
|  |                        |                        |
|  |                        |                        |
|  |                        |                        |
| June 2005: Paid worker charged with five felony counts of forging voter registration cards (none resulted in fraudulent votes) | Modesto Bee            |                        |

009541

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009543

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009524

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|   |  |  |
|---|--|--|
|   |  |  |
| Nine people are slated to be indicted today on charges of collecting or de-destroying 3,800 bogus voter registration cards that were submitted to the St. Louis Election Board on Feb. 7, 2001, the last day for registering to vote in the hotly contested mayoral primary in March. Nine people have been indicted for trying to register fraudulent voters and destroy the evidence. State registration forms now are numbered and a record is kept of which cards have gone to which groups for voter registration drives. The fake registrations are linked to four temporary workers who had been employed by ACORN. | 11/7/2003, St. Louis Post Dispatch      | 11/11/2003, St. Louis Post Dispatch |
| Three workers are charged with turning in fraudulent voter registration applications a few weeks before the mayoral primary.   | St. Louis Post-Dispatch (March 5, 2002) |  |
| Prosecutor says all the cards were caught and no one voted illegally.  | St. Louis Post-Dispatch                 |  |
|   |  |  |

009525

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009546

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|   |           |                      |
|---|-----------|----------------------|
|   |           |                      |
|   |           |                      |
|   |           |                      |
|   |           |                      |
|   |           |                      |
|   |           |                      |
| An Akron woman was charged with filling out false registration cards. She may be the only person to face criminal charges after a yearlong state and federal investigation. A task force of state, federal and local investigators was launched last year after hundreds of fake registrations were apparently filed throughout Ohio. The investigation resulted in no federal indictments. The two fake registration cards traced to the woman were turned in by Project Vote and not submitted to the Board because the organization thought they were suspicious. | 11/8/2005 | Akron Beacon Journal |

009547

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|   |                  |                             |
|---|------------------|-----------------------------|
| An Akron woman was charged with filling out false registration cards. She may be the only person to face criminal charges after a yearlong state and federal investigation. A task force of state, federal and local investigators was launched last year after hundreds of fake registrations were apparently filed throughout Ohio. The investigation resulted in no federal indictments. The two fake registration cards traced to the woman were turned in by Project Vote and not submitted to the Board because the organization thought they were suspicious. | 8-Nov-05  | Akron Beacon Journal |
| An Akron woman was charged with filling out false registration cards. She may be the only person to face criminal charges after a yearlong state and federal investigation. A task force of state, federal and local investigators was launched last year after hundreds of fake registrations were apparently filed throughout Ohio. The investigation resulted in no federal indictments. The two fake registration cards traced to the woman were turned in by Project Vote and not submitted to the Board because the organization thought they were suspicious. | 11/8/2005 | Akron Beacon Journal |
|   |                  |                             |
|   |                  |                             |
|   |                  |                             |

009548

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Voter Registration Fraud

|   |              |  |
|---|--------------|--|
|   |              |  |
|   |              |  |
|   |              |  |
|   |              |  |
| one indictment on five counts of forgery  | Argus Leader |  |
| Red Earth Villeda, a contractor for the Democratic Party, is investigated. SEE SOUTH DAKOTA SUMMARY | Argus Leader |  |
|   |              |  |
|   |              |  |
|   |              |  |
|   |              |  |

009549

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |
|  |  |  |

009550

009552

009553

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation                                 | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. Found., Inc. v. Cox | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 408 F.3d 1349; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 8320 | May 12, 2005 | Plaintiffs, a charitable foundation, four volunteers, and a registered voter, filed a suit against defendant state officials alleging violations of the National Voter Registration Act and the Voting Rights Act. The officials appealed after the United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia issued a preliminary injunction enjoining them from rejecting voter registrations submitted by the | The foundation conducted a voter registration drive; it placed the completed applications in a single envelope and mailed them to the Georgia Secretary of State for processing. Included in the batch was the voter's change of address form. Plaintiffs filed the suit after they were notified that the applications had been rejected pursuant to Georgia law, which allegedly restricted who could collect voter registration | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009554

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts       | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | foundation. | forms. Plaintiffs contended that the officials had violated the NVRA, the VRA, and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, XV. The officials argued that plaintiffs lacked standing and that the district court had erred in issuing the preliminary injunction. The court found no error. Plaintiffs had sufficiently alleged injuries under the NVRA, arising out of the rejection of the voter registration forms; the allegations in the |                              |             |                                       |

009555

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date      | Facts     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|-----------|-----------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |           |           | complaint sufficiently showed an injury--in--fact that was fairly traceable to the officials' conduct. The injunction was properly issued. There was a substantial likelihood that plaintiffs would prevail as to their claims; it served the public interest to protect plaintiffs' franchise--related rights. The court affirmed the preliminary injunction order entered by the district court. |                              |             |                                       |
| McKay v.     | United | 226 F.3d | September | Plaintiff | The trial court   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009556

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation                        | Date     | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---------------------------------|----------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Thompson     | States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 752; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 23387 | 18, 2000 | challenged order of United States District Court for Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga, which granted defendant state election officials summary judgment on plaintiff's action seeking to stop the state practice of requiring its citizens to disclose their social security numbers as a precondition to voter registration. | had granted defendant state election officials summary judgment. The court declined to overrule defendants' administrative determination that state law required plaintiff to disclose his social security number because the interpretation appeared to be reasonable, did not conflict with previous case law, and could be challenged in state court. The requirement did not violate the Privacy Act of 1974, because it |                              |             |                                       |

009557

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was grand fathered under the terms of the Act. The limitations in the National Voter Registration Act did not apply because the NVRA did not specifically prohibit the use of social security numbers and the Act contained a more specific provision regarding such use. The trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and |                              |             |                                       |

009558

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date    | Facts               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|---------|---------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |         |                     | immunities, and due process claims. Order affirmed because requirement that voters disclose social security numbers as precondition to voter registration did not violate Privacy Act of 1974 or National Voter Registration Act and trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l        | United | 150 F.   | July 5, | Plaintiff, national | Defendants  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009559

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation                                 | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|--|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Coalition for Students with Disabilities Educ. & Legal Def. Fund v. Scales | States District Court for the Southern District of Maryland | Supp. 2d 845; 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9528 | 2001 | organization for disabled students, brought an action against university president and university's director of office of disability support services to challenge the voter registration procedures established by the disability support services. Defendants moved to dismiss the first amended complaint, or in the alternative for summary judgment. | alleged that plaintiff lacked standing to represent its members, and that plaintiff had not satisfied the notice requirements of the National Voter Registration Act. Further, defendants maintained the facts, as alleged by plaintiff, did not give rise to a past, present, or future violation of the NVRA because (1) the plaintiff's members that requested voter registration services were not |                              |             |                                       |

009560

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registered students at the university and (2) its current voter registration procedures complied with NVRA. As to plaintiff's § 1983 claim, the court held that while plaintiff had alleged sufficient facts to confer standing under the NVRA, such allegations were not sufficient to support standing on its own behalf on the § 1983 claim. As to the NVRA claim, the court found that the agency practice of only offering voter |                              |             |                                       |

009561

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registration services at the initial intake interview and placing the burden on disabled students to obtain voter registration forms and assistance afterwards did not satisfy its statutory duties. Furthermore, most of the NVRA provisions applied to disabled applicants not registered at the university. Defendants' motion to dismiss first amended |                              |             |                                       |

009562

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case                               | Court  | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|--|----------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |  |                            |                   |   | complaint was granted as to the § 1983 claim and denied as to plaintiff's claims brought under the National Voter Registration Act of 1993. Defendants' alternative motion for summary judgment was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Cunningham v. Chi. Bd. of Election Comm'rs | United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois | 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2528 | February 24, 2003 | Plaintiffs, who alleged that they were duly registered voters, six of whom had signed nominating petitions for one candidate and two of whom signed | Plaintiffs argued that objections to their signatures were improperly sustained by defendants, the city board of election commissioners. Plaintiff's argued that they were   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009563

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | nominating petitions for another candidate. They first asked for a preliminary injunction of the municipal election scheduled for the following Tuesday and suggested, alternatively, that the election for City Clerk and for 4th Ward Alderman be enjoined. | registered voters whose names appeared in an inactive file and whose signatures were therefore, and improperly, excluded. The court ruled that by characterizing the claim as plaintiffs did, they sought to enjoin an election because their signatures were not counted, even though their preferred candidates were otherwise precluded from appearing on the ballot. Without regard to their likelihood of |                              |             |                                       |

009564

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | obtaining any relief, plaintiffs failed to demonstrate that they would be irreparably harmed if an injunction did not issue; the threatened injury to defendants, responsible as they were for the conduct of the municipal election, far outweighed any threatened injury to plaintiffs; and the granting of a preliminary injunction would greatly disserve the public interest. Plaintiffs' petition for |                              |             |                                       |

009565

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |   |   |                  |  | preliminary relief was denied.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Diaz v. Hood | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1111; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21445 | October 26, 2004 | Plaintiffs, unions and individuals who had attempted to register to vote, sought a declaration of their rights to vote in the November 2, 2004 general election. They alleged that defendants, state and county election officials, refused to process their voter registrations for various failures to complete the registration forms. The election officials | The putative voters sought injunctive relief requiring the election officials to register them to vote. The court first noted that the unions lacked even representative standing, because they failed to show that one of their members could have brought the case in their own behalf. The individual putative voters raised separate issues: the first had failed to verify her mental | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009566

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | moved to dismiss the complaint for lack of standing and failure to state a claim. | capacity, the second failed to check a box indicating that he was not a felon, and the third did not provide the last four digits of her social security number on the form. They claimed the election officials violated federal and state law by refusing to register eligible voters because of nonmaterial errors or omissions in their voter registration applications, and by failing to provide any notice to voter |                              |             |                                       |

009567

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | applicants whose registration applications were deemed incomplete. In the first two cases, the election official had handled the errant application properly under Florida law, and the putative voter had effectively caused their own injury by failing to complete the registration. The third completed her form and was registered, so had suffered no injury. Standing failed against the secretary of state. Motion to dismiss without |                              |             |                                       |

009568

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |  |                  |   | prejudice granted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 235 F. Supp. 2d 772; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21753 | October 22, 2002 | Plaintiff voters sued defendants, a county board of elections, a state secretary of state, and the state's attorney general, for violations of the Motor Voter Act and equal protection of the laws. Defendants moved for summary judgment. The voters also moved for summary judgment. | The board heard challenges to the voters' qualifications to vote in the county, based on the fact that the voters were transient (seasonal) rather than permanent residents of the county. The voters claimed that the board hearings did not afford them the requisite degree of due process and contravened their rights of privacy by inquiring into personal matters. As to the MVA | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009569

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | claim, the court held that residency within the precinct was a crucial qualification. One simply could not be an elector, much less a qualified elector entitled to vote, unless one resided in the precinct where he or she sought to vote. If one never lived within the precinct, one was not and could not be an eligible voter, even if listed on the board's rolls as such. The MVA did not affect the state's ability to |                              |             |                                       |

009570

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | condition eligibility to vote on residence. Nor did it undertake to regulate challenges, such as the ones presented, to a registered voter's residency ab initio. The ability of the challengers to assert that the voters were not eligible and had not ever been eligible, and of the board to consider and resolve that challenge, did not contravene the MVA. Defendants' motions for |                              |             |                                       |

009571

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |                |   | summary judgment were granted as to all claims with prejudice, except the voters' state-law claim, which was dismissed for want of jurisdiction, without prejudice.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 367 F.3d 588; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8330 | April 28, 2004 | Plaintiffs, registered voters, sued defendants, Ohio Board of Elections and Board members, alleging that Ohio Rev. Code Ann. §§ 3509.19-3509.21 violated the National Voter Registration Act, and the Equal Protection Clause | The voters contested the challenges to their registration brought under Ohio Code Rev. Ann. § 3505.19 based on Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3503.02. Specifically, the voters asserted that § 3503.02---which stated that the place | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009572

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio granted summary judgment in favor of defendants. The voters appealed. | where the family of a married man or woman resided was considered to be his or her place of residence---- violated the equal protection clause. The court of appeals found that the Board's procedures did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act because Congress did not intend to bar the removal of names from the official list of persons who were ineligible and improperly registered to vote |                              |             |                                       |

009573

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | in the first place. The National Voter Registration Act did not bar the Board's continuing consideration of a voter's residence, and encouraged the Board to maintain accurate and reliable voting rolls. Ohio was free to take reasonable steps to see that all applicants for registration to vote actually fulfilled the requirement of bona fide residence. Ohio Rev. Code Ann. |                              |             |                                       |

009574

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | § 3503.02(D) did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act. Because the Board did not raise an irrebuttable presumption in applying § 3502.02(D), the voters suffered no equal protection violation. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

009575

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case         | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Hileman v. McGinness | Court of Appeals of Illinois, Fifth District | 316 Ill. App. 3d 868; 739 N.E.2d 81; 2000 Ill. App. LEXIS 845 | October 25, 2000 | Appellant challenged the circuit court declaration that that the result of a primary election for county circuit clerk was void. | In a primary election for county circuit clerk, the parties agreed that 681 absentee ballots were presumed invalid. The ballots had been commingled with the valid ballots. There were no markings or indications on the ballots which would have allowed them to be segregated from other ballots cast. Because the ballots could not have been segregated, apportionment was the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009576

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | appropriate remedy if no fraud was involved. If fraud was involved, the election would have had to have been voided and a new election held. Because the trial court did not hold an evidentiary hearing on the fraud allegations, and did not determine whether fraud was in issue, the case was remanded for a determination as to whether fraud was evident in |                              |             |                                       |

009577

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case             | Court                     | Citation   | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------|---------------------------|--|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                          |                           |  |              |  | the electoral process. The court reversed the declaration of the trial court, holding that a determination as to whether fraud was involved in the election was necessary to a determination of whether or not a new election was required. |                              |             |                                       |
| DeFabio v. Gummersheimer | Supreme Court of Illinois | 192 Ill. 2d 63; 733 N.E.2d 1241; 2000 Ill. LEXIS 993 | July 6, 2000 | Appellant challenged the judgment of the appellate court, which affirmed the trial court's decision granting appellee's summary judgment motion in action brought by | Appellee filed a petition for election contest, alleging that the official results of the Monroe County coroners election were invalid because none of the 524 ballots cast in  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | appellee to contest the results of the election for the position of county coroner in Monroe County. | Monroe County's second precinct were initialed by an election judge, in violation of Illinois law. The trial court granted appellee's motion for summary judgment, and the appellate court affirmed the judgment. The Illinois supreme court affirmed, noting that statutes requiring election judges to initial election ballots were mandatory, and uninitialed |                              |             |                                       |

009579

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballots could not have been counted, even where the parties agreed that there was no knowledge of fraud or corruption. Thus, the supreme court held that the trial court properly invalidated all of the ballots cast in Monroe County's second precinct. The court reasoned that none of the ballots contained the requisite initialing, and neither party argued that any |                              |             |                                       |

009580

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | of the uninitialed ballots could have been distinguished or identified as absentee ballots. The supreme court affirmed the judgment because the Illinois statute requiring election judges to initial election ballots was mandatory, and uninitialed ballots could not have been counted, even where the parties agreed that there was no knowledge of fraud or corruption. |                              |             |                                       |

009581

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Absentee Balloting

| City/County              | State       | Date      | Type of Election                  | Alleged instance of fraud  | Original Source           | Source 1 | Source 2 | Source 3 | Resolution of incident / allegation | Source of Resolution 1 | Source of Resolution 2 |
|--------------------------|-------------|-----------|-----------------------------------|--|---------------------------|----------|----------|----------|-------------------------------------|------------------------|------------------------|
| Phillips                 | Arkansas    | 2-Nov-02  | primary                           | The sanitation director for Helena, the Phillips County seat, admitted in court to illegally casting more than 25 absentee ballots in the Democratic primary in May.   | Arkansas Democrat-Gazette |          |          |          |                                     |                        |                        |
| South Gate               | California  | 28-Jan-03 | Treasurer and city council recall | Supporters of the recall, which is being led by the city's two police unions, say city employees have been illegally filling out absentee ballots against the recall.  | Los Angeles Times         |          |          |          |                                     |                        |                        |
| Bridgeport               | Connecticut | 6-Sep-02  |                                   | Election officials found an absentee ballot application for someone who is dead  | Connecticut Post          |          |          |          |                                     |                        |                        |
| Bridgeport and New Haven | Connecticut | 4-Nov-02  | probate judge                     | FBI is investigating potential absentee ballot fraud in Bridgeport Democratic primary and two men face absentee ballot charges involving 2 New Haven primaries   | Connecticut Post          |          |          |          |                                     |                        |                        |
| Hartford                 | Connecticut | 12-Aug    | state legislature                 | former state representative is charged with seven counts of absentee ballot fraud for absentee ballot coercion in a particular apartment complex   | Hartford Courant          |          |          |          |                                     |                        |                        |
| Bridgeport               | Connecticut | 3-Dec-03  | town committee                    | The elections commission wants four brothers to be charged with fraudulent voting for allegedly submitting illegal absentee ballots in the March 2002 Democratic Town Committee primary. The commission alleges that none of the brothers lived in Bridgeport when they voted in those city elections. | Connecticut Post          |          |          |          |                                     |                        |                        |
| Smyrna                   | Delaware    | 3-Aug-05  | town                              | A challenger to the mayor who lost by 2 votes is suing the mayor for personally delivering absentee ballots to minority residents, some of whom were not eligible to vote  | The News Journal          |          |          |          |                                     |                        |                        |
| Winter Garden            | Florida     | 5-Mar-02  | city commissioner                 | Four are charged with forging names on absentee ballots  | AP                        |          |          |          |                                     |                        |                        |
| Volusia                  | Florida     | 3-Oct-03  | city                              | Elections officials inquire into 43 absentee ballot request forms with the wrong date of birth and 3 requests with forged signatures   | Orlando Sentinel          |          |          |          |                                     |                        |                        |
| Winter Haven             | Florida     | 6-Jan-04  | town                              | criminal complaint filed against woman for voting by absentee ballot when she did not live in the district   | Polk Online               |          |          |          |                                     |                        |                        |

009582

Deliberative Process
Privilege

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Absentee Balloting

|              |          |           |              |  |                        |  |  |  |  |  |                                    |                                    |
|--------------|----------|-----------|--------------|--|------------------------|--|--|--|--|--|------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Hialeah      | Florida  | 21-Mar-04 | city council | Miami-Dade public corruption detectives fanned across Hialeah on Friday, questioning employees of the city's public housing agency, as well as friends and relatives of politicians aligned with Mayor Raul Martinez. Sources close to the investigation say those interviewed were asked about their alleged handling of absentee ballots gathered from voters - many of them elderly - in the city's public housing units. | Miami Herald           |  |  |  |  | A special state prosecutor said he found no evidence of election fraud after a yearlong investigation of absentee voting at the Hialeah Housing Authority during that city's 2003 elections  | Miami Herald, May 11, 2005         |                                    |
| Orlando      | Florida  | 5-Mar-05  | mayoral      | A grand jury is investigating the possible mishandling of absentee ballots by a minority voting advocate who has worked for many campaigns   | Orlando Sentinel       |  |  |  |  | All charges are dropped. Democrats allege the whole case was politically motivated; Florida prosecutors dropped a case charging the mayor with paying a campaign worker to collect absentee ballots. Three others indicted on the same charge were also cleared. | April 21, 2005Orlando Sentinel | April 21, 2005, The New York Times |
| Cook         | Illinois | 15-Mar-02 | state        | ACORN alleges that a man went to a senior citizen home and voted the seniors' absentee ballots   | Chicago Sun-Times      |  |  |  |  |  |                                    |                                    |
| Calumet City | Illinois | 3-Sep-03  | mayoral      | A county judge threw out and reversed an election because of absentee coercion of disabled voters  | Chicago Tribune        |  |  |  |  |  |                                    |                                    |
| Marion       | Indiana  | 1-Nov-02  | county       | The county prosecutor is investigating absentee ballots in which signatures don't match, voter's names were misspelled, and correction fluid was used to change te address   | Indianapolis Star      |  |  |  |  |  |                                    |                                    |
| Madison      | Indiana  | 29-Apr-03 | primary      | State police are investigating whether Democratic primary absentee ballots were delivered to nursing homes that traditionally vote Republican  | Herald Bulletin        |  |  |  |  |  |                                    |                                    |
| Lake         | Indiana  | 11-Jul-03 | town         | Allegations are made of absentee ballots from voters who moved and forged signatures by one person. Case will be heard by a county judge   | Northwest Indiana News |  |  |  |  |  |                                    |                                    |
| Porter       | Indiana  | 31-Mar-04 | town         | Elections board investigates allegations that two ineligible voters voted by bsentee ballots   | Northwest Indiana News |  |  |  |  |  |                                    |                                    |
| East Chicago | Indiana  | 23-Jun-04 | mayoral      | The Indiana Supreme Court is considering whether to order a special mayoral election. The losing candidate claims he would have won if not for hundreds of fraudulent absentee votes cast for his opponent, including some cast on behalf of dead voters   | AP                     |  |  |  |  |  |                                    |                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Absentee Balloting

|              |             |                                |                 |  |                        |  |  |   |   |  |   |
|--------------|-------------|--------------------------------|-----------------|--|------------------------|--|--|---|---|--|---|
| Anderson     | Indiana     | 11-Dec-04                      | mayoral         | The longtime Democratic Party chairman in Madison County is accused of illegally delivering absentee ballots cast by two Anderson residents. Another man is accused of 17 Class D felony charges for allegedly registering absentee voters, then telling them how to vote and picking up their ballots. A woman is accused of completing an absentee ballot in September 2003 that listed an address where she did not live. | Indianapolis Star      |  |  |   |   |  |   |
| East Chicago | Indiana     | August 6, 2003, August 8, 2003 | mayoral primary | It is alleged that city workers were asked to vote absentee, acquire absentee applications, and given paid election day positions for bringing in absentee votes   | Northwest Indiana News |  |  | four people indicted, one for receiving absentee ballots for people ineligible to vote, one for failing to appear before the grand jury, and two for voter fraud and lying to the grand jury; county judges tosses out 155 absentee ballots but this does not change the election outcome; DOJ begins investigating | WISH TV, November 18, 2003; Northwest Indiana Times, January 21, 2004     |  | Post Tribune, December 15, 2005: two Democratic precinct committeement and three people with ties to a city contractor were charged with pressuring acquaintances to fill out absentee ballots. This brings the total number of people charged to 22 (See East Chicago summary) |
|              | Maine       | 13-Feb-04                      | state house     | Police have begun investigating allegations that elderly voters were pressured into casting absentee ballots for a Green Independent candidate in Maine's special election. Chief Roger Beaupre said Thursday his department has received 10 complaints of voter intimidation from elderly voters who were told votes for candidates other than Green Independent candidate Dorothy Lafortune did not count.                 | AP                     |  |  |   |   |  |   |
| River Rouge  | Michigan    | 4-Apr-01                       | mayoral         | state police investigating absentee coercion in a senior apartment building  | Yahoo News             |  |  |   |   |  |   |
| Detroit      | Michigan    | 8-Nov-05                       | mayoral         | A lawsuit alleges the City Clerk's assistants have allowed voters to fill out ballots in group settings, didn't sign their names on ballot envelopes and advertised their services in nursing homes. She also sent 130,000 unsolicited absentee ballot applications defying a court order.   | Detroit Free Press     |  |  | County Circuit Court judge ruled the Clerk violated the law; There is an election contest and a federal investigation involving irregularities with absentee ballots.   | November 9, 2005 Detroit Free Press; November 24, 2005 Detroit Free Press |  |   |
| Houston      | Mississippi | 10-Nov-05                      | mayoral         | Candidate files a complaint alleging 59 absentee ballots are questionable. He produced a letter from two elderly absentee voters saying they were given plates of food in exchange for allowing his opponent to fill out their ballots.  | AP                     |  |  |   |   |  |   |

009584

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Absentee Balloting

|                |            |           |                                    |  |                       |  |  |  |  |                                |  |  |
|----------------|------------|-----------|------------------------------------|--|-----------------------|--|--|--|--|--------------------------------|--|--|
|                | Missouri   | 19-Sep-04 | gubernatorial                      | The state Democratic Party accused Republicans of coercion when they asked county clerks to send the names of people who had requested absentee ballots  | AP                    |  |  |  |  |                                |  |  |
| East St. Louis | Missouri   | 5-Jan-05  | city                               | investigations by the state attorney and the FBI into unspecified absentee ballot fraud  | Post Dispatch         |  |  |  |  |                                |  |  |
| Tonopah        | Nevada     | 23-Oct-02 | local general and primary election | The FBI investigates questionable absentee ballot requests   | Pahrump Valley Times  |  |  |  |  |                                |  |  |
| Las Vegas      | Nevada     | 26-Apr-03 | assembly                           | Man is indicted because he voted other people's ballots using absentee voter forms for people who lived outside the district.  | AP                    |  |  |  |  |                                |  |  |
| Atlantic City  | New Jersey | 31-Oct-01 | Mayoral                            | Mayor Whelan's campaign has alleged that street operatives for the mayor's challenger, Councilman Lorenzo Langford, tricked voters into requesting absentee ballots and then went to their homes to bully them into filling the ballots out for Langford. The Whelan campaign has also alleged that Langford has stockpiled absentee ballots to fill out fraudulently. The Langford campaign yesterday denounced Whelan's actions as a means of suppressing voter rights and said it would file a federal civil-rights lawsuit this week.                          | Philadelphia Inquirer |  |  |  |  |                                |  |  |
| Palisades Park | New Jersey | 6-Nov-02  |                                    | The Deputy Attorney General said in a court filing that the prosecutor is investigating four types of irregularities: "1) improprieties in the manner in which voters requested absentee ballots; 2) instances where the voter has stated that they received assistance in voting but that fact is not noted on the voter certification; 3) instances where the absentee ballot was delivered to the Board of Elections by a person other than the one to whom the voter gave the ballot; 4) instances where the voter gave an unmarked ballot to another person." | The Record            |  |  |  | 276 absentee ballots from the 2002 election in Palisades Park are still impounded in the office of Patricia DiCostanzo, the Bergen County superintendent of elections. | October 4, 2004,The Record |  |  |
| Atlantic City  | New Jersey | 9-Jul-03  | county primary                     | Board of elections requests an inquiry into alleged forged absentee ballots  | Atlantic County News  |  |  |  |  |                                |  |  |
| Passaic        | New Jersey | 22-Sep-04 | county                             | The FBI is investigating charges that voters targeted by a Democratic campaign had their signatures forged or had been pressured or misled into voting absentee  | Heral News (Passaic)  |  |  |  |  |                                |  |  |

009585

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Absentee Balloting

|                    |                |           |                      |  |                             |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|--------------------|----------------|-----------|----------------------|--|-----------------------------|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|
|                    | New Jersey     | 4-Oct-04  |                      | In the city of Passaic, three dozen voters claimed they'd been victims of absentee ballot fraud in 2003.   | The Record                  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Albany County      | New York       | 8-Mar-04  | special primaries    | 131 absentee ballots were delivered by a ward leader, leading to vague allegations of coercion. All absentee ballots and machines impounded under a court order  | Albany Times Union          |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Albany County      | New York       | 10-Mar-04 | county legislature   | One person filled in more than 140 signed absentee ballot applications, and there were other administrative errors in absentee ballot distribution and return. The candidates made a deal before the judge ruled on the case to have a special election; the absentee ballots are not counted  | Albany Times Union          |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Haskell            | Oklahoma       | 7-Nov-02  | district attorney    | An absentee ballot scandal is being investigated in Haskell County, where one man allegedly admitted notarizing 42 absentee ballots without having the voters present while another man helped him, the District Attorney said.  | Dañy Oklahoman              |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Providence         | Rhode Island   | 23-Aug-02 | mayoral              | Elderly woman says strangers coerced her into giving them her ballot   | Providence Journal-Bulletin |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Senate District 30 | South Carolina | 27-Sep-04 | state senate primary | A person with connections to the Williams campaign nicknamed "The Voter Man" convinced elderly voters, some living in residential care facilities, to fill out absentee ballot registration forms. Some say they never received a ballot, even though records indicate a ballot was cast in their names.* At least one staff member at a Mullins care facility said non-communicative Alzheimer's patients were coaxed into casting absentee ballots.* Another person with ties to the Williams campaign turned in nearly 60 ab-sentee ballots to election officials, many from elderly voters. While not tech-nically illegal, the volume of absentee votes raised eyebrows within the Norwood campaign. As a result of suspected fraud the party ordered a new election and the cases are being criminally investigated. | The State                   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |

009586

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Nexis Articles - Absentee Balloting

|             |              |           |                  |   |                          |  |  |  |  |   |  |  |
|-------------|--------------|-----------|------------------|---|--------------------------|--|--|--|--|---|--|--|
|             | South Dakota | 20-Oct-02 | statewide        | several counties forward questionable absentee ballot requests  | Angus Leader             |  |  |  | October 25, 2002: Red Earth Villeda, a former Democratic contractor is investigated; October 27, 2002: State and federal agents target 25 South Dakota counties; October 31, 2002: no illegally cast ballots are found (see South Dakota summary)  | Argus Leader                                |  |  |
| Shannon     | South Dakota | 30-Oct-04 | presidential     | The prosecutor in Fall River County says he will investigate possible multiple voting by absentee ballot. The multiple ballots were cast by fewer than 10 people  | AP                       |  |  |  |  |   |  |  |
| Sioux Falls | South Dakota | 2-Nov-04  | senatorial       | Three former Republican notary publics pled guilty to signing absentee ballots without witnessing the signatures. Three other former GOP workers are charged, as is one Daschle staff person accused of not being present for two notary applications. Officials say none of the incidents affected any votes | AP                       |  |  |  | A fourth former employee of the South Dakota Republican Party's get-out-the-vote operation has pleaded guilty to improperly notarizing absentee-ballot re-quests, and another who had pleaded not guilty will appear in court next week to change his plea. Six workers for the GOP Victory effort resigned last month after questions surfaced about some absentee-ballot applications collected at college campuses across the state. Charges were filed after officials said the workers notarized applications collected by other workers, violating a state law that requires notaries to witness documents being signed before they can give them their official seal. | November 4, 2004, Argus Leader              |  |  |
| Dallas      | Texas        | 10-May-01 | district council | Both candidates accuse the other manipulating the absentee ballot votes of senior citizens  | Dallas Observer          |  |  |  |  |   |  |  |
| Dallas      | Texas        | 16-May-01 | city council     | Several affidavits alleging mail-in voter fraud have been submitted to the Dallas County district attorney's office, according to election officials. But prosecutors have declined to comment about whether those allegations, or any others, would result in a criminal complaint.                          | Dallas Morning News      |  |  |  | A voter fraud investigation has resulted in the indictment of a Dallas woman who is accused of filling out a mail-in ballot in May without the voter's permission, a Dallas prosecutor said Tuesday.   | February 13, 2002, Fort-Worth Star Telegram |  |  |
| Dallas      | Texas        | 27-Jul-02 | district council | A candidate for the council alleged three campaign workers spent Friday reviewing mail-in ballots and applications for the ballots and found at least 69 that they believe might have forged signatures on either document.   | Fort Worth Star-Telegram |  |  |  |  |   |  |  |
| Dallas      | Texas        | 22-Apr-03 | city council     | A candidate submitted 12 absentee ballot applications with forged signatures. The DA is investigating.  | Dallas Morning News      |  |  |  |  |   |  |  |

009587

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Absentee Balloting

|         |       |           |  |   |                          |  |  |  |   |                          |  |  |
|---------|-------|-----------|--|---|--------------------------|--|--|--|---|--------------------------|--|--|
| Hearne  | Texas | 18-Oct-03 | municipal                                    | Man fined and sentenced to five years probation for voting in the names of three dozen other people by absentee ballot. He is the fifth person to plead guilty to similar charges brought by a grand jury in August. 17 were indicted.  | Houston Chronicle        |  |  |  |   |                          |  |  |
| Hearne  | Texas | 28-Dec-03 | mayoral                                      | 30 people were indicted for forged absentee ballot applications and sending in multiple absentee ballots  | Star Telegram            |  |  |  |   |                          |  |  |
| El Paso | Texas | 12-Feb-04 | water board                                  | Several mail in ballot requests appeared to be filled out by the same person and a few were in the names of dead people. A precinct chairwoman was charged with four counts of tampering with government records  | Assoc Press              |  |  |  | Five people have been charged with sending in absentee ballot applications in the names of other people | 2/13/2004, El Paso Times |  |  |
| Hidalgo | Texas | 3-Mar-04  | miscellaneous, from congress to judge's race | Complaints were made to the Board of Elections against workers for several campaigns of irregularities concerning absentee ballots, including coercion of elderly voters, a complaint that someone requested an absentee ballot for a dead voter; four people said their ballots were already sealed when they received them, and a voter whose absentee ballot that was sent elsewhere   | The Monitor              |  |  |  |   |                          |  |  |
| Bexar   | Texas | 25-Mar-04 | congressional                                | The names of 42 deceased people, most of whom lived on the South Side, appeared on applications for mail-in ballots that were submitted to election officials for the primaries. A computer at the Bexar County elections office flagged the applications and the district attorney's office is investigating. No ballots appear to have been sent to a dead person as a result of the applications, election officials have said. However, the applications were cited by Henry Cuellar - a Democratic candidate for the District 28 congressional seat who lost by 145 votes - as one of several concerns that persuaded him to call for a recount this week. The list of applicants includes next-door neighbors, people who never voted when they were alive, and two who died in 1988. All but one bear the deceased's correct voter registration number. Each had the correct address and voting precinct, and all indicated the voter was older than 65, which is one of the reasons individuals may obtain a mail-in ballot. But whoever filled out many of the applications didn't alter his or her hand | San Antonio Express-News |  |  |  |   |                          |  |  |

009588

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Absentee Balloting

|                   |       |                          |                 |  |                             |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|-------------------|-------|--------------------------|-----------------|--|-----------------------------|--|--|--|--|--|--|
| South San Antonio | Texas | 23-May-04                |                 | Elderly voters complain of "vote brokering" whereby "coyotes" pressure them into voting by absentee ballot. Investigators have looked into this in the past, and there has only been one conviction of someone pressuring others to vote absentee.   | San Antonio Express-News    |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Robstown          | Texas | 27-May-04                | school district | The District Attorney requested a recount of ballots because of many complaints of people filing mail-in ballots sent to homes of people who have died. One of the candidates says that in one instance a wife mailed in the ballot of her husband who just died, and another was a son's vote being mistaken for the father's because they had the same name.   | Corpus Christi Caller-Times |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Falfurrias        | Texas | 11-Sep-04                | city            | After a May 26 recount, Jaime received 501 votes and Martinez wound up with 500 votes. In June, Martinez filed an election contest in district court claiming that "numerous co-conspirators" obtained votes by instructing the voters to cast their ballots for particular candidates. But a criminal investigation into voting violations started before voters cast the final ballots, according to a police report. So far, the criminal investigation has resulted in five felony and one misdemeanor indictments: Santiago Vela was indicted on a bribery charge; Armando Gonzalez, Vanessa Kiser and Roel Mireles were indicted on illegal voting charges; Magdalena Saenz was indicted on an unlawful delivery of a voting certificate charge. One woman, Mirna Quintanilla, was indicted on a misdemeanor charge for allegedly filling out a mail-in ballot for a voter without permission. | Corpus Christi Caller-Times |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Houston           | Texas | 11-Nov-05                | mayoral         | Candidate alleges that 64 of the 579 absentee ballots cast in the primary are questionable.  | AP                          |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Hidalgo           | Texas | 2/26/2004, March 6, 2004 | primary         | Texas Rangers investigate tampering with mail ballots by "politiqueras"  | The Monitor                 |  |  |  |  |  |  |

009589

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - Absentee Balloting

|           |           |           |                     |   |                            |  |  |  |  |                          |  |  |
|-----------|-----------|-----------|---------------------|---|----------------------------|--|--|--|--|--------------------------|--|--|
| Gate City | Virginia  | 2-Aug-05  | mayor               | mayor is indicted on 37 felony counts of voter fraud for coercing choices on absentee ballots   | Roanoke Times              |  |  |  | The former mayor was arraigned in Scott County Circuit Court. He entered not guilty pleas to 18 charges of aiding and abetting in violating the absentee voting process, 17 charges of making a false statement on an absentee ballot application, and two charges of conspiracy. Authorities say he targeted elderly and unsophisticated voters, pressuring them to give false reasons for voting absentee and sometimes filling out their ballots himself. | 8/17/2005, Roanoke Times |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin | 5-Mar-03  | county board recall | A police handwriting expert labeled signatures on 60 absentee ballot envelopes suspicious and elections officials and the DA questioned 36 more. The 96 are among 162 that were distributed to 5th District voters by the African American Coalition for Empowerment. The group had residents agree to ask the city to send absentee ballots to their offices rather than directly to the voters. The group then went to the homes, witnessed the votes and returned the ballots. | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel |  |  |  |  |                          |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin | 15-Jan-04 | county recall       | A voting rights activist was convicted of three felony counts stemming from his management of an absentee ballot campaign. Although evidence suggested forgery and other mischief, the case turned on one voter registration card. The voter had his signature forged by his girlfriend, and the activist had signed the form as a deputy registrar.  | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel |  |  |  |  |                          |  |  |
| Milwaukee | Wisconsin | 20-Feb-04 | county recall       | One person is convicted for forging absentee ballots  | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel |  |  |  |  |                          |  |  |

009590

009593

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

| City / County  | State           | Date      | Type of Election                        | Alleged instance of fraud   | Original Source            | Source 1 | Source 2 | Source 3 |
|----------------|-----------------|-----------|---|---|----------------------------|----------|----------|----------|
| Apache         | Arizona         | 31-Aug-04 | 2002 general                            | County Attorney alleges some Navajo Nation voters cast multiple ballots. The Election Director dismisses many of the allegations and questioned why the county attorney had waited more than a year and a half to make them.  | Arizona Republic           |          |          |          |
| Eureka Springs | Arkansas        | 29-Jun-01 | county judge                            | A special judge rules prosecutors must show the mayor intended to vote twice -- he says he got confused when he voted early for a city bond election and the voting clerk offered him a primary ballot at the same time. He then voted in the primary at his precinct on election day.  | AP                         |          |          |          |
| La Puente      | California      | 3-Aug-02  | municipal                               | Four family members of a councilman were charged with voting twice because they voted absentee and on election day.   | Los Angeles Times          |          |          |          |
| San Francisco  | California      | 1-Mar-04  | mayoral run-off                         | One of the candidates alleged that 400 people who are dead cast votes. The allegation was based on a computer program that cross-referenced voters and the social security death index using first and last names and date of birth. When the Chronicle also used middle initials and other identifying indicators, the list was whittled to five cases. Some were by absentee but a couple were in person. | San Francisco Chronicle    |          |          |          |
|                | Colorado        | 25-Mar-05 |   | 58 of 64 counties responded to a request by the Secretary of State to report on fraud investigations. Only 13 counties have referred cases to prosecutors. Those cases included 41 instances of citizens voting twice. Denver County officials said they had 81 instances of double voting.   | Denver Post                |          |          |          |
|                | Connecticut     | 22-Oct-02 | all                                     | Secretary of State says that RNC allegations that 54 Connecticut voters cast ballots in 2 different states have been investigated and found to be false. 15 voted only in CT, 29 voted only in another state, four names were wrong because they had different birth dates, and three were referred to the FBI and US Attorney because information from the other state could not be obtained               | New Haven Register         |          |          |          |
| Bridgeport     | Connecticut     | 23-Sep-03 | mayoral primary                         | Losing candidate alleges some voters were able to vote twice  | News 12                    |          |          |          |
|                | DC and Maryland | 31-Oct-02 | state primary and presidential election | Records indicate that 24 voters cast ballots in both DC and Maryland in the September 2002 primary and 90 voters did so in the 2000 election. Voters denied they had done so and election officials said it was possible for precinct workers to make mistakes when recording who voted.  | Washington Post            |          |          |          |
| Palm Beach     | Florida         | 5-Dec-02  | 2002 general                            | The County State Attorney will be investigating about a dozen people accused of voting twice. Each cast an absentee ballot and voted on Election Day. The Secretary of State says they may have forgotten they voted absentee. They all had to vote by provisional ballots so none of the second votes were counted. This is the first time the Secretary's office has found people who voted twice.        | Sun-Sentinel               |          |          |          |
| Indian River   | Florida         | 2-Nov-04  | presidential                            | One voter returned two absentee ballots -- the first one was counted and the second discarded. A woman voted by absentee and then during early voting. Her absentee ballot will be thrown out.  | Press Journal (Vero Beach) |          |          |          |

009594

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

|                 |          |           |                |  |                              |  |  |  |  |
|-----------------|----------|-----------|----------------|--|------------------------------|--|--|--|--|
| Palm Beach      | Florida  | 6-Nov-04  | presidential   | The Palm Beach Post reports that three voters cast absentee ballots and then filled out provisional ballots on Election Day. Local officials have asked the Attorney General to investigate. The Post reached two of the voters and they said they cast provisional ballots because when they tried to check on their absentee ballots they were unable to confirm they had been received.   | Florida Times Union          |  |  |  |  |
| Volusia         | Florida  | 6-Nov-04  | presidential   | Volusia officials said Friday they have identified 12 cases of suspected election fraud stemming from Tuesday's presidential election. All involved people trying to vote twice, said County Judge Steven deLaroche, a member of the county canvassing board. In one case, which occurred during early voting, a person was caught trying to feed an absentee ballot into a tabulating machine after casting a traditional ballot, deLaroche said. That person was stopped by a poll worker. In the other 11 cases, people who had voted by absentee ballot or at an early-voting site tried to vote a second time on Election Day, he said. In those cases, election workers discovered the attempts when computers showed those voters had already cast ballots. All the cases will be forwarded to the State Attorney's Office for prosecution. | Orlando Sentinel             |  |  |  |  |
| Duval           | Florida  | 31-Jul-05 | presidential   | Officials said in January that a review of records found more than 50 cases in which the same person had cast an absentee and in person ballot. An FBI investigation found that every one of those instances was due to a clerical error, such as someone signing the voter rolls before they were told they had to vote elsewhere.  | AP                           |  |  |  |  |
| Fulton          | Georgia  | 30-Sep-04 | primary        | A man who may be facing felony charges for voting twice says he voted during the early period and that when he went to his precinct on election day to make sure that vote had been recorded, he was told it was not. The poll worker told him he should vote again. Fulton County investigated and found no other advance voters had voted again on the day of the election. The registration chief acknowledged the county was late getting names of advance voters to the polls. The advance vote was tossed out after it was discovered.   | Atlanta Journal Constitution |  |  |  |  |
| Marshall        | Illinois | 13-Nov-04 | 2002 and 2004  | A man has been charged for voting twice, in both Kane County and Marshall County   | South Bend Tribune           |  |  |  |  |
| Lake County     | Indiana  | 16-May-04 | county primary | A newspaper analysis shows that five votes cast were attributed to people who were dead well before the election.  | AP                           |  |  |  |  |
| Prairie Village | Kansas   | 8-Jan-05  | 2002 general   | A woman who voted twice pled guilty -- she had voted from her business address and cast an absentee ballot from a different location in the same election.   | Kansas City Star             |  |  |  |  |

009595

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Nexis Articles - 'Dead' Voters and Multiple Voting

|             |            |                   |               |   |  |  |  |  |
|-------------|------------|-------------------|---------------|---|--|--|--|--|
| Hancock     | Louisiana  | 3-Nov-04          | presidential  | A woman called a radio talk show Tuesday and admitted casting fraudulent votes in Hancock County.The woman said she voted once using her own name, but after realizing she was not required to show identification, she waited several hours and returned to the polls and used a friend's name.The county clerks said the incident seems to be isolated and her office has not received evidence of other fraudulent votes elsewhere in the county.  | The Sun Herald                             |  |  |  |
| Duluth      | Minnesota  | 3-Nov-04          | presidential  | A voter claims someone forged his signature to vote under his name. He reported the incident to City Hall   | Duluth News-Tribune                        |  |  |  |
| Minneapolis | Minnesota  | 23-Feb-05         | presidential  | A felony charge filed Tuesday in Hennepin County District Court accuses Darin Randall Johnson, 34, of registering to vote and casting ballots in three different places in the November election.The criminal complaint alleges he filled out same-day registration forms and voted once in Brooklyn Park and twice in Minneapolis.   | Saint Paul Pioneer Press                   |  |  |  |
| Kansas City | Missouri   | 28-Mar-05         | various       | Man pleads guilty to casting double votes in four elections by voting in both Kansas and Missouri   | Kansas City Star                           |  |  |  |
| Kansas City | Missouri   | September 6, 2004 | all           | Kansas City Star reports that their investigation shows there may be more than 300 voters voting twice in different counties. The exact number is impossible to determine because many counties have shredded their poll books and state computer files are rife with data errors. In fact, the number may be lower because the state computer files contain many errors that show people voting who did not actually vote. The study only flagged people registered in two places under exactly the same name and date of birth. | Kansas City Star, Belleville News-Democrat |  |  |  |
|             | New Jersey | 16-Sep-05         | presidential  | Republican Party claims 4,755 people who have died voted in the election and 4,397 people registered to vote in more than one county voted twice  | New York Times                             |  |  |  |
| Sandoval    | New Mexico | 9-Nov-02          | state house   | A comparison of names on absentee-ballot-request rosters and affidavits for the absentee-in-lieu-of-ballots made it appear that 5 people had voted twice absentee by mail and absentee-in-lieu-of at the polls.   | Albuquerque Journal                        |  |  |  |
| Sandoval    | New Mexico | 24-Nov-04         | presidential  | Bureau of Elections employees found a woman who voted on a provisional ballot at one precinct also had voted at the regular precinct where she is registered. The signatures at both precincts appeared to be the same, so elections officials sent the case to the district attorney.  | AP   |  |  |  |
| New York    | New York   | 23-Oct-02         | 2000 and 2001 | Former conservative party candidate for lieutenant governor is arraigned on an indictment for voting twice, from two different Manhattan addresses. He denies the charge  | Newsday                                    |  |  |  |

009596

TOVA WANG ON THE EAC GAG ORDER

I have just received this press release via email:

Contact James Joseph, Arnold & Porter -- (202) 942-5355, james_joseph@aporter.com

Tova Andrea Wang, Co-Author of the Voter Fraud and Voter Intimidation Report for the Election Assistance Commission, Calls for an End to the Censorship

Over the last few weeks, there has been a developing controversy in the press and in the Congress over a report on voter fraud and voter intimidation I co-authored for the Election Assistance Commission ("EAC"). It has been my desire to participate in this discussion and share my experience as a researcher, expert and co-author of the report. Unfortunately, the EAC has barred me from speaking. Early last week, through my attorney, I sent a letter to the Commission requesting that they release me from this gag order. Despite repeated follow-up, the EAC has failed to respond to this simple request. In the meantime, not only can I not speak to the press or public -- it is unclear under the terms of my contract with the EAC whether I can even answer questions from members of Congress.

009597

My co-author and I submitted our report in July 2006; the EAC finally released its version of the report in December 2006. As numerous press reports indicate, the conclusions that we found in our research and included in our report were revised by the EAC, without explanation or discussion with me, my co-author or the general public. From the beginning of the project to this moment, my co-author and I have been bound in our contracts with the EAC to silence regarding our work, subject to law suits and civil liability if we violate the EAC-imposed gag order. Moreover, from July to December, no member of the EAC Commission or staff contacted me or my co-author to raise any concerns about the substance of our research. Indeed, after I learned that the EAC was revising our report before its public release, I contacted the EAC, and they refused to discuss with me the revisions, or the reasons such revisions were necessary.

Stifling discussion and debate over this report and the critical issues it addresses is contrary to the mission and goals of the EAC and to the goal of ensuring honest and fair elections in this country. Commissioner Hillman stated in her defense of the EAC's actions that the EAC seeks to "ensure improvements in the administration of federal elections so that all eligible voters will be able to vote and have that vote recorded and counted accurately." I share this aspiration. But I believe that the best way to achieve that end is not by suppressing or stifling debate and discussion, but by engaging in a thoughtful process of research and dialogue that ultimately arrives at the truth about the problems our voting system currently confronts.

I'm ready to wear my "Free Tova Wang" t-shirt. UPDATE:

More from Dan Tokaji here.

Posted by Rick Hasen at 08:46 AM

Defining Election Fraud

Deliberative Process Privilege

Election fraud is any intentional action, or intentional failure to act when there is a duty to do so, that corrupts the election process in a manner that can impact on election outcomes. This includes interfering in the process by which persons register to vote; the way in which ballots are obtained, marked, or tabulated; and the process by which election results are canvassed and certified.

Examples include the following:

- falsifying voter registration information pertinent to eligibility to cast a vote, (e.g. residence, criminal status, etc);
- altering completed voter registration applications by entering false information;
- knowingly destroying completed voter registration applications (other than spoiled applications) before they can be submitted to the proper election authority;
- knowingly removing eligible voters from voter registration lists, in violation of HAVA, NVRA, or state election laws;
- intentional destruction by election officials of voter registration records or balloting records, in violation of records retention laws, to remove evidence of election fraud;
- vote buying;
- voting in the name of another;
- voting more than once;
- coercing a voter's choice on an absentee ballot;
- using a false name and/or signature on an absentee ballot;
- destroying or misappropriating an absentee ballot;
- felons, or in some states ex-felons, who vote when they know they are ineligible to do so;
- misleading an ex-felon about his or her right to vote;
- voting by non-citizens who know they are ineligible to do so;
- intimidating practices aimed at vote suppression or deterrence, including the abuse of challenge laws;
- deceiving voters with false information (e.g.; deliberately directing voters to the wrong polling place or providing false information on polling hours and dates);
- knowingly failing to accept voter registration applications, to provide ballots, or to accept and count voted ballots in accordance with the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act;
- intentional miscounting of ballots by election officials;
- intentional misrepresentation of vote tallies by election officials;

- acting in any other manner with the intention of suppressing voter registration or voting, or interfering with vote counting and the certification of the vote.

Voting fraud does not include mistakes made in the course of voter registration, balloting, or tabulating ballots and certifying results. For purposes of the EAC study, it also does not include violations of campaign finance laws.

DRAFT

Deliberative Process Privilege

Voter fraud is any intentional action or any omission to act when there is a duty to do so that corrupts the process by which ballots are obtained, marked, or tabulated; the process by which election results are canvassed and certified; or the process by which voters are registered. This includes: (1) coercing a voter's choice on an absentee ballot; (2) using a false name and signature on an absentee ballot; (3) destroying or misappropriating of an absentee ballot; (4) voting by felons or in some states ex-felons; (5) misleading an ex-felon about his or her right to vote; (6) voting more than once; (7) voting by non-citizens; (8) intimidating practices aimed at vote suppression; (9) deceiving voters with false information (10) mishandling of ballots by election officials; (11) miscounting of ballots by election officials; (12) misrepresenting vote tallies by election officials; (13) adding of ballots by election officials; (14) destroying ballots by election officials; (15) removing of eligible voters from voter registration lists; (16) falsifying voter registration information; (17) destroying completed voter registration forms; (18) buying of votes; (19) failing to follow the requirements of the Voting Rights Act and other voting rights laws, such as the National Voter Registration Act; (20) failing to enforce required state election laws; (21) abusing voter challenges; (22) purging of voter rolls in violation of HAVA; (23) failing to follow the requirements of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act; (24) acting in any other manner with the intention of suppressing voter registration, voting, or the corrupting of the voting process.

Deliberative Process
Privilege

Voter fraud is any intentional action or any omission to act when there is a duty to do so that corrupts the process in a way that has an actual impact on election outcomes. This can include the way in which ballots are obtained, marked, or tabulated; the process by which election results are canvassed and certified; or the process by which voters register to vote. Examples include the following: (1) coercing a voter's choice on an absentee ballot; (2) using a false name and/or signature on an absentee ballot; (3) destroying or misappropriating of an absentee ballot; (4) felons or in some states ex-felons who vote when they know they are ineligible to do so; (5) misleading an ex-felon about his or her right to vote; (6) voting more than once; (7) intentional voting by non-citizens who know they are ineligible to do so; (8) intimidating practices aimed at vote suppression or deterrence; (9) deceiving voters with false information (10) intentional mishandling of ballots by election officials; (11) intentional miscounting of ballots by election officials; (12) intentional misrepresenting vote tallies by election officials; (13) adding of ballots by election officials; (14) destroying ballots by election officials; (15) removing of eligible voters from voter registration lists; (16) knowingly falsifying voter registration information pertinent to eligibility to cast a vote, e.g. residence, criminal status, etc.; (17) destroying completed voter registration forms; (18) buying of votes; (19) failing to follow the requirements of the Voting Rights Act and other voting rights laws, such as the National Voter Registration Act; (20) failing to enforce required state election laws; (21) abusing voter challenge laws; (22) purging of voter rolls in violation of HAVA and NVRA; (23) failing to follow the requirements of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act; (24) acting in any other manner with the intention of suppressing voter registration, voting, or vote counting.

Formatted: Don't adjust space between Latin and Asian text, Don't adjust space between Asian text and numbers

Deleted: by

Deleted: are registered

Deleted: This

Deleted: s

Deleted: voting by

Deleted: s

Deleted: the corrupting of the voting process.

Deliberative Process
Privilege

Voter fraud means intentional misrepresentation, trickery, deceit, or deception, arising out of or in connection with voter registration or voting

Case Summaries

After reviewing over 40,000 cases, the majority of which came from appeals courts, I have found comparatively very few which are applicable to this study. Of those that are applicable, no apparent thematic pattern emerges. However, it seems that the greatest areas of fraud and intimidation have shifted from past patterns of stealing votes to present problems with voter registration, voter identification, the proper delivery and counting of absentee and overseas ballots, provisional voting, vote buying, and challenges to felon eligibility. But because so few cases provided a picture of these current problems, I suggest that case research for the second phase of this project concentrate on state trial-level decisions.

| Name of Case      | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Powers v. Donahue | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, First Department | 276 A.D.2d 157; 717 N.Y.S.2d 550; 2000 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12644 | December 5, 2000 | Petitioner appealed an order of the supreme court, which denied his motion to direct the New York County Board of Elections, in cases where more than one absentee ballot was returned by a voter, to count only the absentee ballot listing correct candidates' names. | When the New York County Board of Elections learned some absentee ballots mailed to voters in one district listed the wrong candidates for state senator it sent a second set of absentee ballots to absentee voters informing them the first ballot was defective and requesting they use the second ballot. The board agreed if two ballots were received from the same voter, only the corrected ballot would be counted. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Appellant candidate moved in support of the board's determination. Respondent candidate opposed the application, contending that only the first ballot received should have been canvassed. The trial court denied appellant's motion, ruling that pursuant to New York law, where two ballots were received from the same voter, only the ballot with the earlier date was to be accepted. The court found the |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case            | Court                    | Citation         | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--------------------------|------------------|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |                          |                  |                   |  | local board officials should have resolved the dispute as they proposed. The order was modified and the motion granted to the extent of directing the New York County Board of Elections, in cases where more than one absentee ballot was returned by a voter, to accept only the corrected ballot postmarked on or before November 7, 2000, and otherwise affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Goodwin v. St. Thomas-- | Territorial Court of the | 43 V.I. 89; 2000 | December 13, 2000 | Plaintiff political candidate alleged that certain general | Plaintiff alleged that defendants   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case              | Court          | Citation      | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------|----------------|---------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| St. John Bd. of Elections | Virgin Islands | V.I. LEXIS 15 |      | election absentee ballots violated territorial election law, and that the improper inclusion of such ballots by defendants, election board and supervisor, resulted in plaintiff's loss of the election. Plaintiff sued defendants seeking invalidation of the absentee ballots and certification of the election results tabulated without such ballots. | counted unlawful absentee ballots that lacked postmarks, were not signed or notarized, were in unsealed and/or torn envelopes, and were in envelopes containing more than one ballot. Prior to tabulation of the absentee ballots, plaintiff was leading intervenor for the final senate position, but the absentee ballots entitled intervenor to the position. The court held that plaintiff was not entitled to relief since he failed to |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | establish that the alleged absentee voting irregularities would require invalidation of a sufficient number of ballots to change the outcome of the election. While the unsealed ballots constituted a technical violation, the outer envelopes were sealed and thus substantially complied with election requirements. Further, while defendants improperly counted one ballot where a sealed ballot |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case         | Court                    | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--------------------------|-----------|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                      |                          |           |                  |   | envelope and a loose ballot were in the same outer envelope, the one vote involved did not change the election result. Plaintiff's other allegations of irregularities were without merit since ballots without postmarks were valid, ballots without signatures were not counted, and ballots without notarized signatures were proper. Request for declaratory and injunctive relief denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Townson v. Stonicher | Supreme Court of Alabama | 2005 Ala. | December 9, 2005 | The circuit court overturned the results of a mayoral | The voters and the incumbent all  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation     | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|--------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | LEXIS214 |      | election after reviewing the absentee ballots cast for said election, resulting in a loss for appellant incumbent based on the votes received from appellee voters. The incumbent appealed, and the voters cross--appealed. In the meantime, the trial court stayed enforcement of its judgment pending resolution of the appeal. | challenged the judgment entered by the trial court arguing that it impermissibly included or excluded certain votes. The appeals court agreed with the voters that the trial court should have excluded the votes of those voters for the incumbent who included an improper form of identification with their absentee ballots. It was undisputed that at least 30 absentee voters who voted for the incumbent provided with |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | their absentee ballots a form of identification that was not proper under Alabama law. As a result, the court further agreed that the trial court erred in allowing those voters to somewhat "cure" that defect by providing a proper form of identification at the trial of the election contest, because, under those circumstances, it was difficult to conclude that those voters made an honest effort to comply with the law. Moreover, to |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                            | Court   | Citation                                   | Date            | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|-----------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |  |                 |  | count the votes of voters who failed to comply with the essential requirement of submitting proper identification with their absentee ballots had the effect of disenfranchising qualified electors who choose not to vote but rather than to make the effort to comply with the absentee-voting requirements. Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Gross v. Albany County Bd. of Elections | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, Third Department | 10 A.D.3d 476; 781 N.Y.S.2d 172; 2004 N.Y. | August 23, 2004 | Appellant candidates appealed from a judgment entered by the supreme court, which partially granted the candidates' petition challenging the method used by respondent | The candidates argued that the Board violated a federal court order regarding the election. The appellate court  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation              | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|-----------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | App. Div. LEXIS 10360 |      | Albany County Board of Elections for counting absentee applications and ballots for the office of Albany County Legislator, 26th and 29th Districts, in a special general election required by the federal courts. | held that absentee ballots that were sent to voters for the special general election based solely on their applications for the general election were properly voided. The Board had no authority to issue the ballots without an absentee ballot application for the special general election. Two ballots were properly invalidated as the Board failed to retain the envelopes. Ballots were properly counted for voters who failed to |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | identify their physician on their applications. A ballot was properly counted where the Board failed to scrutinize the sufficiency of the reason for the application. A ballot containing two signatures was properly rejected. A ballot was properly rejected due to extraneous marks outside the voting square. A ballot was properly counted despite the failure of the election inspector to witness the voter's signature. A ballot was |                              |             |                                       |

009615

| Name of Case           | Court                      | Citation                             | Date           | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|----------------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |                            |                                      |                |  | properly counted as the application stated the date of the voter's absence. A ballot was properly counted as the failure to date the application was cured by a time stamp. Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Erlandson v. Kiffmeyer | Supreme Court of Minnesota | 659 N.W.2d 724; 2003 Minn. LEXIS 196 | April 17, 2003 | Petitioners, representing the Democratic--Farmer--Labor Party, brought an action against respondents, the Minnesota Secretary of State and the Hennepin County Auditor, seeking relief in regard to the election for United States Senator, following the death of Senator Wellstone. The issue concerned the right of absentee voters to obtain replacement ballots. Individuals intervened on behalf of the Republican | The appellate court found that, while it may have seemed unfair to the replacement candidate to count votes for other candidates from regular absentee ballots on which the replacement candidate did not appear, those were properly cast ballots voting for a properly | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                    | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Party. The instant court granted review. | nominated candidate. Petitioners' request that the Minnesota supreme court order that votes for United States Senator cast on regular absentee ballots not be counted was denied. A key issue was Minn. Stat. § 204B.41 (2002), which provided, in--part, that official supplemental ballots could not be mailed to absent voters to whom ballots were mailed before the official supplemental ballots were |                              |             |                                       |

009617

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | prepared. The supreme court held that, by treating similarly-situated voters differently, § 204B.41 violated equal protection guarantees and could not even survive rational basis review. For voters who cast their regular absentee ballots for Wellstone before the vacancy occurred, but were unable to go to their polling place on election day or pick up a replacement ballot by election day, the prohibition on |                              |             |                                       |

009618

| Name of Case        | Court   | Citation  | Date         | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|---|---|--------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |   |   |              |   | mailing replacement ballots in § 204B.41 denied them the right to cast a meaningful vote for United States Senator. The petition of petitioners was denied in part, but granted with respect to mailing replacement ballots to all applicants for regular absentee ballots who requested a replacement ballot. |                              |             |                                       |
| People v. Deganutti | Appellate Court of Illinois, First District, Third Division | 348 Ill. App. 3d 512; 810 N.E.2d 191; 2004 Ill. | May 12, 2004 | Defendant appealed from a judgment of the circuit court, which convicted defendant on charges of unlawful observation of voting and on charges of | Defendant went to the voters' homes and obtained their signatures on absentee ballot   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009619

| Name of Case | Court | Citation             | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | App.LEXIS518 |      | absentee ballot violations in connection with the completion and mailing of the absentee ballots of two voters. | request forms. Once the ballots were mailed to the voters, defendant returned to the homes. With voter one, defendant sat on the couch with the voter and instructed which numbers to punch on the ballot. With voter two, defendant provided a list a numbers and stood nearby as voter two completed the ballots. Defendant then looked at the ballot and had voter two re-- punch a number that had not |                              |             |                                       |

009620

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | punched cleanly. Defendant then put the ballots in the mail for the voters. On appeal, she argued insufficient evidence to sustain her convictions. The court affirmed, holding that (1) the circumstantial evidence surrounding defendant's presence as the voters completed their ballots supported the unlawful observation convictions; (2) the fact that defendant knowingly took the voters ballots |                              |             |                                       |

009621

| Name of Case                             | Court         | Citation                             | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---------------|--------------------------------------|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |               |                                      |                   |  | and mailed them, a violation of Illinois law supported her conviction, and (3) the fact that the statutes defendant was convicted under required only a knowing mental state rather than criminal intent did not violate substantive due process. Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Jacobs v. Seminole County Canvassing Bd. | Supreme Court | 773 So. 2d 519; 2000 Fla. LEXIS 2404 | December 12, 2000 | In an election contest, the First District court of appeal certified a trial court order to be of great public importance and to require immediate resolution by the supreme court. The trial court denied appellants' request to invalidate absentee ballot requests in | Prior to the general election, two political parties mailed preprinted requests for absentee ballots to registered voters in Seminole County.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009622

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Seminole County in the 2000 presidential election. | Forms mailed by one party failed to include either a space for the voter identification number or the preprinted number. Representatives from that party were allowed to add voter identification numbers to request forms after they were returned, and absentee ballots were sent to the persons named on the request forms. The supreme court affirmed the trial court's refusal to invalidate the |                              |             |                                       |

009623

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballot requests, and adopted the trial court's reasoning that the information required, which included the voter identification number, was directory rather than mandatory. The trial court properly found that the evidence did not support a finding of fraud, gross negligence, or intentional wrongdoing. Allowing one party to correct ballots did not constitute illegal disparate treatment because there was no need to correct the |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                            | Court                        | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------------------|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                              |  |                  |  | other party's forms. Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Gross v. Albany County Bd. of Elections | Court of Appeals of New York | 3 N.Y.3d 251; 819 N.E.2d 197; 785 N.Y.S.2d 729; 2004 N.Y. LEXIS 2412 | October 14, 2004 | Appellant candidates sought review from an order of the Appellate Division, which affirmed a trial court order holding that absentee ballots from a special general election were not to be canvassed because respondent Albany County Board of Elections failed to follow the set procedure for those voters. | Due to a challenge to a redistricting plan, the Board was enjoined from conducting primary and general elections for certain county districts. A special primary election was directed, with a special general election to be held "expeditiously thereafter." Absentee ballot requests for the first special election were based on prior requests, but new requests had to be | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009625

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | made for the general election. However, the Board forwarded absentee ballots for that election as well, based on the prior requests. Candidates in two close races thereafter challenged those absentee ballots, as they violated the procedure that was to be followed. The trial court held that the ballots should not be canvassed, which decision was affirmed on appeal. On further review due to dissenting opinions, the |                              |             |                                       |

009626

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court found that the ballots were in violation of the federal court order that directed the procedure to be followed, as well as in violation of New York election law. The court concluded that the Board's error was not technical, ministerial, or inconsequential because it was central to the substantive process, and the voters who used absentee ballots were not determined to be "duly qualified electors." Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

009627

| Name of Case  | Court                         | Citation                                       | Date          | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-------------------------------|--|---------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| In re Canvass of Absentee Ballots of Nov. 4, 2003 Gen. Election | Supreme Court of Pennsylvania | 577 Pa. 231; 843 A.2d 1223; 2004 Pa. LEXIS 431 | March 8, 2004 | A county elections board voided certain absentee ballots cast in the November 4, 2003, general election. The court of common pleas held that absentee ballots delivered by third persons were valid and should be counted. The commonwealth court affirmed the trial court's decision. The state supreme court granted allocatur. Appellants and appellees were certain candidates and voters. | The absentee ballots at issue were hand-delivered to the county elections board by third persons on behalf of non--disabled voters. On appeal, the issue was whether non--disabled absentee voters could have third persons hand--deliver their ballots to the elections board where the board indicated that the practice was permitted. The state supreme court concluded that the "in person" delivery requirement was mandatory, and | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009628

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | that absentee ballots delivered in violation of the provision were invalid, notwithstanding the board's erroneous instructions to the contrary. Under the statute's plain meaning, a non-disabled absentee voter had two choices: send the ballot by mail, or deliver it in person. Third-person hand-delivery of absentee ballots was not permitted. To ignore the law's clear instructions regarding in-person delivery |                              |             |                                       |

009629

| Name of Case     | Court                 | Citation      | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|-----------------------|---------------|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |                       |               |                   |  | would undermine the statute's very purpose as a safeguard against fraud. The state supreme court concluded that its precedent was clear, and it could not simply ignore substantive provisions of the Pennsylvania Election Code. The judgment of the Commonwealth Court was reversed in so far as it held that certain absentee ballots delivered on behalf of non-disabled absentee voters were valid. |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Canvass of | Commonwealth Court of | 839 A.2d 451; | December 22, 2003 | The Allegheny County Elections Board did not | On appeal, the issue was whether  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009600

| Name of Case                         | Court        | Citation                  | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------------|--------------|---------------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Absentee Ballots of November 4, 2003 | Pennsylvania | 2003 Pa. Commw. LEXIS 963 |      | allow 74 challenged third-party hand-delivered absentee ballots to be counted in the statewide general election. The court of common pleas of Allegheny County reversed the Board's decision and allowed the 74 ballots to be counted. Appellant objecting candidates appealed the trial court's order. | non-disabled voters who voted by absentee ballots and had those ballots delivered by third parties to county election boards could have their ballots counted in the statewide general election. First, the appellate court concluded that political bodies had standing to appeal. Also, the trial court did not err by counting the 74 ballots because absentee voters could not be held responsible for following the statutory |                              |             |                                       |

009631

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | requirements of Pennsylvania election law where the Board knowingly failed to abide by the statutory language regarding the delivery of absentee ballots, changed its policy to require voters to abide by the language, and then changed its policy back to its original stance that voters did not have to abide by the statutory language, thereby misleading absentee voters regarding delivery requirements. |                              |             |                                       |

009632

| Name of Case                  | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |  |                             |                  |  | Under the circumstances, it was more important to protect the interest of the voters by not disenfranchising them than to adhere to the strict language of the statute. However, one ballot was not counted because it was not delivered to the Board. Affirmed with the exception that one voter's ballot was stricken. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Pennsylvania | United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21167 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff United States sued defendant Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, governor, and state secretary, claiming that overseas | The testimony of the two witnesses offered by the United States did not support its   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009533

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | voters would be disenfranchised if they used absentee ballots that included the names of two presidential candidates who had been removed from the final certified ballot and seeking injunctive relief to address the practical implications of the final certification of the slate of candidates so late in the election year. | contention that voters protected by the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act would be disenfranchised absent immediate injunctive relief because neither witness testified that any absentee ballots issued to UOCAVA voters were legally incorrect or otherwise invalid. Moreover, there was no evidence that any UOCAVA voter had complained or otherwise expressed concern regarding their ability or |                              |             |                                       |

009634

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | right to vote. The fact that some UOCAVA voters received ballots including the names of two candidates who were not on the final certified ballot did not ipso facto support a finding that Pennsylvania was in violation of UOCAVA, especially since the United States failed to establish that the ballot defect undermined the right of UOCAVA voters to cast their ballots. Moreover, Pennsylvania had |                              |             |                                       |

009635

| Name of Case                              | Court  | Citation                             | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--------------------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |                                      |                  |  | adduced substantial evidence that the requested injunctive relief, issuing new ballots, would have harmed the Pennsylvania election system and the public by undermining the integrity and efficiency of Pennsylvania's elections and increasing election costs. Motion for injunctive relief denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Hoblock v. Albany County Bd. of Elections | United States District Court for the Northern District of New York | 341 F. Supp. 2d 169; 2004 U.S. Dist. | October 25, 2004 | Plaintiffs, candidates and voters, sued defendant, the Albany County, New York, Board of Elections, under § 1983, claiming that the Board violated plaintiffs' | An election for members of the Albany County Legislature had been enjoined, and special  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009636

| Name of Case | Court | Citation       | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | LEXIS21326 |      | Fourteenth Amendment rights by refusing to tally the voters' absentee ballots. Plaintiffs moved for a preliminary injunction. | primary and general elections were ordered. The order stated that the process for obtaining and counting absentee ballots for the general election would follow New York election law, which required voters to request absentee ballots. However, the Board issued absentee ballots for the general election to all persons who had applied for an absentee ballot for the cancelled election. The voters used absentee ballots |                              |             |                                       |

009637

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | to vote; their ballots were later invalidated. A state court determined that automatically sending absentee ballots to those who had not filed an application violated the constitution of New York. The district court found that the candidates' claims could have been asserted in state court and were barred by res judicata, but the voters were not parties to the state court action. The candidates were not entitled to joinder and had |                              |             |                                       |

009638

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not filed a motion to intervene. The voters established a likelihood of success on the merits, as the Board effectively took away their right to vote by issuing absentee ballots and then refusing to count them. The voters' claims involved more than just an "unintended irregularity." The candidates' claims were dismissed, and their request for joinder or to intervene was denied. Plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction preventing the |                              |             |                                       |

009639

| Name of Case      | Court  | Citation                                  | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|--|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |  |   |                  |   | Board from certifying winners of the election was granted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Griffin v. Roupas | United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit | 385 F.3d 1128; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 21476 | October 15, 2004 | In a suit brought by plaintiff working mothers against defendants, members of the Illinois State Board of Elections, alleging that the United States Constitution required Illinois to allow them to vote by absentee ballot, the mothers appealed from a decision of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, which dismissed their complaint for failure to state a claim. | The mothers contended that, because it was a hardship for them to vote in person on election day, the U.S. Constitution required Illinois to allow them to vote by absentee ballot. The district court dismissed the mothers' complaint. On appeal, the court held that the district court's ruling was correct, because, although it was possible that the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009640

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | problems created by absentee voting might be outweighed by the harm to voters who would lose their vote if they were unable to vote by absentee ballot, the striking of the balance between discouraging fraud and encouraging voter turnout was a legislative judgment with which the court would not interfere unless strongly convinced that such judgment was grossly awry. The court further held that Illinois |                              |             |                                       |

009641

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | law did not deny the mothers equal protection of the laws, because the hardships that prevented voting in person did not bear more heavily on working mothers than other classes in the community. Finally, the court held that, although the length and complexity of the Illinois ballot supported an argument for allowing people to vote by mail, such argument had nothing to do with the problems faced by working mothers. It |                              |             |                                       |

009642

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |  |                             |                  |   | applied to everyone.Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Reitz v. Rendell | United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21813 | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiff service members filed an action against defendant state officials under the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, alleging that they and similarly situated service members would be disenfranchised because they did not receive their absentee ballots in time. The parties entered into a voluntary agreement and submitted it to the court for approval. | The court issued an order to assure that service members and other similarly situated service members who were protected by the UOCAVA would not be disenfranchised. The court ordered the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to take all reasonable steps necessary to direct the county boards of elections to accept as timely received absentee | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009643

