

Dorothy Brizill

Dorothy Brizill is the executive director of DCWatch, a good government organization that follows local government in the District of Columbia. For over twenty years, she has monitored city elections, and she has been involved in some of the key election cases before the DC Board of Elections, the DC Superior Court, and the DC Court of Appeals. Prior to founding DCWatch, she worked at the US State Department and the Brookings Institute, and she was educated at Queens College and Columbia University.