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballots cast by service members and other overseas voters as defined by UOCAVA, so long as the ballots were received by November 10, 2004. The ballots were to be considered solely for purposes of the federal offices that were included on the ballots. The court held that the ballot needed to be cast no later than November 2, 2004 to be counted. The court did not make any findings of liability against |                              |             |                                       |

009644

| Name of Case                               | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |                  |   | the Governor or the Secretary. The court entered an order, pursuant to a stipulation between the parties, that granted injunctive relief to the service members.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bush v. Hillsborough County Canvassing Bd. | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 123 F. Supp. 2d 1305; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 19265 | December 8, 2000 | The matter came before the court on plaintiffs' complaint for declaratory and injunctive relief alleging that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee state ballots and federal write--in ballots based on criteria inconsistent with federal law, and requesting that the ballots be declared valid and that they should be counted. | Plaintiff presidential and vise--presidential candidates and state political party contended that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee state ballots and federal write--in ballots based on criteria inconsistent with the Uniformed | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009645

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act. Because the state accepted overseas absentee state ballots and federal write--in ballots up to 10 days after the election, the State needed to access that the ballot in fact came from overseas. However, federal law provided the method to establish that fact by requiring the overseas absentee voter to sign an oath that the ballot was mailed from outside the United States and requiring the state |                              |             |                                       |

979600

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | election officials to examine the voter's declarations. The court further noted that federal law required the user of a federal write--in ballot to timely apply for a regular state absentee ballot, not that the state receive the application, and that again federal law, by requiring the voter using a federal write--in ballot to swear that he or she had made timely application, had provided the proper method of proof. Plaintiffs withdrew as moot |                              |             |                                       |

009647

| Name of Case | Court         | Citation | Date      | Facts               | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------|----------|-----------|---------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |               |          |           |                     | their request for injunctive relief and the court granted in part and denied in part plaintiffs' request for declaratory relief, and declared valid all federal write-in ballots that were signed pursuant to the oath provided therein but rejected solely because the ballot envelope did not have an APO, FPO, or foreign postmark, or solely because there was no record of an application for a state absentee ballot. |                              |             |                                       |
| Kolb v.      | Supreme Court | 270      | March 17, | Both petitioner and | Both petitioner  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

879600

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation   | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|--|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Casella      | of New York, Appellate Division, Fourth Department | A.D.2d 964; 705 N.Y.S.2d 746; 2000 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3483 | 2000 | respondent appealed from order of supreme court, determining which absentee and other paper ballots would be counted in a special legislative election. | and respondent, presumably representing different candidates, challenged the validity of particular paper ballots, mostly absentee, in a special legislative election. The court affirmed most of the trial court's findings, but modified its order to invalidate ballots improperly marked outside the voting square--ballots where the signature on the envelope differed substantially from the voter |                              |             |                                       |

679600

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registration card signature---and ballots where voters neglected to supply statutorily required information on the envelopes. However, the court, seeking to avoid disenfranchising voters where permissible, held that ballots were not invalid where applications substantially complied with statute, there was no objection to the ballots themselves, and there was no evidence of fraud. Where absentee |                              |             |                                       |

009650

| Name of Case    | Court                        | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|------------------------------|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |                              |   |               |   | ballot envelopes contained extra ballots, the ballots were to be placed in a ballot box so that procedures applicable when excess ballots are placed in a ballot box could be followed. Order modified.                            |                              |             |                                       |
| People v. Woods | Court of Appeals of Michigan | 241 Mich. App. 545; 616 N.W.2d 211; 2000 Mich. App. LEXIS 156 | June 27, 2000 | Defendant filed an interlocutory appeal of the decision by the circuit court, which denied defendant's request for a jury instruction on entrapment by estoppel, but stayed the proceedings to allow defendant to pursue the interlocutory appeal, in a criminal action alleging violations of election laws. | Defendant distributed and collected absentee ballots in an election. Because both defendant and his brother were candidates on the ballot, defendant's assistance was illegal under Michigan law. Bound over for trial on election | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009651

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | fraud charges, defendant requested a jury instruction on entrapment by estoppel, which was denied. On interlocutory appeal, the appellate court reversed and remanded for an entrapment hearing, holding that defendant should be given the opportunity to present evidence that he unwittingly committed the unlawful acts in reasonable reliance upon the word of the township clerk. The necessary |                              |             |                                       |

009652

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | elements of the entrapment defense were: (1) a government official (2) told the defendant that certain criminal conduct was legal; (3) the defendant actually relied on the official's statements; (4) the defendant's reliance was in good faith and reasonable in light of the official's identity, the point of law represented, and the substance of the official's statement; and (5) the prosecution would be so unfair as to |                              |             |                                       |

009653

| Name of Case                                  | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |                  |   | violate the defendant's right to due process. Denial of jury instruction was reversed because the trial court did not hold an entrapment hearing; remanded for an entrapment hearing where defendant could present elements of the entrapment by estoppel defense. |                              |             |                                       |
| Harris v. Florida Elections Canvassing Comm'n | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 122 F. Supp. 2d 1317; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17875 | December 9, 2000 | Plaintiffs challenged the counting of overseas absentee ballots received after 7 p.m. on election day, alleging the ballots violated Florida law. | The court found Congress did not intend 3 U.S.C.S. § 1 to impose irrational scheduling rules on state and local canvassing officials, and did  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009654

| Name of Case                                    | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|-----------------------------|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |                             |                  |   | not intend to disenfranchise overseas voters. The court held the state statute was required to yield to the Florida Administrative Code, which required the 10-day extension in the receipt of overseas absentee ballots in federal elections because the rule was promulgated to satisfy a consent decree entered by the state in 1982. |                              |             |                                       |
| Weldon v. Berks County Dep't of Election Servs. | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21948 | November 1, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a congressman and a state representative, filed a motion seeking a preliminary injunction or temporary restraining order that would prohibit defendant county | The congressman and representative sought to have the absentee ballots at issue set aside until a hearing could be held to   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009655

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | department of election services from delivering to local election districts absentee ballots received from any state, county, or city correctional facility. | determine whether any of the straining order denied. CASE SUMMARY: PROCEDURAL POSTURE: Plaintiffs, a congressman and a state representative, filed a motion seeking a preliminary injunction or temporary restraining order that would prohibit defendant county department of election services from delivering to local election districts absentee ballots received from any state, |                              |             |                                       |

009656

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | county, or city correctional facility as provided in Pa. Stat. Ann. tit. 25, § 3416.6 and Pa. Stat. Ann. tit. 25, § 3416.8. OVERVIEW: The congressman and representative sought to have the absentee ballots at issue set aside until a hearing could be held to determine whether any of the ballots were delivered to the county board of elections by a third party in violation of Pennsylvania law, whether any of the ballots were |                              |             |                                       |

009657

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | submitted by convicted incarcerated felons in violation of Pennsylvania law, and whether any of the ballots were submitted by qualified voters who were improperly assisted without the proper declaration required by Pennsylvania law. The court concluded that an ex parte temporary restraining order was not warranted because there were potential jurisdictional issues, substantial questions |                              |             |                                       |

009658

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                                 | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|--|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |  |                   |   | concerning the alleged violations, and the complaint did not allege that the department acted or threatened to act in an unlawful manner. The court denied the ex parte motion for a temporary restraining order. The court set a hearing on the motion for preliminary injunction. |                              |             |                                       |
| Qualkinbush v. Skubisz | Court of Appeals of Illinois, First District | 822 N.E.2d 38; 2004 Ill. App. LEXIS 1546 | December 28, 2004 | Respondent appealed from an order of the circuit court certifying mayoral election results for a city in which the court declared petitioner mayor. | Respondent first claimed the trial court erred in denying his motion to dismiss with respect to 38 votes the Election Code was preempted by and   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009659

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | violated the Voting Rights Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 since it restricted the individuals with whom an absentee voter could entrust their ballot for mailing. The appeals court found the trial court did not err in denying the motion to dismiss, as Illinois election law prevented a candidate or his or her agent from asserting undue influence upon a disabled voter and from manipulating that |                              |             |                                       |

009630

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | voter into voting for the candidate or the agent's candidate, and was designed to protect the rights of disabled voters. Respondent had not established that the federal legislature intended to preempt the rights of state legislatures to restrict absentee voting, and, particularly, who could return absentee ballots. The Election Code did not violate equal protection principles, as the burden placed |                              |             |                                       |

009661

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |   |                  |   | upon absentee voters by the restriction on who could mail an absentee ballot was slight and nondiscriminatory and substantially contributed to the integrity of the election process. Affirmed.                                |                              |             |                                       |
| Panio v. Sunderland | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, Second Department | 14 A.D.3d 627; 790 N.Y.S.2d 136; 2005 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3433 | January 25, 2005 | In proceedings filed pursuant to New York election law to determine the validity of certain absentee and affidavit ballots tendered for the office of 35th District Senator, appellants, a chairperson of the county Republican committee and the Republican candidate, both sought review of an order by the supreme court to count or not count certain ballots. Respondent | The question presented was whether the county election board should count the six categories of ballots that were in dispute. After a review of the evidence presented, the appeals court modified the trial court's order by: | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009662

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                 | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---------------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Democratic candidate cross--appealed. | (1) deleting an order directing the county elections board (board) to count 160 affidavit ballots tendered by voters who appeared at the correct polling place but the wrong election district, as there were meaningful distinctions between those voters who went to the wrong polling place and those voters who went to the correct polling place but the wrong election district; (2) directing that the board not count |                              |             |                                       |

009663

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 10 affidavit ballots tendered in the wrong election district because of a map error, as there was no evidence that the voters in this category relied on the maps when they went to the wrong election districts; and (3) directing the board to count 45 absentee ballots tendered by poll workers, as it appeared that the workers substantially complied with the statute by providing a written statement that was the functional |                              |             |                                       |

009667

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation   | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |  |                   |  | equivalent of an application for a special ballot. Order modified and judgment affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Pierce v. Allegheny County Bd. of Elections | United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania | 324 F. Supp. 2d 684; 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 25569 | November 13, 2003 | Plaintiff voters sought to enjoin defendant election board from allowing three different procedures for third--party absentee ballot delivery, require the set aside of all absentee third--party delivered ballots in connection with the November 2003 election, prohibit those ballots from being delivered to local election districts after having been commingled with other absentee ballots, and convert a temporary restraining order to an injunction. | Intervenor political committees also moved to dismiss for lack of standing, lack of subject matter jurisdiction, and failure to state a claim, as well as abstention. Inter alia, the court found that abstention was appropriate under the Pullman doctrine because: (1) construction of Pennsylvania election law was not clear | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009665

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | regarding whether the absentee ballot provision requiring hand-delivery to be "in person" was mandatory or directory; (2) the construction of the provision by state courts as mandatory or directory could obviate the need to determine whether there had been a Fourteenth Amendment equal protection violation; and (3) erroneous construction of the provision could disrupt very important state voting rights policies. |                              |             |                                       |

009665

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | However, the court had a continuing duty to consider the motion for temporary restraining order/preliminary injunction despite abstention. The court issued a limited preliminary injunction whereby the 937 hand--delivered absentee ballots at issue were set aside as "challenged" ballots subject to the election code challenge procedure. Any equal protection issues could be heard in state |                              |             |                                       |

009667

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |   |                  |  | court by virtue of the state court's concurrent jurisdiction.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Friedman v. Snipes | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 345 F. Supp. 2d 1356; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23739 | November 9, 2004 | Plaintiff registered voters sued defendant state and county election officials under § 1983 for alleged violations of their rights under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1971(a)(2)(B) of the Civil Rights Act, and the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution. The voters moved for a temporary restraining order (TRO) and/or preliminary injunction. The court granted the TRO and held a hearing on the preliminary injunction. | The voters claimed they timely requested absentee ballots but (1) never received the requested ballot or (2) received a ballot when it was too late for them to submit the absentee ballot. The court held that 42 U.S.C.S. § 1971(a)(2)(B) was not intended to apply to the counting of ballots by those already deemed qualified to vote. The plain meaning of § | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009668

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 1971(a)(2)(B) did not support the voters' claim that it should cover an error or omission on any record or paper or any error or omission in the treatment, handling, or counting of any record or paper. Further, because Florida election law only related to the mechanics of the electoral process, the correct standard to be applied here was whether Florida's important regulatory interests justified the restrictions imposed on their |                              |             |                                       |

009669

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | First and Fourteenth Amendment rights. The State's interests in ensuring a fair and honest election and counting votes within a reasonable time justified the light imposition on voting rights. The deadline for returning ballots did not disenfranchise a class of voters. Rather, it imposed a time deadline by which voters had to return their votes. So there was no equal protection violation. |                              |             |                                       |

009670

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding                        | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Preliminary injunction denied. |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case    | Court   | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|---|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Johnson v. Bush | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 214 F. Supp. 2d 1333; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14782 | July 18, 2002 | Plaintiff felons sued defendant state officials for alleged violations of their constitutional rights. The officials moved and the felons cross-moved for summary judgment. | The felons had all successfully completed their terms of incarceration and/or probation, but their civil rights to register and vote had not been restored. They alleged that Florida's disenfranchisement law violated their rights under First, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Twenty--Fourth Amendments to the United States Constitution, as well as § 1983 and §§ 2 and 10 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Each of the felons' claims was fatally flawed. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009672

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | The felons' exclusion from voting did not violate the Equal Protection or Due Process Clauses of the United States Constitution. The First Amendment did not guarantee felons the right to vote. Although there was evidence that racial animus was a factor in the initial enactment of Florida's disenfranchisement law, there was no evidence that race played a part in the re-enactment of that provision. Although it appeared that there was a disparate impact on |                              |             |                                       |

009673

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |                             |                  |  | minorities, the cause was racially neutral. Finally, requiring the felons to pay their victim restitution before their rights would be restored did not constitute an improper poll tax or wealth qualification. The court granted the officials' motion for summary judgment and implicitly denied the felons' motion. Thus, the court dismissed the lawsuit with prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Locke | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington | 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22212 | December 1, 2000 | Plaintiffs, convicted felons who were also racial minorities, sued defendants for alleged violations | The felons alleged that Washington's felon disenfranchisement and restoration of civil rights  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of the Voting Rights Act. The parties filed cross-motions for summary judgment. | schemes, premised upon Wash. Const. art. VI § 3, resulted in the denial of the right to vote to racial minorities in violation of the VRA. They argued that race bias in, or the discriminatory effect of, the criminal justice system resulted in a disproportionate number of racial minorities being disenfranchised following felony convictions. The court concluded that Washington's felon disenfranchisement provision disenfranchised a disproportionate number of |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | minorities; as a result, minorities were under--represented in Washington's political process. The Rooker--Feldman doctrine barred the felons from bringing any as--applied challenges, and even if it did not bar such claims, there was no evidence that the felons' individual convictions were born of discrimination in the criminal justice system. However, the felons' facial challenge also failed. The remedy they sought would create a new |                              |             |                                       |

009676

| Name of Case            | Court  | Citation                                  | Date          | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--|---|---------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |  |   |               |  | constitutional problem, allowing disenfranchisement only of white felons. Further, the felons did not establish a causal connection between the disenfranchisement provision and the prohibited result. The court granted defendants' motion and denied the felons' motion for summary judgment. |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Washington | United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 338 F.3d 1009; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 14810 | July 25, 2003 | Plaintiff inmates sued defendant state officials, claiming that Washington state's felon disenfranchisement scheme constitutes improper race--based vote denial in | Upon conviction of infamous crimes in the state, (that is, crimes punishable by death or imprisonment in a state correctional facility), the inmates were disenfranchised.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009677

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | violation of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. The United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington granted of summary judgment dismissing the inmates' claims. The inmates appealed. | The inmates claimed that the disenfranchisement scheme violated § 2 because the criminal justice system was biased against minorities, causing a disproportionate minority representation among those being disenfranchised. The appellate court held, inter alia, that the district court erred in failing to consider evidence of racial bias in the state's criminal justice system in determining whether the state's felon disenfranchisement laws resulted in |                              |             |                                       |

009678

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | denial of the right to vote on account of race. Instead of applying its novel "by itself" causation standard, the district court should have applied a totality of the circumstances test that included analysis of the inmates' compelling evidence of racial bias in Washington's criminal justice system. However, the inmates lacked standing to challenge the restoration scheme because they presented no evidence of their eligibility, much |                              |             |                                       |

009679

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |   |                |   | less even allege that they were eligible for restoration, and had not attempted to have their civil rights restored. The court affirmed as to the eligibility claim but reversed and remanded for further proceedings to the bias in the criminal justice system claim. |                              |             |                                       |
| Muntaqim v. Coombe | United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 366 F.3d 102; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8077 | April 23, 2004 | Plaintiff inmate appealed a judgment of the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York, which granted summary judgment in favor of defendants in the inmate's action alleging violation | At issue was whether the VRA could be applied to N.Y. Elec. Law § 5-106, which disenfranchised currently incarcerated felons and parolees. The instant court concluded that the Voting Rights Act did not apply to the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009630

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                    | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. | New York law. Applying the Act to state law would alter the traditional balance of power between the states and the federal government. The court was not convinced that there was a congruence and proportionality between the injury to be prevented or remedied (i.e., the use of vote denial and dilution schemes to avoid the strictures of the VRA), and the means adopted to that end (i.e., prohibition of state felon disenfranchisement law that resulted in |                              |             |                                       |

009681

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | vote denial or dilution but were not enacted with a discriminatory purpose). Further, there was no clear statement from Congress that the Act applied to state felon disenfranchisement statutes. Inter alia, defendants were entitled to qualified immunity as to claim asserted against them in their personal capacities, and to Eleventh Amendment immunity to the extent the inmate sought damages against defendants in their official capacities. The |                              |             |                                       |

009682

| Name of Case                | Court   | Citation                                  | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|---|---|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |   |   |                   |   | district court's judgment was affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of Fla. | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 353 F.3d 1287; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 25859 | December 19, 2003 | Plaintiffs, ex--felon citizens of Florida, on their own right and on behalf of others, sought review of a decision of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, which granted summary judgment to defendants, members of the Florida Clemency Board in their official capacity. The citizens challenged the validity of the Florida felon disenfranchisement laws. | The citizens alleged that Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) was racially discriminatory and violated their constitutional rights. The citizens also alleged violations of the Voting Rights Act. The court of appeals initially examined the history of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) and determined that the citizens had presented evidence that historically the disenfranchisement provisions were motivated by a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009683

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | discriminatory animus. The citizens had met their initial burden of showing that race was a substantial motivating factor. The state was then required to show that the current disenfranchisement provisions would have been enacted absent the impermissible discriminatory intent. Because the state had not met its burden, summary judgment should not have been granted. The court of appeals found that the claim under the Voting Rights Act, also needed to |                              |             |                                       |

009687

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | be remanded for further proceedings. Under a totality of the circumstances, the district court needed to analyze whether intentional racial discrimination was behind the Florida disenfranchisement provisions. The court affirmed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment on the citizens' poll tax claim. The court reversed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment to the Board on the claims under the equal protection clause and for |                              |             |                                       |

009685

| Name of Case        | Court                          | Citation                                      | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--------------------------------|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |                                |   |                |   | violation of federal voting laws and remanded the matter to the district court for further proceedings.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Fischer v. Governor | Supreme Court of New Hampshire | 145 N.H. 28; 749 A.2d 321; 2000 N.H. LEXIS 16 | March 24, 2000 | Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged a ruling of the superior court that the felon disenfranchisement statutes violate N.H. Const. pt. I, Art. 11. | Appellee was incarcerated at the New Hampshire State Prison on felony convictions. When he requested an absentee ballot to vote from a city clerk, the request was denied. The clerk sent him a copy of N.H. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 607(A)(2) (1986), which prohibits a felon from voting "from the time of his sentence until his final discharge." The trial court | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | declared the disenfranchisement statutes unconstitutional and ordered local election officials to allow the plaintiff to vote. Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged this ruling. The central issue was whether the felon disenfranchisement statutes violated N.H. Const. pt. I, art. 11. After a review of the article, its constitutional history, and legislation pertinent to the right of felons to vote, the court concluded that the legislature retained the |                              |             |                                       |

009687

| Name of Case           | Court                  | Citation       | Date           | Facts                                | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|------------------------|----------------|----------------|--------------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |                        |                |                |                                      | authority under the article to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative authority, and reversed. Judgment reversed because the court concluded that the legislature retained its authority under the New Hampshire Constitution to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative authority. |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of | United States Court of | 405 F.3d 1214; | April 12, 2005 | Plaintiff individuals sued defendant | The individuals argued that the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009688

| Name of Case | Court                            | Citation                  | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------------------------------|---------------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Fla.         | Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 5945 |      | members of Florida Clemency Board, arguing that Florida's felon disenfranchisement law, Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968), violated the Equal Protection Clause and the Voting Rights Act. The United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida granted the members summary judgment. A divided appellate panel reversed. The panel opinion was vacated and a rehearing en banc was granted. | racial animus motivating the adoption of Florida's disenfranchisement laws in 1868 remained legally operative despite the reenactment of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 in 1968. The subsequent reenactment eliminated any discriminatory taint from the law as originally enacted because the provision narrowed the class of disenfranchised individuals and was amended through a deliberative process. Moreover, there was no allegation of racial |                              |             |                                       |

009689

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | discrimination at the time of the reenactment. Thus, the disenfranchisement provision was not a violation of the Equal Protection Clause and the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on that claim. The argument that the Voting Rights Act applied to Florida's disenfranchisement provision was rejected because it raised grave constitutional concerns, i.e., prohibiting a practice that the Fourteenth Amendment |                              |             |                                       |

009690

| Name of Case          | Court                              | Citation                      | Date               | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------|--------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                       |                                    |                               |                    |  | permitted the state to maintain. In addition, the legislative history indicated that Congress never intended the Voting Rights Act to reach felon disenfranchisement provisions. Thus, the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on the Voting Rights Act claim. The motion for summary judgment in favor of the members was granted. |                              |             |                                       |
| Mixon v. Commonwealth | Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania | 759 A.2d 442; 2000 Pa. Commw. | September 18, 2000 | Respondents filed objections to petitioners' complaint seeking declaratory relief as | Petitioner convicted felons were presently or had formerly been confined in state   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009691

| Name of Case | Court | Citation     | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|--------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | LEXIS534 |      | to the unconstitutionality of the Pennsylvania Election Code, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2600 -- 3591, and the Pennsylvania Voter Registration Act, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 961.101--961.5109, regarding felon voting rights. | prison. Petitioner elector was currently registered to vote in respondent state. Petitioners filed a complaint against respondent state seeking declaratory relief challenging as unconstitutional, state election and voting laws that excluded confined felons from the definition of qualified absentee electors and that barred a felon who had been released from a penal institution for less than five years from registering to vote. Respondents filed objections to petitioners' |                              |             |                                       |

009692

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | complaint. The court sustained respondents' objection that incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status because respondent state had broad power to determine the conditions under which suffrage could be exercised. However, petitioner elector had no standing and the court overruled objection as to deprivation of ex-felon voting rights. The court sustained respondents' objection since |                              |             |                                       |

009693

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation                    | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|-----------------------------|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |                             |                   |  | incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status and petitioner elector had no standing, but objection that ex--incarcerated felons' voting rights were deprived was overruled since status penalized them. |                              |             |                                       |
| Rosello v. Calderon | United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 27216 | November 30, 2004 | Plaintiff voters filed a § 1983 action against defendant government officials alleging violations the Due Process and Equal Protection Clauses of the U.S. Const. amend. XIV, resulting from the invalidity of | The voters' § 1983 action against government officials alleged that absentee ballots for a gubernatorial election were untimely mailed and that split votes, which registered two votes for the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009694

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | absentee and split ballots in a gubernatorial election. | same office, were null. The court asserted jurisdiction over the disparate treatment claims, which arose under the U.S. Constitution. The court declined to exercise discretionary abstention because the case was not merely a facial attack on the constitutionality of a statute, but was mainly an applied challenge, requiring a hearing in order to develop the record, and because equal protection and due process were secured under the state and federal |                              |             |                                       |

009695

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | constitutions. The court held that the voters had a fundamental due process right created by Puerto Rico Election Law and suffered an equal protection violation in further violation of the U.S. Const. amend. I right to vote, thereby creating their total disenfranchisement. The court held that the evidence created an inference that the split ballots were not uniformly treated and that it was required to examine a mixed question of fact and constitutional law |                              |             |                                       |

009696

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation                                      | Date            | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|---|-----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |   |                 |   | pursuant to federal guidelines to determine whether potential over votes were invalid. The court asserted jurisdiction over the voters' claims.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Woodruff v. Wyoming | United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit | 49 Fed. Appx. 199; 2002 U.S. App. LEXIS 21060 | October 7, 2002 | Plaintiffs, pro se inmates, appealed from an order of the United States District Court for the District of Wyoming, dismissing their complaint brought under § 1983, challenging Wyo. Stat. Ann. § 6--10--106, which denied them, as convicted felons, the right to vote. The district court dismissed the action for failure to state a claim upon | The inmates argued that the statute violated their Eighth Amendment right and their State constitutional right to be free from cruel and unusual punishment, their equal protection rights under the Fourteenth Amendment and State Constitution, and their federal and state rights to due process. One inmate had not paid the appellate filing | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009697

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | which relief could be granted and as frivolous. | fee or filed a motion to proceed on appeal without prepayment of costs or fees, and his appeal was dismissed. The court found that U.S. Const. amend. XIV, § 2 had long been held to exclude felons from the right to vote. It could scarcely be unreasonable for a state to decide that perpetrators of serious crimes should not take part in electing the legislators who made the laws, the executives who enforced them, the prosecutors who tried the cases, or the judges who |                              |             |                                       |

009698

| Name of Case                      | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|--|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |  |   |                  |   | heard their cases. The court also found the dismissed suit constituted a "strike" under 28 U.S.C.S. § 1915(g), although the suit did not challenge prison conditions per se. One inmate's appeal was dismissed; the judgment dismissing the other's complaint was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| N.J. State Conf.--NAACP v. Harvey | Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division | 381 N.J. Super. 155; 885 A.2d 445; 2005 N.J. Super. LEXIS 316 | November 2, 2005 | The Superior Court of New Jersey, Chancery Division, Union County, dismissed a complaint filed by plaintiff interested parties to invalidate N.J. Stat. Ann. § 19:4--1(8) on the ground that it | The statute at issue prohibited all people on parole or probation for indictable offenses from voting. The interested parties alleged that the criminal justice system in New Jersey  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009699

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | denied African--Americans and Hispanics equal protection of the law. Defendant, the New Jersey Attorney General, moved to dismiss the complaint for failure to state a claim, and said motion was granted. The interested parties then appealed. | discriminated against African-Americans and Hispanics, thereby disproportionately increasing their population among parolees and probationers and diluting their political power. As a result, the alleged that enforcement of the statute resulted in a denial of equal protection under the state Constitution. The appeals court disagreed. N.J. Const. art. II authorized the New Jersey Legislature to disenfranchise persons convicted of certain crimes from voting. |                              |             |                                       |

009700

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                   | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|----------------------------|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |                            |              |   | Moreover, those convicts could not vote unless pardoned or unless otherwise restored by law to the right of suffrage. The statute also limited the period of disenfranchisement during a defendant's actual service on parole or probation. Thus, it clearly complied with this specific constitutional mandate. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| King v. City of Boston | United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8421 | May 13, 2004 | Plaintiff inmate filed a motion for summary judgment in his action challenging the constitutionality of Mass. Gen. Laws | The inmate was convicted of a felony and incarcerated. His application for an absentee ballot was denied on the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009701

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | ch. 51, § 1, which excluded incarcerated felons from voting while they were imprisoned. | ground that he was not qualified to register and vote under Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1. The inmate argued that the statute was unconstitutional as it applied to him because it amounted to additional punishment for crimes he committed before the statute's enactment and thus violated his due process rights and the prohibition against ex post facto laws and bills of attainder. The court held that the statute was regulatory and not punitive because |                              |             |                                       |

009702

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | rational choices were implicated in the statute's disenfranchisement of persons under guardianship, persons disqualified because of corrupt elections practices, persons under 18 years of age, as well as incarcerated felons. Specifically, incarcerated felons were disqualified during the period of their imprisonment when it would be difficult to identify their address and ensure the accuracy of their ballots. Therefore, the court concluded that Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1 did not |                              |             |                                       |

009703

| Name of Case  | Court   | Citation  | Date            | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|-----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |                 |   | violate the inmate's constitutional rights. The court found the statute at issue to be constitutional and denied the inmate's motion for summary judgment.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Southwest Voter Registration Educ. Project v. Shelley | United States District Court for the Central District of California | 278 F. Supp. 2d 1131; 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14413 | August 15, 2003 | Plaintiffs, several groups, brought suit alleging that the proposed use of "punch-card" balloting machines in the California election would violate the United States Constitution and Voting Rights Act. Plaintiffs moved for an order delaying that election, scheduled for October 7, 2003, until such time as it could be | Plaintiffs claimed voters using punch-card machines would have a comparatively lesser chance of having their votes counted in violation of the Equal Protection Clause and the counties employing punch-card systems had greater minority populations thereby disproportionately disenfranchising and/or diluting the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009704

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | conducted without use of punch--card machines. | votes on the basis of race, in violation of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. While the court did not need to decide the res judicata issue at this juncture, there was ample reason to believe that plaintiffs would have had a difficult time overcoming it as they were seeking to establish the same constitutional violations alleged in prior litigation, but to secure an additional remedy. Plaintiffs failed to prove a likelihood of success on the merits with regard to both of their claims. Even if |                              |             |                                       |

009705

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | plaintiffs could show disparate treatment, such would not have amounted to illegal or unconstitutional treatment. The balance of hardships weighed heavily in favor of allowing the election to proceed. The public interests in avoiding wholesale disenfranchisement, and/or not plunging the State into a constitutional crisis, weighed heavily against enjoining the election. Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction (consolidated with |                              |             |                                       |

009706

| Name of Case                         | Court  | Citation                                 | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------------|--|--|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                      |  |  |                |   | plaintiffs' ex parte application for temporary restraining order) was denied.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Igartua--de la Rosa v. United States | United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit | 417 F.3d 145; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 15944 | August 3, 2005 | Plaintiff, a U.S. citizen residing in Puerto Rico, appealed from an order of the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico, that rejected his claim that he was deprived of the constitutional right to vote for President and Vice President of the United States, and was also violative of three treaty obligations of the United States. | The putative voter had brought the same claims twice before. The court pointed out that U.S. law granted to the citizens of states the right to vote for the slate of electors to represent that state. Although modern ballots omitted the names of the electors and listed only the candidates, and in form it appeared that the citizens were voting for President and Vice President directly, they were | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009707

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not, but were voting for electors. Puerto Rico was not a state, and had not been enfranchised as the District of Columbia had by the 23rd Amendment. The franchise for choosing electors was confined to "states" by the Constitution. The court declined to turn to foreign or treaty law as a source to reverse the political will of the country. The judgment of the district court was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

009708

| Name of Case                            | District | Case Number   | Date             | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|----------|---------------|------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Rogelio Mejorada-Lopez | Alaska   | 05-CR-074     | December 5, 2005 | Mejorada-Lopez, a Mexican citizen, completed several voter registration applications to register to vote in Alaska and voted in the 2000, 2002, and 2004 general elections. He was charged with three counts of voting by a non-citizen in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 611 and pled guilty. Mejorada-Lopez was sentenced to probation for one year. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v. Shah                   | Colorado | 1:04-CR-00458 | March 1, 2005    | Shah was indicted on two counts of providing false   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009709

| Name of Case                | District         | Case Number   | Date             | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further             |
|-----------------------------|------------------|---------------|------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---|
|                             |                  |               |                  | information concerning United States citizenship in order to register to vote in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911 and 1015(f). Shah was convicted on both counts. |                              |             |   |
| United States v. Mohsin Ali | Northern Florida | 4:05-CR-47    | January 17, 2006 | A misdemeanor was filed against Ali charging him with voting by a non-citizen of 18 U.S.C. section 611. Trial was set for January 17, 2006                          | No                           | N/A         | Yes-need information on the outcome of the trial. |
| United States v. Chaudhary  | Northern Florida | 4:04-CR-00059 | May 18, 2005     | Chaudhary was indicted for misuse of a social security number in violation of 42 U.S.C. section   | No                           | N/A         | No  |

009710

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | 408 and for making a false claim of United States citizenship on a 2002 driver's license application in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911. A superceding indictment was returned, charging Chaudhary with falsely claiming United States citizenship on a driver's license application and on the accompanying voter registration application. He was convicted of the false citizenship claim on his voter |                              |             |                                       |

009711

| Name of Case               | District         | Case Number   | Date              | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------|------------------|---------------|-------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                            |                  |               |                   | registration application.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Velasquez | Southern Florida | 1:03-CR-20233 | September 9, 2003 | Velasquez, a former 1996 and 1998 candidate for the Florida legislature, was indicted on charges of misrepresenting United States citizenship in connection with voting and for making false statements to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911, 1015(f) and 1001. Velasquez was convicted on two counts of making false statements on his naturalization | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009712

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number   | Date          | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|---|---------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                  |   |               | application to the INS concerning his voting history.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. McKenzie;United States v. Francois;United States v. Exavier; United States v. Lloyd Palmer; United States v. Velrine Palmer; United states v. Shivdayal;United States v. Rickman;United States v. Knight; United States v. Sweeting;United States v. Lubin; United States v. Bennett;United States v. O'Neil; United | Southern Florida | 0:04-CR-60160;1:04-CR-20488;0:04-CR-60161;0:04-CR-60159;0:04-CR-60162;0:04-CR-60164;1:04-CR-20491;1:04-CR-20490;1:04-CR-20489;0:04-CR-60163;1:04-CR-14048;0:04-CR-60165;2:04-CR-14046;9:04-CR-80103;2:04-CR-14047 | July 15, 2004 | Fifteen non-citizens were charged with voting in various elections beginning in 1998 in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 611. Four of the defendants were also charged with making false citizenship claims in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 911 or 1015(f). Ten defendants were convicted, one defendant was acquitted, and charges against four | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009713

| Name of Case   | District          | Case Number   | Date              | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-------------------|---|-------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| States v. Torres-Perez; United States v. Phillip; United States v. Bain Knight |                   |   |                   | defendants were dismissed upon motion of the government.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Brooks  | Southern Illinois | 3:03-CR-30201   | February 12, 2004 | East St. Louis election official Leander Brooks was indicted for submitting fraudulent ballots in the 2002 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c), 1973i(e), 1973gg-10(2)(B), and 18 U.S.C. sections 241 and 371. Brooks pled guilty to all charges. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v. Scott; United States v. Nichols; United States v.             | Southern Illinois | 3:05-CR-30040;3:05-CR-30041;3:05-CR-30042;3:05-CR-30043;3:05-CR-30044 | June 29, 2005     | Four Democrat precinct committeemen in East St. Louis were charged  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009714

| Name of Case   | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Terrance Stith;United States v.Sandra Stith;United States v.Powell, et al. |          |             |      | with vote buying on the 2004 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). All four pled guilty. Also indicted were four additional Democrat committeemen, Charles Powell, Jr., Jesse Lewis, Sheila Thomas, Kelvin Ellis, and one precinct worker, Yvette Johnson, on conspiracy and vote buying charges in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). All five defendants were convicted. |                              |             |                                       |

009715

| Name of Case              | District | Case Number   | Date              | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------|----------|---------------|-------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                           |          |               |                   | Kelvin Ellis also pled guilty to one count of 18 U.S.C. section 1512(c)(2) relative to a scheme to kill one of the trial witnesses and two counts of 18 U.S.C. section 1503 relative to directing two other witnesses to refuse to testify before the grand jury. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. McIntosh | Kansas   | 2:04-CR-20142 | December 20, 2004 | A felony information was filed against lawyer Leslie McIntosh for voting in both Wyandotte County, Kansas and Jackson County, Missouri, in the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009716

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number   | Date                              | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|---|-----------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                  |   |                                   | general elections of 2000 and 2002 in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). A superseding misdemeanor information was filed, charging McIntosh with causing the deprivation of constitutional rights in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 242, to which the defendant pled guilty. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Conley; United States v. Slone; United States v. Madden; United States v. Slone et al.; United States v. Calhoun; United | Eastern Kentucky | 7:03-CR-00013;7:03-CR-00014;7:03-CR-00015;7:03-CR-00016;7:03-CR-00017;7:03-CR-00018;7:03-CR-00019 | March 28, 2003 and April 24, 2003 | Ten people were indicted on vote buying charges in connection with the 1998 primary election in Knott County, Kentucky, in violation of 42   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009717

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number   | Date          | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|---------------|---------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| States v. Johnson; United States v. Newsome, et al. |                  |               |               | U.S.C. section 1973i(c). Five of the defendants pled guilty, two were convicted, and three were acquitted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Hays, et al.                       | Eastern Kentucky | 7:03-CR-00011 | March 7, 2003 | Ten defendants were indicted for conspiracy and vote buying for a local judge in Pike County, Kentucky, in the 2002 general election, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 371. Five defendants were convicted, one defendant was acquitted, and charges against four defendants were dismissed | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009718

| Name of Case                    | District         | Case Number   | Date        | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------------|------------------|---------------|-------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                 |                  |               |             | upon motion of the government.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Turner, et al. | Eastern Kentucky | 3:05-CR-00002 | May 5, 2005 | Three defendants were indicted for vote buying and mail fraud in connection with the 2000 elections in Knott, Letcher, Floyd, and Breathitt Counties, Kentucky, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 341. | No                           | N/A         | Yes-need update on case status.       |
| United States v. Braud          | Middle Louisiana | 3:03-CR-00019 | May 2, 2003 | Tyrell Mathews Braud was indicted on three counts of making false declarations to a grand jury in connection with his 2002 fabrication of   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009719

| Name of Case                | District          | Case Number                      | Date                   | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|-------------------|----------------------------------|------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |                   |                                  |                        | eleven voter registration applications, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1623. Braud pled guilty on all counts.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Thibodeaux | Western Louisiana | 6:03-CR-60055                    | April 12, 2005         | St. Martinsville City Councilwoman Pamela C. Thibodeaux was indicted on two counts of conspiring to submit false voter registration information, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). She pled guilty to both charges. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v. Scherzer;  | Western Missouri  | 4:04-CR-00401;4:04-CR-00402; | January 7, 2005; March | Two misdemeanor   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009720

| Name of Case  | District | Case Number                     | Date  | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|----------|---------------------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Goodrich;United States v. Jones; United States v. Martin |          | 4:05-CR-00257;4:05-CR-00258 | 28, 2005;September 8, 2005;October 13, 2005 | informations were filed charging Lorraine Goodrich and James Scherzer, Kansas residents who voted in the 2000 and 2002 general elections on both Johnson County, Kansas and in Kansas City, Missouri. The informations charged deprivation of a constitutional right by causing spurious ballots, in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 242 and 2. Both pled guilty. Additionally, similar misdemeanor informations |                              |             |                                       |

009721

| Name of Case   | District             | Case Number  | Date                     | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------------------|--|--------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                      |  |                          | were filed against Tammy J. Martin, who voted in both Independence and Kansas City, Missouri in the 2004 general election and Brandon E. Jones, who voted both in Raytown and Kansas City, Missouri in the 2004 general election. Both pled guilty. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Raymond; United States v. McGee; United States v. Tobin; United States v. Hansen | New Hampshire | 04-CR-00141; 04-CR-00146; 04-CR-00216; 04-CR-00054 | December 15, 2005 | Two informations were filed charging Allen Raymond, former president of a Virginia-based political consulting firm called GOP Marketplace, and  | No                    | N/A  | No                             |

009722

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Charles McGee, former executive director of the New Hampshire State Republican Committee, with conspiracy to commit telephone harassment using an interstate phone facility in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 47 U.S.C. section 223. The charges stem from a scheme to block the phone lines used by two Manchester organizations to arrange drives to the polls during the 2002 general election. Both pled guilty. |                              |             |                                       |

009723

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | James Tobin, former New England Regional Director of the Republican National Committee, was indicted on charges of conspiring to commit telephone harassment using an interstate phone facility in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 47 U.S.C. section 223. An information was filed charging Shaun Hansen, the principal of an Idaho telemarketing firm called |                              |             |                                       |

009724

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | MILO Enterprises which placed the harassing calls, with conspiracy and aiding and abetting telephone harassment, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 2 and 47 U.S.C. section 223. The information against Hansen was dismissed upon motion of the government. A superseding indictment was returned against Tobin charging conspiracy to impede the constitutional right to vote for federal |                              |             |                                       |

009725

| Name of Case             | District               | Case Number   | Date          | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------|------------------------|---------------|---------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                          |                        |               |               | candidates, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 241 and conspiracy to make harassing telephone calls in violation of 47 U.S.C. section 223. Tobin was convicted of one count of conspiracy to commit telephone harassment and one count of aiding and abetting of telephone harassment. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Workman | Western North Carolina | 1:03-CR-00038 | June 30, 2003 | A ten-count indictment was returned charging Joshua Workman, a Canadian citizen, with voting and  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009726

| Name of Case                     | District               | Case Number   | Date         | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------------|------------------------|---------------|--------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                  |                        |               |              | related offenses in the 200 and 2002 primary and general elections in Avery County, North Carolina, in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 611, 911, 1001, and 1015(f). Workman pled guilty to providing false information to election officials and to a federal agency. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Shatley, et al. | Western North Carolina | 5:03-CR-00035 | May 14, 2004 | A nine-count indictment was returned charging Wayne Shatley, Anita Moore, Valerie Moore, Carlos "Sunshine" Hood and Ross "Toogie" Banner  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009727

| Name of Case            | District      | Case Number  | Date              | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|---------------|--------------|-------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |               |              |                   | with conspiracy and vote buying in the Caldwell County 2002 general election, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 371. Anita and Valerie Moore pled guilty. Shatley, Hood, and Banner were all convicted. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Vargas | South Dakota  | 05-CR-50085  | December 22, 2005 | An indictment was filed against Rudolph Vargas, for voting more than once at Pine Ridge in the 2002 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). Vargas pled guilty.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v.        | Southern West | 02-CR-00234; | July 22,          | Danny Ray  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009728

| Name of Case   | District | Case Number   | Date  | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------|---|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Wells; United States v. Mendez; United States v. Porter; United States v. Hrutkay; United States v. Porter; United States v. Stapleton; United States v. Thomas E. Esposito; United States v. Nagy; United States v. Adkins; United States v. Harvey | Virginia | 2:04-CR-00101;2:04-CR-00145;2:04-CR-00149;2:04-CR-00173;2:05-CR-00002;05-CR-00019;05-CR-00148;05-CR-00161 | 2003; July 19, 2004;December 7, 2004;January 7, 2005; March 21, 2005;October 11, 2005;December 13, 2005 | Wells, Logan County, West Virginia, magistrate, was indicted and charged with violating 18 U.S.C. section 1962. Wells was found guilty. A felony indictment was filed against Logan County sheriff Johnny Mendez for conspiracy to defraud the United States in violation 18 U.S.C section 371. Mendez pled guilty. An information was filed charging former Logan County police chief Alvin Ray Porter, Jr., with |                              |             |                                       |

009729

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | making expenditures to influence voting in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Porter pled guilty. Logan County attorney Mark Oliver Hrutkay was charged by information with mail fraud in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1341. Hrutkay pled guilty. Earnest Stapleton, commander of the local VFW, was charged by information with mail fraud. He pled guilty. An information was filed charging Thomas E. |                              |             |                                       |

009730

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Esposito, a former mayor of the City of Logan, with concealing the commission of a felony, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 4. Esposito pled guilty. John Wesley Nagy, Logan County Court marshall, pled guilty to making false statements to a federal agent, a violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1001. An information charging Glen Dale Adkins, county clerk of Logan County, with accepting payment for |                              |             |                                       |

009731

| Name of Case                    | District               | Case Number   | Date                   | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|---------------|------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                 |                        |               |                        | voting, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). Adkins pled guilty. Perry French Harvey, Jr., a retired UMW official, pled guilty to involvement in a conspiracy to buy votes.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Adkins, et al. | Southern West Virginia | 2:04-CR-00162 | December 28 & 30, 2005 | Jackie Adkins was indicted for vote buying in Lincoln County, West Virginia, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). A superceding indictment added Wandell "Rocky" Adkins to the indictment and charged both defendants with conspiracy to | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009732

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | buy votes in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and vote buying. A second superseding indictment was returned which added three additional defendants, Gegory Brent Stowers, Clifford Odell "Groundhog" Vance, and Toney "Zeke" Dingess, to the conspiracy and vote buying indictment. Charges were later dismissed against Jackie Adkins. A third superseding indictment was returned adding |                              |             |                                       |

009733

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | two additional defendants, Jerry Allen Weaver and Ralph Dale Adkins. A superseding information was filed charging Vance with expenditures to influence voting, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Vance pled guilty. Superseding informations were filed against Stowers and Dingess for expenditures to influence voting, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Both defendants pled guilty. Weaver also pled guilty. |                              |             |                                       |

009734

| Name of Case   | District          | Case Number   | Date  | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further   |
|--|-------------------|---|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---|
|  |                   |   |   | Superseding informations were filed against Ralph and Wandell Adkins for expenditures to influence voting, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Both defendants pled guilty.  |                              |             |   |
| United States v. Davis; United States v. Byas; United States v. Ocasio; United States v. Prude; United States v. Sanders; United States v. Alicea; United States v. Brooks; United States v. Hamilton; United States v. Little; United | Eastern Wisconsin | 2:05-MJ-00454;2:05-MJ-00455;2:05-CR-00161;2:05-CR-00162;2:05-CR-00163;2:05-CR-00168;2:05-CR-00170;2:05-CR-00171;2:05-CR-00172;2:05-CR-00177;2:05-CR-00207;2:05-CR-00209;2:05-CR-00211;2:05-CR-00212 | September 16, 2005;September 21, 2005;October 5, 2005;October 26, 2005;October 31, 2005,November 10, 2005 | Criminal complaints were issued against Brian L. Davis and Theresa J. Byas charging them with double voting, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). Indictments were filed against convicted felons Milo R. Ocasio | No                           | N/A         | Need updated status on Gooden and the Anderson, Cox, Edwards, and Little cases. |

009735

| Name of Case   | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| States v. Swift;United States v. Anderson;United States v. Cox; United States v. Edwards;United States v. Gooden |          |             |      | and Kimberly Prude, charging them with falsely certifying that they were eligible to vote, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973gg-10(2)(B), and against Enrique C. Sanders, charging him with multiple voting, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). Five more indictments were later returned charging Cynthia C. Alicea with multiple voting in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e) and convicted felons |                              |             |                                       |

009736

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Deshawn B. Brooks, Alexander T. Hamilton, Derek G. Little, and Eric L. Swift with falsely certifying that they were eligible to vote in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973gg-10(2)(B). Indictments were filed against Davis and Byas charging them with double voting. Four more indictments were returned charging convicted felons Ethel M. Anderson, Jiyto L. Cox, Correan F. Edwards, and Joseph J. Gooden |                              |             |                                       |

009737

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | with falsely certifying that they were eligible to vote. Ocasio and Hamilton pled guilty. Prude was found guilty. A mistrial was declared in the Sanders case. Brooks was acquitted. Byas signed a plea agreement agreeing to plead to a misdemeanor 18 U.S.C. section 242 charge. Swift moved to change his plea. Davis was found incompetent to stand trial so the government dismissed the case. Gooden is a |                              |             |                                       |

009738

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | fugitive. Alicea was acquitted. Four cases are pending --- Anderson, Cox, Edwards, and Little. |                              |             |                                       |

009739

| Name of Case    | Court   | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|---|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Johnson v. Bush | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 214 F. Supp. 2d 1333; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14782 | July 18, 2002 | Plaintiff felons sued defendant state officials for alleged violations of their constitutional rights. The officials moved and the felons cross-moved for summary judgment. | The felons had all successfully completed their terms of incarceration and/or probation, but their civil rights to register and vote had not been restored. They alleged that Florida's disenfranchisement law violated their rights under First, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Twenty--Fourth Amendments to the United States Constitution, as well as § 1983 and §§ 2 and 10 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Each of the felons' claims was fatally flawed. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | The felons' exclusion from voting did not violate the Equal Protection or Due Process Clauses of the United States Constitution. The First Amendment did not guarantee felons the right to vote. Although there was evidence that racial animus was a factor in the initial enactment of Florida's disenfranchisement law, there was no evidence that race played a part in the re-enactment of that provision. Although it appeared that there was a disparate impact on |                              |             |                                       |

009741

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |                             |                  |  | minorities, the cause was racially neutral. Finally, requiring the felons to pay their victim restitution before their rights would be restored did not constitute an improper poll tax or wealth qualification. The court granted the officials' motion for summary judgment and implicitly denied the felons' motion. Thus, the court dismissed the lawsuit with prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Locke | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington | 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22212 | December 1, 2000 | Plaintiffs, convicted felons who were also racial minorities, sued defendants for alleged violations | The felons alleged that Washington's felon disenfranchisement and restoration of civil rights   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009742

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of the Voting Rights Act. The parties filed cross-motions for summary judgment. | schemes, premised upon Wash. Const. art. VI § 3, resulted in the denial of the right to vote to racial minorities in violation of the VRA. They argued that race bias in, or the discriminatory effect of, the criminal justice system resulted in a disproportionate number of racial minorities being disenfranchised following felony convictions. The court concluded that Washington's felon disenfranchisement provision disenfranchised a disproportionate number of |                              |             |                                       |

009743

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | minorities; as a result, minorities were under--represented in Washington's political process. The Rooker--Feldman doctrine barred the felons from bringing any as--applied challenges, and even if it did not bar such claims, there was no evidence that the felons' individual convictions were born of discrimination in the criminal justice system. However, the felons' facial challenge also failed. The remedy they sought would create a new |                              |             |                                       |

009744

| Name of Case            | Court  | Citation                                  | Date          | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--|---|---------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |  |   |               |  | constitutional problem, allowing disenfranchisement only of white felons. Further, the felons did not establish a causal connection between the disenfranchisement provision and the prohibited result. The court granted defendants' motion and denied the felons' motion for summary judgment. |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Washington | United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 338 F.3d 1009; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 14810 | July 25, 2003 | Plaintiff inmates sued defendant state officials, claiming that Washington state's felon disenfranchisement scheme constitutes improper race--based vote denial in | Upon conviction of infamous crimes in the state, (that is, crimes punishable by death or imprisonment in a state correctional facility), the inmates were disenfranchised.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009745

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | violation of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. The United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington granted of summary judgment dismissing the inmates' claims. The inmates appealed. | The inmates claimed that the disenfranchisement scheme violated § 2 because the criminal justice system was biased against minorities, causing a disproportionate minority representation among those being disenfranchised. The appellate court held, inter alia, that the district court erred in failing to consider evidence of racial bias in the state's criminal justice system in determining whether the state's felon disenfranchisement laws resulted in |                              |             |                                       |

009746

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | denial of the right to vote on account of race. Instead of applying its novel "by itself" causation standard, the district court should have applied a totality of the circumstances test that included analysis of the inmates' compelling evidence of racial bias in Washington's criminal justice system. However, the inmates lacked standing to challenge the restoration scheme because they presented no evidence of their eligibility, much |                              |             |                                       |

009747

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |   |                |   | less even allege that they were eligible for restoration, and had not attempted to have their civil rights restored. The court affirmed as to the eligibility claim but reversed and remanded for further proceedings to the bias in the criminal justice system claim. |                              |             |                                       |
| Muntaqim v. Coombe | United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 366 F.3d 102; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8077 | April 23, 2004 | Plaintiff inmate appealed a judgment of the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York, which granted summary judgment in favor of defendants in the inmate's action alleging violation | At issue was whether the VRA could be applied to N.Y. Elec. Law§ 5-106, which disenfranchised currently incarcerated felons and parolees. The instant court concluded that the Voting Rights Act did not apply to the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009748

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                    | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. | New York law. Applying the Act to state law would alter the traditional balance of power between the states and the federal government. The court was not convinced that there was a congruence and proportionality between the injury to be prevented or remedied (i.e., the use of vote denial and dilution schemes to avoid the strictures of the VRA), and the means adopted to that end (i.e., prohibition of state felon disenfranchisement law that resulted in |                              |             |                                       |

009749

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | vote denial or dilution but were not enacted with a discriminatory purpose). Further, there was no clear statement from Congress that the Act applied to state felon disenfranchisement statutes. Inter alia, defendants were entitled to qualified immunity as to claim asserted against them in their personal capacities, and to Eleventh Amendment immunity to the extent the inmate sought damages against defendants in their official capacities. The |                              |             |                                       |

009750

| Name of Case                | Court   | Citation                                  | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|---|---|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |   |   |                   |   | district court's judgment was affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of Fla. | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 353 F.3d 1287; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 25859 | December 19, 2003 | Plaintiffs, ex--felon citizens of Florida, on their own right and on behalf of others, sought review of a decision of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, which granted summary judgment to defendants, members of the Florida Clemency Board in their official capacity. The citizens challenged the validity of the Florida felon disenfranchisement laws. | The citizens alleged that Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) was racially discriminatory and violated their constitutional rights. The citizens also alleged violations of the Voting Rights Act. The court of appeals initially examined the history of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) and determined that the citizens had presented evidence that historically the disenfranchisement provisions were motivated by a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009751

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | discriminatory animus. The citizens had met their initial burden of showing that race was a substantial motivating factor. The state was then required to show that the current disenfranchisement provisions would have been enacted absent the impermissible discriminatory intent. Because the state had not met its burden, summary judgment should not have been granted. The court of appeals found that the claim under the Voting Rights Act, also needed to |                              |             |                                       |

009752

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | be remanded for further proceedings. Under a totality of the circumstances, the district court needed to analyze whether intentional racial discrimination was behind the Florida disenfranchisement provisions. The court affirmed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment on the citizens' poll tax claim. The court reversed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment to the Board on the claims under the equal protection clause and for |                              |             |                                       |

009753

| Name of Case        | Court                          | Citation                                      | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--------------------------------|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |                                |   |                |   | violation of federal voting laws and remanded the matter to the district court for further proceedings.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Fischer v. Governor | Supreme Court of New Hampshire | 145 N.H. 28; 749 A.2d 321; 2000 N.H. LEXIS 16 | March 24, 2000 | Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged a ruling of the superior court that the felon disenfranchisement statutes violate N.H. Const. pt. I, Art. 11. | Appellee was incarcerated at the New Hampshire State Prison on felony convictions. When he requested an absentee ballot to vote from a city clerk, the request was denied. The clerk sent him a copy of N.H. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 607(A)(2) (1986), which prohibits a felon from voting "from the time of his sentence until his final discharge." The trial court | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009754

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | declared the disenfranchisement statutes unconstitutional and ordered local election officials to allow the plaintiff to vote. Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged this ruling. The central issue was whether the felon disenfranchisement statutes violated N.H. Const. pt. I, art. 11. After a review of the article, its constitutional history, and legislation pertinent to the right of felons to vote, the court concluded that the legislature retained the |                              |             |                                       |

009755

| Name of Case           | Court                  | Citation       | Date           | Facts                                | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|------------------------|----------------|----------------|--------------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |                        |                |                |                                      | authority under the article to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative authority, and reversed. Judgment reversed because the court concluded that the legislature retained its authority under the New Hampshire Constitution to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative authority. |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of | United States Court of | 405 F.3d 1214; | April 12, 2005 | Plaintiff individuals sued defendant | The individuals argued that the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009756

| Name of Case | Court                            | Citation                  | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------------------------------|---------------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Fla.         | Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 5945 |      | members of Florida Clemency Board, arguing that Florida's felon disenfranchisement law, Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968), violated the Equal Protection Clause and the Voting Rights Act. The United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida granted the members summary judgment. A divided appellate panel reversed. The panel opinion was vacated and a rehearing en banc was granted. | racial animus motivating the adoption of Florida's disenfranchisement laws in 1868 remained legally operative despite the reenactment of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 in 1968. The subsequent reenactment eliminated any discriminatory taint from the law as originally enacted because the provision narrowed the class of disenfranchised individuals and was amended through a deliberative process. Moreover, there was no allegation of racial |                              |             |                                       |

009757

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | discrimination at the time of the reenactment. Thus, the disenfranchisement provision was not a violation of the Equal Protection Clause and the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on that claim. The argument that the Voting Rights Act applied to Florida's disenfranchisement provision was rejected because it raised grave constitutional concerns, i.e., prohibiting a practice that the Fourteenth Amendment |                              |             |                                       |

009758

| Name of Case          | Court                              | Citation                      | Date               | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------|--------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                       |                                    |                               |                    |  | permitted the state to maintain. In addition, the legislative history indicated that Congress never intended the Voting Rights Act to reach felon disenfranchisement provisions. Thus, the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on the Voting Rights Act claim. The motion for summary judgment in favor of the members was granted. |                              |             |                                       |
| Mixon v. Commonwealth | Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania | 759 A.2d 442; 2000 Pa. Commw. | September 18, 2000 | Respondents filed objections to petitioners' complaint seeking declaratory relief as | Petitioner convicted felons were presently or had formerly been confined in state  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009759

| Name of Case | Court | Citation     | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|--------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | LEXIS534 |      | to the unconstitutionality of the Pennsylvania Election Code, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2600 -- 3591, and the Pennsylvania Voter Registration Act, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 961.101--961.5109, regarding felon voting rights. | prison. Petitioner elector was currently registered to vote in respondent state. Petitioners filed a complaint against respondent state seeking declaratory relief challenging as unconstitutional, state election and voting laws that excluded confined felons from the definition of qualified absentee electors and that barred a felon who had been released from a penal institution for less than five years from registering to vote. Respondents filed objections to petitioners' |                              |             |                                       |

009760

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | complaint. The court sustained respondents' objection that incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status because respondent state had broad power to determine the conditions under which suffrage could be exercised. However, petitioner elector had no standing and the court overruled objection as to deprivation of ex-felon voting rights. The court sustained respondents' objection since |                              |             |                                       |

009761

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation                    | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|-----------------------------|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |                             |                   |  | incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status and petitioner elector had no standing, but objection that ex--incarcerated felons' voting rights were deprived was overruled since status penalized them. |                              |             |                                       |
| Rosello v. Calderon | United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 27216 | November 30, 2004 | Plaintiff voters filed a § 1983 action against defendant government officials alleging violations the Due Process and Equal Protection Clauses of the U.S. Const. amend. XIV, resulting from the invalidity of | The voters' § 1983 action against government officials alleged that absentee ballots for a gubernatorial election were untimely mailed and that split votes, which registered two votes for the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009762

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | absentee and split ballots in a gubernatorial election. | same office, were null. The court asserted jurisdiction over the disparate treatment claims, which arose under the U.S. Constitution. The court declined to exercise discretionary abstention because the case was not merely a facial attack on the constitutionality of a statute, but was mainly an applied challenge, requiring a hearing in order to develop the record, and because equal protection and due process were secured under the state and federal |                              |             |                                       |

009763
009763

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | constitutions. The court held that the voters had a fundamental due process right created by Puerto Rico Election Law and suffered an equal protection violation in further violation of the U.S. Const. amend. I right to vote, thereby creating their total disenfranchisement. The court held that the evidence created an inference that the split ballots were not uniformly treated and that it was required to examine a mixed question of fact and constitutional law |                              |             |                                       |

009764

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation                                      | Date            | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|---|-----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |   |                 |   | pursuant to federal guidelines to determine whether potential over votes were invalid. The court asserted jurisdiction over the voters' claims.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Woodruff v. Wyoming | United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit | 49 Fed. Appx. 199; 2002 U.S. App. LEXIS 21060 | October 7, 2002 | Plaintiffs, pro se inmates, appealed from an order of the United States District Court for the District of Wyoming, dismissing their complaint brought under § 1983, challenging Wyo. Stat. Ann. § 6--10--106, which denied them, as convicted felons, the right to vote. The district court dismissed the action for failure to state a claim upon | The inmates argued that the statute violated their Eighth Amendment right and their State constitutional right to be free from cruel and unusual punishment, their equal protection rights under the Fourteenth Amendment and State Constitution, and their federal and state rights to due process. One inmate had not paid the appellate filing | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009765

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | which relief could be granted and as frivolous. | fee or filed a motion to proceed on appeal without prepayment of costs or fees, and his appeal was dismissed. The court found that U.S. Const. amend. XIV, § 2 had long been held to exclude felons from the right to vote. It could scarcely be unreasonable for a state to decide that perpetrators of serious crimes should not take part in electing the legislators who made the laws, the executives who enforced them, the prosecutors who tried the cases, or the judges who |                              |             |                                       |

009766

| Name of Case                      | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|--|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |  |   |                  |   | heard their cases. The court also found the dismissed suit constituted a "strike" under 28 U.S.C.S. § 1915(g), although the suit did not challenge prison conditions per se. One inmate's appeal was dismissed; the judgment dismissing the other's complaint was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| N.J. State Conf.--NAACP v. Harvey | Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division | 381 N.J. Super. 155; 885 A.2d 445; 2005 N.J. Super. LEXIS 316 | November 2, 2005 | The Superior Court of New Jersey, Chancery Division, Union County, dismissed a complaint filed by plaintiff interested parties to invalidate N.J. Stat. Ann. § 19:4--1(8) on the ground that it | The statute at issue prohibited all people on parole or probation for indictable offenses from voting. The interested parties alleged that the criminal justice system in New Jersey  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009767

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | denied African--Americans and Hispanics equal protection of the law. Defendant, the New Jersey Attorney General, moved to dismiss the complaint for failure to state a claim, and said motion was granted. The interested parties then appealed. | discriminated against African-Americans and Hispanics, thereby disproportionately increasing their population among parolees and probationers and diluting their political power. As a result, the alleged that enforcement of the statute resulted in a denial of equal protection under the state Constitution. The appeals court disagreed. N.J. Const. art. II authorized the New Jersey Legislature to disenfranchise persons convicted of certain crimes from voting. |                              |             |                                       |

009768

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                   | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|----------------------------|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |                            |              |   | Moreover, those convicts could not vote unless pardoned or unless otherwise restored by law to the right of suffrage. The statute also limited the period of disenfranchisement during a defendant's actual service on parole or probation. Thus, it clearly complied with this specific constitutional mandate. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| King v. City of Boston | United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8421 | May 13, 2004 | Plaintiff inmate filed a motion for summary judgment in his action challenging the constitutionality of Mass. Gen. Laws | The inmate was convicted of a felony and incarcerated. His application for an absentee ballot was denied on the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009769

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | ch. 51, § 1, which excluded incarcerated felons from voting while they were imprisoned. | ground that he was not qualified to register and vote under Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1. The inmate argued that the statute was unconstitutional as it applied to him because it amounted to additional punishment for crimes he committed before the statute's enactment and thus violated his due process rights and the prohibition against ex post facto laws and bills of attainder. The court held that the statute was regulatory and not punitive because |                              |             |                                       |

009770

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | rational choices were implicated in the statute's disenfranchisement of persons under guardianship, persons disqualified because of corrupt elections practices, persons under 18 years of age, as well as incarcerated felons. Specifically, incarcerated felons were disqualified during the period of their imprisonment when it would be difficult to identify their address and ensure the accuracy of their ballots. Therefore, the court concluded that Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1 did not |                              |             |                                       |

009771

| Name of Case  | Court   | Citation  | Date            | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|-----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |                 |   | violate the inmate's constitutional rights. The court found the statute at issue to be constitutional and denied the inmate's motion for summary judgment.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Southwest Voter Registration Educ. Project v. Shelley | United States District Court for the Central District of California | 278 F. Supp. 2d 1131; 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14413 | August 15, 2003 | Plaintiffs, several groups, brought suit alleging that the proposed use of "punch-card" balloting machines in the California election would violate the United States Constitution and Voting Rights Act. Plaintiffs moved for an order delaying that election, scheduled for October 7, 2003, until such time as it could be | Plaintiffs claimed voters using punch-card machines would have a comparatively lesser chance of having their votes counted in violation of the Equal Protection Clause and the counties employing punch-card systems had greater minority populations thereby disproportionately disenfranchising and/or diluting the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009772

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | conducted without use of punch-card machines. | votes on the basis of race, in violation of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. While the court did not need to decide the res judicata issue at this juncture, there was ample reason to believe that plaintiffs would have had a difficult time overcoming it as they were seeking to establish the same constitutional violations alleged in prior litigation, but to secure an additional remedy. Plaintiffs failed to prove a likelihood of success on the merits with regard to both of their claims. Even if |                              |             |                                       |

009773

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | plaintiffs could show disparate treatment, such would not have amounted to illegal or unconstitutional treatment. The balance of hardships weighed heavily in favor of allowing the election to proceed. The public interests in avoiding wholesale disenfranchisement, and/or not plunging the State into a constitutional crisis, weighed heavily against enjoining the election. Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction (consolidated with |                              |             |                                       |

009774

| Name of Case                         | Court  | Citation                                 | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------------|--|--|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                      |  |  |                |   | plaintiffs' ex parte application for temporary restraining order) was denied.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Igartua--de la Rosa v. United States | United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit | 417 F.3d 145; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 15944 | August 3, 2005 | Plaintiff, a U.S. citizen residing in Puerto Rico, appealed from an order of the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico, that rejected his claim that he was deprived of the constitutional right to vote for President and Vice President of the United States, and was also violative of three treaty obligations of the United States. | The putative voter had brought the same claims twice before. The court pointed out that U.S. law granted to the citizens of states the right to vote for the slate of electors to represent that state. Although modern ballots omitted the names of the electors and listed only the candidates, and in form it appeared that the citizens were voting for President and Vice President directly, they were | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009775

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not, but were voting for electors. Puerto Rico was not a state, and had not been enfranchised as the District of Columbia had by the 23rd Amendment. The franchise for choosing electors was confined to "states" by the Constitution. The court declined to turn to foreign or treaty law as a source to reverse the political will of the country. The judgment of the district court was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

009776

| Name of Case                            | District | Case Number   | Date             | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|----------|---------------|------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Rogelio Mejorada-Lopez | Alaska   | 05-CR-074     | December 5, 2005 | Mejorada-Lopez, a Mexican citizen, completed several voter registration applications to register to vote in Alaska and voted in the 2000, 2002, and 2004 general elections. He was charged with three counts of voting by a non-citizen in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 611 and pled guilty. Mejorada-Lopez was sentenced to probation for one year. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v. Shah                   | Colorado | 1:04-CR-00458 | March 1, 2005    | Shah was indicted on two counts of providing false   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009777

| Name of Case                | District         | Case Number   | Date             | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further             |
|-----------------------------|------------------|---------------|------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---|
|                             |                  |               |                  | information concerning United States citizenship in order to register to vote in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911 and 1015(f). Shah was convicted on both counts. |                              |             |   |
| United States v. Mohsin Ali | Northern Florida | 4:05-CR-47    | January 17, 2006 | A misdemeanor was filed against Ali charging him with voting by a non-citizen of 18 U.S.C. section 611. Trial was set for January 17, 2006                          | No                           | N/A         | Yes-need information on the outcome of the trial. |
| United States v. Chaudhary  | Northern Florida | 4:04-CR-00059 | May 18, 2005     | Chaudhary was indicted for misuse of a social security number in violation of 42 U.S.C. section   | No                           | N/A         | No  |

009778

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | 408 and for making a false claim of United States citizenship on a 2002 driver's license application in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911. A superceding indictment was returned, charging Chaudhary with falsely claiming United States citizenship on a driver's license application and on the accompanying voter registration application. He was convicted of the false citizenship claim on his voter |                              |             |                                       |

009779

| Name of Case               | District         | Case Number   | Date              | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------|------------------|---------------|-------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                            |                  |               |                   | registration application.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Velasquez | Southern Florida | 1:03-CR-20233 | September 9, 2003 | Velasquez, a former 1996 and 1998 candidate for the Florida legislature, was indicted on charges of misrepresenting United States citizenship in connection with voting and for making false statements to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911, 1015(f) and 1001. Velasquez was convicted on two counts of making false statements on his naturalization | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009780

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number   | Date          | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|---|---------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                  |   |               | application to the INS concerning his voting history.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. McKenzie;United States v. Francois;United States v. Exavier; United States v. Lloyd Palmer; United States v. Velrine Palmer; United states v. Shivdayal;United States v. Rickman;United States v. Knight; United States v. Sweeting;United States v. Lubin; United States v. Bennett;United States v. O'Neil; United | Southern Florida | 0:04-CR-60160;1:04-CR-20488;0:04-CR-60161;0:04-CR-60159;0:04-CR-60162;0:04-CR-60164;1:04-CR-20491;1:04-CR-20490;1:04-CR-20489;0:04-CR-60163;1:04-CR-14048;0:04-CR-60165;2:04-CR-14046;9:04-CR-80103;2:04-CR-14047 | July 15, 2004 | Fifteen non-citizens were charged with voting in various elections beginning in 1998 in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 611. Four of the defendants were also charged with making false citizenship claims in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 911 or 1015(f). Ten defendants were convicted, one defendant was acquitted, and charges against four | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009781

| Name of Case   | District          | Case Number   | Date              | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-------------------|---|-------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| States v. Torres-Perez; United States v. Phillip; United States v. Bain Knight |                   |   |                   | defendants were dismissed upon motion of the government.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Brooks  | Southern Illinois | 3:03-CR-30201   | February 12, 2004 | East St. Louis election official Leander Brooks was indicted for submitting fraudulent ballots in the 2002 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c), 1973i(e), 1973gg-10(2)(B), and 18 U.S.C. sections 241 and 371. Brooks pled guilty to all charges. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v. Scott; United States v. Nichols; United States v.             | Southern Illinois | 3:05-CR-30040;3:05-CR-30041;3:05-CR-30042;3:05-CR-30043;3:05-CR-30044 | June 29, 2005     | Four Democrat precinct committeemen in East St. Louis were charged  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009782

| Name of Case   | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Terrance Stith;United States v.Sandra Stith;United States v.Powell, et al. |          |             |      | with vote buying on the 2004 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). All four pled guilty. Also indicted were four additional Democrat committeemen, Charles Powell, Jr., Jesse Lewis, Sheila Thomas, Kelvin Ellis, and one precinct worker, Yvette Johnson, on conspiracy and vote buying charges in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). All five defendants were convicted. |                              |             |                                       |

009789

| Name of Case              | District | Case Number   | Date              | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------|----------|---------------|-------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                           |          |               |                   | Kelvin Ellis also pled guilty to one count of 18 U.S.C. section 1512(c)(2) relative to a scheme to kill one of the trial witnesses and two counts of 18 U.S.C. section 1503 relative to directing two other witnesses to refuse to testify before the grand jury. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. McIntosh | Kansas   | 2:04-CR-20142 | December 20, 2004 | A felony information was filed against lawyer Leslie McIntosh for voting in both Wyandotte County, Kansas and Jackson County, Missouri, in the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009784

| Name of Case   | District                | Case Number  | Date                                     | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-------------------------|--|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                         |  |  | general elections of 2000 and 2002 in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). A superseding misdemeanor information was filed, charging McIntosh with causing the deprivation of constitutional rights in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 242, to which the defendant pled guilty. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Conley; United States v. Slone; United States v. Madden; United States v. Slone et al.; United States v. Calhoun; United | Eastern Kentucky | 7:03-CR-00013;7:03-CR-00014;7:03-CR-00015;7:03-CR-00016;7:03-CR-00017;7:03-CR-00018;7:03-CR-00019 | March 28, 2003 and April 24, 2003 | Ten people were indicted on vote buying charges in connection with the 1998 primary election in Knott County, Kentucky, in violation of 42   | No                    | N/A  | No                             |

009785

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number   | Date          | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|---------------|---------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| States v. Johnson; United States v. Newsome, et al. |                  |               |               | U.S.C. section 1973i(c). Five of the defendants pled guilty, two were convicted, and three were acquitted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Hays, et al.                       | Eastern Kentucky | 7:03-CR-00011 | March 7, 2003 | Ten defendants were indicted for conspiracy and vote buying for a local judge in Pike County, Kentucky, in the 2002 general election, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 371. Five defendants were convicted, one defendant was acquitted, and charges against four defendants were dismissed | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009786

| Name of Case                    | District         | Case Number   | Date        | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------------|------------------|---------------|-------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                 |                  |               |             | upon motion of the government.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Turner, et al. | Eastern Kentucky | 3:05-CR-00002 | May 5, 2005 | Three defendants were indicted for vote buying and mail fraud in connection with the 2000 elections in Knott, Letcher, Floyd, and Breathitt Counties, Kentucky, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 341. | No                           | N/A         | Yes-need update on case status.       |
| United States v. Braud          | Middle Louisiana | 3:03-CR-00019 | May 2, 2003 | Tyrell Mathews Braud was indicted on three counts of making false declarations to a grand jury in connection with his 2002 fabrication of   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009787

| Name of Case                | District          | Case Number                      | Date                   | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|-------------------|----------------------------------|------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |                   |                                  |                        | eleven voter registration applications, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1623. Braud pled guilty on all counts.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Thibodeaux | Western Louisiana | 6:03-CR-60055                    | April 12, 2005         | St. Martinsville City Councilwoman Pamela C. Thibodeaux was indicted on two counts of conspiring to submit false voter registration information, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). She pled guilty to both charges. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v. Scherzer;  | Western Missouri  | 4:04-CR-00401;4:04-CR-00402; | January 7, 2005; March | Two misdemeanor   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009788

| Name of Case  | District | Case Number                     | Date  | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|----------|---------------------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Goodrich;United States v. Jones; United States v. Martin |          | 4:05-CR-00257;4:05-CR-00258 | 28, 2005;September 8, 2005;October 13, 2005 | informations were filed charging Lorraine Goodrich and James Scherzer, Kansas residents who voted in the 2000 and 2002 general elections on both Johnson County, Kansas and in Kansas City, Missouri. The informations charged deprivation of a constitutional right by causing spurious ballots, in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 242 and 2. Both pled guilty. Additionally, similar misdemeanor informations |                              |             |                                       |

009789

| Name of Case   | District             | Case Number  | Date                     | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------------------|--|--------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                      |  |                          | were filed against Tammy J. Martin, who voted in both Independence and Kansas City, Missouri in the 2004 general election and Brandon E. Jones, who voted both in Raytown and Kansas City, Missouri in the 2004 general election. Both pled guilty. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Raymond; United States v. McGee; United States v. Tobin; United States v. Hansen | New Hampshire | 04-CR-00141; 04-CR-00146; 04-CR-00216; 04-CR-00054 | December 15, 2005 | Two informations were filed charging Allen Raymond, former president of a Virginia-based political consulting firm called GOP Marketplace, and  | No                    | N/A  | No                             |

009790

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Charles McGee, former executive director of the New Hampshire State Republican Committee, with conspiracy to commit telephone harassment using an interstate phone facility in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 47 U.S.C. section 223. The charges stem from a scheme to block the phone lines used by two Manchester organizations to arrange drives to the polls during the 2002 general election. Both pled guilty. |                              |             |                                       |

009791

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | James Tobin, former New England Regional Director of the Republican National Committee, was indicted on charges of conspiring to commit telephone harassment using an interstate phone facility in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 47 U.S.C. section 223. An information was filed charging Shaun Hansen, the principal of an Idaho telemarketing firm called |                              |             |                                       |

009792

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | MILO Enterprises which placed the harassing calls, with conspiracy and aiding and abetting telephone harassment, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 2 and 47 U.S.C. section 223. The information against Hansen was dismissed upon motion of the government. A superseding indictment was returned against Tobin charging conspiracy to impede the constitutional right to vote for federal |                              |             |                                       |

009793

| Name of Case             | District               | Case Number   | Date          | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------|------------------------|---------------|---------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                          |                        |               |               | candidates, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 241 and conspiracy to make harassing telephone calls in violation of 47 U.S.C. section 223. Tobin was convicted of one count of conspiracy to commit telephone harassment and one count of aiding and abetting of telephone harassment. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Workman | Western North Carolina | 1:03-CR-00038 | June 30, 2003 | A ten-count indictment was returned charging Joshua Workman, a Canadian citizen, with voting and  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009794

| Name of Case                     | District               | Case Number   | Date         | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------------|------------------------|---------------|--------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                  |                        |               |              | related offenses in the 200 and 2002 primary and general elections in Avery County, North Carolina, in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 611, 911, 1001, and 1015(f). Workman pled guilty to providing false information to election officials and to a federal agency. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Shatley, et al. | Western North Carolina | 5:03-CR-00035 | May 14, 2004 | A nine-count indictment was returned charging Wayne Shatley, Anita Moore, Valerie Moore, Carlos "Sunshine" Hood and Ross "Toogie" Banner  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009795

| Name of Case            | District      | Case Number  | Date              | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|---------------|--------------|-------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |               |              |                   | with conspiracy and vote buying in the Caldwell County 2002 general election, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 371. Anita and Valerie Moore pled guilty. Shatley, Hood, and Banner were all convicted. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Vargas | South Dakota  | 05-CR-50085  | December 22, 2005 | An indictment was filed against Rudolph Vargas, for voting more than once at Pine Ridge in the 2002 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). Vargas pled guilty.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v.        | Southern West | 02-CR-00234; | July 22,          | Danny Ray  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009796

| Name of Case   | District | Case Number   | Date  | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------|---|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Wells; United States v. Mendez; United States v. Porter; United States v. Hrutkay; United States v. Porter; United States v. Stapleton; United States v. Thomas E. Esposito; United States v. Nagy; United States v. Adkins; United States v. Harvey | Virginia | 2:04-CR-00101;2:04-CR-00145;2:04-CR-00149;2:04-CR-00173;2:05-CR-00002;05-CR-00019;05-CR-00148;05-CR-00161 | 2003; July 19, 2004;December 7, 2004;January 7, 2005; March 21, 2005;October 11, 2005;December 13, 2005 | Wells, Logan County, West Virginia, magistrate, was indicted and charged with violating 18 U.S.C. section 1962. Wells was found guilty. A felony indictment was filed against Logan County sheriff Johnny Mendez for conspiracy to defraud the United States in violation 18 U.S.C section 371. Mendez pled guilty. An information was filed charging former Logan County police chief Alvin Ray Porter, Jr., with |                              |             |                                       |

009797

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | making expenditures to influence voting in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Porter pled guilty. Logan County attorney Mark Oliver Hrutkay was charged by information with mail fraud in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1341. Hrutkay pled guilty. Earnest Stapleton, commander of the local VFW, was charged by information with mail fraud. He pled guilty. An information was filed charging Thomas E. |                              |             |                                       |

009798

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Esposito, a former mayor of the City of Logan, with concealing the commission of a felony, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 4. Esposito pled guilty. John Wesley Nagy, Logan County Court marshall, pled guilty to making false statements to a federal agent, a violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1001. An information charging Glen Dale Adkins, county clerk of Logan County, with accepting payment for |                              |             |                                       |

009799

008800

| Name of Case                    | District               | Case Number   | Date                   | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|---------------|------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                 |                        |               |                        | voting, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). Adkins pled guilty. Perry French Harvey, Jr., a retired UMW official, pled guilty to involvement in a conspiracy to buy votes.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Adkins, et al. | Southern West Virginia | 2:04-CR-00162 | December 28 & 30, 2005 | Jackie Adkins was indicted for vote buying in Lincoln County, West Virginia, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). A superceding indictment added Wandell "Rocky" Adkins to the indictment and charged both defendants with conspiracy to | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | buy votes in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and vote buying. A second superseding indictment was returned which added three additional defendants, Gegory Brent Stowers, Clifford Odell "Groundhog" Vance, and Toney "Zeke" Dingess, to the conspiracy and vote buying indictment. Charges were later dismissed against Jackie Adkins. A third superseding indictment was returned adding |                              |             |                                       |

009801

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | two additional defendants, Jerry Allen Weaver and Ralph Dale Adkins. A superseding information was filed charging Vance with expenditures to influence voting, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Vance pled guilty. Superseding informations were filed against Stowers and Dingess for expenditures to influence voting, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Both defendants pled guilty. Weaver also pled guilty. |                              |             |                                       |

009802

| Name of Case   | District          | Case Number   | Date  | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further   |
|--|-------------------|---|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---|
|  |                   |   |   | Superseding informations were filed against Ralph and Wandell Adkins for expenditures to influence voting, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Both defendants pled guilty.  |                              |             |   |
| United States v. Davis; United States v. Byas; United States v. Ocasio; United States v. Prude; United States v. Sanders; United States v. Alicea; United States v. Brooks; United States v. Hamilton; United States v. Little; United | Eastern Wisconsin | 2:05-MJ-00454;2:05-MJ-00455;2:05-CR-00161;2:05-CR-00162;2:05-CR-00163;2:05-CR-00168;2:05-CR-00170;2:05-CR-00171;2:05-CR-00172;2:05-CR-00177;2:05-CR-00207;2:05-CR-00209;2:05-CR-00211;2:05-CR-00212 | September 16, 2005;September 21, 2005;October 5, 2005;October 26, 2005;October 31, 2005,November 10, 2005 | Criminal complaints were issued against Brian L. Davis and Theresa J. Byas charging them with double voting, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). Indictments were filed against convicted felons Milo R. Ocasio | No                           | N/A         | Need updated status on Gooden and the Anderson, Cox, Edwards, and Little cases. |

009803

| Name of Case   | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| States v. Swift;United States v. Anderson;United States v. Cox; United States v. Edwards;United States v. Gooden |          |             |      | and Kimberly Prude, charging them with falsely certifying that they were eligible to vote, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973gg-10(2)(B), and against Enrique C. Sanders, charging him with multiple voting, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). Five more indictments were later returned charging Cynthia C. Alicea with multiple voting in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e) and convicted felons |                              |             |                                       |

009804

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Deshawn B. Brooks, Alexander T. Hamilton, Derek G. Little, and Eric L. Swift with falsely certifying that they were eligible to vote in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973gg-10(2)(B). Indictments were filed against Davis and Byas charging them with double voting. Four more indictments were returned charging convicted felons Ethel M. Anderson, Jiyto L. Cox, Correan F. Edwards, and Joseph J. Gooden |                              |             |                                       |

009805

908600

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | with falsely certifying that they were eligible to vote. Ocasio and Hamilton pled guilty. Prude was found guilty. A mistrial was declared in the Sanders case. Brooks was acquitted. Byas signed a plea agreement agreeing to plead to a misdemeanor 18 U.S.C. section 242 charge. Swift moved to change his plea. Davis was found incompetent to stand trial so the government dismissed the case. Gooden is a |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | fugitive. Alicea was acquitted. Four cases are pending --- Anderson, Cox, Edwards, and Little. |                              |             |                                       |

009807

| Name of Case                                     | Court   | Citation  | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Shelley | United States District Court for the Central District of California | 324 F. Supp. 2d 1120; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12587 | July 6, 2004 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters and organizations representing those voters, sought to enjoin the directives of defendant California Secretary of State, which decertified and withdrew approval of the use of certain direct recording electronic voting systems. One voter applied for a temporary restraining order, or, in | The voters urged the invalidation of the Secretary's directives because, allegedly, their effect was to deprive the voters of the opportunity to vote using touch--screen technology. Although it was not disputed that some disabled persons would be unable to vote independently and in private without the use of DREs, it was clear that they would not be | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

808600

| Name of Case. | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                      | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|               |       |          |      | the alternative, a preliminary injunction. | deprived of their fundamental right to vote. The Americans with Disabilities Act did not require accommodation that would enable disabled persons to vote in a manner that was comparable in every way with the voting rights enjoyed by persons without disabilities. Rather, it mandated that voting programs be made accessible. |                              |             |                                       |

608600

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Defendant's decision to suspend the use of DREs pending improvement in their reliability and security of the devices was a rational one, designed to protect the voting rights of the state's citizens. The evidence did not support the conclusion that the elimination of the DREs would have a discriminatory effect on the visually or manually impaired. Thus, the voters |                              |             |                                       |

009810

| Name of Case                                  | Court   | Citation   | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |  |                |   | showed little likelihood of success on the merits. The individual's request for a temporary restraining order, or, in the alternative, a preliminary injunction, was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Hood | United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida | 310 F. Supp. 2d 1226; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5615 | March 24, 2004 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters, and a national organization, sued defendants, the Florida Secretary of State, the Director of the Division of Elections of the Florida | The voters were visually or manually impaired. The optical scan voting system purchased by the county at issue was not readily accessible to visually or manually impaired   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009811

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Department of State, and a county supervisor of elections, under Title II of the Americans With Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Summary judgment was granted for the Secretary and the Director as to visually impaired voters. | voters. The voters were unable to vote using the system without third--party assistance. If it was feasible for the county to purchase a readily accessible system, then the voters' rights under the ADA and the RA were violated. The court found that the manually impaired voter's rights were violated. To the extent "jelly switches" and "sip and puff" devices |                              |             |                                       |

009812

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | needed to be attached to a touch screen machine for it to be accessible, it was not feasible for the supervisor to provide such a system, since no such system had been certified at the time of the county's purchase. 28 C.F.R. § 35.160 did not require that visually or manually impaired voters be able to vote in the same or similar manner as non-- |                              |             |                                       |

009813

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | disabled voters. Visually and manually impaired voters had to be afforded an equal opportunity to participate in and enjoy the benefits of voting. The voters' "generic" discrimination claim was coterminous with their claim under 28 C.F.R. § 35.151. A declaratory judgment was entered against the supervisor to the extent another voting |                              |             |                                       |

009814

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | system would have permitted unassisted voting. The supervisor was directed to have some voting machines permitting visually impaired voters to vote alone. The supervisor was directed to procure another system if the county's system was not certified and/or did not permit mouth stick voting. The Secretary and Director were granted judgment against the |                              |             |                                       |

009815

| Name of Case      | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |   |                             |                  |  | voters.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Troiano v. Lepore | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 25850 | November 3, 2003 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters, sued defendant a state county supervisor of elections alleging discrimination pursuant to the Americans With Disability Act, 42 U.S.C.S. § 12132 et seq., § 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, 29 U.S.C.S. § 794 et seq., and declaratory relief for the discrimination. Both sides moved for summary | The complaint alleged that after the 2000 elections Palm Beach County purchased a certain number of sophisticated voting machines called the "Sequoia." According to the voters, even though such accessible machines were available, the supervisor decided not to place such accessible machines in each precinct because it would slow | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009816

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | judgment. | things down too much. The court found that the voters lacked standing because they failed to show that they had suffered an injury in fact. The voters also failed to show a likely threat of a future injury because there was no reasonable grounds to believe that the audio components of the voting machines would not be provided in the future. The voters also |                              |             |                                       |

009817

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | failed to state an injury that could be redressed by a favorable decision, because the supervisor was already using the Sequoia machines and had already trained poll workers on the use of the machines. Finally, the action was moot because the Sequoia machines had been provided and there was no reasonable expectation that the machines would not have |                              |             |                                       |

009818

| Name of Case                       | Court   | Citation                                  | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------------------|---|---|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                    |   |   |                   |  | audio components available in the future. The supervisor's motion for summary judgment was granted. The voters' motion for summary judgment was denied.                       |                              |             |                                       |
| Troiano v. Supervisor of Elections | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 382 F.3d 1276; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 18497 | September 1, 2004 | Plaintiff visually impaired registered voters sued defendant county election supervisor, alleging that the failure to make available audio components in | The district court granted the election supervisor summary judgment on the grounds that the voters did not have standing to assert their claims and the claims were moot. The | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009819

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | voting booths to assist persons who were blind or visually impaired violated state and federal law. The United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida entered summary judgment in favor of the election supervisor. The voters appealed. | appellate court agreed that the case was moot because the election supervisor had furnished the requested audio components and those components were to be available in all of the county's voting precincts in upcoming elections. Specifically, the election supervisor had ceased the allegedly illegal practice of limiting access to the audio |                              |             |                                       |

009820

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | components prior to receiving notice of the litigation. Moreover, since making the decision to use audio components in every election, the election supervisor had consistently followed that policy and taken actions to implement it even prior to the litigation. Thus, the appellate court could discern no hint that she had any intention of removing the |                              |             |                                       |

009821

| Name of Case                                   | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |                  |  | accessible voting machines in the future. Therefore, the voters' claims were moot, and the district court's dismissal was affirmed for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. The decision was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Smith | United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida | 227 F. Supp. 2d 1276; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21373 | October 16, 2002 | Plaintiff organization of people with disabilities and certain visually and manually impaired voters filed an action against defendant state | Individual plaintiffs were unable to vote unassisted with the equipment currently used in the county or the equipment the county had recently purchased. In  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009822

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | and local election officials and members of a city council, claiming violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C.S. § 12101 et seq., and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Fla. Const. art. VI, § 1. Defendants filed motions to dismiss. | order to vote, the impaired individuals relied on the assistance of third parties. The court held that it could not say that plaintiffs would be unable to prove any state of facts that would satisfy the ripeness and standing requirements. The issue of whether several Florida statutory sections were violative of the Florida Constitution were so intertwined |                              |             |                                       |

009823

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | with the federal claims that to decline supplemental jurisdiction be an abuse of discretion. Those statutes which provided for assistance in voting did not violate Fla. Const. art. VI, § 1. Because plaintiffs may be able to prove that visually and manually impaired voters were being denied meaningful access to the service, program, or activity, the |                              |             |                                       |

009824

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court could not say with certainty that they would not be entitled to relief under any state of facts which could be proved in support of their claims. Defendant council members were entitled to absolute legislative immunity. The state officials' motion to dismiss was granted in part such that the counts were dismissed with prejudice to the extent plaintiffs |                              |             |                                       |

009825

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | asserted that they had been excluded from or denied the benefits of a program of direct and secret voting and in part was dismissed with leave to amend. The local officials motion to dismiss was granted in part such that all counts against the city council members were dismissed. |                              |             |                                       |

009826

| Name of Case                                     | Court   | Citation  | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Shelley | United States District Court for the Central District of California | 324 F. Supp. 2d 1120; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12587 | July 6, 2004 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters and organizations representing those voters, sought to enjoin the directives of defendant California Secretary of State, which decertified and withdrew approval of the use of certain direct recording electronic voting systems. One voter applied for a temporary restraining order, or, in | The voters urged the invalidation of the Secretary's directives because, allegedly, their effect was to deprive the voters of the opportunity to vote using touch--screen technology. Although it was not disputed that some disabled persons would be unable to vote independently and in private without the use of DREs, it was clear that they would not be | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009827

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                      | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | the alternative, a preliminary injunction. | deprived of their fundamental right to vote. The Americans with Disabilities Act did not require accommodation that would enable disabled persons to vote in a manner that was comparable in every way with the voting rights enjoyed by persons without disabilities. Rather, it mandated that voting programs be made accessible. |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Defendant's decision to suspend the use of DREs pending improvement in their reliability and security of the devices was a rational one, designed to protect the voting rights of the state's citizens. The evidence did not support the conclusion that the elimination of the DREs would have a discriminatory effect on the visually or manually impaired. Thus, the voters |                              |             |                                       |

009829

| Name of Case                                  | Court   | Citation   | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |  |                |   | showed little likelihood of success on the merits. The individual's request for a temporary restraining order, or, in the alternative, a preliminary injunction, was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Hood | United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida | 310 F. Supp. 2d 1226; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5615 | March 24, 2004 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters, and a national organization, sued defendants, the Florida Secretary of State, the Director of the Division of Elections of the Florida | The voters were visually or manually impaired. The optical scan voting system purchased by the county at issue was not readily accessible to visually or manually impaired   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009830

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Department of State, and a county supervisor of elections, under Title II of the Americans With Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Summary judgment was granted for the Secretary and the Director as to visually impaired voters. | voters. The voters were unable to vote using the system without third--party assistance. If it was feasible for the county to purchase a readily accessible system, then the voters' rights under the ADA and the RA were violated. The court found that the manually impaired voter's rights were violated. To the extent "jelly switches" and "sip and puff" devices |                              |             |                                       |

009831

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | needed to be attached to a touch screen machine for it to be accessible, it was not feasible for the supervisor to provide such a system, since no such system had been certified at the time of the county's purchase. 28 C.F.R. § 35.160 did not require that visually or manually impaired voters be able to vote in the same or similar manner as non-- |                              |             |                                       |

009832

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | disabled voters. Visually and manually impaired voters had to be afforded an equal opportunity to participate in and enjoy the benefits of voting. The voters' "generic" discrimination claim was coterminous with their claim under 28 C.F.R. § 35.151. A declaratory judgment was entered against the supervisor to the extent another voting |                              |             |                                       |

009833

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | system would have permitted unassisted voting. The supervisor was directed to have some voting machines permitting visually impaired voters to vote alone. The supervisor was directed to procure another system if the county's system was not certified and/or did not permit mouth stick voting. The Secretary and Director were granted judgment against the |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case      | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |   |                             |                  |  | voters.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Troiano v. Lepore | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 25850 | November 3, 2003 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters, sued defendant a state county supervisor of elections alleging discrimination pursuant to the Americans With Disability Act, 42 U.S.C.S. § 12132 et seq., § 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, 29 U.S.C.S. § 794 et seq., and declaratory relief for the discrimination. Both sides moved for summary | The complaint alleged that after the 2000 elections Palm Beach County purchased a certain number of sophisticated voting machines called the "Sequoia." According to the voters, even though such accessible machines were available, the supervisor decided not to place such accessible machines in each precinct because it would slow | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009835

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | judgment. | things down too much. The court found that the voters lacked standing because they failed to show that they had suffered an injury in fact. The voters also failed to show a likely threat of a future injury because there was no reasonable grounds to believe that the audio components of the voting machines would not be provided in the future. The voters also |                              |             |                                       |

009836

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | failed to state an injury that could be redressed by a favorable decision, because the supervisor was already using the Sequoia machines and had already trained poll workers on the use of the machines. Finally, the action was moot because the Sequoia machines had been provided and there was no reasonable expectation that the machines would not have |                              |             |                                       |

009837

| Name of Case                       | Court   | Citation                                  | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------------------|---|---|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                    |   |   |                   |  | audio components available in the future. The supervisor's motion for summary judgment was granted. The voters' motion for summary judgment was denied.                       |                              |             |                                       |
| Troiano v. Supervisor of Elections | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 382 F.3d 1276; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 18497 | September 1, 2004 | Plaintiff visually impaired registered voters sued defendant county election supervisor, alleging that the failure to make available audio components in | The district court granted the election supervisor summary judgment on the grounds that the voters did not have standing to assert their claims and the claims were moot. The | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

Deliberative Process
Privilege

009838

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | voting booths to assist persons who were blind or visually impaired violated state and federal law. The United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida entered summary judgment in favor of the election supervisor. The voters appealed. | appellate court agreed that the case was moot because the election supervisor had furnished the requested audio components and those components were to be available in all of the county's voting precincts in upcoming elections. Specifically, the election supervisor had ceased the allegedly illegal practice of limiting access to the audio |                              |             |                                       |

009839

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | components prior to receiving notice of the litigation. Moreover, since making the decision to use audio components in every election, the election supervisor had consistently followed that policy and taken actions to implement it even prior to the litigation. Thus, the appellate court could discern no hint that she had any intention of removing the |                              |             |                                       |

009840

| Name of Case                                   | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |                  |  | accessible voting machines in the future. Therefore, the voters' claims were moot, and the district court's dismissal was affirmed for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. The decision was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Smith | United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida | 227 F. Supp. 2d 1276; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21373 | October 16, 2002 | Plaintiff organization of people with disabilities and certain visually and manually impaired voters filed an action against defendant state | Individual plaintiffs were unable to vote unassisted with the equipment currently used in the county or the equipment the county had recently purchased. In  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009841

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | and local election officials and members of a city council, claiming violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C.S. § 12101 et seq., and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Fla. Const. art. VI, § 1. Defendants filed motions to dismiss. | order to vote, the impaired individuals relied on the assistance of third parties. The court held that it could not say that plaintiffs would be unable to prove any state of facts that would satisfy the ripeness and standing requirements. The issue of whether several Florida statutory sections were violative of the Florida Constitution were so intertwined |                              |             |                                       |

009842

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | with the federal claims that to decline supplemental jurisdiction be an abuse of discretion. Those statutes which provided for assistance in voting did not violate Fla. Const. art. VI, § 1. Because plaintiffs may be able to prove that visually and manually impaired voters were being denied meaningful access to the service, program, or activity, the |                              |             |                                       |

009873

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court could not say with certainty that they would not be entitled to relief under any state of facts which could be proved in support of their claims. Defendant council members were entitled to absolute legislative immunity. The state officials' motion to dismiss was granted in part such that the counts were dismissed with prejudice to the extent plaintiffs |                              |             |                                       |

009847

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | asserted that they had been excluded from or denied the benefits of a program of direct and secret voting and in part was dismissed with leave to amend. The local officials motion to dismiss was granted in part such that all counts against the city council members were dismissed. |                              |             |                                       |

009875

| Name of Case                 | Court  | Citation                                 | Date            | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------------|--|--|-----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Jenkins v. Williamson-Butler | Court of Appeal of Louisiana, Fourth Circuit | 883 So. 2d 537; 2004 La. App. LEXIS 2433 | October 8, 2004 | Petitioner, a candidate for a parish juvenile court judgeship, failed to qualify for a runoff election. She filed suit against defendant, the clerk of criminal court for the parish seeking a new election, based on grounds of substantial irregularities. The district court ruled in favor of the candidate | The trial court found that the voting machines were not put into service until two, four, and, in many instances, eight hours after the statutorily mandated starting hour which constituted serious irregularities so as to deprive voters from freely expressing their will. It was impossible to determine the number of voters that were affected by the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation                                  | Date            | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|---|-----------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |   |                 | and ordered the holding of a restricted citywide election. The clerk appealed. | late start up or late arrival of voting machines, making it impossible to determine the result. The appellate court agreed that the irregularities were so serious that the trial court's voiding the election and calling a new election was the proper remedy. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Hester v. McKeithen | Court of Appeal of Louisiana, Fourth Circuit | 882 So. 2d 1291; 2004 La. App. LEXIS 2429 | October 8, 2004 | Petitioner, school board candidate, filed suit against defendants, Louisiana   | The candidate argued that the trial court erred in not setting aside the election, even after   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009847

| Name of Case  | Court                 | Citation   | Date           | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-----------------------|--|----------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                       |  |                | Secretary of State and district court clerk, contesting the school board election results. The trial court rendered judgment against the candidate, finding no basis for the election to be declared void. The candidate appealed. | acknowledging in its reasons for judgment numerous irregularities with the election process. The appellate court ruled that had the irregularities not occurred the outcome would have been exactly the same. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Election Contest of Democratic Primary Election | Supreme Court of Ohio | 88 Ohio St. 3d 258; 2000 Ohio 325; 725 N.E.2d 271; 2000 Ohio | March 29, 2000 | Appellant sought review of the judgment of the court of common   | Appellant contended that an election irregularity occurred when the board failed   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

878600

| Name of Case     | Court | Citation  | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|-------|-----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Held May 4, 1999 |       | LEXIS 607 |      | pleas denying his election contest challenging an opponent's nomination for election irregularity. | to meet and act by majority vote on another candidate's withdrawal, instead permitting its employees to make decisions. Appellant had to prove by clear and convincing evidence that one or more election irregularities occurred and it affected enough votes to change or make uncertain the result of the election. Judgment affirmed. The appellant did |                              |             |                                       |

678600

| Name of Case   | Court                         | Citation                                       | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-------------------------------|--|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                               |  |              |   | not establish election irregularity by the board's actions on the candidate's withdrawal, the board acted diligently and exercised its discretion in keeping the candidate's name on the ballot and notifying electors of his withdrawal. |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Election Contest As to Watertown Special Referendum Election | Supreme Court of South Dakota | 2001 SD 62; 628 N.W.2d 336; 2001 S.D. LEXIS 66 | May 23, 2001 | Appellant sought review of the judgment of the circuit court declaring a local election valid and | The burden was on appellants to show not only that voting irregularities occurred, but also show that those irregularities  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009850

| Name of Case    | Court                    | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--------------------------|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |                          |   |               | declining to order a new election.  | were so egregious that the will of the voters was suppressed. Appellants did not meet their burden, as mere inconvenience or delay in voting was not enough to overturn the election. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Jones v. Jessup | Supreme Court of Georgia | 279 Ga. 531; 615 S.E.2d 529; 2005 Ga. LEXIS 447 | June 30, 2005 | Defendant incumbent appealed a judgment by the trial court that invalidated an election for the position of sheriff and | After the candidate lost the sheriff's election to the incumbent, he contested the election, asserting that there were sufficient irregularities to  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009851

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | ordered that a new election be held based on plaintiff candidate's election contest. | place in doubt the election results. The state supreme court held that the candidate failed to prove substantial error in the votes cast by the witnesses adduced at the hearing who voted at the election. Although the candidate's evidence reflected the presence of some irregularities, not every irregularity invalidated the vote. The absentee ballots |                              |             |                                       |

009852

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | were only to be rejected where the electors failed to furnish required information. Because the ballots cast by the witnesses substantially complied with all of the essential requirements of the form, the trial court erred by finding that they should not have been considered. The candidate failed to establish substantial error in the votes. Judgment reversed. |                              |             |                                       |

009853

| Name of Case        | Court                     | Citation                                      | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|---------------------------|---|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Toliver v. Thompson | Supreme Court of Oklahoma | 2000 OK 98; 17 P.3d 464; 2000 Okla. LEXIS 101 | December 21, 2000 | Petitioner challenged an order of the district court denying his motion to compel a recount of votes from an election. | The court held a recount of votes cast in an election could occur when the ballots had been preserved in the manner prescribed by statute. The trial court noted when the ballots had not been preserved in such a manner, no recount would be conducted. The court further noted a petition alleging irregularities in an election could be based upon an allegation that | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009854

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | it was impossible to determine with mathematical certainty which candidate was entitled to be issued a certificate of election. The Oklahoma supreme court held petitioner failed to show that the actual votes counted in the election were tainted with irregularity, and similarly failed to show a statutory right to a new election based upon a failure to preserve the |                              |             |                                       |

009855

| Name of Case       | Court                      | Citation                           | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|----------------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |                            |                                    |                   |   | ballots.Judgment affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Adkins v. Huckabay | Supreme Court of Louisiana | 755 So. 2d 206; 2000 La. LEXIS 504 | February 25, 2000 | Plaintiff candidate challenged judgment of court of appeal, second circuit, which reversed the lower court's judgment and declared defendant candidate winner of a runoff election for sheriff. | The issue presented for the appellate court's determination was whether the absentee voting irregularities plaintiff candidate complained of rendered it impossible to determine the outcome of the election for sheriff. The Louisiana supreme court concluded that the lower court had applied the correct | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009856

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | standard, substantial compliance, to the election irregularities, but had erred in its application by concluding that the contested absentee ballots substantially complied with the statutory requirements. The supreme court found that in applying substantial compliance to five of the ballot irregularities, the trial court correctly vacated the general election |                              |             |                                       |

009857

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | and set it aside because those absentee ballots should have been disqualified. Because of the constitutional guarantee to secrecy of the ballot and the fact that the margin of victory in the runoff election was three votes, it was impossible to determine the result of the runoff election. Thus, the supreme court ordered a new general election. Judgment of the |                              |             |                                       |

009858

| Name of Case           | Court                             | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|-----------------------------------|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |                                   |  |                  |  | court of appeals reversed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Gray--Sadler | SupremeCourt ofNew Jersey | 164 N.J.468; 753A.2d 1101;2000 N.J.LEXIS 668 | June 30,2000 | Appellants,write--incandidatesfor theoffices ofmayor andboroughcouncil,appealed thejudgment ofthe superiorcourt,appellatedivisionreversing thetrial court'sdecision toset aside theelectionresults forthose officesdue toirregularitiesrelated to thewrite--in | The New Jerseysupreme courtheld that thevotes that wererejected byelectionofficials did notresult from thevoters' ownerrors, but fromthe electionofficials'noncompliancewith statutoryrequirements.In other words,the voters wereprovided withpatentlyinadequateinstructions anddefectivevotingmachines.Moreover, | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009859

| Name of Case                                    | Court                                   | Citation                       | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--------------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |                                |                   | instructions and defective voting machines.                         | appellants met the statutory requirement for successfully contesting the election results by showing that enough qualified voters were denied the right to cast write--in votes as to affect the outcome of the election. Judgment reversed and the state trial court's decision reinstated. |                              |             |                                       |
| Goodwin v. St. Thomas-St. John Bd. of Elections | Territorial Court of the Virgin Islands | 43 V.I. 89; 2000 V.I. LEXIS 15 | December 13, 2000 | Plaintiff political candidate alleged that certain general election | Plaintiff alleged that defendants counted unlawful absentee ballots that lacked postmarks,   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009360

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | absentee ballots violated territorial election law, and that the improper inclusion of such ballots by defendants, election board and supervisor, resulted in plaintiff's loss of the election. Plaintiff sued defendants seeking invalidation of the absentee ballots and certification of the | were not signed or notarized, were in unsealed and/or torn envelopes, and were in envelopes containing more than one ballot. Prior to tabulation of the absentee ballots, plaintiff was leading intervenor for the final senate position, but the absentee ballots entitled intervenor to the position. The territorial court held that plaintiff was not entitled to relief since he failed to |                              |             |                                       |

009861

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | election results tabulated without such ballots. | establish that the alleged absentee voting irregularities would require invalidation of a sufficient number of ballots to change the outcome of the election. While the unsealed ballots constituted a technical violation, the outer envelopes were sealed and thus substantially complied with election requirements. Further, while defendants improperly |                              |             |                                       |

009862

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | counted one ballot where a sealed ballot envelope and a loose ballot were in the same outer envelope, the one vote involved did not change the election result. Plaintiff's other allegations of irregularities were without merit since ballots without postmarks were valid, ballots without signatures were not counted, and ballots without notarized signatures were |                              |             |                                       |

009863

| Name of Case             | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Johnson v. Lopez--Torres | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, Second Department | 2005 NY Slip Op 7825; 2005 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11276 | October 21, 2005 | In a proceeding for a re-- canvass of certain affidavit ballots cast in the Democratic Party primary election for the public office of surrogate, the supreme court denied appellant candidate's petition requesting the same and declared appellee opponent the winner of | proper.Finding that the candidate had waived her right to challenge the affidavit ballots and had not sufficiently established her claim of irregularities to warrant a hearing, the trial court denied her petition and declared the opponent the winner of the primary. However, on appeal, the appellate division held that no waiver occurred. |                              |             |                                       |

009867

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts          | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|----------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | that election. | Moreover, because hundreds of apparently otherwise eligible voters failed to fill in their party enrollment and/or prior address, it could be reasonably inferred that these voters were misled thereby into omitting the required information. Finally, the candidate failed to make a sufficient showing of voting irregularities in |                              |             |                                       |

009865

| Name of Case   | Court                    | Citation                            | Date            | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--------------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                          |                                     |                 |   | the machine vote to require a hearing on that issue. Judgment reversed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Ex parte Avery | Supreme Court of Alabama | 843 So. 2d 137; 2002 Ala. LEXIS 239 | August 23, 2002 | Petitioner probate judge moved for a writ of mandamus directing a circuit judge to vacate his order requiring the probate judge to transfer all election materials to the circuit clerk and holding him in contempt for failing to do so. The | The issuance of a writ of mandamus was appropriate. The district attorney had a right to the election materials because he was conducting a criminal investigation of the last election. Furthermore, the circuit judge had no jurisdiction or authority to issue an order | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009866

| Name of Case                                    | Court                        | Citation                             | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                              |                                      |                | probate judge also requested that said material be turned over to the district attorney, pursuant to an outstanding subpoena.     | directing that the election materials be given to the clerk. The district attorney received several claims of irregularities in the election, some of which could constitute voter fraud. Petition granted and writ issued. |                              |             |                                       |
| Harpole v. Kemper County Democratic Exec. Comm. | Supreme Court of Mississippi | 908 So. 2d 129; 2005 Miss. LEXIS 463 | August 4, 2005 | After his loss in a primary election for the office of sheriff, appellant candidate sued appellees, a political party's executive | The candidate alleged the sheriff had his deputies transport prisoners to the polls, felons voted, and the absentee voter law was breached. The committee   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009867

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | committee and the incumbent sheriff, alleging irregularities in the election. The circuit court dismissed the candidate's petition for judicial review with prejudice. He appealed. | agreed with the last contention and threw out the absentee ballots (seven percent of votes cast); after a recount, the sheriff still prevailed. The trial court dismissed the case due to alleged defects in the petition; in the alternative, it held that the candidate failed to sufficiently allege violations and irregularities in the election. The supreme court held that the petition was |                              |             |                                       |

009868

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not defective. Disqualification of seven percent of the total votes was not substantial enough so as to cause the will of the voters to be impossible to discern and to warrant a special election, and there were not enough illegal votes cast for the sheriff to change the outcome. A blanket allegation implying that the sheriff had deputies transport prisoners to the |                              |             |                                       |

009869

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | polls was not supported by credible evidence. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

009870

| Name of Case            | Court  | Citation                                | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--|---|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Madden | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 403 F.3d 347; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 5326 | April 4, 2005 | Defendant appealed his conviction for violating the federal vote--buying statute. He also appealed the sentence imposed by the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky at Pikeville. The district court applied the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual (Guidelines) § 3B1.1(c) supervisory--role enhancement and increased defendant's base offense level by | Defendant paid three people to vote for a local candidate in a primary election. The same ballot contained candidates for the U.S. Senate. While he waived his right to appeal his conviction, he nonetheless asserted two arguments in seeking to avoid the waiver. He first posited that the vote buying statute prohibited only buying votes for federal candidates----a prohibition not violated by his conduct. In the alternative, he | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009871

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts       | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | two levels. | stated if the statute did criminalize buying votes for state or local candidates, then the statute was unconstitutional. Both arguments failed. Defendant argued that applying the supervisory--role enhancement constituted impermissible double counting because the supervision he exercised was no more than necessary to establish a vote--buying offense. That argument also failed. Defendant next |                              |             |                                       |

009872

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | argued that the district court erred by applying the vulnerable--victim enhancement under U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual § 3A1.1(b)(1). He acknowledged that he knew the mentally ill people who sold their votes were vulnerable, but maintained they were not victims because they received $50 for their votes. The vote sellers were not victims for Guidelines purposes. The district court erred. Defendant's |                              |             |                                       |

009873

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                                 | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|--|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |  |              |  | appeal of conviction was dismissed. Defendant's sentence was vacated, and the case was remanded for resentencing.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Slone | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 411 F.3d 643; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 10137 | June 3, 2005 | Defendant pled guilty to vote buying in a federal election. The United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky sentenced defendant to 10 months in custody and recommended that the sentence be served at an institution that could | Defendant offered to pay voters for voting in a primary election. Defendant claimed that the vote buying statute did not apply to him because his conduct related solely to a candidate for a county office. Alternatively, defendant asserted that the statute was | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009874

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | accommodate defendant's medical needs. Defendant appealed his conviction and sentence. | unconstitutional because it exceeded Congress' enumerated powers. Finally, defendant argued that the district court erred when it failed to consider his medical condition as a ground for a downward departure at sentencing. The appellate court found that the vote buying statute applied to all elections in which a federal candidate was on the ballot, and the government need not prove that defendant |                              |             |                                       |

009875

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | intended to affect the federal component of the election by his corrupt practices. The facts admitted by defendant at his guilty-plea hearing established all of the essential elements of an offense. The Elections Clause and the Necessary and Proper Clause combined to provide Congress with the power to regulate mixed federal and state elections even when federal candidates were running unopposed. There was no error in |                              |             |                                       |

009876

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                                       | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|--|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |  |               |   | the district court's decision on departure under U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual § 5H1.4. Defendant's conviction and sentence were affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Smith | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 139 Fed. Appx. 681; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 14855 | July 18, 2005 | Defendants were convicted of vote buying and conspiracy to buy votes. The United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky entered judgment on the jury verdict and sentenced defendants. Defendants appealed. | One of the defendants was a state representative who decided to run for an elected position. Defendants worked together and with others to buy votes. During defendants' trial, in addition to testimony regarding vote buying, evidence was introduced | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009877

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | that two witnesses had been threatened. The appellate court found that defendants failed to show evidence of prejudice with regard to denial of the motion for severance. Threat evidence was not excludable under Fed. R. Evid. 404(b) because it was admissible to show consciousness of guilt without any inference as to the character of defendants. Admission of witnesses' testimony was proper because each witness |                              |             |                                       |

009878

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | testified that he or she was approached by a member of the conspiracy and offered money for his or her vote. The remaining incarcerated defendant's challenges to his sentence had merit because individuals who sold their votes were not "victims" for the purposes of U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual § 3 A1.1. Furthermore, application of U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual § 3B1.1(b) violated |                              |             |                                       |

009879

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                                 | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|--|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |  |  |                |   | defendant's Sixth Amendment rights because it was based on facts that defendant did not admit or proved to the jury beyond a reasonable doubt. Defendants' convictions were affirmed. The remaining incarcerated defendant's sentence was vacated and his case was remanded for resentencing in accordance with Booker. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nugent v. Phelps | Court of Appeal of Louisiana, Second Circuit | 816 So. 2d 349; 2002 La. App. LEXIS 1138 | April 23, 2002 | Plaintiff incumbent police chief sued defendant challenger, the | The incumbent argued that: (1) the number of persons who were bribed for their  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009880

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | winning candidate, to have the election nullified and a new election held based on numerous irregularities and unlawful activities by the challenger and his supporters. The challenger won the election by a margin of four votes. At the end of the incumbent's case, the district court for the dismissed his suit. The incumbent appealed. | votes by the challenger's worker was sufficient to change the outcome of the election; (2) the trial judge failed to inform potential witnesses that they could be given immunity from prosecution for bribery of voters if they came forth with truthful testimony; (3) the votes of three of his ardent supporters should have been counted because they were incarcerated for the sole purpose of keeping them |                              |             |                                       |

009881

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | from campaigning and voting; and (4) the district attorney, a strong supporter of the challenger, abused his power when he subpoenaed the incumbent to appear before the grand jury a week preceding the election. The appellate court held no more than two votes would be subtracted, a difference that would be insufficient to change the election result or make it impossible to determine. The appellate court found the trial |                              |             |                                       |

009882

| Name of Case   | Court                           | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|---------------------------------|----------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                                 |                            |                   |   | judge read the immunity portion of the statute to the potential witnesses. The appellate court found the arrests of the three supporters were the result of grand jury indictments, and there was no manifest error in holding that the incumbent failed to prove a scheme by the district attorney. The judgment of the trial court was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Eason v. State | Court of Appeals of Mississippi | 2005 Miss. App. LEXIS 1017 | December 13, 2005 | Defendant appealed a decision of circuit court convicting him of one count of | Defendant was helping with his cousin's campaign in a run-off election for county supervisor.  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009833

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | conspiracy to commit voter fraud and eight counts of voter fraud. | Together, they drove around town, picking up various people who were either at congregating spots or their homes. Defendant would drive the voters to the clerk's office where they would vote by absentee ballot and defendant would give them beer or money. Defendant claimed he was entitled to a mistrial because the prosecutor advanced an impermissible "sending the message" argument. The court held that it |                              |             |                                       |

009884

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was precluded from reviewing the entire context in which the argument arose because, while the prosecutor's closing argument was in the record, the defense counsel's closing argument was not. Also, because the prosecutor's statement was incomplete due to defense counsel's objection, the court could not say that the statement made it impossible for defendant to receive a fair trial. Furthermore, the trial judge did not abuse his |                              |             |                                       |

009885

| Name of Case            | Court   | Citation                    | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|---|-----------------------------|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |   |                             |                   |   | discretion when he did not allow defendant to ask the individual whether she wanted to see defendant go to prison because the individual's potential bias was shown by the individual's testimony that she expected the prosecution to recommend her sentence. The court affirmed defendant's conviction. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Turner | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky | 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 31709 | November 30, 2005 | Defendants were charged with committing mail fraud and conspiracy to commit mail fraud and vote-- | Defendants argued that recusal was mandated by 28 U.S.C.S. § 455(a) and (b)(1). The court found no  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | buying. First defendant filed a motion to recuse. Second defendant's motion to join the motion to recuse was granted. First defendant moved to compel the Government to grant testimonial use immunity to second defendant and moved to sever defendants. | merit in defendants' arguments. The fact that the judge's husband was the commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Environmental Protection, a position to which he was appointed by the Republican Governor, was not relevant. The judge's husband was neither a party nor a witness. The court further concluded that no reasonable person could find that the judge's spouse had any direct interest in the instant action. |                              |             |                                       |

009387

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | As for issue of money donated by the judge's husband to Republican opponents of first defendant, the court could not discern any reason why such facts warranted recusal. First defendant asserted that second defendant should have been granted use immunity based on a belief that second defendant would testify that first defendant did not agree to, possess knowledge of, engage in, or otherwise participate in any |                              |             |                                       |

009888

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | of the illegal activity alleged in the indictment. The court found the summary of expected testimony to be too general to grant immunity. In addition, it was far from clear whether the court had the power to grant testimonial use immunity to second defendant. Defendants' motion to recuse was denied. First defendant's motions to compel and to sever were denied. |                              |             |                                       |

009889

| Name of Case    | Court                     | Citation  | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|---------------------------|---|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Ways v. Shively | Supreme Court of Nebraska | 264 Neb. 250; 646 N.W.2d 621; 2002 Neb. LEXIS 158 | July 5, 2002 | Appellant felon filed a writ of mandamus, which sought to compel appellee Election Commissioner of Lancaster County, Nebraska, to permit him to register to vote. The District Court for Lancaster County denied the felon's petition for writ of mandamus and dismissed the petition. The felon appealed. | The felon was discharged from the Nebraska State Penitentiary in June 1998 after completing his sentences for the crimes of pandering, carrying a concealed weapon and attempting to possess a controlled substance. The commissioner asserted that as a result of the felon's conviction, the sentence for which had neither been reversed nor annulled, he had lost his right to vote. The commissioner contended that the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

008800

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | only method by which the felon's right to vote could be restored was through a warrant of discharge issued by the Nebraska Board of Pardons-- -a warrant of discharge had not been issued. The supreme court ruled that the certificate of discharge issued to the felon upon his release did not restore his right to vote. The supreme court ruled that as a matter of law, the specific right to vote was not restored to the felon upon his discharge from incarceration at the |                              |             |                                       |

009891

| Name of Case        | Court                          | Citation                                      | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--------------------------------|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |                                |   |                |   | completion of his sentences. The judgment was affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Fischer v. Governor | Supreme Court of New Hampshire | 145 N.H. 28; 749 A.2d 321; 2000 N.H. LEXIS 16 | March 24, 2000 | Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged a ruling of the superior court that the felon disenfranchisement statutes violate N.H. Const. pt. I, Art. 11. | Appellee was incarcerated at the New Hampshire State Prison on felony convictions. When he requested an absentee ballot to vote from a city clerk, the request was denied. The clerk sent him a copy of N.H. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 607(A)(2) (1986), which prohibits a felon from voting "from the time of his sentence until his final discharge." The trial court declared the disenfranchisement | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009892

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | statutes unconstitutional and ordered local election officials to allow the plaintiff to vote. Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged this ruling. The central issue was whether the felon disenfranchisement statutes violated N.H. Const. pt. I, art. 11. After a review of the article, its constitutional history, and legislation pertinent to the right of felons to vote, the court concluded that the legislature retained the authority under |                              |             |                                       |

009893

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the article to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative authority, and reversed. Judgment reversed because the court concluded that the legislature retained its authority under the New Hampshire Constitution to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative |                              |             |                                       |

009894

| Name of Case          | Court                              | Citation                                | Date               | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------|------------------------------------|---|--------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                       |                                    |   |                    |   | authority.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Mixon v. Commonwealth | Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania | 759 A.2d 442; 2000 Pa. Commw. LEXIS 534 | September 18, 2000 | Respondents filed objections to petitioners' complaint seeking declaratory relief as to the unconstitutionality of the Pennsylvania Election Code, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2600 -- 3591, and the Pennsylvania Voter Registration Act, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 961.101--961.5109, regarding felon voting rights. | Petitioner convicted felons were presently or had formerly been confined in state prison. Petitioner elector was currently registered to vote in respondent state. Petitioners filed a complaint against respondent state seeking declaratory relief challenging as unconstitutional, state election and voting laws that excluded confined felons from the definition of qualified absentee electors and that barred a felon who had been released | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009895

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | from a penal institution for less than five years from registering to vote. Respondents filed objections to petitioners' complaint. The court sustained respondents' objection that incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status because respondent state had broad power to determine the conditions under which suffrage could be exercised. However, petitioner elector had no standing |                              |             |                                       |

009396

| Name of Case       | Court                        | Citation  | Date            | Facts                              | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|------------------------------|-----------|-----------------|------------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |                              |           |                 |                                    | and the court overruled objection as to deprivation of ex--felon voting rights. The court sustained respondents' objection since incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status and petitioner elector. had no standing, but objection that ex--incarcerated felons' voting rights were deprived was overruled since status penalized them. |                              |             |                                       |
| NAACP Philadelphia | United States District Court | 2000 U.S. | August 14, 2000 | Plaintiffs moved for a preliminary | Plaintiffs, ex--felon,  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009897

| Name of Case    | Court                                    | Citation          | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|-------------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Branch v. Ridge | for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania | Dist. LEXIS 11520 |      | injunction, which the parties agreed to consolidate with the merits determination for a permanent injunction, in plaintiffs' civil rights suit contending that the Pennsylvania Voter Registration Act, offended the Equal Protection Clause of U.S. Const. amend. XIV. | unincorporated association, and others, filed a civil rights suit against defendant state and local officials, contending that the Pennsylvania Voter Registration Act, violated the Equal Protection Clause by prohibiting some ex--felons from voting during the five year period following their release from prison, while permitting other ex--felons to vote. Plaintiffs conceded that one plaintiff lacked standing, and the court assumed the remaining |                              |             |                                       |

009898

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | plaintiffs had standing. The court found that all that all three of the special circumstances necessary to invoke the Pullman doctrine were present in the case, but found that abstention was not appropriate under the circumstances since it did not agree with plaintiffs' contention that the time constraints caused by the upcoming election meant that the option of pursuing their claims in state court did not offer plaintiffs an |                              |             |                                       |

668600

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |                             |                  |  | adequate remedy. Plaintiff's motion for permanent injunction denied; the court abstained from deciding merits of plaintiffs' claims under the Pullman doctrine because all three of the special circumstances necessary to invoke the doctrine were present in the case; all further proceedings stayed until further order. |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Locke | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington | 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22212 | December 1, 2000 | Plaintiffs, convicted felons who were also racial minorities, sued defendants for alleged violations of the Voting Rights Act. The parties filed cross-- | The felons alleged that Washington's felon disenfranchisement and restoration of civil rights schemes, premised upon Wash. Const. art. VI § 3,   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009900

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--------------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | motions for summary judgment. | resulted in the denial of the right to vote to racial minorities in violation of the VRA. They argued that race bias in, or the discriminatory effect of, the criminal justice system resulted in a disproportionate number of racial minorities being disenfranchised following felony convictions. The court concluded that Washington's felon disenfranchisement provision disenfranchised a disproportionate number of minorities; as a result, minorities |                              |             |                                       |

009901

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | were under--represented in Washington's political process. The Rooker--Feldman doctrine barred the felons from bringing any as--applied challenges, and even if it did not bar such claims, there was no evidence that the felons' individual convictions were born of discrimination in the criminal justice system. However, the felons' facial challenge also failed. The remedy they sought would create a new constitutional problem, allowing |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case    | Court   | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|---|---|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |   |   |               |   | disenfranchisement only of white felons. Further, the felons did not establish a causal connection between the disenfranchisement provision and the prohibited result. The court granted defendants' motion and denied the felons' motion for summary judgment. |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Bush | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 214 F. Supp. 2d 1333; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14782 | July 18, 2002 | Plaintiff felons sued defendant state officials for alleged violations of their constitutional rights. The officials moved and the felons cross-moved for summary judgment. | The felons had all successfully completed their terms of incarceration and/or probation, but their civil rights to register and vote had not been restored. They alleged that   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009903

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Florida's disenfranchisement law violated their rights under First, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Twenty--Fourth Amendments to the United States Constitution, as well as § 1983 and §§ 2 and 10 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Each of the felons' claims was fatally flawed. The felons' exclusion from voting did not violate the Equal Protection or Due Process Clauses of the United States Constitution. The First Amendment did not guarantee felons the right to |                              |             |                                       |

009904

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | vote. Although there was evidence that racial animus was a factor in the initial enactment of Florida's disenfranchisement law, there was no evidence that race played a part in the re-enactment of that provision. Although it appeared that there was a disparate impact on minorities, the cause was racially neutral. Finally, requiring the felons to pay their victim restitution before their rights would be restored did not constitute an improper poll tax or wealth |                              |             |                                       |

009905

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                   | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|----------------------------|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |                            |              |   | qualification. The court granted the officials' motion for summary judgment and implicitly denied the felons' motion. Thus, the court dismissed the lawsuit with prejudice.   |                              |             |                                       |
| King v. City of Boston | United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8421 | May 13, 2004 | Plaintiff inmate filed a motion for summary judgment in his action challenging the constitutionality of Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1, which excluded incarcerated felons from voting while they were imprisoned. | The inmate was convicted of a felony and incarcerated. His application for an absentee ballot was denied on the ground that he was not qualified to register and vote under Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1. The inmate argued that the statute was unconstitutional as it applied to him | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

906600

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | because it amounted to additional punishment for crimes he committed before the statute's enactment and thus violated his due process rights and the prohibition against ex post facto laws and bills of attainder. The court held that the statute was regulatory and not punitive because rational choices were implicated in the statute's disenfranchisement of persons under guardianship, persons disqualified because of corrupt |                              |             |                                       |

009907

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | elections practices, persons under 18 years of age, as well as incarcerated felons. Specifically, incarcerated felons were disqualified during the period of their imprisonment when it would be difficult to identify their address and ensure the accuracy of their ballots. Therefore, the court concluded that Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1 did not violate the inmate's constitutional rights. The court found the statute at issue to be |                              |             |                                       |

806600

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                    | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|-----------------------------|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |  |                             |               |   | constitutional and denied the inmate's motion for summary judgment.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Hayden v. Pataki | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 10863 | June 14, 2004 | In a 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983 action filed by plaintiffs, black and latino convicted felons, alleging that N.Y. Const. art. II, § 3 and N.Y. Elec. Law § 5--106(2) were unconstitutional, defendants, New York's governor and the chairperson of the board of elections, moved for judgment on the pleadings under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(c). | The felons sued defendants, alleging that N.Y. Const. art. II, § 3 and N.Y. Elec. Law § 5--106(2) unlawfully denied suffrage to incarcerated and paroled felons on account of their race. The court granted defendants' motion for judgment on the pleadings on the felons' claims under U.S. Const. amend. XIV, XV because their factual allegations were insufficient | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

606600

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | from which to draw an inference that the challenged provisions or their predecessors were enacted with discriminatory intent, and because denying suffrage to those who received more severe punishments, such as a term of incarceration, and not to those who received a lesser punishment, such as probation, was not arbitrary. The felons' claims under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1973 were dismissed because § 1973 could not be used to challenge the |                              |             |                                       |

009910

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | legality of N.Y. Elec. Law § 5--106. Defendants' motion was granted as to the felons' claims under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1971 because § 1971 did not provide for a private right of action, and because the felons were not "otherwise qualified to vote." The court also granted defendants' motion on the felons' U.S. Const. amend. I claim because it did not guarantee a felon the right to vote. Defendants' motion for judgment on the |                              |             |                                       |

009911

| Name of Case            | Court   | Citation                                  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|---|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |   |   |               |   | pleadings was granted in the felons' § 1983 action.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Washington | United States Court for Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 338 F.3d 1009; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 14810 | July 25, 2003 | Plaintiff inmates sued defendant state officials, claiming that Washington state's felon disenfranchisement scheme constitutes improper race--based vote denial in violation of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. The United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington granted of summary judgment dismissing the inmates' claims. The inmates appealed. | Upon conviction of infamous crimes in the state, (that is, crimes punishable by death or imprisonment in a state correctional facility), the inmates were disenfranchised. The inmates claimed that the disenfranchisement scheme violated § 2 because the criminal justice system was biased against minorities, causing a disproportionate minority representation | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009912

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | among those being disenfranchised. The appellate court held, inter alia, that the district court erred in failing to consider evidence of racial bias in the state's criminal justice system in determining whether the state's felon disenfranchisement laws resulted in denial of the right to vote on account of race. Instead of applying its novel "by itself" causation standard, the district court should have applied a totality of the circumstances test that included |                              |             |                                       |

009913

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | analysis of the inmates' compelling evidence of racial bias in Washington's criminal justice system. However, the inmates lacked standing to challenge the restoration scheme because they presented no evidence of their eligibility, much less even allege that they were eligible for restoration, and had not attempted to have their civil rights restored. The court affirmed as to the eligibility claim but reversed and remanded for |                              |             |                                       |

009914

| Name of Case   | Court                     | Citation                                      | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|---------------------------|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                           |   |                  |  | further proceedings to the bias in the criminal justice system claim.  |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Phillips | Supreme Court of Virginia | 265 Va. 81; 574 S.E.2d 270; 2003 Va. LEXIS 10 | January 10, 2003 | The circuit court, entered a judgment in which it declined to consider petitioner former felon's petition for approval of her request to seek restoration of her eligibility to register to vote. The former felon appealed. | More than five years earlier, the former felon was convicted of the felony of making a false written statement incident to a firearm purchase. She then petitioned the trial court asking it to approve her request to seek restoration of her eligibility to register to vote. Her request was based on Va. Code Ann. § 53.1--231.2, allowing persons convicted of non--violent | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009915

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | felonies to petition a trial court for approval of a request to seek restoration of voting rights. The trial court declined. It found that Va. Code Ann. § 53.1--231.2 violated constitutional separation of powers principles since it gave the trial court powers belonging to the governor. It also found that even if the statute was constitutional, it was fundamentally flawed for not providing notice to respondent Commonwealth regarding a |                              |             |                                       |

009916

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | petition. After the petition was denied, the state supreme court found the separation of powers principles were not violated since the statute only allowed the trial court to determine if an applicant met the requirements to have voting eligibility restored. It also found the statute was not fundamentally flawed since the Commonwealth was not an interested party entitled to notice. OUTCOME: The judgment was reversed and the |                              |             |                                       |

009917

| Name of Case      | Court   | Citation                  | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---|---------------------------|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |   |                           |                   |  | case was remanded for further proceedings.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Howard v. Gilmore | United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit | 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 2680 | February 23, 2000 | Appellant challenged the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia's order summarily dismissing his complaint, related to his inability to vote as a convicted felon, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. | Appellant was disenfranchised by the Commonwealth of Virginia following his felony conviction. He challenged that decision by suing the Commonwealth under the U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, XV, XIX, and XXIV, and under the Voting Rights Act of 1965. The lower court summarily dismissed his complaint under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6) for failure to state a claim. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009918

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Appellant challenged. The court found U.S. Const. amend. I created no private right of action for seeking reinstatement of previously canceled voting rights, U.S. Const. amends. XIV, XV, XIX, and the VRA required either gender or race discrimination, neither of which appellant asserted, and the U.S. Const. amend. XXIV, while prohibiting the imposition of poll taxes, did not prohibit the imposition of a $10 fee for |                              |             |                                       |

009919

| Name of Case | Court         | Citation | Date     | Facts                 | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------|----------|----------|-----------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |               |          |          |                       | reinstatement of appellant's civil rights, including the right to vote. Consequently, appellant failed to state a claim. The court affirmed, finding that none of the constitutional provisions appellant relied on were properly pled because appellant failed to assert that either his race or gender were involved in the decisions to deny him the vote. Conditioning reestablishment of his civil rights on a $10 fee was not unconstitutional. |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v.   | United States | 353 F.3d | December | Plaintiffs, ex--felon | The citizens   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009920

| Name of Case     | Court                                     | Citation                         | Date     | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|----------------------------------|----------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Governor of Fla. | Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 1287; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 25859 | 19, 2003 | citizens of Florida, on their own right and on behalf of others, sought review of a decision of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, which granted summary judgment to defendants, members of the Florida Clemency Board in their official capacity. The citizens challenged the validity of the Florida felon disenfranchisement laws. | alleged that Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) was racially discriminatory and violated their constitutional rights. The citizens also alleged violations of the Voting Rights Act. The court initially examined the history of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) and determined that the citizens had presented evidence that historically the disenfranchisement provisions were motivated by a discriminatory animus. The citizens had met their initial burden of showing that |                              |             |                                       |

009921

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | race was a substantial motivating factor. The state was then required to show that the current disenfranchisement provisions would have been enacted absent the impermissible discriminatory intent. Because the state had not met its burden, summary judgment should not have been granted. The court found that the claim under the Voting Rights Act, also needed to be remanded for further proceedings. Under a totality of the circumstances, |                              |             |                                       |

009922

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the district court needed to analyze whether intentional racial discrimination was behind the Florida disenfranchisement provisions, in violation of the Voting Rights Act. The court affirmed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment on the citizens' poll tax claim. The court reversed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment to the Board on the claims under the equal protection clause and for violation of federal voting laws and remanded the |                              |             |                                       |

009923

| Name of Case   | Court                         | Citation                  | Date               | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|-------------------------------|---------------------------|--------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                               |                           |                    |  | matter to the district court for further proceedings.   |                              |             |                                       |
| State v. Black | Court of Appeals of Tennessee | 2002 Tenn. App. LEXIS 696 | September 26, 2002 | In 1997, petitioner was convicted of forgery and sentenced to the penitentiary for two years, but was immediately placed on probation. He subsequently petitioned the circuit court for restoration of citizenship. The trial court restored his citizenship rights. The State appealed. The appellate court issued its opinion, but granted the State's motions to supplement the record and to | The appellate court's original opinion found that petitioner had not lost his right to hold public office because Tennessee law removed that right only from convicted felons who were "sentenced to the penitentiary." The trial court's amended judgment made it clear that petitioner was in fact sentenced to the penitentiary. Based upon this correction to the record, the appellate court | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009924

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|----------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | rehear its decision. | found that petitioner's sentence to the penitentiary resulted in the forfeiture of his right to seek and hold public office by operation of Tenn. Code Ann. § 40-20--114. However, the appellate court concluded that this new information did not requires a different outcome on the merits of the issue of restoration of his citizenship rights, including the right to seek and hold public office. The appellate court adhered to its conclusion that the |                              |             |                                       |

009925

| Name of Case                | Court   | Citation                 | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|---|--------------------------|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |   |                          |                |   | statutory presumption in favor of the restoration was not overcome by a showing, by a preponderance of the evidence, of good cause to deny the petition for restoration of citizenship rights. The appellate court affirmed the restoration of petitioner's right to vote and reversed the denial of his right to seek and hold public office. His full rights of citizenship were restored. |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of Fla. | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh | 405 F.3d 1214; 2005 U.S. | April 12, 2005 | Plaintiff individuals sued defendant members of Florida | The individuals argued that the racial animus motivating the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009926

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation              | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------|-----------------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Circuit | App.LEXIS5945 |      | Clemency Board, arguing that Florida's felon disenfranchisement law, Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968), violated the Equal Protection Clause and 42 U.S.C.S. § 1973. The United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida granted the members summary judgment. A divided appellate panel reversed. The panel opinion was vacated and a rehearing en banc was granted. | adoption of Florida's disenfranchisement laws in 1868 remained legally operative despite the reenactment of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 in 1968. The subsequent reenactment eliminated any discriminatory taint from the law as originally enacted because the provision narrowed the class of disenfranchised individuals and was amended through a deliberative process. Moreover, there was no allegation of racial discrimination at |                              |             |                                       |

009927

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the time of the reenactment. Thus, the disenfranchisement provision was not a violation of the Equal Protection Clause and the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on that claim. The argument that 42 U.S.C.S. § 1973 applied to Florida's disenfranchisement provision was rejected because it raised grave constitutional concerns, i.e., prohibiting a practice that the Fourteenth Amendment permitted the state |                              |             |                                       |

009928

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | to maintain. In addition, the legislative history indicated that Congress never intended the Voting Rights Act to reach felon disenfranchisement provisions. Thus, the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on the Voting Rights Act claim. The motion for summary judgment in favor of the members was granted. |                              |             |                                       |

009929

| Name of Case         | Court                                       | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Hileman v. McGinness | Appellate Court of Illinois, Fifth District | 316 Ill. App. 3d 868; 739 N.E.2d 81; 2000 Ill. App. LEXIS 845 | October 25, 2000 | Appellant challenged the circuit court's declaration that that the result of a primary election for county circuit clerk was void. | In a primary election for county circuit clerk, the parties agreed that 681 absentee ballots were presumed invalid. The ballots had been commingled with the valid ballots. There were no markings or indications on the ballots which would have allowed them to be segregated from other ballots cast. Because the ballots could not have been | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009930

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | segregated, apportionment was the appropriate remedy if no fraud was involved. If fraud was involved, the election would have had to have been voided and a new election held. Because the trial court did not hold an evidentiary hearing on the fraud allegations, and did not determine whether fraud was in issue, the case was remanded for a |                              |             |                                       |

009931

| Name of Case   | Court                           | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|---------------------------------|----------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                                 |                            |                   |   | determination as to whether fraud was evident in the electoral process. Judgment reversed and remanded.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Eason v. State | Court of Appeals of Mississippi | 2005 Miss. App. LEXIS 1017 | December 13, 2005 | Defendant appealed a decision of the circuit court convicting him of one count of conspiracy to commit voter fraud and eight counts of voter fraud. | Defendant was helping with his cousin's campaign in a run--off election for county supervisor. Together, they drove around town, picking up various people who were either at congregating spots or their homes. Defendant | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009932

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | would drive the voters to the clerk's office where they would vote by absentee ballot and defendant would give them beer or money. Defendant claimed he was entitled to a mistrial because the prosecutor advanced an impermissible "sending the message" argument. The court held that it was precluded from reviewing the entire context in which the |                              |             |                                       |

009933

| Name of Case | Court    | Citation | Date   | Facts     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|----------|--------|-----------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |          |        |           | argument arose because, while the prosecutor's closing argument was in the record, the defense counsel's closing argument was not. Also, because the prosecutor's statement was incomplete due to defense counsel's objection, the court could not say that the statement made it impossible for defendant to receive a fair trial. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Wilson v.    | Court of | 2000 Va. | May 2, | Defendant | At trial, the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009934

| Name of Case | Court               | Citation       | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------------|----------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Commonwealth | Appeals of Virginia | App. LEXIS 322 | 2000 | appealed the judgment of the circuit court which convicted her of election fraud. | Commonwealth introduced substantial testimony and documentary evidence that defendant had continued to live at one residence in the 13th District, long after she stated on the voter registration form that she was living at a residence in the 51st House District. The evidence included records showing electricity and water usage, records from |                              |             |                                       |

009935

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the Department of Motor Vehicles and school records. Thus, the evidence was sufficient to support the jury's verdict that defendant made "a false material statement" on the voter registration card required to be filed in order for her to be a candidate for office in the primary in question. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |   |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |   |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |   |                              |             |                                       |

009936

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---------|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |

009937

| Name of Case         | Court                    | Citation            | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--------------------------|---------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Townson v. Stonicher | Supreme Court of Alabama | 2005 Ala. LEXIS 214 | December 9, 2005 | The circuit court overturned the results of a mayoral election after reviewing the absentee ballots cast for said election, resulting in a loss for appellant incumbent based on the votes received from appellee voters. The incumbent appealed, and the voters cross--appealed. In the meantime, the trial court stayed enforcement of | The voters and the incumbent all challenged the judgment entered by the trial court arguing that it impermissibly included or excluded certain votes. The appeals court agreed with the voters that the trial court should have excluded the votes of those voters for the incumbent who included an improper form of identification with their absentee ballots. It was undisputed that | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009938

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | its judgment pending resolution of the appeal. | at least 30 absentee voters who voted for the incumbent provided with their absentee ballots a form of identification that was not proper under Alabama law. As a result, the court further agreed that the trial court erred in allowing those voters to somewhat "cure" that defect by providing a proper form of identification at the trial of the election contest, because, under those |                              |             |                                       |

009939

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | circumstances, it was difficult to conclude that those voters made an honest effort to comply with the law. Moreover, to count the votes of voters who failed to comply with the essential requirement of submitting proper identification with their absentee ballots had the effect of disenfranchising qualified electors who choose not to vote but rather than to make the effort to comply |                              |             |                                       |

009940

| Name of Case     | Court         | Citation        | Date             | Facts                  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---------------|-----------------|------------------|------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |               |                 |                  |                        | with the absentee--voting requirements. The judgment declaring the incumbent's opponent the winner was affirmed. The judgment counting the challenged votes in the final tally of votes was reversed, and said votes were subtracted from the incumbents total, and the stay was vacated. All other arguments were rendered moot as a result. |                              |             |                                       |
| ACLU of Minn. v. | United States | 2004 U.S. Dist. | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voters and | Plaintiffs argued that Minn. Stat.  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009941

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation    | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|-------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Kiffmeyer    | District Court for the District of Minnesota | LEXIS 22996 |      | associations, filed for a temporary restraining order pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 65, against defendant, Minnesota Secretary of State, concerning voter registration. | § 201.061 was inconsistent with the Help America Vote Act because it did not authorize the voter to complete registration either by a "current and valid photo identification" or by use of a current utility bill, bank statement, government check, paycheck, or other government document that showed the name and address of the |                              |             |                                       |

009942

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | individual. The Secretary advised the court that there were less than 600 voters who attempted to register by mail but whose registrations were deemed incomplete. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on their claim that the authorization in Minn. Stat. § 201.061, sub. 3, violated the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth |                              |             |                                       |

009943

009944

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Amendment of the United States Constitution insofar as it did not also authorize the use of a photographic tribal identification card by American Indians who do not reside on their tribal reservations. Also, the court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on their claims that Minn. R. 8200.5100, |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |  |                  |   | violated the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution. A temporary restraining order was entered.  |                              |             |                                       |
| League of Women Voters v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 340 F. Supp. 2d 823; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20926 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations filed suit against defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, claiming that a directive issued by the Secretary contravened the provisions of the Help America Vote Act. The Secretary filed a motion to | The directive in question instructed election officials to issue provisional ballots to first-time voters who registered by mail but did not provide documentary identification at the polling place on election day. When submitting a provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009925

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts    | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|----------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | dismiss. | ballot, a first--time voter could identify himself by providing his driver's license number or the last four digits of his social security number. If he did not know either number, he could provide it before the polls closed. If he did not do so, his provisional ballot would not be counted. The court held that the directive did not contravene the HAVA and otherwise established reasonable |                              |             |                                       |

976600

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | requirements for confirming the identity of first-time voters who registered to vote by mail because: (1) the identification procedures were an important bulwark against voter misconduct and fraud; (2) the burden imposed on first-time voters to confirm their identity, and thus show that they were voting legitimately, was slight; and (3) the number of voters unable to meet the |                              |             |                                       |

009947

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | burden of proving their identity was likely to be very small. Thus, the balance of interests favored the directive, even if the cost, in terms of uncounted ballots, was regrettable. The court granted the Secretary's motion to dismiss. |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case               | Court  | Citation                                      | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| New York v. County of Del. | United States District Court for the Northern District of New York | 82 F. Supp. 2d 12; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 1398 | February 8, 2000 | Plaintiffs brought a claim in the district court under the Americans With Disabilities Act and filed a motion for a preliminary injunction and motion for leave to amend their complaint, and defendants were ordered to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued. | In their complaint plaintiffs alleged that defendants violated the ADA by making the voting locations inaccessible to disabled persons and asked for a preliminary injunction requiring defendants to come into compliance before the next election. The court found that defendants were the correct parties, because | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

676600

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | pursuant to New York election law defendants were responsible for the voting locations. The court further found that the class plaintiffs represented would suffer irreparable harm if they were not able to vote, because, if the voting locations were inaccessible, disabled persons would be denied the right to vote. Also, due to the alleged |                              |             |                                       |

009950

| Name of Case                    | Court                  | Citation                | Date             | Facts                             | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|-------------------------|------------------|-----------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                 |                        |                         |                  |                                   | facts, the court found plaintiffs would likely succeed on the merits. Consequently, the court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction and granted plaintiffs' motion for leave to amend their complaint. |                              |             |                                       |
| New York v. County of Schoharie | United States District | 82 F. Supp. 2d 19; 2000 | February 8, 2000 | Plaintiffs brought a claim in the | In their complaint, plaintiffs  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009951

| Name of Case | Court                                       | Citation              | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|-----------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Court for the Northern District of New York | U.S. Dist. LEXIS 1399 |      | district court under the Americans With Disabilities Act and filed a motion for a preliminary injunction and a motion for leave to amend their complaint, and defendants were ordered to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued. | alleged defendants violated the ADA by allowing voting locations to be inaccessible for disabled persons and asked for a preliminary injunction requiring defendants to come into compliance before the next election. The court found that defendants were the correct party, because pursuant to New York election law, |                              |             |                                       |

009952

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | defendants were responsible for the voting locations. The court further found that the class plaintiffs represented would suffer irreparable harm if they were not able to vote, because, if the voting locations were inaccessible, disabled persons would be denied the right to vote. Also, the court found that plaintiffs would likely succeed on the |                              |             |                                       |

009958

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | merits of their case. Consequently, the court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction because plaintiffs showed irreparable harm and proved likely success on the merits and granted plaintiff's motion for leave to amend the complaint. |                              |             |                                       |

009954

| Name of Case  | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Westchester Disabled on the Move, Inc. v. County of Westchester | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 346 F. Supp. 2d 473; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24203 | October 22, 2004 | Plaintiffs sued defendant county, county board of elections, and election officials pursuant to 42 U.S.C.S. §§ 12131--12134, N.Y. Exec. Law § 296, and N.Y. Elec. Law § 4--1--4. Plaintiffs moved for a preliminary injunction, requesting (among other things) that the court order defendants to modify the polling places in the county so that they | The inability to vote at assigned locations on election day constituted irreparable harm. However, plaintiffs could not show a likelihood of success on the merits because the currently named defendants could not provide complete relief sought by plaintiffs. Although the county board of elections was empowered to | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

000955

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | were accessible to disabled voters on election day. Defendants moved to dismiss. | select an alternative polling place should it determine that a polling place designated by a municipality was "unsuitable or unsafe," it was entirely unclear that its power to merely designate suitable polling places would be adequate to ensure that all polling places used in the upcoming election actually conformed |                              |             |                                       |

009956

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Substantial changes and modifications to existing facilities would have to be made, and such changes would be difficult, if not impossible, to make without the cooperation of municipalities. Further, the court could order defendants to approve voting machines that conformed to |                              |             |                                       |

009957

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the ADA were they to be purchased and submitted for county approval, but the court could not order them to purchase them for the voting districts in the county. A judgment issued in the absence of the municipalities would be inadequate. Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction was denied, and defendants' motion to dismiss was granted. |                              |             |                                       |

009958

| Name of Case                            | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Nat'l Org. on Disability v. Tartaglione | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania | 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16731 | October 11, 2001 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters and special interest organizations, sued defendants, city commissioners, under the Americans with Disabilities Act and § 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and regulations under both statutes, regarding election practices. The commissioners moved to dismiss for failure (1) to | The voters were visually impaired or wheelchair bound. They challenged the commissioners' failure to provide talking voting machines and wheelchair accessible voting places. They claimed discrimination in the process of voting because they were not afforded the same opportunity to participate in the voting process as non-disabled | No                           | N/A         | Yes-see if the case was refiled       |

009959

009960

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | state a cause of action and (2) to join an indispensable party. | voters, and assisted voting and voting by alternative ballot were substantially different from, more burdensome than, and more intrusive than the voting process utilized by non--disabled voters. The court found that the complaint stated causes of actions under the ADA, the Rehabilitation Act, and 28 C.F.R. §§ 35.151 and |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 35.130. The court found that the voters and organizations had standing to raise their claims. The organizations had standing through the voters' standing or because they used significant resources challenging the commissioners' conduct. The plaintiffs failed to join the state official who would need to approve any talking voting machine as a |                              |             |                                       |

009961

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | party. As the court could not afford complete relief to the visually impaired voters in that party's absence, it granted the motion to dismiss under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(7) without prejudice. The court granted the commissioners' motion to dismiss in part, and denied it in part. The court granted the motion to dismiss the claims of the |                              |             |                                       |

009962

| Name of Case                                | Court                       | Citation   | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-----------------------------|--|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                             |  |              |  | visually impaired voters for failure to join an indispensable party, without prejudice, and with leave to amend the complaint.  |                              |             |                                       |
| TENNESSEE, Petitioner v. GEORGE LANE et al. | United States Supreme Court | 541 U.S. 509; 124 S. Ct. 1978; 158 L. Ed. 2d 820; 2004 U.S. LEXIS 3386 | May 17, 2004 | Respondent paraplegics sued petitioner State of Tennessee, alleging that the State failed to provide reasonable access to court facilities in violation of Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act | The state contended that the abrogation of state sovereign immunity in Title II of the ADA exceeded congressional authority under U.S. Const. amend XIV, § 5, to enforce substantive constitutional guarantees. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009963

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of 1990. Upon the grant of a writ of certiorari, the State appealed the judgment of the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit which denied the State's claim of sovereign immunity. | The United States Supreme Court held, however, that Title II, as it applied to the class of cases implicating the fundamental right of access to the courts, constituted a valid exercise of Congress's authority. Title II was responsive to evidence of pervasive unequal treatment of persons with disabilities in the administration of state |                              |             |                                       |

009964

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | services and programs, and such disability discrimination was thus an appropriate subject for prophylactic legislation. Regardless of whether the State could be subjected to liability for failing to provide access to other facilities or services, the fundamental right of access to the courts warranted the limited requirement that the State reasonably |                              |             |                                       |

009965

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | accommodate disabled persons to provide such access. Title II was thus a reasonable prophylactic measure, reasonably targeted to a legitimate end. The judgment denying the State's claim of sovereign immunity was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

009966

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Bell v. Marinko | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 367 F.3d 588; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8330 | April 28, 2004 | Plaintiffs, registered voters, sued defendants, Ohio Board of Elections and Board members, alleging that Ohio Rev. Code Ann. §§ 3509.19-3509.21 violated the National Voter Registration Act, and the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio granted summary judgment in favor of defendants. The voters appealed. | The voters asserted that § 3503.02---- which stated that the place where the family of a married man or woman resided was considered to be his or her place of residence----violated the equal protection clause. The court of appeals found that the Board's procedures did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act because Congress did not intend to bar the removal of names from the official list of persons who were ineligible and improperly registered to vote in | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009967

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the first place. The National Voter Registration Act did not bar the Board's continuing consideration of a voter's residence, and encouraged the Board to maintain accurate and reliable voting rolls. Ohio was free to take reasonable steps to see that all applicants for registration to vote actually fulfilled the requirement of bona fide residence. Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3503.02(D) did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act. Because the Board did not raise an irrebuttable |                              |             |                                       |

896600

| Name of Case           | Court                        | Citation                | Date        | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------|-------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |                              |                         |             |   | presumption in applying § 3502.02(D), the voters suffered no equal protection violation. The judgment was affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Wilson v. Commonwealth | Court of Appeals of Virginia | 2000 Va. App. LEXIS 322 | May 2, 2000 | Defendant appealed the judgment of the circuit court which convicted her of election fraud. | On appeal, defendant argued that the evidence was insufficient to support her conviction because it failed to prove that she made a willfully false statement on her voter registration form and, even if the evidence did prove that she made such a statement, it did not prove that the voter registration form was the form | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | required by Title 24.2. At trial, the Commonwealth introduced substantial testimony and documentary evidence that defendant had continued to live at one residence in the 13th District, long after she stated on the voter registration form that she was living at a residence in the 51st House District. The evidence included records showing electricity and water usage, records from the Department of Motor Vehicles and school records. Thus, the evidence |                              |             |                                       |

019970

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was sufficient to support the jury's verdict that defendant made "a false material statement" on the voter registration card required to be filed by Title 24.2 in order for her to be a candidate for office in the primary in question. Judgment of conviction affirmed. Evidence, including records showing electricity and water usage, records from the Department of Motor Vehicles and school records, was sufficient to support jury's verdict that defendant made "a false material statement" on the |                              |             |                                       |

009971

| Name of Case               | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                            |  |                             |                  |  | voter registration card required to be filed in order for her to be a candidate for office in the primary in question.  |                              |             |                                       |
| ACLU of Minn. v. Kiffmeyer | United States District Court for the District of Minnesota | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22996 | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voters and associations, filed for a temporary restraining order pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 65, against defendant, Minnesota Secretary of State, concerning voter registration. | Plaintiffs argued that Minn. Stat. § 201.061 was inconsistent with the Help America Vote Act because it did not authorize the voter to complete registration either by a "current and valid photo identification" or by use of a current utility bill, bank statement, government check, paycheck, or other government document that showed the name and address of the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009972

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | individual. The Secretary advised the court that there were less than 600 voters who attempted to register by mail but whose registrations were deemed incomplete. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on their claim that the authorization in Minn. Stat. § 201.061, sub. 3, violated the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution insofar as it did not also authorize the use of a photographic |                              |             |                                       |

009973

| Name of Case                 | Court  | Citation  | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------------|--|---|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                              |  |   |                   |  | tribal identification card by American Indians who do not reside on their tribal reservations. Also, the court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on their claims that Minn. R. 8200.5100, violated the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution. A temporary restraining order was entered. |                              |             |                                       |
| Kalsson v. United States FEC | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 356 F. Supp. 2d 371; 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2279 | February 16, 2005 | Defendant Federal Election Commission filed a motion to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction plaintiff individual's | The individual claimed that his vote was diluted because the NVRA resulted in more people registering to vote than otherwise would have been the case. The court held  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009974

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | action, which sought a declaration that the National Voter Registration Act was unconstitutional on the theories that its enactment was not within the enumerated powers of the federal government and that it violated Article II of the United States Constitution. | that the individual lacked standing to bring the action. Because New York was not obliged to adhere to the requirements of the NVRA, the individual did not allege any concrete harm. If New York simply adopted election day registration for elections for federal office, it would have been entirely free of the NVRA just as were five other states. Even if the individual's vote were diluted, and even if such an injury in other circumstances might have sufficed for standing, any |                              |             |                                       |

009975

| Name of Case                     | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                  |  |  |                  |   | dilution that he suffered was the result of New York's decision to maintain a voter registration system that brought it under the NVRA, not the NVRA itself. The court granted the motion to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction.                                 |                              |             |                                       |
| Peace & Freedom Party v. Shelley | California Court of Appeal, Third Appellate District | 114 Cal. App. 4th 1237; 8 Cal. Rptr. 3d 497; 2004 Cal. App. LEXIS 42 | January 15, 2004 | Plaintiff political party appealed a judgment from the superior court which denied the party's petition for writ of mandate to compel defendant, the California Secretary of State, to include voters listed in | The trial court ruled that inactive voters were excluded from the primary election calculation. The court of appeals affirmed, observing that although the election had already taken place, the issue was likely to recur and was a matter of continuing public interest and | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009976

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | the inactive file of registered voters in calculating whether the party qualified to participate in a primary election. | importance; hence, a decision on the merits was proper, although the case was technically moot. The law clearly excluded inactive voters from the calculation. The statutory scheme did not violate the inactive voters' constitutional right of association because it was reasonably designed to ensure that all parties on the ballot had a significant modicum of support from eligible voters. Information in the inactive file was unreliable and often duplicative of information in the active file. |                              |             |                                       |

009977

| Name of Case      | Court  | Citation                                 | Date               | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|--|--|--------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |  |  |                    |   | Moreover, there was no violation of the National Voter Registration Act because voters listed as inactive were not prevented from voting. Although the Act prohibited removal of voters from the official voting list absent certain conditions, inactive voters in California could correct the record and vote. Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| McKay v. Thompson | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 226 F.3d 752; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 23387 | September 18, 2000 | Plaintiff challenged order of United States District Court for Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga, which granted defendant state election officials | The trial court had granted defendant state election officials summary judgment. The court declined to overrule defendants' administrative determination that state law required  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009978

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | summary judgment on plaintiff's action seeking to stop the state practice of requiring its citizens to disclose their social security numbers as a precondition to voter registration. | plaintiff to disclose his social security number because the interpretation appeared to be reasonable, did not conflict with previous caselaw, and could be challenged in state court. The requirement did not violate the Privacy Act because it was grand fathered under the terms of the Act. The limitations in the National Voter Registration Act did not apply because the NVRA did not specifically prohibit the use of social security numbers and the Act contained a more specific provision |                              |             |                                       |

009979

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | regarding such use. Plaintiff could not enforce § 1971 as it was enforceable only by the United States Attorney General. The trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims. Although the trial court arguably erred in denying certification of the case to the USAG under 28 U.S.C.S. § 2403(a), plaintiff suffered no harm from the technical violation. Order affirmed because requirement that |                              |             |                                       |

009980

| Name of Case                               | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |  |  |                  |  | voters disclose social security numbers as precondition to voter registration did not violate Privacy Act of 1974 or National Voter Registration Act and trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims. |                              |             |                                       |
| Lucas County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 341 F. Supp. 2d 861; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21416 | October 21, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations brought an action challenging a memorandum issued by defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, in December 2003. | The case involved a box on Ohio's voter registration form that required a prospective voter who registered in person to supply an Ohio driver's license number or the last four digits of their   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009981

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | The organizations claimed that the memorandum contravened provisions of the Help America Vote Act and the National Voter Registration Act. The organizations moved for a preliminary injunction. | Social Security number. In his memorandum, the Secretary informed all Ohio County Boards of Elections that, if a person left the box blank, the Boards were not to process the registration forms. The organizations did not file their suit until 18 days before the national election. The court found that there was not enough time before the election to develop the evidentiary record necessary to determine if the organizations were likely to succeed on the merits of their claim. Denying the |                              |             |                                       |

009982

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | organizations' motion would have caused them to suffer no irreparable harm. There was no appropriate remedy available to the organizations at the time. The likelihood that the organizations could have shown irreparable harm was, in any event, slight in view of the fact that they waited so long before filing suit. Moreover, it would have been entirely improper for the court to order the Boards to re--open in--person registration until election day. The public interest would have been ill- |                              |             |                                       |

009983

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation  | Date         | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|--------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |              |   | -served by an injunction. The motion for a preliminary injunction was denied sua sponte.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l Coalition for Students with Disabilities Educ. & Legal Def. Fund v. Scales | United States District Court for the District of Maryland | 150 F. Supp. 2d 845; 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9528 | July 5, 2001 | Plaintiff, national organization for disabled students, brought an action against university president and university's director of office of disability support services to challenge the voter registration procedures established by the disability support services. Defendants moved to dismiss the first amended complaint, or in the alternative for | Defendants alleged that plaintiff lacked standing to represent its members, and that plaintiff had not satisfied the notice requirements of the National Voter Registration Act. Further, defendants maintained the facts, as alleged by plaintiff, did not give rise to a past, present, or future violation of the NVRA because (1) the plaintiff's members that requested voter | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009984

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts             | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | summary judgment. | registration services were not registered students at the university and (2) its current voter registration procedures complied with NVRA. As to plaintiff's § 1983 claim, the court held that while plaintiff had alleged sufficient facts to confer standing under the NVRA, such allegations were not sufficient to support standing on its own behalf on the § 1983 claim. As to the NVRA claim, the court found that the agency practice of only offering voter registration services at the initial |                              |             |                                       |

009985

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | intake interview and placing the burden on disabled students to obtain voter registration forms and assistance afterwards did not satisfy its statutory duties. Furthermore, most of the NVRA provisions applied to disabled applicants not registered at the university. Defendants' motion to dismiss first amended complaint was granted as to the § 1983 claim and denied as to plaintiff's claims brought under the National Voter Registration Act of 1993. Defendants' alternative motion |                              |             |                                       |

00998R

| Name of Case       | Court                        | Citation  | Date          | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|------------------------------|---|---------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |                              |   |               |  | for summary judgment was denied.  |                              |             |                                       |
| People v. Disimone | Court of Appeals of Michigan | 251 Mich. App. 605; 650 N.W.2d 436; 2002 Mich. App. LEXIS 826 | July 11, 2002 | Defendant was charged with attempting to vote more than once in the 2000 general election. The circuit court granted defendant's motion that the State had to prove specific intent. The State appealed. | Defendant was registered in the Colfax township for the 2000 general election. After presenting what appeared to be a valid voter's registration card, defendant proceeded to vote in the Grant township. Defendant had voted in the Colfax township earlier in the day. Defendant moved the court to issue an order that the State had to find that he had a specific intent to vote twice in order to be convicted. The appellate court | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009987

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | reversed the circuit court judgment and held that under the rules of statutory construction, the fact that the legislature had specifically omitted certain trigger words such as "knowingly," "willingly," "purposefully," or "intentionally" it was unlikely that the legislature had intended for this to be a specific intent crime. The court also rejected the defendant's argument that phrases such as "offer to vote" and "attempt to vote" should be construed as synonymous |                              |             |                                       |

009988

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |   |   |                  |   | terms, as when words with similar meanings were used in the same statute, it was presumed that the legislature intended to distinguish between the terms. The order of the circuit court was reversed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Diaz v. Hood | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1111; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21445 | October 26, 2004 | Plaintiffs, unions and individuals who had attempted to register to vote, sought a declaration of their rights to vote in the November 2, 2004 general election. They alleged that defendants, state and county election officials, | The putative voters sought injunctive relief requiring the election officials to register them to vote. The court first noted that the unions lacked even representative standing, because they failed to show that one of their members could have brought the case in their own behalf. The individual | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009989

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | refused to process their voter registrations for various failures to complete the registration forms. The election officials moved to dismiss the complaint for lack of standing and failure to state a claim. | putative voters raised separate issues: the first had failed to verify her mental capacity, the second failed to check a box indicating that he was not a felon, and the third did not provide the last four digits of her social security number on the form. They claimed the election officials violated federal and state law by refusing to register eligible voters because of nonmaterial errors or omissions in their voter registration applications, and by failing to provide any notice to voter applicants whose |                              |             |                                       |

009990

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date    | Facts                | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|---------|----------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |         |                      | registration applications were deemed incomplete. In the first two cases, the election official had handled the errant application properly under Florida law, and the putative voter had effectively caused their own injury by failing to complete the registration. The third completed her form and was registered, so had suffered no injury. Standing failed against the secretary of state. The motions to dismiss the complaint were granted without prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| Charles H.   | United | 324 F.   | July 1, | Plaintiffs, a voter, | The organization   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009991

| Name of Case                     | Court  | Citation                                   | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------------|--|--|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Wesley Educ. Found., Inc. v. Cox | States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia | Supp. 2d 1358; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12120 | 2004 | fraternity members, and an organization, sought an injunction ordering defendant, the Georgia Secretary of State, to process the voter registration application forms that they mailed in following a voter registration drive. They contended that by refusing to process the forms defendants violated the National Voter Registration Act and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, and XV. | participated in numerous non-partisan voter registration drives primarily designed to increase the voting strength of African--Americans. Following one such drive, the fraternity members mailed in over 60 registration forms, including one for the voter who had moved within state since the last election. The Georgia Secretary of State's office refused to process them because they were not mailed individually and neither a registrar, deputy registrar, or an otherwise authorized person. |                              |             |                                       |

009992

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | had collected the applications as required under state law. The court held that plaintiffs had standing to bring the action. The court held that because the applications were received in accordance with the mandates of the NVRA, the State of Georgia was not free to reject them. The court found that: plaintiffs had a substantial likelihood of prevailing on the merits of their claim that the applications were improperly rejected; plaintiffs would be irreparably injured absent an |                              |             |                                       |

009993

009994

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | injunction; the potential harm to defendants was outweighed by plaintiffs' injuries; and an injunction was in the public interest. Plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction was granted. Defendants were ordered to process the applications received from the organization to determine whether those registrants were qualified to vote. Furthermore, defendants were enjoined from rejecting any voter registration application on the grounds that it was |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation                                       | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |  |                  |   | mailed as part of a "bundle" or that it was collected by someone not authorized or any other reason contrary to the NVRA.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Moseley v. Price | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia | 300 F. Supp. 2d 389; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 850 | January 22, 2004 | Plaintiff alleged, that defendants' actions in investigating his voter registration application constituted a change in voting procedures requiring § 5 preclearance under the Voting Rights Act, which preclearance was never sought or received. Plaintiff claimed he withdrew from | The court concluded that plaintiff's claim under the Voting Rights Act lacked merit. Plaintiff did not allege, as required, that any defendants implemented a new, uncleared voting qualification or prerequisite to voting, or standard, practice, or procedure with respect to voting. Here, the existing practice or procedure in effect | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009995

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | the race for Commonwealth Attorney because of the investigation. Defendants moved to dismiss the complaint. | in the event a mailed registration card was returned was to "resend the voter card, if address verified as correct." This was what precisely occurred. Plaintiff inferred, however, that the existing voting rule or practice was to resend the voter card "with no adverse consequences" and that the county's initiation of an investigation constituted the implementation of a change that had not been pre--cleared. The court found the inference wholly unwarranted |                              |             |                                       |

009996

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation | Date     | Facts       | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------|----------|----------|-------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |         |          |          |             | because nothing in the written procedure invited or justified such an inference. The court opined that common sense and state law invited a different inference, namely that while a returned card had to be resent if the address was verified as correct, any allegation of fraud could be investigated. Therefore, there was no new procedure for which preclearance was required. The court dismissed plaintiff's federal claims. The court dismissed the state law claims without prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| Thompson v.  | Supreme | 295      | June 10, | Respondents | Respondents alleged  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

009997

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation   | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|--|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Karben       | Court of New York, Appellate Division, Second Department | A.D.2d 438; 743 N.Y.S.2d 175; 2002 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6101 | 2002 | filed a motion seeking the cancellation of appellant's voter registration and political party enrollment on the ground that appellant was unlawfully registered to vote in a particular district. The Supreme Court, Rockland County, New York, ordered the cancellation of appellant's voter registration and party enrollment. Appellant challenged the trial court's order. | that appellant was unlawfully registered to vote from an address at which he did not reside and that he should have voted from the address that he claimed as his residence. The appellate court held that respondents adduced insufficient proof to support the conclusion that appellant did not reside at the subject address. On the other hand, appellant submitted copies of his 2002 vehicle registration, 2000 and 2001 federal income tax returns, 2002 property tax bill, a May 2001 paycheck |                              |             |                                       |

009998

| Name of Case            | Court  | Citation                    | Date           | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--|-----------------------------|----------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |  |                             |                |  | stub, and 2000 and 2001 retirement account statements all showing the subject address. Appellant also testified that he was a signatory on the mortgage of the subject address and that he kept personal belongings at that address. Respondents did not sustain their evidentiary burden. The judgment of the trial court was reversed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l Coalition v. Taft | United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22376 | August 2, 2002 | Plaintiffs, a nonprofit public interest group and certain individuals, sued defendants, certain state and university | The court found that the disability services offices at issue were subject to the NVRA because the term "office" included a subdivision of a   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

666600

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | officials, alleging that they violated the National Voter Registration Act in failing to designate the disability services offices at state public colleges and universities as voter registration sites. The group and individuals moved for a preliminary injunction. | government department or institution and the disability offices at issue were places where citizens regularly went for service and assistance. Moreover, the Ohio Secretary of State had an obligation under the NVRA to designate the disability services offices as voter registration sites because nothing in the law superceded the NVRA's requirement that the responsible state official designate disability services offices as voter registration sites. Moreover, under |                              |             |                                       |

010000

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3501.05(R), the Secretary of State's duties expressly included ensuring compliance with the NVRA. The case was not moot even though the Secretary of State had taken steps to ensure compliance with the NVRA given his position to his obligation under the law. The court granted declaratory judgment in favor of the nonprofit organization and the individuals. The motion for a preliminary injunction was granted in part and the Secretary of |                              |             |                                       |

010001

| Name of Case            | Court  | Citation                                | Date        | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--|---|-------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |  |   |             |   | State was ordered to notify disabled students who had used the designated disability services offices prior to the opening day of the upcoming semester or who had pre-registered for the upcoming semester as to voter registration availability.     |                              |             |                                       |
| Lawson v. Shelby County | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 211 F.3d 331; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 8634 | May 3, 2000 | Plaintiffs who were denied the right to vote when they refused to disclose their social security numbers, appealed a judgment of the United States District Court for the Western | Plaintiffs attempted to register to vote in October, and to vote in November, but were denied because they refused to disclose their social security numbers. A year after the election date they filed suit alleging denial of constitutional rights, | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | District of Tennessee at Memphis dismissing their amended complaint for failure to state claims barred by U.S. Const. amend. XI. | privileges and immunities, the Privacy Act of 1974 and § 1983. The district court dismissed, finding the claims were barred by U.S. Const. amend. XI, and the one year statute of limitations. The appeals court reversed, holding the district court erred in dismissing the suit because U.S. Const. amend. XI immunity did not apply to suits brought by a private party under the Ex Parte Young exception. Any damages claim not ancillary to injunctive relief was |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | barred. The court also held the statute of limitations ran from the date plaintiffs were denied the opportunity to vote, not register, and their claim was thus timely. Reversed and remanded to district court to order such relief as will allow plaintiffs to vote and other prospective injunctive relief against county and state officials; declaratory relief and attorneys' fees ancillary to the prospective injunctive relief, all permitted under the Young exception to sovereign immunity, |                              |             |                                       |

010004

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation  | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |              |   | to be fashioned.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Curtis v. Smith | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas | 145 F. Supp. 2d 814; 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8544 | June 4, 2001 | Plaintiffs, representatives of several thousand retired persons who called themselves the "Escapees," and who spent a large part of their lives traveling about the United States in recreational vehicles, but were registered to vote in the county, moved for preliminary injunction seeking to enjoin a Texas state court proceeding under the All Writs Act. | Before a general election, three persons brought an action alleging the Escapees were not bona fide residents of the county, and sought to have their names expunged from the rolls of qualified voters. The plaintiffs brought suit in federal district court. The court issued a preliminary injunction forbidding county officials from attempting to purge the voting. Commissioner contested the results of the election, alleging Escapees' votes should be | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010005

010006

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | disallowed. Plaintiffs brought present case assertedly to prevent the same issue from being relitigated. The court held, however, the issues were different, since, unlike the case in the first proceeding, there was notice and an opportunity to be heard. Further, unlike the first proceeding, the plaintiff in the state court action did not seek to change the prerequisites for voting registration in the county, but instead challenged the actual residency of some members of the Escapees, and |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case      | Court  | Citation                                      | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|--|---|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |  |   |                   |   | such challenge properly belonged in the state court. The court further held that an election contest under state law was the correct vehicle to contest the registration of Escapees. The court dissolved the temporary restraining order it had previously entered and denied plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction of the state court proceeding. |                              |             |                                       |
| Pepper v. Darnell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 24 Fed. Appx. 460; 2001 U.S. App. LEXIS 26618 | December 10, 2001 | Plaintiff individual appealed from a judgment of the district court, in an action against defendant state | Individual argued on appeal that the district court erred in finding that the registration forms used by the state did not violate the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010007

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | officials seeking relief under § 1983 and the National Voter Registration Act, for their alleged refusal to permit individual to register to vote. Officials had moved for dismissal or for summary judgment, and the district court granted the motion. | NVRA and in failing to certify a class represented by individual. Individual lived in his automobile and received mail at a rented box. Officials refused to validate individual's attempt to register to vote by mail. Tennessee state law forbade accepting a rented mail box as the address of the potential voter. Individual insisted that his automobile registration provided sufficient proof of residency under the NVRA. The court upheld the legality of state's requirement that one registering to vote |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | provide a specific location as an address, regardless of the transient lifestyle of the potential voter, finding state's procedure faithfully mirrored the requirements of the NVRA as codified in the Code of Federal Regulations. The court also held that the refusal to certify individual as the representative of a class for purposes of this litigation was not an abuse of discretion; in this case, no representative party was available as the indigent individual, acting in his own behalf, was clearly |                              |             |                                       |

60009

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |  |                  |   | unable to represent fairly the class. The district court's judgment was affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Miller v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | 348 F. Supp. 2d 916; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24894 | October 27, 2004 | Plaintiffs, two voters and the Ohio Democratic Party, filed suit against defendants, the Ohio Secretary of State, several county boards of elections, and all of the boards' members, alleging claims under the National Voter Registration Act and § 1983. Plaintiffs also filed a motion for a temporary restraining order (TRO). Two | Plaintiffs alleged that the timing and manner in which defendants intended to hold hearings regarding pre-election challenges to their voter registration violated both the Act and the Due Process Clause. The individuals, who filed pre-election voter eligibility challenges, filed a motion to intervene. The court held that it would grant the motion to intervene because the individuals had a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010010

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | individuals filed a motion to intervene as defendants. | substantial legal interest in the subject matter of the action and time constraints would not permit them to bring separate actions to protect their rights. The court further held that it would grant plaintiffs' motion for a TRO because plaintiffs made sufficient allegations in their complaint to establish standing and because all four factors to consider in issuing a TRO weighed heavily in favor of doing so. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated a likelihood of |                              |             |                                       |

010011

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | success on the merits because they made a strong showing that defendants' intended actions regarding pre--election challenges to voter eligibility abridged plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote and violated the Due Process Clause. Thus, the other factors to consider in granting a TRO automatically weighed in plaintiffs' favor. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a TRO. The court also granted the individuals' motion to intervene. |                              |             |                                       |

010012

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Miller v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the southern District of Ohio | 348 F. Supp. 2d 916; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24894 | October 27, 2004 | Plaintiffs, two voters and the Ohio Democratic Party, filed suit against defendants, the Ohio Secretary of State, several county boards of elections, and all of the boards' members, alleging claims under the National Voter Registration Act and § 1983. Plaintiffs also filed a motion for a temporary restraining order. Two individuals filed a motion to intervene as defendants. | Plaintiffs alleged that the timing and manner in which defendants intended to hold hearings regarding pre--election challenges to their voter registration violated both the Act and the Due Process Clause. The individuals, who filed pre--election voter eligibility challenges, filed a motion to intervene. The court held that it would grant the motion to intervene because the individuals had a substantial legal interest in the subject matter of | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010013

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the action and time constraints would not permit them to bring separate actions to protect their rights. The court further held that it would grant plaintiffs' motion for a TRO because plaintiffs made sufficient allegations in their complaint to establish standing and because all four factors to consider in issuing a TRO weighed heavily in favor of doing so. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated a likelihood of success on the merits because |                              |             |                                       |

010014

| Name of Case         | Court         | Citation        | Date             | Facts                               | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|---------------|-----------------|------------------|-------------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                      |               |                 |                  |                                     | they made a strong showing that defendants' intended actions regarding pre-election challenges to voter eligibility abridged plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote and violated the Due Process Clause. Thus, the other factors to consider in granting a TRO automatically weighed in plaintiffs' favor. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a TRO. The court also granted the individuals' motion to intervene. |                              |             |                                       |
| Spencer v. Blackwell | United States | 347 F. Supp. 2d | November 1, 2004 | Plaintiff voters filed a motion for | The voters alleged that defendants   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010015

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation                         | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|----------------------------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | 528; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22062 |      | temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction seeking to restrain defendant election officials and intervenor State of Ohio from discriminating against black voters in Hamilton County on the basis of race. If necessary, they sought to restrain challengers from being allowed at the polls. | had combined to implement a voter challenge system at the polls that discriminated against African--American voters. Each precinct was run by its election judges but Ohio law also allowed challengers to be physically present in the polling places in order to challenge voters' eligibility to vote. The court held that the injury asserted, that allowing challengers to challenge voters' eligibility would place an undue burden on voters and impede their right to vote, was |                              |             |                                       |

010016

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not speculative and could be redressed by removing the challengers. The court held that in the absence of any statutory guidance whatsoever governing the procedures and limitations for challenging voters by challengers, and the questionable enforceability of the State's and County's policies regarding good faith challenges and ejection of disruptive challengers from the polls, there existed an enormous risk of |                              |             |                                       |

010017

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | chaos, delay, intimidation, and pandemonium inside the polls and in the lines out the door. Furthermore, the law allowing private challengers was not narrowly tailored to serve Ohio's compelling interest in preventing voter fraud. Because the voters had shown a substantial likelihood of success on the merits on the ground that the application of Ohio's statute allowing challengers at polling places was unconstitutional |                              |             |                                       |

010018

| Name of Case                   | Court  | Citation                   | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------|--|----------------------------|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                |  |                            |              |   | and the other factors governing the issuance of an injunction weighed in their favor, the court enjoined all defendants from allowing any challengers other than election judges and other electors into the polling places throughout the state on Election Day. |                              |             |                                       |
| Charfauros v. Bd. of Elections | United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 2001 U.S. App. LEXIS 15083 | May 10, 2001 | Defendants, board of elections and related individuals, appealed from an order of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of the Northern | Plaintiffs, disqualified voters, claimed that individual members of the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands Board of Elections violated § 1983 by  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010019

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Mariana Islands reversing a lower court's grant of summary judgment in favor of defendants on the ground of qualified immunity. | administering pre-election day voter challenge procedures which precluded a certain class of voters, including plaintiffs, from voting in a 1995 election. The CNMI Supreme Court reversed a lower court's grant of summary judgment and defendants appealed. The court of appeals held that the Board's pre-election day procedures violated the plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote. The federal court |                              |             |                                       |

010020

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | reasoned that the right to vote was clearly established at the time of the election, and that a reasonable Board would have known that that treating voters differently based on their political party would violate the Equal Protection Clause. Further the court added that the allegations of the complaint were sufficient to support liability of the Board members in their individual capacities. Finally, the composition of the CNMI Supreme Court's Special Judge |                              |             |                                       |

010021

| Name of Case  | Court   | Citation                                  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|               |   |   |                  |  | panel did not violate the Board's right to due process of law. The decision of Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands Supreme Court was affirmed where defendants' pre--election day voter challenge procedures violated plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote. |                              |             |                                       |
| Wit v. Berman | United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 306 F.3d 1256; 2002 U.S. App. LEXIS 21301 | October 11, 2002 | Appellant voters who established residences in two separate cities sued appellees, state and city election officials, alleging that provisions of the New York State | Under state election laws, the voters could only vote in districts in which they resided, and residence was limited to one place. The voters contended that,   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010022

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Election Law unconstitutionally prevented the voters from voting in local elections in both cities where they resided. The voters appealed the order of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York which granted appellees' motion to dismiss the complaint. | since they had two lawful residences, they were denied constitutional equal protection by the statutory restriction against voting in the local elections of both of the places of their residences. The appellate court held, however, that no constitutional violation was shown since the provisions of the New York State Election Law imposed only reasonable, nondiscriminatory restrictions which advanced important state regulatory |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | interests. While the voters may have interests in electoral outcomes in both cities, any rule permitting voting based on such interests would be unmanageable and subject to potential abuse. Further, basing voter eligibility on domicile, which was always over-- or under-- inclusive, nonetheless had enormous practical advantages, and the voters offered no workable standard to replace the domicile test. Finally, allowing the voters to |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |                  |  | choose which of their residences was their domicile for voting purposes could not be deemed discriminatory. Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Curtis v. Smith | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas | 121 F. Supp. 2d 1054; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17987 | November 3, 2000 | Plaintiffs sought a preliminary injunction to prohibit defendant tax assessor-collector from mailing confirmation letters to approximately 9,000 persons who were registered voters in Polk County, Texas. | Plaintiffs sought to prohibit defendant from mailing confirmation letters to approximately 9,000 persons, self-styled "escapees" who traveled a major portion of each year in recreational vehicles, all of whom were registered to vote in Polk County, Texas. In accordance with | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010025

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Texas law, three resident voters filed affidavits challenging the escapees' residency. These affidavits triggered defendant's action in sending confirmation notices to the escapees. The court determined, first, that because of the potential for discrimination, defendant's action required preclearance in accordance with § 5 of the Voting Rights Act and, second, that such preclearance had not been sought or obtained. Accordingly, the |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court issued a preliminary injunction prohibiting defendant from pursuing the confirmation of residency of the escapees, or any similarly situated group, under the Texas Election Code until the process had been submitted for preclearance in accordance with § 5. The action was taken to ensure that no discriminatory potential existed in the use of such process in the upcoming presidential election or future |                              |             |                                       |

010027

| Name of Case                     | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------------|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                  |   |   |                  |   | election. Motion for preliminary injunction was granted, and defendant was enjoined from pursuing confirmation of residency of the 9,000 "escapees," or any similarly situated group, under the Texas Election Code, until the process had been submitted for preclearance under § 5 of the Voting Rights Act. |                              |             |                                       |
| Peace & Freedom Party v. Shelley | Court of Appeal of California, Third Appellate District | 114 Cal. App. 4th 1237; 8 Cal. Rptr. 3d 497; 2004 Cal. App. | January 15, 2004 | Plaintiff political party appealed a judgment from the superior court which denied the party's petition for writ of | The trial court ruled that inactive voters were excluded from the primary election. The court of appeals affirmed,   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | LEXIS 42 |      | mandate to compel defendant, the California Secretary of State, to include voters listed in the inactive file of registered voters in calculating whether the party qualified to participate in a primary election. | observing that although the election had already taken place, the issue was likely to recur and was a matter of continuing public interest and importance; hence, a decision on the merits was proper, although the case was technically moot. The law clearly excluded inactive voters from the calculation. The statutory scheme did not violate the inactive voters' constitutional right of association because it was reasonably designed to ensure |                              |             |                                       |

010029

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | that all parties on the ballot had a significant modicum of support from eligible voters. Information in the inactive file was unreliable and often duplicative of information in the active file. Moreover, there was no violation of the National Voter Registration Act because voters listed as inactive were not prevented from voting. Although the Act prohibited removal of voters from the official voting list absent certain conditions, inactive voters in |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |  |                  |   | California could correct the record and vote as provided the Act. The court affirmed the denial of a writ of mandate.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 235 F. Supp. 2d 772; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21753 | October 22, 2002 | Plaintiff voters sued defendants, a county board of elections, a state secretary of state, and the state's attorney general, for violations of the Motor Voter Act and equal protection of the laws. Defendants moved for summary judgment. The voters also moved for summary judgment. | The board heard challenges to the voters' qualifications to vote in the county, based on the fact that the voters were transient (seasonal) rather than permanent residents of the county. The voters claimed that the board hearings did not afford them the requisite degree of due process and contravened their rights of privacy | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | by inquiring into personal matters. As to the MVA claim, the court held that residency within the precinct was a crucial qualification. One simply could not be an elector, much less a qualified elector entitled to vote, unless one resided in the precinct where he or she sought to vote. If one never lived within the precinct, one was not and could not be an eligible voter, even if listed on the board's rolls as such. The MVA did not affect the |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | state's ability to condition eligibility to vote on residence. Nor did it undertake to regulate challenges, such as the ones presented, to a registered voter's residency ab initio. The ability of the challengers to assert that the voters were not eligible and had not ever been eligible, and of the board to consider and resolve that challenge, did not contravene the MVA. Defendants' motions for summary judgment were granted as to all |                              |             |                                       |

010033

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | claims with prejudice, except the voters' state-law claim, which was dismissed for want of jurisdiction, without prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |

010034

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation                                 | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. Found., Inc. v. Cox | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 408 F.3d 1349; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 8320 | May 12, 2005 | Plaintiffs, a charitable foundation, four volunteers, and a registered voter, filed a suit against defendant state officials alleging violations of the National Voter Registration Act and the Voting Rights Act. The officials appealed after the United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia issued a preliminary injunction enjoining them from rejecting voter registrations submitted by the | The foundation conducted a voter registration drive; it placed the completed applications in a single envelope and mailed them to the Georgia Secretary of State for processing. Included in the batch was the voter's change of address form. Plaintiffs filed the suit after they were notified that the applications had been rejected pursuant to Georgia law, which allegedly restricted who could collect voter registration | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts       | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | foundation. | forms. Plaintiffs contended that the officials had violated the NVRA, the VRA, and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, XV. The officials argued that plaintiffs lacked standing and that the district court had erred in issuing the preliminary injunction. The court found no error. Plaintiffs had sufficiently alleged injuries under the NVRA, arising out of the rejection of the voter registration forms; the allegations in the |                              |             |                                       |

010036

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date      | Facts     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|-----------|-----------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |           |           | complaint sufficiently showed an injury--in--fact that was fairly traceable to the officials' conduct. The injunction was properly issued. There was a substantial likelihood that plaintiffs would prevail as to their claims; it served the public interest to protect plaintiffs' franchise--related rights. The court affirmed the preliminary injunction order entered by the district court. |                              |             |                                       |
| McKay v.     | United | 226 F.3d | September | Plaintiff | The trial court   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010037

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation                        | Date     | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---------------------------------|----------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Thompson     | States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 752; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 23387 | 18, 2000 | challenged order of United States District Court for Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga, which granted defendant state election officials summary judgment on plaintiff's action seeking to stop the state practice of requiring its citizens to disclose their social security numbers as a precondition to voter registration. | had granted defendant state election officials summary judgment. The court declined to overrule defendants' administrative determination that state law required plaintiff to disclose his social security number because the interpretation appeared to be reasonable, did not conflict with previous case law, and could be challenged in state court. The requirement did not violate the Privacy Act of 1974, because it |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was grand fathered under the terms of the Act. The limitations in the National Voter Registration Act did not apply because the NVRA did not specifically prohibit the use of social security numbers and the Act contained a more specific provision regarding such use. The trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and |                              |             |                                       |

010039

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date    | Facts               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|---------|---------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |         |                     | immunities, and due process claims. Order affirmed because requirement that voters disclose social security numbers as precondition to voter registration did not violate Privacy Act of 1974 or National Voter Registration Act and trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l        | United | 150 F.   | July 5, | Plaintiff, national | Defendants  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010040

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation                                 | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|--|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Coalition for Students with Disabilities Educ. & Legal Def. Fund v. Scales | States District Court for the Southern District of Maryland | Supp. 2d 845; 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9528 | 2001 | organization for disabled students, brought an action against university president and university's director of office of disability support services to challenge the voter registration procedures established by the disability support services. Defendants moved to dismiss the first amended complaint, or in the alternative for summary judgment. | alleged that plaintiff lacked standing to represent its members, and that plaintiff had not satisfied the notice requirements of the National Voter Registration Act. Further, defendants maintained the facts, as alleged by plaintiff, did not give rise to a past, present, or future violation of the NVRA because (1) the plaintiff's members that requested voter registration services were not |                              |             |                                       |

010041

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registered students at the university and (2) its current voter registration procedures complied with NVRA. As to plaintiff's § 1983 claim, the court held that while plaintiff had alleged sufficient facts to confer standing under the NVRA, such allegations were not sufficient to support standing on its own behalf on the § 1983 claim. As to the NVRA claim, the court found that the agency practice of only offering voter |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registration services at the initial intake interview and placing the burden on disabled students to obtain voter registration forms and assistance afterwards did not satisfy its statutory duties. Furthermore, most of the NVRA provisions applied to disabled applicants not registered at the university. Defendants' motion to dismiss first amended |                              |             |                                       |

010043

| Name of Case                               | Court  | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|--|----------------------------|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |  |                            |                   |   | complaint was granted as to the § 1983 claim and denied as to plaintiff's claims brought under the National Voter Registration Act of 1993. Defendants' alternative motion for summary judgment was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Cunningham v. Chi. Bd. of Election Comm'rs | United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois | 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2528 | February 24, 2003 | Plaintiffs, who alleged that they were duly registered voters, six of whom had signed nominating petitions for one candidate and two of whom signed | Plaintiffs argued that objections to their signatures were improperly sustained by defendants, the city board of election commissioners. Plaintiff's argued that they were                                  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

570010

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | nominating petitions for another candidate. They first asked for a preliminary injunction of the municipal election scheduled for the following Tuesday and suggested, alternatively, that the election for City Clerk and for 4th Ward Alderman be enjoined. | registered voters whose names appeared in an inactive file and whose signatures were therefore, and improperly, excluded. The court ruled that by characterizing the claim as plaintiffs did, they sought to enjoin an election because their signatures were not counted, even though their preferred candidates were otherwise precluded from appearing on the ballot. Without regard to their likelihood of |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | obtaining any relief, plaintiffs failed to demonstrate that they would be irreparably harmed if an injunction did not issue; the threatened injury to defendants, responsible as they were for the conduct of the municipal election, far outweighed any threatened injury to plaintiffs; and the granting of a preliminary injunction would greatly disserve the public interest. Plaintiffs' petition for |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |   |   |                  |  | preliminary relief was denied.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Diaz v. Hood | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1111; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21445 | October 26, 2004 | Plaintiffs, unions and individuals who had attempted to register to vote, sought a declaration of their rights to vote in the November 2, 2004 general election. They alleged that defendants, state and county election officials, refused to process their voter registrations for various failures to complete the registration forms. The election officials | The putative voters sought injunctive relief requiring the election officials to register them to vote. The court first noted that the unions lacked even representative standing, because they failed to show that one of their members could have brought the case in their own behalf. The individual putative voters raised separate issues: the first had failed to verify her mental | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010047

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | moved to dismiss the complaint for lack of standing and failure to state a claim. | capacity, the second failed to check a box indicating that he was not a felon, and the third did not provide the last four digits of her social security number on the form. They claimed the election officials violated federal and state law by refusing to register eligible voters because of nonmaterial errors or omissions in their voter registration applications, and by failing to provide any notice to voter |                              |             |                                       |

870010

670049

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | applicants whose registration applications were deemed incomplete. In the first two cases, the election official had handled the errant application properly under Florida law, and the putative voter had effectively caused their own injury by failing to complete the registration. The third completed her form and was registered, so had suffered no injury. Standing failed against the secretary of state. Motion to dismiss without |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |  |                  |   | prejudice granted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 235 F. Supp. 2d 772; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21753 | October 22, 2002 | Plaintiff voters sued defendants, a county board of elections, a state secretary of state, and the state's attorney general, for violations of the Motor Voter Act and equal protection of the laws. Defendants moved for summary judgment. The voters also moved for summary judgment. | The board heard challenges to the voters' qualifications to vote in the county, based on the fact that the voters were transient (seasonal) rather than permanent residents of the county. The voters claimed that the board hearings did not afford them the requisite degree of due process and contravened their rights of privacy by inquiring into personal matters. As to the MVA | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010050

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | claim, the court held that residency within the precinct was a crucial qualification. One simply could not be an elector, much less a qualified elector entitled to vote, unless one resided in the precinct where he or she sought to vote. If one never lived within the precinct, one was not and could not be an eligible voter, even if listed on the board's rolls as such. The MVA did not affect the state's ability to |                              |             |                                       |

010051

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | condition eligibility to vote on residence. Nor did it undertake to regulate challenges, such as the ones presented, to a registered voter's residency ab initio. The ability of the challengers to assert that the voters were not eligible and had not ever been eligible, and of the board to consider and resolve that challenge, did not contravene the MVA. Defendants' motions for |                              |             |                                       |

010052

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |                |   | summary judgment were granted as to all claims with prejudice, except the voters' state-law claim, which was dismissed for want of jurisdiction, without prejudice.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 367 F.3d 588; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8330 | April 28, 2004 | Plaintiffs, registered voters, sued defendants, Ohio Board of Elections and Board members, alleging that Ohio Rev. Code Ann. §§ 3509.19-3509.21 violated the National Voter Registration Act, and the Equal Protection Clause | The voters contested the challenges to their registration brought under Ohio Code Rev. Ann. § 3505.19 based on Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3503.02. Specifically, the voters asserted that § 3503.02---which stated that the place | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010053

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio granted summary judgment in favor of defendants. The voters appealed. | where the family of a married man or woman resided was considered to be his or her place of residence---- violated the equal protection clause. The court of appeals found that the Board's procedures did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act because Congress did not intend to bar the removal of names from the official list of persons who were ineligible and improperly registered to vote |                              |             |                                       |

010054

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | in the first place. The National Voter Registration Act did not bar the Board's continuing consideration of a voter's residence, and encouraged the Board to maintain accurate and reliable voting rolls. Ohio was free to take reasonable steps to see that all applicants for registration to vote actually fulfilled the requirement of bona fide residence. Ohio Rev. Code Ann. |                              |             |                                       |

010055

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | § 3503.02(D) did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act. Because the Board did not raise an irrebuttable presumption in applying § 3502.02(D), the voters suffered no equal protection violation. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

010056

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation                                 | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. Found., Inc. v. Cox | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 408 F.3d 1349; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 8320 | May 12, 2005 | Plaintiffs, a charitable foundation, four volunteers, and a registered voter, filed a suit against defendant state officials alleging violations of the National Voter Registration Act and the Voting Rights Act. The officials appealed after the United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia issued a preliminary injunction enjoining them from rejecting voter registrations submitted by the | The foundation conducted a voter registration drive; it placed the completed applications in a single envelope and mailed them to the Georgia Secretary of State for processing. Included in the batch was the voter's change of address form. Plaintiffs filed the suit after they were notified that the applications had been rejected pursuant to Georgia law, which allegedly restricted who could collect voter registration | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010057

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts       | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | foundation. | forms. Plaintiffs contended that the officials had violated the NVRA, the VRA, and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, XV. The officials argued that plaintiffs lacked standing and that the district court had erred in issuing the preliminary injunction. The court found no error. Plaintiffs had sufficiently alleged injuries under the NVRA, arising out of the rejection of the voter registration forms; the allegations in the |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date      | Facts     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|-----------|-----------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |           |           | complaint sufficiently showed an injury--in--fact that was fairly traceable to the officials' conduct. The injunction was properly issued. There was a substantial likelihood that plaintiffs would prevail as to their claims; it served the public interest to protect plaintiffs' franchise--related rights. The court affirmed the preliminary injunction order entered by the district court. |                              |             |                                       |
| McKay v.     | United | 226 F.3d | September | Plaintiff | The trial court   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010059

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation                        | Date     | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---------------------------------|----------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Thompson     | States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 752; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 23387 | 18, 2000 | challenged order of United States District Court for Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga, which granted defendant state election officials summary judgment on plaintiff's action seeking to stop the state practice of requiring its citizens to disclose their social security numbers as a precondition to voter registration. | had granted defendant state election officials summary judgment. The court declined to overrule defendants' administrative determination that state law required plaintiff to disclose his social security number because the interpretation appeared to be reasonable, did not conflict with previous case law, and could be challenged in state court. The requirement did not violate the Privacy Act of 1974, because it |                              |             |                                       |

010060

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was grand fathered under the terms of the Act. The limitations in the National Voter Registration Act did not apply because the NVRA did not specifically prohibit the use of social security numbers and the Act contained a more specific provision regarding such use. The trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and |                              |             |                                       |

010061

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date    | Facts               | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|---------|---------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |         |                     | immunities, and due process claims. Order affirmed because requirement that voters disclose social security numbers as precondition to voter registration did not violate Privacy Act of 1974 or National Voter Registration Act and trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l        | United | 150 F.   | July 5, | Plaintiff, national | Defendants   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010062

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation                                 | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|--|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Coalition for Students with Disabilities Educ. & Legal Def. Fund v. Scales | States District Court for the Southern District of Maryland | Supp. 2d 845; 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9528 | 2001 | organization for disabled students, brought an action against university president and university's director of office of disability support services to challenge the voter registration procedures established by the disability support services. Defendants moved to dismiss the first amended complaint, or in the alternative for summary judgment. | alleged that plaintiff lacked standing to represent its members, and that plaintiff had not satisfied the notice requirements of the National Voter Registration Act. Further, defendants maintained the facts, as alleged by plaintiff, did not give rise to a past, present, or future violation of the NVRA because (1) the plaintiffs members that requested voter registration services were not |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registered students at the university and (2) its current voter registration procedures complied with NVRA. As to plaintiff's § 1983 claim, the court held that while plaintiff had alleged sufficient facts to confer standing under the NVRA, such allegations were not sufficient to support standing on its own behalf on the § 1983 claim. As to the NVRA claim, the court found that the agency practice of only offering voter |                              |             |                                       |

010064

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registration services at the initial intake interview and placing the burden on disabled students to obtain voter registration forms and assistance afterwards did not satisfy its statutory duties. Furthermore, most of the NVRA provisions applied to disabled applicants not registered at the university. Defendants' motion to dismiss first amended |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                               | Court  | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|--|----------------------------|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |  |                            |                   |   | complaint was granted as to the § 1983 claim and denied as to plaintiff's claims brought under the National Voter Registration Act of 1993. Defendants' alternative motion for summary judgment was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Cunningham v. Chi. Bd. of Election Comm'rs | United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois | 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2528 | February 24, 2003 | Plaintiffs, who alleged that they were duly registered voters, six of whom had signed nominating petitions for one candidate and two of whom signed | Plaintiffs argued that objections to their signatures were improperly sustained by defendants, the city board of election commissioners. Plaintiff's argued that they were                                  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010066

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | nominating petitions for another candidate. They first asked for a preliminary injunction of the municipal election scheduled for the following Tuesday and suggested, alternatively, that the election for City Clerk and for 4th Ward Alderman be enjoined. | registered voters whose names appeared in an inactive file and whose signatures were therefore, and improperly, excluded. The court ruled that by characterizing the claim as plaintiffs did, they sought to enjoin an election because their signatures were not counted, even though their preferred candidates were otherwise precluded from appearing on the ballot. Without regard to their likelihood of |                              |             |                                       |

010067

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | obtaining any relief, plaintiffs failed to demonstrate that they would be irreparably harmed if an injunction did not issue; the threatened injury to defendants, responsible as they were for the conduct of the municipal election, far outweighed any threatened injury to plaintiffs; and the granting of a preliminary injunction would greatly disserve the public interest. Plaintiffs' petition for |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |   |   |                  |  | preliminary relief was denied.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Diaz v. Hood | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1111; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21445 | October 26, 2004 | Plaintiffs, unions and individuals who had attempted to register to vote, sought a declaration of their rights to vote in the November 2, 2004 general election. They alleged that defendants, state and county election officials, refused to process their voter registrations for various failures to complete the registration forms. The election officials | The putative voters sought injunctive relief requiring the election officials to register them to vote. The court first noted that the unions lacked even representative standing, because they failed to show that one of their members could have brought the case in their own behalf. The individual putative voters raised separate issues: the first had failed to verify her mental | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010069

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | moved to dismiss the complaint for lack of standing and failure to state a claim. | capacity, the second failed to check a box indicating that he was not a felon, and the third did not provide the last four digits of her social security number on the form. They claimed the election officials violated federal and state law by refusing to register eligible voters because of nonmaterial errors or omissions in their voter registration applications, and by failing to provide any notice to voter |                              |             |                                       |

010070

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | applicants whose registration applications were deemed incomplete. In the first two cases, the election official had handled the errant application properly under Florida law, and the putative voter had effectively caused their own injury by failing to complete the registration. The third completed her form and was registered, so had suffered no injury. Standing failed against the secretary of state. Motion to dismiss without |                              |             |                                       |

010071

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |  |                  |   | prejudice granted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 235 F. Supp. 2d 772; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21753 | October 22, 2002 | Plaintiff voters sued defendants, a county board of elections, a state secretary of state, and the state's attorney general, for violations of the Motor Voter Act and equal protection of the laws. Defendants moved for summary judgment. The voters also moved for summary judgment. | The board heard challenges to the voters' qualifications to vote in the county, based on the fact that the voters were transient (seasonal) rather than permanent residents of the county. The voters claimed that the board hearings did not afford them the requisite degree of due process and contravened their rights of privacy by inquiring into personal matters. As to the MVA | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010072

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | claim, the court held that residency within the precinct was a crucial qualification. One simply could not be an elector, much less a qualified elector entitled to vote, unless one resided in the precinct where he or she sought to vote. If one never lived within the precinct, one was not and could not be an eligible voter, even if listed on the board's rolls as such. The MVA did not affect the state's ability to |                              |             |                                       |

010073

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | condition eligibility to vote on residence. Nor did it undertake to regulate challenges, such as the ones presented, to a registered voter's residency ab initio. The ability of the challengers to assert that the voters were not eligible and had not ever been eligible, and of the board to consider and resolve that challenge, did not contravene the MVA. Defendants' motions for |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |                |   | summary judgment were granted as to all claims with prejudice, except the voters' state--law claim, which was dismissed for want of jurisdiction, without prejudice.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 367 F.3d 588; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8330 | April 28, 2004 | Plaintiffs, registered voters, sued defendants, Ohio Board of Elections and Board members, alleging that Ohio Rev. Code Ann. §§ 3509.19-3509.21 violated the National Voter Registration Act, and the Equal Protection Clause | The voters contested the challenges to their registration brought under Ohio Code Rev. Ann. § 3505.19 based on Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3503.02. Specifically, the voters asserted that § 3503.02---which stated that the place | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010075

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio granted summary judgment in favor of defendants. The voters appealed. | where the family of a married man or woman resided was considered to be his or her place of residence---- violated the equal protection clause. The court of appeals found that the Board's procedures did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act because Congress did not intend to bar the removal of names from the official list of persons who were ineligible and improperly registered to vote |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | in the first place. The National Voter Registration Act did not bar the Board's continuing consideration of a voter's residence, and encouraged the Board to maintain accurate and reliable voting rolls. Ohio was free to take reasonable steps to see that all applicants for registration to vote actually fulfilled the requirement of bona fide residence. Ohio Rev. Code Ann. |                              |             |                                       |

010077

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | § 3503.02(D) did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act. Because the Board did not raise an irrebuttable presumption in applying § 3502.02(D), the voters suffered no equal protection violation. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

010078

| Name of Case         | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Hileman v. McGinness | Court of Appeals of Illinois, Fifth District | 316 Ill. App. 3d 868; 739 N.E.2d 81; 2000 Ill. App. LEXIS 845 | October 25, 2000 | Appellant challenged the circuit court declaration that that the result of a primary election for county circuit clerk was void. | In a primary election for county circuit clerk, the parties agreed that 681 absentee ballots were presumed invalid. The ballots had been commingled with the valid ballots. There were no markings or indications on the ballots which would have allowed them to be segregated from other ballots cast. Because the ballots could not have been segregated, apportionment was the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | appropriate remedy if no fraud was involved. If fraud was involved, the election would have had to have been voided and a new election held. Because the trial court did not hold an evidentiary hearing on the fraud allegations, and did not determine whether fraud was in issue, the case was remanded for a determination as to whether fraud was evident in |                              |             |                                       |

010080

| Name of Case             | Court                     | Citation   | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------|---------------------------|--|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                          |                           |  |              |  | the electoral process. The court reversed the declaration of the trial court, holding that a determination as to whether fraud was involved in the election was necessary to a determination of whether or not a new election was required. |                              |             |                                       |
| DeFabio v. Gummersheimer | Supreme Court of Illinois | 192 Ill. 2d 63; 733 N.E.2d 1241; 2000 Ill. LEXIS 993 | July 6, 2000 | Appellant challenged the judgment of the appellate court, which affirmed the trial court's decision granting appellee's summary judgment motion in action brought by | Appellee filed a petition for election contest, alleging that the official results of the Monroe County coroners election were invalid because none of the 524 ballots cast in  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | appellee to contest the results of the election for the position of county coroner in Monroe County. | Monroe County's second precinct were initialed by an election judge, in violation of Illinois law. The trial court granted appellee's motion for summary judgment, and the appellate court affirmed the judgment. The Illinois supreme court affirmed, noting that statutes requiring election judges to initial election ballots were mandatory, and uninitialed |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballots could not have been counted, even where the parties agreed that there was no knowledge of fraud or corruption. Thus, the supreme court held that the trial court properly invalidated all of the ballots cast in Monroe County's second precinct. The court reasoned that none of the ballots contained the requisite initialing, and neither party argued that any |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | of the uninitialed ballots could have been distinguished or identified as absentee ballots. The supreme court affirmed the judgment because the Illinois statute requiring election judges to initial election ballots was mandatory, and uninitialed ballots could not have been counted, even where the parties agreed that there was no knowledge of fraud or corruption. |                              |             |                                       |

010084

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |               |   | Additionally, none of the ballots in Monroe County's second precinct contained the requisite initialing.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Gilmore v. Amityville Union Free Sch. Dist. | United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York | 305 F. Supp. 2d 271; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3116 | March 2, 2004 | Plaintiffs, two school board candidates, filed a class action complaint against defendants, a school district, the board president, and other district agents or employees, challenging a school board election. Defendants moved to dismiss. | During the election, a voting machine malfunctioned, resulting in votes being cast on lines that were blank on the ballot. The board president devised a plan for counting the machine votes by moving each tally up one line. The two candidates, who were African | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | American, alleged that the president's plan eliminated any possibility that an African American would be elected. The court found that the candidates failed to state a claim under § 1983 because they could not show that defendants' actions were done or approved by a person with final policymaking authority, nor was there a showing of intentional or |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | purposeful discrimination on defendants' part. The vote-counting method applied equally to all candidates. The candidates' claims under § 2000a and 2000c--8 failed because schools were not places of public accommodation, as required under § 2000a, and § 2000c--8 applied to school segregation. Their claim under § 1971 of deprivation of voting rights failed because § |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                      | Court                 | Citation                       | Date               | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------|--------------------------------|--------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |                       |                                |                    |  | 1971 did not provide for a private right of action. The court declined to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over various state law claims. Defendants' motion to dismiss was granted with respect to the candidates' federal claims; the state law claims were dismissed without prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| State ex rel. Mackey v. Blackwell | Supreme Court of Ohio | 106 Ohio St. 3d 261; 2005 Ohio | September 28, 2005 | Appellants, a political group and county electors who voted by provisional ballot, | The Secretary of State issued a directive to all Ohio county boards of   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation  | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|---|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | 4789;834N.E.2d346;2005OhioLEXIS2074 |      | sought review of a judgment from the court of appeals, which dismissed appellants' complaint, seeking a writ of mandamus to prevent appellees, the Ohio Secretary of State, a county board of elections, and the board's director, from disenfranchisement of provisional ballot voters. | elections, which specified that a signed affirmation statement was necessary for the counting of a provisional ballot in a presidential election. During the election, over 24,400 provisional ballots were cast in one county. The electors' provisional ballots were not counted. They, together with a political activist group, brought the mandamus action to compel appellants to prohibit the |                              |             |                                       |

010089

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | invalidation of provisional ballots and to notify voters of reasons for ballot rejections. Assorted constitutional and statutory law was relied on in support of the complaint. The court dismissed the complaint, finding that no clear legal right was established under Ohio law and the federal claims could be adequately raised in an action under § 1983. On appeal, the Ohio supreme court |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case           | Court                            | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|----------------------------------|----------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |                                  |                            |                   |   | held that dismissal was proper, as the complaint actually sought declaratory and injunctive relief, rather than mandamus relief. Further, election--contest actions were the exclusive remedy to challenge election results. An adequate remedy existed under § 1983 to raise the federal--law claims. Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Touchston v. McDermott | United States District Court for | 120 F. Supp. 2d 1055; 2000 | November 14, 2000 | In action in which plaintiffs, registered voters in Brevard County, | In their complaint, plaintiffs challenged the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010091

| Name of Case | Court                          | Citation               | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------------------------------|------------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | the Middle District of Florida | U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20091 |      | Florida, filed suit against defendants, members of several County Canvassing Boards and the Secretary of the Florida Department of State, challenging the constitutionality of Fla. Stat. Ann. § 102.166(4) (2000), before the court was plaintiffs' emergency motion for temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunction. | constitutionality of § 102.166(4), asserting that the statute violated their rights under the Equal Protection and Due Process Clauses of U.S. Const. amend. XIV. Based on these claims, plaintiffs sought an order from the court stopping the manual recount of votes. The court found that plaintiffs had failed to set forth a valid basis for intervention by federal courts. They had not |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | alleged that the Florida law was discriminatory, that citizens were being deprived of the right to vote, or that there had been fraudulent interference with the vote. Moreover, plaintiffs had not established a likelihood of success on the merits of their claims. Plaintiffs' motion for temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunction denied; plaintiffs had |                              |             |                                       |

010093

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation  | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|---|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |   |                   |   | not alleged that the Florida law was discriminatory, that citizens were being deprived of the right to vote, or that there had been fraudulent interference with the vote.                                    |                              |             |                                       |
| Siegel v. LePore | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 120 F. Supp. 2d 1041; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16333 | November 13, 2000 | Plaintiffs, individual Florida voters and Republican Party presidential and vice-presidential candidates, moved for a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction to enjoin defendants, canvassing board members from four Florida | The court addressed who should consider plaintiffs' serious arguments that manual recounts would diminish the accuracy of vote counts due to ballot degradation and the exercise of discretion in determining | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | counties, from proceeding with manual recounts of election ballots. | voter intent. The court ruled that intervention by a federal district court, particularly on a preliminary basis, was inappropriate. A federal court should not interfere except where there was an immediate need to correct a constitutional violation. Plaintiffs neither demonstrated a clear deprivation of a constitutional injury or a fundamental unfairness in Florida's manual |                              |             |                                       |

010096

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | recount provision. The recount provision was reasonable and non--discriminatory on its face and resided within the state's broad control over presidential election procedures. Plaintiffs failed to show that manual recounts were so unreliable as to constitute a constitutional injury, that plaintiffs' alleged injuries were irreparable, or that they lacked |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case   | Court                    | Citation                             | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--------------------------|--------------------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                          |                                      |                   |   | an adequate state court remedy. Injunctive relief denied because plaintiffs demonstrated neither clear deprivation of constitutional injury or fundamental unfairness in Florida's manual recount provision to justify federal court interference in state election procedures. |                              |             |                                       |
| Gore v. Harris | Supreme Court of Florida | 773 So. 2d 524; 2000 Fla. LEXIS 2474 | December 22, 2000 | In a contest to results of the 2000 presidential election in Florida, the United States Supreme Court | The state supreme court had ordered the trial court to conduct a manual recount  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010097

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | reversed and remanded a Florida Supreme Court decision that had ordered a manual recount of certain ballots. | of 9000 contested Miami--Dade County ballots, and also held that uncounted "undervotes" in all Florida counties were to be manually counted. The trial court was ordered to use the standard that a vote was "legal" if there was a clear indication of the intent of the voter. The United States Supreme Court released an opinion on December 12, 2000, which held that such a |                              |             |                                       |

010098

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | standard violated equal protection rights because it lacked specific standards to ensure equal application, and also mandated that any manual recount would have to have been completed by December 12, 2000. On remand, the state supreme court found that it was impossible under that time frame to adopt adequate standards and make necessary evaluations of vote tabulation |                              |             |                                       |

010099

| Name of Case                                     | Court                                   | Citation                       | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|--------------------------------|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |                                |                   |   | equipment. Also, development of a specific, uniform standard for manual recounts was best left to the legislature. Because adequate standards for a manual recount could not be developed by the deadline set by the United States Supreme Court, appellants were afforded no relief. |                              |             |                                       |
| Goodwin v. St. Thomas--St. John Bd. of Elections | Territorial Court of the Virgin Islands | 43 V.I. 89; 2000 V.I. LEXIS 15 | December 13, 2000 | Plaintiff political candidate alleged that certain general election absentee ballots violated | Plaintiff alleged that defendants counted unlawful absentee ballots   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010100

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | territorial election law, and that the improper inclusion of such ballots by defendants, election board and supervisor, resulted in plaintiff's loss of the election. Plaintiff sued defendants seeking invalidation of the absentee ballots and certification of the election results tabulated without such ballots. | that lacked postmarks, were not signed or notarized, were in unsealed and/or torn envelopes, and were in envelopes containing more than one ballot. Prior to tabulation of the absentee ballots, plaintiff was leading intervenor for the final senate position, but the absentee ballots entitled intervenor to the position. The court held that plaintiff was not entitled to relief since he failed |                              |             |                                       |

010101

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | to establish that the alleged absentee voting irregularities would require invalidation of a sufficient number of ballots to change the outcome of the election. While the unsealed ballots constituted a technical violation, the outer envelopes were sealed and thus substantially complied with election requirements. Further, while defendants improperly |                              |             |                                       |

010102

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | counted one ballot where a sealed ballot envelope and a loose ballot were in the same outer envelope, the one vote involved did not change the election result. Plaintiff's other allegations of irregularities were without merit since ballots without postmarks were valid, ballots without signatures were not counted, and ballots without notarized signatures were proper. |                              |             |                                       |

010103

| Name of Case          | Court                                  | Citation                          | Date            | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------|--|-----------------------------------|-----------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                       |  |                                   |                 |  | Plaintiffs request for declaratory and injunctive relief was denied. Invalidation of absentee ballots was not required since the irregularities asserted by plaintiff involved ballots which were in fact valid, were not tabulated by defendants, or were insufficient to change the outcome of the election. |                              |             |                                       |
| Shannon v. Jacobowitz | United States Court of Appeals for the | 394 F.3d 90; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS | January 7, 2005 | Plaintiffs, voters and an incumbent candidate, sued defendants, a challenger | Local election inspectors noticed a problem with a voting machine.  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010104

| Name of Case | Court          | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Second Circuit | 259      |      | candidate, a county board of election, and commissioners, pursuant to § 1983 alleging violation of the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of New York granted summary judgment in favor of plaintiffs. Defendants appealed. | Plaintiffs asserted that their votes were not counted due to the machine malfunction. Rather than pursue the state remedy of quo warranto, by requesting that New York's Attorney General investigate the machine malfunction and challenge the election results in state court, plaintiffs filed their complaint in federal court. The court of appeals found that United States Supreme |                              |             |                                       |

010105

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Court jurisprudence required intentional conduct by state actors as a prerequisite for a due process violation. Neither side alleged that local officials acted intentionally or in a discriminatory manner with regard to the vote miscount. Both sides conceded that the recorded results were likely due to an unforeseen malfunction with the voting |                              |             |                                       |

010106

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | machine. Because no conduct was alleged that would indicate an intentional deprivation of the right to vote, there was no cognizable federal due process claim. The proper remedy was to assert a quo warranto action to challenge the outcome of a general election based on an alleged voting machine malfunction. The district court's grant of summary judgment was |                              |             |                                       |

010107

| Name of Case   | Court                       | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-----------------------------|--|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                             |  |                  |  | reversed and its injunctions were vacated. The case was remanded for further proceedings consistent with this opinion.   |                              |             |                                       |
| GEORGE W. BUSH v. PALM BEACH COUNTY CANVASSING BOARD, ET AL. | United States Supreme Court | 531 U.S. 70; 121 S. Ct. 471; 148 L. Ed. 2d 366; 2000 U.S. LEXIS 8087 | December 4, 2000 | Appellant Republican presidential candidate's petition for writ of certiorari to the Florida supreme court was granted in a case involving interpretations of Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 102.111, 102.112, in proceedings brought by appellees Democratic presidential candidate, county | The Supreme Court vacated the state court's judgment, finding that the state court opinion could be read to indicate that it construed the Florida Election Code without regard to the extent to which the Florida Constitution could, consistent with | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | canvassing boards, and Florida Democratic Party regarding authority of the boards and respondent Florida Secretary of State as to manual recounts of ballots and deadlines. | U.S. Const. art. II, § 1, cl. 2, circumscribe the legislative power. The judgment of the Florida Supreme Court was vacated and remanded for further proceedings. The court stated the judgment was unclear as to the extent to which the state court saw the Florida constitution as circumscribing the legislature's authority under Article II of the United States Constitution, and as to the |                              |             |                                       |

010109

| Name of Case           | Court   | Citation                                  | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|---|---|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |   |   |                   |   | consideration given the federal statute regarding state electors.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Touchston v. McDermott | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 234 F.3d 1130; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 29366 | November 17, 2000 | Plaintiff voters appealed from judgment of the United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida, which denied their emergency motion for an injunction pending appeal against defendant county election officials. Plaintiffs sought to enjoin defendants from conducting manual ballot recounts or to enjoin defendants from certifying results of the presidential | Plaintiff voters sought an emergency injunction pending appeal to enjoin defendant county election officials from conducting manual ballot recounts or to enjoin defendants from certifying the results of the Presidential election which contained any manual recounts. The district court | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010110

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | election that contained any manual recounts. | denied the emergency injunction and plaintiffs appealed. Upon review, the emergency motion for injunction pending appeal was denied without prejudice. Florida had adequate election dispute procedures, which had been invoked and were being implemented in the forms of administrative actions by state officials and actions in state court. |                              |             |                                       |

010111

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Therefore, the state procedures were adequate to preserve for ultimate review in the United States Supreme Court any federal questions arising out of the state procedures. Moreover, plaintiffs failed to demonstrate a substantial threat of an irreparable injury that would warrant granting the extraordinary remedy of an injunction pending appeal. Denial of |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case   | Court                    | Citation                   | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--------------------------|----------------------------|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                          |                            |                  |   | plaintiff's petition for emergency injunction pending appeal was affirmed. The state procedures were adequate to preserve any federal issue for review, and plaintiffs failed to demonstrate a substantial threat of an irreparable injury that would have warranted granting the extraordinary remedy of the injunction. |                              |             |                                       |
| Gore v. Harris | Supreme Court of Florida | 772 So. 2d 1243; 2000 Fla. | December 8, 2000 | The court of appeal certified as being of great | Appellants contested the certification of  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010113

| Name of Case | Court | Citation      | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|---------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | LEXIS2373 |      | public importance a trial court judgment that denied all relief requested by appellants, candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, in appellants' contest to certified election results. | their opponents as the winners of Florida's electoral votes. The Florida supreme court found no error in the trial court's holding that it was proper to certify election night returns from Nassau County rather than results of a machine recount. Nor did the trial court err in refusing to include votes that the Palm Beach County Canvassing Board found not to be legal votes during a manual |                              |             |                                       |

010114

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | recount. However, the trial court erred in excluding votes that were identified during the Palm Beach County manual recount and during a partial manual recount in Miami--Dade County. It was also error to refuse to examine Miami--Dade County ballots that registered as non--votes during the machine count. The trial court applied an improper standard to |                              |             |                                       |

010115

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | determine whether appellants had established that the result of the election was in doubt, and improperly concluded that there was no probability of a different result without examining the ballots that appellants claimed contained rejected legal votes. The judgment was reversed and remanded; the trial court was ordered to tabulate by hand Miami-Dade |                              |             |                                       |

010116

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | County ballots that the counting machine registered as non--votes, and was directed to order inclusion of votes that had already been identified during manual recounts. The trial court also was ordered to consider whether manual recounts in other counties were necessary. |                              |             |                                       |

010117

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Reitz v. Rendell | United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21813 | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiff service members filed an action against defendant state officials under the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act alleging that they and similarly situated service members would be disenfranchised because they did not receive their absentee ballots in time. The parties entered into a voluntary agreement and submitted it to the court for approval. | The court issued an order to assure that the service members and other similarly situated service members who were protected by the UOCAVA would not be disenfranchised. The court ordered the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to take all reasonable steps necessary to direct the county boards of elections to accept as timely received absentee ballots cast by service members and other overseas voters as defined by UOCAVA, so long as the ballots were received by | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case     | Court         | Citation  | Date             | Facts                        | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---------------|-----------|------------------|------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |               |           |                  |                              | November 10, 2004. The ballots were to be considered solely for purposes of the federal offices that were included on the ballots. The court held that the ballot needed to be cast no later than November 2, 2004 to be counted. The court did not make any findings of liability against the Governor or the Secretary. The court entered an order, pursuant to a stipulation between the parties, that granted injunctive relief to the service members. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. | United States | 2004 U.S. | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff United States sued | The testimony of the two witnesses   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010119

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation          | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|-------------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Pennsylvania | District Court for the Middle district of Pennsylvania | Dist. LEXIS 21167 |      | defendant Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, governor, and state secretary, claiming that overseas voters would be disenfranchised if they used absentee ballots that included the names of two presidential candidates who had been removed from the final certified ballot and seeking injunctive relief to address the practical implications of the final certification of the slate of candidates so late in the election year. | offered by the United States did not support its contention that voters protected by the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act would be disenfranchised absent immediate injunctive relief because neither witness testified that any absentee ballots issued to UOCAVA voters were legally incorrect or otherwise invalid. Moreover, there was no evidence that any UOCAVA voter had complained or otherwise expressed concern |                              |             |                                       |

010120

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | regarding their ability or right to vote. The fact that some UOCAVA voters received ballots including the names of two candidates who were not on the final certified ballot did not ipso facto support a finding that Pennsylvania was in violation of UOCAVA, especially since the United States failed to establish that the ballot defect undermined the right of UOCAVA voters to cast their ballots. Moreover, Pennsylvania had adduced substantial evidence that the requested |                              |             |                                       |

010121

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | injunctive relief, issuing new ballots, would have harmed the Pennsylvania election system and the public by undermining the integrity and efficiency of Pennsylvania's elections and increasing election costs. must consider the following four factors: (1) the likelihood that the applicant will prevail on the merits of the substantive claim; (2) the extent to which the moving party will be irreparably harmed in the absence of injunctive relief; (3) the extent to which |                              |             |                                       |

010122

| Name of Case                               | Court   | Citation  | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |      |   | the nonmoving party will suffer irreparable harm if the court grants the requested injunctive relief; and (4) the public interest. District courts should only grant injunctive relief after consideration of each of these factors. Motion for injunctive relief denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Bush v. Hillsborough County Canvassing Bd. | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 123 F. Supp. 2d 1305; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 19265 |      | The matter came before the court on plaintiffs' complaint for declaratory and injunctive relief alleging that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee state | Plaintiff presidential and vise--presidential candidates and state political party contended that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee state ballots and federal   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010123

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | ballots and federal write--in ballots based on criteria inconsistent with federal law, and requesting that the ballots be declared valid and that they should be counted. | write--in ballots based on criteria inconsistent with the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act. Because the state accepted overseas absentee state ballots and federal write--in ballots up to 10 days after the election, the State needed to access that the ballot in fact came from overseas. However, federal law provided the method to establish that fact by requiring the overseas absentee voter to sign an oath that the ballot was mailed from |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | outside the United States and requiring the state election officials to examine the voter's declarations. The court further noted that federal law required the user of a federal write--in ballot to timely apply for a regular state absentee ballot, not that the state receive the application, and that again federal law, by requiring the voter using a federal write--in ballot to swear that he or she had made timely application, had provided the proper method of proof. Plaintiffs withdrew as moot |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case      | Court         | Citation        | Date             | Facts                     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---------------|-----------------|------------------|---------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |               |                 |                  |                           | their request for injunctive relief and the court granted in part and denied in part plaintiffs' request for declaratory relief, and relief GRANTED in part and declared valid all federal write-in ballots that were signed pursuant to the oath provided therein but rejected solely because the ballot envelope did not have an APO, FPO, or foreign postmark, or solely because there was no record of an application for a state absentee ballot. |                              |             |                                       |
| Harris v. Florida | United States | 122 F. Supp. 2d | December 9, 2000 | Plaintiffs challenged the | In two separate cases, plaintiff  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010126

| Name of Case                | Court   | Citation                          | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|---|-----------------------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Elections Canvassing Comm'n | District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 1317; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17875 |      | counting of overseas absentee ballots received after 7 p.m. on election day, alleging the ballots violated Florida election law. | electors originally sued defendant state elections canvassing commission and state officials in Florida state circuit court, challenging the counting of overseas absentee ballots received after 7 p.m. on election day. Defendant governor removed one case to federal court. The second case was also removed. The court in the second case denied plaintiff's motion for remand and granted a motion to transfer the case to the first federal court under the related case |                              |             |                                       |

010127

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | doctrine. Plaintiffs claimed that the overseas ballots violated Florida election law. Defendants argued the deadline was not absolute. The court found Congress did not intend 3 U.S.C.S. § 1 to impose irrational scheduling rules on state and local canvassing officials, and did not intend to disenfranchise overseas voters. The court held the state statute was required to yield to Florida Administrative Code, which required the 10-day |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | extension in the receipt of overseas absentee ballots in federal elections because the rule was promulgated to satisfy a consent decree entered by the state in 1982. Judgment entered for defendants because a Florida administrative rule requiring a 10--day extension in the receipt of overseas absentee ballots in federal elections was enacted to bring the state into compliance with a federally ordered mandate; plaintiffs were not entitled to relief under any provision of state or federal law. |                              |             |                                       |

010129

| Name of Case   | Court  | Citation   | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--|--|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Romeu v. Cohen | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 121 F. Supp. 2d 264; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12842 | September 7, 2000 | Plaintiff territorial resident and plaintiff--intervenor territorial governor moved for summary judgment and defendant federal, state, and local officials moved to dismiss the complaint that alleged that the Voting Rights Amendments of 1970, the Uniform Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, and New York election law were unconstitutional since they denied plaintiff's right to receive an absentee ballot for the upcoming presidential election. | Plaintiff argued that the laws denied him the right to receive a state absentee ballot in violation of the right to vote, the right to travel, the Privileges and Immunities Clause, and the Equal Protection Clause. Plaintiff--intervenor territorial governor intervened on behalf of similarly situated Puerto Rican residents. Defendants' argued that: 1) plaintiff lacked standing; 2) a non--justiciable political question was raised; and 3) the laws were constitutional. The court held that: 1) plaintiff had | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | standing because he made a substantial showing that application for the benefit was futile; 2) whether or not the statutes violated plaintiff's rights presented a legal, not political, question, and there was no lack of judicially discoverable and manageable standards for resolving the matter; and 3) the laws were constitutional and only a constitutional amendment or grant of statehood would enable plaintiff to vote in a presidential |                              |             |                                       |

010131

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation                                 | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|---|--|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |   |  |                   |  | election. The court granted defendants' motion to dismiss because the laws that prohibited territorial residents from voting by state absentee ballot in presidential elections were constitutional.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Romeu v. Cohen | United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 265 F.3d 118; 2001 U.S. App. LEXIS 19876 | September 6, 2001 | Plaintiff territorial resident sued defendants, state and federal officials, alleging that the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act unconstitutionally prevented the territorial resident from voting in his former state of residence. The resident appealed | The territorial resident contended that the UOCAVA unconstitutionally distinguished between former state residents residing outside the United States, who were permitted to vote in their former states, and former state residents residing in a territory, who were not permitted to | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010132

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | the judgment of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, which dismissed the complaint. | vote in their former states. The court of appeals first held that the UOCAVA did not violate the territorial resident's right to equal protection in view of the valid and not insubstantial considerations for the distinction. The territorial resident chose to reside in the territory and had the same voting rights as other territorial residents, even though such residency precluded voting for federal offices. Further, the resident had no constitutional right to vote in his former state after he terminated his |                              |             |                                       |

010133

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation                       | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--------------------------------|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |                                |               |   | residency in such state, and the consequences of the choice of residency did not constitute an unconstitutional interference with the right to travel. Finally, there was no denial of the privileges and immunities of state citizenship, since the territorial resident was treated identically to other territorial residents. The judgment dismissing the territorial resident's complaint was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Igartua de la Rosa v. United States | United States District Court for the District of | 107 F. Supp. 2d 140; 2000 U.S. | July 19, 2000 | Defendant United States moved to dismiss plaintiffs' action seeking a declaratory | The court denied the motion of defendant United States to dismiss the action of  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court       | Citation                | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------------|-------------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Puerto Rico | Dist.LEXIS11146 |      | judgment allowing them to vote, as U.S. citizens residing in Puerto Rico, in the upcoming and all subsequent Presidential elections. Plaintiffs urged, among other claims, that their right to vote in Presidential elections was guaranteed by the Constitution and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights. | plaintiffs, two groups of Puerto Ricans, seeking a declaratory judgment allowing them to vote in Presidential elections. One group always resided in Puerto Rico and the other became ineligible to vote in Presidential elections upon taking up residence in Puerto Rico. Plaintiffs contended that the Constitution and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, guaranteed their right to vote in Presidential elections and that |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, was unconstitutional in disallowing Puerto Rican citizens to vote by considering them to be within the United States. The court concluded that UOCAVA was constitutional under the rational basis test, and violation of the treaty did not give rise to privately enforceable rights. Nevertheless, the Constitution provided U.S. citizens residing in Puerto Rico the right to participate in Presidential |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | elections. No constitutional amendment was needed. The present political status of Puerto Rico was abhorrent to the Bill of Rights. The court denied defendant United States' motion to dismiss plaintiffs' action seeking a declaratory judgment allowing them to vote in Presidential elections as citizens of the United States and of Puerto Rico. The court held that the United States Constitution itself provided plaintiffs with the right to participate in Presidential |                              |             |                                       |

010137

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding    | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|------------|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | elections. |                              |             |                                       |

010138

| Name of Case      | Court                           | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---------------------------------|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| James v. Bartlett | Supreme Court of North Carolina | 359 N.C. 260; 607 S.E.2d 638; 2005 N.C. LEXIS 146 | February 4, 2005 | Appellant candidates challenged elections in the superior court through appeals of election protests before the North Carolina State Board of Elections and a declaratory judgment action in the superior court. The court entered an order granting summary judgment in favor of appellees, the Board, the Board's executive director, the Board's members, and the North Carolina Attorney General. The candidates appealed. | The case involved three separate election challenges. The central issue was whether a provisional ballot cast on election day at a precinct other than the voter's correct precinct of residence could be lawfully counted in final election tallies. The superior court held that it could be counted. On appeal, the supreme court determined that state law did not permit out--of--precinct provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case                                  | Court  | Citation                                 | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | ballots to be counted in state and local elections. The candidates failure to challenge the counting of out--of--precinct provisional ballots before the election did not render their action untimely. Reversed and remanded. |                              |             |                                       |
| Sandusky County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 387 F.3d 565; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 22320 | October 26, 2004 | Defendant state appealed from an order of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Ohio which held that the Help America Vote Act required that voters be permitted to cast | The district court found that HAVA created an individual right to cast a provisional ballot, that this right is individually enforceable under 42  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010140

010141

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | provisional ballots upon affirming their registration to vote in the county in which they desire to vote and that provisional ballots must be counted as valid ballots when cast in the correct county. | U.S.C.S. § 1983, and that plaintiffs unions and political parties had standing to bring a § 1983 action on behalf of Ohio voters. The court of appeals agreed that the political parties and unions had associational standing to challenge the state's provisional voting directive. Further, the court determined that HAVA was quintessentially about being able to cast a provisional |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballot but that the voter casts a provisional ballot at the peril of not being eligible to vote under state law; if the voter is not eligible, the vote will then not be counted. Accordingly, the court of appeals reversed the district court and held that "provisional" ballots cast in a precinct where a voter does not reside and which would be invalid under state law, are not required by the HAVA to be considered |                              |             |                                       |

010142

| Name of Case                      | Court                 | Citation  | Date               | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------|---|--------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |                       |   |                    |  | legal votes. Affirmed in part and reversed in part.  |                              |             |                                       |
| State ex rel. Mackey v. Blackwell | Supreme Court of Ohio | 106 Ohio St. 3d 261; 2005 Ohio 4789; 834 N.E.2d 346; 2005 Ohio LEXIS 2074 | September 28, 2005 | Appellants, a political group and county electors who voted by provisional ballot, sought review of a judgment from the court of appeals which dismissed appellants' complaint, seeking a writ of mandamus to prevent appellees, the Ohio Secretary of State, a county board of elections, and the board's director, from disenfranchisement of provisional ballot voters. | The Secretary of State issued a directive to all Ohio county boards of elections, which specified that a signed affirmation statement was necessary for the counting of a provisional ballot in a presidential election. During the election, over 24,400 provisional ballots were cast in one county. The electors' provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballots were not counted. They, together with a political activist group, brought the mandamus action to compel appellants to prohibit the invalidation of provisional ballots and to notify voters of reasons for ballot rejections. Assorted constitutional and statutory law was relied on in support of the complaint. The trial court dismissed the complaint, finding that no clear legal right was established |                              |             |                                       |

010144

010145

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | under Ohio law and the federal claims could be adequately raised in an action under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983. On appeal, the Ohio Supreme Court held that dismissal was proper, as the complaint actually sought declaratory and injunctive relief, rather than mandamus relief. Further, election--contest actions were the exclusive remedy to challenge election results. An adequate remedy existed |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                  | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|---|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |   |   |                  |  | under § 1983 to raise the federal-law claims. Affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Fla. Democratic Party v. Hood | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1073; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21720 | October 21, 2004 | Plaintiff political party sought injunctive relief under the Help America Vote Act, claiming that the election system put in place by defendant election officials violated HAVA because it did not allow provisional voting other than in the voter's assigned precinct. The officials moved for judgment on the pleadings. | The political party asserted that a prospective voter in a federal election had the right to cast a provisional ballot at a given polling place, even if the local officials asserted that the voter was at the wrong polling place; second, that voter had the right to have that vote counted in the election, if the voter otherwise | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | met all requirements of state law. The court noted that the right to vote was clearly protectable as a civil right, and a primary purpose of the HAVA was to preserve the votes of persons who had incorrectly been removed from the voting rolls, and thus would not be listed as voters at what would otherwise have been the correct polling place. The irreparable injury to a voter was easily sufficient to |                              |             |                                       |

010127

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | outweigh any harm to the officials. Therefore, the court granted relief as to the first claim, allowing the unlisted voter to cast a provisional ballot, but denied relief as to the second claim, that the ballot at the wrong place must be counted if it was cast at the wrong place, because that result contradicted State law. The provisional ballot could only be counted if it |                              |             |                                       |

010148

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |  |                  |  | was cast in the proper precinct under State law.  |                              |             |                                       |
| League of Women Voters v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 340 F. Supp. 2d 823; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20926 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations filed suit against defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, claiming that a directive issued by the Secretary contravened the provisions of the Help America Vote Act. The Secretary filed a motion to dismiss. | The directive in question instructed election officials to issue provisional ballots to first-time voters who registered by mail but did not provide documentary identification at the polling place on election day. When submitting a provisional ballot, a first-time voter could identify himself by providing his driver's license number or the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | last four digits of his social security number. If he did not know either number, he could provide it before the polls closed. If he did not do so, his provisional ballot would not be counted. The court held that the directive did not contravene the HAVA and otherwise established reasonable requirements for confirming the identity of first-time voters who registered to vote by mail because: (1) the |                              |             |                                       |

010150

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | identification procedures were an important bulwark against voter misconduct and fraud; (2) the burden imposed on first-time voters to confirm their identity, and thus show that they were voting legitimately, was slight; and (3) the number of voters unable to meet the burden of proving their identity was likely to be very small. Thus, the balance of interests favored the directive, |                              |             |                                       |

010151

| Name of Case                                  | Court  | Citation                                 | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | even if the cost, in terms of uncounted ballots, was regrettable.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Sandusky County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 386 F.3d 815; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 28765 | October 23, 2004 | Defendant Ohio Secretary of State challenged an order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, which held that Ohio Secretary of State Directive 2004--33 violated the federal Help America Vote Act. In its order, the district court directed the Secretary to issue a revised directive that conformed to HAVA's requirements. | On appeal, the court held that the district court correctly ruled that the right to cast a provisional ballot in federal elections was enforceable under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983 and that at least one plaintiff had standing to enforce that right in the district court. The court also held that Ohio Secretary of State Directive | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 2004--33 violated HAVA to the extent that it failed to ensure that any individual affirming that he or she was a registered voter in the jurisdiction in which he or she desired to vote and eligible to vote in a federal election was permitted to cast a provisional ballot. However, the district court erred in holding that HAVA required that a voter's provisional ballot be counted as a |                              |             |                                       |

010153

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |                             |                  |   | valid ballot if it was cast anywhere in the county in which the voter resided, even if it was cast outside the precinct in which the voter resided.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Hawkins v. Blunt | United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21512 | October 12, 2004 | In an action filed by plaintiffs, voters and a state political party, contending that the provisional voting requirements of Mo. Rev. Stat. § 115.430 conflicted with and was preempted by the Help America Vote Act, plaintiffs and defendants, the secretary of state and others, moved | The court held that the text of the HAVA, as well as its legislative history, proved that it could be read to include reasonable accommodations of state precinct voting practices in implementing provisional voting requirements. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                 | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | for summary judgment. | The court further held that Mo. Rev. Stat. § 115.430.2 was reasonable; to effectuate the HAVA's intent and to protect that interest, it could not be unreasonable to direct a voter to his correct voting place where a full ballot was likely to be cast. The court also held that plaintiffs' equal protection rights were not violated by the requirement that before a voter would be allowed to cast a provisional |                              |             |                                       |

010155

| Name of Case                        | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |   |  |                  |  | ballot, the voter would first be directed to his proper polling place.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bay County Democratic Party v. Land | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 340 F. Supp. 2d 802; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20551 | October 13, 2004 | Plaintiffs, state and county Democratic parties, filed an action against defendant, Michigan secretary of state and the Michigan director of elections, alleging that the state's intended procedure for casting and counting provisional ballots at the upcoming general election would violate the Help America Vote Act and state laws implementing the federal | The parties claimed that if the secretary's proposed procedure was allowed to occur, several voters who were members of the parties' respective organizations were likely to be disenfranchised. Defendants moved to transfer venue of the action to the Western District of Michigan claiming that the only proper | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010156

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | legislation. Defendants filed a motion to transfer venue. | venue for an action against a state official is the district that encompasses the state's seat of government. Alternatively, defendants sought transfer for the convenience of the parties and witnesses. The court found that defendants' arguments were not supported by the plain language of the current venue statutes. Federal actions against the Michigan secretary of state over rules and practices |                              |             |                                       |

010157

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | governing federal elections traditionally were brought in both the Eastern and Western Districts of Michigan. There was no rule that required such actions to be brought only in the district in which the state's seat of government was located, and no inconvenience resulting from litigating in the state's more populous district reasonably could be claimed by a state official who had a |                              |             |                                       |

010158

| Name of Case                        | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |   |  |                  |   | mandate to administer elections throughout the state and operated an office in each of its counties. Motion denied.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bay County Democratic Party v. Land | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 347 F. Supp. 2d 404; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20872 | October 19, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voter organizations and political parties, filed actions against defendants, the Michigan Secretary of State and her director of elections, challenging directives issued to local election officials concerning the casting and tabulation of provisional ballots. Plaintiffs sought a | The court concluded that (1) plaintiffs had standing to assert their claims; (2) HAVA created individual rights enforceable through 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983; (3) Congress had provided a scheme under HAVA in which a voter's right to have a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010159

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | preliminary injunction and contended that the directives violated their rights under the Help America Vote Act. | provisional ballot for federal offices tabulated was determined by state law governing eligibility, and defendants' directives for determining eligibility on the basis of precinct--based residency were inconsistent with state and federal election law; (4) Michigan election law defined voter qualifications in terms of the voter's home jurisdiction, and a person who cast a |                              |             |                                       |

010160

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | provisional ballot within his or her jurisdiction was entitled under federal law to have his or her votes for federal offices counted if eligibility to vote in that election could be verified; and (5) defendants' directives concerning proof of identity of first-time voters who registered by mail were consistent with federal and state law. |                              |             |                                       |

010161

| Name of Case      | Court                           | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---------------------------------|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| James v. Bartlett | Supreme Court of North Carolina | 359 N.C. 260; 607 S.E.2d 638; 2005 N.C. LEXIS 146 | February 4, 2005 | Appellant candidates challenged elections in the superior court through appeals of election protests before the North Carolina State Board of Elections and a declaratory judgment action in the superior court. The court entered an order granting summary judgment in favor of appellees, the Board, the Board's executive director, the Board's members, and the North Carolina Attorney General. The candidates appealed. | The case involved three separate election challenges. The central issue was whether a provisional ballot cast on election day at a precinct other than the voter's correct precinct of residence could be lawfully counted in final election tallies. The superior court held that it could be counted. On appeal, the supreme court determined that state law did not permit out--of--precinct provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010162

| Name of Case                                  | Court  | Citation                                 | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | ballots to be counted in state and local elections. The candidates failure to challenge the counting of out--of--precinct provisional ballots before the election did not render their action untimely. Reversed and remanded. |                              |             |                                       |
| Sandusky County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 387 F.3d 565; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 22320 | October 26, 2004 | Defendant state appealed from an order of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Ohio which held that the Help America Vote Act required that voters be permitted to cast | The district court found that HAVA created an individual right to cast a provisional ballot, that this right is individually enforceable under 42  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010163

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | provisional ballots upon affirming their registration to vote in the county in which they desire to vote and that provisional ballots must be counted as valid ballots when cast in the correct county. | U.S.C.S. § 1983, and that plaintiffs unions and political parties had standing to bring a § 1983 action on behalf of Ohio voters. The court of appeals agreed that the political parties and unions had associational standing to challenge the state's provisional voting directive. Further, the court determined that HAVA was quintessentially about being able to cast a provisional |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballot but that the voter casts a provisional ballot at the peril of not being eligible to vote under state law; if the voter is not eligible, the vote will then not be counted. Accordingly, the court of appeals reversed the district court and held that "provisional" ballots cast in a precinct where a voter does not reside and which would be invalid under state law, are not required by the HAVA to be considered |                              |             |                                       |

010165

| Name of Case                      | Court                 | Citation  | Date               | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------|---|--------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |                       |   |                    |  | legal votes. Affirmed in part and reversed in part.  |                              |             |                                       |
| State ex rel. Mackey v. Blackwell | Supreme Court of Ohio | 106 Ohio St. 3d 261; 2005 Ohio 4789; 834 N.E.2d 346; 2005 Ohio LEXIS 2074 | September 28, 2005 | Appellants, a political group and county electors who voted by provisional ballot, sought review of a judgment from the court of appeals which dismissed appellants' complaint, seeking a writ of mandamus to prevent appellees, the Ohio Secretary of State, a county board of elections, and the board's director, from disenfranchisement of provisional ballot voters. | The Secretary of State issued a directive to all Ohio county boards of elections, which specified that a signed affirmation statement was necessary for the counting of a provisional ballot in a presidential election. During the election, over 24,400 provisional ballots were cast in one county. The electors' provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010166

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballots were not counted. They, together with a political activist group, brought the mandamus action to compel appellants to prohibit the invalidation of provisional ballots and to notify voters of reasons for ballot rejections. Assorted constitutional and statutory law was relied on in support of the complaint. The trial court dismissed the complaint, finding that no clear legal right was established |                              |             |                                       |

010167

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | under Ohio law and the federal claims could be adequately raised in an action under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983. On appeal, the Ohio Supreme Court held that dismissal was proper, as the complaint actually sought declaratory and injunctive relief, rather than mandamus relief. Further, election--contest actions were the exclusive remedy to challenge election results. An adequate remedy existed |                              |             |                                       |

010168

| Name of Case                  | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|---|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |   |   |                  |  | under § 1983 to raise the federal-law claims. Affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Fla. Democratic Party v. Hood | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1073; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21720 | October 21, 2004 | Plaintiff political party sought injunctive relief under the Help America Vote Act, claiming that the election system put in place by defendant election officials violated HAVA because it did not allow provisional voting other than in the voter's assigned precinct. The officials moved for judgment on the pleadings. | The political party asserted that a prospective voter in a federal election had the right to cast a provisional ballot at a given polling place, even if the local officials asserted that the voter was at the wrong polling place; second, that voter had the right to have that vote counted in the election, if the voter otherwise | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | met all requirements of state law. The court noted that the right to vote was clearly protectable as a civil right, and a primary purpose of the HAVA was to preserve the votes of persons who had incorrectly been removed from the voting rolls, and thus would not be listed as voters at what would otherwise have been the correct polling place. The irreparable injury to a voter was easily sufficient to |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | outweigh any harm to the officials. Therefore, the court granted relief as to the first claim, allowing the unlisted voter to cast a provisional ballot, but denied relief as to the second claim, that the ballot at the wrong place must be counted if it was cast at the wrong place, because that result contradicted State law. The provisional ballot could only be counted if it |                              |             |                                       |

010171

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |  |                  |  | was cast in the proper precinct under State law.  |                              |             |                                       |
| League of Women Voters v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 340 F. Supp. 2d 823; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20926 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations filed suit against defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, claiming that a directive issued by the Secretary contravened the provisions of the Help America Vote Act. The Secretary filed a motion to dismiss. | The directive in question instructed election officials to issue provisional ballots to first-time voters who registered by mail but did not provide documentary identification at the polling place on election day. When submitting a provisional ballot, a first-time voter could identify himself by providing his driver's license number or the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010172

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | last four digits of his social security number. If he did not know either number, he could provide it before the polls closed. If he did not do so, his provisional ballot would not be counted. The court held that the directive did not contravene the HAVA and otherwise established reasonable requirements for confirming the identity of first-time voters who registered to vote by mail because: (1) the |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | identification procedures were an important bulwark against voter misconduct and fraud; (2) the burden imposed on first--time voters to confirm their identity, and thus show that they were voting legitimately, was slight; and (3) the number of voters unable to meet the burden of proving their identity was likely to be very small. Thus, the balance of interests favored the directive, |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                                  | Court  | Citation                                 | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | even if the cost, in terms of uncounted ballots, was regrettable.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Sandusky County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 386 F.3d 815; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 28765 | October 23, 2004 | Defendant Ohio Secretary of State challenged an order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, which held that Ohio Secretary of State Directive 2004--33 violated the federal Help America Vote Act. In its order, the district court directed the Secretary to issue a revised directive that conformed to HAVA's requirements. | On appeal, the court held that the district court correctly ruled that the right to cast a provisional ballot in federal elections was enforceable under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983 and that at least one plaintiff had standing to enforce that right in the district court. The court also held that Ohio Secretary of State Directive | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010175

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 2004--33 violated HAVA to the extent that it failed to ensure that any individual affirming that he or she was a registered voter in the jurisdiction in which he or she desired to vote and eligible to vote in a federal election was permitted to cast a provisional ballot. However, the district court erred in holding that HAVA required that a voter's provisional ballot be counted as a |                              |             |                                       |

010176

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |                             |                  |   | valid ballot if it was cast anywhere in the county in which the voter resided, even if it was cast outside the precinct in which the voter resided.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Hawkins v. Blunt | United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21512 | October 12, 2004 | In an action filed by plaintiffs, voters and a state political party, contending that the provisional voting requirements of Mo. Rev. Stat. § 115.430 conflicted with and was preempted by the Help America Vote Act, plaintiffs and defendants, the secretary of state and others, moved | The court held that the text of the HAVA, as well as its legislative history, proved that it could be read to include reasonable accommodations of state precinct voting practices in implementing provisional voting requirements. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010177

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                 | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | for summary judgment. | The court further held that Mo. Rev. Stat. § 115.430.2 was reasonable; to effectuate the HAVA's intent and to protect that interest, it could not be unreasonable to direct a voter to his correct voting place where a full ballot was likely to be cast. The court also held that plaintiffs' equal protection rights were not violated by the requirement that before a voter would be allowed to cast a provisional |                              |             |                                       |

010178

| Name of Case                        | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |   |  |                  |  | ballot, the voter would first be directed to his proper polling place.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bay County Democratic Party v. Land | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 340 F. Supp. 2d 802; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20551 | October 13, 2004 | Plaintiffs, state and county Democratic parties, filed an action against defendant, Michigan secretary of state and the Michigan director of elections, alleging that the state's intended procedure for casting and counting provisional ballots at the upcoming general election would violate the Help America Vote Act and state laws implementing the federal | The parties claimed that if the secretary's proposed procedure was allowed to occur, several voters who were members of the parties' respective organizations were likely to be disenfranchised. Defendants moved to transfer venue of the action to the Western District of Michigan claiming that the only proper | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010179

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | legislation. Defendants filed a motion to transfer venue. | venue for an action against a state official is the district that encompasses the state's seat of government. Alternatively, defendants sought transfer for the convenience of the parties and witnesses. The court found that defendants' arguments were not supported by the plain language of the current venue statutes. Federal actions against the Michigan secretary of state over rules and practices |                              |             |                                       |

010180

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | governing federal elections traditionally were brought in both the Eastern and Western Districts of Michigan. There was no rule that required such actions to be brought only in the district in which the state's seat of government was located, and no inconvenience resulting from litigating in the state's more populous district reasonably could be claimed by a state official who had a |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                        | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |   |  |                  |   | mandate to administer elections throughout the state and operated an office in each of its counties. Motion denied.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bay County Democratic Party v. Land | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 347 F. Supp. 2d 404; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20872 | October 19, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voter organizations and political parties, filed actions against defendants, the Michigan Secretary of State and her director of elections, challenging directives issued to local election officials concerning the casting and tabulation of provisional ballots. Plaintiffs sought a | The court concluded that (1) plaintiffs had standing to assert their claims; (2) HAVA created individual rights enforceable through 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983; (3) Congress had provided a scheme under HAVA in which a voter's right to have a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010182

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | preliminary injunction and contended that the directives violated their rights under the Help America Vote Act. | provisional ballot for federal offices tabulated was determined by state law governing eligibility, and defendants' directives for determining eligibility on the basis of precinct--based residency were inconsistent with state and federal election law; (4) Michigan election law defined voter qualifications in terms of the voter's home jurisdiction, and a person who cast a |                              |             |                                       |

010183

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | provisional ballot within his or her jurisdiction was entitled under federal law to have his or her votes for federal offices counted if eligibility to vote in that election could be verified; and (5) defendants' directives concerning proof of identity of first-time voters who registered by mail were consistent with federal and state law. |                              |             |                                       |

010184

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                                  | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Weber v. Shelley | United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 347 F.3d 1101; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 21979 | October 28, 2003 | Plaintiff voter brought an suit against defendants, the secretary of state and the county registrar of voters, claiming that the lack of a voter--verified paper trail in the county's newly installed touchscreen voting system violated her rights to equal protection and due process. The United States District Court for the Central District of California granted the | On review, the voter contended that use of paperless touch--screen voting systems was unconstitutional and that the trial court erred by ruling her expert testimony inadmissible. The trial court focused on whether the experts' declarations raised genuine issues of material fact about the relative accuracy of the voting systemat issue and excluded references to news--paper articles and unidentified studies absent any indication that | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010185

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | secretary and the registrar summary judgment. The voter appealed. | experts normally relied upon them. The appellate court found that the trial court's exclusions were not an abuse of discretion and agreed that the admissible opinions which were left did not tend to show that voters had a lesser chance of having their votes counted. It further found that the use of touchscreen voting systems was not subject to strict scrutiny simply because this particular balloting system might make the possibility of some kinds of fraud more difficult to detect. California |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                                     | Court   | Citation  | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |              |  | made a reasonable, politically neutral and non--discriminatory choice to certify touchscreen systems as an alternative to paper ballots, as did the county in deciding to use such a system. Nothing in the Constitution forbid this choice. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Shelley | United States District Court for the Central District of California | 324 F. Supp. 2d 1120; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12587 | July 6, 2004 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters and organizations representing those voters, sought to enjoin the directives of defendant California | The voters urged the invalidation of the Secretary's directives because, allegedly, their effect was to deprive the voters of the opportunity to vote using touch-screen technology. Although it was not  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Secretary of State, which decertified and withdrew approval of the use of certain direct recording electronic (DRE) voting systems. One voter applied for a temporary restraining order, or, in the alternative, a preliminary injunction. of a preliminary injunction in a number of ways, including a four--part test that considers (1) likelihood of success on | disputed that some disabled persons would be unable to vote independently and in private without the use of DREs, it was clear that they would not be deprived of their fundamental right to vote. The Americans with Disabilities Act, did not require accommodation that would enable disabled persons to vote in a manner that was comparable in every way with the voting rights enjoyed by persons without disabilities. Rather, it mandated that voting programs be made |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | the merits; (2) the possibility of irreparable injury in the absence of an injunction; (3) a balancing of the harms; and (4) the public interest. | accessible. Defendant's decision to suspend the use of DREs pending improvement in their reliability and security of the devices was a rational one, designed to protect the voting rights of the state's citizens. The evidence did not support the conclusion that the elimination of the DREs would have a discriminatory effect on the visually or manually impaired. Thus, the voters showed little likelihood of success on the merits. The |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                  | Court                             | Citation                        | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |                                   |                                 |                  |  | individual's request for a temporary restraining order, or, in the alternative, a preliminary injunction, was denied. Ninth Circuit's tests for a preliminary injunction, although phrased differently, require a court to inquire into whether there exists a likelihood of success on the merits, and the possibility of irreparable injury; a court is also required to balance the hardships. |                              |             |                                       |
| Fla. Democratic Party v. Hood | Court of Appeal of Florida, First | 884 So. 2d 1148; 2004 Fla. App. | October 28, 2004 | Petitioner, the Florida Democratic Party, sought | The Party argued that: (1) the Florida Administrative Code, recast  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010190

| Name of Case | Court    | Citation       | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|----------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | District | LEXIS16077 |      | review of an emergency rule adopted by the Florida Department of State, contending that the findings of immediate danger, necessity, and procedural fairness on which the rule was based were insufficient under Florida law, which required a showing of such circumstances, and Florida case law. This matter followed. | language from the earlier invalidated rule prohibiting a manual recount of overvotes and undervotes cast on a touchscreen machine; (2) the rule did not call for the manual recount of votes to determine voter intent; and (3) the rule created voters who were entitled to manual recounts in close elections and those who were not. The appeals court disagreed. The Department was clearly concerned with the fact that if no rule were in place, the same confusion and inconsistency in |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | divining a voter's intent that attended the 2000 presidential election in Florida, and the same constitutional problems the United States Supreme Court addressed then, might recur in 2004. It was not the court's responsibility to decide the validity of the rule or whether other means were more appropriate. But, the following question was certified to the Supreme Court:Whether under Fla. Stat. ch. 120.54(4), the Department of |                              |             |                                       |

010192

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |   |                  |   | State set forth sufficient justification for an emergency rule establishing standards for conducting manual recounts of overvotes and undervotes as applied to touchscreen voting systems? The petition was denied, but a question was certified to the supreme court as a matter of great public importance. |                              |             |                                       |
| Wexler v. Lepore | United States District Court for the Southern District of | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1097; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21344 | October 25, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a congressman, state commissioners, and a registered voter, brought | The officials claimed that the state had established an updated standard for manual recounts in counties using  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010193

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Florida |          |      | a § 1983 action against defendants, state officials, alleging that the manual recount procedures for the state's touchscreen paperless voting systems violated their rights under U.S. Const. amends. V and XIV. A bench trial ensued. | optical scan systems and touchscreen voting systems, therefore, alleviating equal protection concerns. The court held that the rules prescribing what constituted a clear indication on the ballot that the voter had made a definite choice, as well the rules prescribing additional recount procedures for each certified voting system promulgated pursuant to Florida law complied with equal protection requirements under U.S. Const. amends. V and XIV because the rules |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | prescribed uniform, nondifferential standards for what constituted a legal vote under each certified voting system, as well as procedures for conducting a manual recount of overvotes and undervotes in the entire geographic jurisdiction. The court further held that the ballot images printed during a manual recount pursuant to Florida Administrative Code did not violate Florida law because the manual recount scheme properly reflected a voter's choice. |                              |             |                                       |

010195

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Judgment was entered for the officials. The claims of the congressman, commissioners, and voter were denied. |                              |             |                                       |

010196

| Name of Case         | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Spencer v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | 347 F. Supp. 2d 528; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22062 | November 1, 2004 | Plaintiff voters filed a motion for temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction seeking to restrain defendant election officials and intervenor State of Ohio from discriminating against black voters in Hamilton County on the basis of race. If necessary, they sought to restrain challengers from being allowed at the polls. | The voters alleged that defendants had combined to implement a voter challenge system at the polls that discriminated against African--American voters. Each precinct was run by its election judges but Ohio law also allowed challengers to be physically present in the polling places in order to challenge voters' eligibility to vote. The court held that the injury asserted, that allowing challengers to challenge voters' eligibility would place an undue burden on voters and impede their | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010197

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | right to vote, was not speculative and could be redressed by removing the challengers. The court held that in the absence of any statutory guidance whatsoever governing the procedures and limitations for challenging voters by challengers, and the questionable enforceability of the State's and County's policies regarding good faith challenges and ejection of disruptive challengers from the polls, there existed an enormous risk of chaos, delay, intimidation, and |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case  | Court                       | Citation                           | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-----------------------------|------------------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                             |                                    |                  |  | pandemonium inside the polls and in the lines out the door. Furthermore, the law allowing private challengers was not narrowly tailored to serve Ohio's compelling interest in preventing voter fraud. The court enjoined all defendants from allowing any challengers other than election judges and other electors into the polling places throughout the state on Election Day. |                              |             |                                       |
| MARIAN SPENCER, et al., Petitioners v. CLARA PUGH, et al. | United States Supreme Court | 125 S. Ct. 305; 160 L. Ed. 2d 213; | November 2, 2004 | In two separate actions, plaintiffs sued defendant members of a political party, | Plaintiffs contended that the members planned to send numerous challengers to   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case   | Court | Citation                      | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-------|-------------------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| (No. 04A360)SUMMITCOUNTYDEMOCRATICCENTRAL andEXECUTIVECOMMITTEE,et al.,Petitioners v.MATTHEWHEIDER, et al.(No. 04A364) |       | 2004U.S.LEXIS7400 |      | alleging that the members planned to mount indiscriminate challenges in polling places which would disrupt voting. Plaintiffs applied to vacate orders entered by the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit which entered emergency stays of injunctions restricting the members' activities. | polling places in predominantly African--American neighborhoods to challenge votes in an imminent national election, which would allegedly cause voter intimidation and inordinate delays in voting. A district court ordered challengers to stay out of polling places, and another district court ordered challengers to remain in the polling places only as witnesses, but the appellate court stayed the orders. The United States Supreme Court, acting through a |                              |             |                                       |

010200

| Name of Case            | Court         | Citation        | Date         | Facts                                    | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|---------------|-----------------|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |               |                 |              |  | single Circuit Justice, declined to reinstate the injunctions for prudential reasons, despite the few hours left until the upcoming election. While the allegations of abuse were serious, it was not possible to determine with any certainty the ultimate validity of the plaintiffs' claims or for the full Supreme Court to review the relevant submissions, and voting officials would be available to enable proper voting by qualified voters. |                              |             |                                       |
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. | United States | 324 F. Supp. 2d | July 1, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a voter, fraternity members, | The organization participated in   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010201

| Name of Case        | Court   | Citation                          | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|---|-----------------------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Found., Inc. v. Cox | District Court for the Northern District of Georgia | 1358; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12120 |      | and an organization, sought an injunction ordering defendant, the Georgia Secretary of State, to process the voter registration application forms that they mailed in following a voter registration drive. They contended that by refusing to process the forms defendants violated the National Voter Registration Act and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, and XV. | numerous non-partisan voter registration drives primarily designed to increase the voting strength of African--Americans. Following one such drive, the fraternity members mailed in over 60 registration forms, including one for the voter who had moved within state since the last election. The Georgia Secretary of State's office refused to process them because they were not mailed individually and neither a registrar, deputy registrar, or an otherwise authorized person |                              |             |                                       |

010202

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | had collected the applications as required under state law. The court held that plaintiffs had standing to bring the action. The court held that because the applications were received in accordance with the mandates of the NVRA, the State of Georgia was not free to reject them. The court found that: plaintiffs had a substantial likelihood of prevailing on the merits of their claim that the applications were improperly rejected; plaintiffs would be irreparably injured absent an |                              |             |                                       |

| Name of Case                                   | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |                  |  | injunction; the potential harm to defendants was outweighed by plaintiffs' injuries; and an injunction was in the public interest. Injunction granted.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Jacksonville Coalition for Voter Prot. v. Hood | United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida | 351 F. Supp. 2d 1326; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 26522 | October 25, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voter protection coalition, union, and voters, filed an emergency motion for a preliminary injunction and argued that African Americans in the county had less opportunity than other members of the state's electorate to vote in the upcoming election, and that defendants, elections officials', | The coalition, the union, and the voters based their claim on the fact that the county had the largest percentage of African--American registered voters of any major county in the state, and, yet, other similarly-sized counties with smaller African--American registered voter percentages had more early voting sites. Based | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | implementation of early voting procedures violated the Voting Rights Act and their constitutional rights. | on that, they argued that African-- American voters in the county were disproportionately affected. The court found that while it may have been true that having to drive to an early voting site and having to wait in line may cause people to be inconvenienced, inconvenience did not result in a denial of meaningful access to the political process. Thus, the coalition, the union, and the voters had not established a likelihood of success on the merits of their claim that the county's |                              |             |                                       |

010205

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation                                 | Date            | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|---|--|-----------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |   |  |                 |  | implementation of early voting procedures violated § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. Moreover, the coalition, the union, and the voters failed to establish a likelihood of success on the merits of their § 1983 Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendment claims, which required a higher proof of discriminatory purpose and effect. Injunction denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Taylor v. Howe | United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit | 225 F.3d 993; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 22241 | August 31, 2000 | Plaintiffs, African American voters, poll watchers, and candidates appealed from a judgment of the United States | The court of appeals affirmed--in--part, reversed--in--part, and remanded the district court's judgment. The court found that the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas in favor of defendants, elections commissioners and related individuals, on their § 1983 voting rights claims and contended the district court made erroneous findings of fact and law and failed to appreciate evidence of discriminatory intent. | district court's finding of a lack of intentional discrimination was appropriate as to many defendants. However, as to some of the individual voters' claims for damages, the court held "a definite and firm conviction" that the district court's findings were mistaken. The court noted that the argument that a voter's name was misspelled in the voter register, with a single incorrect letter, was a flimsy pretext and, accordingly, held that the district court's finding that |                              |             |                                       |

010207

| Name of Case         | Court  | Citation   | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--|--|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                      |  |  |                   |   | defendant poll workers did not racially discriminate in denying the vote to this plaintiff was clearly erroneous. Affirmed in part and reversed in part.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Stewart v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 356 F. Supp. 2d 791; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 26897 | December 14, 2004 | Plaintiffs, including African--American voters, alleged that use of punch card voting and "central-count" optical scanning devices by defendants, the Ohio Secretary of State et al., violated their rights under the Due Process Clause, the Equal Protection Clause, and (African--American plaintiffs) their rights under § 2 of the Voting Rights | The primary thrust of the litigation was an attempt to federalize elections by judicial rule or fiat via the invitation to the court to declare a certain voting technology unconstitutional and then fashion a remedy. The court declined the invitation. The determination of the applicable voting process had always been focused in the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010208

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Act.  | legislative branch of the government. While it was true that the percentage of residual or non-voted ballots in the 2000 presidential election ran slightly higher in counties using punch card technology, that fact standing alone was insufficient to declare the use of the system unconstitutional. Moreover, the highest frequency in Ohio of residual voting bore a direct relationship to economic and educational factors, negating the Voting Rights Act claim. The court further stated that local |                              |             |                                       |

010209

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation   | Date               | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|--|--------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |  |                    |   | variety in voting technology did not violate the Equal Protection Clause, even if the different technologies had different levels of effectiveness in recording voters' intentions, so long as there was some rational basis for the technology choice. It concluded that defendants' cost and security reasons for the use of punch card ballots were plausible. |                              |             |                                       |
| Taylor v. Currie | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 386 F. Supp. 2d 929; 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20257 | September 14, 2005 | Plaintiff brought an action against defendants, including a city elections commission, alleging defects in a city council | This action involved issues pertaining to absentee ballots. Plaintiff alleged that defendants were not complying with state laws requiring certain eligibility  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010210

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | primary election pertaining to absentee balloting. The case was removed to federal court by defendants. Pending before the court was a motion to remand, filed by plaintiff. | checks before issuing absentee ballots. The state court issued an injunction preventing defendants from mailing absentee ballots. Defendants removed the action to federal court and plaintiff sought a remand. Defendants argued that not mailing the absentee ballots would violate the Voting Rights Act, because it would place a restriction only on the City of Detroit, which was predominately African--American. The court ordered the case remanded because it found no |                              |             |                                       |

010211

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | basis under 28 U.S.C.S. §§ 1441 or 1443 for federal jurisdiction. Defendants' mere reference to a federal law or federal right was not enough to confer subject matter jurisdiction where the complaint sought to assert only rights arising under state statutes against state officials in relation to a state election. The court stated that it would not allow defendants to take haven in federal court under the guise of providing equal protection for the citizens of Detroit but with a |                              |             |                                       |

010212

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | goal of perpetuating their violation of a non-discriminatory state law. Motion to remand granted. |                              |             |                                       |

Methodology for Case Review

In order to properly identify all applicable cases the consultants first developed an extensive word search term list. A West Law search was performed and the first one hundred cases under each word search term were then gathered in individual files. This resulted in a total of approximately 44,000 cases. Most of these cases were federal as opposed to state and appellate as opposed to trial.

Consultant Serebrov analyzed the cases in each file to determine if they were on point. If he found that the first twenty cases were inapplicable, Serebrov would sample forty to fifty other file cases at random to determine applicability. If the entire file did not yield any cases, the file would be discarded. All discarded word search terms were recorded in a separate file. Likewise, if the file only yielded a few applicable cases, it would also be discarded. However, if a small but significant number of cases were on point, the file was later charted.

The results of the case search were stark because relatively few applicable cases were found. Consultant Serebrov recommends that a selective regional, state district court search be preformed in the second phase of this project

Rough Summary of Department of Justice, Public Integrity Section Activities, October 2002-January 2006

Prosecutions and Convictions-- Individuals

Noncitizen voting: 20

Vote buying: 49

Double voting: 12

Registration fraud: 13

Civil Rights: 4

Voter Intimidation: 2

Unclear: 1

Open Investigations (note: a few cases overlap with prosecutions and convictions)

Noncitizen voting: 3

Vote buying: 25

Double voting: 15

Registration fraud: 29

Absentee ballot fraud: 9

Official: 8

Ineligibles: 4

Deceptive Practices: 1

Civil Rights: 14

Intimidation: 6

Other: 2

Cases and Investigations Closed for Lack of Evidence

Civil Rights: 8

Official: 12

Registration Fraud: 12

Absentee Ballot Fraud: 14

Ineligible Voting: 3

Intimidation: 8

Double Voting: 5

Ballot Box Stuffing: 1

Vote Buying: 14

Ballot/machine tampering: 2

Other: 8

Unclear: 3

Major Vote Buying Cases Summary

Between 2001 and 2006, allegations and convictions for vote buying and conspiracies to buy votes were concentrated in three states: Illinois, West Virginia and Kentucky.

In East St. Louis, Illinois, nine individuals, including a former city council member and the head of the local Democratic Party, Charles Powell, Jr., were convicted or pled guilty to vote buying and conspiracy to commit election fraud during the 2004 general election. The government's conspiracy case was almost entirely based on taped conversations in which the defendants discussed buying votes for $5 and whether this would be adequate. Federal prosecutors alleged that the vote buying was financed with $79,000 transferred from the County Democratic Party shortly before the election, although county officials have not been charged. Four defendants were convicted of purchasing or offering to purchase at least one vote directly, while Democratic Party chairman was only convicted of conspiracy.<sup>1</sup> Earlier, three precinct officials and one precinct worker pled guilty to buying votes for $5 or $10 in that same election.<sup>2</sup>

Eastern Kentucky has witnessed a series of vote buying cases over the last several years. The most recent revolved around Ross Harris, a Pike County political fundraiser and coal executive, and his associate Loren Glenn Turner. Harris and Turner were convicted in September 2004 of vote buying, mail fraud, and several other counts.<sup>3</sup> Prosecutors alleged Harris and Turner conspired to buy votes and provided the necessary funds in an unsuccessful 2002 bid for Pike County district judge by former State Senator Doug Hays. Harris supplied nearly $40,000, Turner laundered the money through straw contributors, and the cash was then disbursed in the form of $50 checks ostensibly for 'vote hauling', the legal practice of paying campaign workers to get voters to the polls which is notorious as a cover for buying votes.<sup>4</sup> Harris attempted to influence the race on behalf of Hays in order to get revenge on Hays' opponent for a personal matter.<sup>5</sup>

A grand jury initially indicted 10 individuals in connection with the Harris and Turner case, including Hays and his wife, and six campaign workers. Of the remaining defendants, only one, Tom Varney, also a witness in the Hays case, pled guilty. The others were either acquitted of vote buying charges or had vote buying charges dropped.<sup>6</sup> Prosecutors have announced that their investigation continues into others tied to Harris and may produce further indictments.

The Harris case follows a series of trials related to the 1998 Knott County Democratic primary. Between 2003 and 2004, 10 individuals were indicted on vote buying charges, including a winning candidate in those primaries, Knott County judge-executive Donnie Newsome, who was reelected in 2002. In 2004 Newsome and a supporter were sent to jail and fined. Five other

---

<sup>1</sup> "Five convicted in federal vote-fraud trial" Associated Press, June 30, 2005; "Powell gets 21 months" Belleville News-Democrat, March 1, 2006.

<sup>2</sup> "Four Plead Guilty To Vote-Buying Cash Was Allegedly Supplied By St. Clair Democratic Machine" Belleville News-Democrat, March 23, 2005.

<sup>3</sup> "2 found guilty in pike county vote-fraud case; Two-year sentences possible," Lexington Herald Leader, September 17, 2004.

<sup>4</sup> "Jury weighing vote-fraud case," Lexington Herald Leader, September 16, 2004.

<sup>5</sup> "Pike Election Trial Goes To Jury" Lexington Herald Leader, January 1, 2006.

<sup>6</sup> "Former state senator acquitted of vote buying," Lexington Herald Leader, November 2, 2004.

defendants pled guilty to vote buying charges, and three were acquitted. The primary means of vote buying entailed purchasing absentee votes from elderly, infirm, illiterate or poor voters, usually for between $50 and $100. This resulted in an abnormally high number of absentee ballots in the primary.<sup>7</sup> Indictments relating to that same 1998 primary were also brought in 1999, when 6 individuals were indicted for buying the votes of students at a small local college. Five of those indicted were convicted or pled guilty.<sup>8</sup>

Absentee vote buying was also an issue in 2002, when federal prosecutors opened an investigation in Kentucky's Clay County after an abnormal number of absentee ballots were filed in the primary and the sheriff halted absentee voting twice over concerns.<sup>9</sup> Officials received hundreds of complaints of vote-buying during the 2002 primary, and state investigators performed follow up investigations in a number of counties, including Knott, Bell, Floyd, Pike, and Maginoff.<sup>10</sup> No indictments have been produced so far.

So far, relatively few incidents of vote-buying have been substantially identified or investigated in the 2004 election. Two instances of vote buying in local 2004 elections have been brought before a grand jury. In one, a Casey County man was indicted for purchasing votes in a local school board race with cash and whiskey.<sup>11</sup> In the second, the grand jury chose not to indict an individual accused of offering to purchase a teenager's vote on a local proposal with beer.<sup>12</sup>

An extensive vote buying conspiracy has also been uncovered in southern West Virginia. The federal probe, which handed down its first indictment in 2003, has yielded more than a dozen guilty pleas to charges of vote buying and conspiracy in elections since the late 1980s. As this area is almost exclusively dominated by the Democratic Party, vote-buying occurred largely during primary contests.

The first phase of the probe focused on Logan County residents, where vote buying charges were brought in relation to elections in 1996, 2000, 2002 and 2004. In an extraordinary tactic, the FBI planted the former mayor of Logan City, Tom Esposito, as a candidate in a state legislative race. Esposito's cooperation led to guilty pleas from the Logan County Clerk, who pled guilty to selling his vote to Esposito in 1996,<sup>13</sup> and another man who took money from Esposito for the purpose of vote buying in 2004.<sup>14</sup>

Guilty pleas were also obtained in connection with former county sheriff Johnny Mendez, who pled guilty to buying votes in two primary elections in order to elect candidates including

---

<sup>7</sup> "Knott County, KY., Judge Executive sentenced on vote-buying conspiracy charges," Department of Justice, March 16, 2004.

<sup>8</sup> "6 men accused of vote fraud in '98 Knott primary; Charges include vote buying and lying to FBI"

<sup>9</sup> "Election 2002: ABSENTEE BALLOTING; State attorney general's office investigates voting records in some counties" The Courier-Journal, November 7, 2002.

<sup>10</sup> "Election 2002: Kentucky; VOTE FRAUD; Investigators monitor 17 counties across state" The Courier-Journal, November 6, 2002.

<sup>11</sup> "Jury finds man guilty on vote-buying charges" Associated Press, November 11, 2005.

<sup>12</sup> "Man in beer vote case files suit" The Cincinnati Enquirer, March 17, 2005.

<sup>13</sup> "Two plead to vote fraud; Logan clerk sold vote; politician tried to buy votes" Charleston Gazette, December 14, 2005.

<sup>14</sup> "Logan man gets probation in vote-fraud scandal" Charleston Gazette, March 1, 2006.

himself. In 2000, with a large amount of funding from a prominent local lawyer seeking to influence a state delegate election for his wife, Mendez distributed around $10,000 in payments to voters of $10 to $100. Then, in the 2004 primary, Mendez distributed around $2,000 before his arrest.<sup>15</sup> A deputy of Mendez', the former Logan police chief, also pled guilty to a count of vote buying in 2002.<sup>16</sup>

Prosecutors focusing on neighboring Lincoln County have alleged a long-standing vote-buying conspiracy extending back to the late 1980s. The probe identified Lincoln County Circuit Clerk Greg Stowers as head of a Democratic Party faction which routinely bought votes in order to maintain office. Stowers pled guilty in December 2005 to distributing around $7,000 to buy votes in the 2004 primary. The Lincoln County Assessor, and Stowers' longtime political ally, Jerry Allen Weaver, also pled guilty to conspiracy to buy votes.<sup>17</sup> These were accompanied by four other guilty pleas from party workers for vote buying in primaries. While most specific charges focused on vote buying in the 2004 primary, defendants also admitted buying votes as far back as the 1988, 1990, and 1992 primaries.

The leading conspirators would give party workers candidate slates and cash, which workers would then take to the polling place and use to purchase votes for amounts between $10 and $40 and in one instance, for liquor. Voters would be handed the slate of chosen candidates, and would then be paid upon exiting the polling place. In other cases, the elected officials in question purchased votes in exchange for non-cash rewards, including patronage positions, fixed tickets, favorable tax assessments, and home improvements.<sup>18</sup>

The West Virginia probe is ongoing, as prosecutors are scrutinizing others implicated during the proceedings so far, including a sitting state delegate, who may be under scrutiny for vote buying in a 1990 election, and one of the Lincoln county defendants who previously had vote buying charges against him dropped.<sup>19</sup>

---

<sup>15</sup> "Mendez confined to home for year Ex-Logan sheriff was convicted of buying votes" Charleston Gazette, January 22, 2005.

<sup>16</sup> "Ex-Logan police sentenced for buying votes" Associated Press, February 15, 2005.

<sup>17</sup> "Clerk says he engaged in vote buying" Charleston Gazette, December 30, 2005.

<sup>18</sup> "Lincoln clerk, two others plead guilty to election fraud" Charleston Daily Mail, December 30, 2005.

<sup>19</sup> "Next phase pondered in federal vote-buying probe" Associated Press, January 1, 2006.

Case Summaries

After reviewing over 40,000 cases, the majority of which came from appeals courts, I have found comparatively very few which are applicable to this study. Of those that are applicable, no apparent thematic pattern emerges. However, it seems that the greatest areas of fraud and intimidation have shifted from past patterns of stealing votes to present problems with voter registration, voter identification, the proper delivery and counting of absentee and overseas ballots, provisional voting, vote buying, and challenges to felon eligibility. But because so few cases provided a picture of these current problems, I suggest that case research for the second phase of this project concentrate on state trial-level decisions.

Job Serebrov
May 2006

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case      | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Powers v. Donahue | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, First Department | 276 A.D.2d 157; 717 N.Y.S.2d 550; 2000 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12644 | December 5, 2000 | Petitioner appealed an order of the supreme court, which denied his motion to direct the New York County Board of Elections, in cases where more than one absentee ballot was returned by a voter, to count only the absentee ballot listing correct candidates' names. | When the New York County Board of Elections learned some absentee ballots mailed to voters in one district listed the wrong candidates for state senator it sent a second set of absentee ballots to absentee voters informing them the first ballot was defective and requesting they use the second ballot. The board agreed if two ballots were received from the same voter, only the corrected ballot would be counted. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010220

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Appellant candidate moved in support of the board's determination. Respondent candidate opposed the application, contending that only the first ballot received should have been canvassed. The trial court denied appellant's motion, ruling that pursuant to New York law, where two ballots were received from the same voter, only the ballot with the earlier date was to be accepted. The court found the |                              |             |                                       |

010221

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case            | Court                    | Citation         | Date              | Facts               | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--------------------------|------------------|-------------------|---------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |                          |                  |                   |                     | local board officials should have resolved the dispute as they proposed. The order was modified and the motion granted to the extent of directing the New York County Board of Elections, in cases where more than one absentee ballot was returned by a voter, to accept only the corrected ballot postmarked on or before November 7, 2000, and otherwise affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Goodwin v. St. Thomas-- | Territorial Court of the | 43 V.I. 89; 2000 | December 13, 2000 | Plaintiff political | Plaintiff alleged that defendants  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010222

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case              | Court          | Citation      | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------|----------------|---------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| St. John Bd. of Elections | Virgin Islands | V.I. LEXIS 15 |      | candidate alleged that certain general election absentee ballots violated territorial election law, and that the improper inclusion of such ballots by defendants, election board and supervisor, resulted in plaintiff's loss of the election. Plaintiff sued defendants seeking invalidation of the absentee ballots and certification of the election results | counted unlawful absentee ballots that lacked postmarks, were not signed or notarized, were in unsealed and/or torn envelopes, and were in envelopes containing more than one ballot. Prior to tabulation of the absentee ballots, plaintiff was leading intervenor for the final senate position, but the absentee ballots entitled intervenor to the position. The court held that plaintiff was not entitled to relief since he failed to |                              |             |                                       |

010223

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                           | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | tabulated without such ballots. | establish that the alleged absentee voting irregularities would require invalidation of a sufficient number of ballots to change the outcome of the election. While the unsealed ballots constituted a technical violation, the outer envelopes were sealed and thus substantially complied with election requirements. Further, while defendants improperly counted one ballot where a sealed ballot |                              |             |                                       |

010224

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case         | Court                    | Citation        | Date             | Facts             | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--------------------------|-----------------|------------------|-------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                      |                          |                 |                  |                   | envelope and a loose ballot were in the same outer envelope, the one vote involved did not change the election result. Plaintiff's other allegations of irregularities were without merit since ballots without postmarks were valid, ballots without signatures were not counted, and ballots without notarized signatures were proper. Request for declaratory and injunctive relief denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Townson v. Stonicher | Supreme Court of Alabama | 2005 Ala. LEXIS | December 9, 2005 | The circuit court | The voters and the incumbent all  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010225

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | 214      |      | overturned the results of a mayoral election after reviewing the absentee ballots cast for said election, resulting in a loss for appellant incumbent based on the votes received from appellee voters. The incumbent appealed, and the voters cross-- appealed. In the meantime, the trial court stayed enforcement of its judgment pending | challenged the judgment entered by the trial court arguing that it impermissibly included or excluded certain votes. The appeals court agreed with the voters that the trial court should have excluded the votes of those voters for the incumbent who included an improper form of identification with their absentee ballots. It was undisputed that at least 30 absentee voters who voted for the incumbent provided with |                              |             |                                       |

010226

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                     | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | resolution of the appeal. | their absentee ballots a form of identification that was not proper under Alabama law. As a result, the court further agreed that the trial court erred in allowing those voters to somewhat "cure" that defect by providing a proper form of identification at the trial of the election contest, because, under those circumstances, it was difficult to conclude that those voters made an honest effort to comply with the law. Moreover, to |                              |             |                                       |

010227

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                            | Court   | Citation   | Date            | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|-----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |  |                 |   | count the votes of voters who failed to comply with the essential requirement of submitting proper identification with their absentee ballots had the effect of disenfranchising qualified electors who choose not to vote but rather than to make the effort to comply with the absentee-voting requirements. Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Gross v. Albany County Bd. of Elections | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, Third Department | 10 A.D.3d 476; 781 N.Y.S.2d 172; 2004 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS | August 23, 2004 | Appellant candidates appealed from a judgment entered by the supreme court, which partially | The candidates argued that the Board violated a federal court order regarding the election. The appellate court   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010228

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | 10360    |      | granted the candidates' petition challenging the method used by respondent Albany County Board of Elections for counting absentee applications and ballots for the office of Albany County Legislator, 26th and 29th Districts, in a special general election required by the federal courts. | held that absentee ballots that were sent to voters for the special general election based solely on their applications for the general election were properly voided. The Board had no authority to issue the ballots without an absentee ballot application for the special general election. Two ballots were properly invalidated as the Board failed to retain the envelopes. Ballots were properly counted for voters who failed to |                              |             |                                       |

010229

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | identify their physician on their applications. A ballot was properly counted where the Board failed to scrutinize the sufficiency of the reason for the application. A ballot containing two signatures was properly rejected. A ballot was properly rejected due to extraneous marks outside the voting square. A ballot was properly counted despite the failure of the election inspector to witness the voter's signature. A ballot was |                              |             |                                       |

010230

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case           | Court                      | Citation                             | Date           | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|----------------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |                            |                                      |                |  | properly counted as the application stated the date of the voter's absence. A ballot was properly counted as the failure to date the application was cured by a time stamp. Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Erlandson v. Kiffmeyer | Supreme Court of Minnesota | 659 N.W.2d 724; 2003 Minn. LEXIS 196 | April 17, 2003 | Petitioners, representing the Democratic--Farmer--Labor Party, brought an action against respondents, the Minnesota Secretary of State and the Hennepin County Auditor, seeking relief | The appellate court found that, while it may have seemed unfair to the replacement candidate to count votes for other candidates from regular absentee ballots on which the replacement candidate did not appear, those were properly cast ballots voting for a properly | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010231

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | in regard to the election for United States Senator, following the death of Senator Wellstone. The issue concerned the right of absentee voters to obtain replacement ballots. Individuals intervened on behalf of the Republican Party. The instant court granted review. | nominated candidate. Petitioners' request that the Minnesota supreme court order that votes for United States Senator cast on regular absentee ballots not be counted was denied. A key issue was Minn. Stat. § 204B.41 (2002), which provided, in--part, that official supplemental ballots could not be mailed to absent voters to whom ballots were mailed before the official supplemental ballots were |                              |             |                                       |

010232

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | prepared. The supreme court held that, by treating similarly-situated voters differently, § 204B.41 violated equal protection guarantees and could not even survive rational basis review. For voters who cast their regular absentee ballots for Wellstone before the vacancy occurred, but were unable to go to their polling place on election day or pick up a replacement ballot by election day, the prohibition on |                              |             |                                       |

010233

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case        | Court   | Citation   | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|---|--|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |   |  |              |  | mailing replacement ballots in § 204B.41 denied them the right to cast a meaningful vote for United States Senator. The petition of petitioners was denied in part, but granted with respect to mailing replacement ballots to all applicants for regular absentee ballots who requested a replacement ballot. |                              |             |                                       |
| People v. Deganutti | Appellate Court of Illinois, First District, Third Division | 348 Ill. App. 3d 512; 810 N.E.2d 191; 2004 Ill. App. | May 12, 2004 | Defendant appealed from a judgment of the circuit court, which convicted | Defendant went to the voters' homes and obtained their signatures on absentee ballot   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010234

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation     | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|--------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | LEXIS518 |      | defendant on charges of unlawful observation of voting and on charges of absentee ballot violations in connection with the completion and mailing of the absentee ballots of two voters. | request forms. Once the ballots were mailed to the voters, defendant returned to the homes. With voter one, defendant sat on the couch with the voter and instructed which numbers to punch on the ballot. With voter two, defendant provided a list a numbers and stood nearby as voter two completed the ballots. Defendant then looked at the ballot and had voter two re-- punch a number that had not |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | punched cleanly. Defendant then put the ballots in the mail for the voters. On appeal, she argued insufficient evidence to sustain her convictions. The court affirmed, holding that (1) the circumstantial evidence surrounding defendant's presence as the voters completed their ballots supported the unlawful observation convictions; (2) the fact that defendant knowingly took the voters ballots |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                             | Court         | Citation                             | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---------------|--------------------------------------|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |               |                                      |                   |  | and mailed them, a violation of Illinois law supported her conviction, and (3) the fact that the statutes defendant was convicted under required only a knowing mental state rather than criminal intent did not violate substantive due process. Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Jacobs v. Seminole County Canvassing Bd. | Supreme Court | 773 So. 2d 519; 2000 Fla. LEXIS 2404 | December 12, 2000 | In an election contest, the First District court of appeal certified a trial court order to be of great public importance and to require | Prior to the general election, two political parties mailed preprinted requests for absentee ballots to registered voters in Seminole County.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010237

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | immediate resolution by the supreme court. The trial court denied appellants' request to invalidate absentee ballot requests in Seminole County in the 2000 presidential election. | Forms mailed by one party failed to include either a space for the voter identification number or the preprinted number. Representatives from that party were allowed to add voter identification numbers to request forms after they were returned, and absentee ballots were sent to the persons named on the request forms. The supreme court affirmed the trial court's refusal to invalidate the |                              |             |                                       |

010238

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballot requests, and adopted the trial court's reasoning that the information required, which included the voter identification number, was directory rather than mandatory. The trial court properly found that the evidence did not support a finding of fraud, gross negligence, or intentional wrongdoing. Allowing one party to correct ballots did not constitute illegal disparate treatment because there was no need to correct the |                              |             |                                       |

010239

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                            | Court                        | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------------------|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                              |  |                  |  | other party's forms. Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Gross v. Albany County Bd. of Elections | Court of Appeals of New York | 3 N.Y.3d 251; 819 N.E.2d 197; 785 N.Y.S.2d 729; 2004 N.Y. LEXIS 2412 | October 14, 2004 | Appellant candidates sought review from an order of the Appellate Division, which affirmed a trial court order holding that absentee ballots from a special general election were not to be canvassed because respondent Albany County Board of Elections failed to follow the set procedure for those voters. | Due to a challenge to a redistricting plan, the Board was enjoined from conducting primary and general elections for certain county districts. A special primary election was directed, with a special general election to be held "expeditiously thereafter." Absentee ballot requests for the first special election were based on prior requests, but new requests had to be | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010240

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | made for the general election. However, the Board forwarded absentee ballots for that election as well, based on the prior requests. Candidates in two close races thereafter challenged those absentee ballots, as they violated the procedure that was to be followed. The trial court held that the ballots should not be canvassed, which decision was affirmed on appeal. On further review due to dissenting opinions, the |                              |             |                                       |

010241

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court found that the ballots were in violation of the federal court order that directed the procedure to be followed, as well as in violation of New York election law. The court concluded that the Board's error was not technical, ministerial, or inconsequential because it was central to the substantive process, and the voters who used absentee ballots were not determined to be "duly qualified electors."Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

010242

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case  | Court                         | Citation                                       | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-------------------------------|--|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| In re Canvass of Absentee Ballots of Nov. 4, 2003 Gen. Election | Supreme Court of Pennsylvania | 577 Pa. 231; 843 A.2d 1223; 2004 Pa. LEXIS 431 | March 8, 2004 | A county elections board voided certain absentee ballots cast in the November 4, 2003, general election. The court of common pleas held that absentee ballots delivered by third persons were valid and should be counted. The commonwealth court affirmed the trial court's decision. The state supreme court granted allocatur. Appellants and appellees were certain | The absentee ballots at issue were hand-delivered to the county elections board by third persons on behalf of non--disabled voters. On appeal, the issue was whether non--disabled absentee voters could have third persons hand--deliver their ballots to the elections board where the board indicated that the practice was permitted. The state supreme court concluded that the "in person" delivery requirement was mandatory, and | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010243

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | candidates and voters. | that absentee ballots delivered in violation of the provision were invalid, notwithstanding the board's erroneous instructions to the contrary. Under the statute's plain meaning, a non--disabled absentee voter had two choices: send the ballot by mail, or deliver it in person. Third--person hand--delivery of absentee ballots was not permitted. To ignore the law's clear instructions regarding in--person delivery |                              |             |                                       |

010244

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case     | Court                 | Citation           | Date              | Facts                | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|-----------------------|--------------------|-------------------|----------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |                       |                    |                   |                      | would undermine the statute's very purpose as a safeguard against fraud. The state supreme court concluded that its precedent was clear, and it could not simply ignore substantive provisions of the Pennsylvania Election Code. The judgment of the Commonwealth Court was reversed in so far as it held that certain absentee ballots delivered on behalf of non-disabled absentee voters were valid. |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Canvass of | Commonwealth Court of | 839 A.2d 451; 2003 | December 22, 2003 | The Allegheny County | On appeal, the issue was whether  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010245

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                         | Court        | Citation             | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------------|--------------|----------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Absentee Ballots of November 4, 2003 | Pennsylvania | Pa. Commw. LEXIS 963 |      | Elections Board did not allow 74 challenged third--party hand--delivered absentee ballots to be counted in the statewide general election. The court of common pleas of Allegheny County reversed the Board's decision and allowed the 74 ballots to be counted. Appellant objecting candidates appealed the trial court's order. | non-disabled voters who voted by absentee ballots and had those ballots delivered by third parties to county election boards could have their ballots counted in the statewide general election. First, the appellate court concluded that political bodies had standing to appeal. Also, the trial court did not err by counting the 74 ballots because absentee voters could not be held responsible for following the statutory |                              |             |                                       |

010246

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | requirements of Pennsylvania election law where the Board knowingly failed to abide by the statutory language regarding the delivery of absentee ballots, changed its policy to require voters to abide by the language, and then changed its policy back to its original stance that voters did not have to abide by the statutory language, thereby misleading absentee voters regarding delivery requirements. |                              |             |                                       |

010247

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                  | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |  |                             |                  |  | Under the circumstances, it was more important to protect the interest of the voters by not disenfranchising them than to adhere to the strict language of the statute. However, one ballot was not counted because it was not delivered to the Board. Affirmed with the exception that one voter's ballot was stricken. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Pennsylvania | United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21167 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff United States sued defendant Commonwealth of | The testimony of the two witnesses offered by the United States did not support its   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010248

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Pennsylvania, governor, and state secretary, claiming that overseas voters would be disenfranchised if they used absentee ballots that included the names of two presidential candidates who had been removed from the final certified ballot and seeking injunctive relief to address the practical implications of the final certification of the slate of candidates so | contention that voters protected by the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act would be disenfranchised absent immediate injunctive relief because neither witness testified that any absentee ballots issued to UOCAVA voters were legally incorrect or otherwise invalid. Moreover, there was no evidence that any UOCAVA voter had complained or otherwise expressed concern regarding their ability or |                              |             |                                       |

010249

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                      | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|----------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | late in the election year. | right to vote. The fact that some UOCAVA voters received ballots including the names of two candidates who were not on the final certified ballot did not ipso facto support a finding that Pennsylvania was in violation of UOCAVA, especially since the United States failed to establish that the ballot defect undermined the right of UOCAVA voters to cast their ballots. Moreover, Pennsylvania had |                              |             |                                       |

010250

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                              | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | adduced substantial evidence that the requested injunctive relief, issuing new ballots, would have harmed the Pennsylvania election system and the public by undermining the integrity and efficiency of Pennsylvania's elections and increasing election costs. Motion for injunctive relief denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Hoblock v. Albany County Bd. of Elections | United States District Court for the Northern District of New York | 341 F. Supp. 2d 169; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21326 | October 25, 2004 | Plaintiffs, candidates and voters, sued defendant, the Albany County, New York, | An election for members of the Albany County Legislature had been enjoined, and special   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010251

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Board of Elections, under § 1983, claiming that the Board violated plaintiffs' Fourteenth Amendment rights by refusing to tally the voters' absentee ballots. Plaintiffs moved for a preliminary injunction. | primary and general elections were ordered. The order stated that the process for obtaining and counting absentee ballots for the general election would follow New York election law, which required voters to request absentee ballots. However, the Board issued absentee ballots for the general election to all persons who had applied for an absentee ballot for the cancelled election. The voters used absentee ballots |                              |             |                                       |

010252

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | to vote; their ballots were later invalidated. A state court determined that automatically sending absentee ballots to those who had not filed an application violated the constitution of New York. The district court found that the candidates' claims could have been asserted in state court and were barred by res judicata, but the voters were not parties to the state court action. The candidates were not entitled to joinder and had |                              |             |                                       |

010253

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not filed a motion to intervene. The voters established a likelihood of success on the merits, as the Board effectively took away their right to vote by issuing absentee ballots and then refusing to count them. The voters' claims involved more than just an "unintended irregularity." The candidates' claims were dismissed, and their request for joinder or to intervene was denied. Plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction preventing the |                              |             |                                       |

010254

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case      | Court  | Citation                                  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|--|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |  |   |                  |  | Board from certifying winners of the election was granted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Griffin v. Roupas | United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit | 385 F.3d 1128; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 21476 | October 15, 2004 | In a suit brought by plaintiff working mothers against defendants, members of the Illinois State Board of Elections, alleging that the United States Constitution required Illinois to allow them to vote by absentee ballot, the mothers appealed from a decision of the United States District | The mothers contended that, because it was a hardship for them to vote in person on election day, the U.S. Constitution required Illinois to allow them to vote by absentee ballot. The district court dismissed the mothers' complaint. On appeal, the court held that the district court's ruling was correct, because, although it was possible that the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010255

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, which dismissed their complaint for failure to state a claim. | problems created by absentee voting might be outweighed by the harm to voters who would lose their vote if they were unable to vote by absentee ballot, the striking of the balance between discouraging fraud and encouraging voter turnout was a legislative judgment with which the court would not interfere unless strongly convinced that such judgment was grossly awry. The court further held that Illinois |                              |             |                                       |

010256

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | law did not deny the mothers equal protection of the laws, because the hardships that prevented voting in person did not bear more heavily on working mothers than other classes in the community. Finally, the court held that, although the length and complexity of the Illinois ballot supported an argument for allowing people to vote by mail, such argument had nothing to do with the problems faced by working mothers. It |                              |             |                                       |

010257

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |  |                             |                  |   | applied to everyone.Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Reitz v. Rendell | United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21813 | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiff service members filed an action against defendant state officials under the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, alleging that they and similarly situated service members would be disenfranchised because they did not receive their absentee ballots in time. The parties entered into a | The court issued an order to assure that service members and other similarly situated service members who were protected by the UOCAVA would not be disenfranchised. The court ordered the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to take all reasonable steps necessary to direct the county boards of elections to accept as timely received absentee | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010258

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | voluntary agreement and submitted it to the court for approval. | ballots cast by service members and other overseas voters as defined by UOCAVA, so long as the ballots were received by November 10, 2004. The ballots were to be considered solely for purposes of the federal offices that were included on the ballots. The court held that the ballot needed to be cast no later than November 2, 2004 to be counted. The court did not make any findings of liability against |                              |             |                                       |

010259

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                               | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |                  |  | the Governor or the Secretary. The court entered an order, pursuant to a stipulation between the parties, that granted injunctive relief to the service members.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bush v. Hillsborough County Canvassing Bd. | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 123 F. Supp. 2d 1305; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 19265 | December 8, 2000 | The matter came before the court on plaintiffs' complaint for declaratory and injunctive relief alleging that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee state ballots and federal write-in ballots based | Plaintiff presidential and vice-presidential candidates and state political party contended that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee state ballots and federal write-in ballots based on criteria inconsistent with the Uniformed | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010260

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | on criteria inconsistent with federal law, and requesting that the ballots be declared valid and that they should be counted. | and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act. Because the state accepted overseas absentee state ballots and federal write-in ballots up to 10 days after the election, the State needed to access that the ballot in fact came from overseas. However, federal law provided the method to establish that fact by requiring the overseas absentee voter to sign an oath that the ballot was mailed from outside the United States and requiring the state |                              |             |                                       |

010261

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | election officials to examine the voter's declarations. The court further noted that federal law required the user of a federal write--in ballot to timely apply for a regular state absentee ballot, not that the state receive the application, and that again federal law, by requiring the voter using a federal write--in ballot to swear that he or she had made timely application, had provided the proper method of proof. Plaintiffs withdrew as moot |                              |             |                                       |

010262

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court         | Citation | Date      | Facts           | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------|----------|-----------|-----------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |               |          |           |                 | their request for injunctive relief and the court granted in part and denied in part plaintiffs' request for declaratory relief, and declared valid all federal write--in ballots that were signed pursuant to the oath provided therein but rejected solely because the ballot envelope did not have an APO, FPO, or foreign postmark, or solely because there was no record of an application for a state absentee ballot. |                              |             |                                       |
| Kolb v.      | Supreme Court | 270      | March 17, | Both petitioner | Both petitioner   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010263

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation   | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|--|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Casella      | of New York, Appellate Division, Fourth Department | A.D.2d 964; 705 N.Y.S.2d 746; 2000 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3483 | 2000 | and respondent appealed from order of supreme court, determining which absentee and other paper ballots would be counted in a special legislative election. | and respondent, presumably representing different candidates, challenged the validity of particular paper ballots, mostly absentee, in a special legislative election. The court affirmed most of the trial court's findings, but modified its order to invalidate ballots improperly marked outside the voting square--ballots where the signature on the envelope differed substantially from the voter |                              |             |                                       |

010264

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registration card signature----and ballots where voters neglected to supply statutorily required information on the envelopes. However, the court, seeking to avoid disenfranchising voters where permissible, held that ballots were not invalid where applications substantially complied with statute, there was no objection to the ballots themselves, and there was no evidence of fraud. Where absentee |                              |             |                                       |

010265

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case    | Court                        | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|------------------------------|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |                              |   |               |   | ballot envelopes contained extra ballots, the ballots were to be placed in a ballot box so that procedures applicable when excess ballots are placed in a ballot box could be followed. Order modified.                            |                              |             |                                       |
| People v. Woods | Court of Appeals of Michigan | 241 Mich. App. 545; 616 N.W.2d 211; 2000 Mich. App. LEXIS 156 | June 27, 2000 | Defendant filed an interlocutory appeal of the decision by the circuit court, which denied defendant's request for a jury instruction on entrapment by estoppel, but stayed the proceedings to allow defendant to | Defendant distributed and collected absentee ballots in an election. Because both defendant and his brother were candidates on the ballot, defendant's assistance was illegal under Michigan law. Bound over for trial on election | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010266

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | pursue the interlocutory appeal, in a criminal action alleging violations of election laws. | fraud charges, defendant requested a jury instruction on entrapment by estoppel, which was denied. On interlocutory appeal, the appellate court reversed and remanded for an entrapment hearing, holding that defendant should be given the opportunity to present evidence that he unwittingly committed the unlawful acts in reasonable reliance upon the word of the township clerk. The necessary |                              |             |                                       |

010267

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | elements of the entrapment defense were: (1) a government official (2) told the defendant that certain criminal conduct was legal; (3) the defendant actually relied on the official's statements; (4) the defendant's reliance was in good faith and reasonable in light of the official's identity, the point of law represented, and the substance of the official's statement; and (5) the prosecution would be so unfair as to |                              |             |                                       |

010268

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                                  | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |                  |   | violate the defendant's right to due process. Denial of jury instruction was reversed because the trial court did not hold an entrapment hearing; remanded for an entrapment hearing where defendant could present elements of the entrapment by estoppel defense. |                              |             |                                       |
| Harris v. Florida Elections Canvassing Comm'n | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 122 F. Supp. 2d 1317; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17875 | December 9, 2000 | Plaintiffs challenged the counting of overseas absentee ballots received after 7 p.m. on election day, alleging the | The court found Congress did not intend 3 U.S.C.S. § 1 to impose irrational scheduling rules on state and local canvassing officials, and did  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                                    | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |                             |                  | ballots violated Florida law.  | not intend to disenfranchise overseas voters. The court held the state statute was required to yield to the Florida Administrative Code, which required the 10-day extension in the receipt of overseas absentee ballots in federal elections because the rule was promulgated to satisfy a consent decree entered by the state in 1982. |                              |             |                                       |
| Weldon v. Berks County Dep't of Election Servs. | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21948 | November 1, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a congressman and a state representative, filed a motion seeking a preliminary | The congressman and representative sought to have the absentee ballots at issue set aside until a hearing could be held to   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010270

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | injunction or temporary restraining order that would prohibit defendant county department of election services from delivering to local election districts absentee ballots received from any state, county, or city correctional facility. | determine whether any of the straining order denied. CASE SUMMARY: PROCEDURAL POSTURE: Plaintiffs, a congressman and a state representative, filed a motion seeking a preliminary injunction or temporary restraining order that would prohibit defendant county department of election services from delivering to local election districts absentee ballots received from any state, |                              |             |                                       |

010271

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | county, or city correctional facility as provided in Pa. Stat. Ann. tit. 25, § 3416.6 and Pa. Stat. Ann. tit. 25, § 3416.8. OVERVIEW:The congressman and representative sought to have the absentee ballots at issue set aside until a hearing could be held to determine whether any of the ballots were delivered to the county board of elections by a third party in violation of Pennsylvania law, whether any of the ballots were |                              |             |                                       |

010272

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | submitted by convicted incarcerated felons in violation of Pennsylvania law, and whether any of the ballots were submitted by qualified voters who were improperly assisted without the proper declaration required by Pennsylvania law. The court concluded that an ex parte temporary restraining order was not warranted because there were potential jurisdictional issues, substantial questions |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                                 | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|--|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |  |                   |  | concerning the alleged violations, and the complaint did not allege that the department acted or threatened to act in an unlawful manner. The court denied the ex parte motion for a temporary restraining order. The court set a hearing on the motion for preliminary injunction. |                              |             |                                       |
| Qualkinbush v. Skubisz | Court of Appeals of Illinois, First District | 822 N.E.2d 38; 2004 Ill. App. LEXIS 1546 | December 28, 2004 | Respondent appealed from an order of the circuit court certifying mayoral election results for a city in which the court | Respondent first claimed the trial court erred in denying his motion to dismiss with respect to 38 votes the Election Code was preempted by and   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010274

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                      | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|----------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | declared petitioner mayor. | violated the Voting Rights Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 since it restricted the individuals with whom an absentee voter could entrust their ballot for mailing. The appeals court found the trial court did not err in denying the motion to dismiss, as Illinois election law prevented a candidate or his or her agent from asserting undue influence upon a disabled voter and from manipulating that |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | voter into voting for the candidate or the agent's candidate, and was designed to protect the rights of disabled voters. Respondent had not established that the federal legislature intended to preempt the rights of state legislatures to restrict absentee voting, and, particularly, who could return absentee ballots. The Election Code did not violate equal protection principles, as the burden placed |                              |             |                                       |

010276

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |   |                  |   | upon absentee voters by the restriction on who could mail an absentee ballot was slight and nondiscriminatory and substantially contributed to the integrity of the election process. Affirmed.                                |                              |             |                                       |
| Panio v. Sunderland | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, Second Department | 14 A.D.3d 627; 790 N.Y.S.2d 136; 2005 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3433 | January 25, 2005 | In proceedings filed pursuant to New York election law to determine the validity of certain absentee and affidavit ballots tendered for the office of 35th District Senator, appellants, a chairperson of | The question presented was whether the county election board should count the six categories of ballots that were in dispute. After a review of the evidence presented, the appeals court modified the trial court's order by: | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010277

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | the county Republican committee and the Republican candidate, both sought review of an order by the supreme court to count or not count certain ballots. Respondent Democratic candidate cross-- appealed. | (1) deleting an order directing the county elections board (board) to count 160 affidavit ballots tendered by voters who appeared at the correct polling place but the wrong election district, as there were meaningful distinctions between those voters who went to the wrong polling place and those voters who went to the correct polling place but the wrong election district; (2) directing that the board not count |                              |             |                                       |

010278

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 10 affidavit ballots tendered in the wrong election district because of a map error, as there was no evidence that the voters in this category relied on the maps when they went to the wrong election districts; and (3) directing the board to count 45 absentee ballots tendered by poll workers, as it appeared that the workers substantially complied with the statute by providing a written statement that was the functional |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation   | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |  |                   |   | equivalent of an application for a special ballot. Order modified and judgment affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Pierce v. Allegheny County Bd. of Elections | United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania | 324 F. Supp. 2d 684; 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 25569 | November 13, 2003 | Plaintiff voters sought to enjoin defendant election board from allowing three different procedures for third--party absentee ballot delivery, require the set aside of all absentee third--party delivered ballots in connection with the November 2003 election, prohibit those | Intervenor political committees also moved to dismiss for lack of standing, lack of subject matter jurisdiction, and failure to state a claim, as well as abstention. Inter alia, the court found that abstention was appropriate under the Pullman doctrine because: (1) construction of Pennsylvania election law was not clear | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | ballots from being delivered to local election districts after having been commingled with other absentee ballots, and convert a temporary restraining order to an injunction. | regarding whether the absentee ballot provision requiring hand--delivery to be "in person" was mandatory or directory; (2) the construction of the provision by state courts as mandatory or directory could obviate the need to determine whether there had been a Fourteenth Amendment equal protection violation; and (3) erroneous construction of the provision could disrupt very important state voting rights policies. |                              |             |                                       |

010281

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | However, the court had a continuing duty to consider the motion for temporary restraining order/preliminary injunction despite abstention. The court issued a limited preliminary injunction whereby the 937 hand--delivered absentee ballots at issue were set aside as "challenged" ballots subject to the election code challenge procedure. Any equal protection issues could be heard in state |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |   |                  |   | court by virtue of the state court's concurrent jurisdiction.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Friedman v. Snipes | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 345 F. Supp. 2d 1356; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23739 | November 9, 2004 | Plaintiff registered voters sued defendant state and county election officials under § 1983 for alleged violations of their rights under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1971(a)(2)(B) of the Civil Rights Act, and the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution. The voters | The voters claimed they timely requested absentee ballots but (1) never received the requested ballot or (2) received a ballot when it was too late for them to submit the absentee ballot. The court held that 42 U.S.C.S. § 1971(a)(2)(B) was not intended to apply to the counting of ballots by those already deemed qualified to vote. The plain meaning of § | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | moved for a temporary restraining order (TRO) and/or preliminary injunction. The court granted the TRO and held a hearing on the preliminary injunction. | 1971(a)(2)(B) did not support the voters' claim that it should cover an error or omission on any record or paper or any error or omission in the treatment, handling, or counting of any record or paper. Further, because Florida election law only related to the mechanics of the electoral process, the correct standard to be applied here was whether Florida's important regulatory interests justified the restrictions imposed on their |                              |             |                                       |

010284

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | First and Fourteenth Amendment rights. The State's interests in ensuring a fair and honest election and counting votes within a reasonable time justified the light imposition on voting rights. The deadline for returning ballots did not disenfranchise a class of voters. Rather, it imposed a time deadline by which voters had to return their votes. So there was no equal protection violation. |                              |             |                                       |

010285

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Absentee Balloting Cases

---

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding                        | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Preliminary injunction denied. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case                            | District | Case Number | Date             | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|----------|-------------|------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Rogelio Mejorada-Lopez | Alaska   | 05-CR-074   | December 5, 2005 | Mejorada-Lopez, a Mexican citizen, completed several voter registration applications to register to vote in Alaska and voted in the 2000, 2002, and 2004 general elections. He was charged with three counts of voting by a non-citizen in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 611 and pled guilty. Mejorada-Lopez was sentenced to probation for | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010291

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case                | District         | Case Number   | Date             | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further             |
|-----------------------------|------------------|---------------|------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---|
|                             |                  |               |                  | one year.  |                              |             |   |
| United States v. Shah       | Colorado         | 1:04-CR-00458 | March 1, 2005    | Shah was indicted on two counts of providing false information concerning United States citizenship in order to register to vote in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911 and 1015(f). Shah was convicted on both counts. | No                           | N/A         | No  |
| United States v. Mohsin Ali | Northern Florida | 4:05-CR-47    | January 17, 2006 | A misdemeanor was filed against Ali charging him with voting by a non-citizen of 18 U.S.C. section 611. Trial was set for January 17, 2006   | No                           | N/A         | Yes-need information on the outcome of the trial. |

010292

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case               | District         | Case Number   | Date         | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------|------------------|---------------|--------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Chaudhary | Northern Florida | 4:04-CR-00059 | May 18, 2005 | Chaudhary was indicted for misuse of a social security number in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 408 and for making a false claim of United States citizenship on a 2002 driver's license application in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911. A superceding indictment was returned, charging Chaudhary with falsely claiming United States citizenship on a driver's license | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010293

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case               | District         | Case Number   | Date              | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------|------------------|---------------|-------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                            |                  |               |                   | application and on the accompanying voter registration application. He was convicted of the false citizenship claim on his voter registration application.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Velasquez | Southern Florida | 1:03-CR-20233 | September 9, 2003 | Velasquez, a former 1996 and 1998 candidate for the Florida legislature, was indicted on charges of misrepresenting United States citizenship in connection with voting and for making false statements | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010294

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number  | Date          | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|--|---------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                  |  |               | to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 911, 1015(f) and 1001. Velasquez was convicted on two counts of making false statements on his naturalization application to the INS concerning his voting history. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. McKenzie;United States v. Francois;United States v. Exavier; United States v. Lloyd Palmer; United | Southern Florida | 0:04-CR-60160;1:04-CR-20488;0:04-CR-60161;0:04-CR-60159; | July 15, 2004 | Fifteen non-citizens were charged with voting in various elections beginning in 1998 in  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010295

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case   | District          | Case Number   | Date              | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-------------------|---|-------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| States v. Velrine Palmer; United states v. Shivdayal; United States v. Rickman; United States v. Knight; United States v. Sweeting; United States v. Lubin; United States v. Bennett; United States v. O'Neil; United States v. Torres-Perez; United States v. Phillip; United States v. Bain Knight |                   | 0:04-CR-60162;0:04-CR-60164;1:04-CR-20491;1:04-CR-20490;1:04-CR-20489;0:04-CR-60163;1:04-CR-14048;0:04-CR-60165;2:04-CR-14046;9:04-CR-80103;2:04-CR-14047 |                   | violation of 18 U.S.C. section 611. Four of the defendants were also charged with making false citizenship claims in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 911 or 1015(f). Ten defendants were convicted, one defendant was acquitted, and charges against four defendants were dismissed upon motion of the government. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Brooks  | Southern Illinois | 3:03-CR-30201   | February 12, 2004 | East St. Louis election official Leander Brooks was indicted for   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010296

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District          | Case Number   | Date          | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-------------------|---|---------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                   |   |               | submitting fraudulent ballots in the 2002 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c), 1973i(e), 1973gg-10(2)(B), and 18 U.S.C. sections 241 and 371. Brooks pled guilty to all charges. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Scott; United States v. Nichols; United States v. Terrance Stith; United States v. Sandra Stith; United States v. Powell, et al. | Southern Illinois | 3:05-CR-30040;3:05-CR-30041;3:05-CR-30042;3:05-CR-30043;3:05-CR-30044 | June 29, 2005 | Four Democrat precinct committeemen in East St. Louis were charged with vote buying on the 2004 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010297

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | section 1973i(c). All four pled guilty. Also indicted were four additional Democrat committeemen, Charles Powell, Jr., Jesse Lewis, Sheila Thomas, Kelvin Ellis, and one precinct worker, Yvette Johnson, on conspiracy and vote buying charges in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). All five defendants were convicted. Kelvin Ellis |                              |             |                                       |

010298

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case              | District | Case Number   | Date              | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------|----------|---------------|-------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                           |          |               |                   | also pled guilty to one count of 18 U.S.C. section 1512(c)(2) relative to a scheme to kill one of the trial witnesses and two counts of 18 U.S.C. section 1503 relative to directing two other witnesses to refuse to testify before the grand jury. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. McIntosh | Kansas   | 2:04-CR-20142 | December 20, 2004 | A felony information was filed against lawyer Leslie McIntosh for voting in both Wyandotte County, Kansas and Jackson  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010299

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number                      | Date                              | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|----------------------------------|-----------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                  |                                  |                                   | County, Missouri, in the general elections of 2000 and 2002 in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). A superseding misdemeanor information was filed, charging McIntosh with causing the deprivation of constitutional rights in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 242, to which the defendant pled guilty. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Conley; United States v. Slone; United States v. | Eastern Kentucky | 7:03-CR-00013;7:03-CR-00014; | March 28, 2003 and April 24, 2003 | Ten people were indicted on vote buying charges in  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010300

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number   | Date          | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|---|---------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Madden; United States v. Slone et al.; United States v. Calhoun; United States v. Johnson; United States v. Newsome, et al. |                  | 7:03-CR-00015;7:03-CR-00016;7:03-CR-00017;7:03-CR-00018;7:03-CR-00019 |               | connection with the 1998 primary election in Knott County, Kentucky, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). Five of the defendants pled guilty, two were convicted, and three were acquitted. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Hays, et al.   | Eastern Kentucky | 7:03-CR-00011   | March 7, 2003 | Ten defendants were indicted for conspiracy and vote buying for a local judge in Pike County, Kentucky, in the 2002 general election, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section                            | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010301

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case                   | District         | Case Number   | Date        | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------|------------------|---------------|-------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                |                  |               |             | 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 371. Five defendants were convicted, one defendant was acquitted, and charges against four defendants were dismissed upon motion of the government. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Turner, et al | Eastern Kentucky | 3:05-CR-00002 | May 5, 2005 | Three defendants were indicted for vote buying and mail fraud in connection with the 2000 elections in Knott, Letcher, Floyd, and Breathitt Counties, Kentucky, in violation of 42 | No                           | N/A         | Yes-need update on case status.       |

010302

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case                | District          | Case Number   | Date           | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|-------------------|---------------|----------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |                   |               |                | U.S.C. section 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 341.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Braud      | Middle Louisiana  | 3:03-CR-00019 | May 2, 2003    | Tyrell Mathews Braud was indicted on three counts of making false declarations to a grand jury in connection with his 2002 fabrication of eleven voter registration applications, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1623. Braud pled guilty on all counts. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v. Thibodeaux | Western Louisiana | 6:03-CR-60055 | April 12, 2005 | St. Martinsville City Councilwoman Pamela C. Thibodeaux was indicted on  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010303

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District         | Case Number   | Date  | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------|---|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                  |   |   | two counts of conspiring to submit false voter registration information, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). She pled guilty to both charges. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Scherzer;United States v. Goodrich;United States v. Jones; United States v. Martin | Western Missouri | 4:04-CR-00401;4:04-CR-00402;4:05-CR-00257;4:05-CR-00258 | January 7, 2005;March 28, 2005;September 8, 2005;October 13, 2005 | Two misdemeanor informations were filed charging Lorraine Goodrich and James Scherzer, Kansas residents who voted in the 2000 and 2002 general elections on                     | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010304

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | both Johnson County, Kansas and in Kansas City, Missouri. The informations charged deprivation of a constitutional right by causing spurious ballots, in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 242 and 2. Both pled guilty. Additionally, similar misdemeanor informations were filed against Tammy J. Martin, who voted in both Independence and Kansas City, Missouri |                              |             |                                       |

010305

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District      | Case Number   | Date              | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---------------|---|-------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |               |   |                   | in the 2004 general election and Brandon E. Jones, who voted both in Raytown and Kansas City, Missouri in the 2004 general election. Both pled guilty.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Raymond;United States v. McGee; United States v. Tobin;United States v. Hansen | New Hampshire | 04-CR-00141; 04-CR-00146;04-CR-00216; 04-CR-00054 | December 15, 2005 | Two informations were filed charging Allen Raymond, former president of a Virginia-based political consulting firm called GOP Marketplace, and Charles McGee, former executive director of the New | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010306

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Hampshire State Republican Committee, with conspiracy to commit telephone harassment using an interstate phone facility in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 47 U.S.C. section 223. The charges stem from a scheme to block the phone lines used by two Manchester organizations to arrange drives to the polls during the 2002 general election. Both |                              |             |                                       |

010307

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | pled guilty. James Tobin, former New England Regional Director of the Republican National Committee, was indicted on charges of conspiring to commit telephone harassment using an interstate phone facility in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 47 U.S.C. section 223. An information was filed charging Shaun Hansen, the principal of an |                              |             |                                       |

010308

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Idaho telemarketing firm called MILO Enterprises which placed the harassing calls, with conspiracy and aiding and abetting telephone harassment, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and 2 and 47 U.S.C. section 223. The information against Hansen was dismissed upon motion of the government. A superseding indictment was returned |                              |             |                                       |

010309

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | against Tobin charging conspiracy to impede the constitutional right to vote for federal candidates, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 241 and conspiracy to make harassing telephone calls in violation of 47 U.S.C. section 223. Tobin was convicted of one count of conspiracy to commit telephone harassment and one count of aiding and abetting of telephone |                              |             |                                       |

010310

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case             | District               | Case Number   | Date          | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------|------------------------|---------------|---------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Workman | Western North Carolina | 1:03-CR-00038 | June 30, 2003 | harassment. A ten-count indictment was returned charging Joshua Workman, a Canadian citizen, with voting and related offenses in the 200 and 2002 primary and general elections in Avery County, North Carolina, in violation of 18 U.S.C. sections 611, 911, 1001, and 1015(f). Workman pled guilty to providing false information to election officials and to | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010311

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case                     | District               | Case Number   | Date         | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------------|------------------------|---------------|--------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                  |                        |               |              | a federal agency.  |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Shatley, et al. | Western North Carolina | 5:03-CR-00035 | May 14, 2004 | A nine-count indictment was returned charging Wayne Shatley, Anita Moore, Valerie Moore, Carlos "Sunshine" Hood and Ross "Toogie" Banner with conspiracy and vote buying in the Caldwell County 2002 general election, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c) and 18 U.S.C. section 371. Anita and Valerie Moore pled guilty. Shatley, Hood, | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010312

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District               | Case Number  | Date   | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------------|--|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                        |  |  | and Banner were all convicted.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Vargas   | South Dakota           | 05-CR-50085  | December 22, 2005  | An indictment was filed against Rudolph Vargas, for voting more than once at Pine Ridge in the 2002 general election in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). Vargas pled guilty. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |
| United States v. Wells; United States v. Mendez; United States v. Porter; United States v. Hrutkay; United States v. Porter; United States v. | Southern West Virginia | 02-CR-00234;2:04-CR-00101;2:04-CR-00145;2:04-CR-00149;2:04-CR- | July 22, 2003; July 19, 2004; December 7, 2004; January 7, 2005; March 21, 2005; | Danny Ray Wells, Logan County, West Virginia, magistrate, was indicted and charged with violating 18 U.S.C. section  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010313

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District | Case Number   | Date                                   | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|----------|---|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Stapleton;United States v. Thomas E. Esposito;United States v. Nagy; United States v. Adkins; United States v. Harvey |          | 00173;2:05-CR-00002; 05-CR-00019;05-CR-00148; 05-CR-00161 | October 11, 2005;December 13, 2005 | 1962. Wells was found guilty. A felony indictment was filed against Logan County sheriff Johnny Mendez for conspiracy to defraud the United States in violation 18 U.S.C section 371. Mendez pled guilty. An information was filed charging former Logan County police chief Alvin Ray Porter, Jr., with making expenditures to influence voting in violation of 18 U.S.C. section |                              |             |                                       |

010314

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | 597. Porter pled guilty. Logan County attorney Mark Oliver Hrutkay was charged by information with mail fraud in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1341. Hrutkay pled guilty. Earnest Stapleton, commander of the local VFW, was charged by information with mail fraud. He pled guilty. An information was filed charging Thomas E. Esposito, a former mayor of the City of |                              |             |                                       |

010315

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Logan, with concealing the commission of a felony, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 4. Esposito pled guilty. John Wesley Nagy, Logan County Court marshall, pled guilty to making false statements to a federal agent, a violation of 18 U.S.C. section 1001. An information charging Glen Dale Adkins, county clerk of Logan County, with accepting payment for voting, in violation of 18 |                              |             |                                       |

010316

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case                    | District               | Case Number   | Date                   | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|---------------|------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                 |                        |               |                        | U.S.C. section 1973i(c). Adkins pled guilty. Perry French Harvey, Jr., a retired UMW official, pled guilty to involvement in a conspiracy to buy votes.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Adkins, et al. | Southern West Virginia | 2:04-CR-00162 | December 28 & 30, 2005 | Jackie Adkins was indicted for vote buying in Lincoln County, West Virginia, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(c). A superceding indictment added Wandell "Rocky" Adkins to the indictment and charged both defendants with | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010317

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | conspiracy to buy votes in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 371 and vote buying. A second superseding indictment was returned which added three additional defendants, Gegory Brent Stowers, Clifford Odell "Groundhog" Vance, and Toney "Zeke" Dingess, to the conspiracy and vote buying indictment. Charges were later dismissed against Jackie Adkins. A third superseding |                              |             |                                       |

010318

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | indictment was returned adding two additional defendants, Jerry Allen Weaver and Ralph Dale Adkins. A superseding information was filed charging Vance with expenditures to influence voting, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Vance pled guilty. Superseding informations were filed against Stowers and Dingess for expenditures to influence voting, in |                              |             |                                       |

010319

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case   | District          | Case Number  | Date  | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further   |
|--|-------------------|--|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---|
|  |                   |  |   | violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Both defendants pled guilty. Weaver also pled guilty. Superseding informations were filed against Ralph and Wandell Adkins for expenditures to influence voting, in violation of 18 U.S.C. section 597. Both defendants pled guilty. |                              |             |   |
| United States v. Davis; United States v. Byas; United States v. Ocasio; United States v. Prude; United States v. | Eastern Wisconsin | 2:05-MJ-00454;2:05-MJ-00455;2:05-CR-00161;2:05-CR- | September 16, 2005;September 21, 2005;October 5, 2005;October 26, | Criminal complaints were issued against Brian L. Davis and Theresa J. Byas charging them   | No                           | N/A         | Need updated status on Gooden and the Anderson, Cox, Edwards, and Little cases. |

010320

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case  | District | Case Number   | Date  | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|----------|---|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Sanders; United States v. Alicea; United States v. Brooks; United States v. Hamilton; United States v. Little; United States v. Swift; United States v. Anderson; United States v. Cox; United States v. Edwards; United States v. Gooden |          | 00162;2:05-CR-00163;2:05-CR-00168;2:05-CR-00170;2:05-CR-00171;2:05-CR-00172;2:05-CR-00177;2:05-CR-00207;2:05-CR-00209;2:05-CR-00211;2:05-CR-00212 | 2005;October 31, 2005,November 10, 2005 | with double voting, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). Indictments were filed against convicted felons Milo R. Ocasio and Kimberly Prude, charging them with falsely certifying that they were eligible to vote, in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973gg-10(2)(B), and against Enrique C. Sanders, charging him with multiple voting, in |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e). Five more indictments were later returned charging Cynthia C. Alicea with multiple voting in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973i(e) and convicted felons Deshawn B. Brooks, Alexander T. Hamilton, Derek G. Little, and Eric L. Swift with falsely certifying that they were eligible to vote |                              |             |                                       |

010322

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | in violation of 42 U.S.C. section 1973gg-10(2)(B). Indictments were filed against Davis and Byas charging them with double voting. Four more indictments were returned charging convicted felons Ethel M. Anderson, Jiyto L. Cox, Correan F. Edwards, and Joseph J. Gooden with falsely certifying that they were eligible to vote. |                              |             |                                       |

010323

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Ocasio and Hamilton pled guilty. Prude was found guilty. A mistrial was declared in the Sanders case. Brooks was acquitted. Byas signed a plea agreement agreeing to plead to a misdemeanor 18 U.S.C. section 242 charge. Swift moved to change his plea. Davis was found incompetent to stand trial so the government dismissed the case. Gooden is a fugitive. |                              |             |                                       |

010324

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
DOJ Cases

| Name of Case | District | Case Number | Date | Facts  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|-------------|------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |             |      | Alicea was acquitted. Four cases are pending --- Anderson, Cox, Edwards, and Little. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case                                     | Court   | Citation  | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Shelley | United States District Court for the Central District of California | 324 F. Supp. 2d 1120; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12587 | July 6, 2004 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters and organizations representing those voters, sought to enjoin the directives of defendant California Secretary of State, which decertified and withdrew approval of the use of certain direct recording electronic voting systems. One voter applied for a temporary restraining order, or, in | The voters urged the invalidation of the Secretary's directives because, allegedly, their effect was to deprive the voters of the opportunity to vote using touch--screen technology. Although it was not disputed that some disabled persons would be unable to vote independently and in private without the use of DREs, it was clear that they would not be | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                      | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | the alternative, a preliminary injunction. | deprived of their fundamental right to vote. The Americans with Disabilities Act did not require accommodation that would enable disabled persons to vote in a manner that was comparable in every way with the voting rights enjoyed by persons without disabilities. Rather, it mandated that voting programs be made accessible. |                              |             |                                       |

010327

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Defendant's decision to suspend the use of DREs pending improvement in their reliability and security of the devices was a rational one, designed to protect the voting rights of the state's citizens. The evidence did not support the conclusion that the elimination of the DREs would have a discriminatory effect on the visually or manually impaired. Thus, the voters |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case                                  | Court   | Citation   | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |  |                |   | showed little likelihood of success on the merits. The individual's request for a temporary restraining order, or, in the alternative, a preliminary injunction, was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Hood | United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida | 310 F. Supp. 2d 1226; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5615 | March 24, 2004 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters, and a national organization, sued defendants, the Florida Secretary of State, the Director of the Division of Elections of the Florida | The voters were visually or manually impaired. The optical scan voting system purchased by the county at issue was not readily accessible to visually or manually impaired   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Department of State, and a county supervisor of elections, under Title II of the Americans With Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Summary judgment was granted for the Secretary and the Director as to visually impaired voters. | voters. The voters were unable to vote using the system without third--party assistance. If it was feasible for the county to purchase a readily accessible system, then the voters' rights under the ADA and the RA were violated. The court found that the manually impaired voter's rights were violated. To the extent "jelly switches" and "sip and puff" devices |                              |             |                                       |

010330

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | needed to be attached to a touch screen machine for it to be accessible, it was not feasible for the supervisor to provide such a system, since no such system had been certified at the time of the county's purchase. 28 C.F.R. § 35.160 did not require that visually or manually impaired voters be able to vote in the same or similar manner as non--disabled voters. |                              |             |                                       |

010331

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Visually and manually impaired voters had to be afforded an equal opportunity to participate in and enjoy the benefits of voting. The voters' "generic" discrimination claim was coterminous with their claim under 28 C.F.R. § 35.151. A declaratory judgment was entered against the supervisor to the extent another voting system would |                              |             |                                       |

010332

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | have permitted unassisted voting. The supervisor was directed to have some voting machines permitting visually impaired voters to vote alone. The supervisor was directed to procure another system if the county's system was not certified and/or did not permit mouth stick voting. The Secretary and Director were granted judgment against the voters. |                              |             |                                       |

010333

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case      | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Troiano v. Lepore | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 25850 | November 3, 2003 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters, sued defendant a state county supervisor of elections alleging discrimination pursuant to the Americans With Disability Act, 42 U.S.C.S. § 12132 et seq., § 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, 29 U.S.C.S. § 794 et seq., and declaratory relief for the discrimination. Both sides moved for summary judgment. | The complaint alleged that after the 2000 elections Palm Beach County purchased a certain number of sophisticated voting machines called the "Sequoia." According to the voters, even though such accessible machines were available, the supervisor decided not to place such accessible machines in each precinct because it would slow things down | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010334

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | too much. The court found that the voters lacked standing because they failed to show that they had suffered an injury in fact. The voters also failed to show a likely threat of a future injury because there was no reasonable grounds to believe that the audio components of the voting machines would not be provided in the future. The voters also failed to state |                              |             |                                       |

010335

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | an injury that could be redressed by a favorable decision, because the supervisor was already using the Sequoia machines and had already trained poll workers on the use of the machines. Finally, the action was moot because the Sequoia machines had been provided and there was no reasonable expectation that the machines would not have audio |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case                       | Court   | Citation                                  | Date              | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------------------|---|---|-------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                    |   |   |                   |  | components available in the future. The supervisor's motion for summary judgment was granted. The voters' motion for summary judgment was denied.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Troiano v. Supervisor of Elections | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 382 F.3d 1276; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 18497 | September 1, 2004 | Plaintiff visually impaired registered voters sued defendant county election supervisor, alleging that the failure to make available audio components in voting booths | The district court granted the election supervisor summary judgment on the grounds that the voters did not have standing to assert their claims and the claims were moot. The appellate court | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010037

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | to assist persons who were blind or visually impaired violated state and federal law. The United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida entered summary judgment in favor of the election supervisor. The voters appealed. | agreed that the case was moot because the election supervisor had furnished the requested audio components and those components were to be available in all of the county's voting precincts in upcoming elections. Specifically, the election supervisor had ceased the allegedly illegal practice of limiting access to the audio components |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | prior to receiving notice of the litigation. Moreover, since making the decision to use audio components in every election, the election supervisor had consistently followed that policy and taken actions to implement it even prior to the litigation. Thus, the appellate court could discern no hint that she had any intention of removing the accessible |                              |             |                                       |

010339

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case                                   | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |                  |  | voting machines in the future. Therefore, the voters' claims were moot, and the district court's dismissal was affirmed for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. The decision was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Smith | United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida | 227 F. Supp. 2d 1276; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21373 | October 16, 2002 | Plaintiff organization of people with disabilities and certain visually and manually impaired voters filed an action against defendant state and local | Individual plaintiffs were unable to vote unassisted with the equipment currently used in the county or the equipment the county had recently purchased. In order to vote,                  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010340

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | election officials and members of a city council, claiming violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C.S. § 12101 et seq., and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Fla. Const. art. VI, § 1. Defendants filed motions to dismiss. | the impaired individuals relied on the assistance of third parties. The court held that it could not say that plaintiffs would be unable to prove any state of facts that would satisfy the ripeness and standing requirements. The issue of whether several Florida statutory sections were violative of the Florida Constitution were so intertwined with the federal |                              |             |                                       |

010341

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | claims that to decline supplemental jurisdiction be an abuse of discretion. Those statutes which provided for assistance in voting did not violate Fla. Const. art. VI, § 1. Because plaintiffs may be able to prove that visually and manually impaired voters were being denied meaningful access to the service, program, or activity, the court could not |                              |             |                                       |

010342

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | say with certainty that they would not be entitled to relief under any state of facts which could be proved in support of their claims. Defendant council members were entitled to absolute legislative immunity. The state officials' motion to dismiss was granted in part such that the counts were dismissed with prejudice to the extent plaintiffs asserted that |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | they had been excluded from or denied the benefits of a program of direct and secret voting and in part was dismissed with leave to amend. The local officials motion to dismiss was granted in part such that all counts against the city council members were dismissed. |                              |             |                                       |

010343

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case    | Court   | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|---|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Johnson v. Bush | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 214 F. Supp. 2d 1333; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14782 | July 18, 2002 | Plaintiff felons sued defendant state officials for alleged violations of their constitutional rights. The officials moved and the felons cross-moved for summary judgment. | The felons had all successfully completed their terms of incarceration and/or probation, but their civil rights to register and vote had not been restored. They alleged that Florida's disenfranchisement law violated their rights under First, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Twenty--Fourth Amendments to the United States Constitution, as well as § 1983 and §§ 2 and 10 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Each of the felons' claims was fatally flawed. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010344

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | The felons' exclusion from voting did not violate the Equal Protection or Due Process Clauses of the United States Constitution. The First Amendment did not guarantee felons the right to vote. Although there was evidence that racial animus was a factor in the initial enactment of Florida's disenfranchisement law, there was no evidence that race played a part in the re-enactment of that provision. Although it appeared that there was a disparate impact on |                              |             |                                       |

010345

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |                             |                  |   | minorities, the cause was racially neutral. Finally, requiring the felons to pay their victim restitution before their rights would be restored did not constitute an improper poll tax or wealth qualification. The court granted the officials' motion for summary judgment and implicitly denied the felons' motion. Thus, the court dismissed the lawsuit with prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Locke | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington | 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22212 | December 1, 2000 | Plaintiffs, convicted felons who were also racial minorities, sued defendants for alleged | The felons alleged that Washington's felon disenfranchisement and restoration of civil rights   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010346

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | violations of the Voting Rights Act. The parties filed cross--motions for summary judgment. | schemes, premised upon Wash. Const. art. VI § 3, resulted in the denial of the right to vote to racial minorities in violation of the VRA. They argued that race bias in, or the discriminatory effect of, the criminal justice system resulted in a disproportionate number of racial minorities being disenfranchised following felony convictions. The court concluded that Washington's felon disenfranchisement provision disenfranchised a disproportionate number of |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | minorities; as a result, minorities were under--represented in Washington's political process. The Rooker--Feldman doctrine barred the felons from bringing any as--applied challenges, and even if it did not bar such claims, there was no evidence that the felons' individual convictions were born of discrimination in the criminal justice system. However, the felons' facial challenge also failed. The remedy they sought would create a new |                              |             |                                       |

010348

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case            | Court  | Citation                                  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |  |   |               |   | constitutional problem, allowing disenfranchisement only of white felons. Further, the felons did not establish a causal connection between the disenfranchisement provision and the prohibited result. The court granted defendants' motion and denied the felons' motion for summary judgment. |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Washington | United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 338 F.3d 1009; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 14810 | July 25, 2003 | Plaintiff inmates sued defendant state officials, claiming that Washington state's felon disenfranchisement scheme constitutes improper race--based vote denial | Upon conviction of infamous crimes in the state, (that is, crimes punishable by death or imprisonment in a state correctional facility), the inmates were disenfranchised.   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010349

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | in violation of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. The United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington granted of summary judgment dismissing the inmates' claims. The inmates appealed. | The inmates claimed that the disenfranchisement scheme violated § 2 because the criminal justice system was biased against minorities, causing a disproportionate minority representation among those being disenfranchised. The appellate court held, inter alia, that the district court erred in failing to consider evidence of racial bias in the state's criminal justice system in determining whether the state's felon disenfranchisement laws resulted in |                              |             |                                       |

010350

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | denial of the right to vote on account of race. Instead of applying its novel "by itself" causation standard, the district court should have applied a totality of the circumstances test that included analysis of the inmates' compelling evidence of racial bias in Washington's criminal justice system. However, the inmates lacked standing to challenge the restoration scheme because they presented no evidence of their eligibility, much |                              |             |                                       |

010351

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |   |                |   | less even allege that they were eligible for restoration, and had not attempted to have their civil rights restored. The court affirmed as to the eligibility claim but reversed and remanded for further proceedings to the bias in the criminal justice system claim. |                              |             |                                       |
| Muntaqim v. Coombe | United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 366 F.3d 102; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8077 | April 23, 2004 | Plaintiff inmate appealed a judgment of the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York, which granted summary judgment in favor of defendants in the inmate's action alleging violation | At issue was whether the VRA could be applied to N.Y. Elec. Law§ 5-106, which disenfranchised currently incarcerated felons and parolees. The instant court concluded that the Voting Rights Act did not apply to the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010352

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                    | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. | New York law. Applying the Act to state law would alter the traditional balance of power between the states and the federal government. The court was not convinced that there was a congruence and proportionality between the injury to be prevented or remedied (i.e., the use of vote denial and dilution schemes to avoid the strictures of the VRA), and the means adopted to that end (i.e., prohibition of state felon disenfranchisement law that resulted in |                              |             |                                       |

010353

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | vote denial or dilution but were not enacted with a discriminatory purpose). Further, there was no clear statement from Congress that the Act applied to state felon disenfranchisement statutes. Inter alia, defendants were entitled to qualified immunity as to claim asserted against them in their personal capacities, and to Eleventh Amendment immunity to the extent the inmate sought damages against defendants in their official capacities. The |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case                | Court   | Citation                                  | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|---|---|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |   |   |                   |   | district court's judgment was affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of Fla. | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 353 F.3d 1287; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 25859 | December 19, 2003 | Plaintiffs, ex--felon citizens of Florida, on their own right and on behalf of others, sought review of a decision of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, which granted summary judgment to defendants, members of the Florida Clemency Board in their official capacity. The citizens challenged the validity of the Florida felon disenfranchisement laws. | The citizens alleged that Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) was racially discriminatory and violated their constitutional rights. The citizens also alleged violations of the Voting Rights Act. The court of appeals initially examined the history of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) and determined that the citizens had presented evidence that historically the disenfranchisement provisions were motivated by a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010355

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | discriminatory animus. The citizens had met their initial burden of showing that race was a substantial motivating factor. The state was then required to show that the current disenfranchisement provisions would have been enacted absent the impermissible discriminatory intent. Because the state had not met its burden, summary judgment should not have been granted. The court of appeals found that the claim under the Voting Rights Act, also needed to |                              |             |                                       |

010356

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | be remanded for further proceedings. Under a totality of the circumstances, the district court needed to analyze whether intentional racial discrimination was behind the Florida disenfranchisement provisions. The court affirmed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment on the citizens' poll tax claim. The court reversed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment to the Board on the claims under the equal protection clause and for |                              |             |                                       |

010357

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case        | Court                          | Citation                                      | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--------------------------------|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |                                |   |                |   | violation of federal voting laws and remanded the matter to the district court for further proceedings.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Fischer v. Governor | Supreme Court of New Hampshire | 145 N.H. 28; 749 A.2d 321; 2000 N.H. LEXIS 16 | March 24, 2000 | Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged a ruling of the superior court that the felon disenfranchisement statutes violate N.H. Const. pt. I, Art. 11. | Appellee was incarcerated at the New Hampshire State Prison on felony convictions. When he requested an absentee ballot to vote from a city clerk, the request was denied. The clerk sent him a copy of N.H. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 607(A)(2) (1986), which prohibits a felon from voting "from the time of his sentence until his final discharge." The trial court | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010358

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | declared the disenfranchisement statutes unconstitutional and ordered local election officials to allow the plaintiff to vote. Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged this ruling. The central issue was whether the felon disenfranchisement statutes violated N.H. Const. pt. I, art. 11. After a review of the article, its constitutional history, and legislation pertinent to the right of felons to vote, the court concluded that the legislature retained the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case           | Court                  | Citation       | Date           | Facts                      | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|------------------------|----------------|----------------|----------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |                        |                |                |                            | authority under the article to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative authority, and reversed. Judgment reversed because the court concluded that the legislature retained its authority under the New Hampshire Constitution to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative authority. |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of | United States Court of | 405 F.3d 1214; | April 12, 2005 | Plaintiff individuals sued | The individuals argued that the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010360

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court                            | Citation                  | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------------------------------|---------------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Fla.         | Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 5945 |      | defendant members of Florida Clemency Board, arguing that Florida's felon disenfranchisement law, Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968), violated the Equal Protection Clause and the Voting Rights Act. The United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida granted the members summary judgment. A divided appellate panel reversed. The panel opinion was vacated and a rehearing en banc was granted. | racial animus motivating the adoption of Florida's disenfranchisement laws in 1868 remained legally operative despite the reenactment of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 in 1968. The subsequent reenactment eliminated any discriminatory taint from the law as originally enacted because the provision narrowed the class of disenfranchised individuals and was amended through a deliberative process. Moreover, there was no allegation of racial |                              |             |                                       |

010361

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | discrimination at the time of the reenactment. Thus, the disenfranchisement provision was not a violation of the Equal Protection Clause and the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on that claim. The argument that the Voting Rights Act applied to Florida's disenfranchisement provision was rejected because it raised grave constitutional concerns, i.e., prohibiting a practice that the Fourteenth Amendment |                              |             |                                       |

010362

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case          | Court                              | Citation                      | Date               | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------|--------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                       |                                    |                               |                    |   | permitted the state to maintain. In addition, the legislative history indicated that Congress never intended the Voting Rights Act to reach felon disenfranchisement provisions. Thus, the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on the Voting Rights Act claim. The motion for summary judgment in favor of the members was granted. |                              |             |                                       |
| Mixon v. Commonwealth | Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania | 759 A.2d 442; 2000 Pa. Commw. | September 18, 2000 | Respondents filed objections to petitioners' complaint seeking declaratory relief | Petitioner convicted felons were presently or had formerly been confined in state   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010363

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation     | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|--------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | LEXIS534 |      | as to the unconstitutionality of the Pennsylvania Election Code, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2600 -- 3591, and the Pennsylvania Voter Registration Act, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 961.101--961.5109, regarding felon voting rights. | prison. Petitioner elector was currently registered to vote in respondent state. Petitioners filed a complaint against respondent state seeking declaratory relief challenging as unconstitutional, state election and voting laws that excluded confined felons from the definition of qualified absentee electors and that barred a felon who had been released from a penal institution for less than five years from registering to vote. Respondents filed objections to petitioners' |                              |             |                                       |

010364

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | complaint. The court sustained respondents' objection that incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status because respondent state had broad power to determine the conditions under which suffrage could be exercised. However, petitioner elector had no standing and the court overruled objection as to deprivation of ex--felon voting rights. The court sustained respondents' objection since |                              |             |                                       |

010365

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation                    | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|-----------------------------|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |                             |                   |  | incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status and petitioner elector had no standing, but objection that ex--incarcerated felons' voting rights were deprived was overruled since status penalized them. |                              |             |                                       |
| Rosello v. Calderon | United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 27216 | November 30, 2004 | Plaintiff voters filed a § 1983 action against defendant government officials alleging violations the Due Process and Equal Protection Clauses of the U.S. Const. amend. XIV, resulting from the | The voters' § 1983 action against government officials alleged that absentee ballots for a gubernatorial election were untimely mailed and that split votes, which registered two votes for the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010366

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | invalidity of absentee and split ballots in a gubernatorial election. | same office, were null. The court asserted jurisdiction over the disparate treatment claims, which arose under the U.S. Constitution. The court declined to exercise discretionary abstention because the case was not merely a facial attack on the constitutionality of a statute, but was mainly an applied challenge, requiring a hearing in order to develop the record, and because equal protection and due process were secured under the state and federal constitutions. The |                              |             |                                       |

010367

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court held that the voters had a fundamental due process right created by Puerto Rico Election Law and suffered an equal protection violation in further violation of the U.S. Const. amend. I right to vote, thereby creating their total disenfranchisement. The court held that the evidence created an inference that the split ballots were not uniformly treated and that it was required to examine a mixed question of fact and constitutional law pursuant to federal |                              |             |                                       |

010368

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation                                      | Date            | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|---|-----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |   |                 |   | guidelines to determine whether potential over votes were invalid. The court asserted jurisdiction over the voters' claims.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Woodruff v. Wyoming | United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit | 49 Fed. Appx. 199; 2002 U.S. App. LEXIS 21060 | October 7, 2002 | Plaintiffs, pro se inmates, appealed from an order of the United States District Court for the District of Wyoming, dismissing their complaint brought under § 1983, challenging Wyo. Stat. Ann. § 6--10-106, which denied them, as convicted felons, the right to vote. The district court dismissed the action for failure to state a claim upon which relief could | The inmates argued that the statute violated their Eighth Amendment right and their State constitutional right to be free from cruel and unusual punishment, their equal protection rights under the Fourteenth Amendment and State Constitution, and their federal and state rights to due process. One inmate had not paid the appellate filing fee or filed a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010369

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                        | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | be granted and as frivolous. | motion to proceed on appeal without prepayment of costs or fees, and his appeal was dismissed. The court found that U.S. Const. amend. XIV, § 2 had long been held to exclude felons from the right to vote. It could scarcely be unreasonable for a state to decide that perpetrators of serious crimes should not take part in electing the legislators who made the laws, the executives who enforced them, the prosecutors who tried the cases, or the judges who heard their cases. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case                      | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |  |   |                  |  | The court also found the dismissed suit constituted a "strike" under 28 U.S.C.S. § 1915(g), although the suit did not challenge prison conditions per se. One inmate's appeal was dismissed; the judgment dismissing the other's complaint was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| N.J. State Conf.--NAACP v. Harvey | Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division | 381 N.J. Super. 155; 885 A.2d 445; 2005 N.J. Super. LEXIS 316 | November 2, 2005 | The Superior Court of New Jersey, Chancery Division, Union County, dismissed a complaint filed by plaintiff interested parties to invalidate N.J. Stat. Ann. § 19:4--1(8) on the ground that it denied | The statute at issue prohibited all people on parole or probation for indictable offenses from voting. The interested parties alleged that the criminal justice system in New Jersey discriminated   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010371

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | African--Americans and Hispanics equal protection of the law. Defendant, the New Jersey Attorney General, moved to dismiss the complaint for failure to state a claim, and said motion was granted. The interested parties then appealed. | against African-Americans and Hispanics, thereby disproportionately increasing their population among parolees and probationers and diluting their political power. As a result, the alleged that enforcement of the statute resulted in a denial of equal protection under the state Constitution. The appeals court disagreed. N.J. Const. art. II authorized the New Jersey Legislature to disenfranchise persons convicted of certain crimes from voting. Moreover, those |                              |             |                                       |

010372

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                   | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|----------------------------|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |                            |              |  | convicts could not vote unless pardoned or unless otherwise restored by law to the right of suffrage. The statute also limited the period of disenfranchisement during a defendant's actual service on parole or probation. Thus, it clearly complied with this specific constitutional mandate. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| King v. City of Boston | United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8421 | May 13, 2004 | Plaintiff inmate filed a motion for summary judgment in his action challenging the constitutionality of Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1, which | The inmate was convicted of a felony and incarcerated. His application for an absentee ballot was denied on the ground that he was  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010373

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | excluded incarcerated felons from voting while they were imprisoned. | not qualified to register and vote under Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1. The inmate argued that the statute was unconstitutional as it applied to him because it amounted to additional punishment for crimes he committed before the statute's enactment and thus violated his due process rights and the prohibition against ex post facto laws and bills of attainder. The court held that the statute was regulatory and not punitive because rational choices |                              |             |                                       |

010374

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | were implicated in the statute's disenfranchisement of persons under guardianship, persons disqualified because of corrupt elections practices, persons under 18 years of age, as well as incarcerated felons. Specifically, incarcerated felons were disqualified during the period of their imprisonment when it would be difficult to identify their address and ensure the accuracy of their ballots. Therefore, the court concluded that Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1 did not violate the inmate's constitutional |                              |             |                                       |

010375

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case  | Court   | Citation  | Date            | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|-----------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |                 |  | rights. The court found the statute at issue to be constitutional and denied the inmate's motion for summary judgment.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Southwest Voter Registration Educ. Project v. Shelley | United States District Court for the Central District of California | 278 F. Supp. 2d 1131; 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14413 | August 15, 2003 | Plaintiffs, several groups, brought suit alleging that the proposed use of "punch-card" balloting machines in the California election would violate the United States Constitution and Voting Rights Act. Plaintiffs moved for an order delaying that election, scheduled for October 7, 2003, until such time as it could be conducted without use of punch--card | Plaintiffs claimed voters using punch-card machines would have a comparatively lesser chance of having their votes counted in violation of the Equal Protection Clause and the counties employing punch--card systems had greater minority populations thereby disproportionately disenfranchising and/or diluting the votes on the basis of race, in violation | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010376

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts     | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | machines. | of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. While the court did not need to decide the res judicata issue at this juncture, there was ample reason to believe that plaintiffs would have had a difficult time overcoming it as they were seeking to establish the same constitutional violations alleged in prior litigation, but to secure an additional remedy. Plaintiffs failed to prove a likelihood of success on the merits with regard to both of their claims. Even if plaintiffs could show disparate |                              |             |                                       |

010377

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | treatment, such would not have amounted to illegal or unconstitutional treatment. The balance of hardships weighed heavily in favor of allowing the election to proceed. The public interests in avoiding wholesale disenfranchisement, and/or not plunging the State into a constitutional crisis, weighed heavily against enjoining the election. Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction (consolidated with plaintiffs' ex parte application for |                              |             |                                       |

010378

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case                         | Court  | Citation                                 | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------------|--|--|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                      |  |  |                |   | temporary restraining order) was denied.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Igartua--de la Rosa v. United States | United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit | 417 F.3d 145; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 15944 | August 3, 2005 | Plaintiff, a U.S. citizen residing in Puerto Rico, appealed from an order of the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico, that rejected his claim that he was deprived of the constitutional right to vote for President and Vice President of the United States, and was also violative of three treaty obligations of the United States. | The putative voter had brought the same claims twice before. The court pointed out that U.S. law granted to the citizens of states the right to vote for the slate of electors to represent that state. Although modern ballots omitted the names of the electors and listed only the candidates, and in form it appeared that the citizens were voting for President and Vice President directly, they were not, but were voting for electors. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disenfranchisement Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Puerto Rico was not a state, and had not been enfranchised as the District of Columbia had by the 23rd Amendment. The franchise for choosing electors was confined to "states" by the Constitution. The court declined to turn to foreign or treaty law as a source to reverse the political will of the country. The judgment of the district court was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case            | Court  | Citation                                | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--|---|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| United States v. Madden | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 403 F.3d 347; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 5326 | April 4, 2005 | Defendant appealed his conviction for violating the federal vote--buying statute. He also appealed the sentence imposed by the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky at Pikeville. The district court applied the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual (Guidelines) § 3B1.1(c) supervisory--role | Defendant paid three people to vote for a local candidate in a primary election. The same ballot contained candidates for the U.S. Senate. While he waived his right to appeal his conviction, he nonetheless asserted two arguments in seeking to avoid the waiver. He first posited that the vote buying statute prohibited only buying votes for federal candidates----a prohibition not | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010381

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

Deliberative Process
Privilege

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | enhancement and increased defendant's base offense level by two levels. | violated by his conduct. In the alternative, he stated if the statute did criminalize buying votes for state or local candidates, then the statute was unconstitutional. Both arguments failed. Defendant argued that applying the supervisory--role enhancement constituted impermissible double counting because the supervision he exercised was no more than necessary to |                              |             |                                       |

010382

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | establish a vote-buying offense. That argument also failed. Defendant next argued that the district court erred by applying the vulnerable-victim enhancement under U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual § 3A1.1(b)(1). He acknowledged that he knew the mentally ill people who sold their votes were vulnerable, but maintained they were not victims because they received $50 for |                              |             |                                       |

010383

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                                 | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|--|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |  |              |  | their votes. The vote sellers were not victims for Guidelines purposes. The district court erred. Defendant's appeal of conviction was dismissed. Defendant's sentence was vacated, and the case was remanded for resentencing. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Slone | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 411 F.3d 643; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 10137 | June 3, 2005 | Defendant pled guilty to vote buying in a federal election. The United States District Court for the Eastern District of | Defendant offered to pay voters for voting in a primary election. Defendant claimed that the vote buying statute did not apply to him  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010384

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Kentucky sentenced defendant to 10 months in custody and recommended that the sentence be served at an institution that could accommodate defendant's medical needs. Defendant appealed his conviction and sentence. | because his conduct related solely to a candidate for a county office. Alternatively, defendant asserted that the statute was unconstitutional because it exceeded Congress' enumerated powers. Finally, defendant argued that the district court erred when it failed to consider his medical condition as a ground for a downward departure at sentencing. The |                              |             |                                       |

010385

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | appellate court found that the vote buying statute applied to all elections in which a federal candidate was on the ballot, and the government need not prove that defendant intended to affect the federal component of the election by his corrupt practices. The facts admitted by defendant at his guilty-plea hearing established all of the essential elements of an |                              |             |                                       |

010386

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | offense. The Elections Clause and the Necessary and Proper Clause combined to provide Congress with the power to regulate mixed federal and state elections even when federal candidates were running unopposed. There was no error in the district court's decision on departure under U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual § 5H1.4. Defendant's conviction and |                              |             |                                       |

010387

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                                       | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|--|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |  |               |   | sentence were affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Smith | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 139 Fed. Appx. 681; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 14855 | July 18, 2005 | Defendants were convicted of vote buying and conspiracy to buy votes. The United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky entered judgment on the jury verdict and sentenced defendants. Defendants appealed. | One of the defendants was a state representative who decided to run for an elected position. Defendants worked together and with others to buy votes. During defendants' trial, in addition to testimony regarding vote buying, evidence was introduced that two witnesses had been threatened. The appellate court found that defendants | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010388

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | failed to show evidence of prejudice with regard to denial of the motion for severance. Threat evidence was not excludable under Fed. R. Evid. 404(b) because it was admissible to show consciousness of guilt without any inference as to the character of defendants. Admission of witnesses' testimony was proper because each witness testified that he or she was approached by a |                              |             |                                       |

010389

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | member of the conspiracy and offered money for his or her vote. The remaining incarcerated defendant's challenges to his sentence had merit because individuals who sold their votes were not "victims" for the purposes of U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual § 3A1.1. Furthermore, application of U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual § 3B1.1(b) violated |                              |             |                                       |

010390

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case     | Court              | Citation             | Date           | Facts               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--------------------|----------------------|----------------|---------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |                    |                      |                |                     | defendant's Sixth Amendment rights because it was based on facts that defendant did not admit or proved to the jury beyond a reasonable doubt. Defendants' convictions were affirmed. The remaining incarcerated defendant's sentence was vacated and his case was remanded for resentencing in accordance with Booker. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nugent v. Phelps | Court of Appeal of | 816 So. 2d 349; 2002 | April 23, 2002 | Plaintiff incumbent | The incumbent argued that: (1)  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010391

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court                     | Citation            | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------------------|---------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Louisiana, Second Circuit | La. App. LEXIS 1138 |      | police chief sued defendant challenger, the winning candidate, to have the election nullified and a new election held based on numerous irregularities and unlawful activities by the challenger and his supporters. The challenger won the election by a margin of four votes. At the end of the incumbent's | the number of persons who were bribed for their votes by the challenger's worker was sufficient to change the outcome of the election; (2) the trial judge failed to inform potential witnesses that they could be given immunity from prosecution for bribery of voters if they came forth with truthful testimony; (3) the votes of three of his ardent supporters |                              |             |                                       |

010392

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | case, the district court for the dismissed his suit. The incumbent appealed. | should have been counted because they were incarcerated for the sole purpose of keeping them from campaigning and voting; and (4) the district attorney, a strong supporter of the challenger, abused his power when he subpoenaed the incumbent to appear before the grand jury a week preceding the election. The appellate court held no more than two votes would be |                              |             |                                       |

010393

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | subtracted, a difference that would be insufficient to change the election result or make it impossible to determine. The appellate court found the trial judge read the immunity portion of the statute to the potential witnesses. The appellate court found the arrests of the three supporters were the result of grand jury indictments, and there was no manifest error in holding that the |                              |             |                                       |

010394

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                           | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|---------------------------------|----------------------------|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                                 |                            |                   |   | incumbent failed to prove a scheme by the district attorney. The judgment of the trial court was affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Eason v. State | Court of Appeals of Mississippi | 2005 Miss. App. LEXIS 1017 | December 13, 2005 | Defendant appealed a decision of circuit court convicting him of one count of conspiracy to commit voter fraud and eight counts of voter fraud. | Defendant was helping with his cousin's campaign in a run--off election for county supervisor. Together, they drove around town, picking up various people who were either at congregating spots or their homes. Defendant would drive the voters to the clerk's office | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010395

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | where they would vote by absentee ballot and defendant would give them beer or money. Defendant claimed he was entitled to a mistrial because the prosecutor advanced an impermissible "sending the message" argument. The court held that it was precluded from reviewing the entire context in which the argument arose because, while the prosecutor's closing |                              |             |                                       |

010396

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | argument was in the record, the defense counsel's closing argument was not. Also, because the prosecutor's statement was incomplete due to defense counsel's objection, the court could not say that the statement made it impossible for defendant to receive a fair trial. Furthermore, the trial judge did not abuse his discretion when he did not allow defendant |                              |             |                                       |

010397

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case            | Court   | Citation                    | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|---|-----------------------------|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |   |                             |                   |  | to ask the individual whether she wanted to see defendant go to prison because the individual's potential bias was shown by the individual's testimony that she expected the prosecution to recommend her sentence. The court affirmed defendant's conviction. |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Turner | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky | 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 31709 | November 30, 2005 | Defendants were charged with committing mail fraud and conspiracy to commit mail fraud and | Defendants argued that recusal was mandated by 28 U.S.C.S. § 455(a) and (b)(1). The court found no merit in defendants'  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010398

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | vote--buying. First defendant filed a motion to recuse. Second defendant's motion to join the motion to recuse was granted. First defendant moved to compel the Government to grant testimonial use immunity to second defendant and moved to sever defendants. | arguments. The fact that the judge's husband was the commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Environmental Protection, a position to which he was appointed by the Republican Governor, was not relevant. The judge's husband was neither a party nor a witness. The court further concluded that no reasonable person could find that the judge's spouse had any direct |                              |             |                                       |

010399

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | interest in the instant action. As for issue of money donated by the judge's husband to Republican opponents of first defendant, the court could not discern any reason why such facts warranted recusal. First defendant asserted that second defendant should have been granted use immunity based on a belief that second defendant would testify that first defendant did |                              |             |                                       |

010400

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not agree to, possess knowledge of, engage in, or otherwise participate in any of the illegal activity alleged in the indictment. The court found the summary of expected testimony to be too general to grant immunity. In addition, it was far from clear whether the court had the power to grant testimonial use immunity to second defendant. Defendants' motion to recuse |                              |             |                                       |

010401

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Vote Buying Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was denied.First defendant's motions to compel and to sever were denied. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case    | Court                     | Citation  | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|---------------------------|---|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Ways v. Shively | Supreme Court of Nebraska | 264 Neb. 250; 646 N.W.2d 621; 2002 Neb. LEXIS 158 | July 5, 2002 | Appellant felon filed a writ of mandamus, which sought to compel appellee Election Commissioner of Lancaster County, Nebraska, to permit him to register to vote. The District Court for Lancaster County denied the felon's petition for writ of mandamus and dismissed the petition. The felon appealed. | The felon was discharged from the Nebraska State Penitentiary in June 1998 after completing his sentences for the crimes of pandering, carrying a concealed weapon and attempting to possess a controlled substance. The commissioner asserted that as a result of the felon's conviction, the sentence for which had neither been reversed nor annulled, he had lost his right to vote. The commissioner contended that the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010903

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | only method by which the felon's right to vote could be restored was through a warrant of discharge issued by the Nebraska Board of Pardons---a warrant of discharge had not been issued. The supreme court ruled that the certificate of discharge issued to the felon upon his release did not restore his right to vote. The supreme court ruled that as a matter of law, the specific right to vote was not restored to the felon upon his discharge from incarceration at the |                              |             |                                       |

010404

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case        | Court                          | Citation                                      | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--------------------------------|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |                                |   |                |   | completion of his sentences. The judgment was affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Fischer v. Governor | Supreme Court of New Hampshire | 145 N.H. 28; 749 A.2d 321; 2000 N.H. LEXIS 16 | March 24, 2000 | Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged a ruling of the superior court that the felon disenfranchisement statutes violate N.H. Const. pt. I, Art. 11. | Appellee was incarcerated at the New Hampshire State Prison on felony convictions. When he requested an absentee ballot to vote from a city clerk, the request was denied. The clerk sent him a copy of N.H. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 607(A)(2) (1986), which prohibits a felon from voting "from the time of his sentence until his final discharge." The trial court declared the disenfranchisement | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010405

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | statutes unconstitutional and ordered local election officials to allow the plaintiff to vote. Appellant State of New Hampshire challenged this ruling. The central issue was whether the felon disenfranchisement statutes violated N.H. Const. pt. I, art. 11. After a review of the article, its constitutional history, and legislation pertinent to the right of felons to vote, the court concluded that the legislature retained the authority under |                              |             |                                       |

010406

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the article to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative authority, and reversed. Judgment reversed because the court concluded that the legislature retained its authority under the New Hampshire Constitution to determine voter qualifications and that the felon disenfranchisement statutes were a reasonable exercise of legislative |                              |             |                                       |

010407

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case          | Court                              | Citation                                | Date               | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------|------------------------------------|---|--------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                       |                                    |   |                    |   | authority.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Mixon v. Commonwealth | Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania | 759 A.2d 442; 2000 Pa. Commw. LEXIS 534 | September 18, 2000 | Respondents filed objections to petitioners' complaint seeking declaratory relief as to the unconstitutionality of the Pennsylvania Election Code, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2600 -- 3591, and the Pennsylvania Voter Registration Act, 25 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 961.101--961.5109, regarding felon voting rights. | Petitioner convicted felons were presently or had formerly been confined in state prison. Petitioner elector was currently registered to vote in respondent state. Petitioners filed a complaint against respondent state seeking declaratory relief challenging as unconstitutional, state election and voting laws that excluded confined felons from the definition of qualified absentee electors and that barred a felon who had been released | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010408

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | from a penal institution for less than five years from registering to vote. Respondents filed objections to petitioners' complaint. The court sustained respondents' objection that incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status because respondent state had broad power to determine the conditions under which suffrage could be exercised. However, petitioner elector had no standing |                              |             |                                       |

010409

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case       | Court                        | Citation  | Date            | Facts                              | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|------------------------------|-----------|-----------------|------------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |                              |           |                 |                                    | and the court overruled objection as to deprivation of ex--felon voting rights. The court sustained respondents' objection since incarcerated felons were not unconstitutionally deprived of qualified absentee elector status and petitioner elector had no standing, but objection that ex--incarcerated felons' voting rights were deprived was overruled since status penalized them. |                              |             |                                       |
| NAACP Philadelphia | United States District Court | 2000 U.S. | August 14, 2000 | Plaintiffs moved for a preliminary | Plaintiffs, ex--felon,  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case    | Court                                    | Citation          | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|-------------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Branch v. Ridge | for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania | Dist. LEXIS 11520 |      | injunction, which the parties agreed to consolidate with the merits determination for a permanent injunction, in plaintiffs' civil rights suit contending that the Pennsylvania Voter Registration Act, offended the Equal Protection Clause of U.S. Const. amend. XIV. | unincorporated association, and others, filed a civil rights suit against defendant state and local officials, contending that the Pennsylvania Voter Registration Act, violated the Equal Protection Clause by prohibiting some ex--felons from voting during the five year period following their release from prison, while permitting other ex--felons to vote. Plaintiffs conceded that one plaintiff lacked standing, and the court assumed the remaining |                              |             |                                       |

010411

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | plaintiffs had standing. The court found that all that all three of the special circumstances necessary to invoke the Pullman doctrine were present in the case, but found that abstention was not appropriate under the circumstances since it did not agree with plaintiffs' contention that the time constraints caused by the upcoming election meant that the option of pursuing their claims in state court did not offer plaintiffs an adequate remedy. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case       | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |   |                             |                  |   | Plaintiff's motion for permanent injunction denied; the court abstained from deciding merits of plaintiffs' claims under the Pullman doctrine because all three of the special circumstances necessary to invoke the doctrine were present in the case; all further proceedings stayed until further order. |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Locke | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington | 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22212 | December 1, 2000 | Plaintiffs, convicted felons who were also racial minorities, sued defendants for alleged violations of the Voting Rights Act. The parties filed cross--motions for | The felons alleged that Washington's felon disenfranchisement and restoration of civil rights schemes, premised upon Wash. Const. art. VI § 3, resulted in the denial of the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010413

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts             | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | summary judgment. | right to vote to racial minorities in violation of the VRA. They argued that race bias in, or the discriminatory effect of, the criminal justice system resulted in a disproportionate number of racial minorities being disenfranchised following felony convictions. The court concluded that Washington's felon disenfranchisement provision disenfranchised a disproportionate number of minorities; as a result, minorities were under--represented in |                              |             |                                       |

010414

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Washington's political process. The Rooker--Feldman doctrine barred the felons from bringing any as--applied challenges, and even if it did not bar such claims, there was no evidence that the felons' individual convictions were born of discrimination in the criminal justice system. However, the felons' facial challenge also failed. The remedy they sought would create a new constitutional problem, allowing disenfranchisement only of white |                              |             |                                       |

010415

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case    | Court   | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|---|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |   |   |               |   | felons. Further, the felons did not establish a causal connection between the disenfranchisement provision and the prohibited result. The court granted defendants' motion and denied the felons' motion for summary judgment. |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Bush | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 214 F. Supp. 2d 1333; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14782 | July 18, 2002 | Plaintiff felons sued defendant state officials for alleged violations of their constitutional rights. The officials moved and the felons cross-moved for summary judgment. | The felons had all successfully completed their terms of incarceration and/or probation, but their civil rights to register and vote had not been restored. They alleged that Florida's disenfranchisement                     | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010416

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | law violated their rights under First, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Twenty--Fourth Amendments to the United States Constitution, as well as § 1983 and §§ 2 and 10 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Each of the felons' claims was fatally flawed. The felons' exclusion from voting did not violate the Equal Protection or Due Process Clauses of the United States Constitution. The First Amendment did not guarantee felons the right to vote. Although there was evidence |                              |             |                                       |

010417

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | that racial animus was a factor in the initial enactment of Florida's disenfranchisement law, there was no evidence that race played a part in the re-enactment of that provision. Although it appeared that there was a disparate impact on minorities, the cause was racially neutral. Finally, requiring the felons to pay their victim restitution before their rights would be restored did not constitute an improper poll tax or wealth qualification. The court granted the |                              |             |                                       |

010418

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case           | Court  | Citation                   | Date         | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|--|----------------------------|--------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |  |                            |              |   | officials' motion for summary judgment and implicitly denied the felons' motion. Thus, the court dismissed the lawsuit with prejudice.   |                              |             |                                       |
| King v. City of Boston | United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8421 | May 13, 2004 | Plaintiff inmate filed a motion for summary judgment in his action challenging the constitutionality of Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1, which excluded incarcerated felons from voting while they were imprisoned. | The inmate was convicted of a felony and incarcerated. His application for an absentee ballot was denied on the ground that he was not qualified to register and vote under Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1. The inmate argued that the statute was unconstitutional as it applied to him because it amounted to | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010419

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | additional punishment for crimes he committed before the statute's enactment and thus violated his due process rights and the prohibition against ex post facto laws and bills of attainder. The court held that the statute was regulatory and not punitive because rational choices were implicated in the statute's disenfranchisement of persons under guardianship, persons disqualified because of corrupt elections practices, persons under 18 |                              |             |                                       |

010420

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | years of age, as well as incarcerated felons. Specifically, incarcerated felons were disqualified during the period of their imprisonment when it would be difficult to identify their address and ensure the accuracy of their ballots. Therefore, the court concluded that Mass. Gen. Laws ch. 51, § 1 did not violate the inmate's constitutional rights. The court found the statute at issue to be constitutional and denied the inmate's |                              |             |                                       |

010421

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                    | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|-----------------------------|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |  |                             |               |   | motion for summary judgment.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Hayden v. Pataki | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 10863 | June 14, 2004 | In a 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983 action filed by plaintiffs, black and latino convicted felons, alleging that N.Y. Const. art. II, § 3 and N.Y. Elec. Law § 5--106(2) were unconstitutional, defendants, New York's governor and the chairperson of the board of elections, moved for judgment on the pleadings under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(c). | The felons sued defendants, alleging that N.Y. Const. art. II, § 3 and N.Y. Elec. Law § 5--106(2) unlawfully denied suffrage to incarcerated and paroled felons on account of their race. The court granted defendants' motion for judgment on the pleadings on the felons' claims under U.S. Const. amend. XIV, XV because their factual allegations were insufficient from which to draw an inference | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010422

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | that the challenged provisions or their predecessors were enacted with discriminatory intent, and because denying suffrage to those who received more severe punishments, such as a term of incarceration, and not to those who received a lesser punishment, such as probation, was not arbitrary. The felons' claims under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1973 were dismissed because § 1973 could not be used to challenge the legality of N.Y. Elec. Law § 5--106. Defendants' |                              |             |                                       |

010423

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | motion was granted as to the felons' claims under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1971 because § 1971 did not provide for a private right of action, and because the felons were not "otherwise qualified to vote." The court also granted defendants' motion on the felons' U.S. Const. amend. I claim because it did not guarantee a felon the right to vote. Defendants' motion for judgment on the pleadings was granted in the felons' § 1983 |                              |             |                                       |

010424

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case            | Court   | Citation                                  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|---|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |   |   |               |   | action.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Farrakhan v. Washington | United States Court for Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 338 F.3d 1009; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 14810 | July 25, 2003 | Plaintiff inmates sued defendant state officials, claiming that Washington state's felon disenfranchisement scheme constitutes improper race--based vote denial in violation of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. The United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington granted of summary judgment dismissing the inmates' claims. The inmates appealed. | Upon conviction of infamous crimes in the state, (that is, crimes punishable by death or imprisonment in a state correctional facility), the inmates were disenfranchised. The inmates claimed that the disenfranchisement scheme violated § 2 because the criminal justice system was biased against minorities, causing a disproportionate minority representation among those being disenfranchised. The appellate court held, inter alia, that | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010425

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the district court erred in failing to consider evidence of racial bias in the state's criminal justice system in determining whether the state's felon disenfranchisement laws resulted in denial of the right to vote on account of race. Instead of applying its novel "by itself" causation standard, the district court should have applied a totality of the circumstances test that included analysis of the inmates' compelling evidence of racial |                              |             |                                       |

010426

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | bias in Washington's criminal justice system. However, the inmates lacked standing to challenge the restoration scheme because they presented no evidence of their eligibility, much less even allege that they were eligible for restoration, and had not attempted to have their civil rights restored. The court affirmed as to the eligibility claim but reversed and remanded for further proceedings to the bias in the criminal justice system |                              |             |                                       |

010427

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                     | Citation                                      | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|---------------------------|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                           |   |                  |  | claim.  |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Phillips | Supreme Court of Virginia | 265 Va. 81; 574 S.E.2d 270; 2003 Va. LEXIS 10 | January 10, 2003 | The circuit court, entered a judgment in which it declined to consider petitioner former felon's petition for approval of her request to seek restoration of her eligibility to register to vote. The former felon appealed. | More than five years earlier, the former felon was convicted of the felony of making a false written statement incident to a firearm purchase. She then petitioned the trial court asking it to approve her request to seek restoration of her eligibility to register to vote. Her request was based on Va. Code Ann. § 53.1--231.2, allowing persons convicted of non--violent felonies to petition a trial court for approval of a request to seek | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010428

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | restoration of voting rights. The trial court declined. It found that Va. Code Ann. § 53.1--231.2 violated constitutional separation of powers principles since it gave the trial court powers belonging to the governor. It also found that even if the statute was constitutional, it was fundamentally flawed for not providing notice to respondent Commonwealth regarding a petition. After the petition was denied, the state supreme court |                              |             |                                       |

010429

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court         | Citation | Date     | Facts     | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------|----------|----------|-----------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |               |          |          |           | found the separation of powers principles were not violated since the statute only allowed the trial court to determine if an applicant met the requirements to have voting eligibility restored. It also found the statute was not fundamentally flawed since the Commonwealth was not an interested party entitled to notice. OUTCOME: The judgment was reversed and the case was remanded for further proceedings. |                              |             |                                       |
| Howard v.    | United States | 2000     | February | Appellant | Appellant was  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010430

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court                                   | Citation             | Date     | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|----------------------|----------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Gilmore      | Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit | U.S. App. LEXIS 2680 | 23, 2000 | challenged the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia's order summarily dismissing his complaint, related to his inability to vote as a convicted felon, for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. | disenfranchised by the Commonwealth of Virginia following his felony conviction. He challenged that decision by suing the Commonwealth under the U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, XV, XIX, and XXIV, and under the Voting Rights Act of 1965. The lower court summarily dismissed his complaint under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6) for failure to state a claim. Appellant challenged. The court found U.S. Const. amend. I |                              |             |                                       |

010431

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | created no private right of action for seeking reinstatement of previously canceled voting rights, U.S. Const. amends. XIV, XV, XIX, and the VRA required either gender or race discrimination, neither of which appellant asserted, and the U.S. Const. amend. XXIV, while prohibiting the imposition of poll taxes, did not prohibit the imposition of a $10 fee for reinstatement of appellant's civil rights, including the right to vote. Consequently, |                              |             |                                       |

010432

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case                | Court   | Citation                            | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|---|-------------------------------------|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |   |                                     |                   |   | appellant failed to state a claim. The court affirmed, finding that none of the constitutional provisions appellant relied on were properly pled because appellant failed to assert that either his race or gender were involved in the decisions to deny him the vote. Conditioning reestablishment of his civil rights on a $10 fee was not unconstitutional. |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of Fla. | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 353 F.3d 1287; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS | December 19, 2003 | Plaintiffs, ex--felon citizens of Florida, on their own right and on behalf of others, sought review of a | The citizens alleged that Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) was racially discriminatory and violated their  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010433

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | 25859    |      | decision of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, which granted summary judgment to defendants, members of the Florida Clemency Board in their official capacity. The citizens challenged the validity of the Florida felon disenfranchisement laws. | constitutional rights. The citizens also alleged violations of the Voting Rights Act. The court initially examined the history of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 (1968) and determined that the citizens had presented evidence that historically the disenfranchisement provisions were motivated by a discriminatory animus. The citizens had met their initial burden of showing that race was a substantial motivating factor. The state was then required to show |                              |             |                                       |

010434

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | that the current disenfranchisement provisions would have been enacted absent the impermissible discriminatory intent. Because the state had not met its burden, summary judgment should not have been granted. The court found that the claim under the Voting Rights Act, also needed to be remanded for further proceedings. Under a totality of the circumstances, the district court needed to analyze whether intentional racial discrimination was |                              |             |                                       |

010435

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case   | Court    | Citation | Date      | Facts               | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|----------|----------|-----------|---------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |          |          |           |                     | behind the Florida disenfranchisement provisions, in violation of the Voting Rights Act. The court affirmed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment on the citizens' poll tax claim. The court reversed the district court's decision to grant summary judgment to the Board on the claims under the equal protection clause and for violation of federal voting laws and remanded the matter to the district court for further proceedings. |                              |             |                                       |
| State v. Black | Court of | 2002     | September | In 1997, petitioner | The appellate  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010436

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court                | Citation             | Date     | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------------------|----------------------|----------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Appeals of Tennessee | Tenn. App. LEXIS 696 | 26, 2002 | was convicted of forgery and sentenced to the penitentiary for two years, but was immediately placed on probation. He subsequently petitioned the circuit court for restoration of citizenship. The trial court restored his citizenship rights. The State appealed. The appellate court issued its opinion, but granted the State's motions to supplement the record and to rehear its decision. | court's original opinion found that petitioner had not lost his right to hold public office because Tennessee law removed that right only from convicted felons who were "sentenced to the penitentiary." The trial court's amended judgment made it clear that petitioner was in fact sentenced to the penitentiary. Based upon this correction to the record, the appellate court found that petitioner's sentence to the penitentiary resulted in the |                              |             |                                       |

010437

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | forfeiture of his right to seek and hold public office by operation of Tenn. Code Ann. § 40-20--114. However, the appellate court concluded that this new information did not requires a different outcome on the merits of the issue of restoration of his citizenship rights, including the right to seek and hold public office. The appellate court adhered to its conclusion that the statutory presumption in favor of the restoration was not overcome by a |                              |             |                                       |

010438

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case                | Court   | Citation                                 | Date           | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------|---|--|----------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                             |   |  |                |  | showing, by a preponderance of the evidence, of good cause to deny the petition for restoration of citizenship rights. The appellate court affirmed the restoration of petitioner's right to vote and reversed the denial of his right to seek and hold public office. His full rights of citizenship were restored. |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Governor of Fla. | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 405 F.3d 1214; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 5945 | April 12, 2005 | Plaintiff individuals sued defendant members of Florida Clemency Board, arguing that Florida's felon disenfranchisement law, Fla. Const. | The individuals argued that the racial animus motivating the adoption of Florida's disenfranchisement laws in 1868 remained legally   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010439

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | art. VI, § 4 (1968), violated the Equal Protection Clause and 42 U.S.C.S. § 1973. The United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida granted the members summary judgment. A divided appellate panel reversed. The panel opinion was vacated and a rehearing en banc was granted. | operative despite the reenactment of Fla. Const. art. VI, § 4 in 1968. The subsequent reenactment eliminated any discriminatory taint from the law as originally enacted because the provision narrowed the class of disenfranchised individuals and was amended through a deliberative process. Moreover, there was no allegation of racial discrimination at the time of the reenactment. Thus, the disenfranchisement provision was not |                              |             |                                       |

010740

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | a violation of the Equal Protection Clause and the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on that claim. The argument that 42 U.S.C.S. § 1973 applied to Florida's disenfranchisement provision was rejected because it raised grave constitutional concerns, i.e., prohibiting a practice that the Fourteenth Amendment permitted the state to maintain. In addition, the legislative history indicated that Congress never |                              |             |                                       |

010441

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Felon Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | intended the Voting Rights Act to reach felon disenfranchisement provisions. Thus, the district court properly granted the members summary judgment on the Voting Rights Act claim. The motion for summary judgment in favor of the members was granted. |                              |             |                                       |

010442

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case                 | Court  | Citation                                 | Date            | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------------|--|--|-----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Jenkins v. Williamson-Butler | Court of Appeal of Louisiana, Fourth Circuit | 883 So. 2d 537; 2004 La. App. LEXIS 2433 | October 8, 2004 | Petitioner, a candidate for a parish juvenile court judgeship, failed to qualify for a runoff election. She filed suit against defendant, the clerk of criminal court for the parish seeking a new election, based on grounds of substantial irregularities. The district court ruled in favor of the candidate | The trial court found that the voting machines were not put into service until two, four, and, in many instances, eight hours after the statutorily mandated starting hour which constituted serious irregularities so as to deprive voters from freely expressing their will. It was impossible to determine the number of voters that were affected by the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010443

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation                                  | Date            | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|---|-----------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |   |                 | and ordered the holding of a restricted citywide election. The clerk appealed. | late start up or late arrival of voting machines, making it impossible to determine the result. The appellate court agreed that the irregularities were so serious that the trial court's voiding the election and calling a new election was the proper remedy. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Hester v. McKeithen | Court of Appeal of Louisiana, Fourth Circuit | 882 So. 2d 1291; 2004 La. App. LEXIS 2429 | October 8, 2004 | Petitioner, school board candidate, filed suit against defendants, Louisiana   | The candidate argued that the trial court erred in not setting aside the election, even after   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010444

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case  | Court                 | Citation   | Date           | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-----------------------|--|----------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                       |  |                | Secretary of State and district court clerk, contesting the school board election results. The trial court rendered judgment against the candidate, finding no basis for the election to be declared void. The candidate appealed. | acknowledging in its reasons for judgment numerous irregularities with the election process. The appellate court ruled that had the irregularities not occurred the outcome would have been exactly the same. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Election Contest of Democratic Primary Election | Supreme Court of Ohio | 88 Ohio St. 3d 258; 2000 Ohio 325; 725 N.E.2d 271; 2000 Ohio | March 29, 2000 | Appellant sought review of the judgment of the court of common   | Appellant contended that an election irregularity occurred when the board failed   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010445

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case     | Court | Citation  | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|-------|-----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Held May 4, 1999 |       | LEXIS 607 |      | pleas denying his election contest challenging an opponent's nomination for election irregularity. | to meet and act by majority vote on another candidate's withdrawal, instead permitting its employees to make decisions. Appellant had to prove by clear and convincing evidence that one or more election irregularities occurred and it affected enough votes to change or make uncertain the result of the election. Judgment affirmed. The appellant did |                              |             |                                       |

010446

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                         | Citation                                       | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-------------------------------|--|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                               |  |              |   | not establish election irregularity by the board's actions on the candidate's withdrawal, the board acted diligently and exercised its discretion in keeping the candidate's name on the ballot and notifying electors of his withdrawal. |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Election Contest As to Watertown Special Referendum Election | Supreme Court of South Dakota | 2001 SD 62; 628 N.W.2d 336; 2001 S.D. LEXIS 66 | May 23, 2001 | Appellant sought review of the judgment of the circuit court declaring a local election valid and | The burden was on appellants to show not only that voting irregularities occurred, but also show that those irregularities  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010447

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case    | Court                    | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--------------------------|---|---------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |                          |   |               | declining to order a new election.  | were so egregious that the will of the voters was suppressed. Appellants did not meet their burden, as mere inconvenience or delay in voting was not enough to overturn the election. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Jones v. Jessup | Supreme Court of Georgia | 279 Ga. 531; 615 S.E.2d 529; 2005 Ga. LEXIS 447 | June 30, 2005 | Defendant incumbent appealed a judgment by the trial court that invalidated an election for the position of sheriff and | After the candidate lost the sheriff's election to the incumbent, he contested the election, asserting that there were sufficient irregularities to  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010428

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | ordered that a new election be held based on plaintiff candidate's election contest. | place in doubt the election results. The state supreme court held that the candidate failed to prove substantial error in the votes cast by the witnesses adduced at the hearing who voted at the election. Although the candidate's evidence reflected the presence of some irregularities, not every irregularity invalidated the vote. The absentee ballots |                              |             |                                       |

010429

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | were only to be rejected where the electors failed to furnish required information. Because the ballots cast by the witnesses substantially complied with all of the essential requirements of the form, the trial court erred by finding that they should not have been considered. The candidate failed to establish substantial error in the votes. Judgment reversed. |                              |             |                                       |

010450

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case        | Court                     | Citation                                      | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|---------------------------|---|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Toliver v. Thompson | Supreme Court of Oklahoma | 2000 OK 98; 17 P.3d 464; 2000 Okla. LEXIS 101 | December 21, 2000 | Petitioner challenged an order of the district court denying his motion to compel a recount of votes from an election. | The court held a recount of votes cast in an election could occur when the ballots had been preserved in the manner prescribed by statute. The trial court noted when the ballots had not been preserved in such a manner, no recount would be conducted. The court further noted a petition alleging irregularities in an election could be based upon an allegation that | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010451

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | it was impossible to determine with mathematical certainty which candidate was entitled to be issued a certificate of election. The Oklahoma supreme court held petitioner failed to show that the actual votes counted in the election were tainted with irregularity, and similarly failed to show a statutory right to a new election based upon a failure to preserve the |                              |             |                                       |

010452

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case       | Court                      | Citation                           | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|----------------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |                            |                                    |                   |   | ballots.Judgment affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Adkins v. Huckabay | Supreme Court of Louisiana | 755 So. 2d 206; 2000 La. LEXIS 504 | February 25, 2000 | Plaintiff candidate challenged judgment of court of appeal, second circuit, which reversed the lower court's judgment and declared defendant candidate winner of a runoff election for sheriff. | The issue presented for the appellate court's determination was whether the absentee voting irregularities plaintiff candidate complained of rendered it impossible to determine the outcome of the election for sheriff. The Louisiana supreme court concluded that the lower court had applied the correct | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010453

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | standard, substantial compliance, to the election irregularities, but had erred in its application by concluding that the contested absentee ballots substantially complied with the statutory requirements. The supreme court found that in applying substantial compliance to five of the ballot irregularities, the trial court correctly vacated the general election |                              |             |                                       |

010454

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | and set it aside because those absentee ballots should have been disqualified. Because of the constitutional guarantee to secrecy of the ballot and the fact that the margin of victory in the runoff election was three votes, it was impossible to determine the result of the runoff election. Thus, the supreme court ordered a new general election. Judgment of the |                              |             |                                       |

010455

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case       | Court                       | Citation   | Date          | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|-----------------------------|--|---------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |                             |  |               |  | court of appeals reversed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| In re Gray--Sadler | Supreme Court of New Jersey | 164 N.J. 468; 753 A.2d 1101; 2000 N.J. LEXIS 668 | June 30, 2000 | Appellants, write--in candidates for the offices of mayor and borough council, appealed the judgment of the superior court, appellate division reversing the trial court's decision to set aside the election results for those offices due to irregularities related to the write--in | The New Jersey supreme court held that the votes that were rejected by election officials did not result from the voters' own errors, but from the election officials' noncompliance with statutory requirements. In other words, the voters were provided with patently inadequate instructions and defective voting machines. Moreover, | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010456

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case                                    | Court                                   | Citation                       | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--------------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |                                |                   | instructions and defective voting machines.                         | appellants met the statutory requirement for successfully contesting the election results by showing that enough qualified voters were denied the right to cast write--in votes as to affect the outcome of the election. Judgment reversed and the state trial court's decision reinstated. |                              |             |                                       |
| Goodwin v. St. Thomas-St. John Bd. of Elections | Territorial Court of the Virgin Islands | 43 V.I. 89; 2000 V.I. LEXIS 15 | December 13, 2000 | Plaintiff political candidate alleged that certain general election | Plaintiff alleged that defendants counted unlawful absentee ballots that lacked postmarks,   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010457

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | absentee ballots violated territorial election law, and that the improper inclusion of such ballots by defendants, election board and supervisor, resulted in plaintiff's loss of the election. Plaintiff sued defendants seeking invalidation of the absentee ballots and certification of the | were not signed or notarized, were in unsealed and/or torn envelopes, and were in envelopes containing more than one ballot. Prior to tabulation of the absentee ballots, plaintiff was leading intervenor for the final senate position, but the absentee ballots entitled intervenor to the position. The territorial court held that plaintiff was not entitled to relief since he failed to |                              |             |                                       |

010458

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | election results tabulated without such ballots. | establish that the alleged absentee voting irregularities would require invalidation of a sufficient number of ballots to change the outcome of the election. While the unsealed ballots constituted a technical violation, the outer envelopes were sealed and thus substantially complied with election requirements. Further, while defendants improperly |                              |             |                                       |

010459

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | counted one ballot where a sealed ballot envelope and a loose ballot were in the same outer envelope, the one vote involved did not change the election result. Plaintiff's other allegations of irregularities were without merit since ballots without postmarks were valid, ballots without signatures were not counted, and ballots without notarized signatures were |                              |             |                                       |

010460

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case             | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------|--|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                          |  |   |                  |   | proper.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Johnson v. Lopez--Torres | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, Second Department | 2005 NY Slip Op 7825; 2005 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11276 | October 21, 2005 | In a proceeding for a re--canvass of certain affidavit ballots cast in the Democratic Party primary election for the public office of surrogate, the supreme court denied appellant candidate's petition requesting the same and declared appellee opponent the winner of | Finding that the candidate had waived her right to challenge the affidavit ballots and had not sufficiently established her claim of irregularities to warrant a hearing, the trial court denied her petition and declared the opponent the winner of the primary. However, on appeal, the appellate division held that no waiver occurred. |                              |             |                                       |

010461

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts          | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|----------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | that election. | Moreover, because hundreds of apparently otherwise eligible voters failed to fill in their party enrollment and/or prior address, it could be reasonably inferred that these voters were misled thereby into omitting the required information. Finally, the candidate failed to make a sufficient showing of voting irregularities in |                              |             |                                       |

010462

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                    | Citation                            | Date            | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--------------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                          |                                     |                 |   | the machine vote to require a hearing on that issue. Judgment reversed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Ex parte Avery | Supreme Court of Alabama | 843 So. 2d 137; 2002 Ala. LEXIS 239 | August 23, 2002 | Petitioner probate judge moved for a writ of mandamus directing a circuit judge to vacate his order requiring the probate judge to transfer all election materials to the circuit clerk and holding him in contempt for failing to do so. The | The issuance of a writ of mandamus was appropriate. The district attorney had a right to the election materials because he was conducting a criminal investigation of the last election. Furthermore, the circuit judge had no jurisdiction or authority to issue an order | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010463

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case                                    | Court                        | Citation                             | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|------------------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                              |                                      |                | probate judge also requested that said material be turned over to the district attorney, pursuant to an outstanding subpoena.     | directing that the election materials be given to the clerk. The district attorney received several claims of irregularities in the election, some of which could constitute voter fraud. Petition granted and writ issued. |                              |             |                                       |
| Harpole v. Kemper County Democratic Exec. Comm. | Supreme Court of Mississippi | 908 So. 2d 129; 2005 Miss. LEXIS 463 | August 4, 2005 | After his loss in a primary election for the office of sheriff, appellant candidate sued appellees, a political party's executive | The candidate alleged the sheriff had his deputies transport prisoners to the polls, felons voted, and the absentee voter law was breached. The committee   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | committee and the incumbent sheriff, alleging irregularities in the election. The circuit court dismissed the candidate's petition for judicial review with prejudice. He appealed. | agreed with the last contention and threw out the absentee ballots (seven percent of votes cast); after a recount, the sheriff still prevailed. The trial court dismissed the case due to alleged defects in the petition; in the alternative, it held that the candidate failed to sufficiently allege violations and irregularities in the election. The supreme court held that the petition was |                              |             |                                       |

010465

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not defective. Disqualification of seven percent of the total votes was not substantial enough so as to cause the will of the voters to be impossible to discern and to warrant a special election, and there were not enough illegal votes cast for the sheriff to change the outcome. A blanket allegation implying that the sheriff had deputies transport prisoners to the |                              |             |                                       |

010466

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Election Irregularities Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | polls was not supported by credible evidence. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

010467

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case         | Court                    | Citation            | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--------------------------|---------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Townson v. Stonicher | Supreme Court of Alabama | 2005 Ala. LEXIS 214 | December 9, 2005 | The circuit court overturned the results of a mayoral election after reviewing the absentee ballots cast for said election, resulting in a loss for appellant incumbent based on the votes received from appellee voters. The incumbent appealed, and the voters cross--appealed. In the meantime, the trial court stayed enforcement of | The voters and the incumbent all challenged the judgment entered by the trial court arguing that it impermissibly included or excluded certain votes. The appeals court agreed with the voters that the trial court should have excluded the votes of those voters for the incumbent who included an improper form of identification with their absentee ballots. It was undisputed that | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | its judgment pending resolution of the appeal. | at least 30 absentee voters who voted for the incumbent provided with their absentee ballots a form of identification that was not proper under Alabama law. As a result, the court further agreed that the trial court erred in allowing those voters to somewhat "cure" that defect by providing a proper form of identification at the trial of the election contest, because, under those |                              |             |                                       |

010469

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | circumstances, it was difficult to conclude that those voters made an honest effort to comply with the law. Moreover, to count the votes of voters who failed to comply with the essential requirement of submitting proper identification with their absentee ballots had the effect of disenfranchising qualified electors who choose not to vote but rather than to make the effort to comply |                              |             |                                       |

010470

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case     | Court         | Citation        | Date             | Facts                  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---------------|-----------------|------------------|------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |               |                 |                  |                        | with the absentee--voting requirements. The judgment declaring the incumbent's opponent the winner was affirmed. The judgment counting the challenged votes in the final tally of votes was reversed, and said votes were subtracted from the incumbents total, and the stay was vacated. All other arguments were rendered moot as a result. |                              |             |                                       |
| ACLU of Minn. v. | United States | 2004 U.S. Dist. | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voters and | Plaintiffs argued that Minn. Stat.  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010471

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation    | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|-------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Kiffmeyer    | District Court for the District of Minnesota | LEXIS 22996 |      | associations, filed for a temporary restraining order pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 65, against defendant, Minnesota Secretary of State, concerning voter registration. | § 201.061 was inconsistent with the Help America Vote Act because it did not authorize the voter to complete registration either by a "current and valid photo identification" or by use of a current utility bill, bank statement, government check, paycheck, or other government document that showed the name and address of the |                              |             |                                       |

010472

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | individual. The Secretary advised the court that there were less than 600 voters who attempted to register by mail but whose registrations were deemed incomplete. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on their claim that the authorization in Minn. Stat. § 201.061, sub. 3, violated the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth |                              |             |                                       |

010473

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Amendment of the United States Constitution insofar as it did not also authorize the use of a photographic tribal identification card by American Indians who do not reside on their tribal reservations. Also, the court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on their claims that Minn. R. 8200.5100, |                              |             |                                       |

010474

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |  |                  |   | violated the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution. A temporary restraining order was entered.  |                              |             |                                       |
| League of Women Voters v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 340 F. Supp. 2d 823; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20926 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations filed suit against defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, claiming that a directive issued by the Secretary contravened the provisions of the Help America Vote Act. The Secretary filed a motion to | The directive in question instructed election officials to issue provisional ballots to first-time voters who registered by mail but did not provide documentary identification at the polling place on election day. When submitting a provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts    | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|----------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | dismiss. | ballot, a first--time voter could identify himself by providing his driver's license number or the last four digits of his social security number. If he did not know either number, he could provide it before the polls closed. If he did not do so, his provisional ballot would not be counted. The court held that the directive did not contravene the HAVA and otherwise established reasonable |                              |             |                                       |

010476

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | requirements for confirming the identity of first-time voters who registered to vote by mail because: (1) the identification procedures were an important bulwark against voter misconduct and fraud; (2) the burden imposed on first-time voters to confirm their identity, and thus show that they were voting legitimately, was slight; and (3) the number of voters unable to meet the |                              |             |                                       |

010477

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter ID Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | burden of proving their identity was likely to be very small. Thus, the balance of interests favored the directive, even if the cost, in terms of uncounted ballots, was regrettable. The court granted the Secretary's motion to dismiss. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case               | Court  | Citation                                      | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| New York v. County of Del. | United States District Court for the Northern District of New York | 82 F. Supp. 2d 12; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 1398 | February 8, 2000 | Plaintiffs brought a claim in the district court under the Americans With Disabilities Act and filed a motion for a preliminary injunction and motion for leave to amend their complaint, and defendants were ordered to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued. | In their complaint plaintiffs alleged that defendants violated the ADA by making the voting locations inaccessible to disabled persons and asked for a preliminary injunction requiring defendants to come into compliance before the next election. The court found that defendants were the correct parties, because | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010479

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | pursuant to New York election law defendants were responsible for the voting locations. The court further found that the class plaintiffs represented would suffer irreparable harm if they were not able to vote, because, if the voting locations were inaccessible, disabled persons would be denied the right to vote. Also, due to the alleged |                              |             |                                       |

010480

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case                    | Court                  | Citation                | Date             | Facts                             | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|-------------------------|------------------|-----------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                 |                        |                         |                  |                                   | facts, the court found plaintiffs would likely succeed on the merits. Consequently, the court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction and granted plaintiffs' motion for leave to amend their complaint. |                              |             |                                       |
| New York v. County of Schoharie | United States District | 82 F. Supp. 2d 19; 2000 | February 8, 2000 | Plaintiffs brought a claim in the | In their complaint, plaintiffs   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010481

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court                                       | Citation              | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|-----------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Court for the Northern District of New York | U.S. Dist. LEXIS 1399 |      | district court under the Americans With Disabilities Act and filed a motion for a preliminary injunction and a motion for leave to amend their complaint, and defendants were ordered to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued. | alleged defendants violated the ADA by allowing voting locations to be inaccessible for disabled persons and asked for a preliminary injunction requiring defendants to come into compliance before the next election. The court found that defendants were the correct party, because pursuant to New York election law, |                              |             |                                       |

010482

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | defendants were responsible for the voting locations. The court further found that the class plaintiffs represented would suffer irreparable harm if they were not able to vote, because, if the voting locations were inaccessible, disabled persons would be denied the right to vote. Also, the court found that plaintiffs would likely succeed on the |                              |             |                                       |

010483

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | merits of their case. Consequently, the court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction because plaintiffs showed irreparable harm and proved likely success on the merits and granted plaintiff's motion for leave to amend the complaint. |                              |             |                                       |

010484

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case  | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Westchester Disabled on the Move, Inc. v. County of Westchester | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 346 F. Supp. 2d 473; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24203 | October 22, 2004 | Plaintiffs sued defendant county, county board of elections, and election officials pursuant to 42 U.S.C.S. §§ 12131--12134, N.Y. Exec. Law § 296, and N.Y. Elec. Law § 4--1--4. Plaintiffs moved for a preliminary injunction, requesting (among other things) that the court order defendants to modify the polling places in the county so that they | The inability to vote at assigned locations on election day constituted irreparable harm. However, plaintiffs could not show a likelihood of success on the merits because the currently named defendants could not provide complete relief sought by plaintiffs. Although the county board of elections was empowered to | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010485

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | were accessible to disabled voters on election day. Defendants moved to dismiss. | select an alternative polling place should it determine that a polling place designated by a municipality was "unsuitable or unsafe," it was entirely unclear that its power to merely designate suitable polling places would be adequate to ensure that all polling places used in the upcoming election actually conformed |                              |             |                                       |

010486

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Substantial changes and modifications to existing facilities would have to be made, and such changes would be difficult, if not impossible, to make without the cooperation of municipalities. Further, the court could order defendants to approve voting machines that conformed to |                              |             |                                       |

010487

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the ADA were they to be purchased and submitted for county approval, but the court could not order them to purchase them for the voting districts in the county. A judgment issued in the absence of the municipalities would be inadequate. Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction was denied, and defendants' motion to dismiss was granted. |                              |             |                                       |

010488

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case                            | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|-----------------------------|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Nat'l Org. on Disability v. Tartaglione | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania | 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16731 | October 11, 2001 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters and special interest organizations, sued defendants, city commissioners, under the Americans with Disabilities Act and § 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and regulations under both statutes, regarding election practices. The commissioners moved to dismiss for failure (1) to | The voters were visually impaired or wheelchair bound. They challenged the commissioners' failure to provide talking voting machines and wheelchair accessible voting places. They claimed discrimination in the process of voting because they were not afforded the same opportunity to participate in the voting process as non-disabled | No                           | N/A         | Yes-see if the case was refiled       |

010489

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | state a cause of action and (2) to join an indispensable party. | voters, and assisted voting and voting by alternative ballot were substantially different from, more burdensome than, and more intrusive than the voting process utilized by non--disabled voters. The court found that the complaint stated causes of actions under the ADA, the Rehabilitation Act, and 28 C.F.R. §§ 35.151 and |                              |             |                                       |

010490

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 35.130. The court found that the voters and organizations had standing to raise their claims. The organizations had standing through the voters' standing or because they used significant resources challenging the commissioners' conduct. The plaintiffs failed to join the state official who would need to approve any talking voting machine as a |                              |             |                                       |

010491

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | party. As the court could not afford complete relief to the visually impaired voters in that party's absence, it granted the motion to dismiss under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(7) without prejudice. The court granted the commissioners' motion to dismiss in part, and denied it in part. The court granted the motion to dismiss the claims of the |                              |             |                                       |

010492

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case                                | Court                       | Citation   | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-----------------------------|--|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                             |  |              |  | visually impaired voters for failure to join an indispensable party, without prejudice, and with leave to amend the complaint.  |                              |             |                                       |
| TENNESSEE, Petitioner v. GEORGE LANE et al. | United States Supreme Court | 541 U.S. 509; 124 S. Ct. 1978; 158 L. Ed. 2d 820; 2004 U.S. LEXIS 3386 | May 17, 2004 | Respondent paraplegics sued petitioner State of Tennessee, alleging that the State failed to provide reasonable access to court facilities in violation of Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act | The state contended that the abrogation of state sovereign immunity in Title II of the ADA exceeded congressional authority under U.S. Const. amend XIV, § 5, to enforce substantive constitutional guarantees. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010493

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of 1990. Upon the grant of a writ of certiorari, the State appealed the judgment of the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit which denied the State's claim of sovereign immunity. | The United States Supreme Court held, however, that Title II, as it applied to the class of cases implicating the fundamental right of access to the courts, constituted a valid exercise of Congress's authority. Title II was responsive to evidence of pervasive unequal treatment of persons with disabilities in the administration of state |                              |             |                                       |

010494

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | services and programs, and such disability discrimination was thus an appropriate subject for prophylactic legislation. Regardless of whether the State could be subjected to liability for failing to provide access to other facilities or services, the fundamental right of access to the courts warranted the limited requirement that the State reasonably |                              |             |                                       |

010495

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Disability Access Cases 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | accommodate disabled persons to provide such access. Title II was thus a reasonable prophylactic measure, reasonably targeted to a legitimate end. The judgment denying the State's claim of sovereign immunity was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

010496

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case         | Court                                       | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Hileman v. McGinness | Appellate Court of Illinois, Fifth District | 316 Ill. App. 3d 868; 739 N.E.2d 81; 2000 Ill. App. LEXIS 845 | October 25, 2000 | Appellant challenged the circuit court's declaration that that the result of a primary election for county circuit clerk was void. | In a primary election for county circuit clerk, the parties agreed that 681 absentee ballots were presumed invalid. The ballots had been commingled with the valid ballots. There were no markings or indications on the ballots which would have allowed them to be segregated from other ballots cast. Because the ballots could not have been | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010497

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | segregated, apportionment was the appropriate remedy if no fraud was involved. If fraud was involved, the election would have had to have been voided and a new election held. Because the trial court did not hold an evidentiary hearing on the fraud allegations, and did not determine whether fraud was in issue, the case was remanded for a |                              |             |                                       |

010498

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                           | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|---------------------------------|----------------------------|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                                 |                            |                   |   | determination as to whether fraud was evident in the electoral process. Judgment reversed and remanded.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Eason v. State | Court of Appeals of Mississippi | 2005 Miss. App. LEXIS 1017 | December 13, 2005 | Defendant appealed a decision of the circuit court convicting him of one count of conspiracy to commit voter fraud and eight counts of voter fraud. | Defendant was helping with his cousin's campaign in a run-off election for county supervisor. Together, they drove around town, picking up various people who were either at congregating spots or their homes. Defendant | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | would drive the voters to the clerk's office where they would vote by absentee ballot and defendant would give them beer or money. Defendant claimed he was entitled to a mistrial because the prosecutor advanced an impermissible "sending the message" argument. The court held that it was precluded from reviewing the entire context in which the |                              |             |                                       |

010500

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case | Court    | Citation | Date   | Facts     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------|----------|--------|-----------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |          |          |        |           | argument arose because, while the prosecutor's closing argument was in the record, the defense counsel's closing argument was not. Also, because the prosecutor's statement was incomplete due to defense counsel's objection, the court could not say that the statement made it impossible for defendant to receive a fair trial. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Wilson v.    | Court of | 2000 Va. | May 2, | Defendant | At trial, the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010501

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case | Court               | Citation       | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------------|----------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Commonwealth | Appeals of Virginia | App. LEXIS 322 | 2000 | appealed the judgment of the circuit court which convicted her of election fraud. | Commonwealth introduced substantial testimony and documentary evidence that defendant had continued to live at one residence in the 13th District, long after she stated on the voter registration form that she was living at a residence in the 51st House District. The evidence included records showing electricity and water usage, records from |                              |             |                                       |

010502

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the Department of Motor Vehicles and school records. Thus, the evidence was sufficient to support the jury's verdict that defendant made "a false material statement" on the voter registration card required to be filed in order for her to be a candidate for office in the primary in question. Judgment affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |  |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |  |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |  |                              |             |                                       |

010503

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Mixed Vote Fraud Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---------|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |
|              |       |          |      |       |         |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Miller v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the southern District of Ohio | 348 F. Supp. 2d 916; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24894 | October 27, 2004 | Plaintiffs, two voters and the Ohio Democratic Party, filed suit against defendants, the Ohio Secretary of State, several county boards of elections, and all of the boards' members, alleging claims under the National Voter Registration Act and § 1983. Plaintiffs also filed a motion for a temporary restraining order. Two individuals filed a motion to intervene as defendants. | Plaintiffs alleged that the timing and manner in which defendants intended to hold hearings regarding pre-election challenges to their voter registration violated both the Act and the Due Process Clause. The individuals, who filed pre-election voter eligibility challenges, filed a motion to intervene. The court held that it would grant the motion to intervene because the individuals had a substantial legal interest in | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010505

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the subject matter of the action and time constraints would not permit them to bring separate actions to protect their rights. The court further held that it would grant plaintiffs' motion for a TRO because plaintiffs made sufficient allegations in their complaint to establish standing and because all four factors to consider in issuing a TRO weighed heavily in favor of doing so. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated a |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | likelihood of success on the merits because they made a strong showing that defendants' intended actions regarding pre-election challenges to voter eligibility abridged plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote and violated the Due Process Clause. Thus, the other factors to consider in granting a TRO automatically weighed in plaintiffs' favor. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a TRO. The |                              |             |                                       |

010507

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case         | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                      |  |  |                  |   | court also granted the individuals' motion to intervene.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Spencer v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | 347 F. Supp. 2d 528; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22062 | November 1, 2004 | Plaintiff voters filed a motion for temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction seeking to restrain defendant election officials and intervenor State of Ohio from discriminating against black voters in Hamilton County on the basis of race. If necessary, they sought to restrain challengers from being allowed at the polls. | The voters alleged that defendants had combined to implement a voter challenge system at the polls that discriminated against African--American voters. Each precinct was run by its election judges but Ohio law also allowed challengers to be physically present in the polling places in order to challenge voters' eligibility to vote. The court held that the injury asserted, that | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010508

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | allowing challengers to challenge voters' eligibility would place an undue burden on voters and impede their right to vote, was not speculative and could be redressed by removing the challengers. The court held that in the absence of any statutory guidance whatsoever governing the procedures and limitations for challenging voters by challengers, and the questionable enforceability of the State's and |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | County's policies regarding good faith challenges and ejection of disruptive challengers from the polls, there existed an enormous risk of chaos, delay, intimidation, and pandemonium inside the polls and in the lines out the door. Furthermore, the law allowing private challengers was not narrowly tailored to serve Ohio's compelling interest in preventing voter fraud. Because the voters had shown a |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | substantial likelihood of success on the merits on the ground that the application of Ohio's statute allowing challengers at polling places was unconstitutional and the other factors governing the issuance of an injunction weighed in their favor, the court enjoined all defendants from allowing any challengers other than election judges and other electors into the polling places throughout the |                              |             |                                       |

010511

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case                   | Court  | Citation                   | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------------|--|----------------------------|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                |  |                            |              |   | state on Election Day.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Charfauros v. Bd. of Elections | United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 2001 U.S. App. LEXIS 15083 | May 10, 2001 | Defendants, board of elections and related individuals, appealed from an order of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands reversing a lower court's grant of summary judgment in favor of defendants on the ground of qualified immunity. | Plaintiffs, disqualified voters, claimed that individual members of the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands Board of Elections violated § 1983 by administering pre--election day voter challenge procedures which precluded a certain class of voters, including plaintiffs, from voting in a 1995 election. The CNMI Supreme Court reversed a lower court's grant of summary | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | judgment and defendants appealed. The court of appeals held that the Board's pre-election day procedures violated the plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote. The federal court reasoned that the right to vote was clearly established at the time of the election, and that a reasonable Board would have known that that treating voters differently based on their political party would violate the Equal |                              |             |                                       |

010513

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Protection Clause. Further the court added that the allegations of the complaint were sufficient to support liability of the Board members in their individual capacities. Finally, the composition of the CNMI Supreme Court's Special Judge panel did not violate the Board's right to due process of law. The decision of Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands Supreme Court was affirmed |                              |             |                                       |

010514

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case  | Court   | Citation                                  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|               |   |   |                  |  | where defendants' pre--election day voter challenge procedures violated plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Wit v. Berman | United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 306 F.3d 1256; 2002 U.S. App. LEXIS 21301 | October 11, 2002 | Appellant voters who established residences in two separate cities sued appellees, state and city election officials, alleging that provisions of the New York State Election Law unconstitutionally prevented the voters from voting in local elections in both cities where they resided. The voters appealed the order of the | Under state election laws, the voters could only vote in districts in which they resided, and residence was limited to one place. The voters contended that, since they had two lawful residences, they were denied constitutional equal protection by the statutory restriction against voting in the local elections of both | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010515

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York which granted appellees' motion to dismiss the complaint. | of the places of their residences. The appellate court held, however, that no constitutional violation was shown since the provisions of the New York State Election Law imposed only reasonable, nondiscriminatory restrictions which advanced important state regulatory interests. While the voters may have interests in electoral outcomes in both cities, any rule permitting voting based on such interests would be |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | unmanageable and subject to potential abuse. Further, basing voter eligibility on domicile, which was always over--or under--inclusive, nonetheless had enormous practical advantages, and the voters offered no workable standard to replace the domicile test. Finally, allowing the voters to choose which of their residences was their domicile for voting purposes could not be deemed |                              |             |                                       |

010517

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |                  |  | discriminatory.Affirmed.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Curtis v. Smith | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas | 121 F. Supp. 2d 1054; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17987 | November 3, 2000 | Plaintiffs sought a preliminary injunction to prohibit defendant tax assessor-collector from mailing confirmation letters to approximately 9,000 persons who were registered voters in Polk County, Texas. | Plaintiffs sought to prohibit defendant from mailing confirmation letters to approximately 9,000 persons, self-styled "escapees" who traveled a major portion of each year in recreational vehicles, all of whom were registered to vote in Polk County, Texas. In accordance with Texas law, three resident voters filed affidavits challenging the escapees' | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | residency. These affidavits triggered defendant's action in sending confirmation notices to the escapees. The court determined, first, that because of the potential for discrimination, defendant's action required preclearance in accordance with § 5 of the Voting Rights Act and, second, that such preclearance had not been sought or obtained. Accordingly, the court issued a preliminary injunction |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | prohibiting defendant from pursuing the confirmation of residency of the escapees, or any similarly situated group, under the Texas Election Code until the process had been submitted for preclearance in accordance with § 5. The action was taken to ensure that no discriminatory potential existed in the use of such process in the upcoming presidential election or future election. Motion for preliminary injunction was |                              |             |                                       |

010520

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case                     | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------------------|---|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                  |   |  |                  |   | granted, and defendant was enjoined from pursuing confirmation of residency of the 9,000 "escapees," or any similarly situated group, under the Texas Election Code, until the process had been submitted for preclearance under § 5 of the Voting Rights Act. |                              |             |                                       |
| Peace & Freedom Party v. Shelley | Court of Appeal of California, Third Appellate District | 114 Cal. App. 4th 1237; 8 Cal. Rptr. 3d 497; 2004 Cal. App. LEXIS 42 | January 15, 2004 | Plaintiff political party appealed a judgment from the superior court which denied the party's petition for writ of mandate to compel | The trial court ruled that inactive voters were excluded from the primary election. The court of appeals affirmed, observing that although the   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | defendant, the California Secretary of State, to include voters listed in the inactive file of registered voters in calculating whether the party qualified to participate in a primary election. | election had already taken place, the issue was likely to recur and was a matter of continuing public interest and importance; hence, a decision on the merits was proper, although the case was technically moot. The law clearly excluded inactive voters from the calculation. The statutory scheme did not violate the inactive voters' constitutional right of association because it was reasonably designed to |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ensure that all parties on the ballot had a significant modicum of support from eligible voters. Information in the inactive file was unreliable and often duplicative of information in the active file. Moreover, there was no violation of the National Voter Registration Act because voters listed as inactive were not prevented from voting. Although the Act prohibited removal of voters from the official voting list absent |                              |             |                                       |

010523

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |  |                  |   | certain conditions, inactive voters in California could correct the record and vote as provided the Act. The court affirmed the denial of a writ of mandate.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 235 F. Supp. 2d 772; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21753 | October 22, 2002 | Plaintiff voters sued defendants, a county board of elections, a state secretary of state, and the state's attorney general, for violations of the Motor Voter Act and equal protection of the laws. Defendants moved for summary judgment. The voters also | The board heard challenges to the voters' qualifications to vote in the county, based on the fact that the voters were transient (seasonal) rather than permanent residents of the county. The voters claimed that the board hearings did not | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                       | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | moved for summary judgment. | afford them the requisite degree of due process and contravened their rights of privacy by inquiring into personal matters. As to the MVA claim, the court held that residency within the precinct was a crucial qualification. One simply could not be an elector, much less a qualified elector entitled to vote, unless one resided in the precinct where he or she sought to vote. If one never lived within the precinct, one was |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | not and could not be an eligible voter, even if listed on the board's rolls as such. The MVA did not affect the state's ability to condition eligibility to vote on residence. Nor did it undertake to regulate challenges, such as the ones presented, to a registered voter's residency ab initio. The ability of the challengers to assert that the voters were not eligible and had not ever been eligible, and of the board to consider and |                              |             |                                       |

010526

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Eligibility Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | resolve that challenge, did not contravene the MVA. Defendants' motions for summary judgment were granted as to all claims with prejudice, except the voters' state-law claim, which was dismissed for want of jurisdiction, without prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation                                 | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. Found., Inc. v. Cox | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 408 F.3d 1349; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 8320 | May 12, 2005 | Plaintiffs, a charitable foundation, four volunteers, and a registered voter, filed a suit against defendant state officials alleging violations of the National Voter Registration Act and the Voting Rights Act. The officials appealed after the United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia issued a preliminary injunction enjoining them from rejecting voter registrations submitted by the | The foundation conducted a voter registration drive; it placed the completed applications in a single envelope and mailed them to the Georgia Secretary of State for processing. Included in the batch was the voter's change of address form. Plaintiffs filed the suit after they were notified that the applications had been rejected pursuant to Georgia law, which allegedly restricted who could collect voter registration | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts       | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | foundation. | forms. Plaintiffs contended that the officials had violated the NVRA, the VRA, and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, XV. The officials argued that plaintiffs lacked standing and that the district court had erred in issuing the preliminary injunction. The court found no error. Plaintiffs had sufficiently alleged injuries under the NVRA, arising out of the rejection of the voter registration forms; the allegations in the |                              |             |                                       |

010529

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date      | Facts     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|-----------|-----------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |           |           | complaint sufficiently showed an injury--in--fact that was fairly traceable to the officials' conduct. The injunction was properly issued. There was a substantial likelihood that plaintiffs would prevail as to their claims; it served the public interest to protect plaintiffs' franchise--related rights. The court affirmed the preliminary injunction order entered by the district court. |                              |             |                                       |
| McKay v.     | United | 226 F.3d | September | Plaintiff | The trial court   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010530

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation                        | Date     | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---------------------------------|----------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Thompson     | States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 752; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 23387 | 18, 2000 | challenged order of United States District Court for Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga, which granted defendant state election officials summary judgment on plaintiff's action seeking to stop the state practice of requiring its citizens to disclose their social security numbers as a precondition to voter registration. | had granted defendant state election officials summary judgment. The court declined to overrule defendants' administrative determination that state law required plaintiff to disclose his social security number because the interpretation appeared to be reasonable, did not conflict with previous case law, and could be challenged in state court. The requirement did not violate the Privacy Act of 1974, because it |                              |             |                                       |

010531

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was grand fathered under the terms of the Act. The limitations in the National Voter Registration Act did not apply because the NVRA did not specifically prohibit the use of social security numbers and the Act contained a more specific provision regarding such use. The trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and |                              |             |                                       |

010532

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date    | Facts               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|---------|---------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |         |                     | immunities, and due process claims. Order affirmed because requirement that voters disclose social security numbers as precondition to voter registration did not violate Privacy Act of 1974 or National Voter Registration Act and trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l        | United | 150 F.   | July 5, | Plaintiff, national | Defendants  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010533

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation                                 | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|--|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Coalition for Students with Disabilities Educ. & Legal Def. Fund v. Scales | States District Court for the Southern District of Maryland | Supp. 2d 845; 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9528 | 2001 | organization for disabled students, brought an action against university president and university's director of office of disability support services to challenge the voter registration procedures established by the disability support services. Defendants moved to dismiss the first amended complaint, or in the alternative for summary judgment. | alleged that plaintiff lacked standing to represent its members, and that plaintiff had not satisfied the notice requirements of the National Voter Registration Act. Further, defendants maintained the facts, as alleged by plaintiff, did not give rise to a past, present, or future violation of the NVRA because (1) the plaintiffs members that requested voter registration services were not |                              |             |                                       |

010534

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registered students at the university and (2) its current voter registration procedures complied with NVRA. As to plaintiff's § 1983 claim, the court held that while plaintiff had alleged sufficient facts to confer standing under the NVRA, such allegations were not sufficient to support standing on its own behalf on the § 1983 claim. As to the NVRA claim, the court found that the agency practice of only offering voter |                              |             |                                       |

010535

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registration services at the initial intake interview and placing the burden on disabled students to obtain voter registration forms and assistance afterwards did not satisfy its statutory duties. Furthermore, most of the NVRA provisions applied to disabled applicants not registered at the university. Defendants' motion to dismiss first amended |                              |             |                                       |

010536

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case                               | Court  | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|--|----------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |  |                            |                   |   | complaint was granted as to the § 1983 claim and denied as to plaintiff's claims brought under the National Voter Registration Act of 1993. Defendants' alternative motion for summary judgment was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Cunningham v. Chi. Bd. of Election Comm'rs | United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois | 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2528 | February 24, 2003 | Plaintiffs, who alleged that they were duly registered voters, six of whom had signed nominating petitions for one candidate and two of whom signed | Plaintiffs argued that objections to their signatures were improperly sustained by defendants, the city board of election commissioners. Plaintiff's argued that they were   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | nominating petitions for another candidate. They first asked for a preliminary injunction of the municipal election scheduled for the following Tuesday and suggested, alternatively, that the election for City Clerk and for 4th Ward Alderman be enjoined. | registered voters whose names appeared in an inactive file and whose signatures were therefore, and improperly, excluded. The court ruled that by characterizing the claim as plaintiffs did, they sought to enjoin an election because their signatures were not counted, even though their preferred candidates were otherwise precluded from appearing on the ballot. Without regard to their likelihood of |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | obtaining any relief, plaintiffs failed to demonstrate that they would be irreparably harmed if an injunction did not issue; the threatened injury to defendants, responsible as they were for the conduct of the municipal election, far outweighed any threatened injury to plaintiffs; and the granting of a preliminary injunction would greatly disserve the public interest. Plaintiffs' petition for |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |   |   |                  |  | preliminary relief was denied.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Diaz v. Hood | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1111; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21445 | October 26, 2004 | Plaintiffs, unions and individuals who had attempted to register to vote, sought a declaration of their rights to vote in the November 2, 2004 general election. They alleged that defendants, state and county election officials, refused to process their voter registrations for various failures to complete the registration forms. The election officials | The putative voters sought injunctive relief requiring the election officials to register them to vote. The court first noted that the unions lacked even representative standing, because they failed to show that one of their members could have brought the case in their own behalf. The individual putative voters raised separate issues: the first had failed to verify her mental | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010540

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | moved to dismiss the complaint for lack of standing and failure to state a claim. | capacity, the second failed to check a box indicating that he was not a felon, and the third did not provide the last four digits of her social security number on the form. They claimed the election officials violated federal and state law by refusing to register eligible voters because of nonmaterial errors or omissions in their voter registration applications, and by failing to provide any notice to voter |                              |             |                                       |

010541

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | applicants whose registration applications were deemed incomplete. In the first two cases, the election official had handled the errant application properly under Florida law, and the putative voter had effectively caused their own injury by failing to complete the registration. The third completed her form and was registered, so had suffered no injury. Standing failed against the secretary of state. Motion to dismiss without |                              |             |                                       |

010542

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |  |                  |   | prejudice granted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 235 F. Supp. 2d 772; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21753 | October 22, 2002 | Plaintiff voters sued defendants, a county board of elections, a state secretary of state, and the state's attorney general, for violations of the Motor Voter Act and equal protection of the laws. Defendants moved for summary judgment. The voters also moved for summary judgment. | The board heard challenges to the voters' qualifications to vote in the county, based on the fact that the voters were transient (seasonal) rather than permanent residents of the county. The voters claimed that the board hearings did not afford them the requisite degree of due process and contravened their rights of privacy by inquiring into personal matters. As to the MVA | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010543

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | claim, the court held that residency within the precinct was a crucial qualification. One simply could not be an elector, much less a qualified elector entitled to vote, unless one resided in the precinct where he or she sought to vote. If one never lived within the precinct, one was not and could not be an eligible voter, even if listed on the board's rolls as such. The MVA did not affect the state's ability to |                              |             |                                       |

010544

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | condition eligibility to vote on residence. Nor did it undertake to regulate challenges, such as the ones presented, to a registered voter's residency ab initio. The ability of the challengers to assert that the voters were not eligible and had not ever been eligible, and of the board to consider and resolve that challenge, did not contravene the MVA. Defendants' motions for |                              |             |                                       |

010545

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |                |   | summary judgment were granted as to all claims with prejudice, except the voters' state-law claim, which was dismissed for want of jurisdiction, without prejudice.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 367 F.3d 588; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8330 | April 28, 2004 | Plaintiffs, registered voters, sued defendants, Ohio Board of Elections and Board members, alleging that Ohio Rev. Code Ann. §§ 3509.19-3509.21 violated the National Voter Registration Act, and the Equal Protection Clause | The voters contested the challenges to their registration brought under Ohio Code Rev. Ann. § 3505.19 based on Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3503.02. Specifically, the voters asserted that § 3503.02---which stated that the place | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio granted summary judgment in favor of defendants. The voters appealed. | where the family of a married man or woman resided was considered to be his or her place of residence---- violated the equal protection clause. The court of appeals found that the Board's procedures did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act because Congress did not intend to bar the removal of names from the official list of persons who were ineligible and improperly registered to vote |                              |             |                                       |

010547

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | in the first place. The National Voter Registration Act did not bar the Board's continuing consideration of a voter's residence, and encouraged the Board to maintain accurate and reliable voting rolls. Ohio was free to take reasonable steps to see that all applicants for registration to vote actually fulfilled the requirement of bona fide residence. Ohio Rev. Code Ann. |                              |             |                                       |

010548

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | § 3503.02(D) did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act. Because the Board did not raise an irrebuttable presumption in applying § 3502.02(D), the voters suffered no equal protection violation. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

010549

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|----------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Bell v. Marinko | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 367 F.3d 588; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8330 | April 28, 2004 | Plaintiffs, registered voters, sued defendants, Ohio Board of Elections and Board members, alleging that Ohio Rev. Code Ann. §§ 3509.19-- 3509.21 violated the National Voter Registration Act, and the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | The voters asserted that § 3503.02---- which stated that the place where the family of a married man or woman resided was considered to be his or her place of residence---- violated the equal protection clause. The court of appeals found that the Board's procedures did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act because Congress did | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010550

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | granted summary judgment in favor of defendants. The voters appealed. | not intend to bar the removal of names from the official list of persons who were ineligible and improperly registered to vote in the first place. The National Voter Registration Act did not bar the Board's continuing consideration of a voter's residence, and encouraged the Board to maintain accurate and reliable voting rolls. Ohio was free to take reasonable steps to see that |                              |             |                                       |

010551

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | all applicants for registration to vote actually fulfilled the requirement of bona fide residence. Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3503.02(D) did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act. Because the Board did not raise an irrebuttable presumption in applying § 3502.02(D), the voters suffered no equal protection violation. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

010552

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case           | Court                        | Citation                | Date        | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------|-------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Wilson v. Commonwealth | Court of Appeals of Virginia | 2000 Va. App. LEXIS 322 | May 2, 2000 | Defendant appealed the judgment of the circuit court which convicted her of election fraud. | On appeal, defendant argued that the evidence was insufficient to support her conviction because it failed to prove that she made a willfully false statement on her voter registration form and, even if the evidence did prove that she made such a statement, it did not prove that the voter registration form was the form required by Title 24.2. At trial, the Commonwealth | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010553

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | introduced substantial testimony and documentary evidence that defendant had continued to live at one residence in the 13th District, long after she stated on the voter registration form that she was living at a residence in the 51st House District. The evidence included records showing electricity and water usage, records from the Department |                              |             |                                       |

010554

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | of Motor Vehicles and school records. Thus, the evidence was sufficient to support the jury's verdict that defendant made "a false material statement" on the voter registration card required to be filed by Title 24.2 in order for her to be a candidate for office in the primary in question. Judgment of conviction affirmed. Evidence, including |                              |             |                                       |

010555

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case     | Court         | Citation        | Date             | Facts                  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---------------|-----------------|------------------|------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |               |                 |                  |                        | records showing electricity and water usage, records from the Department of Motor Vehicles and school records, was sufficient to support jury's verdict that defendant made "a false material statement" on the voter registration card required to be filed in order for her to be a candidate for office in the primary in question. |                              |             |                                       |
| ACLU of Minn. v. | United States | 2004 U.S. Dist. | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voters and | Plaintiffs argued that   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010556

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation    | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|-------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Kiffmeyer    | District Court for the District of Minnesota | LEXIS 22996 |      | associations, filed for a temporary restraining order pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 65, against defendant, Minnesota Secretary of State, concerning voter registration. | Minn. Stat. § 201.061 was inconsistent with the Help America Vote Act because it did not authorize the voter to complete registration either by a "current and valid photo identification" or by use of a current utility bill, bank statement, government check, paycheck, or other government document that showed the name and |                              |             |                                       |

010557

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | address of the individual. The Secretary advised the court that there were less than 600 voters who attempted to register by mail but whose registrations were deemed incomplete. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on their claim that the authorization in Minn. Stat. § 201.061, sub. 3, violated the Equal |                              |             |                                       |

010558

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution insofar as it did not also authorize the use of a photographic tribal identification card by American Indians who do not reside on their tribal reservations. Also, the court found that plaintiffs demonstrated that they were likely to succeed on |                              |             |                                       |

010559

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case                 | Court  | Citation  | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------------|--|---|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                              |  |   |                   |  | their claims that Minn. R. 8200.5100, violated the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution. A temporary restraining order was entered.                       |                              |             |                                       |
| Kalsson v. United States FEC | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 356 F. Supp. 2d 371; 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2279 | February 16, 2005 | Defendant Federal Election Commission filed a motion to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction plaintiff individual's action, which sought a declaration that | The individual claimed that his vote was diluted because the NVRA resulted in more people registering to vote than otherwise would have been the case. The court held that the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010560

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | the National Voter Registration Act was unconstitutional on the theories that its enactment was not within the enumerated powers of the federal government and that it violated Article II of the United States Constitution. | individual lacked standing to bring the action. Because New York was not obliged to adhere to the requirements of the NVRA, the individual did not allege any concrete harm. If New York simply adopted election day registration for elections for federal office, it would have been entirely free of the NVRA just as were five other states. Even if the individual's vote were diluted, and |                              |             |                                       |

010561

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court      | Citation | Date        | Facts     | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|------------|----------|-------------|-----------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |            |          |             |           | even if such an injury in other circumstances might have sufficed for standing, any dilution that he suffered was the result of New York's decision to maintain a voter registration system that brought it under the NVRA, not the NVRA itself. The court granted the motion to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. |                              |             |                                       |
| Peace &      | California | 114 Cal. | January 15, | Plaintiff | The trial court  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010562

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case             | Court                                     | Citation  | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------|---|---|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Freedom Party v. Shelley | Court of Appeal, Third Appellate District | App. 4th 1237; 8 Cal. Rptr. 3d 497; 2004 Cal. App. LEXIS 42 | 2004 | political party appealed a judgment from the superior court which denied the party's petition for writ of mandate to compel defendant, the California Secretary of State, to include voters listed in the inactive file of registered voters in calculating whether the party qualified to participate in a primary election. | ruled that inactive voters were excluded from the primary election calculation. The court of appeals affirmed, observing that although the election had already taken place, the issue was likely to recur and was a matter of continuing public interest and importance; hence, a decision on the merits was proper, although the |                              |             |                                       |

010563

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | case was technically moot. The law clearly excluded inactive voters from the calculation. The statutory scheme did not violate the inactive voters' constitutional right of association because it was reasonably designed to ensure that all parties on the ballot had a significant modicum of support from eligible voters. Information in the inactive file |                              |             |                                       |

010564

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was unreliable and often duplicative of information in the active file. Moreover, there was no violation of the National Voter Registration Act because voters listed as inactive were not prevented from voting. Although the Act prohibited removal of voters from the official voting list absent certain conditions, inactive voters in California could correct the record and |                              |             |                                       |

010565

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case      | Court  | Citation                                 | Date               | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|--|--|--------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |  |  |                    |  | vote. Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| McKay v. Thompson | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 226 F.3d 752; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 23387 | September 18, 2000 | Plaintiff challenged order of United States District Court for Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga, which granted defendant state election officials summary judgment on plaintiff's action seeking to stop the state practice of requiring its citizens to disclose their social security numbers as a precondition to voter registration. | The trial court had granted defendant state election officials summary judgment. The court declined to overrule defendants' administrative determination that state law required plaintiff to disclose his social security number because the interpretation appeared to be reasonable, did not conflict with previous caselaw, and could be | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010566

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | challenged in state court. The requirement did not violate the Privacy Act because it was grand fathered under the terms of the Act. The limitations in the National Voter Registration Act did not apply because the NVRA did not specifically prohibit the use of social security numbers and the Act contained a more specific provision regarding such use. Plaintiff |                              |             |                                       |

010567

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | could not enforce § 1971 as it was enforceable only by the United States Attorney General. The trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims. Although the trial court arguably erred in denying certification of the case to the USAG under |                              |             |                                       |

010568

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 28 U.S.C.S. § 2403(a), plaintiff suffered no harm from the technical violation. Order affirmed because requirement that voters disclose social security numbers as precondition to voter registration did not violate Privacy Act of 1974 or National Voter Registration Act and trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental |                              |             |                                       |

010569

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case                               | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |  |  |                  |  | right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Lucas County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 341 F. Supp. 2d 861; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21416 | October 21, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations brought an action challenging a memorandum issued by defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, in December 2003. The organizations claimed that the memorandum contravened provisions of the Help America Vote | The case involved a box on Ohio's voter registration form that required a prospective voter who registered in person to supply an Ohio driver's license number or the last four digits of their Social Security number. In his memorandum, the Secretary informed all | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010570

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Act and the National Voter Registration Act. The organizations moved for a preliminary injunction. | Ohio County Boards of Elections that, if a person left the box blank, the Boards were not to process the registration forms. The organizations did not file their suit until 18 days before the national election. The court found that there was not enough time before the election to develop the evidentiary record necessary to determine if the organizations |                              |             |                                       |

010571

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | were likely to succeed on the merits of their claim. Denying the organizations' motion would have caused them to suffer no irreparable harm. There was no appropriate remedy available to the organizations at the time. The likelihood that the organizations could have shown irreparable harm was, in any event, slight in view of the fact that |                              |             |                                       |

010572

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case                                   | Court                            | Citation                             | Date         | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|--------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                                  |                                      |              |   | they waited so long before filing suit. Moreover, it would have been entirely improper for the court to order the Boards to re--open in--person registration until election day. The public interest would have been ill--served by an injunction. The motion for a preliminary injunction was denied sua sponte. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l Coalition for Students with Disabilities | United States District Court for | 150 F. Supp. 2d 845; 2001 U.S. Dist. | July 5, 2001 | Plaintiff, national organization for disabled | Defendants alleged that plaintiff lacked standing to  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010573

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case                      | Court                    | Citation   | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------|------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Educ. & Legal Def. Fund v. Scales | the District of Maryland | LEXIS 9528 |      | students, brought an action against university president and university's director of office of disability support services to challenge the voter registration procedures established by the disability support services. Defendants moved to dismiss the first amended complaint, or in the alternative for summary judgment. | represent its members, and that plaintiff had not satisfied the notice requirements of the National Voter Registration Act. Further, defendants maintained the facts, as alleged by plaintiff, did not give rise to a past, present, or future violation of the NVRA because (1) the plaintiff's members that requested voter registration services were not registered |                              |             |                                       |

010574

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | students at the university and (2) its current voter registration procedures complied with NVRA. As to plaintiff's § 1983 claim, the court held that while plaintiff had alleged sufficient facts to confer standing under the NVRA, such allegations were not sufficient to support standing on its own behalf on the § 1983 claim. As to the NVRA claim, |                              |             |                                       |

010575

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the court found that the agency practice of only offering voter registration services at the initial intake interview and placing the burden on disabled students to obtain voter registration forms and assistance afterwards did not satisfy its statutory duties. Furthermore, most of the NVRA provisions applied to disabled applicants not registered at the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case       | Court                        | Citation                                 | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|------------------------------|--|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |                              |  |               |   | university. Defendants' motion to dismiss first amended complaint was granted as to the § 1983 claimant denied as to plaintiff's claims brought under the National Voter Registration Act of 1993. Defendants' alternative motion for summary judgment was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| People v. Disimone | Court of Appeals of Michigan | 251 Mich. App. 605; 650 N.W.2d 436; 2002 | July 11, 2002 | Defendant was charged with attempting to vote more than once in the | Defendant was registered in the Colfax township for the 2000  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010577

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation             | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | Mich. App. LEXIS 826 |      | 2000 general election. The circuit court granted defendant's motion that the State had to prove specific intent. The State appealed. | general election. After presenting what appeared to be a valid voter's registration card, defendant proceeded to vote in the Grant township. Defendant had voted in the Colfax township earlier in the day. Defendant moved the court to issue an order that the State had to find that he had a specific intent to vote twice in order to be convicted. The appellate court |                              |             |                                       |

010578

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | reversed the circuit court judgment and held that under the rules of statutory construction, the fact that the legislature had specifically omitted certain trigger words such as "knowingly," "willingly," "purposefully," or "intentionally" it was unlikely that the legislature had intended for this to be a specific intent crime. The court also rejected the |                              |             |                                       |

010579

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court                  | Citation                   | Date             | Facts                                  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|------------------------|----------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |                        |                            |                  |  | defendant's argument that phrases such as "offer to vote" and "attempt to vote" should be construed as synonymous terms, as when words with similar meanings were used in the same statute, it was presumed that the legislature intended to distinguish between the terms. The order of the circuit court was reversed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Diaz v. Hood | United States District | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1111; 2004 | October 26, 2004 | Plaintiffs, unions and individuals who | The putative voters sought injunctive relief   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010580

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court                                      | Citation               | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|------------------------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Court for the Southern District of Florida | U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21445 |      | had attempted to register to vote, sought a declaration of their rights to vote in the November 2, 2004 general election. They alleged that defendants, state and county election officials, refused to process their voter registrations for various failures to complete the registration forms. The election officials moved to dismiss the complaint for lack of standing | requiring the election officials to register them to vote. The court first noted that the unions lacked even representative standing, because they failed to show that one of their members could have brought the case in their own behalf. The individual putative voters raised separate issues: the first had failed to verify her mental capacity, the second failed to check a box |                              |             |                                       |

010581

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                         | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | and failure to state a claim. | indicating that he was not a felon, and the third did not provide the last four digits of her social security number on the form. They claimed the election officials violated federal and state law by refusing to register eligible voters because of nonmaterial errors or omissions in their voter registration applications, and by failing to provide any notice to voter |                              |             |                                       |

010582

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | applicants whose registration applications were deemed incomplete. In the first two cases, the election official had handled the errant application properly under Florida law, and the putative voter had effectively caused their own injury by failing to complete the registration. The third completed her form and was registered, so had suffered no |                              |             |                                       |

010583

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation  | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |              |  | injury. Standing failed against the secretary of state. The motions to dismiss the complaint were granted without prejudice.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. Found., Inc. v. Cox | United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia | 324 F. Supp. 2d 1358; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12120 | July 1, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a voter, fraternity members, and an organization, sought an injunction ordering defendant, the Georgia Secretary of State, to process the voter registration application forms that they mailed in | The organization participated in numerous non-partisan voter registration drives primarily designed to increase the voting strength of African-Americans. Following one such drive, the fraternity members | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010584

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | following a voter registration drive. They contended that by refusing to process the forms defendants violated the National Voter Registration Act and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, and XV. | mailed in over 60 registration forms, including one for the voter who had moved within state since the last election. The Georgia Secretary of State's office refused to process them because they were not mailed individually and neither a registrar, deputy registrar, or an otherwise authorized person had collected the applications as |                              |             |                                       |

010585

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | required under state law. The court held that plaintiffs had standing to bring the action. The court held that because the applications were received in accordance with the mandates of the NVRA, the State of Georgia was not free to reject them. The court found that: plaintiffs had a substantial likelihood of prevailing on the merits of their claim that |                              |             |                                       |

010586

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | the applications were improperly rejected; plaintiffs would be irreparably injured absent an injunction; the potential harm to defendants was outweighed by plaintiffs' injuries; and an injunction was in the public interest. Plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction was granted. Defendants were ordered to process the applications received from |                              |             |                                       |

010587

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case     | Court         | Citation        | Date             | Facts                   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---------------|-----------------|------------------|-------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |               |                 |                  |                         | the organization to determine whether those registrants were qualified to vote. Furthermore, defendants were enjoined from rejecting any voter registration application on the grounds that it was mailed as part of a "bundle" or that it was collected by someone not authorized or any other reason contrary to the NVRA. |                              |             |                                       |
| Moseley v. Price | United States | 300 F. Supp. 2d | January 22, 2004 | Plaintiff alleged, that | The court concluded that   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010588

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation                       | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|--------------------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia | 389; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 850 |      | defendants' actions in investigating his voter registration application constituted a change in voting procedures requiring § 5 preclearance under the Voting Rights Act, which preclearance was never sought or received. Plaintiff claimed he withdrew from the race for Commonwealth Attorney because of the investigation. | plaintiff's claim under the Voting Rights Act lacked merit. Plaintiff did not allege, as required, that any defendants implemented a new, uncleared voting qualification or prerequisite to voting, or standard, practice, or procedure with respect to voting. Here, the existing practice or procedure in effect in the event a mailed registration card was |                              |             |                                       |

010589

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                      | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Defendants moved to dismiss the complaint. | returned was to "resend the voter card, if address verified as correct." This was what precisely occurred. Plaintiff inferred, however, that the existing voting rule or practice was to resend the voter card "with no adverse consequences" and that the county's initiation of an investigation constituted the implementation of a change that had not been pre--cleared. |                              |             |                                       |

010590

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | The court found the inference wholly unwarranted because nothing in the written procedure invited or justified such an inference. The court opined that common sense and state law invited a different inference, namely that while a returned card had to be resent if the address was verified as correct, any allegation of |                              |             |                                       |

010591

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case       | Court  | Citation   | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------|--|--|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                    |  |  |               |   | fraud could be investigated. Therefore, there was no new procedure for which preclearance was required. The court dismissed plaintiff's federal claims. The court dismissed the state law claims without prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| Thompson v. Karben | Supreme Court of New York, Appellate Division, Second Department | 295 A.D.2d 438; 743 N.Y.S.2d 175; 2002 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6101 | June 10, 2002 | Respondents filed a motion seeking the cancellation of appellant's voter registration and political party enrollment on the ground that | Respondents alleged that appellant was unlawfully registered to vote from an address at which he did not reside and that he should  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010592

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | appellant was unlawfully registered to vote in a particular district. The Supreme Court, Rockland County, New York, ordered the cancellation of appellant's voter registration and party enrollment. Appellant challenged the trial court's order. | have voted from the address that he claimed as his residence. The appellate court held that respondents adduced insufficient proof to support the conclusion that appellant did not reside at the subject address. On the other hand, appellant submitted copies of his 2002 vehicle registration, 2000 and 2001 federal income tax returns, 2002 property tax bill, a May |                              |             |                                       |

010593

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation  | Date      | Facts         | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--------|-----------|-----------|---------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |        |           |           |               | 2001 paycheck stub, and 2000 and 2001 retirement account statements all showing the subject address. Appellant also testified that he was a signatory on the mortgage of the subject address and that he kept personal belongings at that address. Respondents did not sustain their evidentiary burden. The judgment of the trial court was reversed. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l Coalition | United | 2002 U.S. | August 2, | Plaintiffs, a | The court  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010594

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation          | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|-------------------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| v. Taft      | States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | Dist. LEXIS 22376 | 2002 | nonprofit public interest group and certain individuals, sued defendants, certain state and university officials, alleging that they violated the National Voter Registration Act in failing to designate the disability services offices at state public colleges and universities as voter registration sites. The group and individuals moved for a | found that the disability services offices at issue were subject to the NVRA because the term "office" included a subdivision of a government department or institution and the disability offices at issue were places where citizens regularly went for service and assistance. Moreover, the Ohio Secretary of State had an obligation under the NVRA to designate the |                              |             |                                       |

010595

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | preliminary injunction. | disability services offices as voter registration sites because nothing in the law superceded the NVRA's requirement that the responsible state official designate disability services offices as voter registration sites. Moreover, under Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3501.05(R), the Secretary of State's duties expressly included |                              |             |                                       |

010596

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ensuring compliance with the NVRA. The case was not moot even though the Secretary of State had taken steps to ensure compliance with the NVRA given his position to his obligation under the law. The court granted declaratory judgment in favor of the nonprofit organization and the individuals. The motion for a preliminary |                              |             |                                       |

010597

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case            | Court                                  | Citation                           | Date        | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|--|------------------------------------|-------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |  |                                    |             |  | injunction was granted in part and the Secretary of State was ordered to notify disabled students who had used the designated disability services offices prior to the opening day of the upcoming semester or who had pre-registered for the upcoming semester as to voter registration availability. |                              |             |                                       |
| Lawson v. Shelby County | United States Court of Appeals for the | 211 F.3d 331; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS | May 3, 2000 | Plaintiffs who were denied the right to vote when they | Plaintiffs attempted to register to vote in October, and   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court         | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Sixth Circuit | 8634     |      | refused to disclose their social security numbers, appealed a judgment of the United States District Court for the Western District of Tennessee at Memphis dismissing their amended complaint for failure to state claims barred by U.S. Const. amend. XI. | to vote in November, but were denied because they refused to disclose their social security numbers. A year after the election date they filed suit alleging denial of constitutional rights, privileges and immunities, the Privacy Act of 1974 and § 1983. The district court dismissed, finding the claims were barred by U.S. Const. amend. XI, and the one |                              |             |                                       |

010599

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | year statute of limitations. The appeals court reversed, holding the district court erred in dismissing the suit because U.S. Const. amend. XI immunity did not apply to suits brought by a private party under the Ex Parte Young exception. Any damages claim not ancillary to injunctive relief was barred. The court also held the statute of limitations ran from the date plaintiffs |                              |             |                                       |

010690

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | were denied the opportunity to vote, not register, and their claim was thus timely. Reversed and remanded to district court to order such relief as will allow plaintiffs to vote and other prospective injunctive relief against county and state officials; declaratory relief and attorneys' fees ancillary to the prospective injunctive relief, all permitted under |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation  | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |              |  | the Young exception to sovereign immunity, to be fashioned.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Curtis v. Smith | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas | 145 F. Supp. 2d 814; 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8544 | June 4, 2001 | Plaintiffs, representatives of several thousand retired persons who called themselves the "Escapees," and who spent a large part of their lives traveling about the United States in recreational vehicles, but were registered to vote in the county, moved for preliminary injunction seeking to | Before a general election, three persons brought an action alleging the Escapees were not bona fide residents of the county, and sought to have their names expunged from the rolls of qualified voters. The plaintiffs brought suit in federal district court. The court issued a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010602

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | enjoin a Texas state court proceeding under the All Writs Act. | preliminary injunction forbidding county officials from attempting to purge the voting. Commissioner contested the results of the election, alleging Escapees' votes should be disallowed. Plaintiffs brought present case assertedly to prevent the same issue from being relitigated. The court held, however, the issues were different, since, |                              |             |                                       |

0106003

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | unlike the case in the first proceeding, there was notice and an opportunity to be heard. Further, unlike the first proceeding, the plaintiff in the state court action did not seek to change the prerequisites for voting registration in the county, but instead challenged the actual residency of some members of the Escapees, and such challenge |                              |             |                                       |

010604

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case      | Court               | Citation           | Date              | Facts                | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---------------------|--------------------|-------------------|----------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                   |                     |                    |                   |                      | properly belonged in the state court. The court further held that an election contest under state law was the correct vehicle to contest the registration of Escapees. The court dissolved the temporary restraining order it had previously entered and denied plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction of the state court proceeding. |                              |             |                                       |
| Pepper v. Darnell | United States Court | 24 Fed. Appx. 460; | December 10, 2001 | Plaintiff individual | Individual argued on   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010605

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court                            | Citation                   | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|----------------------------------|----------------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 2001 U.S. App. LEXIS 26618 |      | appealed from a judgment of the district court, in an action against defendant state officials seeking relief under § 1983 and the National Voter Registration Act, for their alleged refusal to permit individual to register to vote. Officials had moved for dismissal or for summary judgment, and the district court granted the motion. | appeal that the district court erred in finding that the registration forms used by the state did not violate the NVRA and in failing to certify a class represented by individual. Individual lived in his automobile and received mail at a rented box. Officials refused to validate individual's attempt to register to vote by mail. Tennessee state law forbade |                              |             |                                       |

010606

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | accepting a rented mail box as the address of the potential voter. Individual insisted that his automobile registration provided sufficient proof of residency under the NVRA. The court upheld the legality of state's requirement that one registering to vote provide a specific location as an address, regardless of the transient lifestyle of the |                              |             |                                       |

010607

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | potential voter, finding state's procedure faithfully mirrored the requirements of the NVRA as codified in the Code of Federal Regulations. The court also held that the refusal to certify individual as the representative of a class for purposes of this litigation was not an abuse of discretion; in this case, no representative party was available as the |                              |             |                                       |

809010

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                     |  |  |                  |   | indigent individual, acting in his own behalf, was clearly unable to represent fairly the class. The district court's judgment was affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Miller v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | 348 F. Supp. 2d 916; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24894 | October 27, 2004 | Plaintiffs, two voters and the Ohio Democratic Party, filed suit against defendants, the Ohio Secretary of State, several county boards of elections, and all of the boards' members, alleging claims under the | Plaintiffs alleged that the timing and manner in which defendants intended to hold hearings regarding pre-election challenges to their voter registration violated both the Act and the Due Process | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010609

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | National Voter Registration Act and § 1983. Plaintiffs also filed a motion for a temporary restraining order (TRO). Two individuals filed a motion to intervene as defendants. | Clause. The individuals, who filed pre-election voter eligibility challenges, filed a motion to intervene. The court held that it would grant the motion to intervene because the individuals had a substantial legal interest in the subject matter of the action and time constraints would not permit them to bring separate actions to protect their rights. The |                              |             |                                       |

010610

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court further held that it would grant plaintiffs' motion for a TRO because plaintiffs made sufficient allegations in their complaint to establish standing and because all four factors to consider in issuing a TRO weighed heavily in favor of doing so. The court found that plaintiffs demonstrated a likelihood of success on the merits because they made a |                              |             |                                       |

010611

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | strong showing that defendants' intended actions regarding pre-election challenges to voter eligibility abridged plaintiffs' fundamental right to vote and violated the Due Process Clause. Thus, the other factors to consider in granting a TRO automatically weighed in plaintiffs' favor. The court granted plaintiffs' motion for a TRO. The court |                              |             |                                       |

010612

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | also granted the individuals' motion to intervene. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case         | Court  | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Hileman v. McGinness | Court of Appeals of Illinois, Fifth District | 316 Ill. App. 3d 868; 739 N.E.2d 81; 2000 Ill. App. LEXIS 845 | October 25, 2000 | Appellant challenged the circuit court declaration that that the result of a primary election for county circuit clerk was void. | In a primary election for county circuit clerk, the parties agreed that 681 absentee ballots were presumed invalid. The ballots had been commingled with the valid ballots. There were no markings or indications on the ballots which would have allowed them to be segregated from other ballots cast. Because the ballots could not have been segregated, apportionment was the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010614

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | appropriate remedy if no fraud was involved. If fraud was involved, the election would have had to have been voided and a new election held. Because the trial court did not hold an evidentiary hearing on the fraud allegations, and did not determine whether fraud was in issue, the case was remanded for a determination as to whether fraud was evident in |                              |             |                                       |

010615

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case             | Court                     | Citation   | Date         | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------------------|---------------------------|--|--------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                          |                           |  |              |  | the electoral process. The court reversed the declaration of the trial court, holding that a determination as to whether fraud was involved in the election was necessary to a determination of whether or not a new election was required. |                              |             |                                       |
| DeFabio v. Gummersheimer | Supreme Court of Illinois | 192 Ill. 2d 63; 733 N.E.2d 1241; 2000 Ill. LEXIS 993 | July 6, 2000 | Appellant challenged the judgment of the appellate court, which affirmed the trial court's decision granting appellee's summary judgment motion in action brought by | Appellee filed a petition for election contest, alleging that the official results of the Monroe County coroners election were invalid because none of the 524 ballots cast in  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010616

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | appellee to contest the results of the election for the position of county coroner in Monroe County. | Monroe County's second precinct were initialed by an election judge, in violation of Illinois law. The trial court granted appellee's motion for summary judgment, and the appellate court affirmed the judgment. The Illinois supreme court affirmed, noting that statutes requiring election judges to initial election ballots were mandatory, and uninitialed |                              |             |                                       |

010617

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballots could not have been counted, even where the parties agreed that there was no knowledge of fraud or corruption. Thus, the supreme court held that the trial court properly invalidated all of the ballots cast in Monroe County's second precinct. The court reasoned that none of the ballots contained the requisite initialing, and neither party argued that any |                              |             |                                       |

010618

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | of the uninitialed ballots could have been distinguished or identified as absentee ballots. The supreme court affirmed the judgment because the Illinois statute requiring election judges to initial election ballots was mandatory, and uninitialed ballots could not have been counted, even where the parties agreed that there was no knowledge of fraud or corruption. |                              |             |                                       |

010619

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation  | Date          | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|---------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |               |   | Additionally, none of the ballots in Monroe County's second precinct contained the requisite initialing.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Gilmore v. Amityville Union Free Sch. Dist. | United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York | 305 F. Supp. 2d 271; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3116 | March 2, 2004 | Plaintiffs, two school board candidates, filed a class action complaint against defendants, a school district, the board president, and other district agents or employees, challenging a school board election. Defendants moved to dismiss. | During the election, a voting machine malfunctioned, resulting in votes being cast on lines that were blank on the ballot. The board president devised a plan for counting the machine votes by moving each tally up one line. The two candidates, who were African | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010620

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | American, alleged that the president's plan eliminated any possibility that an African American would be elected. The court found that the candidates failed to state a claim under § 1983 because they could not show that defendants' actions were done or approved by a person with final policymaking authority, nor was there a showing of intentional or |                              |             |                                       |

010621

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | purposeful discrimination on defendants' part. The vote-counting method applied equally to all candidates. The candidates' claims under § 2000a and 2000c--8 failed because schools were not places of public accommodation, as required under § 2000a, and § 2000c--8 applied to school segregation. Their claim under § 1971 of deprivation of voting rights failed because § |                              |             |                                       |

010622

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case                      | Court                 | Citation                       | Date               | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------|--------------------------------|--------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |                       |                                |                    |  | 1971 did not provide for a private right of action. The court declined to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over various state law claims. Defendants' motion to dismiss was granted with respect to the candidates' federal claims; the state law claims were dismissed without prejudice. |                              |             |                                       |
| State ex rel. Mackey v. Blackwell | Supreme Court of Ohio | 106 Ohio St. 3d 261; 2005 Ohio | September 28, 2005 | Appellants, a political group and county electors who voted by provisional ballot, | The Secretary of State issued a directive to all Ohio county boards of   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010623

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation  | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|---|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       | 4789;834N.E.2d346;2005OhioLEXIS2074 |      | sought review of a judgment from the court of appeals, which dismissed appellants' complaint, seeking a writ of mandamus to prevent appellees, the Ohio Secretary of State, a county board of elections, and the board's director, from disenfranchisement of provisional ballot voters. | elections, which specified that a signed affirmation statement was necessary for the counting of a provisional ballot in a presidential election. During the election, over 24,400 provisional ballots were cast in one county. The electors' provisional ballots were not counted. They, together with a political activist group, brought the mandamus action to compel |                              |             |                                       |

010624

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | appellants to prohibit the invalidation of provisional ballots and to notify voters of reasons for ballot rejections. Assorted constitutional and statutory law was relied on in support of the complaint. The court dismissed the complaint, finding that no clear legal right was established under Ohio law and the federal claims could be adequately raised in an action under § |                              |             |                                       |

010625

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 1983. On appeal, the Ohio supreme court held that dismissal was proper, as the complaint actually sought declaratory and injunctive relief, rather than mandamus relief. Further, election--contest actions were the exclusive remedy to challenge election results. An adequate remedy existed under § 1983 to raise the federal--law claims. Affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

010626

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case           | Court   | Citation  | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|---|---|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Touchston v. McDermott | United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida | 120 F. Supp. 2d 1055; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20091 | November 14, 2000 | In action in which plaintiffs, registered voters in Brevard County, Florida, filed suit against defendants, members of several County Canvassing Boards and the Secretary of the Florida Department of State, challenging the constitutionality of Fla. Stat. Ann. § 102.166(4) (2000), before the court was plaintiffs' emergency motion for temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunction. | In their complaint, plaintiffs challenged the constitutionality of § 102.166(4), asserting that the statute violated their rights under the Equal Protection and Due Process Clauses of U.S. Const. amend. XIV. Based on these claims, plaintiffs sought an order from the court stopping the manual recount of votes. The court found that plaintiffs had failed to set forth a valid | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010627

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | basis for intervention by federal courts. They had not alleged that the Florida law was discriminatory, that citizens were being deprived of the right to vote, or that there had been fraudulent interference with the vote. Moreover, plaintiffs had not established a likelihood of success on the merits of their claims. Plaintiffs' motion for temporary restraining order and/or |                              |             |                                       |

010628

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation  | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|---|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |   |                   |   | preliminary injunction denied; plaintiffs had not alleged that the Florida law was discriminatory, that citizens were being deprived of the right to vote, or that there had been fraudulent interference with the vote. |                              |             |                                       |
| Siegel v. LePore | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 120 F. Supp. 2d 1041; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16333 | November 13, 2000 | Plaintiffs, individual Florida voters and Republican Party presidential and vice-presidential candidates, moved for a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction to | The court addressed who should consider plaintiffs' serious arguments that manual recounts would diminish the accuracy of vote counts due to ballot  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010629

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | enjoin defendants, canvassing board members from four Florida counties, from proceeding with manual recounts of election ballots. | degradation and the exercise of discretion in determining voter intent. The court ruled that intervention by a federal district court, particularly on a preliminary basis, was inappropriate. A federal court should not interfere except where there was an immediate need to correct a constitutional violation. Plaintiffs neither demonstrated a clear deprivation of a constitutional |                              |             |                                       |

010630

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | injury or a fundamental unfairness in Florida's manual recount provision. The recount provision was reasonable and non-discriminatory on its face and resided within the state's broad control over presidential election procedures. Plaintiffs failed to show that manual recounts were so unreliable as to constitute a constitutional injury, that plaintiffs' |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case   | Court            | Citation        | Date              | Facts                               | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|------------------|-----------------|-------------------|-------------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                  |                 |                   |                                     | alleged injuries were irreparable, or that they lacked an adequate state court remedy. Injunctive relief denied because plaintiffs demonstrated neither clear deprivation of constitutional injury or fundamental unfairness in Florida's manual recount provision to justify federal court interference in state election procedures. |                              |             |                                       |
| Gore v. Harris | Supreme Court of | 773 So. 2d 524; | December 22, 2000 | In a contest to results of the 2000 | The state supreme court  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010632

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation             | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------|----------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Florida | 2000 Fla. LEXIS 2474 |      | presidential election in Florida, the United States Supreme Court reversed and remanded a Florida Supreme Court decision that had ordered a manual recount of certain ballots. | had ordered the trial court to conduct a manual recount of 9000 contested Miami--Dade County ballots, and also held that uncounted "undervotes" in all Florida counties were to be manually counted. The trial court was ordered to use the standard that a vote was "legal" if there was a clear indication of the intent of the voter. The United States Supreme Court released an |                              |             |                                       |

010633

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | opinion on December 12, 2000, which held that such a standard violated equal protection rights because it lacked specific standards to ensure equal application, and also mandated that any manual recount would have to have been completed by December 12, 2000. On remand, the state supreme court found that it was impossible under that time frame to adopt adequate |                              |             |                                       |

010634

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case   | Court       | Citation | Date     | Facts               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|-------------|----------|----------|---------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |             |          |          |                     | standards and make necessary evaluations of vote tabulation equipment. Also, development of a specific, uniform standard for manual recounts was best left to the legislature. Because adequate standards for a manual recount could not be developed by the deadline set by the United States Supreme Court, appellants were afforded no relief. |                              |             |                                       |
| Goodwin v. St. | Territorial | 43 V.I.  | December | Plaintiff political | Plaintiff alleged   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010635

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case                      | Court                       | Citation               | Date     | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------|------------------------|----------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Thomas--St. John Bd. of Elections | Court of the Virgin Islands | 89; 2000 V.I. LEXIS 15 | 13, 2000 | candidate alleged that certain general election absentee ballots violated territorial election law, and that the improper inclusion of such ballots by defendants, election board and supervisor, resulted in plaintiff's loss of the election. Plaintiff sued defendants seeking invalidation of the absentee ballots and certification of the election results tabulated without such ballots. | that defendants counted unlawful absentee ballots that lacked postmarks, were not signed or notarized, were in unsealed and/or torn envelopes, and were in envelopes containing more than one ballot. Prior to tabulation of the absentee ballots, plaintiff was leading intervenor for the final senate position, but the absentee ballots entitled intervenor to the position. The |                              |             |                                       |

010636

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | court held that plaintiff was not entitled to relief since he failed to establish that the alleged absentee voting irregularities would require invalidation of a sufficient number of ballots to change the outcome of the election. While the unsealed ballots constituted a technical violation, the outer envelopes were sealed and thus substantially complied with election |                              |             |                                       |

010637

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | requirements. Further, while defendants improperly counted one ballot where a sealed ballot envelope and a loose ballot were in the same outer envelope, the one vote involved did not change the election result. Plaintiff's other allegations of irregularities were without merit since ballots without postmarks were valid, ballots without signatures were not counted, and |                              |             |                                       |

010638

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date       | Facts              | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|------------|--------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |            |                    | ballots without notarized signatures were proper. Plaintiff's request for declaratory and injunctive relief was denied. Invalidation of absentee ballots was not required since the irregularities asserted by plaintiff involved ballots which were in fact valid, were not tabulated by defendants, or were insufficient to change the outcome of the election. |                              |             |                                       |
| Shannon v.   | United | 394 F.3d | January 7, | Plaintiffs, voters | Local election  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010639

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation                     | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|------------------------------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Jacobowitz   | States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 90; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 259 | 2005 | and an incumbent candidate, sued defendants, a challenger candidate, a county board of election, and commissioners, pursuant to § 1983 alleging violation of the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of New York granted summary judgment in favor of plaintiffs. Defendants appealed. | inspectors noticed a problem with a voting machine. Plaintiffs asserted that their votes were not counted due to the machine malfunction. Rather than pursue the state remedy of quo warranto, by requesting that New York's Attorney General investigate the machine malfunction and challenge the election results in state court, plaintiffs filed their complaint in federal court. |                              |             |                                       |

010640

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | The court of appeals found that United States Supreme Court jurisprudence required intentional conduct by state actors as a prerequisite for a due process violation. Neither side alleged that local officials acted intentionally or in a discriminatory manner with regard to the vote miscount. Both sides conceded that the recorded results were |                              |             |                                       |

010641

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | likely due to an unforeseen malfunction with the voting machine. Because no conduct was alleged that would indicate an intentional deprivation of the right to vote, there was no cognizable federal due process claim. The proper remedy was to assert a quo warranto action to challenge the outcome of a general election based on an alleged voting machine malfunction. |                              |             |                                       |

010642

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                       | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|-----------------------------|--|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                             |  |                  |  | The district court's grant of summary judgment was reversed and its injunctions were vacated. The case was remanded for further proceedings consistent with this opinion.                              |                              |             |                                       |
| GEORGE W. BUSH v. PALM BEACH COUNTY CANVASSING BOARD, ET AL. | United States Supreme Court | 531 U.S. 70; 121 S. Ct. 471; 148 L. Ed. 2d 366; 2000 U.S. LEXIS 8087 | December 4, 2000 | Appellant Republican presidential candidate's petition for writ of certiorari to the Florida supreme court was granted in a case involving interpretations of Fla. Stat. Ann. §§ 102.111, 102.112, in proceedings brought by | The Supreme Court vacated the state court's judgment, finding that the state court opinion could be read to indicate that it construed the Florida Election Code without regard to the extent to which | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010623

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | appellees Democratic presidential candidate, county canvassing boards, and Florida Democratic Party regarding authority of the boards and respondent Florida Secretary of State as to manual recounts of ballots and deadlines. | the Florida Constitution could, consistent with U.S. Const. art. II, § 1, cl. 2, circumscribe the legislative power. The judgment of the Florida Supreme Court was vacated and remanded for further proceedings. The court stated the judgment was unclear as to the extent to which the state court saw the Florida constitution as circumscribing the legislature's authority under |                              |             |                                       |

010644

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case           | Court   | Citation                                  | Date              | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------------|---|---|-------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                        |   |   |                   |  | Article II of the United States Constitution, and as to the consideration given the federal statute regarding state electors.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Touchston v. McDermott | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 234 F.3d 1130; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 29366 | November 17, 2000 | Plaintiff voters appealed from judgment of the United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida, which denied their emergency motion for an injunction pending appeal against defendant county election officials. Plaintiffs sought to enjoin defendants from conducting manual ballot recounts or | Plaintiff voters sought an emergency injunction pending appeal to enjoin defendant county election officials from conducting manual ballot recounts or to enjoin defendants from certifying the results of the Presidential election which | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010645

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | to enjoin defendants from certifying results of the presidential election that contained any manual recounts. | contained any manual recounts. The district court denied the emergency injunction and plaintiffs appealed. Upon review, the emergency motion for injunction pending appeal was denied without prejudice. Florida had adequate election dispute procedures, which had been invoked and were being implemented in the forms of administrative |                              |             |                                       |

979010

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | actions by state officials and actions in state court. Therefore, the state procedures were adequate to preserve for ultimate review in the United States Supreme Court any federal questions arising out of the state procedures. Moreover, plaintiffs failed to demonstrate a substantial threat of an irreparable injury that would warrant granting the extraordinary |                              |             |                                       |

010647

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | remedy of an injunction pending appeal. Denial of plaintiff's petition for emergency injunction pending appeal was affirmed. The state procedures were adequate to preserve any federal issue for review, and plaintiffs failed to demonstrate a substantial threat of an irreparable injury that would have warranted granting the extraordinary remedy of the |                              |             |                                       |

879010

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                    | Citation                              | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--------------------------|---------------------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                          |                                       |                  |  | injunction.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Gore v. Harris | Supreme Court of Florida | 772 So. 2d 1243; 2000 Fla. LEXIS 2373 | December 8, 2000 | The court of appeal certified as being of great public importance a trial court judgment that denied all relief requested by appellants, candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, in appellants' contest to certified election results. | Appellants contested the certification of their opponents as the winners of Florida's electoral votes. The Florida supreme court found no error in the trial court's holding that it was proper to certify election night returns from Nassau County rather than results of a machine recount. Nor did the trial court err in refusing to include votes that the Palm Beach County | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010679

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Canvassing Board found not to be legal votes during a manual recount. However, the trial court erred in excluding votes that were identified during the Palm Beach County manual recount and during a partial manual recount in Miami--Dade County. It was also error to refuse to examine Miami--Dade County ballots that registered as non--votes during the machine count. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | The trial court applied an improper standard to determine whether appellants had established that the result of the election was in doubt, and improperly concluded that there was no probability of a different result without examining the ballots that appellants claimed contained rejected legal votes. The judgment was reversed and remanded; the |                              |             |                                       |

010651

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Ballot Counting Violation Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | trial court was ordered to tabulate by hand Miami-Dade County ballots that the counting machine registered as non--votes, and was directed to order inclusion of votes that had already been identified during manual recounts. The trial court also was ordered to consider whether manual recounts in other counties were necessary. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case      | Court                           | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------|---------------------------------|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| James v. Bartlett | Supreme Court of North Carolina | 359 N.C. 260; 607 S.E.2d 638; 2005 N.C. LEXIS 146 | February 4, 2005 | Appellant candidates challenged elections in the superior court through appeals of election protests before the North Carolina State Board of Elections and a declaratory judgment action in the superior court. The court entered an order granting summary judgment in favor of appellees, the Board, the Board's executive director, the Board's members, and the North Carolina Attorney General. The candidates appealed. | The case involved three separate election challenges. The central issue was whether a provisional ballot cast on election day at a precinct other than the voter's correct precinct of residence could be lawfully counted in final election tallies. The superior court held that it could be counted. On appeal, the supreme court determined that state law did not permit out--of--precinct provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                                  | Court  | Citation                                 | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | ballots to be counted in state and local elections. The candidates failure to challenge the counting of out-of-precinct provisional ballots before the election did not render their action untimely. Reversed and remanded. |                              |             |                                       |
| Sandusky County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 387 F.3d 565; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 22320 | October 26, 2004 | Defendant state appealed from an order of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Ohio which held that the Help America Vote Act required that voters be permitted to cast | The district court found that HAVA created an individual right to cast a provisional ballot, that this right is individually enforceable under 42  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010654

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | provisional ballots upon affirming their registration to vote in the county in which they desire to vote and that provisional ballots must be counted as valid ballots when cast in the correct county. | U.S.C.S. § 1983, and that plaintiffs unions and political parties had standing to bring a § 1983 action on behalf of Ohio voters. The court of appeals agreed that the political parties and unions had associational standing to challenge the state's provisional voting directive. Further, the court determined that HAVA was quintessentially about being able to cast a provisional |                              |             |                                       |

010655

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballot but that the voter casts a provisional ballot at the peril of not being eligible to vote under state law; if the voter is not eligible, the vote will then not be counted. Accordingly, the court of appeals reversed the district court and held that "provisional" ballots cast in a precinct where a voter does not reside and which would be invalid under state law, are not required by the HAVA to be considered |                              |             |                                       |

010656

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                      | Court                 | Citation  | Date               | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------|---|--------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                   |                       |   |                    |  | legal votes. Affirmed in part and reversed in part.  |                              |             |                                       |
| State ex rel. Mackey v. Blackwell | Supreme Court of Ohio | 106 Ohio St. 3d 261; 2005 Ohio 4789; 834 N.E.2d 346; 2005 Ohio LEXIS 2074 | September 28, 2005 | Appellants, a political group and county electors who voted by provisional ballot, sought review of a judgment from the court of appeals which dismissed appellants' complaint, seeking a writ of mandamus to prevent appellees, the Ohio Secretary of State, a county board of elections, and the board's director, from disenfranchisement of provisional ballot voters. | The Secretary of State issued a directive to all Ohio county boards of elections, which specified that a signed affirmation statement was necessary for the counting of a provisional ballot in a presidential election. During the election, over 24,400 provisional ballots were cast in one county. The electors' provisional | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010657

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | ballots were not counted. They, together with a political activist group, brought the mandamus action to compel appellants to prohibit the invalidation of provisional ballots and to notify voters of reasons for ballot rejections. Assorted constitutional and statutory law was relied on in support of the complaint. The trial court dismissed the complaint, finding that no clear legal right was established |                              |             |                                       |

010658

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | under Ohio law and the federal claims could be adequately raised in an action under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983. On appeal, the Ohio Supreme Court held that dismissal was proper, as the complaint actually sought declaratory and injunctive relief, rather than mandamus relief. Further, election--contest actions were the exclusive remedy to challenge election results. An adequate remedy existed |                              |             |                                       |

010659

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                  | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|---|---|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |   |   |                  |  | under § 1983 to raise the federal-law claims.Affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Fla. Democratic Party v. Hood | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1073; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21720 | October 21, 2004 | Plaintiff political party sought injunctive relief under the Help America Vote Act, claiming that the election system put in place by defendant election officials violated HAVA because it did not allow provisional voting other than in the voter's assigned precinct. The officials moved for judgment on the pleadings. | The political party asserted that a prospective voter in a federal election had the right to cast a provisional ballot at a given polling place, even if the local officials asserted that the voter was at the wrong polling place; second, that voter had the right to have that vote counted in the election, if the voter otherwise | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010660

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | met all requirements of state law. The court noted that the right to vote was clearly protectable as a civil right, and a primary purpose of the HAVA was to preserve the votes of persons who had incorrectly been removed from the voting rolls, and thus would not be listed as voters at what would otherwise have been the correct polling place. The irreparable injury to a voter was easily sufficient to |                              |             |                                       |

010661

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | outweigh any harm to the officials. Therefore, the court granted relief as to the first claim, allowing the unlisted voter to cast a provisional ballot, but denied relief as to the second claim, that the ballot at the wrong place must be counted if it was cast at the wrong place, because that result contradicted State law. The provisional ballot could only be counted if it |                              |             |                                       |

010662

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |  |                  |  | was cast in the proper precinct under State law.  |                              |             |                                       |
| League of Women Voters v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 340 F. Supp. 2d 823; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20926 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff organizations filed suit against defendant, Ohio's Secretary of State, claiming that a directive issued by the Secretary contravened the provisions of the Help America Vote Act. The Secretary filed a motion to dismiss. | The directive in question instructed election officials to issue provisional ballots to first-time voters who registered by mail but did not provide documentary identification at the polling place on election day. When submitting a provisional ballot, a first-time voter could identify himself by providing his driver's license number or the | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010663

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | last four digits of his social security number. If he did not know either number, he could provide it before the polls closed. If he did not do so, his provisional ballot would not be counted. The court held that the directive did not contravene the HAVA and otherwise established reasonable requirements for confirming the identity of first-time voters who registered to vote by mail because: (1) the |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | identification procedures were an important bulwark against voter misconduct and fraud; (2) the burden imposed on first-time voters to confirm their identity, and thus show that they were voting legitimately, was slight; and (3) the number of voters unable to meet the burden of proving their identity was likely to be very small. Thus, the balance of interests favored the directive, |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                                  | Court  | Citation                                 | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                  |   | even if the cost, in terms of uncounted ballots, was regrettable.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Sandusky County Democratic Party v. Blackwell | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 386 F.3d 815; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 28765 | October 23, 2004 | Defendant Ohio Secretary of State challenged an order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, which held that Ohio Secretary of State Directive 2004--33 violated the federal Help America Vote Act. In its order, the district court directed the Secretary to issue a revised directive that conformed to HAVA's requirements. | On appeal, the court held that the district court correctly ruled that the right to cast a provisional ballot in federal elections was enforceable under 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983 and that at least one plaintiff had standing to enforce that right in the district court. The court also held that Ohio Secretary of State Directive | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010666

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | 2004--33 violated HAVA to the extent that it failed to ensure that any individual affirming that he or she was a registered voter in the jurisdiction in which he or she desired to vote and eligible to vote in a federal election was permitted to cast a provisional ballot. However, the district court erred in holding that HAVA required that a voter's provisional ballot be counted as a |                              |             |                                       |

010667

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|-----------------------------|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |                             |                  |   | valid ballot if it was cast anywhere in the county in which the voter resided, even if it was cast outside the precinct in which the voter resided.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Hawkins v. Blunt | United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21512 | October 12, 2004 | In an action filed by plaintiffs, voters and a state political party, contending that the provisional voting requirements of Mo. Rev. Stat. § 115.430 conflicted with and was preempted by the Help America Vote Act, plaintiffs and defendants, the secretary of state and others, moved | The court held that the text of the HAVA, as well as its legislative history, proved that it could be read to include reasonable accommodations of state precinct voting practices in implementing provisional voting requirements. | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010668

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                 | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-----------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | for summary judgment. | The court further held that Mo. Rev. Stat. § 115.430.2 was reasonable; to effectuate the HAVA's intent and to protect that interest, it could not be unreasonable to direct a voter to his correct voting place where a full ballot was likely to be cast. The court also held that plaintiffs' equal protection rights were not violated by the requirement that before a voter would be allowed to cast a provisional |                              |             |                                       |

010669

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                        | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |   |  |                  |  | ballot, the voter would first be directed to his proper polling place.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bay County Democratic Party v. Land | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 340 F. Supp. 2d 802; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20551 | October 13, 2004 | Plaintiffs, state and county Democratic parties, filed an action against defendant, Michigan secretary of state and the Michigan director of elections, alleging that the state's intended procedure for casting and counting provisional ballots at the upcoming general election would violate the Help America Vote Act and state laws implementing the federal | The parties claimed that if the secretary's proposed procedure was allowed to occur, several voters who were members of the parties' respective organizations were likely to be disenfranchised. Defendants moved to transfer venue of the action to the Western District of Michigan claiming that the only proper | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | legislation. Defendants filed a motion to transfer venue. | venue for an action against a state official is the district that encompasses the state's seat of government. Alternatively, defendants sought transfer for the convenience of the parties and witnesses. The court found that defendants' arguments were not supported by the plain language of the current venue statutes. Federal actions against the Michigan secretary of state over rules and practices |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | governing federal elections traditionally were brought in both the Eastern and Western Districts of Michigan. There was no rule that required such actions to be brought only in the district in which the state's seat of government was located, and no inconvenience resulting from litigating in the state's more populous district reasonably could be claimed by a state official who had a |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                        | Court   | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |   |  |                  |   | mandate to administer elections throughout the state and operated an office in each of its counties. Motion denied.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bay County Democratic Party v. Land | United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | 347 F. Supp. 2d 404; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20872 | October 19, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voter organizations and political parties, filed actions against defendants, the Michigan Secretary of State and her director of elections, challenging directives issued to local election officials concerning the casting and tabulation of provisional ballots. Plaintiffs sought a | The court concluded that (1) plaintiffs had standing to assert their claims; (2) HAVA created individual rights enforceable through 42 U.S.C.S. § 1983; (3) Congress had provided a scheme under HAVA in which a voter's right to have a | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | preliminary injunction and contended that the directives violated their rights under the Help America Vote Act. | provisional ballot for federal offices tabulated was determined by state law governing eligibility, and defendants' directives for determining eligibility on the basis of precinct--based residency were inconsistent with state and federal election law; (4) Michigan election law defined voter qualifications in terms of the voter's home jurisdiction, and a person who cast a |                              |             |                                       |

010674

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Provisional Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | provisional ballot within his or her jurisdiction was entitled under federal law to have his or her votes for federal offices counted if eligibility to vote in that election could be verified; and (5) defendants' directives concerning proof of identity of first-time voters who registered by mail were consistent with federal and state law. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case                                | Court   | Citation                                 | Date         | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|--|--------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. Found., Inc. v. Cox | United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit | 408 F.3d 1349; 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 8320 | May 12, 2005 | Plaintiffs, a charitable foundation, four volunteers, and a registered voter, filed a suit against defendant state officials alleging violations of the National Voter Registration Act and the Voting Rights Act. The officials appealed after the United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia issued a preliminary injunction enjoining them from rejecting voter registrations submitted by the | The foundation conducted a voter registration drive; it placed the completed applications in a single envelope and mailed them to the Georgia Secretary of State for processing. Included in the batch was the voter's change of address form. Plaintiffs filed the suit after they were notified that the applications had been rejected pursuant to Georgia law, which allegedly restricted who could collect voter registration | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010676

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts       | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | foundation. | forms. Plaintiffs contended that the officials had violated the NVRA, the VRA, and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, XV. The officials argued that plaintiffs lacked standing and that the district court had erred in issuing the preliminary injunction. The court found no error. Plaintiffs had sufficiently alleged injuries under the NVRA, arising out of the rejection of the voter registration forms; the allegations in the |                              |             |                                       |

010677

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date      | Facts     | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|-----------|-----------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |           |           | complaint sufficiently showed an injury--in--fact that was fairly traceable to the officials' conduct. The injunction was properly issued. There was a substantial likelihood that plaintiffs would prevail as to their claims; it served the public interest to protect plaintiffs' franchise--related rights. The court affirmed the preliminary injunction order entered by the district court. |                              |             |                                       |
| McKay v.     | United | 226 F.3d | September | Plaintiff | The trial court   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation                        | Date     | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---------------------------------|----------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Thompson     | States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 752; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 23387 | 18, 2000 | challenged order of United States District Court for Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga, which granted defendant state election officials summary judgment on plaintiff's action seeking to stop the state practice of requiring its citizens to disclose their social security numbers as a precondition to voter registration. | had granted defendant state election officials summary judgment. The court declined to overrule defendants' administrative determination that state law required plaintiff to disclose his social security number because the interpretation appeared to be reasonable, did not conflict with previous case law, and could be challenged in state court. The requirement did not violate the Privacy Act of 1974, because it |                              |             |                                       |

010679

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | was grand fathered under the terms of the Act. The limitations in the National Voter Registration Act did not apply because the NVRA did not specifically prohibit the use of social security numbers and the Act contained a more specific provision regarding such use. The trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and |                              |             |                                       |

010680

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court  | Citation | Date    | Facts               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------|----------|---------|---------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |        |          |         |                     | immunities, and due process claims. Order affirmed because requirement that voters disclose social security numbers as precondition to voter registration did not violate Privacy Act of 1974 or National Voter Registration Act and trial court properly rejected plaintiff's fundamental right to vote, free exercise of religion, privileges and immunities, and due process claims. |                              |             |                                       |
| Nat'l        | United | 150 F.   | July 5, | Plaintiff, national | Defendants  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010681

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation                                 | Date | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|--|------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Coalition for Students with Disabilities Educ. & Legal Def. Fund v. Scales | States District Court for the Southern District of Maryland | Supp. 2d 845; 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9528 | 2001 | organization for disabled students, brought an action against university president and university's director of office of disability support services to challenge the voter registration procedures established by the disability support services. Defendants moved to dismiss the first amended complaint, or in the alternative for summary judgment. | alleged that plaintiff lacked standing to represent its members, and that plaintiff had not satisfied the notice requirements of the National Voter Registration Act. Further, defendants maintained the facts, as alleged by plaintiff, did not give rise to a past, present, or future violation of the NVRA because (1) the plaintiff's members that requested voter registration services were not |                              |             |                                       |

010682

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registered students at the university and (2) its current voter registration procedures complied with NVRA. As to plaintiff's § 1983 claim, the court held that while plaintiff had alleged sufficient facts to confer standing under the NVRA, such allegations were not sufficient to support standing on its own behalf on the § 1983 claim. As to the NVRA claim, the court found that the agency practice of only offering voter |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | registration services at the initial intake interview and placing the burden on disabled students to obtain voter registration forms and assistance afterwards did not satisfy its statutory duties. Furthermore, most of the NVRA provisions applied to disabled applicants not registered at the university. Defendants' motion to dismiss first amended |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case                               | Court  | Citation                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|--|----------------------------|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |  |                            |                   |   | complaint was granted as to the § 1983 claim and denied as to plaintiff's claims brought under the National Voter Registration Act of 1993. Defendants' alternative motion for summary judgment was denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Cunningham v. Chi. Bd. of Election Comm'rs | United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois | 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2528 | February 24, 2003 | Plaintiffs, who alleged that they were duly registered voters, six of whom had signed nominating petitions for one candidate and two of whom signed | Plaintiffs argued that objections to their signatures were improperly sustained by defendants, the city board of election commissioners. Plaintiff's argued that they were   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010685

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | nominating petitions for another candidate. They first asked for a preliminary injunction of the municipal election scheduled for the following Tuesday and suggested, alternatively, that the election for City Clerk and for 4th Ward Alderman be enjoined. | registered voters whose names appeared in an inactive file and whose signatures were therefore, and improperly, excluded. The court ruled that by characterizing the claim as plaintiffs did, they sought to enjoin an election because their signatures were not counted, even though their preferred candidates were otherwise precluded from appearing on the ballot. Without regard to their likelihood of |                              |             |                                       |

010686

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | obtaining any relief, plaintiffs failed to demonstrate that they would be irreparably harmed if an injunction did not issue; the threatened injury to defendants, responsible as they were for the conduct of the municipal election, far outweighed any threatened injury to plaintiffs; and the granting of a preliminary injunction would greatly disserve the public interest. Plaintiffs' petition for |                              |             |                                       |

010687

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |   |   |                  |  | preliminary relief was denied.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Diaz v. Hood | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1111; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21445 | October 26, 2004 | Plaintiffs, unions and individuals who had attempted to register to vote, sought a declaration of their rights to vote in the November 2, 2004 general election. They alleged that defendants, state and county election officials, refused to process their voter registrations for various failures to complete the registration forms. The election officials | The putative voters sought injunctive relief requiring the election officials to register them to vote. The court first noted that the unions lacked even representative standing, because they failed to show that one of their members could have brought the case in their own behalf. The individual putative voters raised separate issues: the first had failed to verify her mental | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010688

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | moved to dismiss the complaint for lack of standing and failure to state a claim. | capacity, the second failed to check a box indicating that he was not a felon, and the third did not provide the last four digits of her social security number on the form. They claimed the election officials violated federal and state law by refusing to register eligible voters because of nonmaterial errors or omissions in their voter registration applications, and by failing to provide any notice to voter |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | applicants whose registration applications were deemed incomplete. In the first two cases, the election official had handled the errant application properly under Florida law, and the putative voter had effectively caused their own injury by failing to complete the registration. The third completed her form and was registered, so had suffered no injury. Standing failed against the secretary of state. Motion to dismiss without |                              |             |                                       |

010690

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|--|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |  |                  |   | prejudice granted.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio | 235 F. Supp. 2d 772; 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21753 | October 22, 2002 | Plaintiff voters sued defendants, a county board of elections, a state secretary of state, and the state's attorney general, for violations of the Motor Voter Act and equal protection of the laws. Defendants moved for summary judgment. The voters also moved for summary judgment. | The board heard challenges to the voters' qualifications to vote in the county, based on the fact that the voters were transient (seasonal) rather than permanent residents of the county. The voters claimed that the board hearings did not afford them the requisite degree of due process and contravened their rights of privacy by inquiring into personal matters. As to the MVA | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010691

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | claim, the court held that residency within the precinct was a crucial qualification. One simply could not be an elector, much less a qualified elector entitled to vote, unless one resided in the precinct where he or she sought to vote. If one never lived within the precinct, one was not and could not be an eligible voter, even if listed on the board's rolls as such. The MVA did not affect the state's ability to |                              |             |                                       |

010692

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | condition eligibility to vote on residence. Nor did it undertake to regulate challenges, such as the ones presented, to a registered voter's residency ab initio. The ability of the challengers to assert that the voters were not eligible and had not ever been eligible, and of the board to consider and resolve that challenge, did not contravene the MVA. Defendants' motions for |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case    | Court  | Citation                                | Date           | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-----------------|--|---|----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                 |  |   |                |   | summary judgment were granted as to all claims with prejudice, except the voters' state-law claim, which was dismissed for want of jurisdiction, without prejudice.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Bell v. Marinko | United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit | 367 F.3d 588; 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 8330 | April 28, 2004 | Plaintiffs, registered voters, sued defendants, Ohio Board of Elections and Board members, alleging that Ohio Rev. Code Ann. §§ 3509.19-3509.21 violated the National Voter Registration Act, and the Equal Protection Clause | The voters contested the challenges to their registration brought under Ohio Code Rev. Ann. § 3505.19 based on Ohio Rev. Code Ann. § 3503.02. Specifically, the voters asserted that § 3503.02---which stated that the place | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010694

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio granted summary judgment in favor of defendants. The voters appealed. | where the family of a married man or woman resided was considered to be his or her place of residence---- violated the equal protection clause. The court of appeals found that the Board's procedures did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act because Congress did not intend to bar the removal of names from the official list of persons who were ineligible and improperly registered to vote |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | in the first place. The National Voter Registration Act did not bar the Board's continuing consideration of a voter's residence, and encouraged the Board to maintain accurate and reliable voting rolls. Ohio was free to take reasonable steps to see that all applicants for registration to vote actually fulfilled the requirement of bona fide residence. Ohio Rev. Code Ann. |                              |             |                                       |

010696

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Voter Registration Rejection Cases - 2

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | § 3503.02(D) did not contravene the National Voter Registration Act. Because the Board did not raise an irrebuttable presumption in applying § 3502.02(D), the voters suffered no equal protection violation. The judgment was affirmed. |                              |             |                                       |

010697

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case         | Court  | Citation   | Date             | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--|--|------------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Spencer v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio | 347 F. Supp. 2d 528; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22062 | November 1, 2004 | Plaintiff voters filed a motion for temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction seeking to restrain defendant election officials and intervenor State of Ohio from discriminating against black voters in Hamilton County on the basis of race. If necessary, they sought to restrain challengers from being allowed at the | The voters alleged that defendants had combined to implement a voter challenge system at the polls that discriminated against African--American voters. Each precinct was run by its election judges but Ohio law also allowed challengers to be physically present in the polling places in order to challenge voters' eligibility to vote. The court held that the injury asserted, that allowing | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010698

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | polls. | challengers to challenge voters' eligibility would place an undue burden on voters and impede their right to vote, was not speculative and could be redressed by removing the challengers. The court held that in the absence of any statutory guidance whatsoever governing the procedures and limitations for challenging voters by challengers, and the questionable enforceability of the State's and |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | County's policies regarding good faith challenges and ejection of disruptive challengers from the polls, there existed an enormous risk of chaos, delay, intimidation, and pandemonium inside the polls and in the lines out the door. Furthermore, the law allowing private challengers was not narrowly tailored to serve Ohio's compelling interest in preventing voter fraud. The court enjoined all |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case  | Court                       | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|-----------------------------|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |                             |   |                  |   | defendants from allowing any challengers other than election judges and other electors into the polling places throughout the state on Election Day.   |                              |             |                                       |
| MARIAN SPENCER, et al., Petitioners v. CLARA PUGH, et al. (No. 04A360) SUMMIT COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL and EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, et al., Petitioners v. MATTHEW HEIDER, et al. (No. 04A364) | United States Supreme Court | 125 S. Ct. 305; 160 L. Ed. 2d 213; 2004 U.S. LEXIS 7400 | November 2, 2004 | In two separate actions, plaintiffs sued defendant members of a political party, alleging that the members planned to mount indiscriminate challenges in polling places which would disrupt voting. Plaintiffs applied to | Plaintiffs contended that the members planned to send numerous challengers to polling places in predominantly African--American neighborhoods to challenge votes in an imminent national election, which would allegedly cause | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010701

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | vacate orders entered by the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit which entered emergency stays of injunctions restricting the members' activities. | voter intimidation and inordinate delays in voting. A district court ordered challengers to stay out of polling places, and another district court ordered challengers to remain in the polling places only as witnesses, but the appellate court stayed the orders. The United States Supreme Court, acting through a single Circuit Justice, declined to reinstate the injunctions for |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case            | Court         | Citation        | Date         | Facts                           | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------|---------------|-----------------|--------------|---------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                         |               |                 |              |                                 | prudential reasons, despite the few hours left until the upcoming election. While the allegations of abuse were serious, it was not possible to determine with any certainty the ultimate validity of the plaintiffs' claims or for the full Supreme Court to review the relevant submissions, and voting officials would be available to enable proper voting by qualified voters. |                              |             |                                       |
| Charles H. Wesley Educ. | United States | 324 F. Supp. 2d | July 1, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a voter, fraternity | The organization participated in  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010703

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case        | Court   | Citation                          | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---------------------|---|-----------------------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Found., Inc. v. Cox | District Court for the Northern District of Georgia | 1358; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12120 |      | members, and an organization, sought an injunction ordering defendant, the Georgia Secretary of State, to process the voter registration application forms that they mailed in following a voter registration drive. They contended that by refusing to process the forms defendants violated the National Voter | numerous non-partisan voter registration drives primarily designed to increase the voting strength of African-Americans. Following one such drive, the fraternity members mailed in over 60 registration forms, including one for the voter who had moved within state since the last election. The Georgia Secretary of State's office refused to process them because they |                              |             |                                       |

010704

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Registration Act and U.S. Const. amends. I, XIV, and XV. | were not mailed individually and neither a registrar, deputy registrar, or an otherwise authorized person had collected the applications as required under state law. The court held that plaintiffs had standing to bring the action. The court held that because the applications were received in accordance with the mandates of the NVRA, the State of Georgia was not free to reject them. The court found that: |                              |             |                                       |

010705

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case                                   | Court                            | Citation                        | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|----------------------------------|---------------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |                                  |                                 |                  |  | plaintiffs had a substantial likelihood of prevailing on the merits of their claim that the applications were improperly rejected; plaintiffs would be irreparably injured absent an injunction; the potential harm to defendants was outweighed by plaintiffs' injuries; and an injunction was in the public interest. Injunction granted. |                              |             |                                       |
| Jacksonville Coalition for Voter Prot. v. Hood | United States District Court for | 351 F. Supp. 2d 1326; 2004 U.S. | October 25, 2004 | Plaintiffs, voter protection coalition, union, and | The coalition, the union, and the voters based their claim on  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010708

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court                          | Citation          | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--------------------------------|-------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | the Middle District of Florida | Dist. LEXIS 26522 |      | voters, filed an emergency motion for a preliminary injunction and argued that African Americans in the county had less opportunity than other members of the state's electorate to vote in the upcoming election, and that defendants, elections officials', implementation of early voting procedures violated the Voting Rights | the fact that the county had the largest percentage of African-- American registered voters of any major county in the state, and, yet, other similarly-sized counties with smaller African-- American registered voter percentages had more early voting sites. Based on that, they argued that African-- American voters in the county were disproportionately affected. The |                              |             |                                       |

010707

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--------------------------------------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Act and their constitutional rights. | court found that while it may have been true that having to drive to an early voting site and having to wait in line may cause people to be inconvenienced, inconvenience did not result in a denial of meaningful access to the political process. Thus, the coalition, the union, and the voters had not established a likelihood of success on the merits of their claim that the county's implementation |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case   | Court                          | Citation                           | Date            | Facts                                     | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--------------------------------|------------------------------------|-----------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |                                |                                    |                 |   | of early voting procedures violated § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. Moreover, the coalition, the union, and the voters failed to establish a likelihood of success on the merits of their § 1983 Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendment claims, which required a higher proof of discriminatory purpose and effect. Injunction denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Taylor v. Howe | United States Court of Appeals | 225 F.3d 993; 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS | August 31, 2000 | Plaintiffs, African American voters, poll | The court of appeals affirmed--in--part, reversed--  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010709

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court                  | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|------------------------|----------|------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | for the Eighth Circuit | 22241    |      | watchers, and candidates appealed from a judgment of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas in favor of defendants, elections commissioners and related individuals, on their § 1983 voting rights claims and contended the district court made erroneous findings of fact and law and failed to appreciate evidence of | in--part, and remanded the district court's judgment. The court found that the district court's finding of a lack of intentional discrimination was appropriate as to many defendants. However, as to some of the individual voters' claims for damages, the court held "a definite and firm conviction" that the district court's findings were mistaken. The court noted that the argument that a |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case         | Court                                | Citation                                   | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------------|--------------------------------------|--|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                      |                                      |  |                   | discriminatory intent.                                  | voter's name was misspelled in the voter register, with a single incorrect letter, was a flimsy pretext and, accordingly, held that the district court's finding that defendant poll workers did not racially discriminate in denying the vote to this plaintiff was clearly erroneous. Affirmed in part and reversed in part. |                              |             |                                       |
| Stewart v. Blackwell | United States District Court for the | 356 F. Supp. 2d 791; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS | December 14, 2004 | Plaintiffs, including African--American voters, alleged | The primary thrust of the litigation was an attempt to federalize  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010711

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court                     | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|---------------------------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Northern District of Ohio | 26897    |      | that use of punch card voting and "central--count" optical scanning devices by defendants, the Ohio Secretary of State et al., violated their rights under the Due Process Clause, the Equal Protection Clause, and (African--American plaintiffs) their rights under § 2 of the Voting Rights Act. | elections by judicial rule or fiat via the invitation to the court to declare a certain voting technology unconstitutional and then fashion a remedy. The court declined the invitation. The determination of the applicable voting process had always been focused in the legislative branch of the government. While it was true that the percentage of residual or non-voted ballots in the 2000 |                              |             |                                       |

010712

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | presidential election ran slightly higher in counties using punch card technology, that fact standing alone was insufficient to declare the use of the system unconstitutional. Moreover, the highest frequency in Ohio of residual voting bore a direct relationship to economic and educational factors, negating the Voting Rights Act claim. The court further stated that local variety |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case     | Court                  | Citation                  | Date               | Facts                               | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|------------------------|---------------------------|--------------------|-------------------------------------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |                        |                           |                    |                                     | in voting technology did not violate the Equal Protection Clause, even if the different technologies had different levels of effectiveness in recording voters' intentions, so long as there was some rational basis for the technology choice. It concluded that defendants' cost and security reasons for the use of punch card ballots were plausible. |                              |             |                                       |
| Taylor v. Currie | United States District | 386 F. Supp. 2d 929; 2005 | September 14, 2005 | Plaintiff brought an action against | This action involved issues pertaining to   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court                                      | Citation               | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|--|------------------------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              | Court for the Eastern District of Michigan | U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20257 |      | defendants, including a city elections commission, alleging defects in a city council primary election pertaining to absentee balloting. The case was removed to federal court by defendants. Pending before the court was a motion to remand, filed by plaintiff. | absentee ballots. Plaintiff alleged that defendants were not complying with state laws requiring certain eligibility checks before issuing absentee ballots. The state court issued an injunction preventing defendants from mailing absentee ballots. Defendants removed the action to federal court and plaintiff sought a remand. Defendants argued that not mailing the absentee ballots |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | would violate the Voting Rights Act, because it would place a restriction only on the City of Detroit, which was predominately African--American. The court ordered the case remanded because it found no basis under 28 U.S.C.S. §§ 1441 or 1443 for federal jurisdiction. Defendants' mere reference to a federal law or federal right was not enough to confer subject matter |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | jurisdiction where the complaint sought to assert only rights arising under state statutes against state officials in relation to a state election. The court stated that it would not allow defendants to take haven in federal court under the guise of providing equal protection for the citizens of Detroit but with a goal of perpetuating their violation of a non-discriminatory state law. |                              |             |                                       |

010717

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
 Racial Discrimination Challenge Cases

---

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding                   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---------------------------|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | Motion to remand granted. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                                  | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Weber v. Shelley | United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit | 347 F.3d 1101; 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 21979 | October 28, 2003 | Plaintiff voter brought an suit against defendants, the secretary of state and the county registrar of voters, claiming that the lack of a voter--verified paper trail in the county's newly installed touchscreen voting system violated her rights to equal protection and due process. The United States District Court for the Central District of California granted the | On review, the voter contended that use of paperless touch--screen voting systems was unconstitutional and that the trial court erred by ruling her expert testimony inadmissible. The trial court focused on whether the experts' declarations raised genuine issues of material fact about the relative accuracy of the voting systemat issue and | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | secretary and the registrar summary judgment. The voter appealed. | excluded references to news--paper articles and unidentified studies absent any indication that experts normally relied upon them. The appellate court found that the trial court's exclusions were not an abuse of discretion and agreed that the admissible opinions which were left did not tend to show that voters had a lesser chance of having their votes counted. It further found |                              |             |                                       |

010720

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | that the use of touchscreen voting systems was not subject to strict scrutiny simply because this particular balloting system might make the possibility of some kinds of fraud more difficult to detect. California made a reasonable, politically neutral and non--discriminatory choice to certify touchscreen systems as an |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case  | Court  | Citation   | Date                | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|--|--|---------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |  |  |                     |  | alternative to paper ballots, as did the county in deciding to use such a system. Nothing in the Constitution forbid this choice. The judgment was affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Am. Ass'n of People with Disabilities v. Shelley | United States District Court for the Central District of California | 324 F. Supp. 2d 1120; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12587 | July 6, 2004 | Plaintiffs, disabled voters and organizations representing those voters, sought to enjoin the directives of defendant California Secretary of State, which decertified and withdrew | The voters urged the invalidation of the Secretary's directives because, allegedly, their effect was to deprive the voters of the opportunity to vote using touch--screen technology. Although it was | No                    | N/A  | No                             |

010722

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | approval of the use of certain direct recording electronic (DRE) voting systems. One voter applied for a temporary restraining order, or, in the alternative, a preliminary injunction. of a preliminary injunction in a number of ways, including a four--part test that considers (1) likelihood of success on the merits; (2) the possibility of irreparable injury in the | not disputed that some disabled persons would be unable to vote independently and in private without the use of DREs, it was clear that they would not be deprived of their fundamental right to vote. The Americans with Disabilities Act, did not require accommodation that would enable disabled persons to vote in a manner that was |                              |             |                                       |

010723

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | absence of an injunction; (3) a balancing of the harms; and (4) the public interest. | comparable in every way with the voting rights enjoyed by persons without disabilities. Rather, it mandated that voting programs be made accessible. Defendant's decision to suspend the use of DREs pending improvement in their reliability and security of the devices was a rational one, designed to protect the voting rights of the state's |                              |             |                                       |

010724

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | citizens. The evidence did not support the conclusion that the elimination of the DREs would have a discriminatory effect on the visually or manually impaired. Thus, the voters showed little likelihood of success on the merits. The individual's request for a temporary restraining order, or, in the alternative, a preliminary injunction, was denied. Ninth Circuit's tests |                              |             |                                       |

010725

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case                  | Court                                      | Citation                                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|--|---|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |  |   |                  |   | for a preliminary injunction, although phrased differently, require a court to inquire into whether there exists a likelihood of success on the merits, and the possibility of irreparable injury; a court is also required to balance the hardships. |                              |             |                                       |
| Fla. Democratic Party v. Hood | Court of Appeal of Florida, First District | 884 So. 2d 1148; 2004 Fla. App. LEXIS 16077 | October 28, 2004 | Petitioner, the Florida Democratic Party, sought review of an emergency rule adopted by the Florida | The Party argued that: (1) the Florida Administrative Code, recast language from the earlier invalidated rule   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010726

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Department of State, contending that the findings of immediate danger, necessity, and procedural fairness on which the rule was based were insufficient under Florida law, which required a showing of such circumstances, and Florida case law. This matter followed. | prohibiting a manual recount of overvotes and undervotes cast on a touchscreen machine; (2) the rule did not call for the manual recount of votes to determine voter intent; and (3) the rule created voters who were entitled to manual recounts in close elections and those who were not. The appeals court disagreed. The Department was clearly concerned with the fact that if |                              |             |                                       |

010727

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | no rule were in place, the same confusion and inconsistency in divining a voter's intent that attended the 2000 presidential election in Florida, and the same constitutional problems the United States Supreme Court addressed then, might recur in 2004. It was not the court's responsibility to decide the validity of the rule or whether other means were more appropriate. |                              |             |                                       |

010728

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | But, the following question was certified to the Supreme Court: Whether under Fla. Stat. ch. 120.54(4), the Department of State set forth sufficient justification for an emergency rule establishing standards for conducting manual recounts of overvotes and undervotes as applied to touchscreen voting systems? The petition was denied, but a question was |                              |             |                                       |

010729

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case     | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|---|---|------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                  |   |   |                  |   | certified to the supreme court as a matter of great public importance.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Wexler v. Lepore | United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida | 342 F. Supp. 2d 1097; 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21344 | October 25, 2004 | Plaintiffs, a congressman, state commissioners, and a registered voter, brought a § 1983 action against defendants, state officials, alleging that the manual recount procedures for the state's touchscreen paperless voting systems violated their rights under U.S. Const. | The officials claimed that the state had established an updated standard for manual recounts in counties using optical scan systems and touchscreen voting systems, therefore, alleviating equal protection concerns. The court held that the rules prescribing what | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010730

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts                                    | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | amends. V and XIV. A bench trial ensued. | constituted a clear indication on the ballot that the voter had made a definite choice, as well the rules prescribing additional recount procedures for each certified voting system promulgated pursuant to Florida law complied with equal protection requirements under U.S. Const. amends. V and XIV because the rules prescribed uniform, |                              |             |                                       |

010731

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | nondifferential standards for what constituted a legal vote under each certified voting system, as well as procedures for conducting a manual recount of overvotes and undervotes in the entire geographic jurisdiction. The court further held that the ballot images printed during a manual recount pursuant to Florida Administrative Code did not violate Florida |                              |             |                                       |

010732

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
Touch Screen Voting Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | law because the manual recount scheme properly reflected a voter's choice. Judgment was entered for the officials. The claims of the congressman, commissioners, and voter were denied. |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case     | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
| Reitz v. Rendell | United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21813 | October 29, 2004 | Plaintiff service members filed an action against defendant state officials under the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act alleging that they and similarly situated service members would be disenfranchised because they did not receive their absentee ballots in time. The parties entered into a voluntary agreement and submitted it to the court for approval. | The court issued an order to assure that the service members and other similarly situated service members who were protected by the UOCAVA would not be disenfranchised. The court ordered the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to take all reasonable steps necessary to direct the county boards of elections to accept as timely received absentee ballots cast by service members and other | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010734

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | overseas voters as defined by UOCAVA, so long as the ballots were received by November 10, 2004. The ballots were to be considered solely for purposes of the federal offices that were included on the ballots. The court held that the ballot needed to be cast no later than November 2, 2004 to be counted. The court did not make any findings of liability against the Governor or the Secretary. |                              |             |                                       |

010735

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                  | Court  | Citation                    | Date             | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------|--|-----------------------------|------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                               |  |                             |                  |   | The court entered an order, pursuant to a stipulation between the parties, that granted injunctive relief to the service members.   |                              |             |                                       |
| United States v. Pennsylvania | United States District Court for the Middle district of Pennsylvania | 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21167 | October 20, 2004 | Plaintiff United States sued defendant Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, governor, and state secretary, claiming that overseas voters would be disenfranchised if they used absentee ballots that included the names of two presidential candidates who | The testimony of the two witnesses offered by the United States did not support its contention that voters protected by the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act would be disenfranchised absent immediate injunctive relief because neither witness testified | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | had been removed from the final certified ballot and seeking injunctive relief to address the practical implications of the final certification of the slate of candidates so late in the election year. | that any absentee ballots issued to UOCAVA voters were legally incorrect or otherwise invalid. Moreover, there was no evidence that any UOCAVA voter had complained or otherwise expressed concern regarding their ability or right to vote. The fact that some UOCAVA voters received ballots including the names of two candidates who were not on the final certified ballot did not ipso facto support |                              |             |                                       |

010737

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | a finding that Pennsylvania was in violation of UOCAVA, especially since the United States failed to establish that the ballot defect undermined the right of UOCAVA voters to cast their ballots. Moreover, Pennsylvania had adduced substantial evidence that the requested injunctive relief, issuing new ballots, would have harmed the Pennsylvania election system and the public by |                              |             |                                       |

010738

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | undermining the integrity and efficiency of Pennsylvania's elections and increasing election costs. must consider the following four factors: (1) the likelihood that the applicant will prevail on the merits of the substantive claim; (2) the extent to which the moving party will be irreparably harmed in the absence of injunctive relief; (3) the extent to which the nonmoving party |                              |             |                                       |

010739

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                               | Court   | Citation  | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--|---|---|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|  |   |   |      |   | will suffer irreparable harm if the court grants the requested injunctive relief; and (4) the public interest. District courts should only grant injunctive relief after consideration of each of these factors. Motion for injunctive relief denied. |                              |             |                                       |
| Bush v. Hillsborough County Canvassing Bd. | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 123 F. Supp. 2d 1305; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 19265 |      | The matter came before the court on plaintiffs' complaint for declaratory and injunctive relief alleging that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee | Plaintiff presidential and vice--presidential candidates and state political party contended that defendant county canvassing boards rejected overseas absentee   | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010740

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | state ballots and federal write--in ballots based on criteria inconsistent with federal law, and requesting that the ballots be declared valid and that they should be counted. | state ballots and federal write--in ballots based on criteria inconsistent with the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act. Because the state accepted overseas absentee state ballots and federal write--in ballots up to 10 days after the election, the State needed to access that the ballot in fact came from overseas. However, federal law provided the method to establish that fact by requiring the overseas absentee |                              |             |                                       |

010741

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | voter to sign an oath that the ballot was mailed from outside the United States and requiring the state election officials to examine the voter's declarations. The court further noted that federal law required the user of a federal write--in ballot to timely apply for a regular state absentee ballot, not that the state receive the application, and that again federal law, by requiring the voter using a federal write--in ballot to swear that he or she had |                              |             |                                       |

010742

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | made timely application, had provided the proper method of proof. Plaintiffs withdrew as moot their request for injunctive relief and the court granted in part and denied in part plaintiffs' request for declaratory relief, and relief GRANTED in part and declared valid all federal write--in ballots that were signed pursuant to the oath provided therein but rejected solely because the ballot envelope did not have an APO, FPO, or foreign |                              |             |                                       |

010743

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                                  | Court   | Citation  | Date             | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|---|---|---|------------------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|   |   |   |                  |  | postmark, or solely because there was no record of an application for a state absentee ballot.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Harris v. Florida Elections Canvassing Comm'n | United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida | 122 F. Supp. 2d 1317; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17875 | December 9, 2000 | Plaintiffs challenged the counting of overseas absentee ballots received after 7 p.m. on election day, alleging the ballots violated Florida election law. | In two separate cases, plaintiff electors originally sued defendant state elections canvassing commission and state officials in Florida state circuit court, challenging the counting of overseas absentee ballots received after 7 p.m. on election day. Defendant governor removed one case | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010744

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | to federal court. The second case was also removed. The court in the second case denied plaintiff's motion for remand and granted a motion to transfer the case to the first federal court under the related case doctrine. Plaintiffs claimed that the overseas ballots violated Florida election law. Defendants argued the deadline was not absolute. The court found Congress did not intend 3 U.S.C.S. § 1 to impose |                              |             |                                       |

010745

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | irrational scheduling rules on state and local canvassing officials, and did not intend to disenfranchise overseas voters. The court held the state statute was required to yield to Florida Administrative Code, which required the 10-day extension in the receipt of overseas absentee ballots in federal elections because the rule was promulgated to satisfy a consent decree entered by the state in 1982. Judgment entered for defendants |                              |             |                                       |

010746

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case   | Court  | Citation   | Date              | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|--|--|-------------------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |  |  |                   |   | because a Florida administrative rule requiring a 10--day extension in the receipt of overseas absentee ballots in federal elections was enacted to bring the state into compliance with a federally ordered mandate; plaintiffs were not entitled to relief under any provision of state or federal law. |                              |             |                                       |
| Romeu v. Cohen | United States District Court for the Southern District of New York | 121 F. Supp. 2d 264; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12842 | September 7, 2000 | Plaintiff territorial resident and plaintiff--intervenor territorial governor moved for summary judgment and defendant federal, | Plaintiff argued that the laws denied him the right to receive a state absentee ballot in violation of the right to vote, the right to travel, the  | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010747

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts   | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|---|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | state, and local officials moved to dismiss the complaint that alleged that the Voting Rights Amendments of 1970, the Uniform Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, and New York election law were unconstitutional since they denied plaintiff's right to receive an absentee ballot for the upcoming presidential election. | Privileges and Immunities Clause, and the Equal Protection Clause. Plaintiff--intervenor territorial governor intervened on behalf of similarly situated Puerto Rican residents. Defendants' argued that: 1) plaintiff lacked standing; 2) a non--justiciable political question was raised; and 3) the laws were constitutional. The court held that: 1) plaintiff had standing because he made a substantial |                              |             |                                       |

010748

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | showing that application for the benefit was futile; 2) whether or not the statutes violated plaintiff's rights presented a legal, not political, question, and there was no lack of judicially discoverable and manageable standards for resolving the matter; and 3) the laws were constitutional and only a constitutional amendment or grant of statehood would enable plaintiff to vote in a presidential election. The |                              |             |                                       |

010749

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case   | Court   | Citation                                 | Date              | Facts   | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|----------------|---|--|-------------------|---|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                |   |  |                   |   | court granted defendants' motion to dismiss because the laws that prohibited territorial residents from voting by state absentee ballot in presidential elections were constitutional.   |                              |             |                                       |
| Romeu v. Cohen | United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit | 265 F.3d 118; 2001 U.S. App. LEXIS 19876 | September 6, 2001 | Plaintiff territorial resident sued defendants, state and federal officials, alleging that the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act unconstitutionally prevented the territorial resident from voting in his former state of | The territorial resident contended that the UOCAVA unconstitutionally distinguished between former state residents residing outside the United States, who were permitted to vote in their former states, and former state residents | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010750

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | residence. The resident appealed the judgment of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, which dismissed the complaint. | residing in a territory, who were not permitted to vote in their former states. The court of appeals first held that the UOCAVA did not violate the territorial resident's right to equal protection in view of the valid and not insubstantial considerations for the distinction. The territorial resident chose to reside in the territory and had the same voting rights as other territorial residents, even though such |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      |       | residency precluded voting for federal offices. Further, the resident had no constitutional right to vote in his former state after he terminated his residency in such state, and the consequences of the choice of residency did not constitute an unconstitutional interference with the right to travel. Finally, there was no denial of the privileges and immunities of state citizenship, since the territorial resident was treated |                              |             |                                       |

010752

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case                        | Court  | Citation   | Date          | Facts  | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|---------------|--|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|                                     |  |  |               |  | identically to other territorial residents. The judgment dismissing the territorial resident's complaint was affirmed.  |                              |             |                                       |
| Igartua de la Rosa v. United States | United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico | 107 F. Supp. 2d 140; 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 11146 | July 19, 2000 | Defendant United States moved to dismiss plaintiffs' action seeking a declaratory judgment allowing them to vote, as U.S. citizens residing in Puerto Rico, in the upcoming and all subsequent Presidential elections. Plaintiffs urged, among other claims, that their right to vote in | The court denied the motion of defendant United States to dismiss the action of plaintiffs, two groups of Puerto Ricans, seeking a declaratory judgment allowing them to vote in Presidential elections. One group always resided in Puerto Rico and the other became | No                           | N/A         | No                                    |

010753

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts  | Holding  | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|--|--|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
|              |       |          |      | Presidential elections was guaranteed by the Constitution and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights. | ineligible to vote in Presidential elections upon taking up residence in Puerto Rico. Plaintiffs contended that the Constitution and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, guaranteed their right to vote in Presidential elections and that the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, was unconstitutional in disallowing Puerto Rican citizens to vote |                              |             |                                       |

EAC Voting Fraud-Voter Intimidation Preliminary Research
UOCAVA Ballot Cases

| Name of Case | Court | Citation | Date | Facts | Holding   | Statutory Basis (if of Note) | Other Notes | Should the Case be Researched Further |
|--------------|-------|----------|------|-------|---|------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------|
